—R—

We are beginning to think a lot about our annual PTA Carnival which is scheduled for Friday, May 7. All of the committees have been appointed and the mothers, who are acting as chairmen, will soon be calling their committees together. This is one event of the year when every parent can help in some manner. Please let us know of any available parents who have not been asked to take some special part.

Uncle Sam Being Played For A Sucker

By the time you read this, the House will have passed and amended the Senate's Marshall Plan. The Marshall Plan is not a plan to feed the hungry in Europe. It is an armament plan. Under this plan, our Government this year, will give to grafting—in some cases corrupt . . . and inefficient foreign governments $6,205,000,000 credit. It will establish an international WPA which ultimately will cost the American taxpayers over $100-billion.

Great Britain will get some $3,109,700,000 of this credit. China will get $570,000,000. The other fifteen nations will get the balance. By using this credit, the natural resources of America, that belong to unborn millions, will be further depleted at the expense of our Nation, but at a profit for the international manufacturer and Wall Streeter.

With part of this credit, these governments will compete with us in our domestic market, and buy American products at exorbitant prices. They will sell these products, at a profit, to their people, who have the money to buy. There is nothing charitable about this plan.

Part of this credit will be uhed by these governments for rearmament and military purposes. In other words, we are underwriting awr. We are guaranteeing these nations that, if and when they start a war, we will fight it. Let no one be deceived by the hypocritical pfetense of the State Department that this is a peace measure. It is not a measure of "good will toward men," but an armament measure—war.

We gave these nations $60-billions lend-lease. We spent $450-billion more to win the war they started. Since the war, we have given them, directly or indirectly, over $30-billions. Of this amount, the Government made direct loans and gifts of $24-billion. If this $30-billions were used to feed the hungry, it would take care of them for twenty years,

We, less than seven percent of the people of the world, occupying less than seven percent of the world's area, and possessing less than nine percent of the world's natural wealth, are still being played for a sucker by the multi-millionaires and internationalists in the State and other Departments of Government. This when our Government already owes more than twice the normal value of all our property.

In conclusion, may we suggest that you, who have been protesting so loudly about the high cost of living, will find, when this bill is passed, that you will again have to go without many of the food and other products you could not get during the war. You will again have to pay higher prices, because we cannot give away the products that America needs to foreign nations and keep prices down. There will again be plenty of black markets.

The Marshall Plan is a deception and a fraud. The time has come for America to wake up.

Johnny Salser, that good-looking young man back of the bar at the Swan Grill, is of much interest to the gals of Omar Bakery who eat there.

Buckeye Radio Lab Offering A Gift

Buckeye Radio Lab, 868 East Whittier Street invites you to drop in this week and receive a really useful souvenir, and help them celebrate the opening of their new establishment.

They welcome you to inspect their new radio lounge, which Mr. Dykes believes is one of the finest and most unique in Columbus.

All you have to do to receive their gift is clip the coupon on page 3 and bring it with you.

There is absolutely no strings to this offer, they just want you to see for yourselves, what a fine place of business they have built, and of which they are so rightfully proud.

Barrett Courtesy Week

Do you know your ABC's? was a frequently asked question at Barrett Junior High School in a recent contest? The Barrett Student Council sponsored a Courtesy Week with Helen Smith as general chairman.

Students sent in their solutions to the mystery ABC (Always Be Courteous) Contest with the best solution receiving a prize.

A—Always be polite and kind,
And a lot more friends you'll find,
If you're courteous and up to par,
In this world you'll get very far.

B—Be courteous, happy and gay,
You'll find a lot more friends that way,
Kindness is a wonderful thing,
Happiness to you it will bring.

C—Courtesy is a kind thought,
With money it can't be bought,
So put it in your mind today,
Be courteous right away.

Home room displays in the form of posters and blackboard drawings spearheaded the interest in the Courtesy Week campaign. Jim Saul, chairman of the school beautiful committee, with his committee members selected the most effective home room display. Home room 204 won first place, second place went to rooms 205 and 302 while honorable mention went to 109 and 32.

Second prize for the ABC Suggestion Contest went to Patsy Lahey and third prize to James Kearns.

The 7B class entered wholeheartedly in the contest showing more interest than the other five rooms.

B. F. Goodrich Holding Tire Sale

P. J. "Pat" Cleary, manager of the B. F. Goodrich Store, 1942 Parsons Avenue, this week, announces the great money saving tire sale of B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns. You can now purchase genuine B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns at the lowest prices in years, only $13.95 for a 6.00x16 size. When you figure the extras, in todays post-war Silvertown, you'll find that you are getting double action for your dollars. Extra mileage, extra safety, extra protection against road pounding and blow-outs. Drop into the Goodrich Store—open a charge account today, if the cash isn't handy, and drive off with that grand feeling, that you've the best in honest tire value, that money can buy.

School Nurse & Radio Class Dramatize

"A Nurse's Day In The Public Schools" was dramatized over WOSU on Saturday afternoon, April 17.

The play was written by school nurses. Mrs. Helen Ish and members of the radio class of South helped to put it on. The students were: Don McIndoo, Mary Smith, Mary Lang, Fritzie Mann, Coralie Lusk, Pat Starn and Jack Kirch.

The script included emergencies that may happen on the playground or cases that may need further medical care. They also have a scene on pre-school registering, and what preparations the parents should make.

Annual Rose Show

The annual Rose Prom sponsored by the Y-Teens of South High is back again. The dance that every girl seems to go to because she can ask the boy she's been dreaming about, and wanting to go out with for so long.

It will be held April 30 in South's auditorium with Houdy Mauger's band playing that slow and fast music to dance to.

The chairmans of the prom are Pat Lloyd and Helen Dobas. The price of the tickets are $2.00. The tickets are limited and each club will receive only a certain amount of them.

Youth Hostel Rally Planned

A Youth Hosteling Rally is being planned by the Interclub Council of the Junior High Y-Teen Clubs for Thursday, April 29, at 4 P. M., at the YWCA, 65 S. Fourth St.

Mrs. Merrias Cornell, of Westerville, will speak about how hosteling started and why it has grown in popularity. Movies of hosteling trips taken in the Buckeye Trails district and the New England region are being shown as a special feature.

Miss Dorothy Erskine, an Ohio State University student, will lead singing. A skit, based on experiences in recent hosteling trips is being planned by three North High School students. They are Judy Bargdill, Ellen Ransom and Minnie Lowe.

Arrangements for the Youth Hosteling Rally are being made by the Interclub Council of Junior High Y-Teen Clubs. Council officers are as follows: President, Barbara Emmitt, Starling Junior High; Vice President, Mary Ann Diebert, Roosevelt Junior High; and Secretary, Shirley Reeves, Linden-McKinley Junior High School.

Courtesy Week At South

"Courtesy Week," an annual project of South's Student Council, was held during the week of April 19 to 23. Many questions about courtesy were answered at the time.

Broadcasts were heard every morning during this time and a boy and girl who had been especially polite was named by a committee of Student Council. They were interviewed and given prizes for their good manners.

The project ended by an assembly which was held in the school auditorium. Skits about courtesy were presented by Student Council Members and the Dramatics Department. They performed in a gold frame and a narrator read a verse about their various acts.

Pat Starn was chairman of this year's Courtesy Week Committee.

23 Students Make Honor Society

The choosing of the National Honor Society members from the June, 1948 South High graduating class took place on Thursday, April 15. Twenty-three students were picked to enter into this society which stands for Scholarship, Leadership, Character and Service.

The eleven January students and the 23 students tapped from the June class received their pins and took the oath which makes them a full member of the Honor Society.

The guest speaker was William Guthrie of Ohio State University. His speech was entitled: "Scholars Are People."

The leaders for the oaths were: Leadership was Lee Skilton, Scholarship was Dolores Leonard, Character was Tom Moody and Service was Marilyn Mincer.

The members of the June graduating class to make the Honor Society were: Bob Garrison, Mary Lang, Carolyn High, Helen Riegel, Orville Greynolds, Alice Arn, Harriet Rodrup, Kenneth Garwood, Marjorie Heintz, Marilyn Kropp, Harold Young, Rosanne Mees, Helen Scott, Suzanne Kaefer, Kathryn Cappen, Donald McIndoo, Franklin Rundio, Nancl Shrieves, Julius Chosy, Doris Linsenmayer, Bettyanne Thompson, Joanne Boehm and Ruth Dodson.

Song Festival Participants

On April 25 these children and 120 others of Saint Leo's School presented Italian Folk Lore in Song and dramatization. Nine of the Catholic Elementary Schools of the Diocese of Columbus took part in the "Songs of the Nations" Program.

Joanne Boehm Places Second

Joanne Boehm, a senior at South High School, won second place in a Parent-Teacher Association Poster Contest for Columbus City Schools. Last year South High School won first place in the same contest.

Joanne was chosen to the National Honor Society on Thursday, April 15.

Mr. Warner Speaker For "Listen Ladies"

Mr. John A. Warner of South High gave a speech about National Coin Week on "Listen Ladies Program" over WCOL.

April 11 to the 17 has been set aside by the American Numismatic Association as National Coin Week.

He is being assisted by other students in South. They are: Joan Abbott, Edwin Peters, Don Tritt and Louis Weissman.

Mr. Warner said "My specialty is 'Freaks', coints that come from the mint in inperfecy condition. My prize is the Lincoln Cent struck three times."

The oldest coin in his collection is an Ancient Bronze which is 2400 years old.

Crazy Hat Party

At the next regular meeting of pot-luck supper will be held. All St. Frances Romana Socitty, a are asked to come at 6:30.

The crazy hat party last month was a lot of fun, so this time a mystery woman is to make her appearance. She will be a member and if the proper salute is given, a prize will be involved.

Some other novelties are in order and games will be played after the business meeting. So come. Try to identify the mystery woman. She may be you, since at this time she has not as yet been chosen. Come one and all, and don't forget those good old pot-luck dishes.

Two More Silver Star Awards

We wish to correct a mistake in our paper of last week of the Silver Star Award to Corp. Fred W. Zimpfer.

The article read that Corp. Zimpfer was the only Silver Star Medal awarded in Columbus. It should have read that Corp. Zimpfer, Silver Star Award, was the only one awarded posthumously, and was presented to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Zimpfer, of 610 Siebert St.

Two other Silver Star awards have been made here in the South Side but not posthumously.

One award was made to Charles M. Griffith, 17 Jenkins Ave., who was awarded the Silver Star Medal for gallantry in action in the Battle of the Bulge.

The other Silver Star Award was to Steve Borors, Jr., 242 Hanford St., for capturing 91 Germans single handed.

Townsend No. 32

Townsend No. 32 will have their regular meeting Wednesday night, May 5, at 7:30 o'clock at the K. of P. Hall, 697 S. High St.

Election of delegates to the National Convention in Washington, D. C., to be held from June 2 to 6, will take place. All members requested to be present. General public invited

Frebis Street Being Paved

On Monday morning, work started on Frebis Ave., from 18th St., to Lockbourne Road, for the paving of that street.

French diggers are busy resetting gas and water lines, and steam shovels are grading the street.

When completed about next Fall, the Frebis St. bus will run to Lockbourne Road.

Mrs. Friebel's Class Visits Ohio State

The members of Miss Elsie Friebel's household management class of South High went up to State on Wednesday, April 21 They have been studying about Child Care and Dairy in this semester's work and Miss Friebel made arrangements for them to go to State and go through the Dairy and go to the child care home.

In the Dairy they saw milk being pasteurized and the complete process needed to make milk ready to be delivered to your door. They also saw cottage cheese being made and how they turn butter.

In the child care home they watched the children play and what they can do there during the day. The children have their own lockers and everything like an adult except brought down to miniature size.

Three South Girls Nominated

Three South High girls have been elected to responsible positions in the 1948 Wildwood Conference for Y-Teens, to be held June 13-20 at Camp Wildwood, near Westerville. They are: Margaret Hughey, program chairman, and Emma Jayne Brewster and Jackie Mettge, publicity co-chairman.

According to word received from the YW, these girls are working with Y-Teens from all over the city to plan this annual Y-Teen conference for all Y Teens now attending senior high. This includes graduating seniors, and 9A's who enter high school in the fall.

The main theme, "Personal Problems", will be carried out through talks by expert leaders, panels and discussions by the girls, and skits on the various problems.

Prof. Memmott To Speak To Lions

Edward F. Memmott

Edward F. Memmott has the distinction of being president of the smallest liberal arts college in Ohio and perhaps the smallest in the nation—Urbana Junior College at Urbana, Ohio.

Giving strong emphasis to individual instruction, the 98-year-old institution has 48 students and a faculty of ten. It is co-educational, and most of its students go on to other school for advanced work at the end of the second year.

The Urbana president is a native of Little Valley, N. Y., and a graduate of the high school there. He attended Syracuse University as a freshman, but transferred to Oberlin College from which he received the bachelor's degree in 1928 and the master's in 1930 During graduate work, he was a graduate assistant in English. He has been at Urbana since completing his studies at Oberlin, serving successively as instructor, field representative, registrar, dean, and president.

An expert swimmer, President Memmott is active in Red Cross work. He has been director of water safety for the Champaign county chapter since 1941 and chairman of the chapter since 1945. During the summer of 1945 he was field representative in the eastern area, and in the summer of 1947 he was dean of water safety at a Red Cross National Aquatic School in LaGrange, Ind.

Other activities of the Urbana president include membership on the board of directors of the Urbana Community Players since 1944 and president of the group in 1946-47, and member of the board of managers of the New Church Theological School.

Another favorite recreation, in addition to amateur dramatics and swimming, is tennis.

Prof Memmott will speak at the Southeast Lions Club Tuesday.

Southwood Kindergarten

The Southwood Kindergarten Mother's Club will meet Friday, April 30, at 9:15 A. M. Our former teacher, Miss Zollinger, will give an informal talk.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank everyone who helped make the kindergarten a success while it was privately operated. Beginning next term, the kindergarten will be under the supervision of the School Board and from then on all will work together to continue the good work.

The Mother's Club will continue to meet in order to study the problems of the pre-school child

We urge you to register your child at once in order that our plans for next year's class might be completed.

Correction

Through an error in copy of birth dates for new kindergarten and first grade children was printed in last week's copy of The South Side Booster, the statement should have read as follows: In order to enter the kindergarten in September, the child must be five years of age on or before November 1; in order to enter the first grade in September, the child must be six years of age on or before November 1

Date for children entering in February is May 1

St. Mary's Plans Games, Party

A Games Party for the benefit of the Committee Cooperating with Catholic Charities of St. Mary's Parish Council, will be held in their School Hall on Friday evening, April 30, commencing at 8:00 P. M. Miss Eleanore Orf will be General Chairman.

In order to give the public an idea of the work performed by the Catholic Charities Group of the D. C. C. W. at St. Mary's, here is a brief outline of same. The group consists of approximately 14 ladies, with Miss Orf as Chairman. These ladies visit the shut ins of the Parish. Some of them are in private homes, some in hospitals and others in Rest Homes They convey to them a word of cheer and news of any recent events. On their visits these ladies take good reading matter and gifts, such as cookies, candy, fruit or flowers, and perform some kind act of charity whenever necessary. Cheer-up and birthday cards are also sent. These good works are reported to the chairman once a month.

Red Cross Nursing Classes

Two new Red Cross home nursing classes, one in mother and baby care, the other in home care of the sick, are being announced today by Mrs. Lesta Fitzgerald, director, Home Nursing Service, Franklin County Chapter.

Both classes will be held at Red Cross Headquarters, 74 E. Gay St., twice each week for a three-week period. There is no charge of the courses for which enrollment may be made by calling MA 6841.

The class in "Mother and Baby Care" will start Tuesday, May 4, 1:30-3:30 P. M., and will meet on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. This class is open to expectant mothers or any adult who expects to have the care of a new baby.

The course in "Home Care of the Sick" will be held on Wednesday and Friday mornings, 8:30-11:30 A. M. starting Wednesday, May 5. This course is open to all.

Southway Post News

On Saturday, May 8, at 2 P. M. Southway Unit No. 144, American Legion Auxiliary, will honor the Gold Star members of the Unit with a Mothers' Day Party in the Post Club Room, 874 S. High St.

All members are invited to attend. Serving on the committee in charge of arrangements are: Mrs. L. Hanf, Mrs. J. Hauck, Mrs. S. Staley, Mrs. O. Wohlfarth, Mrs. M. Miller, Mrs. F. Bane and Mrs. F. Hahn.

Rummage Sale

Ben Hur Lodge will hold a rummage sale at 823 Oakwood Ave., Friday, April 30, and Saturday, May 1.

South Side Day Nursery News

The pre school children, under the direction of Miss Early and Mrs. Margo, have been enjoying a Milk project Through the courtesy of the Columbus Milk Council, this was followed by a sound film of "A Day On The Farm" and "Husky and Skinny". This was so enjoyable and educational that we are looking forward to May 6 when Mrs. Warner plans to return to the Nursery to show the children "Miss Bossy Goes To Town" and "Shep-The Farm Dog" Other interesting projects have been worked out by teachers and children.

Friday, April 23, Arbor Day was observed under the direction of Mrs. R. Gauts by all the Nursery children and teachers by setting out a piece of shrubbery and teaching the children the proper care of the flowers, shrubbery and trees in the playground as they play among them.

S. S. Settlement

On Wednesday, May 5, at 1:30 there will be a new and interesting meeting. This meeting is purposely for the parents and friends of the South Side, who are interested in the betterment of their community, and the activities of their children. This will be called the "Neighborhood Hour."

We urge anyone interested in such a group be present at the first meeting. Our parlor and library will be open and books and magazines will be available to all.

There will also be free movies and light refreshments. We hope that through this "Neighborhood Hour" we will become better acquainted with our adult friends and parents of the children we serve from day to day. Please come and bring a friend, no matter the age.

Pearl Stump is being boomed for President of the South Side Eagles.

We suppose Stump's slogan is "a free shave for every vote."

Yes, It's Fun To Live In America!

Take your automobile, for instance, maybe it is a jalopy and maybe it isn't a '47 model, but it gets you there—ball games, picnics, county fairs, anywhere you want to go. Now here's an interesting fact: you could load every person in the United States into every automobile in the United States, and you would have only FIVE people in each car. Other countries are not as fortunate as we who live in America. Let's make some comparisons:

Number of People Per Car
United States—5 per car
France—77 per car
Great Britain—31 per Car
Russia—1170 per Car

And think of the TELEPHONE! Old Alexander Graham Bell probably never dreamed that Mom and all the kids would be calling you twice a day, or, that Aunt Hattie down in Possum Holler could ring three rings and ask the preacher over for Sunday dinner—chicken dinner, too! Sure it's fun to live in America, because there's no other country where there is ONE telephone to every FIVE persons. Here's the picture:

Telephones: Per 100 Population
United States—20 France—4
Great Britain—9 Russia—less than one

RADIOS! We go to bed by them and we even get up by them. Turn on all the radios in the United States—and there would need be only TWO and ONE-HALF persons at each radio in order for all to listen. Think of it—FIVE of us with TWO radios listening to Hope and Senator Claghorn at the same time. Now let's see how fortunate we are—

Number of Persons to Each Radio
United States—2½ France—7
Great Britain—4½ Russia—43

GRIPE?

The Army had another word for it and we do it plenty, but that's sure proof that we have complete freedom and can "speak our piece" anywhere or anytime we see fit

As a matter of fact, we're an ambitious lot and we probably will never be completely satisfied, not until Mom, Pop, and all the kids have a radio apiece with television thrown in. Then Pop won't have to listen to Dick Tracy right in the middle of a Joe Louis fight.

St. John's Guild Are Hostesses

A Silver Memorial Tea will be held at St. John's Evangelical Reformed Church, 59 East Mound Street, Friday, April 30, at 1:45 P. M. This is one of four regional Teas sponsored by the Columbus and Franklin County Council of Church Women, for the support of Juvenile Work in the city.

Alma Borneman Armbruster, violinist, will be featured and Arlene Koetz Leupp will be accompanist. Mrs. C. R. Willis, Secretary of the Finance Committee, will speak briefly on the Juvenile Work. Mrs. Charles M. Roudebush, president of the Council, will extend greetings. Committee chairmen for this regional tea are Mrs. Fred Grumley, Mrs. Edna Brantner, Mrs. Walter Brodkorb, Mrs. Guy VanDorn and Mrs. Arthur R. Welch.

Hoermle's Trade In Dept. Offering Weekly Specials

Howard Hoermle, manager of Hoermle's Trade-In Department Store, 1918 Parsons Ave, announces that they will offer a fisherman's special, each week through the fishing season, so you fishermen watch The Booster each week for a real value in fishing equipment.

Hoermle's Trade-In Department Store also features reconditioned merchandise, such as washing machines, refrigerators and kitchen ranges, all backed by a 90-day guarantee.

Mr Hoermle opened this store recently, and has transferred his hardware department from his appliance store, because of the need of more space to feature his new appliances.

Would Make A Good Candidate

HOMER Z. BOSTWICK—Born in Ross County in 1878. Bostwick is an attorney at 33 N. High St. He lives at 2000 Merryhill Dr. He was graduated from Ohio State University College of Law in 1902 with a LLB degree. He also holds a BA degree from Ohio State University College of Arts.

Bostwick

He served as the first presiding judge of Columbus Municipal Court and was probate judge from 1917 to 1931. He is a member of the Methodist Church and many fraternal organizations.

Bostwick served as juvenile judge, without compensation, from 1917 to 1929 when the present juvenile court system was established by law.

Matson Opens Campaign In Face Grand Jury Charges

With no prospects of a trial between now and May 4, date of the primary election, George W. Matson, 87 N. Warren-av, this week is calling on his friends all over the county to come to his support in the primaries and vote for him at that time.

Hundreds of friends of the commissioner have volunteered their services in the past 10 days and assured him of their intentions to campaign for him before the primary date.

Matson points out that in the more than seven years that he has been a county commissioner he has assisted the county in spending an average of over three million dollars a year and in this time there has never been a finding against him. His past honesty, integrity, perseverance and experience in the office are deserving of the continued support of the public his friends believe.

Phillips Announces His Platform

Although a new comer in the political field, Joseph T. Phillips, a candidate for the House of Representatives is well known through out the city. He is the owner of the Phillips Insurance Agency, located at 17 South High St., a large successful casualty and fire insurance agency.

Mr. Phillips attended West Junior High School, North High School and Columbia University. Mr. Phillips resides with his wife at 2897 Neil Avenue. He is 31 years of age and has no children. A member of the Young Democrat Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, United Commercial Travelers and the Athletic Club.

A Union Man For Office

JOHN C. HART—A former newspaper man and job pressman, Hart, 54, has made a good showing, tho' defeated, in previous primary elections for nomination for representative. He at one time represented the pressmen in the Columbus Federation of Labor.

Hart

Hart is a salesman on the floor with the United Woolen Co., 74 E. Spring St. He is a widower and lives with his youngest daughter and only sister at 1075 Franklin Avenue.

Mention the Booster To Your Merchant

Matson points out that he is still a county commissioner, and expresses confidence that the citizens of his community will by their votes declare their belief in the American principle that every man is innocent until proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt.

Lashes Republican Commissioners

George E. Warehime, candidate for the Democratic nomination for county commissioner, lashed out against "slipshod carelessness" and "reckless use of public money" and demanded that the county commissioners' office be "cleaned out from cellar to garret." Warehime spoke at the meeting of the Third Ward Democratic Club, Thursday evening, at 120 E. Willow Street, Columbus.

"The time for action is here," Mr. Warehime said. "The county commissioners' office must be cleaned out from cellar to garret. Slipshod carelessness must give way to business-like methods. Reckless use of public money must stop. Public officials must be elected who will honestly try to give the people the very best possible service for their tax money.

Dissipating of public funds is to be condemned at all times. Squandering of funds for housing of veterans and their families is unpardonable. It is time to restore confidence in government and to do that, some thorough housecleaning is needed."

ANNUAL MAY SALE

On Wednesday, May 12, the Ladies' Aid of the South Congregational Church will conduct their Annual May Sale beginning at 2:30 P. M. Fine needle work and domestic articles will be on display. Home-baked pastries and home-made candies will also be displayed for sale.

Lunch will be served from 11:30 a. m. to 1:00 p. m. Supper will be served from 5:30 p. m. to 7:00 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

A South Sider For Clerk Of Courts

Most every South Sider knows Roy King, who has served as Third Ward Republican Committeeman for a number of years. King lives here in the South Side.

Due to the untimely death of William F. Berkheimer recently, who was then Clerk of Courts, it left the Republican Party without a candidate for that office.

The heads of the Republican Party got together and decided Roy King would be a good write-in candidate for that office.

Now you South Side Republicans when you start marking your ballot next Tuesday, and you come to the Clerk of Courts Office, be sure and write in the name of Roy King, and then be sure and put a cross in front of name because it takes both. It is necessary for 25 percent of the Republican voters to write in the name of King to put him on the ballot.

Russell Campbell, present Clerk of Courts, says that King is well qualified for the position as he has had 35 years of Court experience.

Roy King, who is well known, in Republican Circles being a Committeeman in the Third Ward for 18 years, is the brother of Judge John R. King, of the Common Pleas Court. He is at present serving as City Treasurer.

Army To Make Survey Of Reserve Officers

Colonel John E. McMahon, Jr., Executive, Ohio Military District, and Colonel Henry F. Grimm, Senior Instructor, Organized Reserve Corps, Fort Hayes, announced today that the Department of the Army is planning an extensive survey of all Reserve officers throughout the country. The purpose of this survey is to bring records up to an accurate current status. Such items as present civilian occupation, correct addresses, availability for assignment and part time participation in the Organized Reserve Corps training program, branch of service and duty preference are among those asked for in the report.

Questionnaires will be forwarded, by registered mail, within the next few days from the Senior Instructor's Office, Organized Reserve Corps, Fort Hayes, to all Reserve officers in Ohio. Army authorities point out that it is highly important these questionnaires be answered and returned within fifteen (15) days so that the survey may be coordinated and completed at an early date.

Forty Years An Auditor

Frank B Thomas, of Columbus, was the first Ohioan to announce his candidacy for state office when he resigned as deputy inspector and supervisor in the Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Offices last September to enter the political race.

Mr Thomas who has spent 40 years in service to the State is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Auditor of State in the May 4 primaries.

A native of Manchester, Adams county, Mr. Thomas first entered the state's service in 1907 as the first assistant state examiner ever appointed, and had his choice of accepting "$3 a day plus board, or $4 per day without board."

REEB CALENDAR

Gates-Fourth Methodist Church, Gates and S. Fourth Sts., will celebrate their 52nd Anniversary next Sunday at Church School and Worship.

Mr. William Nonnenmacher, now in his 90th year, who was the first Sunday School Superintendent 52 years ago, will preside at the Church School.

At the Morning Worship, Mr. Charles H. Frank, another Charter Member, will present the solo, "Open the Gates of the Temple." There will be special recognition of the five surviving Charter Members—Otto H. Magley, Mrs. Mayme Reinkens, Mrs. Hattie Lincoln, Charles H. Frank and William Nonnenmacher, and brief greetings from each of them. An Altar Vase of Flowers will be placed in loving memory of another Charter Member who passed away a year ago—Mrs. Christina Loewell. A huge birthday cake will be cut and shared by the entire congregation. The pastor will speak from the text, "Hitherto Hath the Lord Helped Us."

Everyone is welcome and invited to this grand service.

CHURCHES WILL CONVENE AT PARSONS AVENUE

Miss Padrutt, Mr. Mason To Wed Soon

Mr. and Mrs. B. Padrutt, 567 E. Livingston-av, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Juanita, to Roy David Mason, son of Mrs. William Mason, 2387 Gayledrive.

The bride-elect graduated from South High School and is associated with the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. Mr. Mason attended Mifflin High School and is connected with the Armstrong Furnace Co. Their wedding will take place at 7:30 p. m. May 14 in the Livingston-av. Methodist Church.

Candlelight Consecration Service

Sunday evening, at 7:30, the South Church of Christ, Woodrow and Bruck, will hold an impressive candlelight initiation and consecration service for the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, which will change its name to "Chi Rho Fellowship."

It will thus become a member society of the National Intermediate Youth Group, of the Church of Christ (Disciples). There will be baptismal service to climax the evening.

Folk Festival

The Second Annual Folk Festival will take place at the YWCA, Saturday afternoon and evening, May 8.

There will be a childrens matinee at 3 P. M., and an evening program for all ages at 7:30 P. M. Beginning at 2 P. M. and running through the evening there will be an exhibit of Folk arts and crafts.

Sixteen nationality groups will share in the Festival, presenting colorful native and folk dances and songs, and instrumental music.

Miss Rose Paul will again this year direct the Hungarian dances, with Misses Ann Deri, Betty Ozsko, Irma Paul and Katherine Paul. Accompanying the group will be Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kallos.

There will be a group of native Syrian dances and songs in charge of Miss Selma Bassett.

The Serbian group will be represented by Mr. Alexander Glisin and Mr. Louis Kozabarich offering numbers on the guitar and the tambouritza, with Miss Jean Vrugitz as vocalist. The tambouritza is an original Serbian instrument.

The finale of the program will be a gay spring time Maypole dance in which the following nationality groups will be represented: Dutch, Japanese, American, German, Hungarian, Scotch, Greek, Chinese, Australian, French, Italian, English, Mexican, Czechoslovakian.

The Folk Festival was planned by a committee of representatives of the different nationality groups and is sponsored by the World Fellowship Committee of the YWCA.

It is open to the public without reservations.

Dr. Drake Invited To Teach At Ohio U.

Dr. Leland N. Drake, Principal of Mound Junior High School, has been invited to return to Ohio University as visiting professor in the Department of Education and School Administration for the summer session beginning June 14th.

Dr. Drake has also served on the teaching staff of The New York State College for Teachers, in Albany, New York, and for four summers at Miami University, at Oxford, Ohio.

Dr. and Mrs. Drake are leaving for Athens shortly after school closes, and plan to return to their home at 195 Tibet Road, in time to open the new school term at Mound Junior High School in September.

YMCA Elementary Soft Ball League

The South Side Y Elementary School League got started with a bang at Southwood Field on Wednesday, April 21. The scores showed that the teams were still quite green and can make a big improvement before the season closes.

Southwood and Lincoln Park fifth graders were victorious in their opening tilts. Southwood defeated Beck 18 to 6 while the Lincoln Park boys laid the wood on Siebert 25 to 2.

Paul Wiegerig, Lincoln hurler, gave up only eight hits to the Siebert lads. Ray Ball led the batting for the losers as he collected three hits for five times at bat.

Dick Hickman led the Southwood attack with three for four at the plate, while Bill Rostofer led the attack for the losers.

Southwood and Siebert sixth graders came out on the long end of the score. Bill Woodall collected four for four as he led the Southwood boys on to a 22 to 12 victory over a green Beck Street team.

Siebert's 6th had a battle royal with Lincoln in the ninth inning to secure a 9 to 8 win.

Dick Harvey tripled for Lincoln with two on in the 4th to push their score to 8. Melvin Ramey tripled and George Cook homered in the bottom half of the 4th to deadlock the score at 8 all.

In the bottom half of the 9th Howard Grim collected a walk and was driven in on a double by George Cook to cinch the game for Siebert.

Bob Hymrod, Bob Baber, Jack Ritter and Don Holderle handles the umpiring chores.

SOUTHEAST LIONS

chairman of Grove City, was the guest speaker for the members of the Southeast Lions Club Tuesday at their meeting at the Swan Grill.

Nailor For Representative

JOSEPH C. NAILOR—born in Columbus, Jan. 6, 1878, Nailor is an attorney. He is a widower and lives at 109 N. Burgess Ave. An orphan when he was 1 year old, Nailor attended Columbus public schools. He served 12 years in City Council, two years as president. He first was elected to the Ohio House for the term starting in 1929.

He has been a member of the Buckeye Republican Club 49 years and is a former president. He is a member of Glenwood Methodist Church and is a Mason. He is a member of the Eagles, Columbus Urban League, Knights of Pythias, Knights of Khorassan, Woodmen of the World, and several other fraternal organizations.

Mrs. Golda Edmonston Up For Re-election

Mrs. Golda May Edmonston, 59 West Dominion Blvd., is a Republican candidate for re-election for Representative to the General Assembly and is the only woman candidate for the position in Franklin County.

She served as a Ward Committeewoman for four years and was elected for two terms as State Central Committeewoman, and is now serving her second term in State Legislature.

Mrs. Edmonston is a member of the Indianola Presbyterian Church and has been very active in many Fraternal, Political, Patriotic, Social and Civic Organizations. She is married and has a daughter and a son who served for five years in World War II.

Wilmore Brown Candidate Of Legislature

Mr. Wilmore Brown of 334 Northridge Road, Columbus, is Democratic Candidate for State Representative in the forthcoming primaries. This being his first time running for any office.

Mr. Brown is 27 years of age and a graduate of Ohio State University, B. Sc. Business Administration, June, 1942, and also with an LLB, June 1947. He is an attorney and is associated with the law firm of Stump, Wardley and Mitchell in the LeVeque-Lincoln Tower, 50 W. Broad St., where he is engaged in the general practice of law.

Mr. Brown's military record is as follows: He entered the service as a private in the infantry, December 4, 1942. He was honorably discharged on points, October 18, 1945. His continental service was 1 year, 5 months and 15 days. Overseas: 1 year, 4 months and 25 days. He was awarded campaign stars for participating in five major European campains: Normandy, Northern France, Rhineland, Central Europe and Ardennes.

He is a member of the following: Franklin County Young People's Democratic Club of which he is a trustee; Democratic Lawyers Club, Phi Delta Phi, (legal fraternity), Columbus Bar Association, Ohio State Bar Ass'n., Ohio and American Farm Bureau Federation, Franklin County Farm Bureau. He is a member of the Maple Grove Methodist Church.

Civil Engineer For State Legislature

Clifford W. Ozias, Civil Engineer, of 1582 Andover Road, Columbus, is a candidate for representative in the General Assembly on the Republican Ticket in the Primary, May 4. Ozias was born and reared in Twin Creek Valley in Preble County, Ohio, to which his ancestors emigrated from North Carolina in 1803. His maternal grandfather came from England to Northeastern Ohio in 1832.

After a long period engaged in railway, irrigation, river control and highway engineering in Ohio and the West, Mr. Ozias served eight years as Chief Engineer Examiner in the office of Auditor of State, Joseph T. Tracy. In this work he had to do with most of the departments of State Government. He worked with the various boards of which the Auditor is ex-officio a member. In this work he gained a knowledge of the various operations of State Government which will be useful to him when serving the people of Franklin County in the Legislature.

Ozias is known as "the candidate with a platform". He is interested in progressive and constructive legislation along the following lines: Redevelopment of Urban Blighted Areas; Stabilization of the State Highway Department through a Continuous Commission; Regulation by the State Highway Department of traffic and parking on State Routes through municipalities where necessary; Publication of receipts and disbursements by tht Auditor of State; Lieutenant Governor full time employee of Governor's Office; Removal of restrictions on the sale of oleomargarine; Redistribution of State Tax funds; Authorization of necessary turnpike construction.

For several years the Franklin County delegation in the General Assembly has consisted of four lawyers, one druggist and one home manager—no engineers. The training and experience of engineers qualify them for legislators. They are practical in their approach to the solution of all problems involving the activities of a community. The Legislature makes vast expenditures for construction. Design and Supervision of Construction is the Civil Engineer's business.

Ozias is a Registered Professional Engineer in Ohio. Graduate of Purdue University with two degrees in Civil Engineering. Member American Society of Civil Engineers; National, State and County Societies of Professional Engineers; American Association of Engineers of Chicago; Engineers' Club of Columbus; Kiwanis Club of Columbus; Ohio Forestry Association; Masonic Lodge and U. B. Church. Not previously a candidate for elective office. He is a candidate on the basis of qualifications only.

The candidate has lived in Columbus and suburbs since 1919. Mrs. Ozias was the former Mary Emma MacDonald, pioneer district nurse on the plains of the West. Mr. and Mrs. Ozias reared two orphan girls who are married and live in Chicago and New York.

TO YOUR Republican State Representative,
JOSEPH C. NAILOR
DEAR JOE: December 9, 1947
I just want to express my personal appreciation to you. It is the opinion of veteran legislative observers that, for the amount of work handled, this is the shortest and smoothest working session of the Ohio Legislature ever held in their memory. AGAIN I THANK YOU FOR YOUR GOOD WORK.
Sincerely Yours, BILL O'NEILL, Speaker

Columbia Theater

The Columbia presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "To The Ends of the Earth" with Dick Powell and Signe Hasso. After seeing the captain of a Jap tramp steamer bludgeon and dump a hundred Chinese slaves off the San Francisco harbor, U. S. Treasury Agent Dick Powell, attached to the bureau of narcotics, begins a fantastic world-wide chase in quest of a syndicate of smugglers dealing in drugs, the world's most shocking and richest countraband. Following an adventure-packed chase, Powell rounds up the criminals and presents the United Nations with invaluable information concerning the underground operation of this and similar gangs. Also "Dangerous Years" with William Halop and Scotty Beckett.

The Parsons Theater

The Parsons theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, "The Swordsman" with Larry Parks and Ellen Drew. Little in the way of solid entertainment is lacking in this cloak and dagger melodrama with a Romeo and Juliet theme. Add fine Technicolor scenes of rugged Scottish highlands and rolling meadows, hair-raising swordplay, murder, intrigue, wild chases that pack as much excitement as a western and lavish banquets. Larry Parks is a dashing Scottish warrior. Ellen Drew is lovely in sumptuous 18th century costumes.

Moral of the tale is that love conquers all. Here it overcomes a bitter feud between two hot-blooded Scottish clans. Parks falls in love with Miss Drew, daughter of a hated clan. They bring peace to the highlands after a series of thrilling adventures. Also playing is "Green For Danger" with Sally Gray and Trevor Howard. Selected short subjects.

RUSSELL THEATRE

The Russell presents Sunday and Monday "I Walk Alone" with Burt Lancaster and Lizabeth Scott. A drama of clashing emotions and wills, in which Burt Lancaster returns from a stretch in prison to find that Kirk Douglas, his racketing partner in prohibition days, has frozen him out of the prosperous Regent night club and is discarding the Club's Singer, Lizabeth Scott, for a more profitable alliance with a rich divorcee Kristine Miller. When Douglas tries to pin the frame-up murder of a bookkeeper on him, Lancaster and Miss Scott join hands to bring the double-crosser to justice. Also "Northwest Trail" with Bob Steele and John Lytell. "News and Cartoons."

Saturday matinee will be the third in a series of six that is being given at the Russell, and another bicycle will be given away. The winner last Saturday was Lawrence Maroth of 1644 Goethe Street. The South Side merchants ticket which won was Hall and Scheiderer Hardware of 1683 Parsons Ave.

IDEAL THEATER

The Ideal presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Killer McCoy" with Mickey Rooney, Brian Donlevy and James Dunn. Mickey breaks away from his "Andy Hardy" roles in this drama of the prize-ring, in which he is a hard-hitting boxer who eventually cracks the big time by an appearance at Madison Square Garden. It is his most role packed with savage excitement from start to finish. The story of a savage fighter conquered by tender romance; also "Gas House Kids in Hollywood" with Alfalfa Switzer and the Gas House Kids. There is a good "Cartoon" on this program also.

Club Alexander

New type of entertainment at Club Alexander this week. The Three Sport Boys who play soft music for dance with a Novocord, Drum and Sax. These boys imitate, sing and do pantomine. This is an entire new form of entertainment, first time in Columbus. Regular bar prices in the Nite Club. No door charge.

Champion Theater

Friday and Saturday (Matinee Saturday)—UP GOES MAISIE with Ann Sothern and George Murphy; also, BAD BASCOMB with Wallace Beery and Margaret O'Brien.

Sunday and Monday (Matinee Sunday) A DOUBLE LIFE with Ronald Colman and Signe Hasso; also, IF WINTER COMES with Walter Pidgeon and Deborah Kerr.

Tuesday (Family Night) BLUE DANUBE with Alan Ladd and Veronica Lake; also, MARSHAL OF LAREDO with "Wild" Bill Elliott.

Wednesday and Thursday—MAN IN IRON MASK with Louis Hayward and Joan Bennett; also, GENTLEMAN AFTER DARK wih Brian Donlevy and Miriam Hopkins.

Mound Y Teens View Films

The Y-Teen Club and the Pan-American Club of Mound Junior High School united their meeting Thursday for the purpose of seeing films on Gibraltar and the Island of Madiera. The films are a part of a series that will be presented by the Spanish Club. Frieda Boltz is sponsor of the Mound Y-Teen Club and Kenneth Povenmire has direction of the Spanish Club. Sixty students attended the showing of these films.

Look Kids! Cartoon Show

Tickets are now on sale at the box-office of the Southland Theatre, and six other Academy houses, for a giant Cartoon Show, scheduled for Saturday afternoon, May 1st.

The special May Day Program will consist of 15 top-flight Technicolor Cartoons, including such animated favorites as Mickey Mouse, Tom and Jerry, Donald Duck, Fox and Crow, Pluto and Bugs Bunny and last for two joy-filled hours.

Doors will open at 1:30 P. M. on Saturday, one-half hour before showtime, for the benefit of late ticket purchasers. All seats cost twenty-five cents. Similar shows will be given at the same time on Saturday at the Westmont, University, Cleve, Esquire, Beechwold and Boulevard Theatres.

Samuel Devine A New Comer

SAMUEL L. DEVINE—Age 32, Devine is seeking public office for the first time. He is married and lives at 275 N. Stanwood Rd. After his graduation from law school in 1940, with honors, Devine practiced law in Columbus until he was appointed a special agent of the FBI in December, 1940. He was stationed in Denver, Colo., and New York by the FBI until October, 1945.

Devine

He is a member of the law firm of Metcalf, King & Devine. He is a stepson of the late State Representative Henry H. Metcalf.

He is a member of the Masons and attends the Methodist Church.

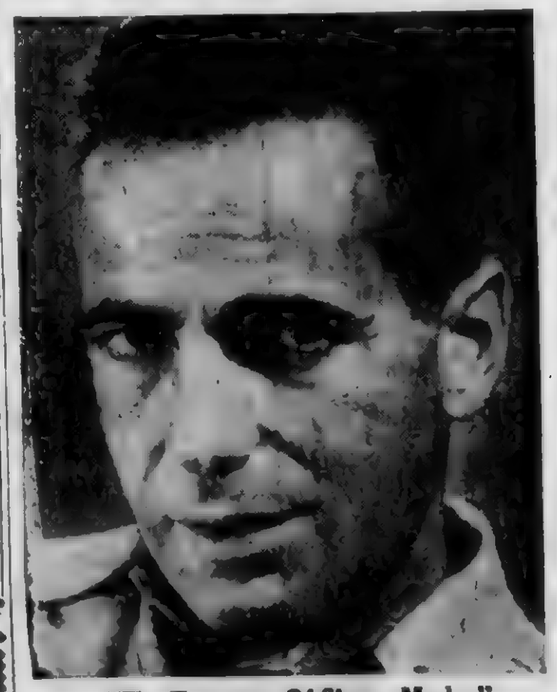
Champion Theater, Friday and Saturday



BAD BASCOMB, starring Wallace Beery and little Margaret O'Brien will be main feature at the Champion Theatre this Friday and Saturday. A lovable story of a little girl trying to influence a bad man into doing what's right, we suggest this show for the entire family. Co-featured will be UP GOES MAISIE. Starring Ann Sothern and George Murphy, it is another of Maisie's hilarious stories and true to form she is in and out of trouble a dozen times.

Southland Shows "The Bishop's Wife"

"WOTTA WOLF!" DAVID NIVEN (inset) portrayed a harried young clergyman, is dazed when his visitor-secretary, portrayed by CARY GRANT, shows an obvious attraction for LORETTA YOUNG as the heroine in "THE BISHOP'S WIFE", delightful new comedy, opening Sunday at the Southland Theatre. "Dick Tracy Meets Gruesome", starring Boris Karloff and Ralph Byrd, will be co-featured, plus the special feature, "Twenty Years of Academy Awards", which presents excerpts from the Academy award winning pictures of the past two decades.

"The Treasure Of Sierra Madre"
Humphrey Bogart and Walter Huston

SUN. AND MON. AT THE CHAMPION

Next Sunday and Monday we are proud to bring you Ronald Coleman in his Academy Award winning picture A DOUBLE LIFE, with Signe Hasso playing the leading femenine role. Mr. Coleman turns in the greatest performance of his carreer in this picture and we suggest everyone make it a point to see it. Companion attraction will be IF WINTER COMES, starring Walter Pidgeon and Deborah Kerr. This is an attractive double bill and either picture could be featured.

South Orchestra And Band Rated Superior

The South High Optic Staff announces that on Friday 12, the South High Orchestra and Band received superior ratings in the State District Contest at Capital University.

The selections played by the Orchestra were "Water Music," by G. F. Handel, "In A Persian Market," by Ketelbey, and "Finale" from 5th Symphony", by Beethoven-Woodhouse.

"Symphony in E Flat," by Fauchet Gillette and "Finlandia," by Sibelius were played by the Band.

The three judges that gave the Orchestra and Band superior ratings were: Richard J. Stocker, a musical director at Springfield; L. Shackson, musical director at Otterbein, and U. O. Seppelin.

Mr. U. O. Seppelin commented that the Orchestras outstanding strong points were a good first violins and the even balance between the string instruments with the brass and woodwind instruments.

He said the weak points were the shortage of cellos, and the maturity of the string players.

This is the second year that Mr. Randel Near, the musical director of South, has entered the orchestra and band in this contest. Both times they have made good showings.

Public Speaking Class Attends Conference

Eleven South High Public Speaking class students attended a discussion conference at Central High on April 15. Every city school except Linden-McKinley participated.

Those attending were: Carolyn High, Helen Scott, Nancy Edgar, Bob Garrison, Don Waters, Carl Hancock, Bernie Sherman, Don Dill, Lawella Arledge, Harold Young, Mr. Charles Bonner, teacher of public speaking, and Mr. Burgett, student teacher.

The topics that South took part in were Universal Military Training and World Federation of Democracies, Now.

The whole group was divided into six discussion groups. The two best in each, were then chosen to give their group's conclusion at the general assembly. Nancy Edgar, Carolyn High and Helen Scott were so honored.

Carolyn's comment was that the conference was very interesting.

This was the first conference of its type to be held in the city schools. Plans are being made to hold one every semester.

Lincoln Park P.T.A. News

The Lincoln Park PTA executive board held a luncheon for the teachers April 15 at the school. Mrs. Caesar Cacciatere was chairman.

The regular meeting was held Thursday, April 22. Safety was the theme. Speaker was W. K. Knight of the State Highway Patrol. He presented the film entitled "On Two Wheels."

Music by Miss Armstrong's class; safety skit by Miss Dennison's class.

Officers elected for the new year are: President, Mrs. Paul E. Friebis; 1st V. Pres., Mrs. Clem Owens; 2nd V. Pres., Miss Bertha Schilffarth; Sec., Mrs. John Zimpfer; Cor. Sec., Mrs. Richard Halterman; Treas., Miss Agnes Rehm. Council Members—Mrs. Newton Lyle; Mrs. Stephen Soliss, Mrs. George Fairand.

Council Alternates— Mrs. Adrian Hancock, Mrs. Paul Wiegerig, Mrs. Claude Ford.

Refreshments were served and social hour followed. Hostesses—Mrs. Floyd Cheatham, Mrs. Chris Schumacher and Mrs. Ellsworth Rheinchild.

South Baseball Team Loses

South High's Bulldogs opened their baseball season with a 5-1 loss to Dick Malone and his Central team-mates.

Malone turned in an excellent job on the mound in limiting South to only one hit. His no-hit ball game broken up in the fourth inning when Chris Treneff drove a single to center field, allowing his team-mate, Chet Dewey, to core the lone Bulldog tally

Dewey had reached second base on a pair of Pirate errors and went to third on an infield out.

Paul Ebert, in pitching for the losing cause, allowed only five hits, struck out seven, and gave up four base on balls.

WE HONOR MOTHER SUNDAY

Mother O'Mine

If I were hanged on the highest hill
Mother o'mine, O mother o'mine!
I know whose love would follow me still
Mother o'mine, O mother o'mine!
If I were drowned in the deepest sea,
Mother o'mine, O mother o'mine!
I know whose tears would come to me
Mother o'mine, O mother o'mine!
If I were damned of body and soul
Mother o'mine, O mother o'mine!
I know whose prayer would make me whole
Mother o'mine, O mother o'mine!

— Rudyard Kipling

Every man whether he be Protestant or Catholic or Jew, every man regardless of his race, color or creed, has a deep respect and everlasting love for the one who went down into the valley of struggle to give him birth—his MOTHER.

Songs have been sung about her, poets have penned their words of praise and love about her and she is held in the hearts of men of the world.

But only a Mother can repay a Mother for her love. Only a Mother can understand a Mother's heart. Only a Mother can fully appreciate the sacrifices a Mother has made for her children.

On this day we pray that the old-fashioned Mother Love and Wisdom for whom we have a great

Latin Neighbors Visit South High

On April 15, the 11th grade American History classes of South High School of Mr. Redman and Mr. Metcalf were visited by six charming young ladies from our Latin-American neighbors This visit was made possible by Miss Rita King and Miss Joellen Seidensticker, two student teachers of St. Marys of th Springs College, who are conducting Mr. Redman's 7th and Mr. Metcalf's 8th period history classes. The names and countries from which these young ladies came from are as follows: Miss Alicia Mirquda (Puerto Rico), Miss Ellena Orteto (Mexico), Miss Amyra Dausseurr (Equador), Miss Adr Meranda (Puerto Rico), and Miss Esperanza Farranure (Cuba).

How and why was this visit made possible? Well, Miss King's and Miss Seidensticker's classes were studying about the Monroe Doctrine in connection with the Latin-American countries and it so happens that at the dormitory where Miss King and Miss Seidensticker stay at St. Marys of the Springs College there lived six girls who had come from Latin American countries. They decided that the students would enjoy a visit by these young ladies, and visa-versa, so they brought them to South.

The young ladies, from our neighbors "South of the border" and the students of the History classes got along nicely. The ladies would answer any questions which the students might ask and even sang a few Spanish songs. The questions which were asked by the students, and the answers rectived, were something like this:

Q. How is the relationship between the Latin American countries and the United States now?
A. They are much better.
Q. How big is Panama?
A. It is about 100 miles long and 36 miles wide
Q. Were you afraid of the traffic in our country?

REEB CALENDAR

Friday, May 7, Carnival, 5 P. M. to 9 P. M.

Tuesday, May 11, Educational Films—Farm Animals, How Our Neighbors and Elephants.

Wednesday, May 12, 9:10 A. M. Sale of Savings Stamps and Bonds.

The above calendar of the events of the coming week is announced so that our parents and adult friends may plan to come Reeb to visit us.

—R—

The four ball teams in Mrs. Betson's room have played and so far "The American Swiss" whose captain is Allyn Shoemaker and the "Cardinals" whose captain is Arthur Carter are the winners. These two teams will play and the winner will play the winner of Miss Oelgoets' room.

—R—

Shirley Moore, Marjorie Hunyady, Sue Chapman, Janice Flowers, Juanita Cannaday, Nyla Jenkins, Pauline Robinson and Imogene Pearson in the 6B Class, brought cans of dirt in which they planted tomato and zinnia seeds. Some of the seeds have come up and the tiny plants are growing nicely.

—R—

The 6B's have played one baseball game. The Reeb Dodgrs played the Reeb Eagles. The Reeb Eagles won with a score of 5 to 3. All are anxious to play the next game.

—R—

The scores for the teams in Miss Oelgoets' room are Brown Bombers—10, Tigers—4, Wild Cats—4, Dodgers—3.

—R—

The 5th grade marble tournament has progressed as follows: Arnold Latham defeated Larry Wellman; Franklin Mitchell won over Alfred McWilliams. In the second round, Raymond Harper won over Richard Stewart; James Wilkey defeated Willis Kise; Cornelius Gilcrease won from Donald Henry; Arthur Carter lost to Robert Allen; Carl Prince won from Alyn Shoemaker; Fred Banks won from Franklin Williamson; Richard Boggs won from Jesse Stinson; and Arnold Latham defeated Franklin Mitchell. In the third round Raymond Harper won from James Wilkey; Cornelius Gilcrease forfeited a game to Robert Allen because of absence; Fred Banks defeated Carl Prince; and Richard Boggs lost to Arnold Latham. In the semi-finals Raymond Harper continued his winning by defeating Robert Allen and Arnold Latham was successful again over Fred Banks. The final games were played before both 5th grade rooms and Raymond Harper defeated Arnold Latham.

Within a few days, we will have a series of games between John Hook, the 6th grade champion, and Raymond Harper, the champion of our 5th grade.

—R—

Reeb Avenue School Carnival! ! Whenever this is mentioned we all think of one grand evening of wholesome fun. Tomorrow night, Friday, May 7, is the time.

It will start at 5:00 by serving of the evening meal in the cafeteria. This is something new so that the entire family can "eat out" and then spend the rest of the evening together upstairs. The ladies are preparing to serve chilli, hot dogs, baked beans, soft drinks, ice cream and cake. Each item may be purchased separately if you wish.

We are still in need of mother helpers. If you are free for part of Friday evening, please call Mrs. Brancome, GA-7035 or the school office GA-1326 and we will find a place for you to work.

The Ministrel will be presented at 7:00 and 7:30 p. m. The Magic Show will be given at 8:00 and 8:30 p. m. Please keep in mind that we want to give liberal amounts for every 5c purchase and that the profit will all go into our Parent-Teachers Association fund to take care of its expenses for the coming year.

—R—

Two new swing seats have been installed this last week. These are specially covered with rubber to help protect our boys and girls.

—R—

Don't forget that you'll have to wait a whole year for another Reeb Avenue School Carnival so, we'll be looking for you tomorrow from 5:00 until 9:00.

Last Tuesday morning, April 27, the 6th grade pupils of Reeb made house-to-house calls in an attempt to locate all children who are 4½ to 6 years of age and not in school. This was for the purpose of finding out just how many we may expect in Kindergarten in September when school opens. It also gave us the enumeration report for this year.

Our girls and boys report very courteous treatment and willingness on the part of most folks to make this canvass successful and accurate. We thank you for your co-operation.

There is always a possibility that some homes might have been missed. If youre should be one, please call Mr C. O Callahan, Prin. at Reeb, GA-1326 so that this error might be corrected

—R—

On last Friday, Arbor Day, the Co-operative Club of Columbus presented Reeb Ave. School with 155 trees for the boys and girls of our 5th and 6th grades to set in their own yards at home. We think that this is a mighty fine idea inasmuch as Columbus is losing so many trees which need to be replaced. This is the second year that this has been done and we express our hearty thanks to this civic-minded group for such a grand gesture.

Peter Donald told about the baby rabbit which pestered its mother all day long. Finally, the exasperated parent could stand it no longer.

"Okay," she said, "you were pulled out of a magician's hat. Now will you quit asking questions?"

Miss Jean Jordon Wed Recently

At a candlelight service in the Benfield Av., Church of Christ, April 9 at 7:30 p. m., Miss Jean Jordan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Jordan, 1467 Oakwood Ave., became the bride of Donald Wolfe, son of Elijah Wolfe, Marengo, with the Rev. Richard Felton officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white skinner satin wedding gown with a sheer yoke outlined with chantilly lace, and long sleeves ending in points over her hands. The skirt was very full and ended in a long train. Her veil of illusion fell from a tiara of pearl and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses, with a large white orchid in the center.

The maid of honor, Miss Bette Casto, wore a blue satin and net dress with matching mitts, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Her hairdress was of the same flowers.

The two bridesmaids, Miss Norma Casto and Miss Yvonne Wolfe and junior bridesmaid, Patty Mattingly, all were dressed in pink net dresses with matching mitts. They carried identical bouquets of yellow carnations and blue iris, with similar flowers for their hair.

Stanley Wolfe, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. Ushers seating the guests were James Jordan, brother of the bride, and Robert Wolfe, brother of the bridegroom.

A reception for the immediate families and close friends was held at the church.

South Graduate To Wed Soon

Mr. and Mrs. Hazel M. McMurray of Portland, Ohio, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Gladys, to Mr. James Brown, son of Mrs. James Brown, Sr., 58 Frank Road.

The bride-elect, a graduate of Racine High School, attended Bliss College and is associated with the Department of Industrial Relations.

Mr. Brown, a graduate of South High School and Chicago Academy of Fine Arts, is employed by the Waterproof Ohio Paper Co.

The open-church ceremony will be an event of May 15 at 4:30 p. m. at the Broad Street Methodist Church with Dr. Walter F. Casto officiating.

Joan Schooley To Wed In Fall

Announcement is being made of the engagement of Miss Joan Schooley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Schooley, 1200 Linwood Avenue, to Mr. Robert Dickey, of Lancaster, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dickey.

Miss Schooley attended Ohio State University and is now associated with the University School.

Mr. Dickey is attending Ohio State University where he is a member of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity and Varsity "O."

The wedding will be an event of the fall season.

The petulant Mr. Petrillo tells us that there will be no more recordings of new phonograph records after December 31. Presumably, when the teen-ager of the future feels like cutting a bit of rug, instead of dropping a nickel in the juke organ slot, he will simply summon a twelve-piece orchestra.

Barbara Borror To Wed June 12

Mr and Mrs Guy Borror, 755 Siebert St., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Jean, to Denver R. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Anderson, 333 E. Gates St.

The bride-elect is a graduate of South High School and is employed as receptionist for Dr. E. J. Simms. She is a member of Beta Sigma Phi, international businesswomen's sorority.

Mr. Anderson attended South High School and is associated with the Columbus Tile and Fireplace Co.

The wedding will be an event of Saturday, June 12

It is not so important to be serious as it is to be serious about the important things. The monkey wears an expression of seriousness which would do credit to any college student. But the monkey is serious because he itches.

GUIDING STAR SPIRITUALIST
Rev. Thelma E. Hostottle
Thursday evening 8 o'clock Seance Meeting.
Men may forget the healings of Jesus but His Words never. Even the Great Master Himself put his teaching (His Words) about His healing, see Matthew 24 and 35. Heaven and earth shall pass away but My Word (Truth) shall not pass away.

News In The World Of Religion

What has been termed the "best example of interfaith action in welfare work ever undertaken in this country" is the formation of the Joint Council on the Resettlement of Displaced Persons, which includes national representatives of Protestant, Roman Catholic, Jewish, and Eastern Orthodox churches and agencies. They are working together for the passage of emergency legislation to permit the admission of a satisfactory number of European displaced persons into the United States during the next few years; and to arrange for their resettlement in America communities where they will be welcomed and are needed because of their particular skills.

A group of business men in Chicago have purchased a tract of 60,000 square feet of city land in order to give some underprivileged lads from the tenements a chance to "learn the secret of growing things and the care of animals" which come to all country boys, and especially those who are members of the 4-H farm clubs. Most of the business men are themselves "products of the soil", and recognize the great disadvantage under which boys on the streets of Chicago and of other large cities live—and some of the reasons why they get into difficulties with the police. Says a leader of the movement: "We need camps and farms where large numbers of city youngsters will be welcomed and taught by competent instructors, and where they may experience the life which is their rightful heritage." The leaders hope this idea may spread to other cities; and that it may become a function of school authorities, park authorities, and police authorities to foster "farm life for city boys".

"There is greater need today than ever in our history for emphatic emphasis on the place of God in our family life," wrote President Truman to the International Council of Religious Education in endorsing the holding of National Family Week from May 2 to 8. Jewish, Protestant and Catholic churches and agencies are uniting in the observance. "The most important contribution that the churches can make to the home is to bend their efforts toward keeping its spiritual forces as vigorous and vital as possible," said the President. The most perfect economic and social environment conceivable cannot assure a sound home life where spiritual foundations of the family are weak. The fairest flower of American family life is the fruit of the religious heritage of the centuries brought to our shores."

From Geneva, Switzerland, the word comes that thirty-three German pastors, from the British, American and Russian zones, are waiting their marching orders to go and relieve an equal number of pastors who are prisoners of war in Great Britain. These "voluntary prisoners" will be at their new posts early this year. The Chancellery of the German Evangelical Church has organized in each of the interested zones a meeting of "future P.W.'s chaplains", to help prepare them for their new ministry which will continue until all the prisoners are repatriated. A second list of 20 pastors who are also destined for Great Britain is under examination. The Chancellery has also been requested to send 25 volunteer pastors for the prisoner-of-war camps in France.

China has a second "Christian general", this one a "product" of the missionary effort of the Presbyterians on the island of Hainan . . . He is Brigadier-General Tseng-Bin, who twenty years ago was in a mission school in Hoihow, Hainan, and became a Christian. He rose rapidly in the army, served in North China, and was returned to Hainan to repatriate the Japanese and to restore law and order after the war. Regularly he takes his turn preaching and teaching in his home church and school; he cleared both Japanese and Chinese military out of mission property; and he is often quoted in the local Chinese press saying that Christianity is the only hope for China.

Dr. Glorge W. Harley, of Asheville, N. C., one of the most versatile missionaries in Africa—he is a physician, surgeon, botanist, builder, educator, and agriculturist—has been named by the Republic of Liberia to erect a new hospital at Sanoquelle, eastern Liberia. Dr. Harley has trainned the workmen in the making of cement blocks for the walls, and has selected hospital equipment. His mission at Ganta—a station of the Methodist Church (American)—has also been called upon to supply many thousands of feet of tropical lumber for the rebuilding of "stick" bridges in the area. The logging crews were recruited from among the native tribesmen by Dr. Harley and Missionary B. S. Cofield.

Man our Brother.
We believe these to be the fundamental truths of our faith.
We believe in the progressive revelation of the Living God and every person in our fellowship has the right and freedom to seek the Truth as it is revealed to him in the Scriptures and in life.
We believe God has revealed the way of abundant living through the Life and Teachings of Jesus Christ, and we therefore covenant together that it shall be our purpose to live together in peace and seek the Truth in Love.

City Wide Evangelistic Campaign

To complete plans for a city-wide evangelistic campaign under the direction of the Evangelistic Association for Columbus, and sponsored by more than fifty local churches, there will be an "Evangelistic Rally" Thursday, May 6, 1948, in Central Presbyterian Church, 132 S. Third St.

Horace Dean, director of Christ for America, who has directed many city-wide campaigns throughout the nation, will be the speaker. Along with a brilliant message so typical of Dean, there will be a program of congregational singing led by "Chuck" Higgins, with Lee Baum and John Osborn at the twin pianos. The public is invited to this meeting.

The three weeks evangelistic campaign is planned for fall. Fifty churches have pledges cooperation which assures one of the largest evangelistic series in the history of Columbus. The place will be announced later, as well as the speaker who is considered one of the nation's spiritual leaders.

Chairman of the Evangelistic Association is Rev. Kenneth Fraser, pastor of the Third Avenue Alliance Church. Rev. Howard Schoof is secretary. The board of directors is composed of ministers of fifteen denominations and independent organizations. The overall plan of the Evangelistic Association is to enlist cooperation of pastors, churches, and Christian laymen throughout the country.

South Side Y Softball League

Stewart and Lincoln Park came through with double wins in the South Side YMCA Elementary School League games played Thursday, April 30, at Southwood Field.

Lincoln Park's Fifth Graders came through with an impressive 16 to 6 victory over a Southwood aggregation. Paul Wiegerig led the Lincoln boys with two doubles and two singles in five times at bat. Jimmy Prindle, Southwood's second baseman, collected two singles in three times at bat.

Don Horn and Billy Kenyon led Stewart in a slug fest to edge Beck Street fifth 16 to 14. Jerry Whalen and Kenny Gillian were the main stays in the Beck Street lineup.

The big game of the evening was the Stewart-Beck sixth grade struggle in which Stewart captured an 8-4 win. Max Flesher collected a perfect evening at the bat in getting two singles and a triple in three times at the plate to pave the way for the Stewart lads, while his teammate, Jim Burton, picked himself up a walk and two singles in the same number of times at bat. Twirler, Frank Howard, collected two for four to give himself a .500 batting average.

Lincoln Park sixth graders turned on the power again to down an over-confident Southwood team by a score of 13 to 7. Bill Winkfield turned in a perfect evening at the rubber with a single, a double and a home run. Rudy Kolesser showed plenty of power at the plate when he secured a single and two home runs for the winners.

SEEN AND HEARD

Joe Eagle, former secretary of the South Side Eagles, is now living in Dayton.

Walter Tompkins, of the Booster Advertising Staff, has just recently purchased an out-board motor. He is going real soon to buy yachting clothes.

The prize poker player of our community is Eddy Powell, who has his place of business on Oakwood near Whittier. Recently Eddy held five aces.

What kind of a deck of cards do you use Eddy?

Ernie Rothfuss, of the Parsons Recreation, at Parsons Ave., and Reinhard St., is quite a golfer down at the Groveport Links. One of the foursome he usually plays with, says he is a Civil War golfer. We asked him what kind of a golfer that was. He replied out in 61 and back in 65.

Saw Bill DeVany recently with gorgeous auburn-haired gal. Better look out Bill. Many a guy who starts out by stealing a kiss ends up wearing shackles for life.

Homer Edson, formerly of 813 South High St., is again making Distol and Avertol, which production was curtailed due to the War. He is now located at 927 Franklin Ave. They say the reason Homer picks up so much weight is because he massages himself with Distol.

Triple S. Camp

A conversation overheard at the South Side Settlement House.

"At last we are able to register for camp. Gee, vacation must not be far away now that we are registering to go to the South Side Settlment House Camp. Gosh! only $5.00 for ten wonderful days of camp! Boy, oh, boy! Am I glad that I was a regular club member before last March, so that I can go. I can see myself already dashing down to the old house, hunting craw-dads along the creek, climbing way up in the sky in the fire tower, swimming, hiking, and all those countless other wonderful things. Gee, I wish school was over tomorrow instead of June 11.

"Ah, I see the boys go first for three periods. Do you mean there is a kindergarten period when my little brother and sister can go? Age four to eight, gee, that's young to go to camp, but I bet they have a swell time. Then two girls' periods, thank goodness it isn't all boys like last year. Hey! what does "Leaders" period mean? Oh, you must be selected to go to that period. Well how are you selected? You mean only a few of the best club leaders will be going. Gosh! that sounds super!

"Say, my friend is a club member at the South Side Settlement House but his Dad is sick in bed and he hasn't five dollars to go to camp, could be apply for a scholarship He can? Whe?re? Oh, in the office with Mrs. Roy, Mrs. Basden or with Mr. Lewis. How about my friend who doesn't go to the Settlement House? Oh, she can't go this year unless there aren't enough club members going? Well, she won't be going then for everyone I have talked with is going. I bet, she'll join a club at the Settlement House next year!

"Boy, did you hear who all is going to be at the Camp? Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Mr. Lewis is camp director; Mr. and Mrs. Dean, Mr. Dean is assistant camp director and athletic director; Mr. Simmons, our cook last year; Mrs. Moore, our Kindergarten teacher who is going to teach us crafts; Mrs. White, our Club leader, and we hear several other swell people are going to be there as counselors and teachers. Gee! I can hardly wait!

"I've got my application already, have you? See your Mom or Dad has to fill out this physical examination record on the back and then fill out the application and sign the parent's agreement. I sure am going to rush over with my dollar and get registered for I hear that the first ones on the list will have a better chance of going in case everyone doesn't get to go. Say I've got to ask when I go for a physical examination for it says here everyone must take one. Hey! they're free! Look at what you take to camp. A swimming suit—I can feel that cool water now. A fishing tackle—say did I tell you about that big one that got away? Skates? Oh, that's for rainy days in the mess hall. Boy, I'm glad that Mr. Lewis said that if I didn't have all these things I could go anyway for I've only got two wash clothes. Gee—I can't wait to hop in that new station wagon and scoot off to our camp!"

Ohio Anglers Take Home Big Stringers

Conservation Commissioner H. A. Rider said this week that Ohio fishermen forced from favorite haunts along the state's 12,000 miles of flooded streams during the past several weeks have found an angler's paradise at most of the inland lakes where fishing has been disturbed very little, if any, by high water.

Because of the unusually warm water for this time of year spring fishing on the state's 500 lakes has been exceptionally good and catches of from 40 to 50 crappies or bluegills in those water having no restrictions on daily bag limits are now very common even for one sitting.

Ray H. Riethmiller, fish management agent for district No. 5 of the Division of Conservation, reported this week that test netting in Buckeye Lake indicates that both bluegills and crappies are unusually plentiful and are above average in size. "Normally, catches of from 40 to 50 crappies at one sitting," he said, "is common this early in the spring."

He pointed out that anglers who really want to keep the skillet busy will have better luck in the evening hours from dark to about 11:00 p. m. than the early morning hours. Unusually large catches are being made from the shore and docks around the lake with the light of a lantern or electric light.

Shrine Game For Crippled Children

The annual Shrine baseball game sponsored by Aladdin Temple of Shriners will be played this year on Thursday evening, May 27, at the Red Bird Stadium, it was announced today by Thomas A. Bangs, potentate of Aladdin Temple and Al Banister, president of the Red Birds Baseball Club.

This will be the 10th year that Aladdin Temple has sponsored a baseball game for the benefit of crippled children, regardless of race, creed or color under the auspices of The Crippled Children's Hospital Association, Inc. which handles the crippled children activities for the Shriners, who are members of Aladdin Temple in Central Ohio Potentate Bangs said.

Plans are being completed for one of the best programs ever presented by the Temple with the pre-game activities being conducted on a much larger scale than ever before attempted, Potentate Bangs said.

Church Scene Of Krych-Ellison Wedding

Ferns, palms and candelabra formed the setting in the United Brethren Church for the marriage of Miss Helen Krych and Lawrence R. Ellison March 6. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Krych, 1668 Greenway Av., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Ellison, 1087 Sycamore St.

The Rev. B. C. Rife officiated at the 10:30 a. m. double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white satin with a sweetheart neckline and full skirt terminating in a train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to a coronet of beads and pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Mary Skurato, maid of honor, wore a blue chiffon gown with a lace bodice and carried yellow roses. Bridesmaids, Miss Margaret Walters, Miss Frances Skurato and Mrs. Alma LeCompte, wore pink gowns and carried bouquets of pink roses.

Best man was Stanley Krych. Ushers were Nickie Skurato and Anthony Galamore.

The reception followed at the bride's home.

Saturday Music Club To Hold Concert

The Saturday Music Club is presenting Robert Hohn, Baritone, a member of the Otterbein College Faculty, in a concert Saturday evening, May 8, at the Little Theater of the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts.

In observance of National Music Week, the Club is presenting the concert followed by a reception for the club members and their guests.

In the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Hohn will be the following members of the Board of the Saturday Music Club; Mrs. William Roney, President; Mrs. Bert Thomas, Mrs. E. S. Stauffer, Mrs. Carl Johnston, Miss Mary Frances Ellis, Miss Hortense Mohr, Mrs. Venetia Hall, Mrs. Roy Wildermuth, Miss Dorothy Gartner, Mrs. Harry Combs, Mrs. Earl Hopkins and Mr. Nason Oldham.

Mrs. Clarence Heiston is social chairman and Mrs. P. B. Hummel is chairman of the hosts and hostesses. The following will assist Mrs. Hummel: Mrs. Jeanne Griffiths, Miss Marie Field, Miss Dorothy Gartner, Mr. Edwin Stainbrook, Miss Hortense Mohr, Mrs. Jeanette Lee Moore, Mrs. L. K. Osborne, Mrs. Ralph Poston, Miss Maude Ochs, Mrs. Robert Cline, Mrs. Flora Ruffner, Miss Gloria Shade, Mrs. Louise Vogel, Miss Leah Smucker, Mrs. James Snyder, Mrs. Wesley Thomas, Mrs. Maxine Wiser, Miss Roberta Wolfe, Mrs. Charles Wander, Mrs. Louise Yost, Mrs. John Zook, Miss Martha Bethel, Mrs. Rose Graham, Mrs. C. T. Hathaway, Mrs. A. R. Johnson, Mrs. Joseph Lauferswiler, Miss Nancy Polumbo, Miss Josephine Sheskey, Miss Marguerite Potts, Mrs. E. S. Stauffer, Mrs. Romona Sando, Mrs. Miriam Wirth, Miss Alicia Zachman, Mr. Robert Cotner, Mr. Robert Daniels, Mr. Nason Oldham, Miss Marjorie Roseboom, Mrs. Alberta England, Mr. Edward Jones and Mr. David Crabtree.

IDEAL THEATER

The Ideal presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "To The Ends of the Earth" with Dick Powell and Signe Hasso. An action packed drama which exposes an international opium ring and provides red-blooded entertainment. Loaded with intrigue and adventure. Signe Hasso is suspected as the leader of the narcotics gang, she was trapped in a web of international intrigue, men bent on ruling with opium. Death was the price for failure. Also "Lure of the Wastelands" in technicolor with Grant Withers and Roy Mason. "Two Cartoons" complete this program.

The Swordsman At Southland

Larry Parks of "The Jolson Story" fame clashes swords with screen villian, George Macready, in this climatic scene from "The Swordsman", Technicolor adventure-romance of old Scotland, opening a three-day engagement at the Southland Theatre on Sunday. This stirring saga of clan feuds co-stars Mr. Parks with lovely Ellen Drew, most recently seen in "Johnny O'Clock". "Two Blondes and a Redhead", delightful romantic comedy starring pert Jean Porter and June Preisser, will be co-featured.

MON.-TUES. & WED. AT THE VICTOR

"CASS TIMBERLANE"
Spener Tracy and Lana Turner

The Parsons Theater

The Parsons Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "A Double Life" with Ronald Coleman and Signe Hasso. This is a play within a play. Coleman is cast as a sensitive stage star playing Othello. He takes the role so seriously that it prays on his mind. Temporarily insane, he commits murder, so Coleman has opportunity to display his talents in two parts as the actor and in the title role of the Shakespearean tragedy. Ronald Coleman brings new greatness to the screen in this compelling story of a man who lived two lives. Also on the bill is "Rocky" starring Roddy McDowell and Edgar Barrier. Selected Short Subjects.

Champion Theater

Friday and Saturday (Matinee Saturday) ABBOTT AND COSTELLO IN HOLLYWOOD with Abbott and Costello; also ON THE OLD SPANISH TRAIL with Roy Rogers and Jane Frazee. Also, 5 cartoons and serial.

Sunday and Monday (Matinee Sunday) RELENTLESS with Robert Young and Marguerite Chapman; also, DRIFTWOOD with Ruth Warrick and Walter Brennan.

Tuesday (Family Night) MISS SUSIE SLAGLE'S with Sonny Tufts and Veronica Lake; also, STAGECOACH TO DENVER with Alan Lane and Bobby Blake.

Wednesday and Thursday CHRISTMAS EVE with George Raft and George Brent; also, BLONDE SAVAGE with Lief Erickson and Gale Sherwood.

Community Junior Theater

A gala Water Carnival featuring the championship Ohio State University swimming and diving team and the colorful women's Swan Club will be held on Saturday, May 15, at 10:00 a. m. at the OSU Natatorium as the final performance of the 1947-'48 Community Junior Theater season.

In this exciting event planned especially for children Mike Peppe will present his aquatic stars in races, relays, fancy diving and demonstrations of swimming strokes. The women's Swan Club will give a striking display of rhythm swimmnig, featuring graceful water ballet numbers and precise formation swimmnig.

Grand finale will be a laugh-happy show of comedy swimming and diving headed by Jim Patterson, former Ohio State University diving champion and star of Billy Rose's famous Aquacade.

Captain Halo Hirose, western conference free style champion, Bob de Groot, former national backstroke champion, Miller Anderson, national springboard diving champion, Bruce Harlan, national platform diving champion, and the entire line-up of Peppe's championship team will perform in this star-spangled spectacle.

Tickets are only 25 cents for children and 55 cents for adults. They may be purchased at the performance.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "The Swordsman" with Larry Parks and Ellen Drew. A melodrama beautifully done in color. Larry Parks is a dashing Scotland warrior and Ellen Drew is picturesque in her costumes. Love overcomes a bitter fued between two Scottish clans. Parks falls in love with Miss Drew, daughter of a hated clan, and they bring peace to the highlands after some very thrilling adventures. Also "Caravan" with Stewart Granger and Ann Crawford.

Mrs. Dicke Students Give Recital

The first-year piano pupils of Priscilla La Rue Dicke were presented in recital at the Washington Ave., EUB Church, May 2.

The pupils who took part were: Beth Edwards, Ethel Clouse, Jerry Kalb, Elma Cowgill, Dave Leonard, Doug Leonard, Edeth Hayes, Leroy Hayes, Mary Beth Whitacre, Carole Williams, Marge Cowgill, Priscilla Dicke, Judy Langefeld, Shirley McCaffrey, Don Townsend, Joyce Brown, Donald Dicke, Eddie Day and Shirley Miller.

South Presents Saterical Comedy

On May 13-14 at 8:15 p. m. the Dramatics Department of South High School will present its spring production of the Torch-Bearers written by George Kelly.

The play, a satirical comedy, shows the rehearsal of a play and some of the amusing incidents that happen backstage. The characters are all different types of people.

The boys cast will be the same both nights, while the girls will have a rotating cast. The members of the cast and their positions are as follows: Mr. Frederick Ritter — Kenny Garwood, Mr. Huxley Hossefrosse—Charles Wooley, Mr. Spindler—Dick Petitbone, Mr. Ralph Twiller—Jack Schmidt, Teddy Spearing—Gary Beckett, and Mr. Stage Manager —Bill Forman. The girls cast for Thursday night are: Mrs. J. Duss Pampinelli—Patty Nolan, Mrs. Paula Ritter — Shirley Borror, Mrs. Nelly Fell—Eloise Hall, Miss Florence McCrickett — Patty Lefever, Mrs. Clara Sheppard—Pat Starn, and Jenny — Marjorie Heintz. Friday night the following will be saw: Mrs. J. Duss Pampinelli—Harriet Redrup, Mrs. Paula Pitter — Caroline Koch, Mrs. Nelly Fell—Jane Burns, Miss Florence McCrickett—Donna Frim, Mrs. Clara Sheppard—Suzanne Kaefer, and Jenny—Esta White.

Remember the time is 8:15 and the price is 50 cents

RUSSELL THEATRE

The Russell presents Sunday and Monday "To The Ends of The Earth" with William Powell and Signe Hasso. A smashing story of an international opium ring, loaded with intrigue and adventure. The plot takes Dick Powell from San Francisco to Shanghai, Egypt, Cuba and New York on the trail of the ring. Brutal scenes showing the mass murder of Chinese slaves are not for the squeamish, but are the true facts Also "Smoky River Serenade" with Paul Campbell and Ruth Terry. "News and a Cartoon" complete this program.

Last week at the Saturday matinee, Billy Crookham, of 1941 S. Fourth St., was the winner of the bicycle. He is a pupil of Reab Ave., School. The fourth bicycle will be given away Saturday, so be there with your tickets, you might be the lucky boy or girl.

SUN. AND MON. AT THE CHAMPION

The main feature at the Champion Theatre next Sunday and Monday will be RELENTLESS, featuring Robert Young and Marguerite Chapman.

Young does a beautiful job in his first Western, done in Technicolor, and when we say Western we mean all of that and something more.

Action is combined with good dialogue, and performance in this picture. Co-featured will be DRIFTWOOD, starring Ruth Warrick and Walter Brennan.

Champion Theater, Friday and Saturday

ABBOTT AND COSTELLO IN HOLLYWOOD will be the main feature at the Champion Theatre this Friday and Saturday. Bud Abbott and Lou Costello romp through this one, in a riotuous, rollicking, entertaining manner, and there's no reason why all shouldn't like it.

Second feature on our "all family" double bill will be ON THE OLD SPANISH TRAIL with Roy Rogers and Jane Frazee. Need we say more?

Club Alexander Features Square Dance

Joe has found a real treat for the many patrons of Club Alexander. It is that good old-fashioned American recreation Square Dancing, every Monday night. Last Monday was the first night and over three hundred people took advantage of the fun. Frances Adams and the Rural Serenaders play for this dancing and Charles Brooks is the caller.

Take your date or your crowd to Club Alexander and do some of that square dancing. You will find it is loads of fun and you are always bound to make new friends when you square dance. Oh yes, if you don't know how, don't be bashful as there is always some old-timer in the set ready to show you just what to do.

* * *

This week at Club Alexander you have Tootsie, yes, luscious Tootsie in her exotic dances. Joey Atlee, comedy which will make you roar with merriment, and dancing as you like it. A big review is also added to this show and if you don't have a night's entertainment, well it isn't Joe's fault, as he has tried to please you, with the Square Dancing added on Monday night's show.

To Be Wed In Summer

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Armentrout, 1786 Koebel Rd., are announcing the approaching marriage of their daughter, Doris L. Armentrout to Robert E. Bartoe, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bartoe of Briggadale.

Miss Armentrout is a graduate of South High School and is employed by the Ohio Farm Bureau.

Mr. Bartoe is a graduate of Central High School and associated with J. E. Bartoe Plumbing and Heating Contractor.

The wedding will be an event of early summer.

Champion To Have Novel Mother's Day Stunt

The Champion Theatre, with the cooperation of the Schiff Shoe Stores, on Mother's Day, May 9, will present a pair of shoes and a pair of house slippers, the choice of the store, to the oldest mother and the same to the youngest mother attending the Theatre on this day.

Mound Y-Teen Club Sponsor Puppet Show

The Y-Teen Club of Mound Junior High School sponsored a puppet show, Friday in the auditorium of the school, featuring Mrs. Ruth Poppenburg, of 933 E. Mound Street, and her dancing dolls and puppets.

Three hundred Mound girls attended the assembly, which was in charge of Miss Frieda Beltz, sponsor of the Club.

Economic Highlights

Several million young people are now wondering just what influence the pending preparedness program will have on their personal destinies. An exact answer now is impossible but the trend of Congressional thinking is becoming clearer. The United States News recently published an excellent summing up of what is and what is not likely to happen.

First of all, the prospects for universal military training now are exceedingly dim. The idea of it goes against the grain of national sentiment and, from a purely political point of view, it is considered too hot to handle in an election year.

On the other hand, a limited draft has a better than even chance of getting by Congress. The armed forces have made a good case of their need for manpower, and Congress seems to be reluctantly coming to the conclusion that at least a temporary return to selective service is avoidable.

If the draft law is passed, it will probably call for two years of service for those chosen. During the coming year, the forces will need about 900,000 men, of whom 720,000 will go to the Army. It is believed that voluntary enlistments will account for all but 220,000 of that number. That means that one out of six young men who are eligible for selection will go into uniform.

The pending law will probably demand the registration of all men from the ages of 18 through 30. However, only those in the 19-25 age group will be called to the colors at this time. And a great many of these will be exempt. The exemptions will include veterans of World War II, if they saw a year or more of service, and high school students. It is expected that married men and industrial workers with important skills and trades will be at least temporarily deferred by local draft boards, even though the law does not specifically exempt them from the draft. And physical qualifications will be substantially higher than they were in wartime when, as the saying went, anyone who could chew mush, see lightning and hear thunder was considered grist for the military mill.

The reserves, both commissioned and enlisted, will be asked to volunteer for service, and a good many of them will be needed to train the new draftees. However, it is unlikely that those who do not volunteer will be ordered back into service. One rather curious anomoly exists here. Under the law, the Army reserves cannot be ordered to active duty for more than weeks a year unless Congress declares a state of emergency. This is also true of the Air Force and Coast Guard reserve. On the other hand, Navy and Marine reserves can be ordered back by the President without Congressional action.

At the beginning, therefore, probability is that the draft will affect a relatively small number of people, and place only a minor drain on the manpower resources of the country. It is possible that it will stimulate enlistments to the point where an even lesser number of men will have to be taken than is now anticipated. From the long-term view, on the other hand, the situation is not bright. It is unquestionably true that if the international situation continues to worsen, the military forces will ask for more and more personnel—and Congress will reluctantly go along with them. By the same token, an improvement in U. S.-Russian relations might lead to an early ending of peacetime selective service, and that is a hope which is almost universally held.

Substantially increased appropriations for national defense are now inevitable. It will cost between two and three billions a year to pay for the manpower jump in the armed forces. And look for very heavy appropriations for expansion of the air force.

SEEN AND HEARD ON THE SOUTH SIDE

Cap Hoover whom we played an April Fool joke on by announcing his engagement says that the people thought he really was engaged. They didn't read the "April Fool" at the bottom of the article.

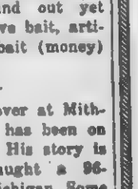
Marion Rice of Rice's Market, Walt Tompkins of the Booster and Harry Weakley went fishing over at Buckeye Lake one Sunday recently.

They came back with three small catfish and a sunfish that needed a magnifying glass to find it. We haven't found out yet whether they used live bait, artificial bait or silver bait (money) to catch the fish.

Clarence Mooney over at Mithoff and Jaeger Sts., has been on another fishing trip. His story is this time that he caught a 96-pound trout up in Michigan. Some fish or fish story don't you think?

Harvey Brink down near Parsons and Morrill recently enlarged his store which is built on the front of his home. If Harvey keeps on adding to his store, Mrs. Brink says she will have to move out of her home as the store will take up all of the home.

Despite the donation of a new electric clock to Walter Snider East Lion's Club, Walter still (City Councilman) by the South shows up late to Lion's Club meetings.



What is the matter, Walter, aren't the figures plain on the clock?

Rodney Ross, former South High School coach, is running for Judge of the Probate Court. South Side Republicans should give Rodney a good vote in the primaries.

The Probate Court certainly needs a change.

We will tell you why just before election in November.

Prof: "After all, boys will be boys, and sow their wild oats!"
Dean: "Yeah, I wouldn't mind if they didn't mix so much rye with it!"

Buys Jewelry Store

Dr. Carl W. Pfefferle, optometrist, who has conducted an optical service with Mason Jewelers, 1845 Parsons Ave., has purchased the Mason Brothers interest and is now owner of the jewelry store as well as the optical department.

Dr. Pfefferle is not only a skilled optometrist, but is also an expert watch maker, as well as having conducted a jewelry and optical store in Logan County for 28 years before coming to Columbus.

During his six years in Columbus, Dr. Pfefferle spent four years in the employe of White and Pfefferle Optometrist in the Herpich building on East Town St. He also had charge of the optical department at Lazarus for a while last summer.

He will add new merchandise to the jewelry store from which to choose but will specialize in the optical business.

He invites his many patrons to pay him a call as he will give the South Side one of the finest optical and watchmaking and jewelry services that they have ever experienced.

Dr. Pfefferle has two sons studying optometry at OSU at present, and he expects to take them into partnership when they are ready to go into the practice of optometry.

Brownings Market Celebrate Anniversary

LeRoy Browning, owner of the Browning's Red and White Market, is, this week, celebrating his third anniversary in his present location, corner of Southwood and Parsons.

Mr. Browning has been in the food handling business for better than 19 years, being associated with Nestle's Milk Products, Incorporated.

In the past three years Brownie has made many improvements in his store, the latest being the installation of a new Borden Ice Cream Bar, which, of course, includes a complete line of Borden ice-cream, sundaes and milk shakes to carry out.

Three years ago, Mr. Browning felt that the people of the South Side would welcome such a store as he is now operating, one which features fine foods, such as Falter meats, nationally advertised canned goods and the freshest of fruits and vegetables, all at reasonable prices, and last but not least, a free delivery service. It has been on this basis that Mr. Browning has increased his business and has enjoyed such fine success.

It will pay you to either stop in or call Browning's Red and White Market, Parsons corner of Southwood, the phone number is GA 0138. Mr. Browning is a member of the Steelton Merchants Association.

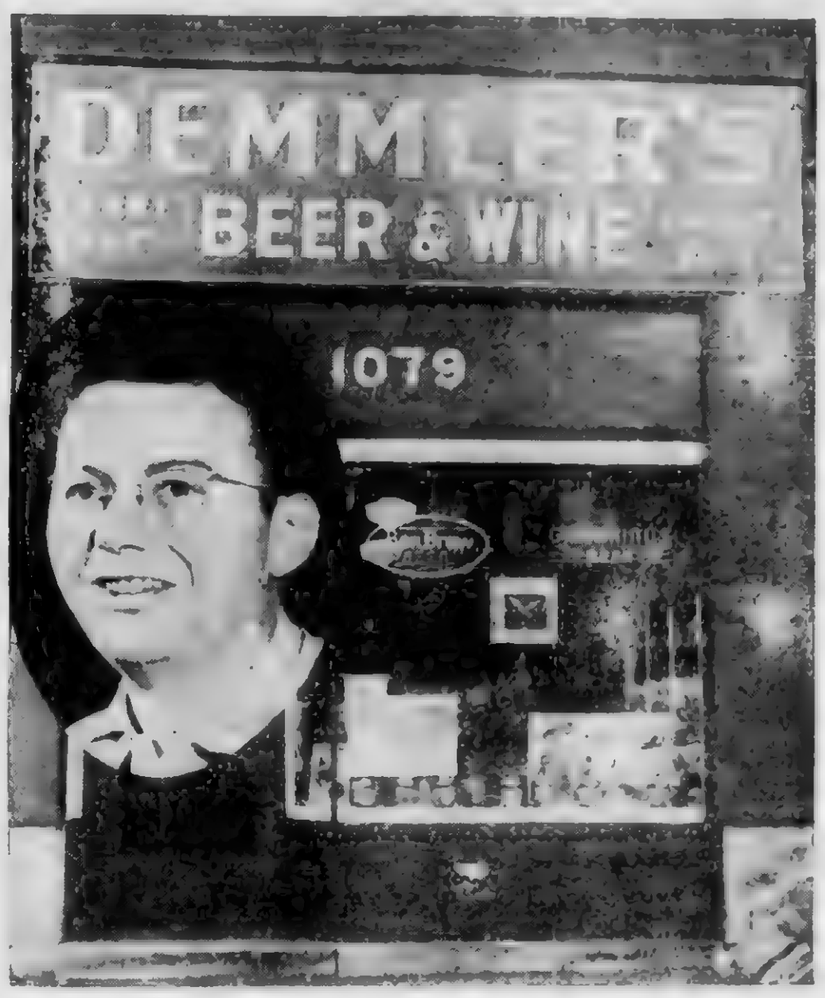
Gregg Studio Features Children's Portraits

The South Side is fortunate in having one of the finest child portrait studios located in our midst.

The Gregg Studio, located at 938 Whittier Street, specializes in children's portraits. Albert Gregg, the owner, has been makin children's portraits in Columbus since 1932.



Recently the Gregg Studio installed an expensive electronic lighting system. The lamps burn Argon gas with a 2000 volt electrical charge. The extreme speed at 1-5000 second eliminates every trace of movement so common with other lighting systems.

The glare and heat of the older type lighting found in most studios is eliminated at the Gregg Studio. The result is clear, natural, sharp portraits, the kind every mother and father hopes to get but seldom does.

No finer children's portraits are made in Columbus than right here in our own neighborhood. The Gregg Studio is easily accessible to everyone—the South and East sides being on both the Whittier bus line and the Ohio Avenue line.

Mr. Gregg states that those who desire their children's portraits should call the studio for an appointment. Appointments are not made oftener than one-half hour apart, in order that there will always be plenty of time to secure the child's confidence, with the resulting natural, cheerful expressions so common in portraits by Gregg.

New Livingston Ave. Carry-Out Opens

Eddie Demmler, well-known South Sider, has opened a new Carry-Out at 1079 Livingston Ave., corner of Oakwood. Most everyone on the South Side knows Eddie, who resided at 1033 Oakwood, and has always lived on the South Side, and was formerly manager of the 803 Package Store at 803 Wilson Ave.

Eddie plans to feature a real special at great savings to you each week. It will pay you to watch the Booster for his specials.

Demmler's Carry-Out features the finest in choice wines, champagnes, ports and all local and [illegible] beer. In other words for a real [illegible] party, stop at Demmler's Carry-Out, 1079 Livingston Ave., corner Oakwood. Their store hours are week days 10 a. m. to 11:30 p. m. Saturday 10 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. Delivery [illegible]

Dr. Newberger To Address Chosen Parent League

The general public is invited, on Monday, May 17, to hear Dr. Maurice Newburger, Executive Psychologist of the Bureau of Juvenile Research, when he addresses members of the Chosen Parents League. This meeting will be held at the Southern Hotel at 8 P. M.

Dr. Newburger has had much experience in the Juvenile Field both here and in Cincinnati and has contributed much to the field of Child Psychology. Statistics of the B. J. R. show that in the past ten years, 5,886 cases have been handled only two hundred of which have been adopted. The Chosen Parents Leagues are particularly interested in these figures as their members are those having adopted children, those having been adopted themselves, or those interested in adoption and Child Welfare.

All those people concerned by the general Child Welfare program are welcomed by the League to attend these meeting, share in enjoying the excellent speakers, and help in the ever-present problems confronting those eager to advance the cause of the CHILD in the county and state. One of the most urgent problems is the contemplated change in the birth certificates, which will seriously affect most of the adopted children and make them suffer innocently because of circumstances beyond their control.

Lucky 35 Box Social

At the banquet the following officers were elected: President, Harry Sacks; Vice President, Pete Bauer; Secretary and Treasurer, Wyatt Thompson.

Hill Climb For Motorcycles

May 16th marks the date of the Buckeye Motorcycle Club's Big Class "A" Hill Climb on the improved, better than ever, "Super-Sonic" hill at Westerville, Ohio.

For 14 years good events have been put on in this area by one of Ohio's oldest motorcycle organizations. This year's event promises to be the cream of the [illegible], as many hours have been spent in preparing one of the best thrill producing hills in the central states.

For the top in thrills and entertainment of those who attend, many of the nation's top hill climbers, such as "Red" Bryan, Aubrey "Frenchie" French, Paul "Red" Allen and many others will be on hand to compete for the cash prizes, and, as always, there will be new, younger, novice riders, to try their skill, and add to the thrills of the day's events.

The first event starts at 2:30 p. m. rain or shine and don't be discouraged if there happens to be a little rain in the morning, because that will only add to the thrills that you will witness, by making the hill more difficult to accend than ever.

There will be plenty of parking space as well as good observation positions for all spectators. Arrows will be put up to direct visitors to the hill from Westerville, and the surrounding territory. Guides will be there to assist you in parking and finding choice observation positions. The prices are well within reach of all and [illegible] a good exciting afternoon. Adults at 75 cents and all children under 12, admitted free of charge. Come a running to the best in exciting events and thrilling exhibitions. Just 4 miles east of Westerville, May 16, for the most enjoyable afternoon of the season.

Boys State To Have Large Attendance

Attendance at the 12 Buckeye Boys' State, to be held June 12-22 at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, will be the largest in BBS history, it was announced today at Columbus state headquarters of the American Legion, which sponsors the annual school of practical government.

The reason is that BBS officials, faced by an unprecedented number of requests for reservations, raised the limit from 800 to 859 boys after learning that Ohio Wesleyan would be able to furnish additional housing. The largest attendance in past years was 810.

The demand for reservations came despite an increase in the fee per boy from $25 to $30, made necessary by higher living costs.

Local Legion posts are now sending in applications for the selected boys to meet a deadline of May 15. All the boys to attend are juniors in high school chosen for their leadership ability and their interest in subjects relating to government.

South Side Women On Soft Ball Team

First game for the newly-organized United Woolen Company women's softball team is set for Tuesday, May 18, with the opponent as yet unnamed. A new United women's team with nine members, captained by Betty Barnhard, 775 Lexington Avenue, has been entered in the city "B" division in the industrial league.

Team members include Thelma Cordle, Galloway; Betty McJunkin, 1200 South Washington Ave., Mary Mobley, 664 Lilley Avenue; Evelyn Timson, 3527 Maize Rd.; Kathleen Steele, 368 Woodrow Avenue; Bobbie Ratcliffe, 1543 Parsons Avenue; Jeanene Brown, 242 South Eighteenth Street, and Martha Cook, 286 Hawkes Ave.

United employs Ray Farrett, 48 South Princeton, is manager. The firm also has a 15-member men's team in the "B" league.

South YMCA Softball League

Beck St. fifth graders broke into the win by a score of 9 to 8 in a "nip and tuck" battle, while Siebert had none too much trouble in taking a slug-fest from Stewart by a score of 16 to 11 at Southwood Field Wednesday, May 5.

A Lincoln Park sixth grade team turned on the power to down a weak Beck St. outfit by a margin of 19 to 3. Stewart came from behind in the bottom of the seventh to top a determined Siebert combination by 11 to 10.

Shortstop Del Stiles led the Beck St. fifth graders to victory over Lincoln by collecting three for three. Lincoln's second sacker, Harold Weatherman, did likewise with three for three.

Catcher Frank Miller was walked four times by a Stewart pitcher and each time he was able to be batted in to tally four runs for the Siebert lads. Billy Kenyon and Leland Jones were strength at the bat for the Stewart fifth.

Alfred Palmer collected three home runs and a double as the Lincoln sixth graders trounced an inexperienced Beck team 19 to 3. Pitcher Bill Wilson only gave up six hits to the Beck boys; two of these were collected by Chuck Kuehner.

Trailing 7 to 3 in the fourth, Chuck Schneider, Stewart's stalwart hurler buckled down while his teammates got to pitcher Melvin Ramer of Siebert to win a bottom of the seventh thriller 11 to 10.

Barrett Track Men Defeat West Jr.

Team spirit and rugged training brought victory to the Barrett trackmen in their first meet of the season, Tuesday, April 27. West Junior, the hard-fighting foe, earned 36 points against Barrett's 87 points.

The eleven boys who placed, were entered in nine events. Eight Barrett tracksters finished in first-place in six events: the low hurdles, the 100-yard dash, the 220 dash, the shot-put, the 440 and 880 relays. Barrett tallied a second-place in the broad-jump, and snagged third-place on five occasions.

Following is a list of the events and the participating winners: Low Hurdles, Joe Miller, first place; Will Brumfield, fourth place, 100-yard dash; Don McMillan, first place; Bud Brown, third place; Shot Put, George King, first place; Dwight Stutler, third place; High-Jump, Bud Lucear, third place.

Regular Commissions Offered Air Cadets

The United States Air Force today announced that henceforth certain selected distinguished cadets of each Aviation Cadet graduating class will be appointed Second Lieutenants in the Regular Air Force. Aviation Cadet graduates regularly are commissioned Second Lieutenants in the USAF Reserve and may qualify for Regular Air Force commissions while on extended active duty.

A distinguished Aviation Cadet is a graduate designated by the Commanding General of the Air Training Command who:

Possesses outstanding qualities of military leadership, high moral character and definite aptitude for the military service.

Has distinguished himself either academically or by demonstrated leadership through his accomplishments while participating in recognized cadet activities.

Has a current standing among the upper third of his class in flying, academic and military performance.

Up to five per cent of each Aviation Cadet graduating class will be offered Regular Air Force commissions under this program.

Approximately 440 Aviation Cadets, exclusive of commissioned officers, will graduate from pilot training during the remainder of 1948; 250 in June, and 190 in October.

Gardners At Barrett Organize

The Barrett Junior High School Garden Club has organized for this season with approximately 100 students taking part.

This activity was begun during World War II as part of the war effort. It has been continued since the war for the sake of adding to the food supply of a hungry world, and for the educative and other values which may come to those who do any work with the soil.

Membership in the Barrett Garden Club depends only on an interest in gardening. This interest may be in vegetables, fruit (tree fruit or small fruit), flowers, or any special project.

Members will be invited to bring exhibits to the Garden Show in the Barrett Junior High School building next September.

Mr. J. H. Shevlin is sponsor of the Garden Club.

High Y Honored By Editors

The South Side Hi-Y, under the watchful eyes of Mr. Rodney Kolb, have proven themselves a useful and popular organization, not only to South High and the south side of Columbus, but to the whole city as well.

The first South Hi-Y was developed at Barrett Junior High (which was then South High School) and one of its first members was Mr. Kolb's brother, Victor. During the war years Hi-Y was directed by Mr. Bernard Redman, who is head of the Ambassadors club now. While the war was on the Hi-Y, like many other clubs at South, held scrap drives, collected newspapers, sold bonds and helped in any other way they could. They teamed up with Y-Teens to buy and decorate the Christmas Tree which was seen in our front hall last year. They also sponsored the gift campaign for the wounded veterans at convalescent stations.

Besides these many activities they sponsored song fests in which all the students of South and vicinity are invited to attend.

South Hi-Y have annual meetings with the other Hi-Y's in the city. They all meet at the Central YMCA and give and exchange new ideas, which may help other schools. Lately the City Hi-Y's have started a city-wide induction service to which all new members are taken into the Hi-Y with a religious candle-light ceremony. Last fall the induction was held at the First Baptist Church on East Broad.

The boys of Hi-Y with their officers, Bob Lund, Jerry Kenny, Roy Sexton and Dick Bethel, have had a full schedule these last few weeks, their latest project being the $150, which they donated to the bombed out Hi-Y's in Europe. Its not all work however, for Hi-Y has a regular athletic program in which they compete with other Hi-Ys in the city in baseball, basketball, etc.

On City Government Day held each year on May 7, boys from Hi-Y Clubs are appointed to leading positions in the City Government. This year, Bob Lund was chosen to be Mayor.

Carl Gutknecht Recovering At Home

Carl G. Gutknecht, of 266 Thurman Ave., is recovering at his home from a stroke, he had about two months ago.

His many friends will be pleased to know he is now receiving visitors.

Mr. Gutknecht is in unusually good spirits and told us that he expects to be up and around the neighborhood soon.

"Sir, may I marry your daughter?"

"Have you seen my wife yet?"

"Yes, sir, and I still love your daughter."

Rhoades Appoints Tax Committee

—o—

Appointment of a Civic Progress Committee to conduct the campaign for the City Income Tax Ordinance at the referendum on June 8 was announced Saturday by Mayor James A. Rhodes.

Chairman of the committee is George S. Hoster, 132 Preston Road, and the secretary is Thomas A. Sabrey, 1049 Franklin Avenue.

The one-half per cent city income tax, yielding approximately $2,500,000 a year, went into effect January 1 for a five-year period, following unanimous approval by council. Petitions filed in January require the referendum next month, when voters will have their opportunity to approve the measure. A majority vote of those casting ballots that day is required to continue the tax.

Council and the city administration welcome the referendum," Mayor Rhodes said Saturday, pointing out that the Columbus city charter provides no way in which such a measure may be submitted to the electorate except on petition of five percent of the number of voters casting ballots at the last municipal election.

"Because the city's needs for these additional funds to finance municipal services of all kinds are so vital, we want every citizen to understand the situation and to cast his vote intelligently," the mayor, James A. Rhodes, continued.

"It will be the responsibility of the Civic Progress Committee to see that all Columbus voters are fully informed on the additional services already made possible by the tax, in greater police, fire, and health protection, and in many other kinds of city service. The committee also will want the voters to understand that defeat of the tax will mean a return to conditions prevailing in 1947, when police and fire departments were badly undermanner, several fire stations were closed, and our health program was inadequate"

The Civic Progress Committee will include individual's representing all parts of the city, widely-diversified individual and group interests, and all races and creeds, the mayor said.

OUR COVENANT OF FELLOWSHIP
God our Father,
Christ our Redeemer,
Man our Brother.

We believe these to be the fundamental truths of our faith.

We believe in the progressive revelation of the Living God and every person in our fellowship has the right and freedom to seek the Truth as it is revealed to him in the Scriptures and in life.

We believe God has revealed the way of abundant living through the Life and Teachings of Jesus Christ, and we therefore covenant together that it shall be our purpose to live together in peace and seek the Truth in Love.

News In The World Of Religion

Plans projected for the next four years by the General Conference of the Methodist Church, recently in session in Boston, Mass., included a "preaching and teaching endeavor" to strengthen church members in their beliefs and obligations as Protestants and as Methodists; the recruitment of thousands of young men for the ministry; the advance of church union the expansion of home and foreign missionary programs, and of the service of the church in rural communities; the training of some young men of high religious experience in craft skills so that they may become leaders of labor and help Christianize industrial life and the service of labor unions; and efforts to Christianize international relations and promote peace and goodwill among nations.

Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, of New York, who presented these points in a notable "episcopal address" to the Conference, spoke also on the responsibility of democracy for maintaining freedom: "We must make it abundantly clear to our people that within the freedom of democracy, men, ruled by Christian principles, can bring to mankind a society in which liberty is preserved, justice established, and brotherhood achieved. But the faith must come alive in works. The people must be able to see the institutions and practices of brotherhood. They must experience the security of justice and the thrilling challenges of freedom. The emancipation of man will never be achieved by those who place their faith in the shackles of dictatorship and the manacles of materialism."

Thirteen Protestant theological seminaries in the United States have provided twenty-five one-year scholarships for theological students from nine war-devastated countries of Europe. The twenty-five young men are now in the American seminaries, having been chosen through the World Council of Churches.

In its sixty-three years of existence, the Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Aid Society has never had so many calls upon its resources as it has today. When organized it was to aid persecuted Jews in Europe who came to America for rehabilitation. Today it ministers to needy and persecuted Jews in some fifty countries of the world, and its field is ever widening. It not only helps care for those who come to America, but for the great mass of displaced and migrant Jews in Europe against whom the hand of almost every man and nation seems turned. To carry on its ministry the Society is now seeking the largest budget in its history—$4,520,000.

During 1947, the mission board of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church commissioned 356 new missionaries, re-sent 186 who had been on furlough because of international and war conditions, and saw them sail or fly to 73 different countries or islands across the world. Of the total, 263 went from North America, the remainder from Europe, Australia, South Africa, and South America.

The European Recovery Program should start on its own feet as a great humanitarian undertaking, but should not be used as a "weapon of military and political warfare, in the opinion of the Philadelphia Yearly Meeting of Friends (Quakers). They also make the points that trade between eastern and western Europe is necessary for the success of the plan, and that "the Program should not dictate to any country in regard to its economic system, not attempt to influence its elections;" adding: "To confine communism to a great area is as impossible as the confining of an idea. The confinement of a great nation is a program, often tried in the past, of threat and counter-threat, preparation and counter-preparation, which has never yet succeeded. We believe that America can help the cause of democracy best by taking a position of moral leadership, and by offering the world a political, social and economic program which will effectively overcome the hunger, want and chaos of Europe and Asia through peaceful, constructive means."

In the Japanese town of Ohmura, which was badly damaged by bombing during the recent war, an old seventy-seven-year-old Christian fish vendor, M. Ohki, is the leader of the community in erecting a new building on the site of the former Methodist church there, reports the Rev John B. Cobb, of Macon, Georgia, Methodist missionary to Japan. When Dr. Cobb visited Ohmura recently, he found the new building housing not only an enthusiastic congregation, but a Sunday School of 200 pupils meeting in shifts, and an active YMCA.

McDill-Pfahl Wedding Held

Dr. Don D. Tullis officiated at the 2:30 p. m. ceremony Saturday, May 1, when Miss Beryl McDill repeated her marriage vows to William B. Pfahl. The rites were read at Indianola Presbyterian Church.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Magaw McDill, 2131 Iuka Av., and Mr. Pfahl is a son of Mrs. Frederick J. Pfahl, 1490 S. High St.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gabardine suit with navy blue accessories and an orchid corsage.

Miss Bonnie McDill, maid of honor, wore a light green gabardine suit with brown accessories. Her flowers were yellow roses.

Fred Pfahl was best man, and ushers were Donald Geeren, Malcom Kieth, Walter F. Petersiem and Robert O. Fox.

The reception followed immediately at the Beechwold.

The bride attended Ohio State University and was formerly employed by the Army Air Force at Curtiss-Wright Corp. The bridegroom attended Ohio State University and is employed by David Davies Packing Co.

Economy Oven Menu

Just one and one-half cups of ground meat serves six in two-in-one biscuits. The entire menu can be baked in the oven.

Economy in meal planning means attention to small details—like using leftovers, purchasing of seasonal foods, getting the most for your money whenever a food item is added to the market basket.

This menu has been planned to help you make a good start on the spring budget—and still please the family with food that looks and tastes good.

Two-In-One biscuits make excellent use of a cup or so of left-over meat or of fresh ground meat, always less expensive because it does not need to be tender. Enriched flour in the biscuits gives more for your money because it contains added B-vitamins and iron at no additional cost.

Tomatoes and asparagus are foods that spring makes inexpensive, yet they provide just the right color touch.

A saving in time is accomplished by using the oven for the entire menu. Yes, asparagus and tomatoes can be baked, and you'll find that color is retained when a moderately hot oven is used. Place the asparagus in a flat, shallow pan with just enough water to cover the bottom of the pan. Season to taste and bake uncovered until tender, turning the spears just once. The tomatoes are cut in half, brushed with melted butter or margarine and heated until they bubble.

Two-In-One Biscuits

2 cups sifted enriched flour
½ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons baking powder
1 to 2 tablespoons shortening
2/3 cup milk
1½ cups ground meat (may be either cooked or uncooked)
Salt and pepper to taste.

Sift together flour, salt and baking powder. Cut or rub in shortening. Add milk to make a very soft batter. Fill greased muffin pans one-third full with seasoned meat. Pour batter on top of meat, filling pan two-thirds full. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 30 to 40 minutes. Remove from pans. Turn upside down and serve with grilled tomatoes.

Yield: Six three-inch biscuits.

Pater: "When I was a young man, girls knew how to blush!"

Daughter: "Why, Father, what did you say to them?"

Joe: "I really would like to buy you a corsage . . . what would you like?"

Flo: "Four Roses!"

Reeb Avenue School staged another Carnival last Friday evening. The crowd was large and well behaved. Several dozen mothers and teachers helped in the concessions. We enjoyed another grand evening of wholesome fun as we presented our Minstrel programs, magic performances and took part in many forms of worthwhile entertainment. We thank our folks for responding in such a marvelous fashion.

—R—

Tomorrow, Friday afternoon, May 14, our boys and girls will start after school dismissal to take orders for Pop Corn fritters. This will be the last time this school year that we will have these available through the school. Deliveries will start next Tuesday and continue through Thursday. Please keep in mind that every salesman should have a mimeographed sales blank prepared by Reeb so that our business with you may be carried on in a business-like manner. If you are to place orders with us or report any complaints, please call GA 1326.

Junior Theater Presents Water Carnival

National Platform Champion Bruce Harlan

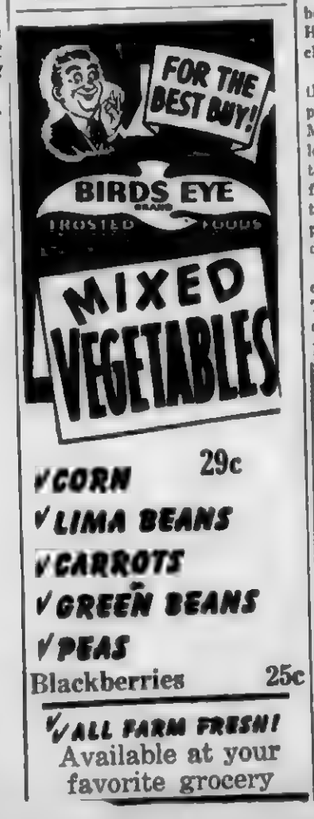
Children of all ages will want to see the thrilling and spectacular Water Carnival which will be given by the Community Junior Theater on Saturday (May 15) at 10:00 a. m. at the OSU Natatorium.

Mike Peppe will present the entire line-up of Ohio State University's famous swimming and diving team, assisted by the colorful women's Swan Club. Feature events will include diving exhibitions, individual races, relays, demonstrations of strokes and turns and graceful ballet and rhythm swimming.

Climax of the show will be laugh-packed comedy swimming and diving acts led by Jim Patterson, star of Billy Rose's Aquacade, and featuring Halo Hirose's underwater hula dance and Bruce Harlan and Jim Strong in the Gay Nineties Capers.

Among the top aquatic stars who will perform in this gala Water Carnival are national AAU diving champions Miller Anderson and Bruce Harlan, [illegible] conference free style champion Captain Halo Hirose, former national back stroke champion Bob de Groot and the former national championship relay team of Ralph Knight, Bill Zeemer, de Groot and Hirose.

Tickets may be purchased at Heaton's Music Store or at the performance.



South Music Students Honored

The Musical Art Club of South High School, an affiliated member of the National Federation of Music Clubs, was represented by the Girls' Ensemble and four soloists in the annual State Contest held April 24 at the Boy Choir School in Columbus.

Receiving Superior rating by all three judges was Raymond Waters, baritone. Next in point of rating with Excellence was Forrest Stoll, bass. Both Shirley Borror and Patricia Stairn rated Very Good as did the Girls' Ensemble.

Following the contest, the Ensemble sang at the Concert presented by the State Music Federation in the Gallery of Fine Arts. These contestants will appear again in concert on May 5.

Clerk: "Are you unmarried?"
Blonde: "Yes . . . four times!"

Philharmonic Plans Big Winter Season

The Columbus Philharmonic Orchestra, conducted by Izler Solomon, has announced that orders for season tickets for the ten 1948-49 subscription concerts are now being taken. The season promises to be the most brilliant in Philharmonic history and features the guest appearance of eight artists.

The Graudans, cello and piano duo will be heard at the November 23 concert. Martial Singher, baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Company will sing at the December 7 concert. On December 21, Robert Gross, former concertmaster of the Philharmonic will be violin soloist. Isaac Stern will return to Columbus as violin soloist at the January 25 concert. The concerts of February 1 and March 1 will introduce two pianists to Columbus audiences, Eugene Istomin and Menahim Pressler, respectively. Tossy Spivakovsky, sensational Russian violinist, will make his local bow on February 15th.

Until June 15, prices for the ten concerts are $9, $12, $18 and $24, tax included, after June 15 prices will be increased. Orders may be sent to Room 228, Virginia Hotel and a $2 deposit will hold each seat ordered until fall. Seats requested are set aside in order of receipt of the reservation so an early request for seats insures the purchaser of a choice seat at a low price.

Call MAin 4754 if you wish to order by telephone.

Hungarian Dramatic Club Celebrates 20th Anniversary

The Hungarian Dramatic Club of Columbus will hold their 20th anniversary celebration on Sunday, May 30, at the Croatian Hall.

The club today boasts of having a large membership than they have ever had in all its years of existence. Close fellowship and harmony prevail among the members who are equally proud to boast of being members.

The celebration will begin with a fine Hungarian dinner being served at 1 P. M. This will be followed by a program directed by Mrs. Rozsike Tumbass Rauch and which promises to be a different type of entertainment ever given at a banquet. Dancing will follow in the evening with music by Mickey Skobrak and his orchestra. The committee in charge promises that for those who attend it will be a never to be forgotten day.

The price of the dinner and dance is $1.75 and for those who will not be able to attend the dinner but wish to attend the dance, the price is 50 cents. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Humane Society To Hold Show

One of the added attractions at the Humane Society horse show at the fairgrounds colesium will be a concert on Sunday night May 23, by the Columbus Boychoir.

The nationally-known choir recently returned from a tour through the West, completing a season which included 42 out-of-town engagements.

Proceeds from the first annual benefit horse show staged by the Humane Society will be used for child and animal welfare work.

A program of 70 classes for the three afternoon and three evening performances has been arranged. More than 300 horses from the leading show stables of midwestern and southern states will vie for the $7500 in cash awards and trophies, J. Wallace Huntington president of the Society, predicted.

On Sunday night, when the championships are decided, Gov. Thomas Herbert will be a guest of honor.

South Students Win Sewing Prizes

A recent sewing contest sponsored by Fern Sharp found a winner and an honorable mention from South High School. Entries in the contest were judged between April 15 and April 22.

Miss Helen Riegel entered a dress in the Junior Division of the contest. This division was for all entrants under 18 years of age. The dress was dusty pink crepe and it won the first prize of $50 for her.

The garment will be entered in the finals of The National Sewing Contest and will be sent to New York for this purpose. If it is selected the entry will be exhibited in the National Sewing Contest fashion show to take place in New York on June 9, 1948.

Miss Beverly Bentdict entered a formal in the Glamour Group section of the contest. The age limit in this group was open. The formal was white covered with gold sequins and it won an honorable mention for Beverly. Mrs. Burton says this was very good because of the age limit being open. Beverly was awarded an orchid for her work.

This contest was sponsored by Fern Sharp of Radio Station WBNS. The girls' work had to be started after May 1 and had to have the verification of their teacher that they did the work themselves. The contest was made of four groups: Standard Pattern Group, Glamour Group, Original Design Group and Children's Clothing Group.

Two other entrants from South were Violet Altenbach entering a suit of original design and Dorothy Scothorn presenting a dress.

Both Helen and Beverly modeled their dresses at the Art Gallery on Tuesday, May 4. This was followed by a tea.

On Thursday and Friday evening, May 13-14 at 8:15 p. m. the Dramatics Department of South High School under the direction of Mr. John Sitting, will present its annual spring production of the Torch-Bearers, written by George Kelly. Price of admission is 50 cents.

The play, a satirical comedy, shows the rehearsal of a play by a group of amateurs and some of the amusing incidents that happen backstage. Mr. Kelly wrote many short plays used for amateur productions. He received the idea for the Torch-Bearers while attending a luncheon with an amateur producer. It was written in 1922 and first produced at the Vanderbilt Theater in New York City. Mary Boland and Alison Skipworth were starred in the leading roles of Mrs. Panpinelli and Mrs. Ritter.

The Dramatics pupils have made a little research on parts of the play. One line refers to the "Cherry Sisters". On inquiring at the public library it was found the Cherry Sisters were four sisters who performed for Oscar Hamerstein I. They were well liked by the public but ill thought of by the critics of the time.

In the second act the audience sees only the backs of stage scenery for the second act takes place in the "Hutchy-Kutchy" or Horticultural Hall the backstage for a play. Here everything possible that could go wrong with a play happens, mis-cues, doors flying open, phones ringing all add up to high hilarity.

The boys cast will be the same both nights, while the girls will have a rotating cast. The members of the cast and their positions are as follows: Mr. Frederick Ritter—Kenny Garwood, Mr. Huxley Hossefrosse — Charles Wooley, Mr. Spindler—Dick Pettibone, Mr. Ralph Twiller—Jack Schmidt, Teddy Spearing—Garry Beckett, and Mr. Stage Manager, Bill Foreman.

The girls in Thursday night's cast are: Mrs. J. Duro Panpinelli, Patty Nolan; Mrs. Paula Ritter, Shirley Borror; Mrs. Nelly Fell, Eloise Hall; Miss Florence McCrickett, Patty La Fever; Mrs. Clara Sheppard, Pat Starn, and Jenny, Marjorie Heintz.

Friday night the following will be seen: Mrs. J. Duro Pampinelli, Harriet Redrup; Mrs Paula Ritter, Caroline Koch; Mrs. Nelly Fell, Jane Burns; Miss Florence McCrickett, Donna From; Mrs. Clara Sheppard, Suzanne Kaefer, and Jenny, Esther White.

Note: Not present in picture for Friday evening cast is Esther White.

RUSSELL THEATRE

The Russell presents Sunday and Monday "Captain From Castile" with Tyrone Power and Jean Peters. A historical drama beautifully done in technicolor, the story of the endearing love between a Spanish Cavalier and a barefoot peasant girl both of whom fled from Spain early in the 16th century and withstood the hardships and braved the dangers encountered by the army of Hernan Cortez in the conquest of Mexico. Also "The Tender Years" with Joe E. Brown and Noreen Nash. "News and Cartoon."

On Thursday, May 13, and also on the next Thursday, May 20, there will be an all-Hungarian program with the showing of "Valamit Visz A Viz" with some very capable actors. This is the first time this picture is being shown in Columbus along with this. There will be shown a "Hungarian News."

The Parsons Theater

The Parsons Theatre presents Sunday and Monday "Three Daring Daughters" with Jeanette MacDonald and Jose Iturbi. Miss McDonald is cast as the lovely mother of three daughters. You'll fall head over heels for these three daring damsels, who tried their level worst to straighten out their lovely mother's tangled romance. It's gay, melodic and exciting. It's guaranteed 100 per cent swell entertainment. Also playing is "Caged Fury" with Buster Crabbe and Richard Denning. Selected short subjects.

There's the wonderful love of a beautiful maid,
And the love of a staunch, true man.
And the love of a baby that's unafraid.
All have existed since time began.
But the most wonderful love—the love of lovers,
Even greater than that of a mother
Is the tenderest, infinite, passionate love,
Of one dead drunk for another.

IDEAL THEATER

The Ideal presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "The Swordsman" with Larry Parks and Ellen Drew. A melodrama done in technicolor in which there is plenty of solid entertainment. The picture has a Romeo and Juliet theme, and the scenes of rugged Scottish Highlands, and rolling meadows make it most beautiful. Love conquers the bitter hatred of the Scottish Chieftains. It is filled with romance and adventure; also "Glamour Girl" with Gene Krupa, his orchestra and Virginia Grey. A Cartoon completes this exceptional show.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Call Northside 777" with James Stewart and Helen Walker. A story based on the true story of a woman who struggled for years to earn enough money to secure the release of her son from prison after he had been wrongly accused and jailed for a crime he did not commit; also "Queen of the Amazons" with Robert Lowery and Patricia Morrison.

South To Hold Field Day

The South High School Field Day will be held May 21.

The students in South will put their semesters work on display and all departments will be represented. Some of the things on exhibit will be paintings done by the Art Department, books of the commercial students, printing room open and in operation, P. O. D. work will be on display, articles made in the woodshop and tempting marsels from the Foods Department. These are only a few of the many things that may be seen on field day.

The student chairman is Harold Young and Faculty Chairman is Mr. Vance V. Kersell. The exhibits under the direction of Mr. T. R. Stahl, will be on display from 7:30 to 10 p. m. The talent show will start at 3:15 in the auditorium and last for approximately 50 minutes.

The only admittance needed is a strip of five tickets presented at the door. These tickets will be good for food and refreshments, dance and show. No tickets are needed to see the exhibits.

The chairman for the other committees are: dancing is Mr. Richards, the show is Miss Ruth Lippincott, food is Miss Valentine, publicity is Mr. Halley, tickets is Mr. D. O. Davis, sound and lighting is Mr. Stauffer, finance, Miss Lang, and Mrs. Allen Campen is PTA chairman of ways and means.

The members of PTA will help and the PTA president, Mrs. Howard Houck, is on the advisory committee.

Ray Schaefer Holds Out On Us

Ray Schaefer, the little County Recorder, has been a life-long friend of your editor, who used to visit his home very often.

Ray, as a youngster, was very fond of custard pie, and never a week went by that he didn't ask his mother to bake him one.

Recently, he attended the Fair Ave. School PTA games party and won the door prize. We will let you have a guess what it was. Now that you have guessed, which we presume was right, it was a big custard pie.

Ray had the nerve to call us up and tell us how good it was. What we are crabbing about is that he never even saved your editor one piece of it.

Flo: "Are you a man or a mouse?"

Moe: "Just keep your trap shut!"

Fishing Best In Years

Reports reaching Ohio Division of Conservation headquarters at Columbus indicate that fishermen in all parts of the state are now enjoying the best fishing in the history of the state. Oldtimers at Ohio's fishing lakes claim that they cannot remember when anglers took home heavier stringers than they are this spring.

Harry F. West, Chief of the Division's Accounting and Budget Section, said this week that good fishing is indicated, too, in the sale of fishing licenses. He reported to Commissioner H. A. Rider that sales are approximately 120,000 ahead of last year at this time.

Fish management officials of the Division report that the waters of inland Ohio were never in better condition for spring fishing in spite of recent heavy rains.

Unusual catches of crappies, bluegills and catfish are being made generally throughout the state and this week fishermen began taking large mouth black bass in those waters not affected by the closed season from May 1 to June 15. Anglers at both Buckeye and Indian Lakes report sizeable catches of white bass.

At Lake St. Marys one night-fisherman at one sitting this week caught 20 channel catfish weighing a total of 109½ pounds.

Council Votes July 4th Celebration

It was voted, last Thursday night by members of the Council of South Side Organizations, to again hold the annual Fourth of July Celebration this year at Schiller Park.

There will be the usual series of competitive games in the afternoon, followed by street dancing in the early evening and then to cap the program off, at dark there will be a large fireworks display.

Last year's Fourth of July Celebration was frequently remarked, by spectators, to be the best in Columbus and vicinity. The program this year will be even larger.

Nick Barack, head of the City Recreation Department, who attended the meeting, and spoke, said that the new lighted ball diamonds would be ready soon for the Veterans' Memorial Park on Greenlawn Ave.

Mr. Barack further stated that it would be necessary to move the side walk in Lincoln Park and move some shrubbery so that the ball diamonds could be installed there. These ball diamonds will be installed in the fall.

The Council further voted to back a petition for the improvement of East Woodrow Ave., from Ann St., to South 22nd St., and also a new side walk along the south side of Lincoln Park.

Council Asks Donation For 4th

The Council of South Side Organizations is completing plans for another gigantic July 4th celebration (Monday, July 5th as July 4th falls on Sunday) at Schiller Park.

Sponsored and arranged by the Council, heavily contributed to by merchants, business men, and industries of the South Side, this annual event drew 25,000 people last year!

This year the city's largest display of fireworks will again cap the day long festivities, chief of which will be re-dedication of Schiller Park Shelter House which has been in service for thirty years. Some $41,000 has been spent in remodeling and redecorating the building. This includes an entirely new forced air heating system, lighting system inside and out, exits, floors, roof, etc.

The Council's plans also include a band concert, sport events and a variety of races and games.

All business firms of the South Side have always contributed liberally to this worthy event and will be contacted in the near future by fully authorized representatives of the Council of South Side Organizations. PLEASE DO NOT GIVE TO STRANGERS!

All donors should make their contributions payable to: The Council of South Side Organizations, 864 S. Third St., Columbus, Ohio.

South Students Rate High

The placing of the Scholarship Tests taken at Ohio State University on Saturday, May 1, held under the conduction of the State Department of Education, has been announced.

South's representatives took tests in English, Latin, Spanish, French, World History, social studies, algebra, plane geometry, biology, chemistry and physics.

Out of these eleven subjects, South has students placing in five of them throughout the state of Ohio.

Our placements are: For division I, English IX first place, Frances Ebstein and seventh place, Bertha Knoepfel. World History sixth place Sanford Goldstein and eighth place Shirley Plotkin. Chemistry has Isadore Mendell coming in fifth. Physics finds Julius Chosey taking the third position.

For all the divisions Frances Ebstein came in second in English IX and Julius Chosey came in sixth in physics.

And then there's the one about the near-sighted snake that eloped with a rope.

"Haw! Haw! Haw!" roared the judge, just before he delivered the death sentence, "you'll die when you hear this one."

First Picnic Of Season

The first picnic of the season will be held by the Eagle Gun Club, Sunday, May 23, at Camp Darby, on mile east of Shadeville. This will be one of the outstanding picnics of the year. Transportation will be free, leaving the South Side Eagle Club room, 1167 Parsons Ave., every hour, starting at 1:00 o'clock.

There will be round and square dancing, cash prizes, entertainment and free refreshments to all ticket holders, which are reasonably priced at $1.00.

Make plans to attend this picnic and meet your friends. They will be there. Tickets can be secured at the grounds or from any Club Member. This picnic is open to the public.

South High Field Day

At 7 P. M. on May 21, the students at South High School will put their semester's work on display and all departments will be represented. Some of the items on exhibit will be paintings done by the Art Department, books of the Commercial students, printing room open and in operation, P. O. D. work will be on display, articles made in the Woodshop and tempting morsels from the Foods room. Besides that there will be a special demonstration of blackboard and card writing in 205 from 7 to 7:30 P. M. by Mr. E. A. Lupfer of the Zaner Penmanship School.

The student chairman is Harold Young and general faculty chairman is Mr. Vance Kersell. The exhibits will be under the supervision of Mr. T. R. Stahl. This department will be open from 7:30 to 10 P. M. The talent show will start at 8:15 in the auditorium and last for approximately 50 minutes.

The only admittance needed is a strip of five tickets presented at the door. Those same tickets can later be used for food, dance or show. No tickets are needed to see the exhibits.

Members of the PTA will be helping and the PTA president, Mrs. Howard Houck, is on the advisory committee. Mrs. Allen Campen is PTA chairman of ways and means.

Athena Court No. 3 Order Of Amaranth

The Ways and Means Committee of Athena Court is sponsoring an imaginary "World Tour" which was begun last Thursday, May 13, when members and friends enjoyed a stop-over in Washington, D. C.

A delicious dinner was served at six o'clock in the Rickly Restaurant and this was followed by a tour of the various buildings and places of special interest in and around Washington, D. C.

Committees for the evening were as follows: Food, Dora Hoffman and Wilda Applegate; Entertainment, Pauline Wilson and Golda Edmonston; Decorations Winifred Weaver; Hostesses, Essie Berry, Stella Merkle, Margaret Aye, Mae Stouffer, Zelma Keiser Eva Burden, Pauline Hardman Evelyn Kalb, Nora Woode and Cella Krum.

Our next stop-over will be Lake Louise in the Canadian Rockies sometime in June—time and place to be announced later.

If you were not with us on the Washington trip you are welcome to join us at any time. The mode of travel will be varied and we are sure you will enjoy these trips.

Those in charge of the complete tour are: Chairman, Mary Moll; Co-Chairman, Golda Edmonston; Secretary, Dorothy Swisher; Historian, Bess O'Brian; Publicity, Margaret Gladwell; Steward, Harry Smith; Dortor, Harry Gordon; Nurse, Hilda Strub; Dept. of Adjustments and Complaints, Charles Davis; Deputy of Summons, Theodocia Snyder; Assistant, Estella Berry; Captain, Florence Koons; Co-Captain, Ted W. Koons.

Watch this paper for further announcements.

The Franklin County Singing Sheriffs, through the courtesy of Ralph J. Paul, will present a program at the South Side YMCA Bowling Banquet, Thursday, May 20. The banquet will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, corner Stewart and Bruck. Rev. E. J. Katterhenrich is pastor of this church.

This quartet is billed as the "One Thousand Pounds of Harmony," Comic-Classic-Sentimental Singers." It is composed of Harry M. Freeman, first tenor; Fred T. Hawkes, second tenor; Raymond Hathaway, baritone; Fred Washburn, bass. Miss Claire Shipman, accompanist.

Help Us Stop This Man

There is a man who is operating throughout the city, who sells top soil and manure.

This man sells some woman manure or top soil for her yard and then proceeds to say that he will pay her if she will take his calls in her home.

The advertising is charged in the name of the party who takes the calls.

He never pays their salary, and the woman is stuck for the advertising.

If you have been the victim of this scheme, call the Booster, GA 71121 or GA 9262 and ask for Mr. Walcutt.

We want to stop this man.

South Side Day Nursery News

Miss Early and Mrs. Margo gave a "Tea" in honor of Mother on Friday afternoon, May 7. Each Mother was served tea or coffee, cookies and candy by her child and then presented with a gift made by the pre-school children. The school-age group also made a gift for Mother.

Under Miss Early's capable leadership, the Mother's meeting on Friday evening, May 14, was very interesting and very well attended. Mr. William Kauffman, Executive Secretary of the Council of Social Agencies, was the guest speaker. The mothers expressed great appreciation for a better understanding of the wide scope of service which is being given through the various agencies.

Through Mrs. Margo, social chairman for the year, refreshments were served in the dining room in a dainty manner. Each table was covered with a lace cloth and the speaker's table had a May-pole centerpiece, and each of the others a rosebud centerpiece. Plans are being made for a "Family Night" at Schiller Park in June.

South High School Alumni Reunion

The 1923 graduating class of South High School will hold its Silver Anniversary Banquet at South High School, Friday, June 4, at 6:45 P. M.

Teachers of the 1923 class will be honored guests. An Ohio State University Scholarship of $600.00 will be awarded by this 25-year class to a member of the June, 1948, graduating class. The pupil will be selected by present teachers at South High who were also teaching in 1923.

Following the banquet at 7:45, there will be a reunion for all South High Alumni.

The South High School Solon Orchestra will play from 7:45 to 8:15. There will be a brief business meeting followed by an unusual entertainment program planned by the 1923 Class with Russell Canter as Master of Ceremonies. Dancing will follow to Frank LaRue's Orchestra.

Husbands, wives and friends are invited as associate members. The $1.00 fee is your Alumni dues for the year.

South Students Win Honors

Final results for the Central Ohio District-State Scholarship Tests which were administered at Ohio State University on May 1, have been released to the schools.

South High placed six people in the first ten groups for Division I and two people ranked for all divisions. The two placing in all divisions were Frances Ebstein, second place in English IX and Julius Chosey, sixth place in Physics.

For Division I they are, as follows: Frances Ebstein, first place in English IX; Julius Chosey, third place in Physics; Isadore Mendel, fifth place in Chemistry, Sanford Goldstone, sixth place in World History; Bertha Knoepfel, seventh place in English IX; Shirley Plotkin, eighth place in World History.

Cleary Visits Goodrich Plant

The tire industry has entered one of the most competitive periods in its entire history, according to Patrick J. Cleary, of the B. F. Goodrich Company who returned to Columbus this week following two weeks of conferences held in Akron, Ohio, the company headquarters.

"The industry has supplied the record tire demand built up during the war years and ample tire stocks are now available on a national basis," Mr. McCleary said. "Last year more than a hundred million tires were manufactured in the United States setting a new all-time record."

"Forecasts for 1948 indicate a decrease in tire production and sales as compared with last year but American tire business will be greater than in any prewar year.

"The rubber industry will continue to play an important role in food production, according to our company. Last year farm vehicle tire sales set a new all-time record of more than $100,000,000 as American farmers turned to the speed and economy of rubber-tired tractors and other agricultural implements in the effort to boost production to meet domestic and foreign-aid food needs."

While in Akron, Mr. McCleary toured company plants there, including the new B. F. Goodrich Research Center, said to be the finest industrial research laboratories now in existence in the United States, and saw the company's tubeless tire being manufactured. This tire, introduced for limited sale this year, has no inner tube and is designed to seal punctures on moving wheels, McCleary explained.

During the conferences in Akron, all phases of company sales, advertising and merchandising were discussed by rubber company officials with company representatives in attendance from all parts of the United States.

Makes Telephone Call From Okinawa

Pfc. Robert Carter

Pfc. Robert Carter, Jr., who is stationed in Okinawa, made a telephone call home May 1. His mother, Mrs. Robert Carter, Sr., said it was wonderful to hear his voice after he had been in Okinawa for 17 months. He said to his mother: "Hello, Mom, I'm fine and getting fatter all the time."

This was just a few days before his mother's birthday and it made her feel mighty happy, as that was the best birthday and Mother's Day present she could have received.

Robert was going to call back the following week but was unable to get the call through, which was very disappointing to his father as he was waiting for the call.

The Carters live at 1046 Lawrence Drive.

Mr. Mike Dunn To Address Mound

Mike Dunn, member of the Columbus Board of Education, will address an assembly at Mound Junior High School Friday, May 28, in commemoration of Memorial Day. Special music will be provided by the music department of the school under the direction of Mrs. Ethel Cox Ellis.

Frank Gilmer, student mayor of Mound Junior High School's city government, will preside and Gerald Feyh will lead the Allegiance to the Flag. The assembly will be in charge of Principal L. N. Drake.

Barrett Girls Model In Style Show

Barrett made headline news again—on Tuesday night, May 11, 1948. A style show which was called "Around the Clock With Betty Barrett" took some hard planning from Miss Harriet Dieter, Miss Henderson, Miss Helen Fetzer and the Modern Miss Club. School togs, party dresses, aprons, pajamas, gowns and playtime togs were modeled.

The special feature of the style show included a dress made by Janice Benjamin and an apron by Patty Cain. These girls made the designs in their Art Class and stenciled it on their materials with textile paints, from which they made two very attractive and distinctive garments.

The little stars of the style show were: Ronnalee Conrad, Hazel Ruth Erb, Carol Henkel, Dolly Lynch, Eddie Meadows, Phillip Rose, Jackie Short, Karen Sloane, Patty Soubly, Margaret Ellen Stambaugh and Mary Lou Tabbette.

The solos by two tiny tots were enjoyed by all. Margaret Ellen Stambaugh, accompanied by her mother, sang, "Too Fat Polka," and Dolly Lynch, accompanied by Shirley Brand, sang "Now Is The Hour." The other pianists of the evening were Mary Byrd, Jeraldine Schumm, and Mr. Herbert Germain who was in charge of the music. The clock and trellis were made by the Barrett Wood Department under the direction of Mr. Lawrence Shockey, and the decorations were arranged by Miss Holtsman. Behind the scene were Miss Lucile Cornetet, Joan Jackson, Ruby Dent, Jean Tolliver, Richard Coddington and Joe Hightower. Margaret Zubovic, Lucille Johnson and Elvera Lamberson were the very able announcers.

Lincoln Park PTA Schedules Last Meet

The Lincoln Park PTA will hold their last meeting of the year on Friday, May 21, at 6:30.

This is Family Night. Games for the children, square dancing for the adults. Chairman, Mr. Paul Friebis. Committee members are Mr Paul Wiegerig, Mr. Newton Lyle, Mr. Claude Ford, Mr. Walter Dennby and Mr. Walter Weese.

New officers for the coming year will be installed by Mrs. Carol Shigley, Southeast District vice president, Franklin County Council.

Nobody Likes "Lem" Lubber

Lem Lubber, the cartoon character created by the Outboard Boating Club of America symbolizing the "horrible example" of what not to do while boating, is on the loose again on Ohio's lakes and streams.

Lem doesn't know anything about common sense afloat.

He has never heard of the few simple rules that makes boating fun and what's more he doesn't care. He displays no consideration for others on the waters; he ignores their rights and he's just plain careless.

Lake patrolmen and law enforcement officers of the Ohio Division of Conservation issues this public warning to the thousands of people who are already enjoying the boating pleasures of almost 500 lakes in the state—the warning is simply, "Don't be a Lem Lubber."

Waterways are the highways of the out-of-doors— a delightful contrast to congested roads, speed demons and hit-and-run drivers. No blaring horns, no traffic jams; the waterways offer unspoiled out-of-door fun with no stop lights or railroad crossings; just relaxation, peaceful fishing and unhurried cruising.

You'll have your share of the fun if you will avoid overloading boats—most don't indicate capacity. Avoid stays out in storms and know and heed weather signs. Never stand up in a moving boat—it's the easiest way to capsize. Always step into center of a boat, never jump. Never swim while towing. And make sure your motor is not too powerful for your boat.

Boats don't tip over, people tip them. If you should capsize, stay alongside the boat, hang onto the sides and don't try to climb in. Any wooden boat or metal boat with air tanks will stay afloat indefinitely and will support several persons. Relax, be calm, signal for help and then wait for it to arrive.

Siebert PTA To Install Officers

Siebert St. PTA will have a pot luck for teachers, board members and room mothers on Thursday, May 27, at noon.

The regular PTA meeting will follow with new officers being installed by Mrs. Howard Houck, 267 Stewart Ave., one of Siebert's past-presidents, and outgoing president of South High officers for 1948-49 school year are as follows:

President, Mrs. Don Ryan, Vice President, Mrs. Edgar Callahan; Second Vice President, Miss Dorothy Morris; Secretary, Mrs. Leroy Leslein; Treasurer, Mrs. Irvin Geschel; Council representatives: Mrs. Harry Karner, Mrs. Williard Loive, Mrs. Budd Lehman; Council Alternates, Mrs. Jack Campbell, Mrs. Archie Butt, Mrs. Thom Passen; Ways and Means, Mrs. Edgar Callahan, Mrs. Windom Baker, Spiritual Education. Barrett Boys Making Buckets

At the Barrett Junior High Metal Shop boys are now making unique paint buckets. These buckets have a patent bail and hook. The latter may be removed when desired. There is a place to rest the paint brush with only the tip of the brush in the paint. There are no curved tips on these brushes. These gallon buckets also have a ledge to wipe excessive paint from the brush.

Barrett boys clean and sharpen rusty, dull shovels and spades. Funnels, buckets, scoops and dust pans for special uses are the specialities of the metal shop boys.

The boys get their first taste of sheet metal in the 7A. Every 7A boy must complete three exercises before he can make any other articles. These exercises consist of making a bottom and a handle of a tin cup. A special inducement of an "A" grade is given if the boys complete a tin cup.

In the 8th grade the boy may choose any three projects from a list of 200 useful things. They may be to aid in a hobby or in home duty.

Home repair, new construction or any of the above hand work awaits the 9th grader as well.

Through the years the needs of the community have been furnished by the directed energy of the boys who go to Barrett Junior High.

Hungarian Church Annual Penny Fair

The Needle and Thread Guild of the Hungarian Evangelical and Reformed Church, corner of Woodrow and Washington Avenues, is sponsoring its annual Penny Fair in the church basement, May 23, Sunday afternoon. The chairman is president, Mrs. Julia Miller and co-chairman is past-president, Mrs. Elizabeth Gage.

The Guild has worked diligently all year for this occasion and has appliqued bedspreads and embroidered pillow cases and many other hand-made articles. There will also be a booth of fine Hungarian pastries. The affair will begin at 2:00 p. m. and there is no admission charge. The public is cordially invited to attend.

YOUNGSTERS WHO would like to make good money a few years from now, and not work too hard, should start throwing baseballs at various targets.

The N.P. (slang for National Pastime) is running out of pitchers. The N.P. needs more than double its present allotment of right or left arms that can get the ball over the plate with enough stuff to baffle the batter now and then.

Last year, for example, the Dodgers were good enough to win a pennant with a pitching staff composed of three or four-inning hurlers. They usually needed four or five pitchers to finish out one game. Yet they won a pennant.

The American league had only eight or 10 pitchers who were able to finish games. Both leagues were shy of arms that could locate a plate or go the distance.

Old-time pitchers such as Ed Walsh, Walter Johnson, Christy Mathewson, Pete Alexander and Cy Young could individually outpitch the greater part of an entire modern staff.

Bob Feller could and can handle his share of work. So can Hal Newhouser, Ewell Blackwell and Warren Spahn.

Few pitchers today can work 250 innings in a season. Johnson, Walsh and other old timers were pitching more than 400 innings a year. Any pitcher who can't work 250 innings shouldn't be listed as a starting pitcher. He is certainly no part of a regular. Yet, few pitchers now getting relieved around the fourth inning could think of working 200 innings without an attack of palsy.

Hurlers Pitch Less Today

Feller—Newhouser—Blackwell — Dickson—Munger — Marchildon — there wasn't a pitcher in the American league last season who worked 300 innings. Feller and Newhouser were the closest.

There wasn't a pitcher in the National league who worked 300 innings. Spahn, Blackwell and Branca were the closest—up around 280. Today, someone you'd rate as an average good pitcher works in less than 200 innings—say 180.

The decline in pitching—old-fashioned pitching — has been startling. This means in games pitched — in games finished—in innings pitched—in bases on balls in games won (from 30 to 41 a season).

Walsh worked in 67 games one season—winning 40 and saving 12 others. Today the pitcher who can go nine innings without being removed is a local hero.

This is why we advise all kids to start throwing. You won't have to be too good. The pitchers we rate as real pitchers this season are Blackwell, Feller, Newhouser, Spahn, Dickson, Brecheen and possibly Munger, Trout, Houttemen and one or two from Connie Mack's Athletic group; very likely Brissie; he may be the best.

A Championship Score

The finest championship golf score of the year to date was Claude Harmon's 279 at the Augusta National's Masters show. It was better than Ben Hogan's 278 at Riviera, where the next open will be played.

There have been endless discussions of what a championship score should be, but Harmon has slipped in the best answer to date. The Augusta National was keyed to its toughest test in every way. Riviera wasn't, with its rough cut, its baked-out fairways and its soft greens.

I doubt very much that 283 will be broken at Riviera in the National Open. And Harmon happens to be a golfer who is quite capable of winning a U. S. Open or the P.G.A.

Arcaro's Comeback

A year ago there was pretty fair evidence that Eddie Arcaro was slipping. The slender Italian from Kentucky was still riding fairly well, but he was no centaur. He was booed around New York tracks whether he won or lost. It came to the point where it didn't matter to him whether they booed or cheered.

This was the situation when Arcaro headed for Santa Anita last December. But on this occasion his health was better. He was in better condition. And suddenly a new ambition was born.

"It will be different out here this time," he said. "It will be a lot different."

Eddie began winning. He began outriding Longden, Reeves and the rest of the outfit. When he saw he couldn't win he was no longer content to pull up and let other horses place and show. Now he was riding them out. All the way. He also was taking narrow openings, riding recklessly at times. He was the old Arcaro of winning years.

Then he came back East again. He began winning on opening day at Jamaica. He has been winning ever since.

South Side YMCA Softball League

Southwood and Beck fifth graders turned in wins for their league, while their big "brothers" lost to Stewart and Siebert respectively, in the sixth grade league games played Thursday, May 13, at Southwood field.

Captain Dannie Holtz copped the honors for Southwood in getting four for five as his team slugged their way into a 32 to 6 victory over a Stewart fifth grade team. Stewart managed four of their six runs in the last inning.

Beck St. sixth grade team took it on the chin again as a batting Siebert combination smacked themselves a 11 to 4 victory. George Cook slammed out four hits in the same number of times at bat, to set the pace for the Siebert lads. Catcher Frank Howard from Beck rapped the only home run of the game.

A "never-say-die" Stewart team came from behind with two outs in the last inning to edge a heartbroken Southwood by 8 to 7. With two outs, Chubby Agnew tapped a single, followed by singles by Jack Parfitt and Alvis Chinn. Bill Weaver, Stewart short-stop, stepped to the plate with bases loaded, and rapped a double over second base to drive in two runs and cinch the game 8 to 7

"Dateless Sunday" To Be Presented

Hal Cohon, 486 S. Ohio Ave., and Mary Ann Melmed, 694 Ann St., have been appointed Co-Chairmen for Junior Jewish Community Council's "DATELESS SUNDAY" on the evening of May 23. They announce that the following hostesses have volunteered their homes for parties to be held on the aforementioned evening:

Honey Fisher, 1076 Kelton Ave., Diane Feldman, 1075 Kelton Ave., Judy Forman, 646 Kelton Ave., Elaine Mark, 2672 Fair Ave., Toody Carlstein, 803 S. Dawson Ave., Pearl and Natalie Goretick, 1286 Wilson Ave.

The parties will be conducted simultaneously, and all Columbus Jewish Youth and Young Adults are invited to attend. The hostesses, and likewise the parties, will represent all age ranges from 13 to 30.

Tickets have been distributed to all Council Organizations and may be secured through your Council Representative or a call to Schonthal Center, MA 6717 will get results. Purchase price of ticket only 75 cents.

For the benefit of those who want to make a round robin party of it and attend all the parties, a additional charge of 10 cents for each subsequent party after the original will be made.

Entertainment will be provided by a traveling crew of top-notch Columbus performers, and party-fun will be offered by the hostesses.

This event is designed to get old friends together and also to meet and make new friends. And remember, its DATELESS, so everyone comes slag. For any further particulars contact the Center or any Committee member.

Cavy Show

The Columbus Cavy, (Guinea Pigs) Club, will hold their annual show at the Croatian Hall, Friday and Saturday, May 21 and 22.

There will be a total of $306 in prizes.

The public in invited.

Jr. High's Musicians To Hold Concert

The South Side Instrumental Music Festival which will feature a joint concert by the orchestra of Roosevelt and Barrett Junior High under the direction of Mr. Robert Hicks and Mr. H. L. Germain respectively, and the orchestra and Concert Band of South High School directed by Mr. Randal Near will be given on Sunday, May 23, at 3 p. m. in the South High Auditorium. There will be no charge of admission. Parents and friends are urged to attend.

The program for the concert is designed to give both senior and junior high students a chance to hear each other in concert. Each orchestra will contribute to the program. A massed orchestra of all three groups totaling 106 musicians will be directed by Mr. Hicks.

Following is the program for the Music Festival:

Intermezzo from L'Arlesienne Suite—Bizet; Mercury Overture, Scarmolin; To Victory, Sordillo—Roosevelt Junior High Orchestra.

Pomp and Chivalry, Roberts; Elves Dance, Tschaikowsky; Now is the Hour, Kaihan-Scott-Stewart—featuring the Six-Teeners, Barrett Junior High Orchestra.

The Great Gate of Kiev, Mousorgsky—South High Orchestra.

The Jolly Scout, Chyette; Mozart Fantasie, Mozart-Weaver; Spanish Dance, Engleman—Festival Orchestra.

Barnum and Bailey's Favorite, King; Buffalo Bill, Frangkiser; George Gershwin Selection, Gershwin-Bennett; Sword Dance From the Ballet Gayne, Khachaturian; Finlandia, Sibelius.

Don't Hold Your Breath

You still hear people talking about buying something or other "when prices go back to normal."

Anyone has a perfect right to defer this purchasing in hope of a price millenium. But, judging by the evidence, he's going to have a long wait indeed.

The inflationary pressures are as strong as ever. The usual upward wage adjustments are taking place. The national income is still at or near its peak. The government is showing little disposition to economize in any direction. The cost of the European Aid Program and the preparedness program will turn more dollars loose, and lead to more competition for scarce goods. Nothing, in fact, indicates the probability of important price drops for any kind of commodity in general use.

The work of retailers, chain and independent, in aggressively fighting inflation, is a measure of the difficulties encountered. Stores have voluntarily cut their profit margins, discouraged consumers from buying high priced wares, worked with manufacturers to improve qualities and lower prices, reduced their overhead to the last nickel, and so on. This has helped enormously to retard increases—but it hasn't caused a swing back to the 1941 price level. There is a definite point past which retailers or any other group can't go and stay in business. They have to make both ends meet like the rest of us.

We all hope for lower prices. But don't hold your breath while waiting.

Stewart Avenue May Festival

The annual May Festival for Stewart Ave., School will be held Thursday, May 27 at 1:30 P. M. at the school. Chairman for the festival is Mrs. Edgar Oldaker who will be assisted by the following ladies: Mrs. Charles Henry, Mrs. William Olney, Mrs. Otto Storz, Mrs. Harold Dersoon, Mrs. Dwight Evans, Mrs. Edward Erb, Mrs. Edward Kaufmann, Mrs. Maurice Evans, Mrs. Nelson Hennis, Mrs. William Gearhart, Mrs. Carl Sebring, Mrs. Lewis Nixon, Mrs. George Miller, Mrs. Roy Huiss, Mrs. Lawrence Andrews, Mrs. Charles Loudermilk and Mrs. William McCurdy.

Installation of officers will take place during the program. Entertainment for the occasion will be presented by the Girls' Chorus under the direction of Miss Claire Schroll.

The people in Room 112 are studying about birds and other animals that they see in the Spring. They have two new books. One is about birds and the other has pictures and stories about animal babies. They are enjoying stories the children have been reading during book-sharing period. They have a new aquarium in their room which has four fish and three snails.

—R—

Our entire neighborhood was quite shocked last week when Cornelius Gilcrease, 368 Merritt Street, was drowned. Cornelius was 12 years old last Feb. 22 and was a pupil in our special room. Several Reeb pupils took part in the funeral services, which were held Monday afternoon. We extend our sympathy to the family. We also wish to take this opportunity to warn parents and children of the great danger of swimming in unsupervised pools. These dangers are talked about by all of our teachers but constant vigilance is necessary in order to protect our young folks.

—R—

On cloudy days, opposing batters always dreaded facing Washington's great Walter Johnson. The "Big Train" streaked the ball across the plate so fast that it was practically invisible.

One dark day, a rookie went to bat against him. Johnson blazed his speed ball.

"Strike!" the umpire said.

The rookie smiled a little. "Mr. Umpire," he asked, "did you really see that one?"

"Well," was the hedging reply "I thought I did."

"I didn't," the rookie said, "but don't you think it sounded a little high?"

News In The World Of Religion

Dr. Edmund D. Soper, internationally known as a teacher of ministers and an authority on world religions, retires in June from the chair of the history of religion at Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, Ill., and joins the faculty of Leonard Theological College, India, for three years. This is a Methodist college for the training of evangelical ministers for India and Burma. Dr. Soper was born in Japan of missionary parents. He is a former president of Ohio Wesleyan University; dean of Duke University's School of Religion; member of Drew Seminary Faculty.

The Board of Education and the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church have jointly provided more than 300 scholarships for graduate students from foreign fields served by Methodist missionaries during the past three years. A total of $1,075,000 from the Church's "Crusade for Christ" funds have been set aside for these scholarships. The largest numbers of scholarships went to young people from China and India, but 20 other nations received them also. The Church hopes to continue to spend $250 thousand per year in this way in training for the ministry, teaching, medicine and other special professions overseas.

At Amsterdam, Holland, in August, Christian leaders from 146 independent churches of forty nations will meet in the first constituent assembly of the World Council of Churches. All the main lines of world-wide Christendom will be there; all will be members except the Roman Catholic Church which is sending official observers. According to Dr. W. A. Visser 't Hooft, general secretary of the Council, the participating churches "desire to enter into a continuing relationship with one another, so as to collaborate in matters of mutual concern, to render a common witness wherever possible, and to deal with the question of Christian unity in a Christian manner."

It will be a drawing together of all Christians for common planning and working, though not for organic church union—though later it may point the way toward some forms of union. Eleven American lay and ministerial churchmen will be on the Assembly program: Dr. Roswell P. Barnes, Prof. John C. Bennett, Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert, John Foster Dulles, Dr. Douglas Horton, President John A. Mackay, Mrs. Mildred M. Horton, Dr. John R. Mott, Dean O. Frederick Nolde, Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, and Dr. A. Stanley Trickett. Dr. Mott, now 83 years of age, will be one of the five co-chairmen of the Assembly.

Alarmed by the "serious drift toward war" now apparent across the world, 125 leading Protestant churchmen from twelve denominations in twenty states recently met in Washington, D. C. to plan action "to avert war and revitalize the will toward peace." The churchmen, who were presided over by Dr. Ralph W. Sockman of New York, and Dr. George Hill of Pasadena, Cal., urged all Americans and especially the people of the churches to bombard Washington executives and legislators with demands for action leading toward understanding and peace. They said: "We call upon our national leaders to cease the effort to put the United States on a war-time basis. We recognize the menace of totalitarianism to the democratic way of life. We are convinced that the method of dealing with such ideas is not by resort to armed force but by the strengthening of social and political democracy, safe-guarded by international law. It is our conviction that as a nation we have failed to take all possible steps to avert war, to strengthen democracy at home and abroad, and to build world peace." Measures suggested toward peace include: restoration of civilian leadership in government, defeat of selective service and UMT, further development of the United Nations, negotiation with Russia, U. S. leadership toward world disarmament, control of atomic energy under U.N., and ERP "without political coercion."

From paper pulp sent to Germany by the American Bible Society, the Bible Society in Stuttgart has printed 400,000 copies of the New Testament and Psalms. These are being distributed by regional Bible societies, by Hilfswerk, by home mission organizations, and by the Christian youth movements. The same Society has printed 250,000 German Bibles with binding material from America. Other consignments of Bibles and New Testaments are reaching Germany from American Bible Society direct, from the Swedish Bible Society, from the National Scottish Bible Society, and from the British and Foreign Bible Society. There has now been delivered to Germany about one-half its estimated requirement of 4,000,000 Bibles and 6,000,000 New Testaments.

Corpus Christi Church Scene Of Wedding

Corpus Christi Church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Patricia Anne Sidebotham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Sidebotham of Fremont, to Francis L. Goeller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse L. Goeller, 1010 Oakwood Av.

The nuptial high Mass was read at 10 a. m. April 17 by the Rev. Fr. Albert Kessler.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride approached the altar in a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and skirt ending in a cathedral train. Her fingertip length veil was edged in chantilly lace and held in place by a crown of white crystal. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses surrounded by white split carnations.

Miss Patricia Oswald served as maid of honor, wearing a Nile green taffeta gown and mitts. Her headdress was of American Beauty carnations matching her arm bouquet.

Charles Eckel was best man, and ushers were Robert Neely and William Wilson.

The bride is a graduate of South High School and Mr. Goeller is a graduate of St. Charles High School. He is employed by Columbus Coated Fabrics.

Annual Rally Children Of Christ

One of the outstanding features of the "CHILDREN for CHRIST" movement in Columbus, is the annual rally, at which time children from all of the week-day Bible classes come together to summarize the accomplishments of the past school year. This year's rally will be held on Sunday, May 23, at 3:00 p.m. in Central Baptist Church, 27 E. Russell St.

The one-year teacher training course, offered by The Columbus Bible Institute, to prepare for this work, has been completed by Mary E. Callahan, 70 E. Olentangy St.; Dorothy M. Fogle, 1734 S. Washington St.; Ruby A. Hinkle, 1228 City Park Ave.; Georgia K. Mock, 2513 Renwood Pl.; Mildred F. Richardson, 219 S. Westmoor Ave.; and Stella M. Staats, 1521 Genesee Ave. and certificates will be presented.

Mr. Paul E. Rodgers, 130 East 8th Ave., who has just recently assumed the duties of Executive Secretary, will preside and Miss Stella A. Beckley, the full-time missionary, directing the "Children for Christ" work in Columbus and vicinity will lead in parts of the program. Children, complying with requirements of the Memory Verse plan, will be given their final tests for one week in the summer Bible camp located near Loudonville, Ohio at Lake O'Dell.

All folks interested in this method of reaching children for Christ, are urged to join in this rally.

Altar Society Games Party

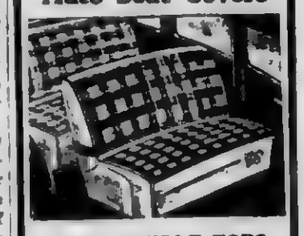
METHODIST PARTY

On Friday, May 21, the WSCS Society of South Methodist Church will sponsor a Church-Wide Party from 8 p. m. to 11 p. m.

Special entertainment, games and refreshments are being planned by Mrs. Erma Daugherty and her committee in charge.

Marie Kellermeyer Wed Recently

At 7:30 p. m. April 10, Miss Marie Kellermeyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Kellermeyer, 724 S. High St., walked down the aisle of St. Paul's Lutheran Church with her father, to become the bride of Dale N. Burns, son of Walter R. Burns, 883 Cleveland Av.



She wore a gown of white crepe-backed satin with marquisette yoke and ruffle falling over the shoulders. A matching ruffle came to a point in the front of the skirt and was scalloped to form an edging for the circular train. Her veil fell from a tiara of white orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of shattered white carnations centered with an orchid.

Miss Phyllis Kellermeyer, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore an aqua taffeta gown with the front drawn up to show a ruffled underskirt. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds.

The bridesmaids, Miss Marilyn Leonard and Miss Patti Speasmaker, wore identical gowns of light pink taffeta with apron fronts drawn to form a bustle in the back. They carried bouquets of talisman rosebuds. The little flower girl, Susan Worch, wore a yellow formal with rows of ruffles down the back and carried a colonial bouquet of pink rosebuds.

Best man was brother of the bride, William Kellermeyer. Ushers were Dick Hale, Harry Griffin, Jim Maiberger, Jack Weilbacher and Paul Beals.

Economic Highlights

The defeat of the Communist-inspired People's Front in Italy was anticipated. What was not anticipated was the extent of Premier De Gasperi's victory. The proportion of Communist votes was substantially less than in the preceding election two years ago. It was sufficiently small to preclude the necessity of giving any Communist leader a post of importance in the government. And, unless revolution or civil war changes the picture—Italy has become definitely aligned with the West, and control of the Mediterranean is at least temporarily out of the grasp of the Soviet Union and her satellites.

The Italian election was also a remarkable example of the incredible changes that have taken place in the world. Superficially, of course, it was a domestic affair. Actually it was an international test of strength. The Soviet Union did nothing officially, but everyone knows that much of the money and direction behind the People's Front campaign came from the Kremlin. The United States used to the limit the persuasive power of the ERP, and frankly said time and time again that if the Communists won, Italy would be cut off from material aid. The British put their oar in too. And finally, the Vatican came out strongly against Communism. Italy is a Roman Catholic country, and the Pope's forthright stand may well have been one of the most decisive factors.

The present situation in Italy is also illustrative of the powder keg the world is sitting on. The People's Front, despite its loss, is the second largest party in Italy by a wide margin. De Gasperi's possible only by a coalition of many other parties, some of them with extremely weird ideas ranging from classical monarchism to a fascism indistinguishable from Mussolini's. The only thing that binds these groups together is a common fear of Communism—coupled, of course, with their desire for American assistance. On practically all other issues they are at loggerheads. The Communists, whether or not they go in for big-scale violence, are in a position to cause continual unrest through strikes, heckling, and possibly, industrial sabotage. It is fortunate that De Gasperi has shown a high degree of competence and courage in handling delicate and explosive situations.

In the United States, the opinion is widely held that the Italian election was a major set-back for the Soviet Union's efforts to extend its influence over all Europe. That is true, but it should not lead to too great a degree of optimism. The Russians do not accept defeat passively. If their time-table suffers a delay in one direction, they always try to speed it up elsewhere. Until and unless the two great powers reach an agreement on their spheres of influence, we must expect flare-ups at periodic intervals in both hemispheres.

On the broad subject of U. S.-Soviet differences, Dorothy Thompson recently made a striking observation. She said that, under normal conditions, the present course of the world would lead inevitably to war. But, she went on, there are two unusual barriers to war now. One is the temper of peoples—of the almost universal desire for peace among those who would have to do the fighting and the suffering. The other is that neither high command has been able to figure out a plan that it feels will insure success in case of war. No nation will start a war unless it is ninety per cent certain that the advantage is on its side. From the Russian point of view, engagement in a war might lead to chaos in the countries she is controlling through puppet governments—Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia. She might have a terrific occupation job to handle behind her own iron curtain. From our point of view, how could we reach Russian soil with great land armies and support them?

Certainly, the Russians know, as we do, that a long drawn out war could mean the destruction of modern concepts of civilization. Miss Thompson, for instance, thinks more people might be killed by pillage, robbery and marauding bands than in actual conflict between armies. In short, the world might descend into the abyss of an utter anarchy from which it could not recover for many years. The only effective law, then, would be that the tooth and claw—the law of the jungle.

A viewpoint which is finding more and more adherents was expressed in these words in a Saturday Evening Post editorial: "Of course, we have to remain at the ready, but foreign policy should be built on the accumption that some sort of relations can be carried on, even with nations whose regimes we do not like very much—once our determination to halt the Communist conspiracy has been demonstrated." That means we must make it clear to Russia that we shall oppose to the limit of our ability her efforts to become dictator of the world—and, when that is done, work out our basic problems on a realistic basis.

Curiously enough, that may mean a return to the balance of power policy, on both sides of the ideological fence, which once we hoped was dead forever. Some of the best authorities on international affairs seem to have come to the conclusion that, in greatly revised form, it is the only workable program. As a matter of record, the longest period of peace in modern times occurred when Great Britain was able to maintain a balance of power in Europe.

A man was boasting to a friend about the fair price he had managed to get on his new car. "My auto dealer," he explained, "never charges more than the list price."

"That's so?" his friend commented. "How much did he allow you on your old bus?"

"Two dollars and 50 cents."

Among Heywood Broun's most memorable columns were his Yuletide essays. He concluded one of them with: A child was asked if he believed in prayers. The youngster nodded. Then he was asked: "Does God answer all your prayers?"

After a moment's thought the teen-ager firmly replied: "Of course. He answers them one way or another."

SPRING FAVORITES

A hearty salmon salad bowl made colorful with tomato wedges, green peas and hard cooked eggs.

By BETTY NEWTON

With days growing warmer, ideas for some meals — lunches especially—turn to hearty salads. Here are some spring favorites.

Salmon Salad Bowl

1 lb. can salmon
1 C. cooked peas
2 C. diced celery
1 diced cucumber
3 tomatoes
French dressing
Salad dressing
Hard cooked eggs

Chill salmon, remove bones and flake it. Mix with the peas, celery, cucumber, and tomatoes which have been cut in pieces. Moisten with French dressing. Line a salad bowl with crisp lettuce and fill it with the salmon mixture. Slices of hard cooked eggs and tomatoes may be used as garnish. Serve with mayonnaise. Serves 6.

Cheese Vegetable Salad

2 C. cottage cheese
1 C. cooked peas
½ C. finely diced beets
½ C. sliced olives
1 C. chopped nuts
1 tsp. salt
½ tsp. pepper
1 head lettuce
Mayonnaise

Drain the cheese. Add the vegetables, olives and seasonings to the cheese. Form into balls and roll the balls in chopped nuts. Arrange several balls on lettuce for individual salads. Serve with mayonnaise. Serves 6.

Strawberry Salad

1 qt. strawberries
½ C. pecan meats
1 C. diced celery
1 tsp. chopped mint

Stem and halve the strawberries. Combine with the pecan meats, celery, and mint. Serve on lettuce. Garnish with Fruit Salad Dressing. Serves 6.

Fruit Salad Dressing

1 Tbsp. butter or margarine
¼ C. sugar
3 egg yolks
3 C. orange juice
1 Tbsp. lemon juice
1 C. whipped cream

Melt butter, add juices and pour over beaten eggs. Cook over hot water until it coats the spoon. Cool and fold in whipped cream.

RUSSELL THEATRE

The Russell presents Sunday and Monday "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty" with Danny Kaye and Virginia Mayo. Laughter and love splashed in splendor through a world of happy surprises with Danny Kay more loony and lovable than ever before. Danny's a dream boy with a pulverized brain. What kind of a hero do you want? Name it, and Mitty will dream him to the screen. This is shown in technicolor. Also "Bowery Bickaroos" with Leo Gorey and Hunts Hall. News and a reel of "March Time" is also on this program.

The Parsons Theater

The Parsons Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "I Remember Mama" starring Irene Dunne and Barbara Bel Geddes.

Irene Dunne portrays "Mama," the head of a poor family, who could cure a blistered toe or an aching heart. The story is based on the popular novel, "Mama's Bank Account," and the Broadway play which enjoyed a successful two-year run. A picture which will be enjoyed by the entire family, good, clean entertainment. Also selected short subjects.

Another Girl Wins 5th Bicycle

The fifth bicycle given away by the Russell Theater was won by Evelyn Cossin of 491 Morrill Ave. The ticket was received from Sells Food Shop.

This coming Saturday is the sixth and last bicycle to be given away by the management of the Russell Theater, so be there kiddies, you might be the lucky one.

Hungarian Program At Russell Theater

Tonight, Thursday, May 20, there will be an all-Hungarian program with the showing of "Valamit Visz A Viz" with some very capable actors. This is the first time this picture is being shown in Columbus along with this. There will be shown a "Hungarian News."

Good Entertainment At Club Alexander

This week at Club Alexander "The Californians" a tip-top band will entertain you, their glorious high class music, comedy and floor show in itself. You will roar with laughter till your sides ache at their clever comedy antics. It is so new and different that in all show business there's no familiar term to describe it. Dancing nightly, liquor and beer prices reduced, free admission, floor show all goes at Club Alexander for a gay evening for you. Oh, yes, don't forget, every Monday night that fun all America loves. Good old-fashioned square dancing, good music and good caller, congenial crowd. Don't miss being there.

Barrett Players Give Recital Tonight

Barrett Junior High School will be the scene of much musical activity when the Annual Instrumental Recital is held tonight, Thursday, May 20, at 8:00 P. M. The 171 members of the instrumental department will meet under the direction of H. L. Germain. They will play a concert, displaying the results of their musical efforts at Barrett.

The groups to play are the Barrett Orchestra and Band, The Stringed Orchestra, and the beginning instrumental classes.

Some of the featured soloists will be Harold and Dick McClaine with a clarinet duet; Nancy Griffin, flute; Margaret Spencer, viola; and Bill Goodrich, baritone horn.

Among the beginners who started in February just three months ago is Sherry Archibald who will play a clarinet solo.

As a final number the whole group will play the current popular hit, "Now Is The Hour."

The concert is free and open to the public. Come and bring your friends.

RKO Palace Features "Ft. Apache

John Wayne, Henry Fonda, and Shirley Temple are co-starred in "Fort Apache," the drama of the U. S. Calavry versus the Apaches in 1870 Arizona, which opens at the RKO Palace, Columbus, for a week's run on Thursday, May 20.

Arizona, during the Indian troubles of the Seventies, is the setting for this drama of Indian warfare. Wayne portrays a calvary captain whose knowledge of the Apaches and their ways is ignored by his new commanding officer, Fonda. Anxious to make a name for himself, Fonda contrives a trap for the elusive Chief Cochise and his warriors, and the result makes for a thrilling climax.

A romance between the colonel's daughter and a young West Pointer provides the love interest in the film, with Miss Temple as the girl and her husband, John Agar, making his screen debut, as the officer.

Also featured in the film are Ward Bond, George O'Brien, Victor McLaglen, Ann Lee, Irene Rich, Dick Foran, Guy Kibbee, Grant Withers and Mae Marsh.

Much of the exciting action of the picture was filmed in the famous Monument Valley, where director Ford made his earlier "Stagecoach." The climax with its savage pitched battle between a cavalry squadron and the Apache warriors, is one of the most thrilling scenes in the picture.

Co-feature is "Half Past Midnight" with Kent Taylor.

IDEAL THEATER

The Ideal presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Relentless" with Robert Young and Marguerite Chapman. This Western is photographed in flaming technicolor which makes an eye-treat of the rugged beauties of Arizona's desert and mountain backgrounds against which the picture was filmed, the story has all the time-honored ingredients of westerns but boasts enough new twists to make it difficult, with a wandering cowboy waging his own desperate war against ruthless killers who framed him for a crime he didn't commit. Also "Born To Speed" with Johnny Sands and Terry Austin. This is followed by a "Cartoon."

Columbia Theater

The Columbia presents Sunday and Monday "You Were Meant For Me," a musical with Jeanne Crain and Dan Dailey. Songs, romance and laughter in America's Hey-Hey era, when youth was flaming, days of the racoon coats and when the Black Bottom was hot stuff, when the world went collegiate. A picture loaded with songs you sang and will want to sing again. A picture when boy meets girl. It will make you happy when you see it. Also "Thunder In The Valley" with Peggy Ann Garner and Lon McAllister.

Dr. Drake Writes Book

Dr. and Mrs. Leland N. Drake, 195 Tibet Road, have released a memorial book dedicated to the memory of their daughter, Dorothy L. Drake. Dorothy was washed out to sea in a tidal wave disaster at Laupahoehoe, Hawaii, on April 1, 1946. She was never seen again.

The book is based on letters by Miss Drake to her parents from the time she left the United States during the war to become a school teacher in the Hawaiian Schools.

Professor W. R. McConnell of Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, one of Dorothy's teachers, wrote the preface to the memorial book.

The eleven chapters contains interesting and complete accounts by Miss Drake of her trip, and her life at Laupahoehoe.

Miss Drake was educated at Crestview Junior High, and North High School in Columbus, and graduated in 1941 to enter Miami University where she took her degree in 1945.

In August of the same year, she left San Francisco with four hundred other teachers, under navy guidance for her teaching work in the Islands.

Dr. Drake, Principal of Mound Junior High School, published the booklet through the American Education Press. The memorial will be distributed to friends of the family, and to the schools of Hawaii.

IT'S CANNING TIME

Fresh strawberries, pineapple and rhubarb canned now for next winter's meal.

By BETTY NEWTON

When there's a supply of rhubarb in your back yard, and fresh pineapples and strawberries are on the market, it's time to think of canning for next winter. It is a treat for all to have spring fruits all winter.

Canned Rhubarb

COLD PACK — Wash young, tender stalks of rhubarb and cut in 1-inch lengths, diagonally. Pack tightly into hot, sterilized jars. Fill jar to within ½ inch of top with boiling hot syrup made of 1 cup water and ½ cup sugar. Adjust closure for type used and process 20 minutes in the boiling water bath.

HOT PACK — Wash and cut rhubarb into 1-inch lengths. Add ½ cup sugar to 4 cups rhubarb. Place in casserole and bake at 350 degrees until heated through. Pack into hot, sterilized jars, adjust closure and process 5 minutes in the boiling water bath.

Canned Pineapple

HOT PACK—Remove top and bottom of pineapple. Cut off skin. Cut core out and slice crosswise. Remove eyes. Leave in slices or dice. Drop into boiling syrup made of 3 cups water to ½ cup sugar. Cook 5 to 10 minutes. Pack pineapple into hot sterilized jars. Fill jar to within ½ inch of top with syrup. Adjust closure and process 30 minutes in the boiling water bath.

Canned Strawberries

2 lbs. strawberries
1 C. sugar
1 C. strawberry juice

Heat some of the riper berries in the top of a double boiler until soft. Strain. To 1 cup of this juice add 1 cup sugar. Bring to a boil. Cool slightly. Add berries and boil 3 minutes. Cool and cover. Let stand at least 4 hours or overnight. Pack berries into clean sterilized jars. Add syrup to within ½ inch of top. Adjust closure and process 15 minutes in the boiling water bath.

Veterans Jobs And Rights

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 20—A number of veterans, recently discharged from active service, are not taking advantage of their reemployment rights as provided in Act of Congress, Frank J. Collopy, Bureau of Unemployment Compensation administrator, said today.

Collopy said that Bureau personnel have been instructed to see to it that veterans applying for jobs or filing claims for readjustment allowances under the GI Bill of Rights are fully informed as to their rights to the jobs they held before going into service. The Bureau, he said, would continue to work closely with the Veterans' Reemployment Rights Division of the U. S. Department of Labor in furtherance of this objective.

Veterans legally qualified for reemployment rights include: (1) Persons inducted for military training and service under the provisions of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended. (2) Members of any reserve component of the land or naval forces who were on active duty on August 27, 1940, or who were called to active duty after that date. (3) All persons who, after May 1, 1940, entered upon active service in the U. S. land or naval forces, including the women's components of such forces. (4) Reserve officers of the United States Public Health Service called to active duty after Nov. 11, 1943.

Generally speaking, an individual in any one of the above groups who has satisfactorily completed his term of active service is entitled to the job he held before being called to active duty or to a position of "like seniority, status and pay." The veteran retains his reemployment rights ONLY if he applies for reemployment within 90 days after he is discharged. If the veteran has been hospitalized, he is eligible for reemployment rights if he applies within 90 days after leaving the hospital providing that he has been hospitalized for not more than one year following his discharge.

Collopy pointed out that any veteran entitled to reemployment rights and benefits cannot be discharged within one year without cause from the position to which he is restored. If, due to a misunderstanding with his former employer, the veteran is deprived of reemployment rights, he may file suit in the United States District Court for the district in which the employer maintains his business.

The federal law also states that the filing of such suit, providing that the U. S. district attorney in the area feels that the suit is legitimate, will be carried through at an expense to the veteran. Furthermore, the law provides that the federal district attorney shall act as the veteran's attorney if the veteran so desires.

Be broad-minded, girls, unless you want to spend the rest of your life looking under a bed.

El Rancho Welcomes Wild Bill Elliot

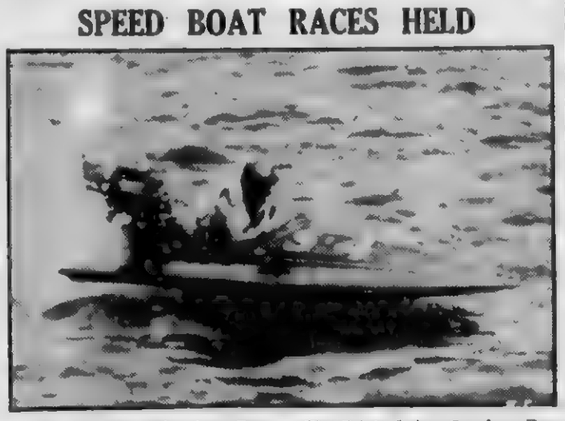
Word got around to Walter Poenisch that Mr. Elliot has a special love for "real fudge cake," so last Saturday Walter and Kathryn called on "Wild" Bill and presented him with this beautifully decorated fudge cake. Wild Bill was delighted! And then Sunday, Bill told Walter of a little girl he was to see on Monday and wanted to share the beautiful cake with her, but instead Walter baked a bigger cake just for Little Linda Sue Pancake and her friends. We hope she enjoyed it as much as Walter enjoyed baking and decorating it for her and "Wild" Bill enjoyed presenting it to her.

El-Rancho takes this same special interest in every cake they bake, whether it be birthday, wedding, anniversary, shower, or any occasion that calls for a special cake.

If it is a Wedding Cake you want, which is our specialty, just call GA. 0087 and they will send a representative to discuss your needs with you. See our ad on page 4.

Mothers & Daughters P. T. A. Banquet



The Beck St. PTA concluded their activities of the year with the Mother and Daughter meeting on Thursday, May 20, and their Festival on Friday.

Each mother was given a corsage at the meeting. Following installation of the new officers for 1948-49, the girls entertained the mothers with a nice program. It includes an original playlet which had been written by some of the girls. After the program the girls served tea and a social hour was enjoyed by everyone.

The PTA wishes to thank all their friends who donated and helped toward the Festival. It was a big, big success. Many thanks everyone.

We also wish to thank the South Side Booster for publishing the PTA news this past year. Everything we sent in was published.

SPEED BOAT RACES HELD

The Scioto Lakes Seaplane Base on Frank Road will be host to one of the biggest professional boat races in the state of Ohio next Monday, May 31. The event will start at 1:30 P. M. with at least 80 drivers competing for a purse of $1250. Drivers from seven states will man large outboard motors that will attain speeds up to 75 miles per hour. Four or five women will drive in the competition. A fourteen-year-old boy has checked in to compete with older drivers within 15 to 20 years of experience.

The Memorial Day Races are the first of five scheduled at the new Scioto Lakes Seaplane Base. Great names in the Outboard Racing Circles will appear throughout the races this Summer. The American Power Boat Association in conjunction with the Mid-East Boat Racing Association are sanctioning the races at the lakes. At least 80 drivers will compete in the races to make the Scioto Lakes events some of he biggest in the state.

Those people who took the family for a Sunday ride along Frank Road last week and caught a slight preview of a water-skiing event that will take place between the racing heats. While the boats are being gassed up, water-ski exhibitions will entertain spectators with thrills and spills at speeds of 35 m.p.h. The Columbus Aquatic Ski Association will provide the water dare-devils.

Airplane rides off the water will be available to those interested in flying. The Base owns a new Cessna 120 that will give you the thrill of a lifetime when you take off from the water and then gaze upon the lakes from the air. You will be able to see the boat races from the air if you desire for the Cessna will be gassed up and ready for flying.

The Scioto Lakes Seaplane Base is located on Frank Road, between South High Street and Jackson Pike. To get to the races at the base, drive south on South High Street over the viaduct to the first through street that will take you west from High Street. You will be able to see the blue water of the lakes from the top of the viaduct if you'll look West and slightly south.

Frank Road will be blocked off from South High Street to Jackson Pike. Tickets will be sold at both ends of Frank Road. The price for adults will be 75 cents, for the children the price is 50 cents. The Sea Scouts will be on the lookout for stray children and keep care of them until they are back with the parents. The Scouts are equipped with a life-savers' rating in case anyone should slip into the lake. An American War Veterans' Organization will help park cars and assist spectators to good places from which to watch the races and water-skiing events.

The south end of Columbus is most fortunate in being the scene of one of the greatest sporting events of the season. Memorial Day will surely be one chucked full of a great variety of excitement. From 1:30 'til the last race at 4:45, the lakes will be brimfull of one of the most colorful water sports enthusiams to ever hit Columbus.

DECORATION DAY

This Monday, we celebrate Decoration Day, the third Decoration Day since World War II.

It was our great martyred President Abraham Lincoln, who gave the idea for our first Decoration Day in his famous Gettysburg Speech.

Since that day we have decorated the graves of loved ones, and of our fallen heroes, who gave so much that our great nation might survive. It is altogether fitting and proper that we do this.

Here in the South Side, our last survivor of the Civil War departed several months ago to his final reward. But there are many men in our community who fought in the Spanish-American, World War I and II in our community.

On this Decoration Day let us not forget to honor the buddies of these veterans who gave their last ounce of devotion to their country that we might live in peace and safety.

Midget Races At Powell

Columbus, O., May 27—Headed by Ralph Pratt, AAA Mid-western midget champion in 1946 from Kansas City, Mo., the finest field of midget pilots ever to face a starter's flag on a Columbus race track will roar into action at Powell Speedway on next Sunday afternoon in the 100 lap Ohio championship.

Pratt, no stranger here and who raced brilliantly here a year ago, will have stern competition from a brilliant field, which includes among others, Carl Forberg of Omaha, Neb., with his "Black Beauty No. 7", the Forberg Offenhauser, Roy Sherman, of Los Angeles, Cal., former Canadian champion, Al Shaffer and Dick Jordan of Columbus, Al Silver of Akron, and two of the most widely known racing "teams" in the midget business.

One of these teams is composed of Bob "Hubba-Huhba" Harnar of Akron, and Jim Florian of Cleveland. These boys drive almost identical cars, both powerful Offenhausers owned by Mr. Pollack of Cleveland. Harnar's bears No. 40 and has raced here previously, while Florian, making his first start drives the sister car, No. 30, both cars being painted cream and tan.

The other team is the famous Jim White team of Offenhausers with George Witaman of Detroit driving the red and white No. 2, and Neil Carter of Toledo wheeling the No. 5 with the same color scheme.

Powell Speedway has been completely done over, the racing surface carefully graded and oiled by a crew of experts in such matters, and the first 20 cars in the qualifying time trials at noon will roar away in the 100 lap championship carded for 2 P. M.

Doctor's waiting room was filled with patients suffering from every imaginable ailment and all degrees of boredom. Some had been waiting for hours. Finally one old man arose, stretched himself cautiously and remarked, "Durned if I'm going to wait any longer. I'll just go home and die a natural death."

Mr. & Mrs. Schweitzer Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Earl M. Schweitzer, of 950 Carpenter St., celebrated their Silver Wedding Anniversary on Tuesday, May 12.

The celebration was held at their home on Sunday, May 9, with open house for their many neighbors and friends.

Guests attending were from Chillicothe, Dayton, Waverly, Canton and Piqua.

The Schweitzers have four children: Mrs. Homer Stocker of Canton, Ohio; Miss Lois and Sandra Scheitzer, at home, and Mr. Lowell Schweitzer, also at home.

The Schweitzers were married at Chillicothe, May 12, 1923.

Memorial Wreaths At Premier Floral Co.

Have you noticed the lovely floral wreaths for Memorial Day displayed in the window of the Premier Floral Company, located at 1853 Parsons Ave?

If not you really have missed something. These wreaths are hand-made of dainty waxed flowers, in lovely vivid colors, artistically arranged on a background of white celluloid leaves. Sprays of tiny flowers in contrasting colors are intermixed to give a lovely color effect, touched off with soft pastel colored ribbons. These wreaths are durable and long lasting. There are small white crosses for the little ones and other designs for any age.

John Hayes Says City Tax Unnecessary

May 24—The Columbus payroll political pot was kept boiling today with the announcement of the recent formation of the Columbus Committee Against the Payroll Tax. John Hayes, Secretary of the Committee, stated that the Committee was composed of a cross section of Columbus citizens including professional people, small businessmen, teachers, state employees and Labor Unions.

Hayes observed, "Our opposition to the payroll tax is based on principle. It is an unfair and inequitable tax which places an undue tax burden upon the small income and wage earner groups. These people cannot stand additional taxation."

"There are many more effective and reasonable methods of obtaining more money from our city than the payroll tax," said Mr. Hayes.

"We have suggested three honest and wholesome approaches to the Columbus tax problem, but on each of these the city administration and Council has turned a cold back.

"We urged that the Council adopt a true income tax law which provides exemptions for dependent children, medical expenses, church and charitable contributions, et ceteras. This suggestion was turned down by the Council.

"We suggested the proper appraisal of commercial and industrial properties. It makes no sense that the city of Columbus must continue appraising commercial and industrial property at 30 and 40 percent of real value. Honest appraisals of commercial and industrial properties will in itself mean an additional one and a half million dollars per year in tax revenues.

"We have suggested a concerted drive to force the Legislature to return to the cities of Ohio their fair share of the sales tax monies. In the past eight years Ohio municipalities and schools have been deprived of $114 million properly due them from sales tax collections.

"We call upon the city administration to join with us in the sponsoring of a state-wide initiative petition requiring the state Legislature to take action on this vital issue.

"If the Columbus city administration will join hands in such a state-wide petition with the other cities of the state, we can obtain relief without the need of the harsh and bitter Columbus payroll tax."

Hayes lashed at the city administration which he charged with "having welded and regimented our city employees into a gigantic political machine spreading the propaganda of the payroll tax on taxpayers' time and taxpayers' money. He further charged that our school system and children were being used by city agencies to disseminate payroll tax propaganda.

"This is illegal," said Hayes. "Civil service employees are not permitted to engage in political activities. And it is deplorable that our educational system and our children are being made a part of the administration's political and propaganda organization."

Siegel Celebrates 23 Years In Business

[illegible] Siegel, of 1210 Parsons Ave., [illegible] celebrating 23 years in the shoe repairing business, it was announced today.

Mr. Siegel began his work in the shoe repairing in 1925. At that time, he owned and managed a shop on the South side Steelton Business District.

In 1929, George started a new shop on the northwest corner of Parsons and Thurman. A few years later, Siegel's Shoe Shop was moved to its present location, 1210 Parsons Avenue.

For 23 years, Mr. Siegel has been known for dependable shoe repairing service. He has maintained a high standard in his work. George offers prompt, friendly service. He uses only quality materials and expert workmanship.

Recently Mr. Siegel has added to his service to his business. George specializes in repairing and refining leather jackets of all kinds and replacing faulty zippers.

Siegel's Shoe Shop also carries a complete line of accessories and shoe findings.

Miss Theado Gives Talks On World Trade

Last week being World Trade Week, Miss Valerie Theado, on Wednesday, May 19, gave a short talk to the students of South High School on the importance of world trade, and how closely related it is to their daily life.

Miss Theado, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Theado, 363 E. Kossuth St., will graduate next month from Ohio State University, where she is majoring in Foreign Commerce.

A Tribute To Charles Mangold

We are reproducing the letter below in regard to Charles F. Mangold who passed away in Topeka, Kansas, May 8, 1948. We think it is beautiful and a high tribute to a man like he was and did so much for our community.

To The Family Of Our Friend "Chuck" Mangold:

Our friend came to us out of the goodness of his heart to help our boys and girls of the South Side of Columbus. "Chuck" was one of our boys who never lost touch with the youth of his own community. The youth was uppermost in his thinking and planning.

Hundreds of our youth in the South Side of Columbus and in the adjoining townships have profited through his interest in developing leadership. Other hundreds have experienced the thrill of working with him on the athletic field, learning the spirit of good sportsmanship and fair play. Hundreds more are better students today and receive more benefit from their schooling as a result of his weekly visits with educational films.

Toward the family we express a deep feeling of sympathy for their loss of a son, husband and brother. He was all that one could wish for in either case.

To those who are among his more recent colaborers we express regret for their loss of a leader who was blessed with the powers of enthusing others.

To the youth of Topeka all that we can say is that we are sorry you have lost such a friend as Charles Mangold. May his life be a beacon that may point the way to a clearer and richer life. If, through knowing "Chuck" you can play hard, fight fair, and live clean, then his life will not have been in vain."

We knew "Chuck"—we honored him, respected him and loved him.

Be it resoved that copies of these resolutions be sent to the immediate family of Charles Mangold, and to those of his more recent association in Topeka, Kansas, in YMCA work who feel his loss most keenly.

The resolutions shall also be spread upon the records of our South Side Branch of the Young Men's Christian Association in Columbus, Ohio.

Done this eleventh day of May in the year one thousand nine hundred forty-eight, by Fred A. Sheridan.

Once, when a committee called on John Jacob Astor for a subscription for a worthy charity, Astor gave $50. One of the committee members whispered, "But Mr. Astor, your son William gave us $100!"

"Yes," said the old man, "but you must remember that William has a rich father."

South Side Y Softball League

Southwood and Lincoln Park fifth grade teams battled their way into a tie for the fifth grade championship by defeating Siebert and Stewart, respectively, in the South Side YMCA Elementary School Softball League.

Stewart Avenue sixth graders edged a nervous Lincoln team to bring the sixth grade championship to their school for the first time. Southwood had little trouble in downing Siebert and thus throwing three teams in a tie for the second berth.

Paul Wiegerig's heavy bat led Lincoln's 5th graders assault on Stewart in downing them 18 to 5. Jerry Sauls and Dick Miller each crossed the plate three times. "Gus" Hickman turned in a marvelous last three innings of relief pitching, allowing only one hit and striking out six Stewart batters.

Southwood turned on the heat in the first two innings to score 13 of their 18 runs in swamping Siebert 5th grade 18 to 6.

Ronnie Cohagen from Southwood and Siebert's Melvin Ramey put on a real pitcher's duel in giving up only five hits each as Southwood capitalized on errors to defeat Siebert's sixth graders 5 to 3.

Stewart and Lincoln had a "nip and tuck" game and it wasn't until the last half of the seventh that Stewart slipped in a run to beat a broken-hearted Lincoln sixth grade 10 to 9. Bill Wilson and "Mouse" Schneider turned in A-1 jobs on the mound for their respective teams. Errors cost both teams several runs.

Southwood and Lincoln Park will tangle at Southwood field on Monday, May 24, to decide the fifth grade championship. Game time is 3:30 P. M.

All the members of the South Side Branch YMCA Elementary School Softball League will journey to the new Y-Park Friday, May 28, after school for a picnic and presentation of Championship and Good Sportsmanship awards.

Bowling Banquet

The South Side YCA Bowling League celebrated its 23rd bowling season with a banquet at St. Paul's Lutheran Church Thursday, May 20. Trophies were awarded individuals and to Livingston Methodist, the winning team.

There will be a meeting at Y-Park Thursday, May 27, of the team Captains and the Officers for 1948 and the newly elected officers for 1949 who are: E. L. Craven, President; H. Sunker, Vice-President; Herman Nofer, Secretary, and Richard Harvey, Treasurer.

More Fisherman Are Wanted

The white bass are running again at Buckeye Lake due to the recent heavy spring rains and fishermen are urged this week to get in on the fun.

The normal spring run reached its peak about three weeks ago but this second run apparently promised to be as good as the first.

Ray H. Riethmiller, fish management agent for the central Ohio Conservation District 5, reports that the white bass are averaging 12 inches, indicating that there is a surplus of mature fish and therefore should be heading for someone's stringer since they will die off anyway. White bass seldom live more than from three to five years and rarely are found to weigh about three pounds.

They travel in schools during the runs and are found in the shallow, sandy or rock bottom areas near the shore. Once the school is located, the angler quickly becomes a busy fellow for the bass will usually bite until the school is fished out. Most popular bait used are shiny spinners with a piece of bacon or pork rind or live minnows. The daily bag limit in the inland lakes is 20 but there is no minimum length restriction and no closed season.

Riethmiller points out that the easiest way to locate the school is to watch for shad runs and usually wherever the shad are found, the white bass school is nearby.

Although white bass, which is true bass family of fish, are found in several of the inland bodies of water and are at present being stocked by the Division of Conservation in several lakes, the feeder-canals and creeks leading to the lakes usually provide the better fishing. At Buckeye Lake the Kirkersville feeder-canal between State Route 37 and the lake proper, about a two-mile stretch of water, is producing the good catches this week.

Two New Ohio Lakes Opened To Fishing

Fish management officials of the Ohio Division of Conservation this week announced that Clouse Lake in Perry County and Adams Lake in Adams County, have been filled to normal level and stocked with mature fish and are now open to public fishing.

Clouse Lake, a 44-acre body of water, is located on State Route 668 south of Somerset; Adams Lake, located two miles northeast of West Union on State Route 41, contains 47 acres.

Anglers, seeking Virgin fishing waters, will find these two new fishing areas, a part of the Division's new headwater lake construction program, ideal for panfish angling and although the surrounding areas are still in the "raw" stage, public recreational facilities such as shelter houses, picnic tables and other outdoor features will be provided in the near future.

Another body of water, considerably larger in area, recently opened to public fishing is the 8500-acre Mosquito Reservoir located six miles north of Warren, Ohio, in Trumbull County. This lake is a federally-owned reservoir providing public fishing, boating and dock facilities through special arrangements between the Ohio Division of Conservation and the Federal government. Mosquito Lake is now operated under the same rules and regulations which prevail at Indian, Buckeye and other State controlled lakes except that there are no cottage sites available.

Barrett Wins From Roosevelt

Barrett dropped Roosevelt in a 6 to 2 decision at the Columbus Academy diamond Tuesday, May 18, with 15 strike-outs and one sacrifice hit. Pitcher George Treneff held the Roosevelt team to the end. This was Barrett's second win to balance their two losses for the season.

The lineup was as follows: 1B, Bob Strawser; 2B, Dick Stedman; 3B, Ray Derouaux; SS, Dick Wagner; P, George Treneff; C, Bill Pfeiffer; RF, Joe Scott; LF, Clarence Lares; CF, Bob Call. Managers, Louis Choey, Eddie Wade, Tom Stedman.

Everyone can give pleasure in some way. One person may do it coming into a room, and another by going out.

Wed Recently In Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McKernan of Pasadena, Calif., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Rita F. McKernan, to Mr. Clement J. Schall, formerly of Columbus and son of Mrs. Julia Schall, 785 Thurman Av, and the late Clement Schall.

The wedding will take place in the early fall in St. Elizabeth's Church, Altadena, Calif.

The bride-elect is a graduate of St. Elizabeth's and St. Andrew's Schools and her fiance attended Corpus Christi and St. Mary's Schools in Columbus. Mr. Schall served three years with the United States Navy.

Natalina Pancotta Wed At St. Leo's

St Leo's Church was the scene of the wedding April 21, at 9 a. m. of Miss Natalina Pancotta to Mr. Frank Mitchell. The Rev. Robert Schmidt officiated at the double ring ceremony

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale Pancotta, 512 Frebis Av., and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Frank Straka, 1662½ Parsons Av.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin made with a sheer yoke having a lace bertha collar. Her full skirt terminated in a long cathedral train trimmed in lace. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a lace crown and she carried a white prayerbook topped with a white orchid and lily of the valley streamers.

Miss Pauline Mullen was maid of honor wearing a gown of pale blue marquisette with a bustle back. She wore a picture hat of matching material and carried a fan-shaped bouquet of red roses. Miss Lorna Mitchell, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Anne Pannella, cousin of the bride, were yellow gowns similar to the maid of honor's and carried fan-shaped bouquets of yellow roses. Miss Antoinette Pancotta, sister of the bride, wore a peach gown and carried a fan-shaped bouquet of yellow roses. The flower girl, Sue Raduege, wore peach and carried a fan-shaped bouquet of red roses.

Best man was Mr. Clement Pannella, cousin of the bride. Seating the guests were Mr. George McLaughlin, Mr. Earl Sisson and Mr. Bert Desoreaux.

A reception was held at the home of the bride that evening.

Josephine Sinacola Married Recently

Carrying a cascade of Easter lilies and wearing an ivory satin gown with an off-the-shoulder neckline, Miss Josephine Sinacola became the bride of Joseph Casa on April 10, at 10:30 a. m. at St. Ladislaus Church with Father Frank T. Riehl officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sinacola, 298 Markison Ave., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Casa, 695 Delaware Ave.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's gown featured a satin bertha collar edged with imported Chantilly lace. The bouffant skirt was caught up over a hoop of lace and matching lace edged the cathedral train.

Mrs. F. Sinacola was the matron of honor and wore a blush pink faille taffeta gown with a bouquet of red roses centered with violets. The bridesmaids, Miss Pat Heals, Miss Cathy Russo, Miss Eleanore Cervi, Miss Janneth Thomas and Miss Jo-Ann Sinacola, wore aqua gowns of net and taffeta with matching tiaras and carried cascade bouquets of red roses.

Leona Casa was the flower girl and Anthony Grilli was the page.

Mr. Frank Sinacola was the best man and the ushers were Mr. Pat Giannini, Mr. Louis Colusse, Mr. San Oliver, Mr. John Latorre and Mr. Rocco Latorre. A reception at the K of C Hall followed the ceremony.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress with a corsage of red roses and the bridegroom's mother wore a black print dress with a corsage of red roses.

The bride attended South High School and is employed at the American Blower Corporation. Mr. Casa is employed at the Vitale Poultry.

The couple resides at 298 East Markison Ave.

May Second Wedding Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Quinn of Corning, Ohio, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Emma Jane, to Mr. Jack J. Boyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hunter, 833 Heyl Av.

The open church wedding was solemnized May 2 at 2:30 p. m. in Glenwood Methodist Church with the Rev. Joseph B. Shellhaas officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of pastel rose with brown and white accessories and carried a small white Bible topped with white carnations and lilies of the valley and white satin streamers.

Mrs. Robert Duffey, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. She wore a street length dress of aqua made similar to that of the bride's and carried a colonial bouquet of colored flowers with aqua satin streamers.

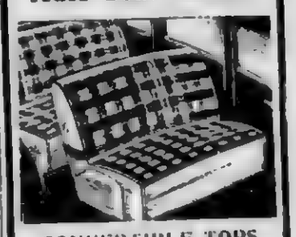
Best man was Mr. Lester Quinn, Jr., brother of the bride, and ushers were Mr. Robert Duffey and Mr. Eugene B. Quinn.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Quinn were hosts at a dinner held at the Seneca Hotel for immediate families following the ceremony.

The new Mrs. Boyer is a graduate of Corning High School and is associated with the Gustav Hirsch Organization. Mr. Boyer is a graduate of South High School and is associated with The Star Furniture Co.

They are now residing at 201 Eldon Av.

Miss Louise Merrill To Wed May 29



Dr. and Mrs. Willis B. Merrill, 249 E. Whittier St., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Harriett Louise, to Mr. Fred Whatley, son of Mrs. William Whatley of Dayton, and the late Mr. William Whatley.

Miss Merrill is a graduate of South High School and attended Ohio State University. She is now associated with the Ohio Department of Liquor Control.

Mr. Whatley is attending Ohio State University where he is enrolled in the College of Civil Engineering.

The wedding will be an event of May 29, at St. John's Evangelical Protestant Church.

George Hoster Indorses City Tax

The Payroll Tax must be approved by the Columbus voters if the city is to continue the splendid progress made during the present year, according to George S. Hoster, Chairman of The Civic Progress Committee.

Mr. Hoster said, "Without this revenue Columbus will have fewer policemen, fewer firemen, poorer health safeguards and reduced garbage and rubbish collections." "In fact," he said, "the activities of every city department must be curtailed if the needed revenue is not continued."

The City of Columbus can no more live within the income of the 1920's than can the individual voter. Costs of materials and labor have sky-rocketed for the city, just as they have for everyone else.

No other first rate American city in the same population class has been operating on such a meager income. Even with the income tax, Columbus will still have only $18 per resident for general city operation. Compare this with $43 for Jersey City, N. J.; $31 for Rochester, N. Y.; $35 for Toledo Ohio; $29 for Denver, Colo.; $30 for Oakland, Cal.; 26 for Portland, Oregon, and $24 for Atlanta, Ga.

It is the only kind of tax available to the city which requires that every citizen pay something toward the services he receives. Police, fire and health services are maintained for the benefit of everyone, regardless of real estate ownership. Why should the home owner carry the whole burden of paying for city services which extend to the non-home owners as well?

The tax is limited to one-half of one percent and cannot be increased without the approval of the voters. The cost of the tax is low because everyone must pay their share. The person earning $1000 a year pays 9.6 cents a week, one making $2000 pays 19.2 cents and a person making $4000 will pay only a little over 38 cents a week. The cost is small, considering the benefits received.

More than 30,000 persons now working in Columbus, live outside of the city limits thus avoiding city taxes. They pay nothing for the services the taxpayers of Columbus provide.

Why should those who spend from one-third to one-half of their time in Columbus, not pay their share of the costs of the city services they enjoy. A vote for the Pay Roll Tax will make certain that everyone, resident and non-residents alike, pay their share of the City's operating expenses.

Editor's Note: We recognize that the city needs more money in view of the increased cost of city government. We are not endorsing this particular movement as we believe our readers should be the judge.

Little Joe Up In Air

Clyde Moore in his column in the Ohio State Journal says: "State Auditor Ferguson has temporarily blocked plans to install an elevator in the State House. Maybe Little Joe thinks getting up in the air is his exclusive prerogative in that territory."

Well Clyde, we think you're wrong. We think it's just about time that Little Joe got his feet on the ground.

Little Joe Ferguson who rode into the State Auditor's Office on the coat tails of FDR would have probably never had been heard of only by the straight ticket pull of FDR was one of the many mistakes of that unfortunate election.

Ever since Little Joe has been in office, he has been threatening suits for this and suits for that, and has been over-ruled more than any State Auditor who has held that office in our fair state's history.

Every primary since Little Joe was first elected, he has threatened to file for every office from coroner to president. We wonder if he isn't mixed up so much sometimes that somebody doesn't make up his mind for him that he is still running for State Auditor.

There is one thing that Little Joe has made up his mind about though, and that is to get as many as his family on the state payrolls as possible. It is reported to us that there has been anywhere from six to ten of his own family on the State Auditor's payrolls, and we have heard that he has had as high as thirty-four of his aunts, uncles, cousins, brothers, sisters and his in-laws on the State payroll. If these figures are correct, the Ferguson family is doing OK. But we want our readers to know that these are only rumors. Personally we have only partially checked the State employees list and came up with six of the family holding jobs.

We personally don't know who Little Joe's adviser is or if he has one. But for a little man, he certainly shoots off his mouth more in the wrong places and is wrong more than any man we know of who holds a state office.

Now let us come to our City Recreation Department, which Little Joe started to investigate a couple months ago. We have had no report on this investigation as yet. Evidently Little Joe hasn't dug up anything worthwhile in this investigation or he would be shooting off his mouth to high heaven. So probably Little Joe is wrong again.

We think it is just about time to get rid of little Joe, whom Clyde Moore says is up in the air most of the time and get such a man as Roger Tracey who is an accountant and is well known for having his feet on the ground.

What the citizens of the State of Ohio pay Little Joe for is auditing the various books of the various departments of the State of Ohio, plus the auditing of the political subdivisons of our state which includes counties, cities, townships and taxing subdivisions and not shooting off his mouth about something that will not benefit our State.

We are just a little bit afraid that Little Joe Ferguson is still looking for the late Vic Donahey's baked potato but can't somehow find it. But even if he finds it, we doubt that anything can save Little Joe who is politically dead but doesn't know it yet.

June Is Dairy Month

June is Dairy Month! The month of peak production in milk by our foster mother, the Dairy Cow. Twelve years ago Dairy Month was born, to stimulate the consumption of dairy products because of their vital importance to health. In June, milk and milk products are plentiful and do not cost as much as other foods. It's just plain "cow sense" to get the minimum requirements for sound nutrition by including at least two glasses of milk a day for adults over 21, four glasses or more for all ages under. If you skimp on milk you're shortchanging yourself in health and happiness.

Research has shown that many families would be better fed if they used more leafy green foods [illegible]. Both contain high [illegible], are rich in calcium and other important mineral salts and vitamins. But we would have trouble eating enough leafy vegetables to give us as much of these food substances as we need, and that is where the milk cow comes in handy. All day long she eats great quantities of clover leaves and pasture grasses, and she concentrates many of these important food values in her milk for us. So now about a toast to Dairy Month, and to the Dairy Cow, with a tall cold glass of delicious milk?

Blonde: What do you think I'd do if you tried to kiss me?"

Soph: "I haven't the slightest idea!"

Blonde: "Aren't you even curious?"

The Parsons Theater

The Parsons Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Gentleman's Agreement with Gregory Peck and Dorothy McGuire. This is an exceptional picture which frankly discusses the problem of Anti-Semitism in this country. It is handled wih distinction, characterzations are impressively sincere and there are moments of stirring emotions. One of our Democracy's burning problems brought into the open in this Heart Rending Drama. Also "Mr. Reckless" with William Eythe and Barbara Britton and selected short subjects.

RUSSELL THEATRE

The Russell presents Sunday and Monday "Call Northside 777" with James Stewart and Helen Walker. A tense drama based on the true story of a woman who struggled for years to earn enough money to secure the release of her son from prison after he had been wrongly accused and jailed for a crime he did not commit. A mother's sacrifice saves the life of her innocent son, who had been doomed to die, after ten weary years behind the prison bars, little knowing that a mother's loyal unswerving faith was working slowly, slowly to free him. Also "Dick Tracy Meets Gruesome" with Boris Karloff and Ralph Byrd. "News and Cartoon" complete this bill.

Air-conditioning is being installed at the Russell for your comfort for the coming hot months. Mr. Julian Speers is the contractor.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "I Remember Mama" with Irene Dunne who portrays "mama," the head of a poor family, who could cure a blistered toe or an aching heart. The tempests, tears, laughter and love of a family you'll never forget. Also "Land of The Lawless" with Johnnie Mack Brown.

Girl, Winner Of 6th Bike

Constance Lehman, 456 Hinman Ave., was the lucky girl who won the sixth and last bicycle given by the Russell Theater during the past six weeks. Three boys and three girls were the winners.

IDEAL THEATER

The Ideal presents Sunday and Monday "Apache Rose" with Roy Rogers and Dale Evans. A beautiful technicolor picture in which Roy Rogers, a petroleum engineer, runs into trouble when he finds that the only road leading to his oil field is over a private ranch guarded by gunmen. He learns that the owner of the ranch is held prisoner by a gambling ship operator who wants the rich oil land on the ranch. Rogers and the girl skipper of a supply boat rescue the young rancher and become his partners.

Bob Nolan and The Sons of the Pioneers help to make this picture top notch. Also "The Farmers Daughter" with Loretta Young and Joseph Cotton. A "Cartoon" completes this show.

CLUB ALEXANDER

This week at Club Alexander you have Don Romero, a brother of Caesar Romero, Rhumba specialist supreme emcee. Elaine Byron, beautiful exotic and Hawaiian Dancer.

Dancing every night to a good band, and on Monday night both square and round dancing. An expert caller handles the square dancing along with that good barn dancing music.

Barrett Bearcats Hold Skating Party

The Bearcats from Barrett are saving their pennies for next Monday night, May 31, when the student body will hold a school-wide skating party at Greystone-Skateland.

Spearheaded by the local Student Council, the home room representatives are selling tickets for the big night on wheels. The entire rink will be reserved for Barrett students and their friends. Skating will be to the rhythmic chords of the electric organ.

There will be special features of the evening including demonstrations of dance and free style skating by recent winners in skating competitions. Skating will be from 7 to 10 o'clock with the price of admission 45 cents per person. Be sure to buy your tickets tomorrow at the school!

Robert Meadows Joins Navy

Robert E. Meadows, son of Mrs. Hazel Meadows of 1311 East Livingston Ave., was sworn into the United States Navy today at the U. S. Naval Recruiting Station at the Old Post Office in downtown Columbus.

Robert attended South High School and after leaving school was employed by the Buckeye News Co. of Columbus.

Meadows gives his reason for enlisting in the regular Navy as to learn a trade, see the world and retire with a comfortable income at 38. Robert leaves tonight for the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill., where he will receive his Recruit Training.

American Legion Award to Reibel and Cohan

Amid a round of applause, Barbara Reibel and Leon Cohan received the coveted American Legion Award at the Court of Honor Assembly last Friday afternoon at Barrett Junior High School.

The American Legion Award was conferred by Commander Oscar Rueckle, accompanied by First Vice Commander Harold Emrick and Second Vice Commander Harold Simmeral. This award is based on five qualifications: Honor, courage, scholarship, leadership and service. The 9A graduates choose the boy and girl whom they feel meet these requirements. This selection is then subject to faculty approval.

Barbara Reibel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reibel, 1389 South Third St. Leon Cohan, who resides at 669 Jenkins Ave., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Parks.

Wins First Prize

Mr. Earl Schweitzer, who operates the Earl's Sunoco Service Station, corner Parsons Ave., and Siebert St., recently won his company's first prize in the Sunoco Co., clean-up campaign. One hundred and ten Sunoco stations were in the contest.

Mr. Sweitzer was awarded a two-day trip to Detroit, with all expenses.

Daniel Franklin Joins Navy

Daniel Franklin, Seaman Apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Franklin, of 771 Parsons Avenue, has been selected to attend the Navy's electrician school at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Franklin, who entered the naval service in February, 1948, at the Naval Recruiting Station at the Old Post Office in downtown Columbus, received his recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Ladies Of Moose To Nominate Officers

The Women of the Moose, Columbus Chapter 206 will hold a meeting on Thursday, May 27, at 8:00 P. M. Mrs. Mary Dinges, Hospital Chairman of 919 Campbell Ave., will hold her Chapter Night Program at said meeting. Her guest speaker is to be Dr. Carroll H. Lewis, Superintendent of the White Cross Hospital. Miss Katherine Smith, Grand Chancellor of the Women of the Moose will be here as Guest of Honor from Mooseheart, Chicago. There will be nomination of Officers for the coming year. All members are requested to attend this meeting. Following meeting refreshments will be served. Chairman of refreshments is Mrs. Peggy Cons, 291 South Champion Ave.

George Ehrlich To Exhibit

George Ehrlich, Viennese-British sculptor, will be artist-in-residence at the Columbus Art School beginning in October. Mr. Lee H. B. Malone, Director, has just announced that Mr. Ehrlich will be introduced to the school and to the city in a one-man exhibition to be held at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts starting May 20 and to continue through June 20th.

Mr. Ehrlich, who very recently exhibited his sculpture in a one-man exhibition at the American-British Art Center, New York City, will exhibit both bronze and terra cotta, as well as representative drawings and watercolors.

Major works by this artist are to be found in the leading cities of Europe. A large figure, over life size, was commissioned for the Garden of Rest in the blitzed city of Coventry. His simple and dignified "Mother with Baby" is in the Museum of Modern Art in Vienna. His work is owned by the "Albertine," Vienna; the Victoria and Albert Museum, London; the Toledo Museum of Fine Arts, the Metropolitan Museum, New York City, and the Tate Gallery, London.

3 Daring Daughters At Southland

Jeanette MacDonald returns to the screen after a five-year absence for the starring role in the delightful new Technicolor treat, "Three Daring Daughters", with the handsome piano virtuoso, Jose Iturbi, as her leading man. Miss MacDonald portrays a gay divorcee who takes a second fling at romance in this charming hit, much to the chagrin of her three young daughters, one of whom is portrayed by singing starlet Jane Powell. "Three Daring Daughters" is the current attraction at the Southland Theatre, with "Wild Horse Mesa", starring Tim Holt, as co-feature.

Sunday, the screen version of John Van Druten's celebrated stage success, "I Remember Mama", will open a three-day engagement at the Southland. Irene Dunne and sensational Barbara Bel Geddes head the excellent cast of this heartwarming story of a Norwegian-American family in the San Francisco of some forty years ago. The Southland and all other Academy houses will feature special Memorial Day Matinees on Monday, starting at 1:30 P. M.

Wide, full-depth, husky, non-skid tread. Improved high-tensile cord gives greater bruise resistance.

2 WAYS TO CHARGE IT — 30 DAY CHARGE — BUDGET TERMS

Either way you can enjoy today the many useful bargains we regularly offer and pay with whichever plan best fits your needs.

How these Charge Accounts will help you

1. 30-DAY CHARGE . . . A convenient way to pay for what might be called "normal purchases." You can accumulate your purchases at regular cash prices and make payment once each month. Purchases made up to the 25th will be billed on the first of the following month, with payment due on or before the 10th.

2. BUDGET TERMS . . . This method of payment is popular with our customers who wish to pay a small amount down and the balance in weekly, semi-monthly, or monthly payments, whichever suits you best. A small carrying charge is added on the unpaid balance only for the extra time taken to pay.

Sally Ann Hunt Weds Dennis Roe

White gladioli, palms, ferns and seven-branch candelabra formed setting for the exchange of vows when Miss Sally Ann Hunt became the bride of C. Dennis Roe. The doube-ring ceremony was read at 8:30 p. m. March 19 at the Thurman Av, Methodist Church with the Rev. John W. Seay officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Henry B. Hunt, Sr., and the late Mrs. Hunt, 446 Siebert St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Roe, 950 South 18th St.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white brocaded taffeta fashioned with a marquisette neckline, fitted bodice, and full skirt terminating in a circular train. Her full length veil fell from a beaded tiara. She carried an arm bouquet of white calla lilies.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Earl Schreiber who wore a gown of pink taffeta. She carried a colonial bouquet of carnations, roses and forget-me-nots. The bridesmaids were the Misses Kathryn and Virginia Grell who wore gowns of peach and blue respectively and carried colonial bouquets similar to that of the matron of honor. The attendants' headdresses were half halos of net in colors matching their gowns.

George Roe served as best man for his brother, and ushers were Fred Deal, Paul Hanson and Bruce Roe.

The bride is a graduate of South High School and is employed by the Ohio State Life Insurance Co. Mr. Roe is a graduate of South High School and is in the college of engineering at Ohio State University.

Air Forces Need Men

The U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force announced that seven (7) vacancies exist for men for assignment to recruiting duty in the Columbus area.

Eligibility for this assignment is as follows:

1. High School education or its equivalent.
2. Honorably discharged from World War II.
3. Discharged as an Officer or Enlisted Man in the first three grades.
4. Must have experience in Salesmanship.

Any ex-serviceman that meets the above requirements can obtain additional information by visiting the Army and Air Force Recruiting Station in Room 102 Old Post Office Building, Columbus, Ohio.

Capt. Thomas J. Madgan, Jr., will interview all eligible applicans at the Recruiting Station starting Monday, May 24, 1948 from 8:00 to 12:00 daily.

Miss Wilma Berrisford Wed May Seventh

Miss Wilma Edna Berrisford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Berrisford, 996 Lockbourne Av, became the bride of Richard William Ballau, son of Mrs. Elvin Bird, 1227 City Park Av, and Harry A. Ballau, May 7. The Rev. Mr. Clutter officiated at the 7:30 p. m. ceremony at South Methodist Church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was attended by Miss Jessie Landaker as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Karch and Miss Marilu Mallary. Flower girls were Kathie Ann and Sharon Lea Davis.

John W. Torgerson was best man. Gene Sabo, Tommy Knowles, Richard Mills and Frederick Webster were ushers.

The bride is a graduate of South High School and Office Training School and is associated with Ohio Farm Bureau.

A graduate of South High School, the bridegroom is employed by the B & B Curtain Service.

Would you like to drink Canada Dry, sir?

I'd love to but I'm only here a week.

IT'S BAD MEDICINE!

Dear Fellow Citizens:

Yes, we earnestly believe that the Columbus payroll tax is bad medicine for our people.

Just take a look for yourself:

- It allows no exemptions for dependent children, for large medical bills, for church and charitable contributions. It has none of the humane exemptions and deductions of a federal income tax law That's not right!
- The poor man making $35 per week pays exactly the same rate as the rich man with a thousand-dollar income per week. That's not fair!
- Coupon clippers — people who receive dividends from stocks and bonds — don't pay any tax on these dividends under the Columbus payroll tax. Why should $50,000 a year coupon clippers be given special preferential treatment? That's rank discrimination!
- Wage earners pay on gross earnings (without any deductions). Corporations pay on net earnings (with many deductions). That's not equitable!
- Many of our Columbus families can't afford more taxes. With the cost of living at an all-time high, the Columbus payroll tax means another attack on their standard of living. They can't stand it! Let's not soak the little fellow!

Thanks for reading this short note from those who believe that the way to a bigger and better Columbus is not over the backs of the little folks.

Sincerely,
John Hayes, Secretary
Columbus Committee Against the Payroll Tax

OUR 1918 Patterns Are Here

So this is HOUSEKEEPING

It all started with a present from the man in my life: a plant that's easier to look at than to spell. "A philodendron," said he, "and it should be able to survive even your yellow thumb!"

"Humph" was about the best answer I could dig up on short notice. But mentally I made a vow to nurse that plant with my last strength if necessary, just to show him.

Coincidentally, the reason for my old-started love with growing things is that I always forget to water them. Even on my next day's shopping list was underlined, "an attention getting watering can."

I found the sprinkler, all right. That little squat pot really started something in the young married lives of the Stuarts. My can't-live-without watering can is of gleaming, warm copper. And we've practically planned our decorating scheme around it!

When the Man of the House spotted my plant accessory he was too enthused about the lift it gave the room to be amused. Not long after he wheedled from a favorite aunt a lovely, antique copper tray. Next, followed pieces of sister metal: brass candlesticks that glow as lovely as a flame.

We have big ideas, too, for the day we have our own fireplace. Since that may be a while in coming we're leisurely trying to decide whether a burnished copper hood or a brass fireplace set would be best. Either way we figure we can't go wrong. On occasion my poetic spouse even toys with the idea of bronze trimmings for the hearth. He spouts about bronze inspiring confidence and respect, about it being durable and beautiful, worthy of the master Benvenuto Cellini who worked with it.

Meanwhile, while we merrily live the lives of apartment dwellers I have my heart set on tying in the whole effect with brass and crystal hurricane lamps. And perhaps some copper hanging flower baskets.

The philodendron? I can't believe it myself. It's thriving!

Brother Takes Over Band

Jimmy Schumm is taking over his brother's band, Buddy Schumm, who is going out of town to play with a band. We wish him all the luck in the world.

We are going to have an all new band starting out with piano, sax, trumpet, trombone and drums. Practice will be held this Tuesday night. We will be open for engagements in about two weeks.

For engagements call after 6:00 P. M. GA-8682 or call in person at 480 Markison Ave.

John Hayes Says No

John Hayes, Secretary of the Columbus Committee Against the Payroll Tax, today lashed at city officials and the Columbus school system for "unfair and illegal" tactics in the payroll fight. Hayes charged that school children were given payroll tax propaganda in the school systems with instructions to take them home.

Said Hayes, "This is reprehensible and undemocratic. Children of tender age should not be made propaganda carriers on any political issues. The directors of our school system have surrendered themselves to the politicians. This is unhappy news for our school children and the parents of our school children."

Hayes further charged that the city employees had been "regimented into an organized political army working for the payroll tax on taxpayers' time and money."

"It's against civil service laws," said Hayes, and alleged that the State Civil Service Commission would be called in to investigate.

Hayes reported that the Columbus Committee Against the Payroll Tax was daily growing in size. "Ordinary folks—white collar people, small businessmen and workers—are banding together to fight the greatest propaganda drive ever made in the city of Columbus. We are counting on the inherent intelligence of the city of Columbus to beat the payroll tax on June 8.

Fish Fry Party Date To Be June Sixth

Howard M. Harrison Post and Ladies Auxiliary Veteran of Foreign Wars will hold their annual Fish Fry Party at the Marion Township House at 2212 Lockbourne Road Sunday, June 6th. Senior Vice Commander Charles H. Ochs is the chairman and will be assisted by Mrs. Bruce Durfey, president of the Ladies Auxiliary.

Swan Beats Eagles

Behind Ray Cook's steady pitching, the Swan Alleys team of the Fraternal league, defeated the South Side Eagles 4 to 1, last Monday night in a league contest.

Good fielding plays along with a circuit blow by Jack Cloud were the high points of the game.

It was victory number two for the Swan team in league competition, the other loser being Moose lodge in the first game.

How Does Freedom Fare

Cecil B. DeMille, whose Foundation for Political Freedom has been conducting an aggressive campaign for the right of men to work without fear of either management or union dictation, recently gave some important testimony before the House Committee on Education and Labor.

"My concern is for the individual some measure of protection from his management bosses and union bosses.

"But bosses never take kindly to restraint.

"You have heard reactionary businessmen urging the total repeal of the Wagner Act. Now you are hearing the clamor of reactionary union leaders for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act.

"Reaction — from whatever side—always aims to enslave . . .

"Every American should have the right to work when he pleases, where he pleases, for himself or for whoever wants to hire him and the full protection of the government should be put behind this right to work."

That is not an anti-labor argument. It is, to the contrary, a pro-labor argument. It makes little difference whether a business or a union can decide whether a man shall be allowed to earn his living or not. If they have that power, he is as helpless as a slave worker under a dictator. Communists and their fellow travelers are making an all-out effort to control the economic life of America.

The Taft-Hartley Act made one major advance for labor's rights when it abolished the closed shop. But the union shop under which a worker must join and pay tribute to the organization within a specified time after getting a job has not been touched. So the union officials still have a sure thing a right monopoly. Whether or not the worker likes their service whether or not he approves of union policy, he must pay or quit. If he quits, it's extremely doubtful if he can find another job where he will be allowed to work at his trade. So far as the union is concerned he can starve.

To quote Mr. DeMille again: "The touchstone for any law or any government anywhere in the world—is the question: How does individual freedom fare?" It will never fare well so long as any organization of any kind can tell a man whether he can work or not.

You probably wouldn't worry about what people think of you if you could know how seldom they do.

News In The World Of Religion

Reaffirming its stand of many years, that war is a "sin" and that the church must continue to so declare because "it involves compulsory cruelty, diabolical outrage of human personality, and a wanton distortion of truth," the General Conference of the Methodist Church has just added these words to its appraisal: "Moreover, recently developed forms of warfare make it necessary to add another note to this condemnation, for war as we now know it may destroy all civilized human life on this planet. It can decisively put an end to the exercise upon earth of those curative and creative forces which Christianity holds in its keeping. The church must use its spiritual power to destroy war, or war will destroy the church and humanity. . . . Regarding the duty of individual Christians, opinions sincerely differ. Faced by the dilemma of participation of war, he must decide prayerfully before God what is to be his course of action in relation thereto. What the Christian citizen may not do is to obey men rather than God, or overlook the degree of compromise in our best acts, or gloss over the sinfulness of war."

Speaking recently in Chicago, before the leaders of American Jewry when they were celebrating the advent of the new Republican of Israel in Palestine, Rabbi Philip S. Bernstein, of Rochester, N. Y., declared that the first moral and ethical test of the nation will come in the making of a policy regarding the admittance of displaced persons now in concentration camps in Europe. Many of these persons are Jews. There will be an understandable temptation to admit the young who are able to bear arms and to labor, he said, but added: "The new Jewish state will not be worthy of survival and, if I understand God's laws aright, will not survive if it does not accept the old and the children, the families and the widows, the weak and the sick. What is a Jewish commonwealth without charity?"

Since their split in pre-Civil War days, Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. has grown and flourished in these northern states and the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. has been equally prosperous in the southern states. Now they are almost to the point of voting as to whether or not they will reunite as one denomination. Special committees on union have agreed to recommend it. The two General Assemblies of the churches will vote in 1949. If they approve, the presbyteries will vote in 1950. If three-fourths of the presbyteries approve, actual union will be effected in 1951.

Protestant churches, choirs, and musical and worship groups and classes throughout the English-speaking world are being urged by the Hymn Society of America, Dr. T. Ferris Noble, president, to observe the year 1948 as a "Watts Year", marking the two hundredth anniversary of the death (November 25, 1748) to Dr. Isaac Watts, "the father of modern hymnody." The observance will take the form of hymn festivals by local churches or groups of churches, programs of Watts hymns in regular church services, special programs in Watts hymns in schools or by community choruses, special local radio programs of music and comment, exhibits of old hymnals and related materials in libraries, and study groups especially within women's societies and church schools. Dr. Lindsay B. Longacre, formerly of the Iliff School of Theology, is chairman of the celebration committee. Communities planning observances should communicate with the executive secretary, Dr. Reginald L. McAll at 2268 Sedgwick Ave., New York, N. Y.

Former Ambassador Hotsumi Ouchi, who represented Japan in the United States years before the War, is now in Tokyo as head of a training institute preparing the young men who will be the future ambassadors and ministers of his nation in many foreign capitals. Mr. Horinouchi has long been known as a staunch Christian. Recently the senior class of the institute men who have already passed their exams and are in the service of the Foreign Office asked that as a part of their English language study they be taught the rudiments of the Christian faith. For this task Mr. Horinouchi selected the Rev. Rowland Harker, of Los Angeles, Cal., an experienced Methodist missionary in Tokyo. Not only does Mr. Harker teach them in class, he goes hiking with them into the mountains on vacations and holidays "when one gets closer to them than in formal studies."

Judson College, famous American Baptist pioneer educational institution in Rangoon, Burma, has given two of its alumni to the new cabinet formed by Thakin Nu; U Ba Gyan, minister for Commerce and Supply, and Mahn Win Maung, minister for Industry and Labor. A third councillor, San Po Thin, minister for Education, is a Baptist christian and a graduate of Redlands University.

No greater indication of the necessity for more home canning need be cited than the U. S. Department of Agriculture campaign for 20 million home gardens in 1948, an increase of three million over last year's goal. The Department says adequate home gardens also need to increase the domestic food supply when many areas of the world will desperately need all the food this country can ship abroad.

So while you can set up a picture like the one above in your own kitchen, Mrs. Housewife, be sure to do so and you will have plenty of nourishing, flavorful home-canned fruits and vegetables for your family's use next winter. And you'll be able to bolster your food budget against high prices!

Keep a supply of your favorite fruit jars, caps, lids and rubbers on hand; then you can put up fruits and vegetables as soon as they come from the garden or your grocer gets in a fresh supply. Select clean, sound, fully ripe fruits, young, tender, garden-fresh vegetables, and can them according to your fruit jar manufacturer's instruction.

Marino-Specht Marriage, St. Patricks

Rev. Father John Costello officiated April 24 at the wedding of Miss Grace Marino and Mr. Howard Joseph Specht. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Marino, 573 Buckingham St., and Mr. Specht's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank X. Specht, 297 Rossiard Ave. Candelabra lining the aisle and baskets of white flowers on the altar formed the setting for the 9:30 a. m. ceremony at St. Patrick's Church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white chapel satin fashioned with a yoke of net illusion, wide lace bertha and fitted bodice buttoned down the back. A peplum topped the bouffant skirt which terminated in a train. The long fitted sleeves of the gown came to points over the bride's hands. Her full length veil of imported illusion fell from a Victor an crown trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white gardenias and white rosebuds.

Miss Ann Cappuraccini served as maid of honor wearing a lime taffeta gown styled with a round neckline, three-quarter-length sleeves and pannier skirt. Her headdress was formed of matching material and trimmed with Chantilly lace. The bridesmaids, Miss Sara Wolfe and Miss Marguerite Cappuraccini, wore orchid gowns made with square yokes, cap sleeves and full skirts and wore matching headdresses and mitts. All of the attendants carried colonial bouquets.

Serving as best man was Mr. Richard Albrech and ushers were Mr. Richard Donahue and Mr. William Kaiser.

When the couple left for a wedding trip the bride wore a light green gabayline suit with a beige gabardine coat and brown accessories. At her shoulder she pinned a corsage of white gardenias.

The former Miss Marino is a graduate of St. Joseph's Academy and is employed at the Midland Mutual Life Insurance Co. The bridegroom is a graduate of St. Mary's High School and is a member of the City Fire Department.

The couple is residing at 573 Buckingham St.

Late June Wedding Date Set

Mrs. Fred Morris, 728 Bulen Ave., announces the engagement of her daughter, Mary Rita, to Maurice G. Lautenslager, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lautenslager, of Lorain.

Miss Morris is a graduate of Rosary High School.

She is now associated with the Veterans Administration.

Mr. Lautenslager is a graduate of St. Mary High School, Lorain, and also attended Ohio State University. He is now associated with the American Monorail Co., Cleveland.

The wedding will be an event of June 26 at Holy Rosary Church.

"What a change has come over your husband Zeke since we persuaded him to join the church," exulted a preacher in the hill-billy country. "Have you noticed it?"

"Sure have," agreed Zeke's wife. "Before, when he went visitin' on Sunday he carried his jug o' corn whiskey on his shoulders. Now he hides it under his coat."

An office manager was telling how a girl came in to apply for a job. When asked if she had any particular qualifications or unusual talents, she said she had won several prizes in crossword puzzles and slogan-writing contests.

"Sounds good," the manager told her, "but we want somebody who will be smart during office hours."

"Oh," said the girl, "This was during office hours."

Economic Highlights

Secretary of State George Marshall's recent remarks before the House foreign affairs committee were of exceptional interest. For the first time, a top official came out directly for a balance of power between the Soviet dominated part of the world and the west. In addition, the Secretary's outlook for the future was somewhat more optimistic than it has been on previous occasions. World conditions, he said, have reached bottom, and some improvement can be expected.

General Marshall's main purpose in appearing before the committee was to strongly oppose the proposal, now up for discussion in Congress, to change the United Nations organization and leave Russia out if she continues her obstructionist policy. That, in his opinion, would simply produce more cleavage in the world, and greatly increase the danger of an international catastrophe. Then he added: "It is a misconception to suppose that domination of the world by a single system is inevitable. It is a misconception to suppose that differing systems cannot live side by side in peace under the basic rules of international conduct prescribed by the United Nations." Finally, he described the UN as "an open door to communication between the east and the west."

There may be a guide in this to the course of our foreign policy in the days to come. It is certainly true that a feeling is making the rounds that we and the Soviet Union can and must come to some sort of an agreement. This agreement would necessarily prescribe spheres of influence of both a political and an economic nature. It would be roughly comparable to the tacit arrangement that existed between England and Imperial Germany many years ago.

In line with this, a number of quarters are now suggesting that it would be wise to arrange another conference of the heads of the major powers. The fact that the previous conferences did almost nothing to promote the cause of peace doesn't prove that another one would be equally nonproductive. The presidents and ministers and their advisors would have the enormous experience of the past two years to draw upon, and they'd be in a position to take a completely realistic view of their problems and differences.

Still another section of General Marshall's remarks deserve wide attention. He is aggressively in favor of building up our military strength, and he has endorsed both peacetime selective service and universal military training. But, he said, "The emphasis often placed solely on the military aspects of world affairs does a disservice to the cause of peace. . . The more that present differences are talked about and treated exclusively as a military problem, the more they end to become so." This would seem to indicate that the Secretary, who is one of the most distinguished professional soldiers in American history, is definitely concerned lest an excess of saber rattling lead to a drawing of the blade. The danger that a real war hysteria might be fanned by loose talk and wild rumors is too obvious to require discussion.

It is perfectly clear that the "one world" ideal has been abandoned, at least for the time being—though many still feel that it must be the ultimate solution if terrible wars are to be avoided. We are going to have two worlds, and will lead one of them and Russia will lead the other. The great difficulty is to establish the line of demarcation. No one seriously believes that the Soviet Union will surrender any of the gains she has made since the end of the war. But there is some reason to feel that she may be willing to stop about where she is. A short time ago, it looked as if a Soviet drive clear to the Mediterranean was in prospect, and if that had happened the chance of war would have been increased. Now that menace is nowhere near as imminent as it was. The most explosive spot on the globe is the Middle East, but, even there, it looks as if the trouble can be localized, though no one has made any progress at all in figuring out how the Arabs and the Jews can be brought to terms.

U. S. policy today isn't a great deal different than Theodore Roosevelt's policy of "walk softly and carry a big stick." The big stick is our preparedness program. But, at the same time, the olive branch is being held out to all the world.

—oOo—

The Ohio primaries did exactly nothing to clarify the Republican presidential situation. Stassen did fairly well, but not well enough to add impetus to his boom. And Taft's showing was about the minimum he needed to keep him in the running as one of the leading contenders.

The fact that the campaign is really a horse race is shown by the strength of the candidates in pledged convention votes. Of the 1,094 delegates who will go to the convention, 770 have been chosen. Dewey has 125, Stassen 62 and Taft 44. It takes 548 to nominate. So no one is anywhere near the winner's circle yet.

Some of the insiders are saying that the ticket will be Vandenberg-Warren. That is based on the assumption that Taft and Dewey will cancel each other, and that their followers will then unite to stop Stassen.

Miss Eloise Sayre To Marry June 12th

IT ISN'T FAIR!

Why should workers—office workers, white collar workers and factory workers—be saddled with the unfair and inequitable Columbus payroll tax? Why . . . when there are other fairer less harsh ways of raising money for Columbus.

For instance:

1. Honest appraisal of industrial and business properties would mean a million and a half dollars in additional revenue to Columbus. Present appraisals of industrial and commercial properties are shockingly low in Columbus. The Columbus City Council refuses to insist that industrial and commercial properties be honestly appraised.

We don't need the payroll tax!

2. The Columbus City Council can pass a true income tax law which provides exemptions and deductions as in the federal income tax law. Exemptions for dependent children. Deductions for charitable and church contributions. But the Columbus City Council says No.

We don't need the payrol tax!

3. The Columbus City Council can insist that the state make a fairer distribution of sales tax money. An all-out fight by the city administration, together with other cities of the state, could obtain for Columbus its fair share of sales tax funds. This would mean almost $1,500,000 per year in new revenue for Columbus. The Columbus City Council refuses to make such an effort.

We don't need the payroll tax!

Carnival Week Soon Club Alexander

It's coming to town, Carnival Week at Club Alexander. Watch the Club Alexander ad in The Booster for THE week. Mirth and thrills, fun for everybody galore. Joe has been working on this for some time and it will be huge. There will be action a plenty when the Carnival comes to Club Alexander.

CLUB ALEXANDER

The Club Alexander presents this week, Rolando Geraldo in the role of emcee who does skating as well as dancing specialists. Lovely Graceful Louise Curtiss is a fascinating Radium Dancer. Elaine Byron, exotic dancer, and Hawaiian. Daring and thrilling. Dancing nightly and every Monday night, both round and square dancing.

IDEAL THEATER

The Ideal presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Good News" with June Allyson and Peter Lawford. The musical sensation of the year done in technicolor. Bog Gay and Gorgeous Crammed with toe-tapping tunes. It is based upon the stage success of some years ago and has a collegiate background, with everything that's grand. Also "Campus Honeymoon" with Adele Mara and Lyn Wilde. Also a "Cartoon."

Columbia Theater

The Columbia presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Saigon" with Alan Ladd and Veronica Lake. An adventure tale with a Far East background, reflecting the drama in the lives of three fliers pals, all from the China war zone, who as their first civilian task upon being honorably discharged from the service, embark on a mysterious sinister private mission to Saigon from Shanghai. With them in the excitement is a young woman, (Veronica Lake) not informative about herself or past. Also "The Challenge" with Tom Conway and June Vincent.

St. Leo's Church Scene Of Wedding

On Saturday morning, April 24, Dorothy F. Kreutler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kreutler, 75 E. Mithoff-st., and Capt. Charles L. McCandless, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. McCandless, Mars, Pa., were united in marriage at St. Leo's Church. Rev. James L. Ferris, CSSR, who is on leave in the United States from his mission in Guayams, Puerto Rico, officiated at the wedding ceremony and celebrated the nuptial high mass.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mrs. J. Carl Kreutler, sister-in-law of the bride, served as matron of honor and J. Carl Kreutler, the bride's brother, acted as best man. Paul Haban seated the wedding guests, and Carol Jean Kreutler, niece of the bride, distributed to them mementos of the occasion in the form of missal booklets.

The bride wore a gown of soft white lace over a taffeta hoop skirt, and a mantilla fashioned of the same lace. For her something old she carried prayer book. White satin streamers and Star of Bethlehem blossoms showered from a corsage of shattered white carnations were fastened atop the book.

The matron of honor was dressed in blue dotted-swiss over deeper blue taffeta, and wore an open-crowned bonnet made of matching material. She carried a bow-knot bouquet of shattered carnations, tinted blue to match her gown, and centered with white rosebuds.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was held in the Blue Room of the Seneca Hotel.

Capt. and Mrs. McCandless are now residing at Fort Au Peck, Long Branch, N. J., near Fort Monmouth, where Capt. McCandless is assigned.

RUSSELL THEATRE

The Russell presents Sunday and Monday "Treasure of the Sierra Madre" with Humphrey Bogart and Walter Huston. Three derelicts, adrift in Mexico and willing to do anything but work, stumble onto a map telling them the location of a rich, lost mine in the interior. They discover the mine, draw a fortune in gold out of it, and then succumb to their own lust and greed when, because none will trust the others, they fight among themselves. Two are killed and the third barely alive, staggers back to civilization, broke and bitter. Also "My Dog Shep" with Tom Neal and Flame. A Disney Cartoon and News Reel complete this show.

The Parsons Theater

The Parsons Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "The Naked City" with Barry Fitzgerald and Dorothy Hart. This is the last picture made by Mark Hellinger before his recent death. It's a stark, realistic story of a Throbbing Metropolis, stripped of its glamour. Pictured during 24 hours, one single day of romance, excitement, lust and murder. A true tale of New York and its people and the law which stepped in to avenge the murder of a lovely woman. Also "Last Roundup" with Gene Autry and Jean Heather. Selected Short Subjects.

SOUTHLAND THEATER

Humphrey Bogart heads the stellar, all-male cast of "Treasure of Sierra Madre", tense new adventure drama now showing at the Southland Theatre. Directed by John Huston, the film is the story of three men's lust for gold, on a prospecting trip in wild and mountainous Mexican country. Walter Huston, Tim Holt and Bruce Bennett have the top supporting roles.

Joan Bennett and British favorite Michael Redgrave start in the co-feature, "Secret Beyond the Door", a psychological mystery drama revolving around an eccentric millionaire who collects "murder rooms" as a hobby.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, the Southland's feature attraction will be "April Showers", a gay musical romance starring Jack Carson and Ann Sothern. Ken Murray's unusual bird film, "Bill and Coo", produced in color, will be co-featured.

Carolyn High To Be Commencement Speaker

Carolyn High

Carolyn High, 934 Gilbert St., will speak on the topic, "Beauty In Living" at the commencement exercises on Wednesday, June 9, at 8 p. m. in the South High auditorium.

From her graduation class of 270 students Carolyn and eight others received a $350 scholarship to Capital University. She was chosen into the National Honor Society for her leadership, scholarship, character and service at South High. She will make very good use of the scholarship in the future for Carolyn is planning to enter Capital and take a course in Liberal Arts with music as her major.

Today Carolyn is vice-president of Philo and the editor of the Philo yearbook. She has been a member of student council since coming to South from Roosevelt Junior High in the tenth grade. She is the chairman of the sales tax committee. She is also a member of the debating team which won second place in the city.

More Money Needed For Fire Protection

The future progress of Columbus depends upon the voters' approval of the city's Pay Roll Tax next Tuesday. Without this needed revenue the city must revert to the drastic reductions in manpower such as prevailed during 1947, when the city's fire loss was the second greatest in history, due to the smallest fire fighting force in 25 years.

According to George S. Hoster, chairman of the Civic Progress Committee, "Approximately 100 new firemen have been added to the ranks of the fire fighters since the inception of the Pay Roll Tax and additional firemen must be provided if the Fire Department is to reach the strength demanded by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, who threaten a substantial increase in fire insurance rates if the Fire Department does not comply with their requirements.

The Fire Department has added an additional Inhalator Squad to its emergency service and plans to place a third Squad in service in an effort to handle the more than 3000 speals received annually for this important first aid service."

Crime was rampant throughout the country after the war's ending. Columbus faced this serious situation with a police force of less than half that recommended by the FBI. The addition of 125 policemen has helped relieve the crime situation, but many more officers must be trained and assigned to duty if the streets are to be made safe for our women and children. The approval of the Pay Roll Tax will make this possible.

The work of the Board of Health is mainly "Disease Prevention." The almost complete eradication of Smallpox, Scarlet Fever, Diphtheria and many other deadly scourges have been the result of intensive campaigns by the Health Department. Every person handling food in public eating places must pass a rigid health examination before taking employment in dining rooms or restaurants.

Forty-five city-paid nurses visit Columbus homes and give assistance to families not able to provide nursing for themselves. They specialize in child care and give invaluable aid to the city's aged and infirm. At least 25 additional nurses are needed to further this important health program.

The Pay Roll Tax provides an excellent way for thousands of people who are part of Columbus in all ways except politically, to help share the burden of maintaining the city. We refer to those living in Bexley, Upper Arlington, Grandview and the other environs, who make their living in Columbus but who pay no direct taxes to help support its services they use.

Fourth Of July Program Completed

The directors of the Council of Suth Side Organizations completed plans for the annual July 5th celebration to be held in Schiller Park on Monday, July 5.

Starting about 2 P. M. there will be games and contests for boys and girls with suitable prizes to the winners. The afternoon and early evening will also be featured with a band concert and dancing.

About 9:30 P. M. there will be a huge display of fireworks. C. A. Lenaenmeyer, chairman of the committee, says that he believes at least 30,000 persons will be present during the afternoon and evening.

Charles Berry, Chief of Police, has promised ample police to supervise traffic.

Ray Dietz, Superintendent of Parks and Forestry and Nick Barack, City Recreation department, state that the completely remodeled Schiller Park Shelter House, will be open to the public.

The merchants and business men of the South Side make this Independence Day celebration possible but the program and supervision is left to the Council of South Side Organizations.

Contributions may be sent to the Council in care of the South Side YMCA.

Rummage Sale

White Cross Hospital Guild No. 7, Upper Arlington Community, will hold a rummage sale on Saturday, June 5, in the South Side Settlement House.

Six O.S.U. Students Receive Awards

Names of six students who will receive special awards and medals at Ohio State University's "Honors Day" program, Tuesday, June 1, at 7:30 p. m. in University Hall on the campus, were announced today. President Howard L. Bevis will preside at the program, at which scholarship and other attainments of more than 1,500 students during the course of the year will be recognized.

These to receive special awards or medals are: Max Trzeciak, 2582 East Ave., Columbus, Phi Lambda Upsilon scholarship award as the most outstanding student in Chemistry; George E. Sutilla of Lorain, school medal of the American Institute of Architects; James F. Knapp of Norwalk, Alpha Rho Chi medal in architecture.

Calvin Mayne of Rochester, N. Y., the Wolfe Journalism Medal; Rosella Horine of New Madison, the architectural undergraduate award, and Robert Jabbusch of 88 Chittenden Ave., Columbus, the Western Conference Athletic and Scholarship Medal.

Presentation of these awards and other recognitions of students will be made by Lockwood Thompson of Cleveland, a member of the Board of Trustees. Principal speaker for the evening will be Louis B. Seltzer, Cleveland, editor-in-chief of the Scripps-Howard newspapers in Ohio. Heading the "Honors Day" committee is Vice President Bland L. Stradley.

6B Safety Suggestions from Miss Hanna's Room—Swim and wade in safe places, only. Do not play in the street. Use playgrounds. When walking in the country, walk on left side of road. If walking at night, carry something white. Put away all tools when through using them. Keep toys off steps and sidewalks when not using them. When riding your bike in sidewalks you should be careful not to ride into anyone. Put out all fires before leaving them. Never rock a boat. Never change places in a row boat while out on the water. Stay away from the railroad tracks and the gravel pit.

—R—

The Brown Bombers is the winning team in Room 110. This team will now play the winning team in Miss Betson's Room.

—R—

Mrs. Beyer's assembly program is as follows: Song—"Praise God," Lord's Prayer, Song, "Child's Prayer, Poem, "Little Deeds," Song, "Morning Song," Bible Verses from Matthew, Song, "Planting My Garden," Poem, "Only God Can Know," Song, "The Seasons," Poem, "Kind Hearts," Bible Verses from Matthew, Song, "The Blue Bird," Bible Verses from Solomon, Song, "Five Little Birds," Song, "The Flag," Poem, "Flags," Song, "Our Flag."

—R—

South High Class Of 1924

South High Class of 1924 would like to get in touch with all the graduates of that class to start preparations for a 25-year reunion. If you are a member of that class, please write to me, giving your name, address and phone number. Send your reply to C. A. Moore, 879 Chittenden Ave., Columbus, Ohio. WA-6412.

Mothers Variety Club

A pot-luck supper was held at the home of Mrs. Margaret Steffans, 450 E. Beck St., May 28 at 6:30 P. M.

Twenty-two members and three guests were present. Mrs. Marie Wainwright and Mrs. Edith Bradfurd, former members of the club, became members by a unanimous vote.

Mrs. Vera Bolin, a former member, attended the meeting. We were very glad to have her with us. Little Miss Linda Jarvis attended the meeting with her mother. Linda has been confined in White Cross Hospital since February for severe burns. We are glad she is doing so well.

Plans were discussed for a picnic to be held in July.

The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Cecelia Windnagel, 669 Beech St.

Thurman-Jaeger Gets Bus Stop

Residents of the Thurman-Jaeger district will be pleased to know that Monday night in City Council an ordinance was passed, making it compulsory for buses of the Columbus Southern Ohio Electric Co. to stop at Thurman Ave., going south.

The ordinance, to make this stop compulsory, was instituted by Walter Snider and Dr. O. J. Fillinger at the suggestion of your editor.

During the war a petition to City Council for a stop at this corner was circulated by Dr. L. R. Thorpe. It was disapproved by the office of Defence Transportation, and to them must go the blame of the recent catastrophe at this corner.

The Booster also wishes to give credit to Joseph R. Jones, President of City Council, who helped push this bus stop through.

We believe that this bus stop will help largely in stopping future accidents at this corner.

We hope that the Traffic Engineer of Columbus will see to it, that the control of the Thurman and Jaeger traffic light is switched to the Thurman Ave. Firehouse, and an automatic controlled red light is added to this light so that the firefighters may pass this corner in safety.

Robert Snouffer Receives Picture

Snouffer is one of the many boys throughout the South Side who are guarding the lives of our boys and girls in our schools.

Robert, since the passing of his mother, lives with his aunt, Mrs. Mae Hall, 40 Engler St.

The Beasley-Grove Co. Ford dealers, are one of the sponsors of the school patrols.

Mr. Apel is shown presenting the picture of the Stewart School Patrol to Robert.

Frebis Bus Eastern Terminus

Permission was granted Monday night, in City Council, to permit the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. to install a turn around for their buses at Studer and Frebis Aves.

This will be the Eastern terminus for the Frebis bus line.

Buses will start operation as soon as paving of Frebis Avenue is completed.

St. Leo's CYO News

The month's activities planned by the June Committee for St. Leo's CYO are as follows:

Social—A dance will be held in the School Hall, Friday, June 11, at 8:30 P. M. All members are asked to bring a friend and spend an enjoyable evening with the CYO. A special invitation is extended to all the parish's June high school graduates to come and become acquainted.

For Sunday, June 27, the committee is completing plans for a picnic at Hempey's Grove. The main event of the afternoon will be a baseball game between the boys and the girls. There will be swimming for those who care to do so. Please meet in the school yard at 1:00 P. M.

Religious & Cultural -The Rev. Mr. Ralph Huntzinger, a seminarian from Mt. St. Mary's, Norwood, Ohio, will give a talk on Our Lady of Fatima Tuesday, June 15, at 8:00 P. M. Those who attended the June Business Meeting found his talk on the Scapular very interesting.

June 18, 19 and 20 the CYO is sponsoring a Retreat for the boys at Camp St. Joseph's and for the girls at Camp St. Rita. Those interested may contact Helen Leitwein (GA 9798), who is Religious Chairman, for more information.

Anyone wishing to volunteer their services for Saint Vincent's Orphan's Picnic Saturday, July 3, please contact "Ernie" Schneider (GA 5654) before June 17. "Let's help those who have no one to help them."

Athletic—On June 11 at 6:00 P. M. the CYO will play St. Mary's (Groveport) CYO at Sunshine Park, diamond No. 2.

The CYO Summer Bowling League is now in full swing with the teams "rolling" it off every Thursday night at 7:30 P. M. on the Broad-Olympic alleys.

The annual commencement of The Columbus Bible Institute, Inc. and union prayer service of the churches sponsoring C. B. I. scheduled for Wednesday, June 16, at 8 p. m. in Memorial Baptist Church, 26 S. Sandusky St.

C. B. I., which was first founded and incorporated in 1913 by a group of Christians in the Russell St. Baptist Church and then re-incorporated in 1946, is an evening school for the purpose of making it possible for working people to study the Bible and related subjects while carrying on a regular job. These classes are held on Monday and Tuesday evenings at 743 Dennison Avenue where the facilities of the Bible Presbyterian Church are rented for these periods. The school is operated on the quarter plan of 13-55 minute periods. During the year 45 different subjects are offered by a staff of 22 voluntary instructors who are either ordained ministers, institute or seminary graduates. During the school year, just closing, 121 individuals have been enrolled, representing 46 different churches in Columbus and vicinity.

At the present time 8 churches are supporting this work through prayer, personal service and the purse. Believing that the success of such an institution must depend upon the Lord's will and that much depends upon the working of the Holy Spirit through intercessory prayer, unusual emphasis is placed on this union appeal to Almighty God.

Certificates from the Evangelical Teacher Training Association and Columbus Bible Institute will be presented for completion of first and second year's work to Bertie R. Robbs, 1903 Indianola Ave; Florence R. Arter, 237 N. 20th St; Dorothy M. Townsel, 168 N. 18th Ave; Edward D. Clement, 1330 Clifton Ave; Elizabeth S. Hetherington, 1217 Fair Ave; Harold B. Allison, 2669 Deming Ave; Muriel M. Randall, 2912 Indianola Ave; Charles H. Willits, 61 W. South St., Worthington, O; Barbara E. Bodle, 164 Buttles Ave; Rosemary N. Bodle, 164 Buttles Ave; Eloise M. Evans, 23½ S. Grubb St; and Marie P. Ganz, 1101 Parsons Ave.

A diploma for competition for full 3-year Christian Workers' Course, will be presented to Elva Ann Grove, 907 Oxley Rd. Mr C. O. Callahan, 70 E. Olentangy St., Trin of Reeb Ave. Elementary School and Dean of C. B. I. will preside with pastors of sponsoring church participating in the service.

The public is cordially invited to attend and anyone desiring information relative to subjects and schedule for next year should call LA-61181 or WA-1475.

Euchre Club Entertained

Members of Tony's Grill Women's Euchre Team were entertained Tuesday evening, June 1, at the home of one of the players, Mrs. Jane Schilling of 1286 Primrose Place.

Those present were Ann Fitzsimmons, Jenny Hartman, Daisy Traphogan, Melaine Young, Agnes Peterson, Josephine Grell and Dorothy Hopkins.

Officers Elected For St. Ladislaus Holy Name

At a recent meeting of the Holy Name Society of St. Ladislaus Church, the following men were elected to office: Spiritual Director, Father F. J. Riehl, pastor; President, Edward Maloney, 695 Morrill Ave; Vice-President, Michael Yandrich, 276 Morris Ave; Secretary, Sam A. Skurza, 511 Hinman Ave; Treasurer, Daniel Verbance, 1932 Wager St. Program, Henry Mayro, 260 Reed Ave.

Southwood P. T. A. To Meet

We are now privileged to add another Chapter of progressive memories to the History of Southwood PTA.

By your support and co-operation many things were accomplished.

Southwood made a nice increase in membership as well as attendance at meetings. Our membership drive closed with 857 members. Miss McKinley's room won first prize, Mrs. Dwyer, second, and Miss McKinley's room won a prize for having the most fathers present at our PTA.

Some very nice programs were given by the boys and girls. Among them were a Thanksgiving Playlet and a Christmas Cantata.

With your wonderful co-operation, this Christmas we gave over stuffed toys and thirty books to Children's Hospital. Tray favors for Christmas Day to Mercy Hospital and baskets of food for the needy.

Our projects for the year were quite successful. A Bake Sale, Jitney Supper, Christmas and all occasion cards and note paper and finally a cookie sale to close the year.

We gave the school rack-cycle for the Patrol Boys and a large bicycle rack, also glasses and spoons.

Reluctantly, I bring to a close this my last message to all members and friends of Southwood as your President—I wish with all sincerity to you a continued and ever-growing and successful organization.

Mrs. Marion F. Ely

Letter To The People

June 2, 1948

Dear Sir:

Beck St. School's May Festival was a huge success. We wish to thank all the mothers who helped us to make it so. A special thanks to Ralph's Market, Isaly's, Big Bear, Krogers and A. & P. for their generous donations and all the parents who donated towards our festival.

Last but by no means least, the South Side Booster for publishing our news.

Mrs. Helen Gusa,
Chairman, May Festival
Thank you.

St. Paul's News

On Sunday, June 13, at 10.30 the St. Paul's Lutheran Church will observe its 127th anniversary of organization. Dr. H. C. Yochum, President of Capital University, will bring the festive message. Miss Phyllis Koehl, a graduate of Capital University, will be installed as Parish worker. Miss Koehl's home is in Reading, Ohio, and she is coming to St. Paul's where she will work primarily with the children and youth groups.

St. Paul's Annual Sunday School picnic will be held at Schiller Park June 15. The children will leave the church in a group at 10:00. The ladies of the congregation will furnish the noon lunch and the picnic will be climaxed in the evening by a carry-in supper and free movies.

Daily Vacation Bible School will begin June 21 and a record enrollment is expected. Rev. E. J. Katterhenrich is pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, having come there two years following chaplaincy service in the United States Navy during the war. He says: "We are setting up a definite program of service for the people of our church and our community that will help to overcome some of the much talked about problems."

Theresa Is Back

To anyone who has eaten the delicious spaghetti prepared by Theresa will be glad to know that she is back in business again on the South Side after three years absence.

Theresa was known to the South Side and during that time operated the Lido Cafe for 14 years. Here she made many friends and earned her wonderful reputation for serving real Italian Spaghetti.

Her new business will be known as The Royal Spaghetti House and is located at 1797 Parsons Ave. The same good spaghetti and meatballs will be featured. Delicious steaks, chops and barbecue at all times will be served daily. Theresa will be assisted by her daughters, Minnie and Josephine, who will be known on the south side.

Theresa's Back Once More—See ad on Grand Opening Friday, June 11. There will be fun and prizes for all!

Council Meets Tonight

The Council of South Side Organizations will hold their regular monthly meeting tonight at 8 P. M. at Y-Park.

All delegates should be present as final plans for the 4th of July celebration will be completed.

Donald Rippburger Gets Special Training

Donald Rippburger, Fireman Apprentice, USN, son of Mrs. N. Mabey, of 17 East Stewart Ave., Columbus, Ohio, has been selected to attend the Electricians School at the Naval Training Center, at Great Lakes, Ill.

Donald, who entered the Naval Service January 30 1948, at the Navy Recruiting Station, Columbus, Ohio, is a graduate of the South Side High School. He received his recruit training at the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Illinois.

South Students Ready For Tour

The annual Kirven Tour will leave Sunday, June 13, for Washington and New York.

Mrs. Arema Kirven, a faculty member at South has been conducting tours for several years for any students at South who wanted to go. The tours were discontinued during the war but were started again 1946 when a group of South students went to New York for a week-end to see the "Late Song."

The tour will leave Union Station at 9:35 p. m. on Sunday night and arrive in Washington about 11 o'clock the next day. While in Washington they will visit Mt. Vernon, Alexandria, Va., Arlington National Cemetery, the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, Lincoln Memorial and the Washington Monument. These are just a few of the historic places that they will visit while in Washington. On Tuesday morning they will visit the White House, U. S. Supreme Court, Bureau of Printing and Engraving and the new and old museums.

A boat trip on the Potomac River Monday night also is on the itinerary for the stay in Washington.

The group will leave Washington on Tuesday night for New York. On the first night in New York they will visit the NBC studios and see an actual broadcast.

On Wednesday morning a tour of Upper and Lower Manhattan is scheduled. On this tour they will see such places as Grant's Tomb, Greenwich Village, Harlem, Wall Street Stock Exchange, Fulton Fish Market and many other interesting places.

Wednesday afternoon is free and the people on the tour may do what they want. Many are planning shopping trips to New York's famous department stores, while others are planning to go to Coney Island, Central Park or see a major league baseball game.

Wednesday night they will ascend to the top of the Empire State Building and see the lights of New York come on. From there they will go to Radio City Music Hall, where they will see the famous Rockette dancers.

Thursday morning they will board a boat and sail up the river to Albany, N. Y. This will be an all-day trip and will board a train on arrival in Albany for home.

In past years the trips have been grand successes and the students at South who went last year are looking forward to another trip. The tour is not limited to students. The parents of the students also are welcome to attend.

Blue Star Mothers Meet

South Unit, Blue Star Mothers of America held their regular meeting June 14, Monday, at 8:00 o'clock at the K. of P. Hall, 697 S. High St.

Marie Lynch, chairman, will preside. Delegates report on convention held at Mansfield will be given.

Trudeau Guild

Trudeau Guild No. 12 will meet on Thursday, June 10, at 1:30 at the home of Mrs. Earl Yockey, 269 Hinman Avenue, for a regular monthly business meeting.

Pearl Stump Heads Eagles

On Wednesday, June 2, Pearl Stump, of 1913 Parsons Ave., was installed as President of the South Side Aerie 2244 Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Other officers installed were Frank Williams, vice-president; James Leonard, chaplain; William Kearns, Worthy conductor; Charles Bashman, treasurer; Howard Saunders, Inner Guard; Louis Bell, Outer Guard; Marion L. Stump, Secretary, and Earl Long, trustee.

New Dark Tones For Your Hosiery

Don't discard light-toned stockings because of the dark shades now in style. Just re-dye them in the new dark shades of Tintex stocking dye just introduced — as was done by Karen Lewis (above), recently crowned Queen at New York Press Photographers' Ball. And if you have dark-toned hosiery that you want in lighter shades, you can re-dye these also, since there are six light-toned dyes available as well.

The new dark shades of dye are mirage, a hazy taupe; brownskin, a sophisticated brown; black beauty, a dramatic off-black, and gunmetal, a misty gray-black.

You can achieve the transformation for about two cents a pair, including the color remover suggested when changing to markedly different color or when re-matching odd stockings.

The dye works on all the usual hosiery fabrics, including nylon and rayon.

WARREN WRIGHT, Calumet's owner, Ben and Jimmy Jones, Calumet's two trainers, were looking on ahead as the 1948 Preakness arrived.

They had seen Calumet's Whirlaway take the mud-caked field away from both Assault and Stymie, only to have Hugh Jacobs' Stymie runner return the lead to the first to last stretch run.

Ben and Jimmy Jones are still the one best bet when Armed is the big thing. But both are pretty sure that whatever Stymie does in Calumet will beat it, putting Calumet a neck again.

With the Derby prize and over $100,000 under the saddle, Calumet owns the Preakness and the Belmont. That would mean close to another $100,000.

But that isn't all. There is the American Derby at Chicago; there is the Massachusetts Handicap at Suffolk Downs; there is the Saratoga at Belmont; there is the $200,000 Santa Anita Handicap. There is so much money on hand that racing can almost match some of those radio programs where, I understand, they will give away eleven cars fairly soon.

The big races on ahead for three-year-olds run from $40,000 to $100,000 and it is quite possible that Calumet will finish his three-year-old career above the $600,000 spot.

We talked with Ben and Jimmy Jones about this situation. The Jones boys are a trifle better than normally bright citizens. They would rather talk about what has already happened—or what might happen tomorrow—than about what might happen next month. They are not limb climbers. They have no use for limbs, except those limbs belonging to Calumet runners.

"You made $1,400,000 or more," I said to Parnell Ben a year ago, "how much will you make this year with Citation, Coaltown, Fervent, Armed, Faultless and your two-year-olds, ten million?"

"All I know is what we've won so far," Ben said.

Ben Jones counts no purses before they are collected and put in the bank. There is a rumor out that his two-year-olds will soon make Citation and Coaltown off the tracks. It could happen.

Baseball's Upsets

It may be that the cold, raw early spring has had more than a little to do with the odd aspect of the two big league pennant races. Something has taken place that has an odd, lopsided look.

For example, if we owned a ball club and someone had offered us three pitchers, the odds are we would have broken both legs in a scramble for Bill Dickey, Hal Newhouser and Warren Spahn.

Well, it so happens that the last time we looked we discovered neither Dickey nor Newhouser was among the first 40 in his respective league.

Both had been blasted and blistered, start after start, in the manner of a brace of rookies. Also Bob Feller had been clouted to the showers two or three times.

Looking over these morbid details we discovered the Athletics and Indians leading the league, and the Browns playing as well as any other team.

They beat the Yankees in a game that was taken away from them by poor umpiring, so far as eyesight goes. This made a difference of two games for the Yankees and two games for the Browns.

What Makes a Coach?

Frank Leahy is a great coach. He also has the best material. Does Leahy make the latter great? Or does the material make Leahy great? I'll let you answer that one.

There are at least two coaches I know who have the jump on Leahy or any other coach you can mention in the way of what you might call "a favorable press." Which isn't unimportant. These two men are Herman Hickman, now of Yale, and Bo McMillin, now of the Detroit Lions.

Hickman and McMillin have left two big gaps at Army and Indiana, where they have been big factors not only as coaches, but in the way of popular appeal.

In this season on ahead both Hickman and McMillin are heading for rough roads of travel. Hickman will need all of his art as a star line coach to give Yale a first-class line. The Blue has the backs, but the line material of other years is missing. Some of those big guards and tackles is lingering under the elms.

McMillin has many notches to climb before his Lions are up with the Cardinals, Bears, Eagles and Giants to mention only a few. But they still will draw a good press and hold the loyalty of their supporters for a year at least—whatever happens. When you can do that in pro football, you have to be popular.

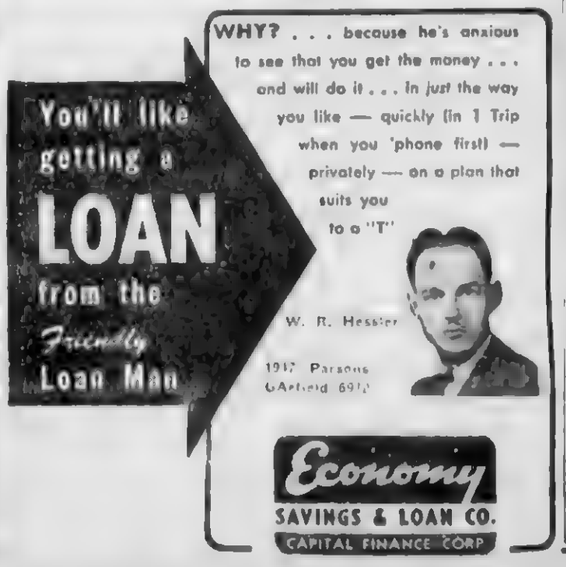
Tennis Tournament

A tennis tournament for boys and girls under 18 is being planned by the Central Ohio Tennis Association in cooperation with WBNS. Entries are limited to residents of Franklin County.

The Tournament will be held at the Ohio State University courts, June 11 to 13. Trophies will be awarded to winners and runners-up in four classes.

Medals from the United States Lawn Tennis Association will also be presented to the winners.

The four classes are as follows: Boys, 15 and under. Any boy who had not reached his 15th birthday on January 1, 1948. Junior Boys. Any boy who had not reached his 18th birthday January 1, 1948. Girls, 15 and under 18. The same rule to apply to girls.



No entry fee will be charged and balls will be furnished for each match. Entry blanks are available from the chairman, Robert Mayer, 2042 Indianola Avenue, UN 9[illegible], or from the Early Worm, Radio Station WBNS.

As Pegler Sees It

By Westbrook Pegler

Released by WNU Features

TO DATE in my revelations of political influences at work behind the bland, Republican front of the New York Herald Tribune I have stayed up on my toes, boxed them fancy and used the ring.

Now we stand flat-footed.

THIS IS NOT REPARTEE. THIS IS SERIOUS.

In Madison Square Garden a preliminary speaker, warming up the Communist crowd for Henry Wallace, incited a riot at the Roxy theater close by, where a film was showing called "The Iron Curtain." This is an anti-Communist film. It is belated and insufficient by far to redress the record of calculated assistance of the movie industry to the treason of the Hollywood Muscovites over many years.

The riot against the film had been advertised in advance by the Communists so frankly that the New York police were on the alert.

The preliminary speaker at the garden was a notorious thief and slacker, a nimble opportunist in religious matters and a preacher of the Communist policies and program. He is known by the alias of William S. Gailmor. His original name was William Margolis. He changed to Gailmor after he had been caught stealing automobiles in New York.

Gailmor, or Margolis, first came to notice as a self-acknowledged "famous" commentator in 1941. By 1944 he was making propaganda in a local radius around New York for Roosevelt and the fourth term. The investigation was difficult and I was unable to denounce him until after election. I then presented his criminal, and psychiatric, history to Ed Noble, president of the old Blue network, a New Dealer who did very well by himself in the radio business. Noble called in his "personnel" chief, who produced a pedigree filled in by Gailmor. IN THE SPACE SLUGGED "RELIGION" THE ANSWER WAS "NONE."

Claims He's Religious

About 24 hours later, learning that he was discovered, Gailmor confessed his past to his employers but said he could not be a Communist because he was a very religious man. He had, in fact, been educated to be a rabbi but had abandoned that career after his arrest. He escaped a prison term by accepting a commitment as a victim of a mental disorder called a "compulsion neurosis." He couldn't resist the temptation to steal. That is the trouble of all thieves.

When Henry Wallace set out on his northwestern tour last winter, Gailmor bobbed up in the troupe in the role of money-raiser. He discoursed a patter to loosen up the suckers and he and his assistants were using a large milkcan to carry off the collections.

The New York Herald Tribune had a reporter along who wrote a special story about Gailmor. It was amusing and altogether favorable. It made no mention of his communistic associations or his criminal past.

On the night of the riot at the Roxy theater Gailmor said from the platform of Henry Wallace's rally in the garden: "A few blocks down the street they are going to show a fascist picture that should be boycotted by every right-thinking person. So you know what to do."

At the close of the rally a screaming mob of 2,000 Communists went to the Roxy. There was disorder and several persons were injured.

NOW TO SURROUND THE HERALD TRIBUNE.

On Air in New York

Last October Gailmor made a local broadcast in New York with a guest artist who was Joseph G. Herzberg, city editor of the Herald Tribune. Herzberg had written a part of and edited a new book called "Late City Edition."

In his introduction, Gailmor praised Albert Maltz, one of 10 Hollywood rewrite hands indicted for refusal to answer before the Thomas committee whether they were or ever had been members of the Communist party. He also quoted Maltz in defense of himself and the other nine as "the conscience of mankind."

Gailmor introduced Herzberg in extravagant terms. This thief and renegade of both his religious faith and the profession of journalism turned out to be an old friend of the city editor of the Herald Tribune, which professes to be a Republican paper. Gailmor called the city editor "Joe." Herzberg called him "Bill." The Herald Tribune received the doubtful compliment of recognition by Gailmor as "a great newspaper." That would lift the H-T to the level of the Daily Worker and Pravda in his estimation.

St. Mary's D C C W Will Meet

St. Mary's Parish Council of the D. C. C. W. will meet in the School Hall on Mohawk Street for their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening, June 15, at 8:00 P. M.

Super Highways Without Cost

Super-highways, four lanes wide and with traffic divided by a parkway, can be built in Ohio connecting the major population centers without cost to the taxpayers and will, in fact, make available to existing roads more money from present taxes.

That is the promise made to Ohio taxpayers by the Ohio Turnpike Committee, a group of solid businessmen of Ohio, who believe that super-highways can be built, paid for, kept in condition and finally turned over to the State of Ohio cost-free. They point to the fact that private capital built the Sandusky Bay bridge and the Pomeroy and Steubenville bridges across the Ohio River, without cost to the taxpayers of the State. These bridges were paid for from fees collected from automobiles and trucks that found it economical to use the bridges. The famous Pennsylvania Turnpike, 168 miles from Pittsburgh to Harrisburg, also was built with private capital and is paying off its bonds without any assistance from state taxes. All but one of Ohio's privately-financed bridges now belong to the public road system and are used without charge.

The Ohio Turnpike Committee, in January, 1949, will ask the Legislature for permission to build self-supporting super-highways. The Legislation does not involve the State in any way in the bond issue. State supervision of the roads will be provided for in the Legislation. And when the roads have paid off their bonded debt, they will belong to the State without cost.

Ernest M. Green, Cleveland contractor, president of the Ohio Turnpike Committee, said in Columbus: "Ohio needs super-highways between large cities to carry swiftly and safely, the great volume of traffic, both human and freight. To build these roads with tax money, we would have to increase the gasoline tax from its present four cents per gallon to seven or eight cents per gallon. Unless we build roads to be paid for by the people who use them, we will have to raise gasoline taxes or local taxes."

South Side Eagles

South Side Aerie of Eagles will be host to the Aeries of District 13, Fraternal Order of Eagles to the Aerie home, 1167 Parsons Ave. at 2 P. M. Sunday for the regular monthly meeting and initiation, Pearl Stump, worthy president of the host Aerie, announced.

A report on the condition of the Aeries in the district will be given by Richard Wolf, of Columbus, district director. W. Stewart, of Columbus, representing the Tri-State Organization Department, will be the principal speaker.

Roy King, third ward Republican Committeeman, got a huge vote from the South Side in the recent write-in campaign for Clerk of Courts.

Dolores Kolterman To Marry Soon

Mr and Mrs. Ernest I. Kolterman, 3135 Johnstown Road, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Dolores Jean, to Mr. Robert Carol Fulton son of Mr. and Mrs. M H Fulton, 695 Hampton Road, formerly of Gahanna.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Gahanna Lincoln High School and is associated with the accounting department of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

Mr Fulton is a graduate of Gahanna Lincoln High School and is associated with the Gulf Refining Co.

The open church wedding will take place at 7 P. M. June 12 in Gates Fourth Methodist Church with Rev. Harry Zieser officiating.

Miss Calvert And Mr. Arnold To Wed

Saturday June 19 is the date chosen by Miss Marjorie Belle Calvert, daughter of Mrs. Harry E. Calvert, 1456 Hambleton, and the late Mr. Calvert, for her marriage to Philip Dale Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Arnold, 440 Thurman-av.

The open church wedding ceremony will be performed at the Indianola Methodist Church at 7:30 o'clock with Dr. George S. Lackland officiating. Preceding the ceremony there will be a half hour of music presented by Miss Gertrude Schneider at the organ, with the bride-elect's uncle, Eugene H. Gildersleeve, as soloist.

Miss Calvert has asked her sister, Mrs. Frank P. Smith, Jr., to attend her as matron of honor. Bride-matrons will be Mrs. Lawrence Surrell, Mrs Harry Fisher, also sisters of the bride-elect, Mrs. Rose Calvert, sister-in-law of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Richard Arnold, sister-in-law of the prospective groom.

Immediately following the ceremony, there will be a reception at the church for 175 guests. Assisting as hostesses will be Miss Bernice Westlake, Miss Annabelle Smith, Mrs. James Brown, and Mrs. John Adams.

On May 10, the bride-elect was honored by her associates of Crane Co. with a surprise shower at the home of Mrs. Henry Szelkowic, 671 N. Nelson Road, who was assisted by Miss Bernice Westlake, Miss Annabella Smith and Mrs. Zora Durham.

Wing 23 of which Miss Calvert is a member, honored her with a miscellaneous shower June 1, at the home of Mrs. Richard Arnold, 1558 E. Rich-st. Mrs. James Brown, 59 Wilson-av., will be hostess at another miscellaneous shower on June 11.

On June 5, the couple will be guests of honor at a party to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Surrell, 520 Woodbury-av.

Community Vacation Church School

Community Vacation Church School at the Ohio Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church, corner S. Ohio and Stanley Aves. (Just north of Whittier) June 14 through 25 daily, Monday through Friday 9 until 12 A. M.

Two churches of the community, Wagner Memorial and Ohio Avenue EUB are cooperating with this school. All children are asked to enroll this week at the Ohio Avenue Church. Ages 4 through 14 are welcomed to this school. A fine staff of trained teachers from both churches are cooperating. No charge but free will offering from each child. This is an opportunity for parents to let their children have Christian training daily as in public school.

Rev. H. W. Buckley, pastor of Ohio Avenue Church, is the Dean of the School, and Rev. Arthur Dühl, pastor at Wagner Memorial Church, is the treasurer. All children in the community are invited.

The closing session of the school will be held on Sunday evening, June 27, at the Wagner Memorial Church.

Scarlet Starlet

LOS ANGELES, CAL.—"Unaccustomed as I am . . ." this scarlet garibaldi fish seems to say as he investigates a hydrophone (water version of a microphone) that has been lowered into his underwater world. The hydrophone records a clicking sound made by the garibaldi, to disprove the old scientific theory that there is no sound in the "silent deep."

Other fish that whistle, cackle, laugh and even click their lower plates — at least it sounds that way — are co-starred with the garibaldi in a new colored film produced here by a branch of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. It is the result of months of scientific research and work with delicate recording instruments.

Directed by scientist Irwin A. Moon, the film is soon to be released to schools and churches under the title "Voice of the Deep." It's a new wrinkle in combining science and religion!

News In The World Of Religion

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harris, of Gainesville, Florida, graduates of Florida A. and M. College, have been named by the Methodist Church as its first negro missionaries to China. They will engage in rural agricultural work in China, being especially prepared for that service, and now being students of the Chinese language at Yale University. Mr. Harris has had some years of experience as a county school supervisor in Florida. They will sail for their new assignment in August. The Methodist Church has long had Negro missionaries serving in Africa.

According to the Catholic Interracial Council, there are 500 Catholic priests and 1600 sisters engaged in the Church's missionary service to American Negroes. The Council estimates that there are 330,000 Negro Catholics in various parts of the United States, mostly in the cities; that there are 350 Negro Catholic churches, and that 274 Catholic schools enroll 50,000 Negro children. The Roman Catholic Church also serves the race through hospitals, clinics and social welfare centers. Within recent years the Church has extended its service to many Negro groups in isolated and neglected rural centers.

Calls for Bibles, New Testaments and scripture portions recently reaching the American Bible Society from all parts of the world, and which it hopes to fill during 1948, total almost 8,000,000 books. The cost of materials and printing will be more than $2,000,000. The largest call is for 1,850,000 books for Germany. Japan calls for 1,635,000; Russia 1,712,000; Bulgaria, 250,000, Korea 100,000; Indonesia 280,000; Greece 200,000; India 175,000; Serbia 130,000; France 110,000; Philippines 104,000; and lesser numbers of books to Hungary, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Ukraine.

Five thousand youth, representing many denominations and every state of the Union, will gather at Grand Rapids, Mich., from August 31 to September 5, for the Christian Youth Conference of North America, sponsored by the International Council of Religious Education, Chicago, Ill. The Rev. Dennis Savage is conference director. Among the featured speakers of the conference will be Gov. Luther Youngdahl of Minnesota, and Dean Walter C. Muelder of the Boston University School of Theology. On addition to platform speakers there will be classes, pageants, fellowship hours, recreation, worship periods and workshops. There will be a choir of 300 trained voices.

The five presidents of the World Council of Churches, the American being Dr. John R. Mott, Methodist layman have written to His Beatitudes Timotheos, Patriarch of Jerusalem, their concern and their prayer for the welfare of the Holy Land and its people of all religions. They say in part: "We desire that Christian people throughout the world shall continue in prayer for the peace of the Holy Land, and especially for their fellow Christians. We desire that the land of our Lord's earthly ministry shall be a land where men can live in peace and quietness and where the status of the holy places shall be secured and access to them freely maintained. We desire to see the human rights and liberties of all men in Palestine guaranteed and fully embodied in whatever settlement or provisions are eventually effected, and especially the right to worship God according to conscience, and to teach and preach the faith in which they believe. . . The political settlement of this matter rests with the United Nations. The attitude of Christian people to that organization may be deeply affected by the action resolved upon."

In the war-torn cities and towns of most of Europe and of much of Asia, the libraries of schools, seminaries, hospitals, churches and of individual Christian workers have been practically stripped of books. Some were destroyed by fire, some were stolen, some were deliberately demolished. Returning students, and pastors, and Christian trainees and leaders are seeking a wide range of books: Bibles and Bible commentaries, school and college textbooks, volumes on theology, literature, history and science, and such standard magazines as the National Geographic, Harper's, Readers Digest, educational and theological and scientific reviews, etc. Most of the leaders and many students read English. Almost all foreign mission boards are seeking books and magazines and will ship them overseas to their people. Especial pleas have been made by Dr. Jesse R. Wilson, 152 Madison Avenue, New York, Baptist mission leader; and Dr. Ralph E. Diffendorfer, 150 Fifth Avenue, New York, Methodist mission leader.

"No Hayfever For Robbie . . ."

Get 'em while they're young, like this tiny weed expert, did, who helped his Pop spray Weed-No-More on a young ragweed plant and then admired his deadly handiwork a week later. Hayfever sufferers should spray this noxious weed with 2,4-D now before the unwelcome "sumner-spoiler" has a chance to spread its irritating pollen.

South Methodist Honors Minister

On Friday evening, June 11, at 7:30 p. m. the Fellowship Committee will honor their minister, the Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Clutter with a reception. All members and their friends of the community are cordially invited.

Mr. H. M. Brockman is chairman of the committee.

REEB CALENDAR

Thursday and Friday, June 10 and 11—No School. Reorganization Days.

Friday, June 11—Close of Semester and beginning of Summer vacation.

—R—

John Cooper and I went to the boat races on Scioto Lakes on Frank Road on Monday afternoon. All the boats got in a line. A man shot the gun as a signal for the boats to start. There were about ten boats of all different colors. The red boat started off in the lead and the blue boat almost caught up with it. The red boat almost turned over but it still won the race. —Ronald Wilkey, 4A

Reeb added a little fun to its regular schedule last Friday, June 4th, by having a "Hair Ribbon and Bow Tie Day." Each room selected the children having the prettiest hair ribbons, funniest hair ribbons, prettiest bow ties, and funniest bow tie. These children were then placed in competition with others in their own group of rooms. Mr. Myron Lewis of the South Side Settlement House acted as judge. The following pupils received a 10 cent thrift stamp as a prize: Prettiest hair ribbons—Carol Curtis 1B, Sarah Carter 3A, and June Early 6A; Funniest hair ribbons—Alice Robinette 2C, Virginia Christian 4B and Rosemary Everhart 6A; Prettiest bow tie—Charles Moore 1A, Karl Naumoff 3A, and Phillip Matheny 4A; Funniest bow tie—Jtrry Reed 2C, David Casto 4B, and Carol Fellure 6A.

Reeb's spring marble tournament was ended last Friday when John Hook, defending the 6th grade championship, played Raymond Harper, who held the 5th grade honor. In the best three out of five games, Raymond won the school championship by a score of 3 to 1 in games. This tournament included every 5th and 6th grade boy, at the beginning, and through the regular tournament procedure, we have many mighty interesting exhibits of good skill on the part of the players and good sportsmanship on the part of the spectators

Ohio Pupil Reading Diplomas—149 pupils received diplomas indicating that they have completed four years of extra reading as selected by the Ohio Teachers and Pupils Reading Circle Board of Control.

Ohio Pupil Reading Seals—22 pupils received 5th grade seals and 17 pupils received their 5th grade seals, indicating that they have continued their extra reading for these grades.

Ohio Pupil Reading Certificates—33 pupils received certificates indicating that they have completed a single year's extra reading. In order to comply with these state requirements, each pupil must read at least three books from the list adopted for the entire state. Inasmuch as reading is the basic subject of such a large part of our work, both in school and in later life, we believe firmly that encouragement of this supplementary reading program is one that should be included in the schedule of every school. Our state office is located at 1456 N. High. Both parents and children are urged to visit this office and see the unusual display of the very best in children's literature.

School Spelling Champion—Charles Harbour of our 6A grade received the official "Columbus Citizen" certificate recognizing him as the winner of the Spelling Competition held in April.

Ohio Ave. Church Recent Wedding Scene

Before a candlelit altar decorated with white snapdragons and ferns in the Ohio Av Evangelical United Brithren Church, Miss Mary Faye Bobb, daughter of Mr. Isaac W. Bobb, 77 Kingston Av., Grove City, became the bride of Mr. William Richard Groezinger, son of Mr. and Mr Charles Groezinger, 427 Deshler Av. The double ring ceremony took place on April 10 at 7 p. m.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her brother, Mr. Genn Bobb. Her dress was of lustrous white satin with a sweetheart yoke edged in white satin. The full skirt was shirred at two points in front to reveal a ruffled hoopskirt of white marquisette. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Eva Painter, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Alma Bobb and Miss Thelma Gregg. The attendants wore identical gowns of pink taffeta fashioned silimar to the bride's. They carried colonial bouquets of pink shattered carnations and blue forget-me-nots. Little Miss Judy Tilton and Master Donald Tilton niece and nephew of the bride-groom, served as flower girl and ring bearer.

Mr. Lewis Stauch served as best man and the ushers were Richard Painter, Warren Groezinger and Earnest Ganz.

They will make their home at 928 W. Town St.

Married At St. Leo's Church

bra formed the setting for the Bright carnations, sweet peas ferns and seven branch candelawedding of Miss Marquerite Merritt and Mr. John Colcara, son of Mr. Benny Colcara, 1243 N. High St. The Rev. Fr. Schmitt read the 8 a. m. nuptial Mass May 10 in St. Leo's Church

The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Marie Merritt, 1167 Wager St., was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Ervin Merritt. She chose for her wedding a gown of goddess lace over white satin designed with a sweetheart neckine and long sleeves. The bodice of the gown was fitted and the skirt of the dress fell into a long train Her fingertip veil fell from a small pearl crown and she carried a white prayer book topped with white roses.

The matron of honor was Mrs Herman Franz, sister of the bride, in a gown of pink ribbed taffeta with a long flared skirt, capped sleeves and a form fitting V-neckline bodice. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. Miss Edna Holland was the bridesmaid in a gown of blue taffeta fashioned similarly to the honor attendant and she carried a bouquet of pink and blue carnations. Miss Rosa Marie Franz, niece of the bride, was flower girl in a frock of yellow sheer organdy with puffed sleeves and an oval neckline and she carried a basket of rose petals.

Mr. Thomas LaCorte was best man for his cousin and ushers were Mr. Herman Franz, and Mr. Anthony Melaragno.

A breakfast was held at the Virginia Hotel following the service. The couple are residing at 1167 Wager St.

R. A. Stephens To Wed June 11

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stephens announce the engagement of their daughter, Nona Ruth, to Mr. Herbert G. Brown, son of Mrs. Carrie Brown, and Mr. Percy Brown, 929 Chittenden Avenue.

The marriage will be performed at 7 p. m. June 11 at the [illegible] E. Kirk officiating.

A reception will be held at the [illegible] following the ceremony.

Southwood Again In Tennis League

Southwood will again be represented in the Columbus Tennis League, with activity getting under way June 13 and continuing through August. Homer Young and Robley Kolb will serve as co-captains for the Lids season. Bob Rinehart is chairman of league play with Young and Walter Rau assisting on the committee.

The Southwood players, who under adverse playing conditions last year, and without adequate court, will this year have the advantage of their own courts for the first time in years. Both Young and Kolb hope to attract more junior players with this added incentive.

Other teams entered are: Westgate, Olentangy Village Recreation Park, Bexley, Upper Arlington, Columbus Tennis Club and Grandview. Last year, the first in league play for 10 years, found University's star-laden team winning the title hunting. This team was composed of the 1947 Ohio state varsity, including Arnie Leverstein, Tom Mitchell, Gordy Conklin among others. This year there will be nine single matches and two doubles in all team play.

The 1947 season brought out stars of the past, present and future. Those active during the season's play were Kelly Macco Hall, Bill Campbell, Dick Paugh, Wallie Becker, Norm Wagner, Carl Purtz, O. J. Williamson, Bob Rinehart, Walter Rau, Bill Shrader, Dick Singer, George Phillips, Chuck Thackera, Leverstein, Mitchell, Conklin, Eddie Jones, Count Atherton, Howie Kempton, Eddie Farmer, Bill Mackey and Ben Hadley, to name a few. Over 50 players took part in league matches, and that number should be exceeded this year greatly.

League schedules, playing times and locations will be released later this week.

IDEAL THEATER

The Ideal presents Sunday and Monday "Keep 'Em Laughing" with Jack Benny, Patsy Kelly and Sid Silvers. A clever comedy that will do just as the title says. Jack Benny with his quick wit, Kelly with her funny patter and Sid Silver, a real comedian will keep you in stitches throughout. Also "Song of the Drifter" with Jimmy Wakely; also "Cinderella's Feller" in technicolor with Scotty Becket. A Cartoon competes this extraordinary billing.

CLUB ALEXANDER

This week at Club Alexander you have the great sensational Don Rolando, emcee and Roller Skate Dancer, one of the greatest skaters in show business. A sister, tap, acrobatic, exotic and Hawaiian Team. Thrill upon thrill, surprise upon surprise, dramatic and exciting. An all new band takes the place at this gay night spot this week. Along with this every Monday night is the square dancing as well as round dancing. Have an evening of fun, visit Alexander Nite Club.

Army Band Fourth Concert

The celebrated 90-piece Army Ground Forces Band and Glee Club from Washington, D. C., under the sponsorship of the Columbus Army Advisory Committee, will present a concert in Memorial Hall, Wednesday evening, June 16, 1948, at 8 o'clock.

This appearance for the people of Columbus and central Ohio will mark the fourth concert presented in this area by the Army Ground Forces Band, under the direction of Captain Chester E. Whiting. In November, 1946, the band played before a capacity audience in Memorial Hall. In 1947, record crowds attended both the twilight concert on the campus of Ohio State University and a special appearance of the band during the closing of historical Fort Hayes.

The forthcoming concert to be presented in Memorial Hall on June 16, is open to the public, free of charge. All seats are reserved, and tickets may be obtained at any of the following locations:

Summers and Son Music Mart, 114 East Broad St., Columbus, Ohio; US Army & AF Recruiting Station, Room 102, Old Post Office Bldg., Columbus; Public Information Office, Bldg. 110, Fort Hayes, Columbus, Ohio.

The Parsons Theater

The Parsons Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Sitting Pretty" with Robert Young and Maureen O'Hara. This picture is something new and offers something different for everyone.

There may have been funnier pictures in the past, if so this reviewer did not see them. Some of the incidents must have happened to every suburban family in America since baby sitters became common. It's a comedy of situations, with the local gossips as the menace. Robert Young is Papa and Maureen O'Hara is the Mama, but they learn about kids from Clinton Webb, the male baby sitter, who knows his stuff. Also "Campus Sleuth" with Freddie Stewart and June Preisser. Selected short subjects.

RUSSELL THEATRE

The Russell presents Sunday and Monday "Cary and the Bishop's Wife" with Cary Grant and Loretta Young. A fantasy comedy drama, wholly delightful. It is something different, a simple charming film that takes the beholder into an intimate family circle. A picture that the whole family can see and be glad they are in the theater. Comedy touches tinged with satire abound in the story of a young bishop whose ambition is to erect a cathedral and of a young wife whose principal aim in life is to regain his love. Across the diverging paths of these two there comes an "angel" in the person of Cary Grant with his matter of fact, nonchalant charm. Also "The Case of the Baby Sitter" with Tom Neal and Pamela Blake. Also a "Cartoon" and News Reel.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Naked City" with Barry Fitzgerald and Dorothy Hart. Filmed almost entirely on location in New York, this is the story of two homicide detectives who are trying to solve the murder of a young woman. They come across the trail of a small ring of jewel thieves that preyed on New York society, and in which a prominent physician is involved. Trapped by police, the murderer dies a violent death; the two homicide detectives check back to headquarters for assignment to another routine case; Also "The Last Roundup" with Gene Autry.

Junior Theater At Schiller Park

Jackie Ann McCoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McCoy, 611 Hess Road, will be featured in a song and dance revue at Schiller Park auditorium Friday, June 11, at 8:00 P. M. Sponsored by the City Recreation Dept. Other children participating are:

Judeann Waller, Caroline Carpenter, Shirley Evans, Kathleen Zaudis, Mary Jo Speth, Ruby Hamm, Geraldine Fields, Carol Ann Hughes, Betty Sue Edwards, Rebecca Plunkett, Sandra Derr, Marilyn Haley, Catherine Pinkerton, Nancy Winton, Judy Thompson, Connie Cross, Marilyn Goen, Judy Winton, Milton Blake, Delena Morena, Arline La Macchia, Shirley Haas.

Miss McCoy is a student at the Columbus Junior Theatre.

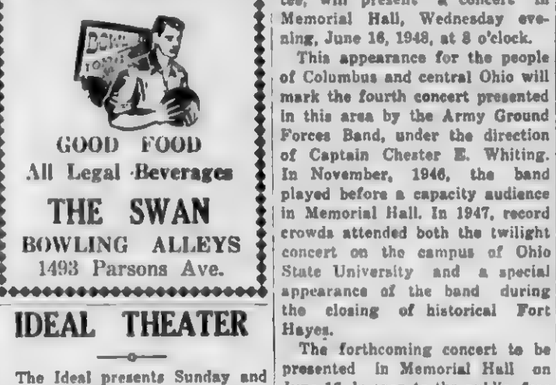
Teen Towners Summer Program

The Teen-Age Department of the YMCA invites all Junior High girls to participate in Teen Towners, its summer program beginning June 22 and continuing through July 27. The activities are also open to 6A girls who will enter Junior High in the fall.

On Tuesdays the activities will be held at the YMCA, 65 South 4th St., and will include swimming, dramatics, games, singing, and handcrafts from 11 a. m. and 4 p. m. There will be an indoor picnic in the Coral Reef and each girl is asked to bring a "sack" lunch.

On Thursdays there will be trips and outings including such interesting events as a cook-out and hike at Northmoor Park, a tour of Goodwill Industries and Moores and Ross Dairy, a River Road picnic-hike, a cook-out and treasure hunt at Glen Echo Park, and an overnight trip to Camp Wildwood near Westerville.



Registration is limited to 50 girls and should be completed by Saturday noon, June 12. Girls may register for either Tuesday or Thursday activities or both.

For further information and registration call Jean Casey, AD-9121.

An irate lady, seeking a divorce in court, told the judge, "My husband is an out-and-out loafer who thinks of nothing day and night but horse racing. He doesn't even remember our wedding day."

"Naked City" Showing At Southland Theater
"HE WENT THAT WAY, MISTER!" Detective Muldoon (Barry Fitzgerald) gives directions from the squad car as young Lt. Halloran (Don Taylor) poises for the chase, with gun in hand, of a murderer.
The scene is from the late Mark Hellinger's powerful thriller, "The Naked City", opening Sunday at the Southland Theatre.
Howard Duff, better known to radio fans as Sam Spade, shares honors with Fitzgerald and Taylor in this tense new action drama, filmed on the sidewalks of New York. It's candid realism at its best!

Epidemic Of Improper Tire Inflation

The existence of a nation-wide "epidemic" of improper tire inflation has been revealed by recent surveys, according to P. J. Cleary, manager of the B. F. Goodrich Store located at 1952 Parsons Ave.

Improper tire inflation, Manager Cleary declared, is costing car owners millions of dollars through premature tire failures. The B. F. Goodrich representative announced that he is launching a special "informational" program to help remedy the situation.

Manager Cleary said he has erected a "Correct Inflation Pressure" chart at his store so that motorists can tell at a glance how much air they should be carrying in their tires. The chart was prepared by the Rubber Manufacturers' Association and gives correct inflation pressures for some 300 models of 25 different makes of cars.

It is only by following these recommended pressures, he stated, that motorists can get maximum mileage out of their tires. Over-inflation gives a hard ride, makes the tire carcass unduly susceptible to bruises and breaks, and causes rapid tread wear in the center of the tread, he pointed out. Underinflation, he added, increases the chances of blowouts and causes rapid and irregular tread wear at the shoulders of the tire. Pd. Adv.

Hungarian Picnic At Camp Darby

Mr. Louis R. Miller, president of the Hungarian Reformed Federation of America, Columbus Branch No. 69, announces that this local chapter is preparing for a gala Hungarian Picnic to be held at Camp Darby on the afternoon and evening of Sunday, June 13th, 1948.

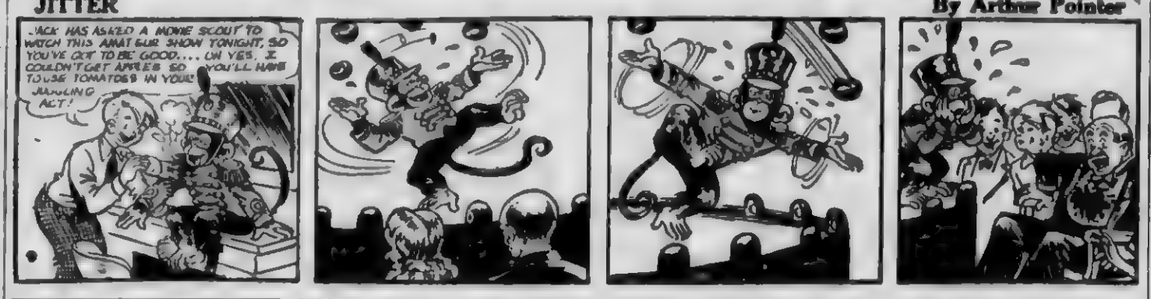
The Dance Committee has succeeded in securing the services of the world-famous Brenkas-Vajda Gypsy Orchestra. Mr. Brenkacs is a true Magyar gypsy who was well-known in musical circles of Hungarian and central Europe in general. His fame continued to grow after coming to these United States. He acquired a great name for himself and as such was one of the outstanding orchestra leaders at the Chicago World Fair and the Cleveland Great Lakes Exposition.

Other members of the picnic committee include Mr. Andy Fuleki, Mr. Charles Toth, Mr. Alex Kristoff, Mr. John Hunyadi, Mrs. Sophia Gaal Olah, Mrs. Carrie B. Szekely and Mr. John Nagy, Sr.

The public is cordially invited. (Camp Darby Park is located at the end of S. Parsons Ave.)

Martha Justus Wedding Planned

Mr. Albert M. Justus, 990 Studer Av., is announcing the engagement of his daughter, Martha Louise, to Mr. John Michael Hanley, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hanley, 494 Kelton Av.



The marriage will be an event of June 19 at Holy Rosary Church at 10:30 a. m.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Holy Rosary High School and is employed by Dallings and Stevenson, attorneys.

Mr. Hanley, also a graduate of Rosary High, is a student at Ohio State University.

Mary Rau To Wed In September

Mr. and Mrs. William John Rau, 1583 S. 4th St., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to William Howard Walpole, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mohr, 256 E. Markison Av.

The bride-elect is a graduate of South High School and is employed at Miller Foundry Co. Mr. Walpole, also a graduate of South High School, and formerly a student of Ohio State University, is now employed at Dick's Grind Shop.

The open church wedding will be an event of 7:30 p. m. September 11, at Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

Miss Merrill Mr. Whatley Wed May 29

Miss Harriett Louise Merrill, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Merrill, 249 E. Whittier-st., exchanged wedding vows May 29 with Frederick Whatley, Dayton, Ohio, in St. John's Evangelical Church. The Rev. A. E. Klick officiated at the 2:30 p. m. ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white moire taffeta styled with an off-shoulder bertha trimmed with imported Chantilly lace and full skirt terminating in a long train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of matching Chantilly lace, and she carried white roses, stephanotis and larkspur. Her pearls were a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. J. E. Van DeWater was her sister's matron of honor, wearing a blue taffeta gown, while Miss Joyce Heath, West Jefferson, was bridesmaid wearing pink taffeta. Their dresses were styled alike with shirred berthas and full skirts over crinoline petticoats.

William Whatley was best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mrs. William Whatley and the late Mr. Whatley of Dayton. Seating the wedding guests were Ralph Bicknell, John Hettel, James Merrill and Willis Merrill.

FOR BRIDAL PARTY

A heart shaped mold outlined with lady fingers and filled with a creamy gelatin dessert.

By BETTY NEWTON

This delightful dessert made in a heart-shaped mold will make an effective centerpiece for a bridal shower—or for any party that you may give for the bride and groom-to-be.

Macaroon Pudding

2 Tbsp. plain gelatin
½ C. cold water
2 C. scalded milk
5 egg yolks
½ C. sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
¼ tsp. salt
5 egg whites
1 dozen lady fingers
8 macaroons

Soak gelatin in ½ C. cold water. Scald milk in top of double boiler. Add slowly to egg yolks and sugar which have been beaten together. Return to double boiler and cook over hot water about 2 minutes or until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Add soaked gelatin and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add salt and allow mixture to cool. Fold in vanilla, stiffly beaten egg whites and crushed macaroons. Pour into a heart shaped mold or spring form which has been lined with halved lady fingers. Chill and serve very cold with whipped cream.

Hungarian Cookies

1½ C. shortening
1 C. sugar
½ tsp. almond flavoring
2 eggs
3½ C. flour
4 Tbsp. sugar
1 Tbsp. grated orange rind

Cream shortening, add sugar and flavoring gradually and then the eggs one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Add flour gradually and mix until smooth. This may be put through a cookie press or placed on a greased baking sheet in small balls and flattened with a fork. Sprinkle the top with sugar and orange rind and bake at 375 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 100.

Honey Macaroons

½ C. strained honey
1 egg white
2 C. cornflakes
1 C. shredded cocoanut
½ C. chopped nuts

Put egg white in bowl and beat with a rotary beater. Gradually add honey and continue beating until light and fluffy. Fold in cereal, cocoanut, and nuts. Drop by spoonfuls onto a greased baking sheet. Bake at 375 degrees for about 12 minutes. Cool before taking off sheet. Makes about 3 dozen.

The young reporter was told to cut his story to the bare essentials. So his next one come out this way:

"J. Smith looked up the elevator shaft to see if the car was on its way down. It was. Age 45.

Family Night At Thurman

The "Family Night" of the WSCS of the Thurman Avenue Methodist Church will be held at the church on Thursday, June 17, at 8:00 p. m.

Mrs. Orland Sells is program chairman, and has arranged a nice evening of entertainment. A play will be given by the young people of the church.

The business meeting will be conducted by Miss Jennie Harmon and Miss Virginia Barch will have charge of the devotions.

The members of Circle I, with Mrs. Gertrude Conkle as chairman, will be the hostess.

All members and their friends are invited.

Marine Awards Available

Columbus, Ohio, June 17—Area campaign medals are now available for issue to Marine veterans at the Marine Reserve Training Center, Building 72, Fort Hayes.

Those eligible are former Marines who served in the American Area from Dec. 7, 1941 to March 2, 1946; European-African-Middle Eastern Area from Dec. 7, 1941 to Nov. 8, 1945 or in the Asiatic-Pacific Area from Dec. 7, 1941 to March 2, 1946.

Veterans will be required to present a copy of their discharge certificate at the Reserve Training Center when applying for their medals. Discharge must have been under honorable conditions.

Posthumous awards of all medals will be made by the Commandant of the Marine Corps.

The Navy Occupation Service Medal will not be distributed at this time.

Plenty Of Jobs For The Summer

Already over 100 University, College and High School students have been given the opportunity of earning money for the summer in jobs secured through the Columbus Ohio State Employment Service, 435 Cleveland Ave.

The local OSES, a division of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation so far has filled stock and shipping clerk jobs in manufacturing, wholesale and retail establishments—posts for typists—openings in nurseries, factories, bakeries, groceries, service stations, summer camps and offices. In addition, car hops, waitresses, chauffeurs, truck drivers, car washers, fountain help and cooks have been supplied to meet summer needs.

Earle C. Duncan, Manager of the Cleveland Avenue office, reports that a wealth of capable and alert young men and women are still available for summer work. Employers who can use any of these young people during the vacation season are urged to phone the Employment Service.

Property Owners To Meet

The Property Owners Association of Franklin County will meet Friday night at the Neil House at 8 P. M. This will be the last meeting for the summer, until Sept. 8, when we will convene again.

Jitney Supper

Townsend Club No. 30 is having a jitney supper Monday evening, June 21, at the Gates-Fourth M. E. Church.

Report from National Convention will be given. The public is invited.

Luncheon At Schiller Park

Ladies Aid Society of South Congregational Church will hold a covered dish luncheon at the Schiller Park Shelter House, at 12 P. M. Thursday, June 24.

All members are urged to attend.

Mention the Booster To Your Merchant

The smooth, flowing lines of the 1949 Ford passenger cars are accented by the simplicity of the air-scoop grille. Fresh air for the pressurized ventilation system also enters through the grille.

Potter Gager Displays New Ford

"There's a NEW Ford in your future"—and this car will be shown for the first time on Friday, June 18, when The Potter-Gager Co., joins the 6500 other Ford dealers in a coast-to-coast public showing.

The introduction of the '49 Ford is one of the biggest new-model automobile presentations in the industry's history, with the world premiere having taken place June 10 in New York's Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. The local presentation will be centered on a series of open houses on Friday and Saturday, June 18 and 19.

Mr. John Gager of The Potter-Gager Co., 888 Parsons Ave. is extending a personal invitation to all residents of this community to visit the showroom and see the '49 Ford's new engineering and body features, and to join in the welcome to the car of the year at the FORD 49ER CARAVAN show.

The CARAVAN, keyed to the pioneering 49er spirit, is touring Columbus in connection with the launching of the '49 Ford. It will appear at The Potter-Gager Co., on Saturday, June 19, 7 p. m. and will feature Irwin Johnson whose WBNS "Earlyworm" program is known to thousands of radio listeners; the salty humor and lively chatter of Sally Flowers and Russ Canter, both heard on the Sally's Sittin' Room" show; the songs of the Buzz Saws Barbershop Quartet, and music by Dick Heine and the WBNS staff orchestra.

All of these popular personalities will be seen in a gala show to be presented from a portable stage decorated in a manner reminiscent of the Golden West.

The 49er theme was chosen for the CARAVAN to reflect the pioneering spirit of Ford in the styling of the new cars. The change over is the most drastic since the Model T, with its many early day features, was discarded in 1927.

Although the actual styling is still a secret, the '49 Ford includes such features as picture windows all around, giving more than 20 square feet of "see ability"; wider front and rear seats with the latter being 60 inches; increased space in the "deep deck" luggage locker, 57 percent larger; new hydro-coil front springs; a "mid ship" ride, and new magic action; king size brakes, 25 percent easier to apply, and lower overall silhouette and roomier interiors: Inside, outside, from end to end, the '49 Ford is completely new in styling, design and engineering.

S. S. Settlement Celebrate Links

Links of South Side Settlement will celebrate its 10th anniversary at the annual luncheon meeting Friday at 12:30 p. m. at the Southern Hotel. Mrs. F. W. Dickinson, 445 N. Parkview Av., general chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. W. F. Searle, Mrs. Robert Creamer, Mrs. Ruby Rogers, Mrs. John Glazier, Mrs. Hal Dickinson, Mrs. Lee Gamble, Mrs. Ralph Howell, Mrs. Norman Gloyd, Mrs. Harry Dersch and Mrs. John Maguire.

Mrs. W. S. M. Holloway, organizer and first president of the Links, will share honors with three newly elected members of the executive board: Mrs. Byron Ford, Mrs. Walter English and Mrs. W. P. Smith.

Women Of Moose To Meet

Mrs. Mary Egold will be hostess to the Women of the Moose Chapter 206 when it will hold its meeting Sunday afternoon, June 20, at 2 p. m. at the Moose Home, 36 W. Sycamore St.

Mrs. Mary Egold, 422 South Warren Ave., membership chairman, will hold her chapter program. Mr. Jim Robey, past governor of Lodge No. 11, will be guest speaker.

At this meeting there will be installation of officers; also initiation of candidates.

Let's Have Your Suggestion

Wanted a name. Yes, the Council of South Side wants a name for the new park on Greenlawn Ave., which is to be dedicated about the 20th of July, and wants the public to suggest an appropriate name for this new park and playground.

There has already been established ball diamonds and lights for games at night. Other improvements will be made as fast as possible.

We believe that this park should be named in some way to include the men of the South Side who saw service in the recent war.

Suggestions may be sent to the Council of South Side Organizations, 864 S. Third St. or to the South Side Booster, 1542 Parsons Avenue.

Let's have your suggestions. It may be the right one.

Geo. Says Keep Cool

George Rappold of the Ideal Theater says: "Hot weather is on the way. This is just to remind you that you can always find relief from the heat in this theatre.

A good show takes your mind off your troubles. Our cooling system ends physical discomfort."

Workers Singing Society Picnic

Workers Singing Society, 425 Kossuth St., will hold a picnic at Catalpa Park Sunday, June 27, afternoon and evening, rain or shine. They will have good food. Refreshments and lots of fun for everyone including the kiddies.

Fritz Seanger and his orchestra will furnish the music. Dancing will be free. The public is invited.

Trample Garden

A garden as well as an industrial plant was destroyed during the three-alarm fire at the M. Hertenstein & Co. Friday afternoon.

Spectators trampled and ruined the garden plot of King Smith, 1439 S. High St., who during the dry spell carried water to the plot in Neff Av. to nurse along his young tomato and onion plants and corn.

Mr. Smith, who is confined to the house from a broken leg he received sometime ago when a hit skip driver hit him at Southwood and S. High St., was unable to keep people out of his garden due to his condition.

Scout News

On the evening of June 8, 1948 Troop No. 90 of Heyl Avenue School held their Fly Up ceremony at the Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints, located at Reinhard and Twenty-Second Sts.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Joseph Koterba of 947 Heyl Avenue, who is chairman of the Mother's Neighborhood Organization.

The girls flying up were as follows: Nancy Copeland, Beverly Grinstead, Sandra Moore, Darlene Schick, Heather Schreffler, Judy Shirey, Martha Teeters, Nancy Whitmer, Nancy Davis, Gloria King.

The last two girls are from Troop No. 188. These girls received their wings and Girl Scout pins at this ceremony.

The girls remaining Brownies are as follows: Carolyn Beards, Ann Eyster, Augusta Sherard, Grace Louise Tinklepaugh, Diane Peart, Donna Wood. They received pennants for a year in Brownie Scouting.

Mrs. Robert Schreffler of 903 E. Whittier who was leader of Troop No. 90 will take over new Troop No. 76 of Intermediate Scouts. Mrs. Robert Tinklepaugh of 889 E. Whittier will take the leadership of Troop No. 90.

Mrs. Marland Lewis of 471 E. Gates St., and Mrs. Fred Benditti of 465 E. Gates St., took part in the ceremony with their girls from Troop No. 188.

After the investure ceremony the girls served their parents cup cakes and tea.

Rummage Sale

Gold Star Mothers, Chapter 1, will hold a rummage sale Thursday, June 24, at 901 Mt. Vernon Avenue. Anyone wishing to donate used clothing or other articles will please call the chairman, Mrs. Roy Young, 765 Deshler Ave., GA 2729, or co-chairman, Mrs. William Erler, 1234 22nd Ave., WA 4986.

Proceeds of this sale will be used for rehabilitation work among veterans at McConnelsville TB Sanitorium and Chillicothe Hospital.

Nancy Snapp To Attend Girls State

Miss Nancy Lee Snapp, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Herbert L. Snapp of 2206 Woodward Ave. is being sponsored by Southway Post Auxiliary No. 144, and the Professional Womens Club, to attend Buckeye Girls State, which will be held at Capital University, the week of June 20 to 27.

Nancy Lee, a member of the Franklin County Honor Society, has completed her junior year at Mifflin High School, where she has been a cheerleader for three years.

Nancy Lee's mother is from Virginia and most of her daughter's sixteen summers have been spent there.

Recently her family was notified of the death of a great uncle, Major Giles Buckner Cooke, Chaplain, the last departing member of the staff of General Robert E. Lee.

Her father was in active service in World War II. During that time Nancy Lee spent a most interesting year in Texas City, where she attended Danforth Elementary School, which attracted national mention in the Readers Digest "A Dotted Line of Blood" with its remarkable fire drill at the time of the Texas City disaster, which led a thousand children to safety amid the crash and terror of the unforseen catastrophe.

Nancy Lee spends her spare time dancing, swimming and playing tennis. On Saturdays and during the following summer months she works in the Credit Department at the F. & R. Lazarus Co.

Masons Honor St. John

Sunday, June 20, marks another annual observance of St. John's Day by The Farm Bureau Trowel Club. As in the past, the affair begins with a sumptuous breakfast at 7:30 A. M. at York Temple, 1276 N. High St., Columbus, Ohio.

The speaker there will be L. Todd McKinney, Deputy Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Ohio, F. &A M. He is a distinguished 33rd Degree Mason from Dayton.

Mr. William Britton, Inspector for the Second District, will be Master of Ceremonies at the Breakfast. The annual business meeting of the Club takes place at that time, including the election of officers. Masons from 13 states connected with The Ohio Farm Bureau and its affiliates will journey considerable distances to attend.

This year, since the date falls on Father's Day, a special program honors Dads and Sons. As is customary, the group adjourns in a body for Morning Worship. Reverend Claude Garrison of King Avenue Methodist Church is the host pastor this year.

The President and one of the founders, Mr. Herbert E. Neu, is in charge of arrangements. Several hundred members are expected to attend the proceedings this year, making it one of the largest gatherings this Masonic group has ever sponsored.

St. Leo's Annual Lawn Fete

At the May meeting of the St. Ladislaus Altar-Rosary Society, it was announced that the Society would have three booths at the Annual Lawn Fete Saturday, July 10.

Michael Yandrich is chairman of the Lawn Fete and Mrs. John Kustick, president of the Altar-Rosary Society, is assisting him.

All members are urged to cooperate and to donate articles for the fancy work stand and cakes toward the cake booth.

Miss Margaret Wald is chairman of the fancy work and Mrs. Julius Varga is chairman of the cake booth. Mrs. Albert Maciocce is chairman of the refreshments booth at which sandwiches, pop and ice cream will be sold.

All new parish members are asked to help in any way they can and the entire pariah is urged to get out and work and make this 1948 Lawn Fete a huge

The project is given to further work to be done at Monett House. Mrs. Roy C. Stout is President of all Monett Rays.

Sue Moore Draws Tickets

Four-year-old Caroline Sue Moore, 321 S. Warren Ave. drew the winning tickets for prizes at the City Firemen's Wives Auxiliary Meeting June 2, I. O. O. F. Hall.

Mary Keller, 88 E. Welch Ave., 1474 Fairview Ave., tablecloth 1474 Fairview Ave., tablecloth and napkins and Helen Meagher, 1331 Bruck St., $5.

Several prizes were won by members selling the most tickets.

Mrs. Charles Stewart, president, wishes to thank everyone who helped to make this drawing a success. Most of the proceeds will be used for Charity.

WE HONOR DAD

Sunday, we celebrate Father's Day. This is the day which should be a gala affair. To those whose fathers still live, a visit home and a little gift will be most appreciated.

Much has been made of Mothers sitting up with sick youngsters. Pop does that too and then works all day afterwards.

If it wasn't for good fathers to supply the needs of the home, there would be no homes.

Too often your dad is taken for granted, because he just keeps digging for the necessary things to keep the home together.

So, this Sunday, let us not forget Father's Day and all it should mean to every member of the family.

Here's to your Pop. We are sure he is a grand man—the salt of the earth.

Schiller Driveway Now Closed

Elmer Keller, City Safety Director, announced today, that the driveways in Schiller Park will be closed to automobile and motorcycle traffic.

This will leave the driveways in the park for bicycles, exclusively, thus making a safe place for the children to ride their bikes.

For some time motorcycles have been using this drive for a race track to try them out.

This has been a constant source of danger for children playing in Schiller Park.

The city administration is to be commended for this move, which was sponsored by the Council of South Side Organizations.

C O F To Honor Father Kessler

On Sunday, June 20, the Catholic Order of Foresters through its Central Chapter, with a class of over 200 new members at a joint initiation will honor The Rev. Albert V. Kessler, pastor of Corpus Christi Church. This class is to be known as Father Kessler Class.

Father Kessler, who is a charter member of Corpus Christi Court No. 1986, is an ardent worker for Catholic Forestry in Columbus and one of the best boosters of our Boy Rangers.

H. V. C. R. Al Horstman is sending the Dayton, Ohio, degree team to Columbus who will exemplify the lessons of our organization to this class all state officers are expected to attend.

The meeting and initiation ceremonies will be held in Corpus Christi School Hall and will be called to order promptly at 2 P. M. by the President of the Central Chapter Louis F. Dimel.

A buffet luncheon will be served after the meeting by a committee headed by F. Schneider, assisted by C. Rau, J. Guth L. Hoffman, R. Howard P. Callahan, F. Kauderer.

J. Lyons High Court Field Rep. will have charge of the new class.

Rev. Seay Goes To Church In Cincinnati

All members and friends of Thurman Ave. Methodist Church are cordially invited to take part in a farewell party given in honor of Rev. and Mrs. John Wesley Seay and family, Thursday night, June 17, at 8:30 p. m.

Rev. Seay has been called to a pastorate in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mary Beverage Changes Jobs

Mary Beverage, formerly a waitress at Marsell's Sandwich Shop, is now at the Ayro Restaurant, 1519 Parsons Ave.

Mary's picture is in the paper this week. Mary invites all her friends to drop in and see her and to try some of the delicious Frosty Malts which the Ayro Restaurant is now featuring.

Boys And Dad's Night

The Boys of Woodcraft of Cedar Camp No. 1, W. O. W. will give a party for boys of the age of 8 years to 16 years of age and their dads on Friday, June 18, at 8 P. M at 120 E. Willow St.

A good program and refreshments are in store for those who attend. All free. Boys who want to have good times in the future; belong to a Drum Corps, Drill Team, Ball Team and have a Lodge of their own should attend this affair and get the details.

Carroll E. Thomas Sworn Into U.S.N.

Carroll E. Thomas, Sr., USN, was sworn into the United States Navy today at the Navy Recruiting Station at the Old Post Office Building in downtown Columbus. Carroll is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Thomas of 133 East Markison Ave.

Thomas is a graduate of South High School and took an active part in football while attending school. Before enlisting in the regular Navy, Carroll was employed by the National Electric Coil Company.

Thomas gives his reason for enlisting in the Navy as a career. He expects to go into business with his father after he leaves the Navy. He will receive his recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. Upon completion of his recruit training he will attend the Naval Trade School of his choice under the Navy's "High School" graduate program.

Rummage Sale

The Needle and Thread Guild will hold a rummage sale in the basement of the Hungarian Evangelical and Reformed Church Saturday, June 19, starting at 9 a. m. Velma Finta is acting chairman of the sale.

St. Mary's Holy Name Induct Officers

The St. Mary's Holy Name has elected officers. They were inducted by Father Wilnits, spirited leader of the organization. They are as follows:

President, Herb Seifferlin; Vice President, William King; Secretary, Floyd Engel; Financial Secretary, Ray Liddy; Marshall, Charles Webb; Delegates, P. Fuller and C. Britt.

The Holy Name has a fine goal in mind. It is "Every Man A Holy Name Man." Meetings are held Tuesday nights in the St. Mary's Holy Name Clubroom in the grade school basement at 7:15 o'clock.

The Holy Name will sponsor a big Euchre Party June 17. Everyone invited. It will be held in the St. Mary's school auditorium. There will be cash prizes and door prizes. Admission is only 50 cents. Be there and be ready for a good time!

Judge McClelland To Address Chosen Parents

Judge Cloys McClelland of the Probate Court will be guest speaker at the June meeting of the CHOSEN PARENTS LEAGUE which will be held on Monday, June 21, at the Southern Hotel at 8 P. M.

This group of people vitally interested in matters of Child Welfare in this county, is composed mostly of those having adopted children. However, many with children of their own have inquired as to membership requirements of this organization. They recognize the seriousness of the child welfare situation here in the county and are eaged to help in such a worth-while undertaking. Membership in this League is NOT restricted to those having adopted children, but is extended to ALL those who wish to blend their efforts with those already functioning and working toward accord and definite steps forward in the interests of the backbone of this great country—the younger generation.

All interested persons are invited to attend this meeting to hear from this experienced Judge some of the happenings during his years at the Probate Court.

Correction in Rice's Food Market ad last week. The ad read Clarion Pork & Beans 2 No. 2 cans 35c. It should have read 2 — No. 2½ cans 35c. This was a printers error.

SPORTS

By Walt Tompkins

Sportlight by Grantland Rice

BASEBALL'S YOUTHFUL SEASON is not very old, but enough has happened to prove this will be another rough year on the pitchers.

Part of this is the half-rubber ball, and part is lack of pitching ability as compared to the stars of the past.

Running into an old-timer, now one of the leading scouts, we picked up this opinion:

"Pitching still will decide both pennants," he said, "as erratic as the pitching has been so far. The Cardinals will get the best pitching in the National league after things have settled down, and warm weather has come along.

"The Dodgers have little quality on their pitching staff, but they have a world of quantity. They have about 16 pitchers who are just about the same, and few of these can go five innings. They are the wildest bunch of throwers, not pitchers, I've ever seen. They can be, and will be, dangerous.

"I feel now the Dodgers have too much youth and speed—too many good arms and legs for the Giants and Braves. The Cardinals are the only team that might handle them—and the Cardinals will have to keep on getting the best pitching in the league.

"Red Munger will have to improve, for I'm afraid Howie Pollet can't go the distance any longer. The Giants, with any sort of pitching, should win the pennant. I'm afraid they are not going to get the pitching they need!"

"They have done pretty well so far," I suggested.

"I'm only telling you what I think on ahead," he said.

"They have too many pitchers who are in and out—good one start and punk the next. You can't bank on any of them to give you a sound game.

"Boy, how I'd like to see those Giants get good pitching. Outside of this, they have a better ball club than the Dodgers, Cardinals or Braves. The Pirates are the most improved team in either league."

"What's your slant in the American league?" I asked the old-timer.

"No change," he said. 'Still the Red Sox and Yankees. Detroit's great pitching has been a fizzle so far. Anyhow, it won't be good enough to lift a bad ball club. Cleveland got a great start, but Cleveland isn't that good.

"Feller will have a good year. Bob probably will win 22 games. Cleveland is much better, but its pitching is only fair."

Television and Sports

Sport, any game you might mention, has come face to face with its major problem—television.

One of the major promoters in this field, one with a tremendous interest involved had this to say:

"Television is the biggest gream I've ever run across in sport. No one can say for sure what will take place. With a half-million dollars involved in my own case—it may amount to much more than that—I've spent many an hour trying to figure it out. Here's what can happen:

"NO. 1. It will help attendance and gate receipts, just as radio did. It will bring about increased interest in various games, especially baseball. It will give us double revenue.

"NO 2. It will cut down attendance figures heavily. People can hear about something and want to see it. But if they actually see it once, they won't be so eager about seeing it again.

"NO. 3. If attendance and the gate receipts are cut down, we can get our money back by lifting revenues from television. Television will have to pay for it. But how will it look to see a ball game played before 500 or 1,000 fans? That won't be so good. How will it look to see football crowds cut in two? That wouldn't look so good either.

"NO. 4. Television will have little effect on attendance, one way or another. In that case, we'll get our revenue from two sources, as we do right now.

"This is the situation," he said. "We don't know. I believe it will build up additional interest, as radio did, and increase attendance. This would be wonderful."

The Best Golf Grip

Most professional golfers and most leading amateurs stand strongly by the overlapping grip. Alex Morrison always has claimed that the interlocking loosens up the two wrists—and is far more useful for those who have passed 40.

It might surprise you to know how many golfers have passed 40—or 45. It might surprise you to learn how many golfers no longer have the whippiness of youth in their hands and wrists, as the grizzled gray begins to appear at the edge of their scalps.

It is much easier to break the wrists with the interlocking than it is with the overlapping, where the little finger of the right hand is placed over the forefinger of the left—sort of wedged in between the first two fingers of the left.

Southwood Loses To Upper Arlington

Southwood took it on the button from Upper Arlington last Sunday, 5-0, in the opening round of matches in the 1948 Columbus Tennis League. George Pack outlasted Southwood's Charley Kramer to finally win 7-9, 6-3, 6-3. Bob Rinehart, Arlington, had no trouble with youthful Kelton Garwood, winning 6-2, 6-0, and Johnny Rarey, Arlington, trounced Earl Halter 6-0, 6-1. In doubles Ben Hadley, Sr., and Ben Hadley, Jr., defeated Kramer and Joe Wollett 6-4, 6-1 and another Arlington point was registered by the young combo of Bill Mackey and Bill Keely, 6-2, 6-2 over Garwood-Halter.

In other matches Grandview edged by Bexley, 3-2, with Gordy Conklin leading the way and Olentangy Village upset Columbus Tennis Club, 3-2, also.

Southwood travels to Olentangy Village this Sunday for a meeting with the far northenders.

Westgate and Beatty Park did not play because of wet courts at Beatty. This match will be made up at a later date.

Fish Catch Best In Years

The heavy rains during March and April causing streams of Ohio to overflow for periods of several days and even weeks has had little if any apparent effect on Ohio's spring hatch of fish.

E. L. Wickliff, Chief of the Fish Management and Propagation Section of the Ohio Division of Conservation, said today that if fisherman want to see nature's fish hatchery at work they need only to walk along the banks of the streams and observe the millions of small fish which have hatched out during the past few days.

In Blacklick creek, a 30-mile stream in Franklin County extending into Licking and Fairfield counties, which has furnished the Division with spawning data for the past 13 years, the spring hatch of "pin fish" (baby fish) is almost unbelievable, according to Wickliff. "There has been an outstanding hatch of small mouth black bass along with darters, suckers and minnows. Millions of fish ranging from one-quarter to four-fifths of an inch have been observed swarming near the banks, where the natural food supply of the baby fish is found abundantly round rocks, tree roots and fallen trees.

"Fortunately," Wickliff said, "There has been a good hatch of aquatic insects such as mayflies and also of young crawfish which will serve as fish food for the large hatch of fish.

The major part of the spring spawning season will be over by June 16, the opening day of bass season for inland waters in Ohio which, Wickliff says, "indicates again that Ohio's closed season on black bass, from May 1 to June 15, has served its intended purpose. In fact," he said, "there have only been about three years in the last 13, during which time records have been kept, when the major portion of the spawning season failed to fall within the closed season."

The stabilized flow of water in the streams during the past three weeks is credited in part for the exceptional hatch of baby fish.

South Side Y Softball Schedule

Intermediate, Thursday, June 17
St. Paul EUB vs Gates-Fourth
Southwood C. of C. vs South Methodist
St. John Evan vs St. Leo
Washington EUB vs St. Ladislaus
Junior Friday, June 18
South Methodist vs St. Ladislaus
Southwood C. of C. vs St. Marys
Morgan Memorial vs Ohio Ave. EUB

St. Mary's Tied First Place

The St. Mary's grade school softball team is tied for first place with South Methodist in the South Y softball league.

St. Mary's has previously defeated Heyl Ave. U. B. 19 to 13 and batted St. Ladislaus a 13 to 5 setback. Richard Marbitzer was the winning pitcher in both games. Herman Houser and Jake Moyer are coaches of the team.

St. Marys will play Morgan Memorial next Friday night at 8:00 at the Southwood Field.

St. Mary's Holy Name Society softball team has won two games and lost one. They are tied for second place in their league.

St. Mary's has defeated Santa Maria, Central Youth and lost to St. Leo's.

In last week's game Herman Hausen clouted a triple bagger, drove in two runs and turned a 4&4 deadlock into a 6 to 4 victory over Santa Maria.

Next Friday night at Goodale field, St. Mary's will play Corpus Christi. Game time 8:00; Admission free. Be on hand for a brilliant exhibition of softball playing Friday at 6:00 o'clock. John Laeffler is coach and manager of the Holy Name team.

Y Teen Conference Life Saving Classes

Junior Life Saving classes, under joint sponsorship of the American Red Cross and the local YWCA, will begin Monday, June 14. A 20-hour course, the classes will meet Mondays, Tuesdays and Fridays through July.

Deep water swimmers between the ages of 12 and 16 are eligible, and successful completion of tests entitles the girls to wear the Red Cross Life Saving Emblem.

Reservations should be made by calling Health Education, YWCA, AD-9121.

JUNIOR NEW LOOK

CHICAGO — The New Look is found in children's fashions too, as shown in these misses' suits from a State Street collection. On the left, a dress-up suit with a yellow wool belted jacket and harmonizing gray and yellow checked ballerina skirt. Smart detailing is used in the gold buttons, and checked piping on the collar and cuffs. On the right, a ballerina suit in kelly green, which buttons right up under the Peter Pan collar. Both skirts will do double duty when combined with blouses or sweaters for school wear.

Economic Highlights

At the time this is written, the war-is-imminent spirit doesn't seem so intense as it was a short time ago. It reached almost hysterical proportions in March, when some of the commentators talked blithely of rains of bombs on American key centers. A number of military leaders are still warning Congress and the country that the possibility of war this year or next cannot be precluded. However, such top officials as Defense Secretary Forrestal have expressed a much more moderate view, and the general feeling is that a war, if there is to be one, is at least five years off, probably ten, and maybe fifteen.

Back of that are several theories. One is a stiffening of anti-communist elements in Europe, as indicated by the Italian elections. The other is that nobody is ready for war could win a war. A third is that, sooner or later this country and Russia will get together and find some means whereby communism and capitalism can exist peaceably in the same world. In this connection, it is interesting that reports from Moscow say the government has soft-pedaled war talk in its controlled newspapers and radio. Stress is laid on current plans for expansion of the production of consumer goods, a projected higher standard of living for the Russian people, etc.

Every time the war scare dies down, the public eye naturally focuses once more on domestic matters. Congress has completed most of its big jobs—European aid and the tax reduction measure among them. Last major matter awaiting final action is preparedness and the pattern that will take is clear—a bigger air force, a limited draft, but no universal military training this year. No surprises are at all likely, unless the course of world affairs takes an unexpected turn. So the lawmakers, and the public, can draw a deep breath and pin their attention on the political battles that are now moving toward the climax.

The stop-Truman movement within the Democratic party is a dead duck. The President will be nominated for reelection unless he amazes everyone and withdraws of his own volition. Only question is who he will choose for his running mate. Party leaders would like Justice Douglas of the Supreme Court who, they think, might be able to bring back into the fold old Roosevelt followers whose enthusiasm for Truman is non-existant. But he hasn't shown any apparent interest thus far.

The Stassen drive has been in the bull-market phase. No other GOP aspirant has shown anywhere near his ability to attract the voters. He is tireless, has an excellent personality, and has been unusually forthright on all the issues. But, at the same time, the stop-Stassen elemen in the GOP is gathering its resources. Votes on primary ballots don't necessarily mean votes in the convention hall, and many top party leaders have no liking for the ex-governor of Minnesota. They think he isn't "regular" enough, wouldn't be a good party man, is too much like Wilkie. However, as in the case of Wilkie, they may have to take him whether they like it or not if public fever reaches a high enough temperature.

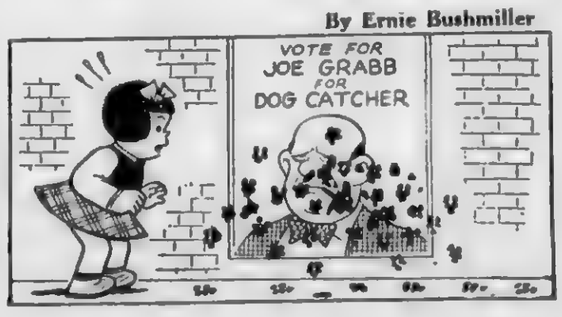
In all his talks, Mr. Stassen has spoken glowingly of Senator Vandenberg, a fact which has led to some interesting speculations. One of them is that if Mr. Stassen sees that he can't get the nomination he will throw his strength to the Michigan senator, and perhaps accept the second spot on the ticket.

Governor Dewey's stock has definitely declined, though his backers still talk optimistically, and he will have great strength on the first few ballots at least. Two things, the political seers say, have cut the ground from under him with masses of voters. One is that he had his chance for the Presidency and missed. The other is that he always tests the winds of public opinion before offering his views on top issues, and for a long time he sail almost nothing of a controverial nature.

The Taft candidacy still has its curious phase. Everyone admits that he lacks personal magnetism, and some are still pretty dubious of his views on international affairs. At the same time, men and women who disagree violently with his views say frankly that he has great courage and integrity. He isn't afraid of being unpopular—which, to most politicians, is the ultimate hell. He speaks his mind bluntly. He probably knows more about the actual business of governing than any man in public life today, and more than any President since Wilson. Despite his poor showing in the Wisconsin and other primaries, he is definitely in the running. He, like Dewey, will go to the convention with a massive block of votes. He has the Deep South Republican delegations completely sewed up.

The MacArthur candidacy died when he made so poor a showing in Wisconsin, and only a few last-ditchers still express hope for him. Most people are at last taking Eisenhower's statements that he isn't a candidate at face value.

Regardless of who is the candidate, the Republican talking points are easily forecast. They will call for more government economy, a reduction in the bureaucracy more freedom for business in the interest of production. Mr. Truman will defend his budget, and undoubtedly ask for a restoration of price and other controls on some scale. Differences over foreign policy will deal with methods rather than broad principles.



"Cap" Hoover, says he is not going to get married.

Well Cap, you won't have a chance if some woman makes up her mind she wants you.

News In The World Of Religion

"If America is to overcome the social and economic conflicts that now threaten our social life it will depend upon the ability of America to strengthen the ramparts of democracy on the local community level," says Dr. Mark A. Dawber, executive of the Home Missions Council of North America. "The degree to which we are able to achieve an outstanding of and action upon great national objectives and social issues in the last nook and cranny of our fair land will largely determine the future of America and the world. The local community is the proving ground for all we would undertake in our national life. Government, school, church, all come closest to the life of the people in the local community. In the community, no matter how remote and how humble the setting, there is drama and destiny that mean the future of America."

The Presbytery of Ozark, in Missouri, is acknowledging the debt of city churches to rural churches by sending teams of young workers from the larger centers to the vacant churches of the surrounding countryside, says Dr. E. Graham Wilson, of the Presbyterian Board of National Missions. He points out that the city churches have "drained" the rural populations of the area, more than half the church members in the Springfield, Mo., for example, having been raised and given their church training in the country. Now teams of young people—from Sunday school classes, Westminster Fellowships, and missionary societies—are supplying vacant pulpits on Sundays.

Lodhipur Community School, near Shahjahanpur, in India's United Provinces, is one of the outstanding rural-biased schools maintained by the Methodist Church. The missionary-in-charge of this School and the Christian work in the community is the Rev. Richard W. Moore, raised in parsonage and on farm in Iowa. "We have started a Christian Consumers and Credit Cooperative Society", Mr. Moore reports enthusiastically. "The Society will secure at the controlled price rationed items—that is, wheat, rice, sugar, kerosene, cloth, and other items costly in the black market, such as wood for stoves, salt, soap. Then the people will be saved from the black market, and the profits, rather than going to Hindu merchants (the only fat people in India), will come to Christian shareholders. Money will be lent to the Christians for medical bills, children's education, the purchasing of land and houses. Especially poor Christians will be saved from money lenders."

"We do not believe in a military crusade against communism," said the Church Peace Union, of which Dr. Ralph W. Sockman is president, in a recent statement. "Holy wars accomplish nothing. They are self-defeating and leave a bitter residue of hate and mistrust. He who takes the sword shall indeed perish by the sword. The negative means of military action will fail to stop the growth of communism. On the contrary, the chaos and devastation resulting from a war against communism will eventually spell success for communist ideologies as the last refuge of the desperate and desolate. Have we lost sight of the fact that a world revolution is now under way—a revolution which, in scores of countries, enjoins the common people to rid themselves of feudal lords and throw off the shackles of poverty, ignorance, despotism, and exploitations? If the nations of the world would rightly guide these revolutionary impulses and try not to impede them, they might constructively meet the challenge of communism and ease the tensions of our times. We should avoid the extremes of those powers who, on the one hand, shortcircuit revolutionary forces by maintaining the status quo, and, on the other hand, those powers who hasten this revolution by violent means. . . . In conference and conciliation lies the possibility of peace. In conflict and discord there lurk the danger of war and the fall of civilization."

Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio, has been selected as the scene of the biennial meeting of the general Council of the Congregational Christian Churches, from June 17 to 24, when 2500 men and women, lay and clerical will see on national and international issues in which church members have a stake. A major item of the sessions will be consideration of the proposed merger of the Congregation Christian Churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church. Eight national and international boards and fellowships of the denomination will participate. The traditional "Council Lecture" given biennially by leading scholars and theologians, will be by Dr. Walter M. Horton of the Oberlin faculty, on, "Toward a Reborn Church." On June 21, the Council will celebrate the centennial of Congregational missions in China.

St. Leo's Church Scene Of Ceremony

On Saturday, May 1, St. Leo's Church was the scene of a nuptial high mass uniting in marriage, Miss Velma T. Jovanovich and John G. Rumora. The Rev. Fr. Smith read the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with white gladioli and roses.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jovanovich, 439 E. Stewart-av., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Rumora, 163 E. Hinman-av.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in a dress of heavy ivory duchess satin fashioned with a sheer yoke of illusion outlined with four rows of tiny seed pearls and a wide ruffle of imported Alencon lace. The long sleeves ended in points over the wrists and were trimmed with matching Alencon lace. The full skirt fell over an old-fashioned hoop of satin and lace, and ended in a long circular train. The full-length veil of imported English illusion, outlined in a wide border of Alencon lace, was caught to a tiara of pearlized orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a cascade of white roses, and satin streamers tied with love knots of lily of the valley. Entwined in the bouquet was a silver rosary, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Angeline Yurjako was the maid of honor gowned in yellow chiffon, with matching tiara headdress and carrying yellow roses with blue carnations. In gowns of marquisette and taffeta were the bridesmaids, Miss Mary Zubovich and Mrs. Samuel J. Dabo, in pink; Miss Donna Zubovich, Miss Donna Chapin and Miss Margaret Zubovich in blue. They carried arm bouquets of pink roses and blue carnations, and wore tiara headdress in pink and blue respectively. All the attendants wore pearls and earrings, gifts of the bride. Mildred Lynn Myers was flower girl in a gown of white satin with matching satin bonnet, and she carried a bouquet of baby roses and baby breath. She wore a pearl locket, gift of the bride.

Best man for Mr. Rumora was Timothy Beretich. Seating the guests were Rudolph M. Jovanovich, George Rumora, John Jovanovich, Jr., Chicago; Frank Damijanovich, and Samuel J. Dabo. A reception was held for 300 guests at the Croatian Hall.

The bride is a graduate of South High School and Office Training School, and is associated with The Buckeye Steel Casting Co., in the personnel department. Mr. Rumora is also a graduate of South High School and served with the Navy. He is associated with The Buckeye Steel Castings Co. in the pattern department.

Foresters To Initiate At Corpus Christi

On Sunday afternoon, June 20, at 2 o'clock, a joint initiation of all candidates who have joined the Catholic Order of Foresters during the past few years will be held in Corpus Christi school hall.

The degree team from Dayton, Ohio will come to Columbus and exemplify the lessons of our Society. It is the hope of the Central Chapter officers that every man eligible to be in this class will make an honest effort to be at Corpus Christi school hall promptly at 2 P. M. on June 20.

This class will pay particular honor to a 100 % Forester, The Rev. Albert V. Kessler, a charter member of Corpus Christi Court No. 1986. He has been an ardent worker for Catholic Forestry in Columbus, and a large class at this initiation will reward him for the effort he has put forth to help build our order to its present strength.

Immediately following the initiation ceremonies a buffet luncheon with refreshments will be served and a social time will be spent with your brother Foresters.

A newly created father received the following message in a telegram: "Your wife just gave birth to an eight-pound baby girl this morning. Both mother and child are doing well." Attached to the wire was a sticker reading, "When you want a boy, call Western Union."

RUSSELL THEATRE

The Russell presents Sunday and Monday "Tycoon" with John Wayne and Loraine Day. This is a beautiful picture done in technicolor. John Wayne driving a tunnel through the mountains for a railroad in South America, elopes with Loraine Day, whose stern English father, is the most powerful man in the district.

The father becomes enraged, cuts off the company's funds and the tunnel caves in killing Wayne's boss. The father is killed by the fumes of an erupting volcano, but leaves a note of forgiveness naming Wayne as heir and Wayne remains to finish the railroad. Also "Sweet Genevieve" with Jean Porter and Jimmy Lydon. "News and Cartoon."

The Parsons Theater

The Parsons Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Albuquergue" with Randolph Scott and Barbara Britton.

Randolph Scott arrived in Albuquerque in 1878 to find his uncle who runs an ore freight line, a crook, who has robbed Catherine Craig of money with which she plans to start a rival freight line.

Barbara Britton is imported by the uncle to sway Scott's loyalty from Catherine, after Scott joins Catherine and her brother in setting up the business. However, Barbara has a change of heart and helps Catherine, her brother, and Scott to outsmart the Uncle and start the new freight line. The picture mixes romance, comedy and a bit of Western atmosphere. Also on the bill is "Intrigue" with George Raft and June Havoc. Selected short subjects.

St. Patrick's Games Party

The Holy Name SocieSty and Mothers Club of St. Patrick's Parish are sponsoring a Games Party at Aquinas Gymnasium, 557 Mt. Vernon Ave., on the evening of June 24, at 8 P. M.

John Burroughs, Chicago, Clinton, Dana, Eastgate, Fifth Ave., Glenmont, Indianola Junior High, Main Street, North Linden, Ohio, Pilgrim, Second, Southwood, West Broad.

IDEAL THEATER

The Ideal presents Sunday and Monday "Louisiana" with Governor Davis and Margaret Lindsay.

Governor Davis of Louisiana enacts the title role in this film version of his life as a musician, composer and politician. Once a village professor, Davis became interested in folk music and wrote several famed western ballads "You Are My Sunshine," "It Makes No Difference Now" and others. He literally sang his way into public office and was elected governor by an over-whelming majority in 1944. Also "Angels Alley" with Leo Gorcey and The Bowery Boys. Two Cartoons also on the bill makes this a full bill. sore tfand Issinsk v,61299 d

CLUB ALEXANDER

Kenny King singing and dancing emcee conducts the show at Club Alexander nite spot this week.

He introduces Joan Pauline in a clever routine of tap, acrobatic and Hawaiian dancing, surrounded with a big show.

The popular Johnny Walker trio makes its appearance also with a new band direct from New York. This is something very much out of the ordinary, so don't miss it. Remember every Monday night round and square dancing.

"Bambi" At Southland

Walt Disney's spectacular full-length cartoon feature, "Bambi", produced in glorious Technicolor, opens a three-day engagement at the Southland Theatre on Sunday.

Filled with drama, romance, music and thrilling adventure, "Bambi" is the story of a forest deer and his woodland friends. Wallace Beery and Tom Drake star in "Alias a Gentleman", comedy-drama which will be co-featured with "Bambi" during its Southland engagement.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Sitting Pretty" with Robert Young and Maureen O'Hara. Something new, something different.

Clifton Webb as a male baby sitter who knows his stuff. He cow's em and he wow's em. Even the guy who breeds Irises is stumped. Robert Young is the papa and Maureen O'Hara is the mama, but they learn about kids from Clifton. Also "Docks of New Orleans" with Roland Winters.

Summer Garden To Open June 20th.

The Germania Turn and Singing Society wish to announce that their summer garden will open June 20th. The garden will be open from 2 p. m. in the afternoon until midnight. They will serve beer, soft drinks and German home cooking and music for entertainment.

The Garden is located at 543 S. Front St. It is open to the public and everyone is welcome.

Special Rates At Y For Summer

The Summer membership camp paign is in full swing in the Boys' Dept. of Central YMCA. Beginning Monday, June 14th, at 9:00, some 400 boys will avail themselves of a varied program that includes fun in the gym, in the pool and in the craft shop. Classes are limited in size, allowing each boy to receive the maximum attention so that he may develop new skills in swimming, gym activities and making things of wood, plastic, leather and metal in the craft shop-all under expert supervision.

In addition to three regular class periods each week, there will be special hikes and trips to points of interest in the city, to the Zoo, and chartered bus trips to caves and mounds near Chillicothe. Opportunity will be given for fathers to share the experience of their sons in special craft periods, over-night hikes and swims. Each class will have an opportunity to spend an entire day at South Y Park for hiking, nature study, and fishing.

Further information may be obtained by calling the YMCA, AD. 1131.

Navy Needs 5000 One-Year Men

The Navy announced today that 5,000 vacant billets in ships and shore stations of the regular Navy have been made available to Naval Reservists of certain rates who wish to return to active duty for one year, according to Lieut. Miss Anna Carlisle Wed Recently

Saturday, May 15, was the date chosen by Miss Ann Louise Carlisle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Joseph Carlisle, 285 Jenkins-av., for her marriage to Herbert William Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Baker of Zanesville. The ceremony took place at 10 a. m. in St. Leo's Church with Rev. Fr. Robert Schmidt officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was gowned in heavy white satin. Her dress was fashioned with a sheer yoke of marquisette and outlined with a bertha of Alencon lace, the full buffant skirt terminated in a cathedral train. The sleeves of the gown were full length, coming to points at the hands. Seed pearls and rhinestones formed the tiara which held in place the full length veil of illusion adornend with lace inserts. Atop a white prayer book, gift of the bridegroom, the bride carried a purple throated orchid fastened with streamers and intermingled with shattered carnations. An ivory carved rose pendant which belonged to her mother was the bride's only jewelry.

Dressed in gowns of orchid marquisette were Miss Jeannette Baker, sister of the bridegroom, who was the maid of honor, and the junior bridesmaid, Miss Phyllis Teeters, cousin of the bride. The bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Monahan and Miss Ellen Egger, wore light green gowns. All the attendants wore Mary Queen of Scots bonnets in colors to match their gowns. Miss Baker and Miss Teeters carried cascade bouquets of yellow roses. Kokomo carnations and Talisman roses tied with orchid satin ribbon formed the bouquets which the bridesmaids carried. Little Sondra Baker, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl, dressed in a frock of green marquisette and she carried a basket of assorted flowers. Her brother, Bobby Joe Baker, carried the rings in the throat of a Calla lily. As a gift to her attendants, the bride presented each with jeweled pendants in color to match their gowns.

Walter J. Carlisle Jr., brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. Ushers included Frederick Baker, brother of the bridegroom, Zanesville; William Carlisle, brother of the bride, Norman Fenstermaker, cousin of the bride, Pickerington, O., and William Wagner, Zanesville.

Immediately following the wedding, a breakfast for 60 guests was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Becker, grandparents of the bride. In the afternoon, a reception for 200 guests was held at the Becker's home. Mrs. Carlisle greeted her guests in a gown of pink with black accessories and a pink carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother was attired in black, with black and white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

After July 1, the couple will reside at 117 N. Seventh-st., Zanesville.

To Wed July 17

Mrs. Opal Blake, 669 W. Rich St., announces the engagement of her sister, Mrs. Velma Brewer, 176 S. Sandusky St. to Henry Rybicki, 447 Deshler Av.

Miss Brewer is associated with Forrest Towel Supply Co., and Mr. Rybicki is associated with the Thomas E. Edison Co.

The wedding will be an event of July 17.

Home-Canned Green Beans for Nutritious Meals

Green beans are a low-acid vegetable and should be canned with the use of a pressure cooker because the high temperature is better insurance against spoilage and is also the faster method.

Select beans with crisp and meaty pods. They should be young and tender and brought fresh from the garden or truck patch. Wash, string, and break or cut the pods into two-inch pieces. Boil five minutes and pack into hot Ball jars. Add one teaspoon salt to each quart.

Cover with water in which cooked. Process small young pods 35 minutes and large ones 55 minutes at 10 pounds pressure. With a plentiful supply of home-canned green beans you are always prepared to serve a popular, nutritious green vegetable.

Vacation Holidays

Many folks will soon be enjoying their vacation. Whether it's spent at home or away, plan to make the most of it, says the Columbus Milk Council. The health of you and your family can be greatly increased by the physical and mental recreation to be found in a well-planned holiday.

During vacation there's a temptation to "break out of bounds" and health precautions are apt to be the first forgotten. Irregular meals—too little rest over exertion are all hazards to successful vacationing and frequently add to holidays which leave you exhausted. Old and young alike, should set aside time for rest and relaxation, for the enjoyment of unhurried meals, for activity, a change of scene, and for new and interesting activities to bring real benefits in renewed vigor and enthusiasm.

For the "a wonderful time", holidays can be well spent in promoting better health. So when your vacation begins this year, why not take inventory of your own health habits? If you haven't had a physical check-up recently, have it now! Find out what improvements can be made in your habits that will bring about a fuller sense of well-being to you. Resolve that at least one good health practice will be either started or strengthened during your vacation holidays!

Fake Solicitor Operating Here

Word has come to us from a Parsons Avenue merchant that a colored man has solicited an ad from him to be published in the South Side Booster.

This man collected $2.50 from the merchant and gave him a receipt with his supposed name signed to it. But he omitted the South Side Booster's name on the receipt.

The South Side Booster has no such man working for them.

The South Side Booster's sales people are Mrs. Beatrice Lewis and Mr. Walter J. Tompkins. They are the only people who call upon the merchants for advertisements.

Motorcycle Race Sunday June 27

Columbus Motor Speedway is holding a motorcycle race, this Sunday June 27. A field of approximately 35 drivers is assured in amateur and novice classes. This is the first novice and amateur race to be held in this part of the country this year.

For thrills, spills and good afternoon enjoyment, stop at the Columbus Motor Speedway on Williams Rd., a half mile past Chicken Farm Airport.

The track is chemically treated to hold down the dust to an absolute minimum. Parking is provided by the Columbus Motorcycle Club.

Harry features such bait as dug-worms, night crawlers, soft craws and minnows, all of which are kept as strictly fresh as possible. He also handles fishing tackle and equipment of all sorts to make your fishing expeditions more enjoyable.

The Ideal Sporting Goods is conveniently located on Parsons at Markison Ave., next to the Ideal Theater.

Remember, when you need live bait, fishing [illegible] of a big fish story, see Harry Coverdale.

Southwood Play Ground Now Open

Once again Southwood School play ground is open under the direction of the Columbus Board of Education. This year the play ground is under the supervision of Miss Chapman, teacher in Columbus school, and Mr. Carey M. Pace, Jr., teacher and basketball coach at Starling Junior High School.

The playground hours will be from 12 noon to 8 p.m. Monday thru Friday, June 21 to Aug. 13.

Mr. Pace announce that there will be softball and Basketball leagues for boys of all ages. The Junior League will include boys under 13 the intermediate league will include boys under 16, and the senior league will include boys up to 19. An all-star team will also be selected to represent Southwood in games with other school playgrounds.

BOYS! Now is the time to organize your teams. Turn in the names of the members of your team by Tuesday July 6. Games will start Wednesday July 7.

Your New Parsons Ave. Bus Route

The new Parsons Ave., Neil Ave., bus [illegible] will start operations about [illegible] with an entirely new route.

The new route, while not yet official, is a follow: starting at the Buckeye Steel Castings Co. they will run south on Parsons Ave. to Fulton St., west on Fulton St. to Third St., south on Third St. to Front St., south on Front St. to Buttles Ave., west on Buttles Ave. to Neil Ave., north on Neil Ave. to Ninth Ave., east on Ninth Ave., to Worthington St., north on Worthington St. to Tenth Ave., west on Tenth Ave. to Neil Ave., the loop will not be made if University officials give permission for a turn-around, but will be on the University campus.

The return route will be south on Neil Ave., to Buttles Ave., east on Buttles Ave. to Park St., south on Park St. and Front St. to Fulton St. east on Fulton St., to Parsons Ave., to the Buckeye Steel Castings Co.

While this is a better schedule than the present Parsons Ave street cars, we believe that the buses should cross High St. nearer the center of our city instead forcing a walk to High St., from Third St. or Front St.

You may write to the Columbus Co. has another link in the transportation system passing their doors.

We just wonder if they are the only down town merchants.

Better keep your money here on the South side.

Optimist Club Monthly Meeting

The South Gate Optimist Club will hold its monthly meeting and luncheon, Wednesday, June 23, at the home of Mrs. Vic Dickinson, 11 Parkview Ave.

A pot-luck luncheon will be served with dessert furnished by the club. Members are requested to bring their own table service.

Mrs. Edith Thompson is chairman of the committee. Assisting her are: Mrs. Mary Marguerite Scott, Mrs. Ester Rankey, Mrs. Isaah Emick, Mrs. Lucy Courtney, and Mrs. Ellen Dickinson.

He has two legs on a perpetual trophy at Marietta, Ohio, Harry races in Classes B-C and F. Hydroplane and will appear at the Scioto Lakes Seaplane Base Boat Regatta on July 18.

Scioto Lakes Boat Race Regatta Re-Scheduled

The Scioto Lakes Professional Boat Race Regatta to be held June 27, has been re-scheduled for Sunday July 18 at 1:30 p.m. This change in date is for the benefit of the spectators as well as for the drivers. A new entrance for parking is being completed on the West side of the Lake, an addition of [illegible] feet of dock space is being added to the already existing 700 feet. More [illegible] and concession stands [illegible] for the handling of [illegible].

[illegible] a mile and one-half [illegible] the shore line is being improved, offering parking for thousands of cars and making it possible to watch the races without walking a step.

The race held on May 31, drew a group of eighty drivers and their boats from seven states, and at the rate the entries are pouring in, this record should be broken, and Scioto Lakes will be host to the largest professional hydroplane race in the country.

From expressions of all contestants, and officials of the Mid East Outboard Association, the Scioto Lakes, located on Frank Road, just off South High Street, is one of the most ideal boat racing courses in the United States. It offers the public a birds-eye view of the complete race from a natural amphitheater. Every turn and all straight-a-ways can be seen clearly at all times by anyone, anyplace around the lake.

New Appliance Service Will Handle Television

The Radio and Electric Service Co. has opened a new shop at 1853 South 6th Street. The owners of the new business are Zack Moore and Paul Fabian. Both men are well known on the South Side. Mr. Fabian was employed at the Owens-Illinois Glass Company for 28 years. Now that the plant is closed, Mr. Fabian intends to operate his own business in partnership with Mr. Moore.

The Radio and Electric Service Co. will do repair work on all types of radios for the home or car. They will also repair household appliances. They will be dealers for the Belmont Radio Television Co. and expect to carry a complete line of television sets in the near future.

Schiller Park Concert Wednesday

Both the South Side and the East Side will be served the same week by the Columbus Federation of Musicians Band, now giving its summer series under the general direction of the new federation president, Francis M. Robinson. The program outlined below will be given by the band Sunday evening at 8 in Franklin Park and will be repeated Wednesday evening, at the same hour, in Schiller Park.

The conductor of these concerts will be Wilbur E. Crist, director of musical organizations at Capital University for many years and recognized as one of the master bandsmen of Ohio. Those who know band music recognize his programs as most unusual; definitely unhackneyed.

The soloist whom South Siders will hear Wednesday evening is a very accomplished soprano, Yolando Fasola, who has sung the leads recently in such operatic performances in Columbus as "Rose of Algiers" and "La Forza del Destino." The program

Let's Have Your Suggestion

Wanted a name. Yes the Council of South Side wants a name for the new park on Greenlawn Ave., which is to be dedicated about the 20th of July and wants the public to suggest an appropriate name for this new park and playground.

There has already been established ball diamonds and lights for games at night. Other improvements will be made as fast as possible.

We believe that this park should be named in some way to include the men of the South Side who saw service in the recent war.

Suggestions may be sent to the Council of South Side Organizations, 864 S. Third St. or to the South Side Booster, 1542 Parsons Avenue.

Let's have your suggestions it may be the right one.

Economic Highlights

There is nothing in the world quite like an American political race. In these disordered times, the voters take the candidates and their platforms seriously, as the unusually heavy primary votes in various states demonstrate. However, there is also a touch of the sporting event and the amusement enterprise to the campaigns. That is why otherwise dignified candidates, with few exceptions, pose in Indian war bonnets, pretend to fish while wearing natty lounge suits, and join weird organizations which demand that the new member sign the oath in his own blood.

This year the active candidates have followed the tradition and given the photographers what they wanted. Dewey and Stassen, of course, have been the most active by far, with barnstorming tours reminiscent of the days before radio. And now, on the eve of the nominating conventions, the experts are turning out their final guesses which, like financial statements, are based on information believed accurate, but are not guaranteed.

Curiously enough a real showdown fight came in Oregon—a state which will have only 12 of the Republican convention's 1,094 delegates, and so will have practically no voting influence on the outcome. There are various reasons why Dewey and Stassen chose Oregon for a battleground. It is reported that Dewey said that he was sick of seeing delegations go to Stassen by default, and he was determined to take his case to the people. Then Oregon is supposed to be a pretty accurate barometer of sentiment throughout the West. Finally, it is small in population, which made it possible for an unusually large percentage of its voters to see the candidates in person, and shake their hands.

Even the strongest Stassen backers reeled at the result. It was felt, before Dewey appeared on the scene, that Stassen was a cinch. The former governor of Minnesota got exactly what he wanted when Dewey accepted his challenge to a nationally broadcast radio debate on what to do about the communists in America. Whether or not that debate determined the issue is an unanswerable question but it was the high spot of the campaign. A few days later Oregon voted and Stassen lost.

This has probably reduced Stassen's chances to within a dangerous instance of zero. As columnist Doris Fleeson has said, "It will take shrewd maneuvering to produce even the vice-presidency for the young Minnesotan." His defeat in Oregon is roughly comparable to the ruinous setback Wilkie received in Wisconsin when he made his second try.

However, it is doubtful if the Oregon victory has particularly improved Dewey's chances. He had to get it just to stay in the race. His margin—around 9,000 votes—was substantial but not sufficient to make him look like an overwhelming choice of the people.

No candidate, it must be emphasized, has anywhere near enough early-ballot delegates to win. It will take 548 to nominate. Dewey has 273. Taft has 111, and Stassen 141. A long list of favorite sons will get the rest. So, it is the second choice votes that all the leading contenders have been trying to sew up. And this is a very complex affair. A state's delegations may be solid as cement when it comes to first choice but be divided among several aspirants after that.

That is why the fact that a candidate may go to the convention with a big lead over the next contender doesn't necessarily mean a thing. Talk is still going around to the effect that once Taft or Dewey sees that he can't get a majority they will combine their votes to nominate one or the other. It might happen that way, but the realists who have been watching politics for a long time don't think so. They haven't sufficient iron-clad control over their delegates to vote them the way they want indefinitely. On top of that, no candidate has behind him the terrific, last-ditch enthusiasm that can overcome all obstacles.

The United States News recently polled Congress as to what Republican candidate would be most competent at the helm of State. A majority of the senators and representatives replied, and Taft came out on top by a goodly margin—some 60 per cent of those offering opinions thought that he would do an excellent job. This is a testimonial to the Senator's undoubted grasp of the involved mechanics of government, his integrity, and his courage to fly in the face of popular sentiment when he thinks the majority is wrong. But, even so, Taft's chances are only fair.

A great deal will depend on the number of ballots that are cast. If it goes on long enough without anyone getting near to a majority, the organization may get behind a candidate who isn't particularly in the public eye, and put him over. That always happens if the leaders cancel each other out.

Both conventions will probably give more than usual attention to the selection of their vice-presidential candidates. It may not be pleasant to say it—but the burden of the presidency is so vast these days that the qualities and character of the second man on the ticket are nearly as important as those of the first.

BY GRANTLAND RICE

I WAS standing with a brace of ballplayers watching a number of pro golfers practicing before a recent tournament. Each one must have belted out at least 200 shots.

"I wish we had that chance," one ballplayer said. "We get to the park and probably get 10 or 12 swings. We should have a chance to hit at 100 or more pitches every day."

This is quite true. Early each spring Ty Cobb would practice hitting at home for two hours a day. Ty would get more batting practice in a month than all other ballplayers got in a year.

I've been heading south for some 40 years of spring practice. I can recall few ballplayers in that time who took the trouble to get in extra work swinging a bat. Cobb got his work at home. Ty often was a holdout, not for more money but to really get ready for a tough campaign.

Ty Cobb

He was supposed to be a holdout in 1911. That spring he was working overtime hitting and sliding at home. He reported at Terre Haute on April 7. The season opened around April 12.

Cobb was roughly criticized. Only five days of training, they said. "That's no way to treat his club." They knew nothing about his homework at Royston.

All Cobb did that season was to bat .420 and steal something like 83 bases. It was one of his best years. I believe a Cobb would be better off training at home in his own way than reporting at any spring training camp. He would have more time to build himself up.

Cobb had the ambition that too many ballplayers lack — possibly 70 per cent of them. Too many want it the softer and easier way — not the hard way of training, discipline and hard work.

Among others there'll be two ballplayers I'm rooting for this season. One is Ewell Blackwell — the other is Ralph Kiner. Both have potential probabilities of greatness. Both know their responsibilities, which so many ballplayers don't.

The Star All-Arounder

Who is your nomination for the best all-around football player of all time?

We happened to be at a gathering that included such well-known names as Jeff Cravath of Southern California, Mel Hein of the Giants, Joe Stydahar, Bob Snyder, Morley Drury and perhaps a dozen others known to gridiron fame.

More than a few names were entered in the argument. Jim Thorpe, Ernie Nevers, Red Grange, Bronko Nagurski, George Gipp, Don Hutson —these were all among the leading candidates for this highly mythical honor.

"If you were picking the greatest backs, I suppose you'd have to name Thorpe and Nevers," Cravath said. "Probably Thorpe on his big days. But for the all-around combination, I don't see how you can get away from Nagurski, a great tackle, a star end, a wrecking fullback and passer. I believe the Bronk would have made a good quarterback. While he weighed around 225 pounds, he was also fast and shifty.

"One answer is that 11 Nagurskis could wreck any other one-name eleven, although 11 Nevers and 11 Thorpes wouldn't be any shoo-aroundsafter a little line experience. Seven Bronks would be too good a line to run against."

Cravath's statement drew heavy backing from most of the others.

Oddly enough, it happened to be Grange who led all others at the box office. Red had an appeal beyond Thorpe or any other single star, although he was only a fair passer. Grange made more out of football than any other star—more than double the amount, when you consider all the cash that came his way through his football fame.

Joe Louis' Last Stop

Joe Louis says his return engagement with Jersey Joe Walcott in June will be his last stop.

It has been a long time since the Bomber came out of Detroit and the Golden Gloves to knock out Jack Kracken in one round, in his first professional fight. No one should expect Louis to be the same fighter he was at that time or when he won the title. When you reach the top you usually begin to soften up in a short time, and the wonder is that Louis is still champion. The main answer has been lack of competition, lack of quality in the other corner.

The public at large was badly jolted by the Bomber's performance against Walcott. They took it for granted the Louis of 1947 was still the Louis of 1937. There is a mighty big difference.

Jack Dempsey was at his peak at the age of 24. He was over the hill at the age of 31 and through at the age of 32. Louis is now three years older than Dempsey was.

SOFTBALL GAMES WILL

The playground program will also include tournaments in checkers, horse shoes, badminton, foul shooting, and a big track meet. For more announcements about these watch the South Side Booster and the Playground Bulletin Board.

A history professor ended one of his classes with the following statement: "Will Aaron Burr succeed in wresting the West from the United States? Will the American people sanction the Louisiana Purchase? Come to class Thursday and find out."

Southwood Tennis Team Loses Second Match

The Southwood tennis team lost its second match in the Columbus Tennis League by a 0-5 count, this time to Olentangy Village's fancy outfit on the Village courts. Captain Hoover Young tried out some new blood, the Ziegler brothers, but they, too, got the rough treatment. Here are the results:

Carl Purtz (O) defeated Harold Ziegler (S) 6-2, 6-1.

Ralph Murphy (O) defeated Ziggy Ziegler (S) 6-1, 6-2.

Norm Wagner (O) defeated Kelton Garwood (S) 6-1, 6-2.

Walter Rau-Wallie Becker (O) defeated Charley Kramer - Joe Wollett (S) 7-5, 6-1.

Jim Briers-Bud Tracy (O) defeated Earl Halter-H. Ziegler 6-4, 6-1.

Here is the team standing:

	W-L
Arlington	2-0
Grandview	2-0
Olentangy Village	2-0
Columbus Tennis Club	1-1
Beatty Park	0-1
Westgate	0-1
Southwood	0-2
Bexley	0-2

This Sunday Southwood travels over to Columbus Tennis Club to cross racquets with Bexley. The two are tied for the bottom rung at this writing.

Ohio Black Bass Season Opens

Good fishing weather ushered in the black bass season in Ohio's inland waters last week and reports reaching the Columbus headquarters of the Ohio Division of Conservation indicated good catches in all parts of the state.

The season closed May 1 and opened on June 16. The legal length for black bass is 10 inches and the daily bag limit six except in those waters where for experimental purposes, closed seasons, legal lengths and bag limits do not apply. Those waters include, Lake St. Marys, Charles Mill Reservoir, Guilford Lake, Leesville Lake, Seneca Lake, Buckeye Lake, Lake Loramie, Jackson Lake, Lake Alma and Shade River and all tributaries in Athens and Meigs counties.

E. L. Wickliff, chief of the Fish Management and Propagation Section of the Division of Conservation reports that the peak of the black bass spawning season was reached before the season opened and that, therefore, the closed season again has served its purpose of protecting bass during the reproduction period.

The season which opened last Wednesday affects only the inland waters of the State since the Lake Erie Fishing District season, which closed May 25, will not open until July 1.

Jelly and Preserve Canning to Increase

Housewife Now Has Sugar to Satisfy Craving for Sweets

The high cost of jellies and preserves is a problem which the housewife can now solve by putting up her own this summer, for sugar is more plentiful and the price is not too high. So get ready your supply of sugar, jelly glasses and fruit jars and make jellies and preserves along through the summer at every opportunity. You'll be surprised how the number of containers filled with spreads will mount and be gratified when they are an easy means of satisfying your family's large sweet tooth this winter. The Ball Blue Book, famous home canning guide, contains dozens of good recipes and complete instructions for making jellies, preserves, marmalades butters, jams and conserves.

Here is one of the Blue Book's excellent recipes for Berry Jams including Blackberry, Dewberry, Loganberry, Raspberry, Boysenberry, and Youngberry Jams. Wash and crush berries. Add one-fourth cup water to each quart berries. Cook until soft. Press the cooked berries through a strainer to remove seed. (If preferred, the seed may be left in.) Add from three-fourths to one cup sugar to each cup berries or from three-fourths to one pound sugar to each pound berries. Boil until thick. Pour, boiling hot, into hot Ball Jars; seal at once.

Watermelon Rind came into its own as high style in the little extras which make a meal something special when the preserve recipe was introduced and perfected. It seems strange there was a time when watermelon rind was thought as worthy of salvage as old shoe leather. Now the guest who bites into a crisp piece of watermelon preserve looks at his hostess with new respect and admiration. "Just the right touch to this fine meal," he is apt to pronounce.

That crisp texture is something to be prized. To obtain it, soak the rind two or three hours in lime water to cover. The lime water is prepared by adding one tablespoon of slaked lime (calcium oxide) to each quart of cold water. (If you prefer a texture more like that of preserved pears, soak the rind overnight in salt water — two tablespoons salt to each quart of water.)

These hints and the following recipe for Watermelon Rind Preserves are from the Ball Blue Book of home canning:

2 pounds watermelon rind
1 tablespoon ground ginger
4 cups sugar
2 lemons
2 quarts water.

Cut the white part of the rind into pieces of uniform size and shape. Soak in lime or salt water. Freshen in two or more changes of cold water. Sprinkle ginger over rind. Cover with water and boil 1½ hours. Drain and drop into cool sirup made with the sugar, two quarts of water, and juice of one lemon. Boil gently one hour. Add the second lemon, sliced thin. Continue boiling until rind is tender and the sirup thick as honey. (If the sirup gets too thick before the rind is tender, add a cup or more of boiling water.) Let stand several hours. Pack into hot Ball Jars. Process 15 minutes at simmering.

"What ya studyinng?"

"Hard?"

"Yeah."

"Can ya cut often?"

"Never calls the roll."
"Much outside reading?"
"None."
"Many tests."
"No tests."
"Call on ya often?"
"Once a week."
"I know there was a catch in it."

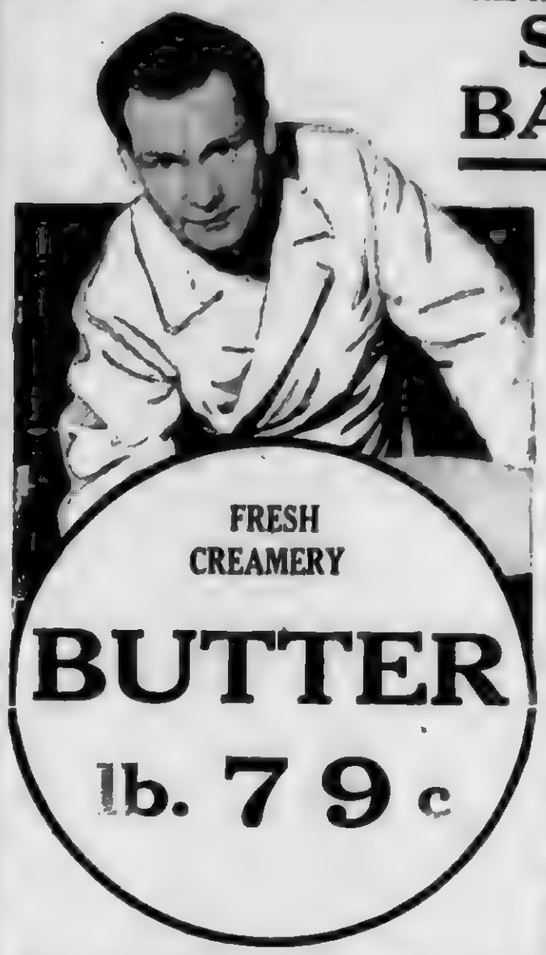
New Red Curbs

BERLIN, GERMANY—(Soundphoto) — Major General Georgi Alexandrov, the Soviets' leading Aviation expert in Berlin, is pictured as he hinted at new red curbs on air traffic between Berlin and the western occupation zones. The hints were made as he renewed Soviet charges that the British were to blame for the recent air collision between a British commercial plane and a Soviet Yak fighter near Berlin in which 15 persons died, and announced, "General Sokolovsky will take measures to regulate air traffic and safeguard the lives of Soviet flyers." Sokolovsky commands the reds in Berlin.

Your Home



By Frances Ainsworth

We've been redecorating at our house . . . and our friends are really amazed at the changes we've made! So many home-makers do redecorate in the Spring that I thought you'd be interested in our project.

We did it all with PC Glass Blocks—and I wish you could see how much extra light we've brought into our rooms! First of all—our breakfast nook was completely rejuvenated by replacing the walls with these blocks. Because they are made of special glass — it seems to let the sun right into the room! Next came the bathroom, where we replaced a small window with a large glass block panel. Now we have twice as much light — but absolute privacy, because it's impossible for any outsider to see through this specially made glass. It's so easy to clean, too — which is so important for any mother who has small sons, as I have.

Right now, we're giving our dining room "The new look." We've partly removed the walls separating the living room and dining room, and are substituting glass blocks in order to make the dining room lighter. It certainly looks modern . . . and we're very happy with it! The decorator who has been helping us with our remodeling told us some very interesting things about Glass Blocks. Did you know they have special insulating qualities which help to shut off outside noise? Every day we're realizing more and more just how many advantages this type of decorating has — and right now, we're planning a beautiful completely modern Glass Block fireplace for our living room. Sounds attractive, doesn't it?

Miss Hilda Legge Wedded May 2

Soft candlelight mingling with rays of afternoon sun cast a glow upon the altar of First Presbyterian Church in Worthington, Sunday, May 2, for the wedding of Miss Hilda Louise Legge and Aaron Hard, Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lewis O. Legge, 259 Mithoff St. and the late Mr. Legge. Mr. Hard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Hard of Linworth. The Rev. Nelson Jones Wright, pastor of the church, officiated at the 3:15 double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Kenneth E. Legge, wore a gown of white Cantilly taffeta. Down a candlelighted aisle the bride approached the altar, which was decorated with vases of calla lilies and white stock against a background of greenery and four seven-branch candelabra.

The bridal gown featured closely fitted sleeves which formed points over the hands, a net yoke edged with white taffeta braid. Small self-covered buttons extended down the back on a closely fitted bodice pointing into a very full skirt and graceful train. Her fingertip veil of Chantilly lace scalloped and edged with bridal illusion fell from a tiara of lace and orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid from which fell a cascade of white ribbons knotted with lilies of the valley.

Her sister and only attendant, Mrs. Fred Schieler, was matron of honor. She chose a gown of heavenly pink moire taffeta with a pink lace yoke, closely fitted bodice and very full circular skirt. She wore a tiara of Siberian iris with matching bouquet.

Wallace Hard, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Donald Hard and Ronald Hard, twin brothers of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Hard has been affiliated with the Buckeye Union Casualty Co. Mr. Hard is associated with his father as an electrical contractor.

Mother was telling stories of her childhood. Little Harold listened thoughtfully as she told of riding a pony, sliding down a haystack, and wading in a brook. Finally he said with a sigh: "Mother, I wish I had met you earlier."

News In The World Of Religion

"A Positive Program for Peace", outlined by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America and recently presented to President Truman and other government officials, affirms that the American people and the people called Christians "should not tolerate any complacency about war. . . should combat a mood of hysteria or blind fear. . . should reject fatalism about war. . . . should press for positive programs which have immediate, possibilities for peace and justice. . . ought each to contribute to a change of mood so as to increase the chance of averting war without compromise of basic convictions"; and the churches "ought to testify with renewed vigor to God's righteous love for all men and the reality of the Christian world fellowship." A positive program that would aid peace and justice, it is stated, "could quickly move toward greater economic well-being throughout the world, greater emphasis on increasing social welfare, greater observance of human rights to check terrorism, and greater use of processes of international conversation and negotiation."

Under the leadership of Dr. Alfred D. Moore, and with the cooperation of Dr. Frank C. Laubach, a world-renowned "apostle of literacy", the Committee on World Literacy and Christian Literature, of the Foreign Missions Conference of North America, is launched on a program to produce, print, and distribute large quantities of Christian books and pamphlets for the peoples of Africa, Burma, China, Korea, Latin America, the Near East, and the Philippines, all in the native tongues of these lands, and mostly written by nationals. Dr. John W. Decker, of the International Missionary Council, recently returned from Asia, says that a "cold" battle is being waged across Asia for the control of men's minds—the contestants being Christians and communists.

When Henry Metzker, a member of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church in Sutherlin, Oregon, found himself in the U. S. Navy and assigned to duty in Guam, he looked around for fellow religionists, but found none. So he gathered together a few interested natives and together they studied the Bible. After a while this "unofficial missionary" was able to organize a church with twelve baptized members, and today another group is studying for baptism and membership.

Spearheaded by the Foreign Missions Conference of North America, and participated in by mission agencies of more than sixty Protestant groups in the United States and Canada, a continent-wide "Program of Advance in Foreign Missions" will be pressed this coming autumn "in face the churches with their responsibility and obligation for the missionary cause" and to enlist their financial support in a far greater measure than ever before. The first step will be a "Foreign Missions Assembly" in Columbus, Ohio, in October, with 3500 lay and ministerial delegates, leaders of their various denominations. These leaders are to be "set on fire" for the missionary cause, and sent back to their churches to lead congregations, synods, and conferences in the enterprise. Then, from October 19 to November 19, there will be 32 mass meetings in the United States and four in Canada, all in leading cities, to take the message to the people, and focus the entire communities upon the cause. Coupled with the interdenominational meetings in the cities, will be denominational gatherings in the same centers. At the denominational meetings plans will be inaugurated to raise and advance missionary budgets for the next few years "to something commensurate with the needs of the world and the opportunities facing the Christian people." No figure has been set as a financial goal, but someone has estimated that as a minimum the churches in the Foreign Missions Conference should give $500000,000 for foreign missions in the next three to four years. The cities in which the central interdenominational mass meetings are to be held are: Boston, Albany, Montreal, Rochester, Harrisburg, Toronto, Washington, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Indianapolis, Winnipeg, Des Moines, Denver, Lincoln, Kansas City, St. Louis, Charlotte, Richmond, Jackson, Nashville, Birmingham, Oklahoma City, Dallas, Houston, Atland, San Francisco, Fresno, Los Angeles, Louisville Detroit, Chicago, Milwaukee, Minneapolis.

Since Independence Day, July 4, comes on a Sunday this year, the American Heritage Foundation, of which Thomas D. Brophy is president, is asking churches of all creeds and denominations to observe the day as one of "rededication to our American heritage of freedom" by the ringing of church bells and by special sermons and prayers throughout the land. It urges the ringing of all bells from 9.55 to 10 a.m as a "special anniversary chiming commemorating the ringing of the Liberty Bell in 1776."

THE DISMISSAL of Harry Bridges from the appointive position of regional director of the C.I.O. in northern California proves that the political unionism created by Roosevelt and Robert F. Wagner was designed to put down political, intellectual and even religious freedom.

Recently, the ex-wife of Bridges testified before a legislative committee of the state of Washington that he was, during their exciting married life, a card-carrying Communist. She gave other evidence tending to confirm the well-proved case of the government which went to naught in the Supreme court. In that case Bridges' deportation seemed to be the government's purpose, but wasn't.

The ace in the hole was the Supreme court. It was a foregone conclusion that Bridges would be saved from deportation by the court. That conclusion was verified by the fantastic jabber of Justice William O. Douglas, who did the majority opinion, and by the juvenile nonsense indited by Frank Murphy in an independent assent.

Leak Was Expected

The decision and the names of the judges on each side of the split were correctly announced on the air by an old confidant and political booster of Murphy well in advance of the official announcement. The late Chief Justice Stone later said he was "profoundly disturbed" by the leak. He said, moreover, that it was the second, not the first known leak, in recent times. He suspected one of his brethren, the same one that I suspected, and I strongly surmised from certain swinish conduct of this panoplied shyster on a social occasion later, that the chief justice got them together in chambers and gave them flannel-mouth rebuke.

The leak, however, was mere LaGuiappe. It was the sort of thing to be expected from a court most of whose members were selected not to adorn the bench but to make the court contemptible and assuage the rancor of a failure who never could get a law degree himself. By a turn of evil fate, Roosevelt acquired the power to express his own innate crookedness and vulgarity through his appointments, and did.

No jury of American citizens ever got a chance to decide the Bridges deportation case. It was a habeas corpus job all the way and although Attorney General Biddle won in three courts and gave his own decision against Bridges, he was smart enough, in the cynical way of Washington, to know that he could shoot the works and still not harm the C.I.O.'s boss brutalitarian of the western shores and valleys. THE SUPREME COURT WOULD SAVE HIM. IT DID.

Now, however, we find the C.I.O., a strictly political union, related to labor only for its income and the prestige of labor's name, coercing Bridges in his own politics.

Bridges, naturally, plumped for Henry Wallace, the candidate of the Communists and the logical candidate of anyone with his record. The dominant political faction of the C.I.O., the bald mahatma, Phil Murray, and Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers have found it expedient to oppose the Communists in the union and in the national politics at this time and for a specific purpose. Therefore they opposed Wallace and his third party.

There can be no pretense of principle or patriotic preference here because these bosses and the C.I.O. as a whole have been notoriously cordial to Communists of the most traitorous kind ever since the C.I.O. began amid riots and insurrection in the 1930s.

Goons Did Plotting

The Michigan riots which created the auto workers, and the C. I. O, as well, were directed by expert street-fighters and terrorists. Many reels of private movies taken from factory windows still exist to prove the murderous and efficient determination of the goons. They wore uniform fore-and-aft caps for identification to their own comrades. They fought in disciplined squads, platoons and companies. They had mobile command cars with radio communication. And they had headquarters with shock-troops in reserve for dispatch to appropriate points of conflict. It was a Communistic rehearsal of the ultimate insurrection.

Yet, now, the C.I.O. is trying to intimidate Bridges by removing him from an unimportant appointive job because the C.I.O. realizes that a vote for Wallace is actually a vote for the Republican candidate and against Truman. The Communists, of course, have no preference between the Republican, whomsoever, and Mr. Truman. The Republican naturally will be anti-Communist and Mr. Truman has been trying to delouse his party and administration by picking on a few conspicuous and very unpopular foreigners.

Widmaier–Dorn Wedding At St. Leo's Church

White snapdragons, roses and palms decorated the altar of St. Leo's Church, Saturday morning, May 8, at 9 o'clock when Miss Rosemary Widmaier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Widmaier, 386 E. Moler St. became the bride of Lewis G. Dorn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dorn, 289 E. Moler St. The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Fr. Robert Schmitt.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of traditional pearl bridal satin fashioned in Godey Lady Hook fashion with a fitted basque bodice and the shadow yoke of sheerest marquisette was bordered with a deep flounce of rose-point lace. A lover's knot of the satin was centered at the front of the flounce and the tightly fitted sleeves fell in Medici points over her hands. The voluminous skirt had a court-length train edged with a flounce of the rose-point lace. Her finger-tip veil of imported illusion was held in place by a crown of orange blossoms and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Her only jewelry was a necklace given her by the bridegroom.

Miss Dolores Herderick was maid of honor wearing an apple green taffeta gown, styled with a deep sheer yoke, and fitted bodice. Tiny self-covered buttons extended from the neckline to the small bustle. Braided headdresses of matching net with shoulder length veils and taffeta mitts completed the outfit. Miss Alice Roch and Miss Margaret Kertzinger served as bridesmaids and Miss Rita Duckworth and Miss Mary Louise Herman were junior bridesmaids. They wore gowns styled like the honor attendant in orchid and pink respectively. All carried bouquets of roses in contrasting colors

Margaret Ann Widmaier, sister of the bride, was flower girl in a yellow taffeta dress with ruffles extending to the floor. She carried a straw basket filled with assorted spring flowers.

Best man was Mr. John Federer and seating the guests were Mr. Arthur C. Widmaier, brother of the bride, and Mr. Edward Dorn, brother of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony a breakfast was given at the Seneca Hotel and in the evening a reception for 200 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart Commercial School and is associated with the Pioneer Mutual Casualty Company. Mr. Dorn attended Franklin University and is now associated with the Jeffrey Manufacturing Co.

The couple will reside at 525 Oakwood Av.

Peggi Ann Baas To Wed In August

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob C. Baas, 1043 E. Whittier St. are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Peggi Ann, to Sgt James E. Hykes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Hykes of Biglerville, Pa.

The bride-elect is a graduate of South High School and is now associated with the American Baseball Association.

Sgt. Hykes is now serving with the United States Marine Corps stationed at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

The wedding will be an event of August.

Couple Celebrate Golden Anniversary

Golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Leddy of 787 Mohawk St. will be celebrated with a mass in St. Mary's Church, Sunday, June 27, and open house from 2 to 5 p.m. at their home.

They were married June 23, 1898, in St. Nicholas Church in Zanesville. They are the parents of 13 children, 10 of whom are living. All are married except Charles William, who is living at home with his parents. Two other sons are Edward and Thomas. Their seven daughters are Mrs. Mary Slane, Mrs. Louise O'Neil, Mrs. Leo Bingham, Mrs. Edward Plank, Mrs. Ally Schneider, Mrs. Leroy Smith and Mrs. Jack Voigt, all living in Columbus. There are 27 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Mr. Leddy is 76 years old and was born in Corning, Ohio. Mrs. Leddy is 68 and was born in Zanesville. They have lived 50 years in Columbus. He was employed at the Ralston Steel Car Co. for 25 years and retired in 1944.

New Dark Tones For Your Hosiery

Don't discard light-toned stockings because of the dark shades now in style. Just re-dye them in the new dark shades of Tintex stocking dye just introduced — as was done by Karen Lewis (above), recently crowned Queen at New York Press Photographers' Ball. And if you have dark-toned hosiery that you want in lighter shades, you can re-dye these also, since there are six light-toned dyes available as well.

The new dark shades of dye are mistique, a hazy taupe; bronzeskin, a sophisticated brown; black beauty, a dramatic off-black, and gunmetal, a misty gray-black.

You can achieve the transformation for about two cents a pair, including the color remover suggested when changing to markedly different color or when re-matching odd stockings.

The dye works on all the usual hosiery fabrics, including nylon and rayon.

TAHITIAN HOSTESS

"Women love to read about foods and parties," says Caroline Guild, noted writer and world traveller, "because every women is a hostess at heart." In her new book "Rainbow in Tahiti" Mrs. Guild tells a fascinating story of life on the romantic island where she won international acclaim for her hospitality. One of her favorite party refreshments is this Tahitian Punch which she serves with small cookies.

TAHITIAN PUNCH

½ cup sugar
½ cup water
3 tbsps. lemon juice
Lemon rind
1 cup strawberries, fresh or frozen
1 cup canned pineapple, cubed
2 bananas, sliced
2 bottles Roma Sauterne

Dissolve sugar in water. Add lemon juice and few strips lemon rind. Pour over a block of ice in a chilled punch bowl or large water pitcher, and add sauterne. Just before serving, add fruit. Serve in punch cups or small glasses. Serves 10-12.

Economic Highlights

Henry Wallace's open letter in which he called for an agreement between this country and the Soviet Union to end the cold war and promote disarmament and a permanent peace, was hardly a bombshell. It was just another version of what he has been saying ever since he left the Truman cabinet, and with increasing frequency since he started his third-party campaign. But a first-class bombshell, with international repercussions, exploded when Premier Stalin replied to the letter in the most friendly possible terms, and said that he believes the U. S. and Russia can settle their differences, and that the co-existence of these two dramatically different systems of government in the world is both possible and necessary.

Stalin, as did Wallace, listed a number of specific points for arbitration. The main ones are: Arms reduction and the prohibition of atomic weapons; final peace treaties with Germany and Japan and the evacuation of occupation forces; removal of foreign troops from China and Korea; world development of international trade; defense of democracy and guarantees of civil rights in all countries.

So far so good. There can be no question that these are the issues which have divided the world into two opposing camps, and which must be settled if war, both cold and hot, is to be eliminated. But that doesn't mean that the representatives of the two greatest powers are soon going to sit down around a conference table and fix everything up. The difficulties that lie in the way are great, even if they no longer seem so insurmountable as they once did.

First of all, the Stalin letter seemed to confine the proposed discussions to this country and the U. S. S. R. Secretary Marshall has said flatly on innumerable occasions that we will not consent to this—that every nation, large or small, must have a voice in settlements which affect its interests. In other words, he wants truly international agreements—rather than policies imposed from without by virtue of Russian or American power and prestige.

The next obstacle may be tougher than the first. This government, along with England and France, definitely feels that Stalin sold them down the river in the past. It is their view that the Soviet-aided coup d'etats in Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and elsewhere were a direct and cynical violation of clear agreements. So, the Western powers will be chary of any future agreements until they are dead certain that ways and means can be agreed upon to make it impossible for any conferring power to reverse itself and break its word. As the distinguished historian, William Henry Chamberlin, has put it, ". . . While not slamming any doors in the face of possible Soviet offers of reasonable adjustment on this or that disputed point, we should keep our powder dry, literally and figuratively."

Certain specific points mentioned by Stalin have their own special obstacles to settlement. The ban on atomic warfare is one. This came up before the United Nations in its early days of life. All the powers leaned toward it in principle. But it was the Soviet Union which blocked action, by refusing to agree to any kind of effective supervision which would make it certain the agreement was kept.

The evacuation of foreign troops from Korea is another. If that happened, the country would be in power of a large South Korean army which has been trained, equipped and guided by the Russians. Every foreign expert is convinced that the country would at once become a Communist satellite, of grave potential menace to our position in the Pacific, and the Russians would get what they want without trouble or expense.

The matter of insuring civil rights is still another. It's easy enough for Stalin or anyone else to favor this in principle. But, as we all know, the first act of the communists on coming to power anywhere has been to destroy the free press and radio, to ban practically all civil liberties, to take over the school and universities, to liquidate the democrat-minded, and to establish police states complete to the last detail.

That is what the record shows, and we must remember it before thoughtlessly coming to the conclusion that the way is now open to a relatively easy settlement of the terrible problems confronting the world. In some circles, it is felt that Stalin's dramatic announcement might have been inspired, at least in part, by the hope that it might delay or reduce the extent of our preparedness program—a program which has obviously caused concern in Kremlin circles. But there is small chance of that happening. Congressional reaction has been one of hope and encouragement—but the leaders have been careful to say that the arms program is going ahead as planned and that they will have to be shown before they will consent to cut it.

A fair guess is that there may be a meeting between the Russian and Western statesmen sometime after the Presidential election. We will then know who is to run the government for the next four years, and we will be in a position to deal on a long-term basis. In the meantime, about the best we can hope for is a lessening in intensity of the cold war—something that began to happen two months ago.

Broad St. Church Wedding Scene

The chapel of Broad St. Church of Christ was the scene Saturday, June 19, of the wedding of Miss Harriet Sue Ohlinger, 64 S. 4th St., and Mr. Karl H. Rauch. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ohlinger of Pomeroy and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rauch, 499 Welch Ave. Dr. Floyd Faust performed the 12:30 p.m. ceremony before an altar decorated with huckleberry trees and white candles.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a pink crepe dress with a Tuscan straw hat trimmed with olive green ribbon and veil. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid.

Miss Jean Kistler, as maid of honor, wore a gray crepe dress complimented with navy accessories and carried a bouquet of blue and pink delphinium.

Best man for his brother was Mr. William Rauch while serving as usher was Mr. Joseph Ohlinger, brother of the bride.

A reception for members of the immediate families was held at the Seneca Hotel after the ceremony. The bride's mother greeted her guests in an aqua dress with black accessories and a corsage of red roses. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a navy and white dress with navy accessories and her corsage was of pink roses.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to New York City, the bride donned a gray suit with which she wore navy accessories.

The former Miss Ohlinger is employed in the law office of Hale and Kincaid, and Mr. Rauch is director of the Columbus Companion Club.

They will reside at 1743 South High St.

Wedded Recently In Broad St. Methodist

Broad Street Methodist Church aglow with lighted candelabra and decorated with an urn of white lilies, gladiola, roses and snapdragons against a beautiful background of woodwards, ferns formed the setting Saturday, May 1 for the wedding of Miss Gladys Camellia McMurray, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Hazel M. McMurray of Portland, to James Carl Brown, son of Mrs. James Brown and the late Mr. Brown, 58 Frank Rd.

The Reverend Walter P. Castle officiated at the 4:30 o'clock ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a wedding gown of white duchess satin with a sheer yoke outlined with Alencon lace, long tightly fitted sleeves ending in points over the wrists and a molded bodice. The full skirt fell over a hoop trimmed with ruffles of lace and terminating in a modified train. The fingertip veil of English illusion was caught by a queen tiara of seed pearls. A cascade bouquet of bridal roses, shattered white carnations and stephanotis surrounding a white orchid completed her bridal ensemble.

Mrs. Orian Williams, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Also serving as bridal attendants were Mrs. Nolene Grattan, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Ann Logue, Miss Irez Lou Wharton and Mrs. Richard Arnold. They wore identical gowns of white taffeta styled with Elizabethan collars, slip sleeves fitted bodices and full skirts which had draped panels. They all wore taffeta matching bonnets and carried arm bouquets of assorted flowers.

Phillip Arnold was best man for Mr. Brown, while Richard Arnold, Orian Williams, Carl Rippel, William Weller and Mendell Lewis seated the guests.

The reception was held in the church parlor immediately following the ceremony. Hostesses were Miss Eutova and Miss Geneva Snider, Miss Margaret Hunsley, Miss Marjorie Calvert, Mrs. Marshall Dasher, Mrs. Wilber Walters and Miss Frances Armbruster.

The new Mrs. Brown is a graduate of Racine High School, attended Bliss College and is associated with the State Department of Industrial Relations, Division of Boiler Inspection. Mr. Brown, a graduate of South High School and Chicago Academy of Fine Arts, is employed with the Waterproof Ohio Paper Company.

"To what do you attribute your long life?" the reporter asked the centenarian.

"I don't rightly know yet," replied the old-timer, puffing lazily at his pipe. "I'm still dickering with two breakfast-food companies."

IDEAL THEATER

The Ideal presents Sunday and Monday "Rocky" with Roddy McDowell and Gale Sherwood. Two pups from the litter of a sheep-killing dog escape destruction by Sheepman Bacon. One goes with a wolf pack, while the other, Rocky, is raised by Roddy McDowell to become a friendly loyal animal. After Rocky returns from a fight with a wolf pack with scars on his body, he is suspected of being a sheep-killing dog for which Bacon is searching. As Rocky is about to go on trial Roddy hears the howl of the wolf-dog and faces Rocky to pursue & defeat the real killer. Also "Port Said" with Gloria Henry and William Bishop, also the Three Stooges in "Shivering Sherlock" and a cartoon.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Albuquerque" with Randolph Scott and Barbara Britton. A western in which Randolph Scott arrives in Albuquerque in 1878 to find his uncle who runs an ore freight line, a crook who has robbed Catherine Craig of money with which she plans to start a rival freight line. Barbara Britton is imported by the uncle to sway Scott's loyalty from Catherine, after Scott joins Catherine and her brother in setting up the business. However Barbara has a change of heart and helps Catherine, her brother and Scott to outsmart the uncle and start the new freight line. Also "Intrigue" with George Raft and June Havoc.

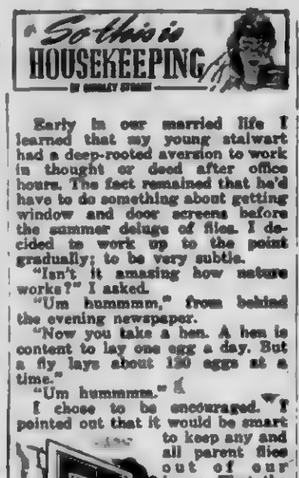
The Wolf Girl Who Is She ? ? ?

The Wolf Girl! Who is She???? A beautiful curvacious creature, the original sensational Wolf Girl, back at Club Alexander, with new angles, new dance, loads of surprises for your entertainment. Joe Conti, of Dead End Kid Fame carries the emcee role in superb fashion, exploding with comedy and new dances. Snuide, exotic and marionette dancer, gay and glittering. Other fine acts on this fine bill make this an outstanding show, new, different, with music, comedy and thrills.



RUSSELL THEATRE

The Russell present Sunday and Monday "Sitting Pretty" with Robert Young and Clifton Webb. A domestic comedy with local gossips as the menace when Clifton Webb takes on the job as a male baby sitter. Robert Young is the papa and Maureen O'Hara is the mamma, but the learn about kids from Webb. It's a mirthquake from start to finish, about the time you get your face straightened out and your stomach muscles relaxed you are in the middle of another laugh spasm. If you want Junior to wash behind his ears and Junior's brother to stop tossing his cereal, see it and double up. Also "Overland Trail" with Johnny Mac Brown and Raymond Hatton. "News and Cartoon."

The Parsons Theater

The Parsons theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "State of the Union" with Spencer Tracy and Katherine Hepburn. Never in screen history a picture so timely. The dramatic compelling story of a man of presidential caliber who battled political bickering and threw away his chances because of his sincere desire to serve the people in the most honest way. The magnificent film version of one of America's great stage hits laden with hard-punching drama. Also "13 Lead Soldiers" with Tom Conway and Marie Palmer. Selected short Subjects.

So this is HOUSEKEEPING

Early in our married life I learned that my young stalwart had a deep-rooted aversion to work in thought or deed after office hours. The fact remained that he'd have to do something about getting window and door screens before the summer deluge of flies. I decided to work up to the point gradually; to be very subtle.

"Isn't it amazing how nature works?" I asked.

"Um hummmm," from behind the evening newspaper.

"Now you take a hen. A hen is content to lay one egg a day. But a fly lays about 120 eggs at a time."

"Um hummmm."

I chose to be encouraged. I pointed out that it would be smart to keep any and all parent flies out of our house. That the only way to accomplish the purpose was to have effective screens. Warming up, I added that I had my mind set on commercial bronze screens because they're strong, won't rust, and withstand corrosion.

Down came the evening paper. "Funny thing you should mention that," says he. "I was thinking about it just today. You know, they used 200 tons of that stuff for the water supply system of the R.C.A. Building at Rockefeller Center, New York City."

I was slightly confused.

"You're right," he went on. "It doesn't rust or corrode. And I've about decided to have it installed all over the house. That rust-proof feature will certainly help the looks of our bathtub and kitchen sink."

"What," I asked weakly, "are you talking about?"

"Just what you were: red brass pipe for our hot and cold water lines."

Up went the evening paper.

At the moment I took it rather calmly. No use getting excited just because he wasn't paying any attention to me. But when the time comes, one Mr. Stuart is likely to be tapped gently on the head with a bronze screen or a red brass pipe . . . depending on which comes in the house first!

Adventures Of Robin Hood At Southland

Robin Hood, the famed bandit of Sherwood Forest, is portrayed by dashing Errol Flynn, and lovely Olivia DeHavilland is aptly cast as Maid Marian in "The Adventures of Robin Hood", Technicolor adventure-romance, opening Sunday at the Southland Theatre. Appealing to all age groups, "The Adventures of Robin Hood" will be shown as a single feature, plus "When a Girl's Beautiful," starring blonde Adele Jergens.

HOLD SWAY WHILE DOC'S AWAY

Rosemary De Camp as nurse Judy Price and Edwin Bruce as newsboy Scrapper Molloy, a new character in the show, are carrying on the good work of CBS' "Dr. Christian" while Jean Hersholt, titular star of the Wednesday drama, vacations in Denmark. Hersholt will return for the July 14 broadcast. Heard locally over WBNS, Wednesdays, 8:30 P. M.

DO YOU KNOW THAT . . . . .

The headquarters building of the New York Telephone Company at 140 West Street, New York City, "is the deepest building below water level in the city," said Albert Mitchell on the Answer Man radio program, its bottom sub-basement being five stories or 65 feet below sea level.

• • •

A Milwaukee restaurateur telephoned the exterminator when he saw a rat in his dining room and before he could say, "Scat, rat!" one of the firm's vehicles equipped with a mobile telephone arrived and the rat was liquidated.

• • •

In addition to the Bell telephone companies, the nation has 6,000 other telephone companies, operating 12,000 central offices serving about 6,000,000 telephones.

• • •

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company, parent organization of the Bell System, was incorporated on February 28, 1885.

• • •

New York City has more telephones than all the nations of Asia put together.

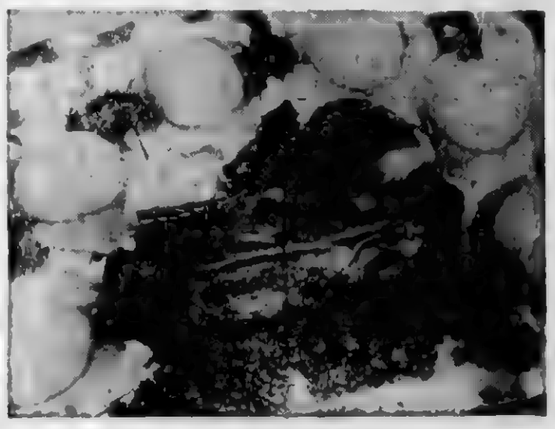
HOME FREEZING EASY WITH NEW GLASS FREEZER JARS

There is a new glass Freezer Jar on the market which is manufactured by the world's largest fruit jar maker. This sturdy, airtight, and leak-proof jar is ideal for home food freezing.

Whether you store your frozen foods in a locker plant or in your own home freezer, you will find these glass Freezer Jars convenient and so easy to use and sure to protect fresh food flavor.

Caps are recessed so that the jars can be stacked, and the caps are lined with a special rubber compound which makes the airtight seal. To empty frozen food from a Freezer Jar, you simply run cool water on the cap or set in pan of cool water, unscrew, and turn the jar upside down. Contents will slide out.



And the beauty of these frozen food containers is that they can be used over and over again—both jars and caps! They also make fine refrigerator jars for storing leftovers and may be used for home canning by sealing with Wide Mouth Ball Dome Caps.

SPICE THAT ROAST

A pot roast of veal garnished with broiled peach halves on broiled pineapple slices.

By BETTY NEWTON

All of the family's favorite dishes need to be changed and dressed up for spring. Relieve the monotony of a pot roast by garnishing it with glazed or spiced canned peaches, oranges, etc.

Glazed Peach Halves on Pineapple Slices

6 pineapple slices
6 peach halves
Currant jelly
1 C. sugar
½ C. water

Dissolve sugar in water and cook to a heavy syrup. Drop pineapple slices in this. Cook until thoroughly heated. Drain and spread with jelly. Cook peach halves the same way and invert over jelly on pineapple. Serve hot with meat.

Fresh Pineapple Brace

Wash fresh pineapple and remove top with a sharp knife; cut around eyes into core of fruit and remove cone shaped segments. Arrange several on a small plate with the point toward center. In the center place a mound of powdered sugar. Garnish with a sprig of mint, or a few strawberries.

Pot Roast

3- to 4-lb. pot roast of veal shoulder
3 Tbsp. fat or salad oil
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
1 sliced, peeled, medium onion
1 Tbsp. water

Brown meat well on all sides in hot fat in Dutch oven or heavy kettle, over medium flame. This may take 20 minutes. Sprinkle with salt and pepper during browning period. Add onion and water; cover quickly and tightly. Simmer slowly over low flame until tender, about 2 hours. Turn meat several times as it cooks, to insure even doneness. If the cover does not fit tightly, you may have to add a tablespoonful or so of water during the cooking period. When meat is tender, remove to hot platter. Keep warm while making gravy.

NANCY By Ernie Bushmiller

HOME-CANNED ASPARAGUS FOR WINTER LUXURY

Asparagus should be canned before the tips loosen. This statement is made in the Ball Blue Book, leading home canning guide. Garden-fresh, sound, clean vegetables are the only kind worth canning and it is a waste of time to can over-ripe, stale, tough produce. But how rewarding it is when crisp, fresh vegetables, canned according to directions given in such a reliable guide as the Ball Blue Book, are opened for winter use!

So lay hands on the first quantity of tender, firm asparagus shoots you can get and put them up in Ball Jars for this winter. Asparagus tips are a luxury dish when snow is on the ground.

Grade the asparagus for size and wash clean. Cut off tough ends and remove the scales which harbor dirt. Place upright in wire basket or in square of cheesecloth and hold three minutes in boiling water which reaches just below the tips. Pack upright in hot Ball Jars, using a knife to guide the last stalks into each jar. Add one teaspoon salt to each quart. Cover with boiling water. Process 40 minutes at 10 pounds pressure. If preferred, asparagus may be cut into two-inch pieces before precooking for packing.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICHIGAN—There's something about an 18th Century Room that is luxurious and hospitable. Keynote to the planning of a dignified friendly traditional room is the simple, forceful lines of the 18th Century cocktail table illustrated. Designed by the Imperial Furniture Company, Grand Rapids, Michigan, it is Duncan Phyfe in styling . . . two drop leaves pull up for the convenience of a much larger table . . . the hand tooled leather top which resists stains of any kind, is practical as well as beautiful. Here is a piece that will hold a place of honor in any home—the expert workmanship of skilled Grand Rapids craftsmen is evident in every line of its graceful styling . . . the exquisite wood and intricate detailing is representative of the true tradition of fine Grand Rapids furniture.

Pretty Church Wedding

Miss Margaret Moder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Moder, 823 Oakwood Av, exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony June 5 at 6:30 p.m. with Donald S. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Smith, 1503 Duxberry Av, at the home of bride's sister, Mrs. Ed. Loos, 956 Carpenter St. The Rev. J. Bronson of Southwood Church of Christ, officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a long gown of rayon net with finger-tip veil to match and a corsage of pale pink sweetheart roses. She carried a white Bible with white satin streamers.

Miss Veronica Nowold, maid of honor, wore a pale blue gown and a corsage of deep pink sweetheart roses. The two bridesmaids, Miss Shirley Finegan and Miss Hattie Jeanl Elkins, wore pale pink taffeta gowns and yellow sweetheart rose corsages.

The best man was the brother of the bridegroom, Richard Smith, and his attendants were Robert Rheinscheid and Philip Moder, Jr. The two ring bearers were sister of the bride, Shirley Moder who wore whita and carried red American Beauty roses, and nephew of the bride, Donald Loos.

Farmer Gets Big Check From Baker

The nation's daily bread — and pies, cakes, doughnuts and sweet rolls — require so much farm produce that the bakers of America are very near the top of the farmer's list of "beat customers."

This close economic relationship of baking and agriculture is illustrated above by the check for $870,000,000 which the bakers spend annually for farm produce.

The baking industry has equal stature by other measurements. According to the American Bakers Association, baking ranks first in the food manufacturing industry in number of employees, motor vehicles, plants, volume of sales, and size of payroll; and second in value of products.

The industry is now nearing the three-billion-dollar total for annual business. Recent studies show that while less than 50 years ago about 95 per cent of all bread was baked at home, 90 per cent or more today is baked in the nation's 30,000 bakeries.

SPORTS

By Walt Tompkins

Sportlight

by GOANTLAND RICE

THERE are more shattered dreams, dislocated hopes and tragedies in a training camp than non-combatants could ever guess.

[illegible] the Yankees, Keller is as clean and as fine a citizen as I ever have known. He was a top student at Maryland. He was a young star with the Yankees. He has known more than one bad break. He was just edging into the money when he was called to war service. Just soon a growth on his spine cut him down.

Keller has been working desperately to get back. The old pain is gone. The suffering is over. But back muscles take time to mend. "I can hit the ball solidly," he told me, "but it doesn't go very far. I need time to rebuild those destroyed muscles. What about the future? Who knows? I can only hope."

There is Spud Chandler, nearing 40, a great pitcher with a kind heart. The chunk they cut from his elbow is still a St Petersburg exhibit. "I'm aiming at 15 wins," Chandler told me. "I won't be far away." Maybe. Maybe not. But here's a man's career hanging in the balance.

Tex Hughson of the Red Sox one of the best Chandler rated Hughson the best in the American League last year Hughson won 12 and lost 11. Not too hot. But he also had a sore arm that called for an operation.

How good will Hughson be this season? Who can say? Hughson in old time shape can win the American League pennant for Joe McCarthy and the Red Sox. A wavering Hughson can bring about their defeat.

If you saw the Kellers, the Chandlers, the Hughsons and others on the borderline, at work, you could sense their background of tragedy or their hopes of better and brighter days. A job [illegible] which you have a wife and a few kids. I mean a job where you belong -a job such as these veterans and others deserve.

There happens to be more than you might know on the human side in a spring training camp, where men from 30 to 39 might be wondering what the next move will be.

* * *

Football Coaches

The [illegible] football season of 1948 at [illegible] in the great [illegible] There are [illegible] Harvard, Indiana, Navy, Michigan, Washington and Kansas, to mention only a few. They are all good men and these [illegible] have the best material will win. Those who haven't, won't.

The most distinct shift belongs to Herman Hickman who left Army for Yale. The poet laureate of the Smoky mountains, who as a fat country [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] would be a football man beneath New Haven's classic elms.

At West Point, Hickman became the best line coach I ever saw. He also became one of the most inspirational factors in all football.

No one can say just yet how Hickman will work out as a head coach in his first year. My guess is that the Smoky mountain lord will do a fine job with even [illegible] material.

Even at football's middle age, Herman knows in advance that he can handle any man on his squad, physically. This was true at Army when he had Coulter, Foldberg, Stelfy and a few other brawny linemen. I've seen Hickman take them on two at a time with his amazingly active 300 or more pounds.

Hickman should make a fine head coach. He has been a great football player and also a great fellow. Between seasons he can take over the chair of mountain poetry at Yale, in which his kinfolk might figure.

The Great Bambino

There is a story marching the rounds that is beyond all telling. Its setting is deep in tragedy but its outline is as brilliant as any rim of stars.

It is the story of Babe Ruth, suffering beyond all comprehension, yet valiantly retracing his path of nearly 30 years ago for the good of baseball, for the good of all kids and for the good of suffering humanity in general. Whatever the cause may be.

It is the story of a man who is much greater nearing the trail's end of glory than he ever was hitting his 714 home runs, and giving a vast nation the greatest thrills that sport [illegible]

Babe Ruth has been my friend for over 30 years -a great guy, set in mammoth proportions of build, heart and appetite, especially when he was starring from 1914 through 1935 in the box, in the field and above all, at bat.

Broken, but not beaten, a relic of the king that was, he is an even greater man today. His head may be bloody—but it remains unbowed.

I have watched his drawn face, where anyone could see his inward suffering, as he autographed baseballs and wrote cards.

Southwood Loses Third Straight

Southwood's tennis team lost its third straight match by 5-0 to Bexley in a Columbus Tennis League match Sunday on the Ohio State varsity courts. Harold Ziegler playing the number one spot for Southwood ran up against the formidable Johnny Young, and took a 8-2, 6-1 lacing. Howie Kempton put it in M. Ziegler, [illegible] and the veteran Dick Paugh defeated Earl Halter, 6-0, 6-1.

In doubles, Paugh and Jim Wollett and Charley Kramer, 6-2, 6-3, while Kempton and Young raced back into action to down H. Ziegler and Halter, 6-2, 6-1.

The lack of playing facilities and courts is still very much against the determined Southwood gang. However their spirit is just as good as the top teams in the league.

Below is the team standing:

Grandview	3-0
Olentangy Village	3-0
Arlington	2-1
Columbus Tennis Club	2-1
Bexley	1-2
Westgate	0-2
Beatty Park	0-2
Southwood	0-3
	W-L

The league will suspend play the Fourth of July weekend. However on July 11 Beatty Park is scheduled to play at Southwood, that is if the courts are ready for play by then. This will be Southwood's first home match since formation of the league last year.

Oakwood W. S. C. S.

Business meeting at 10:30 with Mrs. H. B. Black presiding, followed by "Study of Prayer," presented by Mrs. G. H. Nader.

12:15 P. Bring it Lunch.

Mrs. Doris Pavemore will be in charge of the afternoon program. The [illegible] Methodist in Europe."

You Can't Move And Get Benefits

Columbus, Ohio, July 1 A person who, having been employed in one locality moves to another in which the opportunities for employment are limited or practically non-existent, is not eligible for unemployment benefits under the Ohio Law, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation's Board of Review ruled today.

The unanimous decision came in the case of a woman who had applied for benefits in St. Petersburg, Fla., after having voluntarily quit her job in a large Cleveland store. Upon leaving Cleveland, the woman had first gone to Illinois where she had remained for six months and then to St. Petersburg where she stayed for another two months. Thereafter, she had returned to Cleveland, and, within a week of her return, had secured a new job.

The Board found that the woman had not been in the labor market in Illinois and that no work opportunities existed for her in St. Petersburg during the two months she lived there. The fact that the woman had purchased a house while in Florida with the intention of renting rooms for income purposes indicated that she was not in the labor market at the time she applied for benefits, the Board said.

The Board therefore based its denial of the woman's benefit claim on that section of the Ohio Law which requires that a claimant be able and available for work in his usual trade or occupation or in any other trade or occupation for which he is reasonably fitted.

Shelter House Open For Inspection

All day Monday, July 5th, the Schiller Park Shelter House will be open for public inspection.

The shelter house has just recently had a complete overhauling, with a new heating plant, new rest rooms, remodeled gym, newly decorated through out and roof and spouting repaired.

These repairs amounted to $40,000 and has added greatly to the recreation facilities here in our community.

A delegation of the Council of South Side Organizations, some months ago, called on Mayor James A. Rhodes to remodel the shelter house.

Schiller Park now has the finest shelter house and gym of all the city parks.

Fish Diet Good For Brain?

Reports by the Ohio Division of Conservation of heavy catches of fish throughout the State would indicate that Ohio anglers are headed for higher level of intelligence providing the old notion that fish is a brain food is true.

Science, however, does not recognize any one food as more beneficial to the brain than another. What food is good for the whole body is also good for the brain.

Fish meat is considered rich in phosphorus and a German scientist of the nineteenth century started the idea, "No phosphorus, no thought". As a matter of fact, the human brain attains almost its full size during the first six years of a child's life and during the time when its chief article of diet is milk.

The flesh of fish is lighter and more easily digested than most of the flesh meats and therefore it is a suitable and desirable food for so-called brain workers or persons engaged in occupations involving little physical exertion and much mental labor.

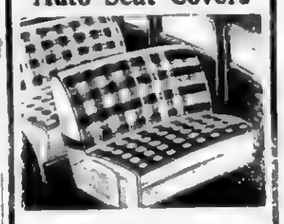
Whether or not fish flesh is a brain builder, a major portion of the population consider freshly fried fish as a special treat especially when some member of the family has had the thrill of producing the catch. And the sooner the fish hits the skillet after being yanked from the water, the better the flavor.

Fisherman who want to enjoy a real outdoor delicacy should take along a skillet on an early morning fishing trip and fry the catch when there's enough on the stringer to make a normal sized breakfast. It will be a meal to be long remembered and will furnish conversation material for many months.

Ohio State Adviser Wins Contest

Mrs. Adelyn Curphey, student advisor at Ohio State University, received delivery of a new 1918 DeSoto today. For finishing a jingle which was judged best, out of thousands in the recent "American Sweepstakes" contest sponsored by the American Burlington Business from coast to coast.

Official presentation was made by Prof. N. N. Luxon Administration Assistant to the President of Ohio State; Charles F. Warden, Ex. Ass't. and Elmer W. Hinckleman, Eastern Sales Mgr. of American Burlington Business; at the University grounds. Delivery was made through George Byers & Son Columbus dealer.



Mrs. Curphey, a native of Columbus and Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Ohio State has returned to the school as personal advisor in the student employment department. She entered the contest to amuse her mother with whom she lives. Her son, John, after three years of service in the Pacific, is now at the University, as a student.

Miss Mary Shade Is Married To Robert Phelps

The marriage ceremony for Miss Mary Jane Shade, 1023 Miller Av, and Robert Phelps, 2268 Dublin Rd, was solemnized Sunday afternoon, April 15, at 2:30 o'clock in the Broad St Church of Christ. Palms, ferns and candela bra formed the setting before which Dr. Floyd Filson read the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Jacob Shade, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen J. Phelps.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white bridal satin with a sheer illusion yoke edged with a satin bertha. The skirt was ranged up in rosettes of seed pearls and terminated in a long train. A bustle was a feature of the skirt of the gown and the fingertip veil of French illusion fell from a corset of orange blossoms. She carried a small white Bible topped with white gardenias.

Maid of honor, Miss Constance Stenman, wore a gown of light green taffeta styled with a sheer illusion yoke and full leg-of-mutton sleeves. Bridesmaid, Miss Patricia Moore, wore an orchid gown and both carried colonial bouquets of red roses, carnations and sweetpeas.

Best man was Richard Jones. Ushers were Gene Shade brother of the bride, George Ohlinger and Richard Gausch.

The reception followed in the church, hostesses being Mrs. Herbert Shade, Mrs. Albert Shade and Mrs. Paul Barnes.

Miss Joan Stubbins To Marry J. Keadey

Announcement is being made of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Joan M. Stubbins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Stubbins, Sr., 1010 S. 22nd St. to Mr. James W. Keadey, son of Mrs. Herman Planck, 190 Hinman Ave. and Mr. Harry Keadey, 311 Wall St.

The bride-elect is a graduate of South High School and is affiliated with the American Education Press. Mr. Keadey, also a South graduate is a Junior in the College of Commerce at Ohio State University, and at present is employed at the Veteran's Administration.

The open church wedding will be an event of August 7th at 7:00 p. m. at the South Methodist Church

News In The World Of Religion

Since the withdrawal of the British from India, and the great trek of refugees between India and Pakistan began almost a year ago, Church World Service, as the agent of Protestant churches in the United States, has sent 987,000 lbs. of supplies to Pakistan and 578,000 lbs. to India. This has been largely wheat and evaporated milk for the refugees. Some of these supplies were sent via the "Lincoln Friendship Train" which was a joint project in the agricultural states of CWS and Lutheran World Relief. Recent word from Dr. B. L. Rallia Ram, directing relief measures in Pakistan, reports the food situation in West Punjab as "extremely serious", and that 10,000 tons of wheat are needed to feed more than 1,000,000 refugees there.

"The churches are more and more showing zest toward introducing young people to the need of a fundamental understanding of the Christian faith," says Darwin R. Bryan, director of youth and recreation in the Ohio Farm Bureau. "This Christian faith, rooted in a basic concern for others, must be nurtured as never before known in the history of our churches. Verbal expressions and the written word enlightening youth about God and Christ are beginning steps in the process of seeking youth's participation in church development. Along with these must go wise adult leadership which allows young people individually and mutually to express their ideas about the problems of Christianity as it applies within everyday living."

The first model agricultural colony for lepers in all China is now in the process of establishment at Hangchow, Cheklang Province, it is reported by the American Mission to Lepers which sponsors the project jointly with the London Mission to Lepers. While it is estimated that there are more than 1,000,000 lepers in China they have been cared for largely in "asylums" or have been free to move among the people, while modern control — as in India and in parts of Africa — call for "happy villages" where victims of the disease live useful lives segregated in small colonies where they are able to learn and pursue some crafts, farming, gardening, care of animals, etc. The Hangchow colony will care for 200 patients.

Dr. Frank C. Laubach, world-renowned "apostle of literacy", has recently been travelling and teaching and inspiring teachers and missionaries throughout Africa, under the auspices of the Committee on World Literacy and Christian Literature, a department of the Foreign Missions Conference of North America. During his African journeys, in which he was accompanied by his son, Robert, and by other language and educational specialists, Dr. Laubach has laid the basis for picture-word teaching in some forty different tribal and national languages. In Sierra Leone, literacy charts and first lessons were produced in Kono (spoken by 100,000 people), in Kru, Patna, Temme, and Limba; in Liberia, in Bassa, Kpelle, Mano and in five other tongues used by smaller groups; in the Gold Coast, in Ga, Ewe, Twi, Ishanti, and Fanti; in Nigeria, in Hausa and Yoruba and in six other less-used languages.

The American Friends Service Committee (Quakers) works closely with organized labor in many of its undertakings overseas. It was recently given 76 microscopes by the CIO and AFL to be used by Quaker relief teams in India. In Austria and Hungary, committees of young apprentice members of trade unions have worked with Quaker teams to distribute food and clothing to workers, often because of their heavy labor, found to be among the neediest groups. In Austria, the Quaker team also works with the trade unions to help run rest homes to which weary apprentices may go for several months of fresh air, good food and recreation.

Endorsing the work of the Boys' Clubs of America and similar organizations working with youth, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said recently: "Good citizens develop, so do criminals. Each is the product of training, opportunity and surroundings. Both have one thing in common — their early years foretell their future. Youth is the time to prepare for the full life of the future. Study, work and recreation, with the aid of a good home which earnestly seeks spiritual as well as mental and physical development of its children, leads to good citizenship. These are the forces that create a feeling of personal responsibility and equip youth to face future with confidence and courage. . . . America needs youthful viewpoints with youthful hopes. It needs boys who will bring vitality to the homes, the schools, the churches and to every arena of endeavor. It needs future citizens who believe in God."

LET DAUGHTER HELP!

Cup cakes, easy to make and fun to decorate in many ways.

By BETTY NEWTON

Now that school is out, let the youngsters help. Young daughters love to say, "I helped make these cakes." Here are 2 easy "beginners' dishes."

Cup Cakes

2 C. cake flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
½ C. shortening
1 C. sugar
2 eggs
¾ C. milk

Assemble all the utensils that will be needed, such as mixing bowl, paper cups, and muffin pans. Grease the muffin pans if not using paper cups; otherwise place one paper cup in each space. Light the oven and set the heat control at 375 degrees. Sift the flour one time before measuring. Measure the baking powder and salt. Then combine the flour, baking powder, and salt, and sift them one time. Next, mix the ingredients. Put shortening in the bowl. Beat it with a wooden spoon until it is light and fluffy, like whipped cream. Add a little sugar at a time. Beat after each addition of sugar until all has been added. Beat in the eggs one at a time. When smooth, light and fluffy (lots of beating won't do any harm.) Stir in about one-fourth of the flour, baking powder and salt. Then mix in about one-third of the milk. Continue adding the flour, then milk, until all are added. Beat mixture a few strokes to blend it well. Too much beating is not good. Pour into the cake cups filling them about ⅔ full. Place in 375 degree oven and bake about 10 to 15 minutes or until a golden brown and firm to touch.

Baked Custard

4 eggs
½ C. sugar
¾ tsp. salt
4 C. milk
1 tsp. vanilla

Turn oven on and set heat control to 300 degrees. Beat the eggs until the yolks and whites are well blended. Stir in the sugar, salt, and flavoring. Add a small amount of the milk and blend the mixture; then stir in the rest of the milk. Pour the mixture into individual custard cups. Set in shallow pan; pour in hot water to 1" from tops of cups. Bake at 300 degrees for about 1 hour. To test the custard, place a knife into the center of the custard. It is done when the knife comes out clean. Cool before serving.

Nice Church Wedding

Gowned in traditional bridal white, Miss Ruth Louise Evans was escorted by her father down the candlelit aisle of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church Saturday, June 19, to become the bride of Mr. George Louis Pry. The Rev. George S. Schultz performed the double ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. before an altar decorated with palms, ferns, seven branch candelabra and bouquets of calla lillies.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Evans, 704 Stanley Ave., and Mr. Pry's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Burley Pry of Crestline.

Mr. Don and Mr. Gene Geherich, cousins of the bridegroom, presented a program of vocal music before the service. They were accompanied by Miss Lizette Bangert Lang at the organ.

The bride's satin gown was styled with a fitted bodice and a satin bertha bordering a pointed yoke of net illusion. Long sleeves came to points over her hands. The full skirt was fashioned with hip panniers and a ruffled bustle, and terminated in a cathedral train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was edged in lace and held in place with a headdress banded in pearls and satin. She carried a satin-covered prayer book topped with a cabbage rose and a shower arrangement of satin streamers and stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

The bride was attended by Miss Margaret Mynar as maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Anita Simmermon and Miss Edith Hoisington. They wore dresses of nile green taffeta styled with off-shoulder necklines bordered with pleated berthas. The gathered skirts were caught up to reveal yellow petticoats. The attendants wore matching mitts and carried colonial bouquets of yellow roses.

Ann Koch was flower girl in a white off-shoulder taffeta frock, the skirt of which fell over an old-fashioned hoop skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow daisies and wore a crown of yellow daisies in her hair.

Mr. Joe Vucovich of Crestline served as best man while seating the guests were Mr. Lee DeLoteile of Portsmouth and Mr. Vernon Oswald of Hartville.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception for 125 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother was attired in a gown of seafoam green and at her shoulder she pinned a corsage of pink shattered carnations. The bridegroom's mother chose a sheer black gown and her corsage was of white shattered carnations.

Before the young couple left for a two-week wedding trip, the bride donned a light blue bolero suit with ballerina skirt. Her accessories were brown and white and her corsage was the cabbage rose from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of South High School and is a junior at Ohio State University. The bridegroom is a graduate of Ohio State University and is continuing his studies in the graduate school there.

They will reside at 704 Stanley Ave. until September, when the bridegroom will follow his profession of teaching.

Despite the high cost of travel, crowded hotels, and the boredom of spending several days in a town in which you know only one person, every man should accompany his bride on the honeymoon. It may be the last vacation he ever gets.

Gates-Fourth And St. Pauls To Hold Union Services

As Pegler Sees It

By Westbrook Pegler
Released by WNU Features

IT IS A FOREGONE CONCLUSION that the Democratic candidate will be defeated next November. It is even possible that President Truman will be rejected by his own party, but, in any case, THE REPUBLICAN NOMINEE WILL BE THE NEXT PRESIDENT.

That being the fact, and it is a fact which awaits mere confirmation, not decision, all Republican aspirants may safely repudiate all that Roosevelt promised in his conferences with Stalin and all that Mr. Truman promised after he took office. Mr. Truman lacked the knowledge, experience and presence of mind to decide immediately that Roosevelt had betrayed the United States. Therefore he began his presidency by carrying out the undertakings that Roosevelt had assumed.

It took him a year to admit to himself that this was a course harmful and unfaithful to the United States, and somewhat longer to reverse it. This he has finally done in effect but, of course, without saying in so many words that Roosevelt had let Stalin make a fool of him or that Roosevelt deliberately double-crossed the civilized nations.

Methods Are Identical

It is too bad that we do not maintain an array of garters, cordons and rosettes with which to assuage the sorrow of ultimate failure and dismissal when men make terrible mistakes in high office. Gen. George Marshall should have one with diamonds on it the order of the one-way neck, first-class. He remained a cadet all his life. Even when he had five stars on each shoulder, he was always nodding "yes." After Roosevelt was gone he began to discover facts about Stalin and his regime that all honest Americans who concerned themselves at all about politics had known all along.

"A depressing aspect of the situation is the duplication in Europe of the high-handed and calculated procedure of the Nazi regime," he said recently. "The organization of the satellite states under the methods of the police state formula was carried out rather quietly.

"The take-over of Hungary was a bolder exhibition of the same technique. The directed and fomented strikes in France and Italy were evidence of the same direction and procedure. The Czechoslovakia incident, however, was bold and truculent, quite evidently staged to impress the people of Finland and the remainder of the free states of western Europe. This is a world-wide struggle between freedom and tyranny."

General Marshall must be too intelligent not to have known when Roosevelt showed him the first fateful signs of favoritism that this was the character of the Russian rulers. Roosevelt himself knew it but he simply could not think honestly.

Disowns The Commies

In 1940, some may remember, Roosevelt was having Communist trouble and wanted to disown them, and throw them on Wendell Willkie. Communist support was an embarrassment just then because the Communists and Hitler were allies.

To achieve this effect Roosevelt got the department of justice to issue a deportation order against the wife of Earl Browder. Then the Democratic national committee turned out a statement boasting that the same department of justice had convicted Browder himself and sent him to prison for falsely swearing to get an American passport to carry on Russian espionage in Europe. Finally, toward the close of the campaign, Roosevelt made a speech in Brooklyn in which he repudiated Communist support.

Two years later, the same department of justice invented for Mrs. Browder's special benefit the shyster trick of crossing into Canada and re-entering the United States as a quota immigrant. The same trick later was used by Mrs. Roosevelt's friend and political protege, Hanns Eisler, one of the worst conspirators, and by thousands of doubtful refugees. One American consul resigned in protest at this rotten dodge in the Irene Browder case.

Soon afterward, Roosevelt released Browder from Atlanta and, of course, all of us, except perhaps Marshall and Truman, know that it was necessary to detail FBI men to the state department to turn up Communist spies planted there through the White House. These are facts. Communists in the labor relations board. Communists in the department of justice. In the war and navy departments. In Puerto Rico. In the office of war information and the communications commission. In the C.I.O. Thousands of them known to everyone willing to make the effort to learn and honest enough to admit the truth to himself.

THE PLACE TO BEGIN FIGHTING COMMUNISM IS IN THE UNITED STATES.

Know Auto Tires? Here's An Opportunity

We know where their is an exceptional opportunity for a young man who knows the tire and vulcanizing business. The owner wishes to retire.

The business is on a main highway in a good populated neighborhood. You can drive a car into the place to change tires. There is a show room where you can handle auto accessories and tires.

Besides this, there is a four-room apartment for your living quarters.

The owner will sell you his equipment or you can use your own.

Anyone interested can call Mr. Walcutt, GA 9383 or GA 71121 during the day.

Please don't call unless you are thoroughly experienced as the apartment only goes with the business.

To explain further, the owner has nothing to sell, but the leases must have working capital.

Miss Owens And Mr. Studer Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Owens, 346 Deshler Ave., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jean Ann, to Louis C. Studer, formerly of Columbus now residing in Redondo Beach, Calif., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Studer, 657 E. Jeffrey Pl.

Miss Owens is a graduate of St. Joseph Academy, and attended Ohio State University. She is now associated with the State Automobile Mutual Insurance Co.

Mr. Studer is a graduate of New Lexington High School and Ohio State University in the college of architectural engineering. While at Ohio State Mr. Studer was an active member of the Alpho Rho Chi Fraternity. He is now associated with Morlan and Hite, architects, Redondo Beach.

For her maid of honor the bride elect has chosen Miss Rosella Breitfeller, and her other attendants will be Miss Jeanne Baker, Miss Betty Kulp and Miss Marguerite Studer, sister of the bridegroom. Mr. Studer's best man will be Mr. Farnk Sacher of Cleveland, and seating the guests will be Mr. Harold Breitfeller, Mr. Howard Hall and Mr. William Sharrard.

The wedding will be an open church event of July 10 at 9 a.m. in St. Leo Church, the Rev. Msgr. Bernard Vogel officiating.

Red Cross Swimming Classes

Classes in swimming and Junior and Senior Life Saving ... rity and county swimming po... which are participating in the WBNS-Red Cross Water Safety program are announced today. Instruction is by certified Red Cross instructors and is furnished by pool managements at no extra cost to the pool's membership ticket.

This is the third consecutive year that the WBNS-Red Cross Water Safety campaigns have been held in Franklin County, although this year's program includes both junior and senior life saving as well as beginner swimming.

Parents, and children, may register for any of the classes at the swimming pool in which membership is held.

Time of classes scheduled at the pools is as follows: EXCELSIOR, Tuesday and Thursday 10:00 - 12:00 a. m.; CRYSTAL, Tuesday and Wednesday, 10:30 - 12:00 a. m.; BATH CLUB, Monday through Friday, 10:00 - 12:00 a. m.; NU-SANITARY Tuesday and Thursday, 10:00 - 12:00 a. m.; GRANDVIEW, Thursday, 10:00 - 12:00 a. m.; UPPER ARLINGTON Monday through Saturday, 10:00 - 12:00 a. m.; MORNINGSIDE, Tuesday and Thursday, 10:00-12:00 a. m.; OLYMPIC, Tuesday and Thursday, 10:00 - 12:00 a. m.; GLENGARY, Monday through Friday, 10:00 - 12:00 a. m. and adult classes, evenings at 7:00 p.m., WINDING HOLLOW COUNTRY CLUB, Monday through Friday, 10:00 - 12:00 a. m.

Interest Shown In Suitable Name For Park

Mrs. Anna Kinser, 1456 Wager St. has suggested the following names for the new park on Greenlawn Ave: South Side Patriotic Park, South Side's Greenlawn Heroe's Park, South Side's Old Glory Park, South Side's Greenlawn's Red, White and Blue Park, South Side's Heroe's Recreation Park, Green lawn's Peace Recreation Park.

Mrs. H. J. Ording, 93 Mithoff St. suggests the name Public Recreation Service Grounds.

H. Wagner writes that if the Park is to commemorate the boys who saw service in World War II why not call it Service Park. Mr. Wagner sees the advantage of this park for recreation for the different organizations. Mrs. Oscar Wohlfarth, 242 Lansing St. suggests the name South Memorial Park and Playgrounds. She also writes that the Junior ball players of the South Side are very grateful for the park where they are allowed to play ball.

A. P. Kuhn Celebrates 50th Anniversary

Mr. A. P. Kuhn, of the Kuhn Dry Goods Co., says that both he and his store are celebrating their fiftieth year in the same building.

The Kuhn Dry Goods Co. is located at Seibert St. and Parsons Ave.

No higher recommendation can be said of any man, or business, than that kind of record. As you can't stay in business 50 years without giving service, quality goods, and honest dealing.

Then there is another side to A. P. Kuhn, who loves boys, and has given years of Scout Leadership, plus helping the South Side Y. M. C. A. and other boys groups.

Kuhn is a rather quiet, modest man, who does things for the community and refrains from talking about it.

How about some of you Dads and Grandads, A. P. Kuhn has helped, stop in his place of business and give him a pat on the back. He deserves it.

Club Alexander

Jack Carr is the current emcee at Club Alexander and when you hear his patter of comedy you will make up your mind that you have never laughed so hard in your life. His singing is fine and entertaining. Madeline Lewis, acrobatic speciality, which is a masterpiece of art, and last but not least Marlene Milland, in dances of love, colorful and graceful. All in all a superb show.

IDEAL THEATER

The Ideal presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Cass Timberlane" with Spencer Tracy and Lana Turner. This is based on Sinclair Lewis' widely-read novel, and is the true love story of a judge who falls in love and marries a girl from "the other side of the tracks." When their baby is still-born Lana becomes restless and engages in a flirtation with the judge's best friend. The judge and his wife quarrel and she falls ill but her recovery is speeded when she realizes how patient and fair a man he is. He in turn realizes that his wife understands the true meaning of love. Also "Rhythm of the Saddle" with Gene Autrey and Smiley Burnett. A "Cartoon" completes this show.

The Parsons Theater

The Parsons Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Adventures of Casonova" starring Arturo De Cordova. Romance takes a back seat to adventure in this cloak and dagger picture made in Mexico. Impressive palaces, gorgeous costumes of the 18th century. Casonova portrayed by Arturo De Cordova in this picture spends more time in the battle field than in his girl friends' boudoirs. He is the leader of Sicilian patroits who have revolted against their Austrian conquerors. This picture gives plenty of excitement with hard fought duels and troops of saber wielding horsemen with a leader who outwitted and outfought a tyrant's army. Also "Enchanted Valley" with Alan Curtis and Ann Owynn. Selected short subjects.

Special Matinee

The Southland Theatre, and all Academy Theatres, will feature special holiday matinees, beginning at 1:30 p.m., on Sunday and Monday, July 4th and 5th.

"Arch of Triumph," thrilling new romantic drama starring Ingrid Bergman and Charles Boyer, will head the Southland's sparkling holiday program. Adapted from Erich Maria Remarque's best-selling novel, "Arch of Triumph" is set against the glamorous background of post-war Paris.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Tenth Avenue Angel" with Margaret O'Brien and George Murphy. A drama with an angel who will wing her way into your heart. Margaret is cuter and more adorable than ever. She believes in miracles and makes them come true. She plays cupid and works wonders, and amazing child in a charming picture. Also "Are You With It" with Donald O'Connor and Olga San Juan.

RUSSELL THEATRE

The Russell presents Sunday & Monday "The Naked City" with Barry Fitzgerald and Dorothy Hart. Mark Hellinger's last and greatest screen triumph, the taut, true tale of New York and its people and of the law which stepped in to avenge the murder of one lonely woman who tried to burn the candle at both ends and found peace only in death. This picture was filmed almost entirely on location in New York during 24 exciting hours. Also "Campus Sleuth" with Freddy Stewart and June Preisser. "News and Cartoon" complete this show.

Strangely enough the folks most apt
To lend a hand to you
Are those who are already rushed
With countless things to do.
And should bad luck befall you and
Misfortunes smack you prone,
The ones who'll help you most are
Those with troubles of their own.

Miracle Of Bells At Southland

"The Miracle of the Bells", now playing at the Southland theatre. MacMurray has the role of a Hollywood press-agent in this poignant romantic drama, and Frank Sinatra co-stars in the role of a young priest. "Queen of the Amazons" is being shown with "The Miracle of the Bells," through Saturday night at the Southland.

AT THE VICTOR THEATER SUNDAY

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affect the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Bills of Every Individual National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare.

Even the interminable debate over U. S.-U. S. S. R. relations hasn't been able to obscure the Palestine problem. The once-quiet Holy Land, which used to seem almost as remote as another planet to most Americans, is now at the core of the world's difficulties. The warfare which is going on there is not a localized contest between the Jews and the Arabs. It has an ominously direct bearing on the prospects for world peace, and for world economic rehabilitation.

The most startling development in the Palestine crisis was President Truman's recognition of the new Jewish state, Israel. Israel is a tiny and poor country, and its population is under a million. It cannot sustain itself. Mr. Truman's recognition was given with almost unprecendented suddenness—Israel's government was not even completely organized. There are grounds for believing that he acted against the advice of some top State Department officials. And one result of that action was to create the first serious cleavage between us and England.

Britain, one more or less neutral when it came to Jew-Arab differences, has been supporting the Arabs for a considerable time. She has supplied the Arabian states with arms and other supplies, and her position is unequivocal. It is now common knowledge that our recognition of Israel, which, in effect, aligned us against England, caused shock followed by rage in Britain's Foreign Office. On the other hand, it seemed to please the Soviet Union, which is now standing on the sidelines with a watchful eye on Middle East Oil.

Oil, of course, is what gives the Jew-Arab war its worldwide significance. Of the world's known oil reserves, according to a United States News and World Report summing up, the Middle East has more than 27 million barrels out of a total of 47 million. All the plans for world recovery, including our ERP, are based on putting this oil to use. British and U. S. oil companies, and, to a lesser extent, the French, have been carrying on intensive development of the fields, building pipelines, etc. The war has imperiled this work. In some sections constructions has been halted entirely, and the danger of destruction of facilities which have been built is intense.

It is thus to the interest of all the Western powers to bring hostilities to a halt as soon as possible. But, in spite of occasional truces, no workable program, acceptable to both Arabs and Jews, has been offered. The two races feel a burning hatred for each other. Both sides regard the conflict as a holy war, with all the fanaticism and passionate purpose that engenders.

The Arabs have an enormous advantage in numbers and land area. However, according to military observers, they are temperamentally unsuited to modern, organized warfare. The Jews, on the other hand, have shown a definite talent for organization. Their army and their underground are led by men with wide combat experience. They seem to be well supplied with weapons, and they are schooled in guerilla tactics. So they have held their own.

Just how conflicting U. S. and British policy in Palestine can be reconciled, and how a peace may be secured, is the great question. The crystal ball is clouded now. But everyone is agreed that it must be done if the world is to have the vital Middle Eastern oil and the Western powers' plans for world rehabilitation are to go through.

What is the outlook for business activity, prices, wages, etc., for the next year or so?

The economics seems to be in reasonable agreement. There is no foreseeable decline in industrial production in general. No one is talking about depressions, except as a very long range possibility. Employment, consequently, will remain high.

More wage increases are on the way—General Motors' recent agreement with the auto workers probably indicates the pattern.

It is expected that there will be some rise in commodity prices, perhaps averaging three or four per cent by the end of the year. Some prices will naturally go up more than others. The new Ford cars, as an example, cost about 8 per cent more than the previous models. Only moderate increases in food prices are forecast.

The influence of the preparedness program, which will cost about $13,000,000,000, during the next fiscal year, is being watched closely. This, coming on top of the European Aid Program, will place another heavy burden on basic industries. That drain may be severe in the case of materials now in short supply. From the consumer's point of view, it will be marked by a smaller production of automobiles and similar goods than would be the case otherwise.

There is a possibility that the tax cut given taxpayers this year may not be continued in the next. It all depends on the relationship between Federal income and outgo. Neither party, in an election year, seems willing to do much more than talk about government economy.

Mary Faye Bobb Mr. Groezinger Married Recently

Before a candlelit altar decorated with white snapdragons and ferns in the Ohio Ave. Evangelical United Brethren Church, Miss Mary Faye Bobb, daughter of Mr. Isaac W. Bobb, 77 Kingston Ave., Grove City, became the bride of Mr. William Richard Groezinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Groezinger, 437 Deshler Ave., on Apr. 10, at 7:30 p.m.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her brother, Mr. Glenn Bobb. Her dress was of lustrous white satin with a sheer yoke edged in white satin. The full skirt was shirred at two points in front to reveal a ruffled hoopskirt of white marquisette. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seeded pearls and her only jewelry was a rhinestone necklace, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Eva Painter, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Alma Bobb and Miss Thelma Gregg. The attendants wore identical gowns of pink taffeta fashioned similarly to the bride's. They carried colonial bouquets of pink shattered carnations and blue forget-me-nots. Judy Tilton and Donald Tilton, niece and nephew of the bridegroom, served as flower girl and ringbearer.

Mr. Lewis Stauch served as best man and the ushers were Richard Painter, Warren Groezinger and Earnest Ganz.

They reside at 928 W. Town St.

Miss Wagner Is Married To Mr. Mann

A background of peonies, snapdragons and gladioli surrounded by lighted candles formed the setting in St. Mary's Church Saturday morning, May 29, for the nuptial high mass which united in marriage Miss Jeanne Wagner, daughter of Mrs. N. J. Wagner, 289 Reinhard-av., and the late Nicholas Wagner, to Kenneth Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs Albert Mann, 819 Beech-st.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, William D. Wagner. She wore a gown of billowy white marquisette. The bouffant skirt, extending into a long cathedral train, had cascades of ruffles. Silk illusion forming the veil was held in place by a coronet of imported Irish lace. She carried a prayer book, to which was attached a corsage of camellias and baby breath.

Mrs. Grace Meyer served as maid of honor. She wore a gown of pink marquisette fashioned with an embroidered tight-fitting bodice and full skirt. She carried a bouquet of blue and white carnations, with a matching headpiece.

Norman Mann, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Seating the guests were Jack Schmidt, Charles Williams, and Bill Henthorne.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at the Seneca Hotel. A reception was held in the evening at the home of the bride. Serving as hostesses were Marjorie Dunn, Betty Bingmer and Theresa Coyle.

Mrs. Wagner greeted her guests in a dress of beige and brown crepe with brown accessories and at her shoulder she pinned a corsage of yellow mums. Mrs. Mann wore a blue dress with white accessories and her corsage was of pink roses.

The new Mrs. Mann is a graduate of St. Mary High School and is now associated with the Ohio Bankers Association. Mr. Mann is also a graduate of St. Mary High School and is associated with the Columbus Terminal Warehouse.

Following their honeymoon in Michigan, the couple resides at 824 Ebner-st.

Visitor: "How did your horse happen to win the race?"

Jockey: "Well, I just kept whispering in his ear, "Roses are red, violets are blue; horses that lose are made into glue.'"

A CHICKEN DELICACY

A barbecue sauce makes broiled chicken a real delicacy

By BETTY NEWTON

Chicken broiled with a barbecue sauce is a delicacy which will surpass all expectations! When served with that all-American favorite, corn pudding, and topped off with fresh peach cobbler for dessert, you'll have all kinds of compliments flying your way.

Barbecued Chicken

2 broilers
4 Tbsp. vinegar
4 Tbsp. catsup
2 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 bay leaf
1 clove garlic (minced)
2 Tbsp. minced onion
½ C. minced celery
2 Tbsp. lemon juice
¾ C. water
½ C. drippings
1 tsp. salt

Arrange quartered or halved broilers on broiling pan, but not on broiling rack. Pour the barbecue sauce over them. Place on low broiling position and broil under low flame about 1 hour or until tender. Turn chicken often and baste often with the sauce from the pan.

Barbecue Sauce: — Mix all ingredients together and simmer a few minutes before pouring over chicken.

Fresh Corn Pudding

2½ C. milk
1 Tbsp. fat
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
⅛ tsp. paprika
2 Tbsp. corn meal
2 C. fresh corn
¼ C. minced onion
1 Tbsp. minced green pepper
1 Tbsp. minced pimento
2 eggs

Scald 2 C. of milk. Melt fat in it. Mix salt, pepper, paprika, and meal and stir into hot milk. Cook over hot water about 10 minutes. Mix corn, onion, pepper, pimento, and slightly beaten eggs. Add hot mixture slowly and mix well. Turn into a greased casserole and bake at 300 degrees about one hour.

Miss Shirley Hartman Is A Bride

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hartman, 765 Jaeger St, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Shirley, to Theodore J. Schultz, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Schultz, 391 Forest St., Saturday, June 19.

The marriage vows were exchanged in St. Mary's Church, the Rev. Fr. Carl Jones officiating.

For her marriage the bride chose a white satin gown cut on slim, princess lines and embroidered about the throat with tiny seed pearls. Her full veil fell from a heart-shaped coronet of lace. The bridal bouquet was of white roses.

Miss Patricia Greek, maid of honor, was in pale pink.

Thomas Schultz was best man for his brother.

Miss Nancy Stammler in orchid and Miss Mildred Heck in pale yellow were the bridesmaids.

The bride is a graduate of South High School, and the bridegroom of St. Mary's.

The wedding breakfast followed at the Southern Hotel.

Sally: "What's your idea of a simple wedding?"

Joan: "One that costs only twice as much as the family can afford."

Your Home
By Frances Ainsworth

One look was enough! I was trying on my swim suit and right then and there decided to reduce! It doesn't take an extra mirror to know that I'd look younger and feel better. My doctor told me that excess fat is most often the result of eating more than the body needs!

But we women who keep house know how hard it is to diet while fixing meals for the whole family . . . especially if they are hearty eaters. Then I discovered in my grocery store a simple reducing plan for overweights in normal health. It was printed right on the back of a newly designed package of Ry-Krisp . . . that whole grain rye bread with only 23 calories in each double square wafer.

This reducing plan is especially handy for housewives because one doesn't have to count calories. I just choose whatever I like from the lists of foods. The size of the serving gives me my calorie count. It's a diet my husband can follow, too. I can use these lists as a guide for family meals, as well as meals eaten away from home.

One of the biggest advantages of this "printed on the package" reducing plan is—it's a handy "eat right" reminder where it's needed most — in the kitchen!

When Noah sailed the ocean blue.
He had his troubles like me and you
Days and days he'd drive his ark
Before he saw a place to park.

30,000 SEE FIREWORKS

The Fourth of July Celebration in Schiller Park was a huge success, with a large crowd turning out to the fireworks.

The estimate by members of the City Police department, who so ably directed the crowds, placed the estimate at more than 30,000.

From the start of the games contest, to the grand finale of the American flag in fireworks, it showed the careful planning of E. L. Lensenmeyer, chairman of the program committee for the Council of South Side Organizations.

A short address by C. L. Dumaree, chairman of the Council of South Side Organizations, was the only speaker on the program.

The Moose Junior Band, and its snappy majorettes furnished the music for the program.

This fine band with just a few months training, is going to be heard from in the future, and will be a pride of the South Side. Their director, Don Port, is to be commended for his splendid direction.

The early training of the majority of the Moose Junior Band was received under the training of Herb Germaine of Barrett Jr. High School, and Donald Neer of South High School. Many of this band now play at South High also.

The fireworks was one of the finest displays ever presented here in our community.

The refreshments, soft drinks, and pop corn stands, were completely sold out.

There is no doubt of it, the South Side knows how to celebrate the 4th of July.

The Council of South Side Organizations is well satisfied and will make this an annual event.

Blue Star Mothers July Meeting

South Unit Blue Star Mothers of America will hold their July meeting at the home of Mrs. R. H. Bohl, Sr. 499 Weyant Ave. with a garden party and casserole dinner at noon on Monday, July 12.

Mrs. Merle Kenny, social chairman will be assisted by Mrs. Tracy Peterfish, Mrs. P. Zwicker, and Mrs. Clyde Shields will entertain with games. A short business meeting will be held and Mrs. Edward B. Lynch will preside.

Scouts Direct Crowds

The Scout troops of the South Side turned out last Monday at the 4th of July celebration, and did fine work assisting the police in handling of the crowds at Schiller Park.

From 1 p.m. 'till after the fireworks they were on duty, handling lost youngsters, doing messenger service and regulating the vast crowds.

There were at least 35 boy scouts on duty during the day.

We were unable to get all the names of the boys, but here is a partial list of them: Walter Hamler, Walter Meyer, Dick Meyer, Karl Hoffman, Tom Golden, Art Gilson, Eugene Moore, Chas. Benton, Dick Coddington, Mike Casey, Fred Smith, David Crabtree, Howard Grim, Harold Grim, Leonard Hall, David Bishop, Chas. Wilde, Ronald Worch, Jack Wilde, Robert Worch and Alfred Steinwonder.

The scoutmaster in charge of the group was Lyle Brown.

The scouts were from Troops 8, 81, 77 and 55.

The South Side should be proud of these boys.

Fund Cut Closes Veterans Agency

The office of the Bureau of Veterans Re-employment Rights, Department of Labor, in the Hartman Building, was closed Thursday because of a cut in its operating budget, it was announced by Frederick G. Beattie, field representative for Ohio.

The bureau's offices in Cincinnati also were discontinued and hereafter all operation in Ohio will be conducted from the bureau's office located at 521 Federal Building, Cleveland. All inquiries should be directed to that office.

St. Ladislaus Annual Lawn Fete

St. Ladislaus Annual Lawn Fete will be held Saturday, July 10th on the School grounds located at 395 Reeb Ave.

Michael Yandrich is chairman of the Lawn Fete with Mrs. John Kustich, president of the Altar Rosary Society and Miss Toni Dabo acting as co-chairman. Miss Margaret Wald is chairman of the fancy work booth and Mrs. Julius Vargo is chairman of the cake booth. Mrs. Albert Maciocce is chairman of the refreshment booth at which sandwiches, pop and ice cream will be sold.

There will be amusements and games for all to enjoy. The Parish is putting forth every effort to make this Year's Lawn Fete the most enjoyable and successful one yet. The money realized will be used for the building fund and needed school repairs.

Everyone is welcome and we know all attending will have a grand time. Those who have attended the St. Ladislaus Lawn Fete in previous years know this. Those who will attend for the first time this year will have a very pleasant surprise in store for them.

Bingo Party

The Pen-a-Pen Coutiette Club No. 96 are planning a Bingo and Euchre Party.

Proceeds will be used to finance the bus taking the V. F. W. champions soft ball team to Eaton Rapids July 25th for their exhibition game.

The game party will be held at Benson Haugh Post V. F. W., 33-35 West Gay St., at 8:00 o'clock July 15th.

Bud Radcliffe Opens Airport Inn

Most all South Siders remember Bud Radcliffe.

Bud has opened the Airport Inn at Clickenger Airport where he will serve sandwiches, french fries, chilli, ice cream, and soft drinks.

Bud has a barbecue sandwich that fairly melts in your mouth.

Radcliffe is an old South Sider and it was at South High he shined in athletics being on the football, baseball and basketball teams.

If you like fishing Bud is a born fisherman.

You fellows who like to fly will be pleased to know that he is an aviator. He owns an Aeronica Champion plane and often takes flights.

Bud Radcliffe and his wife and three children reside at 365 Morrill Ave.

Stop down at the Airport Inn and get some really good food.

Moose Chapter Gives Books To Schools

The Library Committee of the Women of the Moose, chapter 206, has been organizing reading material for distribution to various public institutions. Organizations profiting from the effort of the Library Committee are schools, the Veterans Hospital at Chillicothe, the Juvenile Detention Home, and the Columbus Public Library.

Plans are now being made to distribute 300 Mother Goose rhymes and tales to various children's homes in and around Columbus. Those participating are Franklin County Children's Home, St. Vincent's Orphanage, the Methodist Children's Home, the Soldier and Sailor Home in Xenia, the Mason's Children's Home at Springfield, and Child City at Mooseheart, Ill.

The Library Committee consists of the following members: Mrs. Wayne F. Begien, chairman; Mrs. Alva Leihty, Mrs. George Grimm, Mrs. Paul Conn, Mrs. Ross Hammond, and Mrs. Charlotte Wellison.

Comic Magazines Adopt New Code

A group of comic magazines publishers has agreed not to publish any comics which feature sexiness or sadistic torture, glorify crime or foster religious and racial prejudices.

The new "comic code" was announced July 1 by the Association of Comic Magazines Publishers.

Fourteen publishers — who put out 15,000,000 of the 50,000,000 comic books sold monthly in the United States — already have agreed to abide by the code, the association said.

It promised a drive to secure the co-operation of all other comic magazine publishers in the country.

Signers of the code are pledged to devote their cartoon books to "good, wholesome entertainment or education."

The code requires that publishers "in no event include in any magazine comics that may in any way lower the moral standards of those who read them."

Trudeau Guild No. 12 will meet at the home of Mrs. J. E. Fogle 1734 Washington Ave. Thursday July 8, at 1 p.m.

Teen Age Dance Tomorrow Night

The Teen Age Council of the South Side Y will sponsor a Square Dance Friday, July 9, at 8 p.m.

The dance will be held at Y Park, on Rohr Rd.

To get to Y Park drive south on Lockbourne Pike (not Road) until you cross Big Walnut River. Turn left on first road (Rohr Rd.) about one mile.

This dance is open to all teen agers of the South Side. The admission price is 35 cents.

All dances are properly chaperoned. For an economical good time this is a fine place for South Side parents to send their children.

Remember the time tomorrow night at 8 p.m.

Whorles Make Home In Lorain

White snapdragons, candelabra and ferns decorated the altar of Corpus Christi Church May 15 for the nuptial high mass at which Miss Anna Louise Kropp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kropp, 1232 Oakwood-av, became the bride of Paul Franklin Wohrle, son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Wohrle of Lorain, O. The Rev. Fr. Schuer officiated at the double-ring ceremony at 9:30 a.m.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of heavy white satin designed with a sheer marquisette yoke outlined with an appliqued design, a fitted bodice and full skirt caught up at the hem to reveal myriads of lace ruffles and extending into a long train. She carried a cascade of white carnations and roses and wore a tiara of illusion and seed pearls which held her fingertip veil.

Miss Miriam Wohrle, gowned in daffodil yellow taffeta faille, was maid of honor and she carried Talisman roses on a white satin muff edged in yellow. The bridesmaids, Miss Martha Swickard and Miss Anna Mae Beck, wore identical gowns of orchid taffeta faille and carried Talisman roses on orchid edged muffs. Miss Rosemarie Roehrenbeck and Miss Lucy Wohrle were the junior bridesmaids in lime green with edged muffs pinned with roses. All wore tiaras of hairbraid, matching their gowns.

John Wohrle was his brother's best man and ushers were: Herman Kropp, Harold Breitfeller, Ralph Breitfeller and Frank Beickelman.

A wedding breakfast was held at the Seneca Hotel, and that evening a reception for 300 guests was held at the Kropp home. Hostesses were Mrs. Herman Kropp, Mrs. Herbert Roehrenbeck and Mrs. Harry Hammett. Mrs. Arthur Kropp received her guests in a blue sheer dress and pink accessories, while the bridegroom's mother was attired in powder blue with navy accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of pink roses.

Mrs. Wohrle was graduated from St. Mary's High School and was associated with the credit department of the F. & R. Lazarus & Co. Mr. Wohrle is associated with Bert Witte, contractor, in Lorain, O.

Following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and New York City, the couple is residing in Lorain.

Parsons Ave. Viaduct To Open Monday

According to Paul Metzel, City Engineer, the Parsons Ave. viaduct will again be open after being closed for several weeks, for replacing its floor, not later than Monday.

The Parsons Ave. viaduct floor is now being paved with asphalt.

Again the people of the South Side will be able to go to Groveport, Lockbourne, Canal Winchester, and Ashville without the discomfort of a long detour.

Four O.S.U. Geologist Attend London Meet

Dr. J. Ernest Carman, Dr. and Mrs. J. Osborn Fuller and Dr. Grace A. Stewart, staff members of Ohio State University's Department of Geology, will attend the first post-war meeting of the International Geological Congress in London late in August.

Dr. Carman intends to travel through Scotland, Norway, Sweden and Denmark and Northern England before attending the meeting. Dr. and Mrs. Fuller plan to sail July 15 on the Queen Elizabeth. Dr. Stewart will take part in geological excursions in England, Scotland and Ireland during the trip. All will return to Ohio State in September.

Lawn Fete At Schiller Park

Wednesday, July 21, the South Congregational Church and Sunday School will sponsor their annual Lawn Fete from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Ray Mangold, chr. Mrs. L. E. Tope and Mrs. Esther Loudermilk will have charge of the dining room.

Fine needlework, plain and fancy aprons and miscellaneous articles will be sold by Mrs. Charles Stiles, Miss Florence Wilson and Mrs. C. W. Mummert.

At the home made candy and country grocery will be Mrs. W. C. Armentrout, chr. and Mrs. Charles Nuzum.

At the table for home baked goods will be Mrs. G. A. Stiles, chr. Mrs. Frank Derry, Mrs. L. G. Kallmerten and Mrs. Albert Hoffman.

Mrs. Roy Stout, chr., Mrs. Harry Sunderman and Mrs. L. E. Tope will serve at the white elephant table.

Mrs. Clarence Siefert, chr. and Mrs. John Lust will have charge of the ice cream.

The Brotherhood of the church will have charge of the soft drinks and the water melons.

Last but not least, do not fail to see the Comedy Show in the auditorium at 7:30 p.m., under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Foster.

Mrs. J. H. Davis is the ticket chairman.

Mrs. C. W. Mummert, general chairman.

The public is invited.

Thurman Ave. WSCS Schedules Meetings

The Circles of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Thurman-av Methodist Church have scheduled the following meetings for the week.

Circle 1 will meet at 8 p.m., Thursday at the church. Circle 2 will meet at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. James Coulter, 772 Thurman-av. Circle 3 will meet at 6:30 p.m. Friday at Schiller Park for a basket picnic. Circle 4 will meet at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Carl Anderson, 1764 S. Champion-av, for a picnic supper.

SOUTH END Merchant Patrolman Don Thomas sits the small motorcycle by use of which he increased the number of his customers from 15 to 65 in two months. Milliner Anne Stephens, whose shop he checks nightly, inspects a larger model of the same Enfield make.

Dan Thomas Protects Merchants

Lightweight motorcycles are coming into their own in Columbus in a big way this summer if the claims of a merchant policeman are to be believed.

Dan Thomas, merchant cop of 124 Innis Ave., who patrols a business and residence area bounded Parsons and Livingston Aves. by Hosack and High Sts., and claims his accounts have increased by 131 per cent since addition of a 125 c.c. Royal Enfield two months ago.

In fact, he says, demand for protection is increasing so rapidly that he plans to have several more patrolmen and six more motors yet this summer.

Two months ago, when he was patroling his beat on foot, he made 15 stops Today by building up better service on the strength of more frequent calls, he has added 50 additional customers and enlarged his territory by 15 times.

Thomas says he decided to build a fleet of lightweights after making a cost study of his original machine. He figures he and his men can operate the small motors for less than the cost of shoe leather for the same size patrol force.

Ed's Note: The South Side Booster is one of Dan Thomas' clients and is very satisfied with the protection he gives.

Frebis Avenue Now Open

Frebis Ave., which has been closed for several weeks, for paving, is again open for traffic.

Starting at 18th St. and running to Lockbourne Rd., Frebis Ave. now has a fine asphalt coating.

This will permit bus service to Studer Ave. The Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company has contracted for a turn around at the corner. As soon as completed, buses will operate to that corner. This will greatly benefit the bus riding public who has had to walk several squares.

When you have to go East, try the new Frebis Ave. route.

Probate Judge's Hot Campaign

One of the hottest spots in this fall's election will be the race for Probate Judge between the South Side's old friend Judge Rodney Ross and Judge Cloys P. McClelland, the incumbent.

It has been rumored for some time that McClelland's sons pick up big estates, through appointment by their father as administrators, guardians or attorneys.

We have heard numerous attorneys say that the McClellands are getting wealthy through the Probate Court, of course this may be only rumor.

Later your editor intends to look up records for the past several years in fairness to both Judge McClelland and the public.

We remember some time ago the newspapers said the Judge McClelland had appointed a son as attorney to the $6,000,000 LeVeck estate.

We have heard the complaint from numerous attorneys of favoritism shown Judge Cloys P. McClelland's son. Then too, during his tenure of office McClelland's total salary has been approximately $175,000.

We have often said that any public offiecal, judge or otherwise, should not remain in office too long.

Judge McClelland has held the Probate Judge's office 18 years.

Mrs. Nagger. "And to think you were just a struggling young business man when I married you."

Mr. Nagger. "Yeah, but I didn't struggle hard enough."

Miss Pataki Names Date

Busy with final plans for her approaching marriage is Miss Helen Pataki, bride-elect of Mr. Acy Blair, Jr. The open-church double-ring ceremony will take place Saturday, July 10, at Hungarian Evangelical and Reformed Church at 8:30 p.m.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Pataki, 55 Scheryer Rd., who will be hosts after the service for a reception at their home. Mr. Blair is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Acy Blair of West Van Lear, Ky.

Miss Irene Pataki will serve her sister as maid of honor and bridesmaids will be Miss Rosalie Baldizar and Miss Esther Kreesmar. Bridesmatrons will be Mrs. Peter Veck and Mrs. Joseph Ehrenberg. Carolyn Veck will be flower girl and John Joseph Kreesmar will be page boy.

Mr. Ned Newman will attend Mr. Blair as best man while seating the guests will be Mr. John Pataki, Mr. Michael Kreesmar, Mr. Peter Veck and Mr. Joseph Ehrenberg.

Miss Betty Balaz and Mrs. Bert Kulich will serve as hostesses at the reception.

Pre-nuptial festivities planned in honor of the bride-elect include a miscellaneous shower given June 13 at the home of Miss Esther Krechmar, 458 Southwood Ave. Mrs. Bert Kulich, 1757 Brick St., was hostess for a miscellaneous shower at her home June 15.

Sixty guests were present at another miscellaneous shower given June 24 at Hungarian Evangelical and Reformed Church. Hostesses were Mrs. John Pataki, 1256 S. Washington Ave.; Mrs. Alex Chattos, sr., 156 Welch Ave., and Mrs. Anna Balazs, 157 Columbia Ave.

Lucky 35 Announce Picnic

At the July 13th meeting of the Lately 25 Club the George Post president will appoint the various committees for the annual picnic to be held Sept. 12th at Knepfers Grove, Reese Station.

The meeting will be called at 2 p.m. at the Club Rooms, Saxon Hall, Woodrow Ave. Al Laughrey is in charge of refreshments and dinner for this date.

How Firelands Got Their Name

Sandusky, Ohio, July 8. History played a part in locating the New Departure ball bearing plant of General Motors Corporation at Sandusky. The Ohio Development and Publicity Commission learned this fact in its current survey of recent manufacturing developments in Ohio.

Sandusky is in the western end of the Connecticut Western Reserve, the part known as the Fire Lands. The Fire Lands were so called because they were granted to Connecticut residents who had been burned out by the British during the American Revolution. Town names in the Fire Lands, such as Norwalk, New London, and Greenwich, are echoes of Connecticut names. They show that the refugees brought along home associations when they moved to Ohio.

When General Motors decided to locate part of its ball bearing production in Sandusky, one of the reasons was safety from enemies. The New Departure Division had been concentrated in southern Connecticut, near Long Island Sound, where British privateers burned settlers' homes during the Revolution.

The new plant brought about fifty families of skilled workers from Connecticut to Sandusky. General Motors Corporation got out a pamphlet reminding the new settlers that they were moving into exactly the same territory as pioneers a hundred and fifty years ago, and that in the Fire Lands they would find familiar town names and other reminders of home.

Economics, as well as security and sentiment, made Sandusky a logical location for the 25 million-dollar bearing plant. Much of the alloy steel used comes from Canton and Massillon, Ohio, and Sandusky is on the line between this source of material and the automobile assembly plants in northwest Ohio and Michigan.

Debate was in full swing in the speech class and a senior girl was warming to her subject, the pro side of military training in schools.

"One reason why we should have military training in the schools," she said, "is because it would train boys and men to obey without question, which we all know would do away with the divorce problem."

OUR 1948 Patterns Are Here

DO YOU KNOW THAT . . . . .

Speed of service in handling long distance telephone calls has improved to the point that today it takes only about two minutes on the average to complete a call, compared with three and one half minutes during the war, and nine out of ten calls go through while the calling party holds the line.

• • •

To get a first hand view of operations at the world's largest long distance telephone center, more than 10,000 people, many from distant lands, have visited the headquarters building of the Bell System's Long Lines Department in New York City since V-J Day.

• • •

Mrs. Elizabeth S. Watson, widow of Thomas A. Watson, assistant to Alexander Graham Bell at the time the telephone was invented, died recently at St. Petersburg, Fla., at the age of 90, her husband having been 80 at the time he died in 1934.

• • •

An average of about 60 calls daily are made to and from the special trains with mobile radiotelephone service operating between New York and Washington, D. C., and most of the calls originate from the trains.

A CONTEMPLATIVE correspondent wants to know which is the bigger gamble—baseball rookies or race horses.

There isn't much difference. Many are called but few ever hit .300 or win big stakes—possibly, one out of a hundred.

Race horses, the good ones, usually cost more money, ranging from $40,000 to $70,000 in the higher brackets. Yet Wakefield of the Tigers came in for a $52,000 bonus and 18-year-old Curt Simmons of the Phillies was somewhere in the $60,000 class. It also is reported that if the young left-hander had wanted a while longer the Red Sox would have gone to $100,000 or more.

Simmons is the closest to Pericles, the $65,000 colt who won one race. If Simmons wins only one game, Ben Chapman will absorb at least one keg of cyanide.

Simmons, Wakefield and Bob Brown are three of the higher investments. Wakefield has been no part of a bargain at his price tag, while neither Simmons nor Brown so far has drawn a chance.

But rookies on their way to major-league fame are scarce. Last year the Cardinals had only one from a big crop—Jim Hearn, a pitcher. The Giants caught a find in Jansen—the Dodgers in Robinson, to mention two of the best.

Few onlookers realize the size of a farm crop. The Dodgers had something like 500 budding phenoms at Vero Beach, the Giants over 400 at Sanford, Fla., and the Cardinals over 400 at Albany, Ga.

From the 1,300 young ball players gathered at these three locations, the Dodgers, Giants and Cardinals would be highly pleased to have 30 future big leaguers. Some vital statisticians have made it one out of 200.

So the percentage of young rookies and promising yearlings who make good is about the same—few and far apart.

Successor to Joe Louis?

In the boxing game about five out of 5,000 or possibly 10,000 make good. They have been looking around for a good young heavyweight to take the place of Joe Louis for six years. Six years and no answer. Not an echo. But Walter Friedman tells me that there is a good young Irish heavyweight named Ray Stevens working out of San Francisco who may be the one.

"He's six feet two, weighs 205 pounds," Friedman says. "I know of one offer of $50,000 and another of $30,000 which have been refused for his contract. They won't even listen to $50,000. He's a good boxer and a good puncher. He can knock you down with a short punch. He's only 23 years old.

"Give him a break, and you might be the first to boost the next heavyweight champion of the world."

Stevens is hereby given favorable mention. And he doesn't have to be too good.

Duffers Lead the Parade

Too many golf writers are writing about the Nelsons, Hogans, Mangrums and Demarets in place of the duffers and the average golfers who compose at least 95 per cent of the game.

There would be no golf if it were not for the duffer and the average golfer. The few left couldn't afford to keep the courses in condition. They couldn't keep the manufacturers going.

And without the duffer and the average golfer, golf crowds would be under 500, and there would be no teachers and not many caddies. The stars would be playing for $500—not $10,000.

Above all, we love and admire the flaming spirit of the duffer who each year is going to remove at least five or maybe 10 strokes from his game.

I was talking about the duffer with Al Ciucl, the Fresh Meadow pro who has taught so many thousands, including star professionals, for so many years.

"What," I asked, "are the chief faults the duffers or the average players have? And what, by the way, is an average golfer?"

"An average golfer," replied Ciucl, "is one who shoots around 100. That's a good average. Some are around 90 or 92. Others well above 110. We can call it 100 and be safe."

"What is the most common fault?" I asked.

"Slicing," said Professor Ciucl. "There are many hookers, of course, but many more slicers. Slicing is largely due to not turning the body enough, to taking the club back outside the line of flight and bringing it into the ball from the outside.

"The club head should be taken back slightly inside. It should be brought down inside with the club head aiming for a target slightly to the right, not whipped from the inside to the inside.

"Most slicers aim to the left of the course in order to allow for the slice. I've seen them do this by the thousands. A slice usually costs from 30 to 40 yards. Take enough turn and let the club head travel slightly to the right.

Lost Pup, War Hero, Found By His Own Growl

Skipper, a World War II hero, was a lost dog until he growled.

His growl is distinctive, so much so that it can be identified over the telephone and that's how he happens to be back home in Cleveland with his master, Morris L. Levy.

When Skipper, a six-year-old cocker spaniel, was let out for a stroll, he didn't come back. There was a story in the Cleveland Plain Dealer about his disappearance. Mrs. Thelma Skeens read it and noticed that the description of the missing dog fitted that of a pooch which had been lurking near her home for several days.

She telephoned Levy. He told her to put the receiver to the dog's ear and then he whistled. Back over the line to Levy came the special growl of Skipper and Levy knew his search was over.

Skipper has an exciting history which is as unusual as his growl. During the last war he was mascot on the navy aircraft carrier Hornet, the "flat top" that carried Jimmy Doolittle's Tokyo raiders close to their target in 1942.

When the Hornet was torpedoed off the Santa Cruz Islands in the Solomons in October, 1942, Skipper had a four-hour swim in the Pacific Ocean. He was clinging to floating wreckage when rescued by navy personnel.

As the result Skipper was in the news reels and won national acclaim. And here he is in the news again.

SEEN AND HEARD ON THE SOUTH SIDE

Carey Marshall's good friend, Carl Eckels, is a man of very few words and plenty of money.

He says so himself.

Johnny Salzer, of the Swan Grill, promised to mow the weeds on the lot at the South East corner of Jenkins and Parsons Ave. which belong to the South Side Booster.

We gave him the publicity, now he won't mow our lot. The reason is Johnny says he lost his gal on account of the publicity.

The other day we saw a salesman, who works for Fleischman Distillery, who is bigger than John Weber.

John is the South Side's tallest, being only 6 ft. and 7 in. tall.

Charles Leonard says he is still dieting. He is down to about 280 lbs.

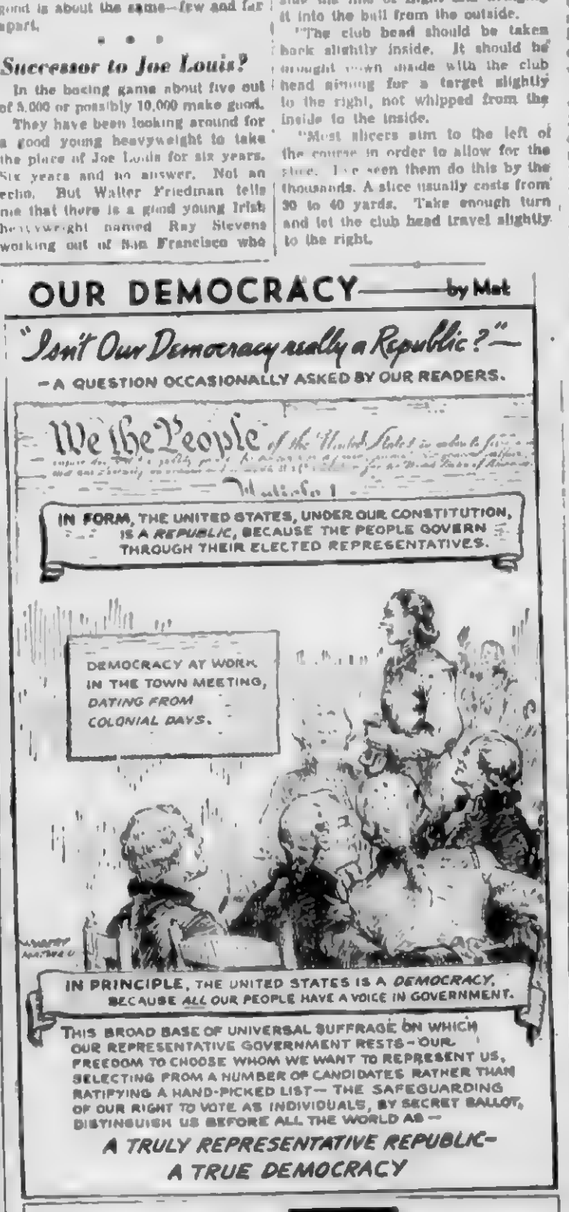
The members of the noon day gossip club, which meets at Krauss Hardware Store are rabid fishermen.

Between Dr. Fillinger, Doc Williams, Fuzzy Fussnecker and Clarence Mooney it sounds like the fish they have caught are getting larger right along, and the catches are getting bigger.

You people that weren't solicited for the 4th of July celebration can still donate.

Just send that donation to the Council of South Side Organizations, 361 So. Third Street.

Rumor has it that Johnny Lane is angling for a South Side Grill.



Pap Hoover hasn't married the blond yet, he just went on a fishing trip.

Jack Williams, up the Swan way, can't get up in the morning. They even have to send after him and wake him up so he can get to work on time.

It's about time to start a collection for an alarm clock.

Be Prepared for Guests with Home-Canned Chicken

Serve a Delicious "Company Meal" in Short Order

With home-canned chicken in reserve, a homemaker who suddenly becomes hostess can conjure up a delicious meal in no time. Who doesn't relish a meal centered about barbecued chicken, chicken a la king, chicken pot pie, chicken gumbo and rice and dozens of other "company" dishes made from chicken? With your own canned chicken you are ready to make them!

One or two-year-old chickens are better than younger ones for canning. Confine 12 to 24 hours before killing, giving water but no feed. Kill six to twelve hours before canning. Avoid bruising. Bleed thoroughly. Pluck, singe, and wash with mild soap. Rinse well.

Cut skin between legs and body; then bend legs until hip joints snap. Slip knife under ends of shoulder blades and cut up to wings. Pull back and breast apart. Remove entrails. Rinse, dry, and chill the fowl. Do not salt. Feet may be used in making broth. Do not can liver and gizzard with other parts of fowl.

To cold pack chicken, separate raw fowl at joints and pack into hot Ball Jars. Add one teaspoon salt to each quart. Add no liquid. Process 100 minutes at 10 pounds pressure.

The hot pack method requires that the fowl be boiled, steamed or baked until from one-third to one-half done. Separate at joints and pack hot into hot Ball Jars. Cover with boiling broth. Salt to taste and process 20 minutes at 10 pounds pressure.

To Be Wed in the Fall

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Gustafson, 1700 Northwest Blvd., announce the engagement of their daughter, Betty Jane, to Mr. Arthur L. Kempf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roman L. Kempf, 1222 Parsons Ave. The wedding will be an event of the early fall.

Miss Gustafson attended Longwood Academy in Chicago, Ill., and is a graduate of Seton Academy, Yonkers, N. Y., and the College of Mt. St. Vincent-on-the-Hudson, Riverdale, N. Y.

Mr. Kempf is a graduate of St. Mary's High School and attended the University of Toledo. Since his return from three years' war service in the Pacific theater he has been associated with the B & T Metals Co.

Miss Green And Mr. Montell Wed June 5

Tall candelabra lighted the gladioli banked altar of St. Leo's Church Saturday morning, June 5, when Miss Jo Ann Green exchanged vows with Thomas J. Montell. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Green, 342 Hanford-st., and the bridegoom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Montell, 2815 Bellwood Ave. Rev. Fr. Robert Schmitt officiated at the double ring nuptial high mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in a dress of ivory duchess satin fashioned along princess lines with a round neckline edged in tiny seed pearls. The bodice of the gown was gathered into a slim waist line from which swept a circular skirt ending in a long train. A double fingertip veil of tulle fell softly beneath a halo of orange blossoms. She carried a white satin prayer book topped with gardenias and white streamers of lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Walter Scholl was the matron of honor and bridesmaids included Miss Elaine Saul, cousin of the bride; Miss Norma Jean Mapes and Miss Peggy Montell, sister of the bridegroom. Mrs. Scholl wore a gown of peach mousseline with a wide apron ruffle. A deep square yoke was outlined with a wide ruffle. Bridesmaids' gowns were fashioned of nile green styled like that of the honor attendant. They all wore ruffled head bands matching their gowns, and carried arm bouquets of pink carnations. Mary Jo Kempf and Diane O'Donnell, nieces of the bride, were flower girls in shell pink organdy and they carried bouquets of sweetheart roses.

Best man for his brother was Andrew Montell and ushers included Robert Green, brother of the bride, and Kurt Schawvecker.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was given for the immediate families at the home of the bride's parents and in the evening a reception was held. Mrs. Green greeted her guests in a gold gabardine suit with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations at her shoulder. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a navy blue and white dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

For her wedding trip to Chicago, the bride changed to a brandy gabardine suit with green accessories and a corsage of gardenias at her shoulder.

Upon their return to Columbus, the couple will reside at 342 Hanford-st.

FOR SUNDAY SUPPER

A colorful platter with seafood loaf, Julienne potatoes, radishes and fresh greens—a night supper de luxe!

By BETTY NEWTON

Entertaining can be made easy on a hot day. Prepare this loaf early in the day. Lime Ice and cake will add the finishing touch.

Seafood Salad Loaf

2 Tbsp. unflavored gelatin
½ C. cold water
2 C. cooked seafood (shrimp, lobster, crab, tuna, etc.)
1 C. minced green peppers
1 C. minced celery
1½ tsp. salt
¼ C. catsup
2 C. sour cream
¼ C. lemon juice
¼ C. bottled horseradish

Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve over hot water, cool slightly. Mix seafood and vegetables. Add seasonings to dissolved gelatin, then add the fish mixture and stir carefully. Pour into an oiled loaf pan (or 8 inch ring mold). Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with watercress, hard-cooked eggs and green pepper rings. Serve with Julienne potatoes.

Lime Ice

2 C. water
¾ C. corn syrup
1¼ C. sugar
1 Tbsp. grated lime rind
½ C. lime juice

Combine water, corn syrup, sugar and lime rind in a saucepan. Place over low flame and stir until the sugar is dissolved. Bring to a boil and boil for 5 minutes without stirring; cool. Add lime juice, strain and freeze in automatic refrigerator with control set at coldest point. Freeze until firm throughout. Remove from the tray to a chilled bowl, break up with a wooden spoon and beat until free from hard lumps but still a thick mush. Put back into the tray and return to refrigerator to finish freezing.

St. John's Wedding Scene

White gladioli and burning tapers decorated the altar of St. John the Evangelist Church Saturday, May 22, when Miss Julia Green became the bride of Gilbert R. Sterner. The wedding took place at 10 a.m. with the Rev. Fr. F. W. Burkhart officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Dana Green, 1212 Franklin Av, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert A. Sterner, 848 Carpenter St.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Dewey French, the bride wore a wedding gown of ivory satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice and tiny satin buttons extending to the waist from a pointed neckline. The full leg o'mutton sleeves extended in points over the hands, and the net skirt over taffeta featured a tiny lace peplum in the front and extended into a full lace-edged train. Her full-length veil of illusion was held in place by a Juliet cap of seed pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of hilltop roses, white baby mums and white shattered carnations.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Eugene Dawson, wore a gown of petal pink tissue faille, styled with an off-the-shoulder neckline, sheer yoke, a soft bertha which formed tiny cap sleeves, and a full skirt. She wore long matching mitts and a net bonnet which tied under the chin. She carried a blue net muff covered with purple Siberian iris and white baby mums.

Bridesmaids, Miss Martha and Miss Annabelle Green, sisters of the bride, wore aqua gowns identical to the matron of honor's with matching mitts and bonnets. They carried net muffs covered with yellow Siberian iris and white baby mums.

James Sterner was his brother's best man, and ushers were Richard Sterner, Thomas Knowles, Don Didway and James Woodyard.

The bride is a graduate of East High School and attended Ohio State university. She is associated with the Ohio Farm Bureau.

The bridegroom is a graduate of South High School and is associated with the F. & R. Lazarus & Co.

Canned Meats In Summer, Too!

There's comfort in a can of meat on the pantry shelf! There it is—all cooked and ready to serve in a dozen different ways for summer meals or any emergency. For that handy canned meats shelf, you'll want to stock up with the following items for cool summer cooking: Pork luncheon meat, corned beef hash, frankfurters, beef stew, Vienna sausage, deviled ham, corned beef, pork and beef tongue, and dried beef. Then you've the fixings for hot meals as well as picnics, buffets and late snacks. For a buffet supper salad, combine diced luncheon meat, corned beef, or sliced Vienna sausage with chilled macaroni, diced eggs, cooked peas, chopped celery, chopped pickles and mayonnaise or salad dressing to moisten. Zip up the flavor with the addition of a little vinegar.

Miss Rose Lyons Is Married At St. Marys

Miss Rose Anne Lyons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Lyons, 771 S. 6th St, became the bride of Joseph Paul Lieb, son of Carl G. Lieb, 3000 E. Livingston Av, May 29. Fr. Edmund Burkley officiated at the 9:30 a.m. ceremony at St. Mary's Church.

A candlelight gown of satin fashioned with a sheer yoke trimmed with bands of satin was worn by the bride. The skirt ended in a cathedral train, and her finger-tip veil was attached to a coronet with seed pearl trim. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

Maid of honor, Miss Clara Lieb, wore a pink nylon marquisette gown designed with a bustle back and ruffle edged skirt. Bridesmaids, Miss Margaret Wunderlin, Miss Elmadene Hanna, Miss Joan Bowman, Miss Carolyn Lieb, Miss Jeanine Nistlebeck and Miss Annamarie Eigenger, wore matching gowns of blue.

Best man was Richard Lieb, and ushers were James Lieb, Peter Burns, John Belcher and William Malone.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's High School. The bridegroom, a graduate of Holy Rosary High School, is associated with the Buckeye Storm Window Co.

Miss Meehan And Mr. Lindsey Wed Recently

Miss Patricia K. Meehan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Meehan, 107 W. Columbus-st., exchanged nuptial vows with Bob F. Lindsey, son of Mrs. Della Lindsey, 509 Carpenter-st, at 4 p.m. June 9 at St. Mary's Church, with the Rev. C. W. Jones officiating.

The bride wore a dress of white marquisette with a fingertip veil of illusion which fell from a heart shaped crown. Just below the waist of the gown was a tier of flounces and another one was repeated a little lower. The bridal bouquet was fashioned of white roses and carnations, and centered with a purple throated white orchid. Her only jewelery was a five strand pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Kay Dodds was the maid of honor attired in a pale blue chiffon gown with a corsage of red roses with shattered small flowers. Charles W. Leddy was the best man.

At the reception held at the Schiller Park Shelter House, Mrs. Meehan received her guests in a grey crepe dress with silver accessories. Mrs. Lindsey was attired in a pale blue taffeta dress with white accessories. Both mothers wore red rose corsages.

For her wedding trip to New York, the bride changed to an aqua linen suit with white accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's High School and the bridegroom is a graduate of Walnut High School.

Miss North To Be Bride Of Mr. Nixon

The announcement is being made of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Mary Elizabeth North, daughter of Mrs. Harold R. North, 1881½ E. Whittier-st, and the late Mr. North, to William Charles Hixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hixon, 279 Dakota-av., and the late Mr. Hixon.

The open church wedding, an event of Friday, July 23, will take place in Livingston-av Methodist Church. The bride-elect has asked her sister, Miss Erma North, to serve as her maid of honor. Mr. Charles Spaethe will act as best man, and seating the wedding guests will be Mr. Raymond Spaethe and Mr. Marvin Koehl.

Miss Miller is a service representative for the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., and Mr. North, who served two years in the Navy, is associated with the Johnson Maintenance Co.

Miss Eloise Sayer Is Married To Victor Campbell

One of June's all-white weddings was that of Miss Eloise Sayer and Mr. Victor G. Campbell which took place on Saturday, June 12, at 7:30 in Washington Ave. Congregational United Brethren Church with the Rev. Boyd C. Rife officiating at the open church, double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Sayer, 520 Hinman Ave., and the bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown cut on princess lines with a sheer yoke outlined in Vineness lace. The skirt fell softly into a wide train and her fingertip veil of imported illusion fell from a tiara of satin and seed pearls. She carried an heirloom Bible, brought from Ireland by her great uncle, and covered with orchid delphinium.

The attendants were chalk white marquisette gowns with off-the-shoulder necklines, and full skirts edged with deep ruffles. They wore half hats of white and short white gloves. Their bouquets were of shattered dubonnet carnations. Mrs. Don Kreba was the matron of honor and other attendants were Mrs. Alfred Wallace, Miss Juanita Hutch and Miss Jane Brown.

Mr. Frederick Psahl was the best man while seating the guests were Mr. James Heer, Mr. Thomas Ritheimer, Mr. Philip Stamton. A reception in the Rose Room of the Virginia Hotel followed the ceremony. Hostesses were Mrs. John Hickel and Mrs. Rodney Callander.

For the wedding, the bride's mother wore a gray crepe dress with white accessories and pinned a corsage of pink roses at her shoulder.

The bride is a graduate of South High School and is employed at the Lustron Corporation. Mr. Campbell is a graduate of North High School and is a salesman for David Davies Packing Co.

The couple resides at 1008 Parsons Ave.

Women Violate Anti-Smoking Ban

Women violate the city's anti-smoking ordinance in retail stores and passenger elevators more than men. And there's a reason, Fire Department officials said Friday.

"Men usually flip aside their cigarets before entering buildings because they smoke on the street. Women usually don't smoke on the street and wait until they get into a building before lighting a cigaret," said Battalion Chief Harry Coldwell, head of the fire prevention bureau.

The observations on violations were based on periodic and regular inspection visits to stores by members of the bureau.

Virtually all people, both men and women, are co-operative and do not resent being informed they are violating the law when they are approached by fire inspectors, officials said.

While statistics were not available as to whether the law, signed March 16 by Mayor James A. Rhodes has reduced fire runs to stores and elevators, it definitely has resulted in a saving of merchandise in the stores, it was reported.

Principal objective of the ordinance was to reduce merchandise loss caused by persons handling merchandise while smoking. Officials said this loss formerly was high.

News In The World Of Religion

American church aid has recently been credited with the saving of the eyesight of some thirty children, going blind from malnutrition, in a clinic for underprivileged children in mission-supported West China Union University, Chengtu, China. Adding eggs and haliver oil to the soybean cakes furnished by the Nutrition Aid Council, Dr. J. Claude Thompson, of the University staff, devised a formula giving the young patients a Vitamin A dietary supplement. The fortified cakes halted near-blindness and removed other symptoms of malnutrition. The China NAC is using the formula in scores of other clinics and orphanages which it helps maintain in all parts of China.

A former pastor of the interdenominational American Church in Berlin, Germany, Harrisburg-born Dr. Stewart W. Herman, has been named executive secretary of the newly formed Lutheran World Federation Immigration Service which is designed to assist in the resettlement of Lutheran refugees and DP's from Europe in the United States, Canada and Australia. Dr. Herman's headquarters will be in Geneva, Switzerland, where he has already served in similar work under the Church World Council of Churches. He is a minister of the United Lutheran Church in America, and a graduate of Gettysburg College.

Under the leadership of Dr. Earl R. Brown, of its Board of Missions and Church Extension, the Methodist Church is beginning a campaign to provide new church buildings for newly-formed congregations in the United States and its possessions and specialized buildings for many other church enterprises; together with new leaders, men and women. "In the year ending in May 1947, it was reported that over 500 new churches were organized," says Dr. Brown. "Many of these received aid from the general church funds. Indications are that the denomination's goal must be set at one new church a day for the next four years, possibly the next ten, if we move with our people. We also face critical demands for aid in Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and Alaska where new churches and parsonages are needed and where much rebuilding is necessary. The need for new churches is most acute among communities on the West Coast and in the Southwestern and Southeastern sections of the United States where populations have increased more rapidly than in any part of the United States. A number of racial groups have organized substantial congregations, but are unable to obtain meeting places. A long-range program of building needs for churches and parsonages to serve Negro congregations must continue. Building improvements are imperative, too, among American Indian tribes and our Spanish-speaking congregations. We face the challenge of building forty new Goodwill Industries at once and the added prospect of 200 cities where this work of rehabilitation is needed. The Wesley Foundations also look for assistance in building projects."

"In the present social temper, and extreme form of the violation of the Ninth Commandment is manifest in the careless manner in which, by direct accusation or by innuendo, the epithet communist is used," says Dr. Robert W. Searle, of the New York Protestant Council. "Whatever the true meaning of the word, its popular connotation symbolizes either someone who is assumed to be on Russia's side in the 'cold war' or someone who is antithetic to basic American ideals. Even more crudely is it applied to those who dare to oppose the status quo in the name and for the sake of the rights and dignity of the little people. It so happens that almost as a rule those who hurl the epithet are the actual allies of destructive revolution and that those against whom it is hurled are our main hope of avoiding it: for injustice is the seedbed, the culture medium, in which despair and hatred and violence are born and bred."

General Fu Tso Yi, commander of the Chinese National Army in the Kalgan area of Chahar, near the Great Wall of China, recently entertained a group of American and Norwegian missionaries at dinner. One of the guests was the Rev. J. Wesley Day of the Methodist Church in Kalgan. During the evening the General remarked, "Now the Chinese people's minds are open: go everywhere and preach. May there be more of you!" One missionary asked, "Can we tell the people at home, then, that China will have peace?" General Fu answered, "Your preaching is peace. When your friends come and preach, they will be bringing peace to our people."

Hazel Garber Kenneth Tait Are Married

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Hazel Garber to Kenneth Tait which took place Saturday, June 19, in the Gates-Fourth Methodist Church. The Rev. Harry F. Zierer read the wedding service before a candlelit altar decorated with tall vases of white flowers.

The bride, who is the assistant manager of the Southern Hotel, is the daughter of Mrs. Edward Beutel, Portland, Ind. Mr. Tait, Amboy, Ill., is associated with the Buckeye Furnace Pipe Co.

For her wedding the bride selected a smart blue crepe dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was of white orchids. The attendants were Miss Ruth Griffing and K. E. Withers.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Tait are vacationing in Wisconsin and plan to spend some time in Chicago before returning. After July 15, they will be at home at 602 Whittier-st.

Rev. Leonard Mann Here July 15

The Rev. Leonard Mann of Kingston, Ohio, has been appointed pastor of Thurman Ave. Methodist Church, 431 E. Thurman Ave., by Bishop H. Lester Smith of the Ohio Area of the Methodist Church, it has been announced by Dr. John Taylor Alton, superintendent of the Columbus District of the church.

Mr. Mann succeeds the Rev. John W. Seay, who was recently made pastor of Wayne Ave. Methodist Church, Cincinnati, after four years' service in the Thurman Ave. pulpit.

The appointment of Mr. Mann will become effective July 15 when his deanship of the Chillicothe District Senior Youth Institute meeting from July 4 to 15 at the Lancaster Camp Grounds ends. At that time he will have completed a two-year pastorate at Kingston.

A native of West Virginia, he is a graduate of Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., and Boston University School of Theology. He formerly served as pastor of Calvary Church, Hamilton, and Gloucester Methodist Church, Gloucester, Mass.

Dorothy Meyer Is Bride Of George Baker

Rev. Fr. Robert J. Schmidt, assisted by Rev. Fr. George Foley, performed the marriage ceremony Wednesday morning, June 30, in St. Leo's Church, uniting in marriage Miss Dorothy Meyer and George Baker.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Meyer, 1241 Bruck St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rolo Baker, 733 Berkeley Rd.

The bride is a graduate of So. High School, and the bridegroom of St. Mary's. He is now a city detective.

White marquisette over white satin, formed the bride's wedding gown. A full net veil, trimmed with yards of rose point lace fell from a crown of orange blossoms and she carried a sheaf of white roses.

The bridegroom's sister, Miss Madelaine Baker, was the maid of honor. Her dress was chiffon over pink silk. She wore a picture hat and carried pink roses.

Norbert Baker was best man for his brother.

Immediately after the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the Southern Hotel.

Male Quintette To Present "The Amazing Christ" Here July 12

The Ambassador Male Quintette from the Missionary Training Institute of Hyack-on-Hudson, New York, will present "The Amazing Christ" at the Third Ave. Alliance Church Monday, July 12 at 8 p.m.

The ambassadors are on a 20,000 mile, international tour of the United States, Mexico, and Canada. Realizing that History is His-Story, the Quintette are challenging youth throughout the North American continent to reconsider "The Amazing Christ", for He alone can solve the problem of juvenile delinquency and save this nation from moral ruin. This story of the Man of Galilee is without doubt the "greatest story ever told." The Ambassadors have a select program filled with stimulating music, stirring testimonials, and scriptural messages concerning Jesus, the Nazarene.

The Missionary Training Institute, located some 20 miles from the heart of New York City, is the oldest Bible school in North America and with a student body of over 500 is the largest theological school in the East. Scattered throughout the 48 states and in over 50 foreign countries, thousands of its alumni serve some 35 Protestant denominations.

John Taylor of Chattanooga, Tennessee, and now Dean of Men and instructor in speech and homiletics at The Missionary Training Institute, is the speaker and director of the group. While in high school and college, Taylor played football, basketball, tennis, and ran the mile and hurdles in track; in 1944 he was chosen for the North Carolina State All-Conference Basketball Team. For the past four years, he has travelled as a youth evangelist for Youth for Christ International, and has been associated with Percy Crawford in his camps for young people. After graduating from Wheaton College Graduate School of Theology with Gil Dodds, America's great miler, and taking a year of advance study at Southern Baptist Seminary, he was called to The Missionary Training Institute to serve on the faculty.

The music of the Ambassadors will be furnished by: Paul Brittin, first tenor, of Toledo, Ohio; Gaynor Ferrell, second tenor, of Miami, Florida; Paul Creech, baritone and pianist, of Durham, North Carolina; and Gerald Tropf, bass, of Warren, Ohio. Besides singing in world-famous Carnegie Hall of New York City, the quartet has brought joy to the hearts of thousands of church goers throughout the East. These young men are preparing for the ministry and are looking forward to full-time Christian service, either as preachers in America or as missionaries abroad.

SUMMER LUNCHEON

A cool delightful luncheon of avocado ring, crisp celery and petal sandwiches. Serve it from your refrigerator.

By BETTY NEWTON

Even on a warm summer day you can serve an especially appetizing luncheon. This is one your club will rave about.

Petal Sandwich

For petal sandwiches cut a pattern from brown paper. Cut bread around pattern with a sharp knife. Fill sandwiches and arrange around olive to form flower.

Avocado Ring Mold

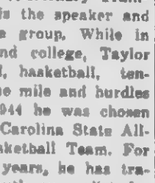
1½ Tbsp. plain gelatin
¼ C. cold water
½ C. boiling water
¼ C. lemon juice
2 Tbsp. sugar
2 lemons
2 limes
½ tsp. salt
1 C. avocado pulp
¼ C. mayonnaise
½ C. heavy cream
8 slices pineapple
Crisp lettuce
1 red apple

Add gelatin to cold water and let stand a few minutes. Add boiling water and stir until dissolved. Add the lemon juice, sugar, salt, and avocado pulp. When slightly thickened fold in mayonnaise and whipped cream. Turn into individual ring molds and chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce and garnish with thin wedges of apple, lemon, and lime.

Almond Cream Tarts with Jelly Meringue

2 Tbsp. flour
½ C. sugar
¼ tsp. salt
2 C. milk
2 eggs
½ C. shredded toasted almonds
½ C. heavy cream
8 tart shells

Meringue:



2 egg whites
4 Tbsp. firm jelly

Mix the flour with the sugar and salt. Add a little milk at a time and stir until smooth. Cook over hot water until smooth and thick. Pour slowly over slightly beaten eggs. Cook a very few minutes longer. Cool and fold in almonds and whipped cream. Pile in baked tart shells and top with meringue made by beating the egg whites until stiff and dry, then beating in a tablespoon of jelly at a time until all is used. Bake at 350 degrees about 15 minutes or until firm. Cool before serving. To prevent weeping be sure to cover filling completely with meringue.

So this is HOUSEKEEPING

I'm convinced that for a time Dad merely thought of my husband as "the nice young man" his daughter had married. But a can of paint finally made Dad see what a smart mate I've corralled.

One Sunday afternoon Dad began his favorite lament about the house again needing painting and the fact that he wouldn't pay so-called "high prices" for paint.

"That's where you're making your big mistake," jumped in my spouse.

Then the pride of the Stuarts really dressed Dad down. He pointed out that cheap house paint, by not standing up well, costs far more money in the long run. He maintained that really good paint is inexpensive insurance.

Well, Dad sputtered a bit, then stoutly declared that since the war sufficient good paint couldn't be [illegible].

"Not according to the world's largest manufacturer of paint," says my best beau, "And you'd be surprised at the improvements they've made to give a longer-lasting, better-appearing paint job than ever before."

A few days later I discovered Dad had been checking up on a few things.

"Speaking of improvements in certain paints," he began, "chalking is a good example." For my benefit he explained that chalking provides a self-cleaning feature in good paint. The chalk with clinging dirt and dust is gradually washed away during rainfalls. It seems that in the new Sherwin-Williams paint, chalking is rigidly controlled to prevent wearing down too quickly. This control provides an extra year of fresh appearance for a paint job.

Dad got excited too, about a new control of oil penetration. He explained that a method had been found to prevent vital oil from soaking into the wood. Through a new process, developed by Sherwin-Williams, much of the oil is held in the paint film to make a better-looking, more durable film with fewer brush marks and more uniform thickness.

Until we have our own home to paint, I consider SWP has done enough for me; I overheard Dad telling one of his friends, "That new son of mine—good head on his shoulders."

LET'S EXPLORE OHIO
Mother of Presidents

COURTESY- THE STANDARD OIL CO (OHIO)

Historic Ohio is often referred to as "The Mother of Presidents" since no less than eight presidents of the United States were born in or elected from Ohio.

In addition, three vice presidents were born in Ohio.

As a result, there is scarcely a part of the state which does not have an historic shrine, a birthplace museum or a memorial honoring those Ohioans who have reached the highest position in the nation.

WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON, first such Ohioan, was the 9th President of the United States. Born in 1773 in Virginia, he early made his home in Ohio at North Bend just west of Cincinnati. Here he is buried in a memorial tomb that overlooks the Ohio River. (15).

ULYSSES S. GRANT was the second Ohio president and the 18th man to hold the office. The house in which he was born still stands at Pt. Pleasant on Route 52, southeast of Cincinnati. So, too, does his home at Georgetown in Brown County. (12 and 13).

RUTHERFORD B. HAYES, the 19th President of the United States was born at Delaware in 1822. A tablet has been erected on the site. His home at Fremont, Ohio is in possession of his heirs and he is buried there on the grounds in Spiegel Grove. A memorial museum is located near the homestead. (1 and 8).

JAMES A. GARFIELD, 20th President of the United States, was born in Orange Township, Cuyahoga County. His old residence at Mentor on Route 20, east of Cleveland, is still used by his heirs and is open to the public. Garfield is buried in Lakeview cemetery in Cleveland. (2 and 3).

BENJAMIN HARRISON, grandson of William Henry Harrison and 23rd President, was born in North Bend, on the Ohio River west of Cincinnati. (15 and 16).

WILLIAM McKINLEY, 25th President of the United States was born at Niles, Ohio. He is buried in one of the finest memorial tombs in the country at Canton, Ohio and another memorial has been erected at Niles (5 and 6).

WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT, 27th President, was born in Mount Auburn, Cincinnati, Ohio. A Taft museum is maintained at the former residence of his brother, Charles B. Taft. (14).

WARREN G. HARDING, 29th President, was born at Blooming Grove in Morrow County. His residence at Marion, Ohio is used as a memorial museum and he is entombed in a beautiful memorial on the outskirts of Marion. (7).

The three Ohio vice presidents are Thomas A. Hendricks, born at East Fultonham in Muskingum County, where the house still stands; Charles W. Fairbanks, born in Union County; and Charles G. Dawes, born in Marietta, Ohio. His birthplace still stands in this oldest Ohio city. (10 and 11).

(Another story in this series on Ohio Presidents will appear in an early issue. Watch for it.)

Happenings That Affect the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare.

The current furor over State Department's "Voice of America" radio broadcasts is the most serious the program has become involved so far. For a long while a sizable minority in Congress has doubted if the broadcasts can do any good. At one time it looked as if either House or Senate might refuse to vote the necessary appropriations to keep the program going. It was saved by Secretary Marshall, who made a strong plea in which he said it was an important adjunct to our foreign policy.

"Voice of America" is beamed by directional radio to a long list of foreign countries, in their languages. The broadcast which recently aroused anger in Congress seems to have been extraordinarily critical of this country, at least in part. It was in the form of a travelogue, in which two men journeyed through various states and discussed what was going on. Heavy stress, apparently, was laid on real or alleged racial and other inequalities. The author of the script said that taking isolated lines from the context did it an injustice, and that anyone who listened to all of it would get a favorable opinion of the United States. Whether that is true or not, it looks as if division of responsibility is a very weak link in the "Voice of America" chain. The State Department does not prepare the scripts, but has that done by a broadcasting company. No one in authority, apparently, checks them before they are released. In the recent controversy, everyone passed the buck to someone else.

Regardless of what has happened in practice, however, the theory back of "Voice of America" is interesting. The basic plan was to put out entertaining and informative programs that would give foreign listeners — particularly those behind the iron curtain — a more accurate idea of American life and thought than can be gained from their own newspapers and radio, most of which are government controlled. The idea was to reach the rank and file of people, and to show them, among other things, that America is peaceable, sympathetic with their problems, and eager to cooperate in solving the world's ills. No one knows how many foreign listeners have actually heard the broadcasts. In some countries, notably the Soviet Union, where people caught listening to foreign broadcasts may find themselves in serious difficulty, the number is undoubtedly small. Even so, the program's advocates say, it has been a positive and growing influence.

The future of "Voice of America" remains to be seen. Within the United States, a number of none-governmental activities are being carried on to give Americans themselves a clearer idea of the superiority of the capitalist over the socialist and communist systems. There is no end of authoritative information of this kind, but much of it is in long and scholarly monographs which are not widely read. More and more thought is being given to reaching the people with ideas and facts which can be quickly assimilated and easily remembered. The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, as an example, has put out a series of charts called "Magic of America" which have been received with much more enthusiasm than was expected. The charts are largely factual in character, and are devoted to the difference in living standards between capitalist America, communist Russia and socialist Britain. The average American wage earner, it is pointed out, could buy six pairs of shoes with a week's earnings, while in Russia his counterpart gets enough for only one shoe. Again, in America an hour's work will pay for six quarts of milk, while in Russia it will buy but a third of one quart. And, despite our housing shortage, we have an average of 410 square feet per person as against Ivan's 40.

These, and many other comparable works, are all part of the war of ideas, which is a relatively new thing in the world. The basic conflicts between nations today are ideological. That is why totalitarian governments always take over the press and the radio as a first step in cementing their authority, and eliminate all criticism, no matter how mild. The Russians, for instance, are very proud of the fact that their newspapers have had an astonishing growth in circulation in the last eight or ten years. One leading paper actually said that this was an example of "real" freedom of the press — which consists of putting Soviet propaganda into every story!

One of the basic weaknesses in the communist system is, of course, the inability to stand criticism. The Soviet leaders are afraid that their people will be contaminated by western ideas and knowledge of western ways of living. It is reliably reported that returning Russian soldiers who have had close contact with British and Americans are forced to take indoctrination training, during which the virtues of communism and the sins of capitalism are pumped into them ad nauseum. Then, when the soldiers are released to go home, they are watched carefully to make sure they are free of subversive ideas.

We live in an age in which thoughts are weapons no less than guns. Whatever one may think of the capitalist system, it is the only one in being which has never made an effort to stop criticism, and the only one which lives amicably with a free press and a free radio.

St. Mary's Graduates Are Married

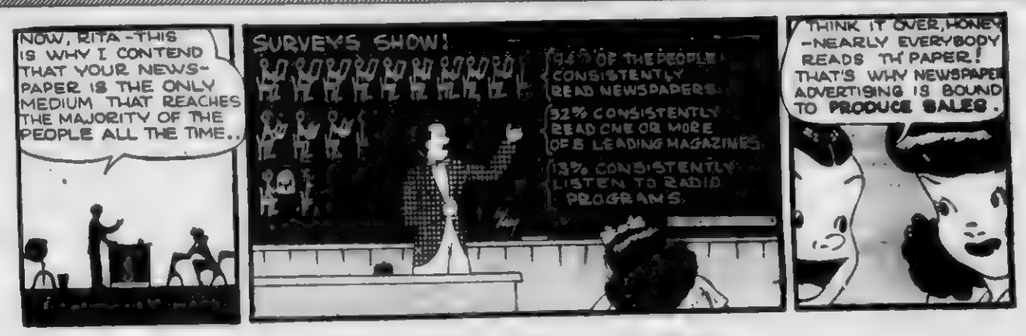
A background of peonies, snapdragons and gladioli surrounded by lighted candles formed the setting in St. Mary's Church, May 29, for the nuptial high Mass, uniting in marriage Miss Jeanne Wagner, daughter of Mrs. N. J. Wagner, 289 Reinhard Av, and the late Mr. Nicholas Wagner, to Kenneth Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mann, 318 Beech St.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, William D. Wagner, wore a gown of billowy white marquisette with a softly shirred insert with an off-shoulder effect, and tight fitting bodice, the extremely bouffant skirt extending into a cathedral train of cascaded self ruffles. The silk illusion veil was held in place by a coronet of imported Irish lace. The bride carried a prayer book, covered with camellias and baby breath.

Mrs. Grace Myer, served as maid of honor, and wore a gown of pink marquisette fashioned with an embroidered tight fitting bodice, and full skirt.

She carried a bouquet of blue and [illegible] with a matching headpiece.

Norman Mann, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Seating the guests were Jack Schmidt, Charles Williams, and Bill Henthorne.



Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was held at the Seneca Hotel. A reception was held in the evening at the home of the bride. Serving as hostesses were Marjorie Dunn, Betty Bingmer and Theresa Coyle.

The new Mrs. Mann is a graduate of Saint Mary High School and is now associated with the Ohio Bankers Association. Mr Mann is also a graduate of Saint Mary High School and is now associated with the Columbus Terminal Warehouse.

Following their honeymoon in Michigan, the couple now reside at 824 Ebner Street.

Club Alexander

The Club Alexander, this week has that comical female Polly Rochelle, who also sings and pantomimes.

Sally Clark, who does modernistic dancing adds much to the revue plus Janice Doran, with her tap and musical comedy style of dancing.

Altogether, this is one of the top revues of the season for this fine night spot.

Strip Tease Flyers

There will be a blind flight contest for student aviators, Sunday at the Clickenger Airport.

Also there will be a strip tease contest. In this contest the students will fly a circle and then land and take off one article of their clothing. Then they must fly again and repeat. The student who wins will be the one who gets down to the place where he has only his shorts left on.

The public is invited with no charge.

IDEAL THEATER

The Ideal Theater presents Sunday and Monday "Green Dolphin Street" with Lana Turner and Van Heflin. Millions read and loved the novel, now it comes to vivid compelling life on the screen, with a new, more lovely, more tempestuous Lana Turner than you've ever seen before.

There's breath taking spectacle, heart-tingling romance and pulsing excitement. As tender as a love story can be.

The story of two sisters who both desired the same man, a glorious screen version of the novel. Also "Raiders of Red Rock" with Al Fuzzy St. John, plus a cartoon.

RUSSELL THEATRE

The Russell presents Sunday and Monday "Saigon" with Alan Ladd and Veronica Lake. A tense terrific story of men who face death with a smile, who refuse security and safety, even at war's end, because they were caught in the grip of torrid Oriental intrigue. There's spine tingling adventure, and romance so hot it sizzles. Also "Angels Alley" with Leo Gprcey and His Bowery Boys. "News and Cartoon" follow.

Columbia Theater

Appearing at the Columbia Theater, Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, will be that great picture "The State of the Union" starring Spencer Tracy and Katherine Hepburn.

No picture produced recently has the punch as this inspiring film which will be typical of the headlines of our newspapers 'till next November.

This picture is a film with a clear cut behind the scenes of our present day politics and political campaigns.

Add to this "The Return of Rin-Tin-Tin" a truly great dog picture and you have an evening of fine entertainment.

Tenth Ave. Angel At Southland

Tiny Margaret O'Brien makes many friends in "Tenth Avenue Angel", heartwarming picture coming Sunday to the Southland Theatre screen, but none more devoted than Blind Mac, newspaper vendor, portrayed by Rhys Williams. Also featured in the show are Angela Lansbury, Geo. Murphy and Phyllis Thaxter. That popular young comedian, Donald O'Connor, and vivacious Olga San Juan co-star in the musical, "Are You With It", which will be co-featured with "Tenth Avenue Angel" at the Southland during its three-day engagement.

By Woodbrook Pegler
Released by WNU Features

FRED TISDALE has bought an interest in the Times, a weekly published at New Milford, Conn. In a comfortable old phrase with rockers on it, he is settling down in a beautiful Yankee country to spend the rest of his life as a small-town editor. Mr. T. is a real professional journalist in the finest sense of the word. He was born in West Tennessee at a time when the bounty of Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest still rode in the moonlight in the shrouds of the original Ku Klux Klan, landed in Kansas City busted at a tender age, wrote and drew pictures for the Kansas City Star and played the grand tour of the tramp newspaperman.

The grand tour was variable, like the route of an inveterate ballplayer some years ago. Newspaper reporters, including a few spectacular alcoholics, wandered from town to town in the way of that class of cavalry soldiers called snow-birds, who enlisted for the winter when the cavalry was snowed in and went over the hill in the spring. They must have been quaint.

The memoirs of an old soldier named Hand which run endlessly in the Star in Tucson casually tell of the execution of one of the boys by a firing squad of his own comrades because he refused duty. The captain pleaded with him to yield and do the duty, but he had a stubborn streak so it was necessary to shoot him, but Hand added that they buried him with honors. THAT SEEMED TO RELIEVE THE EPISODE OF MEANNESS.

Making the Circuit

In those days—my youngling days, too—if a man could truthfully say that he had worked on the Kansas City Star he could hang his hat in any shop in the country. Chicago, Minneapolis and St. Paul were on the grand tour, Omaha, St. Louis, Denver, San Francisco, Seattle, New Orleans and, for some reason, St. Joe, Mo.

Des Moines, Memphis, Dallas, Los Angeles and Fort Worth were not and there was practically no such place as Oklahoma City or Tulsa in the newspaper sense, or any other for that matter. The pay ranged from $15 a week for cubs, mostly runaway big-city office boys who would pitch in as busboys at the Baltimore lunch for their hamburgers and coffee when they couldn't catch on in the local newspaper shops, up to $35 a week for older hands of 25 or 30 with the knack and competence of seasoned men.

There were lots of papers then. We had four in Des Moines when I was a cub there in 1913 as against two today, and in St. Louis we had five as against three now. That is about the ratio of survival and in baseball it is about the same. There are fewer leagues and the young ballplayers, like the young reporters, take a strangely unromantic view.

Tisdale's "Clarion Call" in his first editorial says he isn't going to try to make a "smart" city newspaper of the New Milford Times and would leave global problems to the editorial writers of the great metropolitan dailies.

"We do not presume to believe," said he, "that any ponderous pronouncement in the New Bedford paper is going to soften the attitude of Josef Stalin or put an end to lynchings in the [redacted]."

Voice of People

Well, excusing that word "ponderous" and noting an exception to that phrase "in the South," the voice of the New Milford Times could be as influential in its own circulation field as that of any daily. After all, those metropolitan editorials are written, mostly, by the likes of Tisdale, hired for their ability to express the policy of the person or the soulless corporation who owns the paper. There is a tradition that practically all of them have one of two ambitions. The first is to settle down to country journalism and the second is to raise chickens.

If we get any honest discussion of the questions which will settle the fate of the United States in the next few years—say four years—and may do for us as a free people, WE WILL GET IT FROM THE NON-METROPOLITAN PAPERS.

There aren't any hicks in the United States now. After two wars we are a far-traveled people and higher education is as common as the common cold. An item right under Tisdale's "Clarion Call" or outline of purpose on the editorial page, says that James Allared, who makes his home up Long mountain, "was with Jimmy Doolittle on that famed flight over Japan."

Mention the Booster To Your Merchant

Senior: "Say kid, you gotta match?"

Frosh: "N-n-no sir, but here's a cigarette lighter."

Senior: Keep it, I can't pick my teeth with that."

* * *

"I get seventy-five dollars a week and my wife gets seventy-five dollars a week, too."

"Gee, doesn't that make a hundred and fifty?"

"No, I get it first and she gets it afterward."

The Parsons Theater

The Parsons Theater presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Duel In the Sun" with Jennifer Jones, Joseph Cotten and Gregory Peck. Here at last, the David Selznick Masterpiece for which you have been waiting. The most torrid love story ever filmed.

Performances are as excellent as the Star-Studded cast would indicate. The Story a searing saga of two men and an impetuous half-breed beauty, whose unbridled passion spelled death to those whom she loved. Also Selected Short Subjects.

Ellen Craven Mr. Snoke Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert L. Craven, 139 E. Gates St., are announcing the approaching marriage of their daughter, Ellen Lucille, to Mr. Robert Bernard Snoke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Caroll B. Snoke, 599 S. Warren Ave.

For her matron of honor the bride-elect has chosen her sister, Mrs. Harry Osborn, jr. Her other attendants will be Miss Marjorie Heints, Miss Ruth Conrad and Miss Mary Snoke, sister of the bridegroom. For her flower girl she has chosen little 3-year-old Helen Louise Emerson. Mr. Snoke's best man will be Mr. Donald Johnson of California, while seating the guests will be Mr. Donald Craven, Mr. Harry Osborn, jr., and Mr. Jack Martin.

The open-church ceremony will take place at Gates-Fourth Methodist Church, July 16, at 7 p.m. with the Rev. Harry F. Zierer officiating. Immediately following the ceremony a reception will be held in the church parlor with Mrs. Donald Craven, Mrs. Jack Martin and Mrs. Edward Edmister serving as hostesses.

Caution When Using D.D.T.

The use of D. D. T. is urged by the Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce to prevent traffic accidents during the rapidly approaching 3-day Independence Day vacation.

This D. D. T. is not the famous Bug Killer—it means Defensive Driving in Traffic, and it's a potent poison for traffic accidents. It's the smart way to drive a motor vehicle, long practiced by the best professional bus and truck drivers but not common enough among average motorists.

Defensive Driving in Traffic means more than just obeying traffic laws, signs and signals and avoiding mistakes of judgment in your own driving. It also means being able to avoid accident situations caused by others.

The Council says you are a defensive driver if you can answer "yes" to the following questions:

Although you have the right of way at an intersection, another car is coming fast along the cross street. Do you slow down and stop if necessary?

The driver ahead holds out his hand. Do you stay behind until you are sure of what he intends to do?

You are driving along a residential street and see children playing on the sidewalk. Do you slow down and keep a sharp eye on them?

You've had a couple of highballs at a party but feel fit as a fiddle. Do you ask someone else to drive?

You are approaching the crest of a hill. Do you slow down, keep well to the right and alert for the approaching speed demon who is trying to pass a truck on the other side of the hill?

The night is wet and dark. Do you put your speed as you can stop in the distance your headlights illuminate?

The trick of defensive driving is to concentrate not only on what you are doing, but on what the "other fellow" is doing or plans to do.

Some Timely Tips On Child Safety

These tips to prevent traffic fatalities and injuries to children during the summer vacation may help to further Gov. T. Herbert's state-wide program of traffic safety:

Caution children against running, playing, scooter-riding or roller skating in roadways.

If your youngster rides a bicycle, impress on him or her the absolute need for the utmost care and common sense in operating such a vehicle.

Warn your children against crossing streets except at corners and then only when traffic is at a standstill.

Don't permit your children to play within the vicinity of parked vehicles.

Don't allow your children to sit on curbstones or play at or near curbstones.

Closely watch over and supervise the outdoor play of your children.

Don't permit children to lean out windows of automobiles or other vehicles or to stand near doors of other vehicles.

Take your children to nearby parks, playgrounds and supervised play streets for safe, wholesome recreation.

1498 Car Titles Issued In June

With a total of 1498 titles issued for new cars during June, the county clerk's office has registered 140,323 auto titles since the first of the year, County Clerk Russell H. Campbell announced Friday.

The title department has collected $88,312 in the first six months of the year against $86,566 for the same period last year.

The clerk's office collected fees totaling $14,516 in June, while Juvenile Court receipts totaled $79,764, the largest amount in any month thus far. Receipts in child support payments and similar charges in Juvenile Court have increased $50,000 over the first six months of 1947.

A total of 604 new cases were filed during June, including 361 for divorces and 243 civil cases.

As Pegler Sees It

By Westbrook Pegler
Released by WNU Features

THE Beverage Retailer Weekly, a New York journal of the liquor industry, recently covered the greatest social event of the season in that incorrigible trade.

"Top representatives of labor, industry and government joined with more than 800 members of the Wholesale Wine Salesmen's union, Local 18, American Federation of Labor, in honoring Benjamin F. Pross, executive business manager of the union, at a great testimonial dinner and banquet in the Grand ballroom of the Hotel Delmonico," the Retailer said.

THESE DISPATCHES HAVE EXPOSED PROSS AS A RACKETEER WHO SHAKES DOWN THE INDUSTRY, ITSELF NO LILY, AND TERRORIZES THE RANK AND FILE.

Pross owns a dozen New York locals of the A. F. of L. He is an inveterate jail-bird with three old convictions, two of them for bankruptcy frauds. But when he ran up against the administration of "Tumble-Tom" Clark, the attorney general, Pross, being a New Deal unioneer, won easily.

It hardly needs to be said that this prosecution took place in Newark, in the political principality of Frank Hague, before old reliable Judge Thomas F. Meaney, the pride and joy of the Hague mob, and that the U.S. attorney, in the front office, was Edgar H. Rossbach, who engineered in Meaney's court the Joe Fay fiasco which Clark described as a "damned outrage."

Talks by Bigwigs

The Newark thing was a black-market job. Pross muscled 10,200 cases of whiskey from Schenley and it showed up in the southern army camps where the patriots gouged $25 a bottle from American boys who were training to save Pross from Hitler. There was no doubt that Pross got the booze from Schenley. There was no doubt that it went into this southern black market.

"While 12 outstanding figures seated on the dias with Pross had come prepared to make splendid laudatory speeches all were told to keep their talks to a minute or two," the Retailer continues. "One exception to the two-minute rule was that given to Andrew Edmiston, representative of West Virginia in congress, and stated to be the next governor of West Virginia."

Do you happen to know anything about this guy? What would a West Virginia congressman be doing at this underworld blowout in New York? Stick a pin in that name, Andrew Edmiston.

"Edmiston explained that he had ducked an important meeting of a committee in congress to be on hand to add personal testimony to a grand guy 'in the person of my good friend, Benny Pross.' The congressman spoke of his long-time acquaintance with Pross and his personal knowledge of many kind things Benny has done for workers, employers and untold charities."

"Untold" is right. Last year this thief shot off his mouth about his interest in underprivileged children. Then he said "I was born on the east side," whereas in one of the five bankruptcies in which he and other members of his delightful family took part, he swore that he was born in Russia and didn't come here until he was 12.

"Gifts" to Charity

Last year, the first year of this great series of charity racket shows for Benny Pross, another booze trade journal reported that the mob gave some money to the Damon Runyon cancer fund and the University Settlement but didn't say how much or how it was raised.

This year, the Retailer says that "while the object of the testimonial affair was for the purpose of presenting a gift of approximately $5,000 in value to Pross, he declined and directed that the money be apportioned to the New York Heart association, the Runyon fund and the University Settlement society."

Wait a minute; there were employers at this dinner.

When employers give to a "testimonial fund" for a union racketeer it is extortion or bribery, or both. BUT IT ISN'T CHARITY.

This Beverage Retailer carries on its masthead the name of Max L. Simon as publisher. Clive M. Black Jr. is listed as business manager.

Recently I saw something strange in a column that Black writes under the ingenious head, "Between You'n Us."

"Herbie Pross, brother of Ben, and Lou Teller have just purchased the Poinciana hotel in Miami Beach," he wrote. That is prosperous going for Herbie, who has a record in New York himself.

"From our recollection, it is one of the newest and finest hotels at this famous winter resort," Black went on. "It should become a popular spot with liquor moguls. Make it a must on your places-to-stop-at list."

Employment Service Helps Veterans

Columbus, Ohio, July 7-There's drama, pathos, even a touch of humor in the situations of some of the veterans who apply for vocational guidance and jobs through the Veterans Employment service.

The VES, which works in liaison with the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation's Employment Service Division, often finds itself up to its ears in marital, housing and even transportation problems. Consider, for instance, the case of the 23-year-old Elyria veteran who was married to a Russian war widow he had met in the American Zone of Germany.

The veteran, who was also responsible for the support of his bride's two children, ages 9 and 13, had lost his job because of an aggravated bronchial condition. His bride, whose familiarity with English was something less than perfect, threatened to break up their home on the assumption that her husband had misrepresented himself and his physical condition to her prior to their marriage.

The local veterans employment representative—there is such a representative in each of the Bureau's ninety-one local offices—was able to convince the woman that her husband was employable. He did most of his convincing by placing the veteran as a timekeeper on a construction project, a job he is currently handling successfully. At last reports, all was tranquil on the domestic scene.

Different but equally moving was the case of the Ashland veteran who wanted a farm job. He applied for work at the Bureau's Ashland office, which, having no farm openings on file, phoned the office in Medina, some 30 miles away. The Ashland office reported that the veteran was married, had a wife and four children, needed a job in the worst way. Could the Medina office help?

The Medina office could and did. The veteran got a job in the Medina area but, having no automobile and little money, was unable to transport his family and worldly goods from Ashland to Medina. The Medina office veterans employment representative queried every drayman and mover in town in an effort to find someone who would make the trip between the two towns at a small fee. There were no takers.

In desperation, the employment representative contacted a "Rent-a-Truck" concern, talked the operator into letting a vehicle go from 4 p.m. one day to 9 a.m. the following morning for $15. Through the representative's efforts, the veteran was able to move both his family and his household furnishings and save the price of five bus tickets to boot.

Hands Off Policy Urged For Baby Deer

Game Protectors of the Ohio Division of Conservation, especially in the deer counties of the state, report a number of instances of persons picking up "orphaned" fawns.

Lester C. Bailey, Law Enforcement Chief of the Division, said today that he believes in most cases the practice can be traced to good intentions on the part of the "rescuer" nevertheless it is illegal and tends to upset nature's system of protection for young wildlife.

There may be cases, but they are rare, when a baby deer is orphaned. A fawn which seems to be stranded and without a mother should be left alone. The mother deer can usually be found 50 to 75 yards away keeping a close watch over her offspring.

There are several reasons for this apparent lack of interest on the part of the mother; one is that it is nature's way of seasoning young wildlife to be on their own but the more important reason is that nature has provided the deer family with a strange system of protection. Fawns, until they are old enough to shift for themselves, have no odor and therefore cannot be tracked down by dogs and other predators. The mother deer does carry the musky deer odor easily detected by the trained nose of a dog and therefore usually stays a distance away from her baby as much as possible.

If a dog happens to locate a mother deer napping in the woods she may pitch a good fight on the spot but will usually lead the dog a good distance from the vicinity of her baby for the showdown, then return to the fawn which has probably slept straight through the whole disturbance and because there is no odor about him he is safe except from some person who finds him and hauls him away thinking he is an orphan.

The general public is urged to adopt a hands-off policy not only for baby deer but for any of the babies of the wildlife species.

Good Shepherd Summer Festival

A committee of 40 prominent civic and business leaders will help promote the annual summer festival of the House of the Good Shepherd, July 21, at the school grounds, Sandusky and West Broad Streets.

General Chairman for the affair, which this year will be the most elaborate and ambitious staged by the nuns, will be Edward W. Burnwell. He will be assisted by Mrs. C. A. Posey, Mrs. George T. Lennon, Walter R. Burkley, George J. Igel, Louis G. Zettler, Eddie Wagner, Bernard A. Hodapp, Mike Hausman, and Reverend Father William E. Kappes.

For 83 years a factor for good in the community, the Convent this year helped 128 girls from all sections of Ohio, and of all creeds, get a new start in life.

Proceeds from the lawn festival, which are expected to total $15,000.00, will be used for needed improvements and expansion.

Mother Mary Saint John, Convent Superior, said that classes in high school, commercial courses and domestic science were held during the past year for 61 non-Catholic and 14 Catholic girls.

Among those who will serve as committee chairmen for the July 21 event are: R. Neil Grove, W. P. Finneran, Frank West, Kathryn Murtha Will, A. W. "Bugs" Raymond, Ed Scanlon, Richard J. Albanese, Ray Eyerman and Brad Willson.

Mayor James A. Rhodes is Honorary Chairman of the festival committee.

There will be games, and more than $2,000.00 worth of prizes.

"So you've been married ten years? Well, well, I suppose you have quite a little brood?"

"Oh yes, but I'm not as good at brewing as I should be."

Senior & Junior Southway Members Will Meet

There will be a regular business meeting for both senior and junior members of Southway Unit 144 American Legion Auxiliary Friday evening, July 16th at 8 o'clock at the Post Club 874 So. High Street.

Southway Unit will be hostess to the Little Convention of the 12th District, Thursday afternoon July 22nd at 12:30 o'clock at the Post Club 874 S. High St. with Mrs. Arthur Palmer, president, presiding.

Southway Past Presidents Party

Monday, June 28th, a very pleasant evening was enjoyed by the past presidents of Southway Unit 144 of the American Legion Auxiliary when they met at the home of Mrs. William Klein on Alum Creek Drive for a casserole supper. Soloist for the evening was Miss Nell Flautt.

Among those present were Edith Bass, Mary Hauf, Etta McDonald, Marie Witche, Nell Flautt, Cornelia Hayes, Hilda Leasure, Olga Hahn, Banche Klein, M. Mae Palmer and Laurie Staley president of Southway Unit.

Crippled Children Fund Scores

Ohioans contributed a total of $354,693 to support services for the physically handicapped, during the Easter Seal sale this past spring, it was announced today by Walter B. Underwood, executive director of The Ohio Society for Crippled Children. The state organization, together with 78 affiliated county societies and local service groups, sponsored the drive in this state.

The figure raised for 1948 represents a 16 per cent increase over the 1947 Easter Seal campaign.

"The generous response to our appeal this year," Underwood stated, "is evidence that an increasing number of people in this state want more and better facilities for the care and treatment of people afflicted with crippling disorders."

More than 90 per cent of the funds raised remain in the state to finance a variety of services including medical treatment and equipment, schooling and camping. The greater portion of funds is left for local use in the communities where the money is raised each year.

An immediate activity supported by Easter Seals is camping for crippled children, several hundred of whom are being enrolled in local camps this summer.

Crippled children's societies attempt to "meet needs not met by any other agency," according to Underwood. "We fill gaps," he explained, "but avoid duplicating the work of other organizations."

Cerebral palsied children and epileptic persons receive particular attention because they are "among the most neglected of our handicapped population," Underwood said. The Society brings some of the country's foremost specialists on both disorders into the state periodically to demonstrate newer methods of treatment and care.

Eight and three tenths percent of the funds raised this year will be used as Ohio's share of the cost of consultative and other services maintained by the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

The sale of Easter Seals, as a means of financing crippled children services, was initiated in this state in 1935 by The Ohio Society. Since that year the organization has conducted the annual drive in cooperation with affiliated county units and numerous service groups.

Parsons Viaduct Opening Delayed

Due to a delay in receiving materials for paving the Parsons Ave. viaduct did not open for traffic last Monday.

Mr. Paul Metzel of the City Engineering Department says the viaduct will be open for traffic either Friday or Saturday.

Lawn Fete At Schiller Park

Wednesday, July 21, will be a "gala day" for the South Congregational Church and Sunday School. The occasion will be the Annual Church Lawn Fete at Schiller Park from 10:00 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Lunch at 11:30 a.m. to one o'clock and dinner from 5:30 to 7:00 p.m. will be served by the ladies of the church.

Featured also, will be delicious home made candies, all kinds of home baked pastries, plain and fancy aprons, very fine embroidered pillow cases, a white elephant table and plenty of pop and ice cream for the kiddies.

At 7:15 p.m. a very entertaining variety show will be enacted in the auditorium, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Foster directing.

The public is invited to join in these festivities.

Mrs. Evans Honored At Party

On Friday evening June 18th a surprise party was given Mrs. Christine Evans in honor of her 82nd birthday by the senior and junior members of Southway Unit 144 of the American Legion Auxiliary.

She was presented with an orchid by the Seniors and a bar pin and birthday cake by the juniors who also served refreshments.

Those serving were Norma Southland, president, Loris Lensenmayer and Mary Lee Stultz both past presidents.

No Fat To Fry

Robert E. Freer, Chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, recently testified before a Senate Committee on th subject of price controls. He said that he is convinced, from long experience, "that it is undesirable to substitute for our present anti-monopoly laws under which government's duty is only to keep competition fair and free, a system of regulations of business under which it becomes the government's duty to see that industrial prices and practices are kept reasonable. .".

That point of view is 100 per cent substantiated by our own peacetime experience with price and other controls—and by what is going on in the countries of the world which are still working on the theory that government should run everything. Some of the worst shortages we ever knew occurred under OPA—for the simple reason that scarce goods were channeled into the black market, where they sold for extortionate prices, and the honest merchant could not buy them. Today, practically anything can be bought "for a price" in the rationed countries of Europe. But the vast masses of people, who can't afford to patronize black market racketeers, have to go without.

There is a sincere, if uninformed, group of backers of price control who believe that it would drastically reduce prices by eliminating high profits. But the fact is that the profits of most manufacturers run to only about 5 per cent of each dollar of sales. The profits of retailers are also small, in the case of food chains, less than 2 cents out of each dollar spent with them. In other words, a margin which would make price cuts possible just doesn't exist. And a resumption of price control would create more shortages, more bare shelves—and a flourishing black market comparable to the bootleg interests in the prohibition era.

BILL FINLEY IN HOSPITAL

Bill Finley, of the Foreign Grocery Co., is in Doctors Hospital, recuperating from a broken ankle. Finley broke his ankle playing soft ball.

A Platform For Americans

1. Stop the march to Socialism. Pitilessly expose Communism. Restore the American incentives to work, own, and save, and the old rewards to individuals for producing more and better goods.

2. Defend human rights to hold, use and dispose of all property honestly acquired, and refrain from confiscating the property or income of any class.

3. Deport aliens having unAmerican ideals. Keep out undesirable immigration. Raise the standards for naturalized citizenship.

4. Stop government use of the taxpayers' money to compete against private enterprise.

5. Stop politicians from buying votes by promising Federal Aid (resulting eventually in Federal Control) for education, socialized medicine and public housing.

6. Stop waste of public funds. Reduce the Federal payroll by one million needless job-holders. Balance the budget. Stop inflation—the process which, by cheapening the dollar, defrauds all thrifty Americans who have insurance policies, social security cards, bank deposits, or investments. Keep American citizens solvent.

7. Limit by Constitutional Amendment the peacetime taxing power of the Federal Government. Abolish or reduce immediately taxes which especially hinder saving and capital accumulation essential for providing new inventions, and new and better tools, for financing new risk-taking, job-making enterprises, and for assuring increased production and higher income for wage workers and others.

8. Apply anti-trust laws fearlessly and equally to all monopolies, both of business and labor. Abolish the assumed "right" of mass rioting, terrorism, and false sanctity attached to picket lines.

9. Project every individual's Right to Work where he will, his right to bargain and contract as he wishes, his Right to Quit when he will if not under contract, and his right to go to and from his home and his place of business or occupation without interference by any individual, organization, or government agency.

10. Build down Washington's swollen, bureaucratic Big Government; bolster State and local government; restore and protect the right of the individual to enjoy freedom and security. Preserve the Constitution of the United States and oppose all attempts to violate it by legislation or otherwise.

AND REMEMBER: Those who have lost freedom have not the strength to regain it. And those who have it seldom realize, until too late, how easily their freedom can be lost beyond recall.

Boat Races At Scioto Lakes

Scioto Lakes Seaplane Base located on Frank Road just South of the city limits and the first road past the S. High Street viaduct is once again the host to a rip roaring and thrill packed professional Boat Race.

The date is set for Sunday, July 18 at 1:30 p.m. Free parking for thousands of cars will be available around the lake; making it possible to watch the race from your car. A couple steps will seat you on the beautiful bank overlooking the complete course, known to racing drivers and fans as the best Marine Bowl in this section of the country.

There will be twelve events during the afternoon featuring midget hydroplanes and runabouts with some of the nation's top drivers participating.

Something new in Racing will be added. A Balloon Race for all boats will be the feature attraction and will take place sometime between races and will add numerous thrills and probably a lot of spills to the excitement of the Regatta.

For a really enjoyable afternoon come out to Scioto Lakes, it's only a ten minute ride out South High Street from the center of town and parking facilities are excellent.

Water skiing exhibition by Earl Quidort of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., who has appeared in many movie shorts. Earl will ski backwards and do many other stunts.

Break for Kiddies—All Kiddies under 12, accompanied by parents will be admitted free.

South Methodists' Annual Picnic

South Methodist church will hold its annual picnic Saturday, July 17, 3:30 to 10:30 p.m., at Camp Yo-Hio.

The committee chairman, Frank Workmaster, assisted by Justin Wishon, has arranged a fine program for the afternoon and evening. There will be games and contests for young and old.

A feature of the early evening will be a baseball game between the Borrors and Daugherty's

A picnic supper will be served at 6:00 o'clock.

The transportation committee asks that you meet at the church at 2:30 so that every one will be sure of a way to picnic grounds

If you want to have fun and meet your friends, come to the South Methodist church picnic.

South High Alumni Picnic

South High School Annual Alumni Picnic will be held Sunday, July 18, at the New South Side "Y" Park starting at 2.30 p.m.

The entire family is invited. The committee has planned games for the children and adults for which prizes will be awarded.

Movies and other fun is promised, as well as a baseball game with some of South's most outstanding athletes of the past years as players.

Plan to attend this affair and meet your former school mates and their families.

The wedding will be an event of early fall.

New Auto Theater To Open Soon

Pioneers in the Auto Theater business in this section of the country, Messrs. Frank Yassenoff and Harold Schwartz are planning the third drive-in for their chain, to be known as the CCC Auto Theater, located at 1195 Harrisburg Pike, just one mile from Mound and Central Av. It will probably open this weekend.

It'll be the most modern auto theater in this section, with a 72-by 72 screen, which is largest in this territory Work has been going on for the past three months and because of the installation of the latest equipment, the opening has been delayed

The new site will be beneficial to the south side patrons as well as those from the west sector of the city.

Mr Yassenoff and Mr. Schwartz also operate the East Side and Riverside Auto Theaters. The latter, now in its ninth season was the first drive in movie in the country.

Errol Flynn is featured in "Never Say Goodbye" Sunday and Monday at the Eastside, with "Return of Rin, Tin, Tin" as the second feature.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, "The Gangster" and "Hutch Minds the Baby" make up the program with late news reel on Wednesday and Thursday. Donald O'Connor in "Are You With It" and Brian Donlevy in 'Gentleman After Dark" plus a cartoon and news make up the Friday and Saturday program.

Two shows are featured nightly at the Eastside, with the first going on the screen at dark. A late feature starts at 11:20 each night. The same setup will be in vogue at the CCC.

Children under 10, accompanied by their parents, are admitted free.

South High St. Under Repairs

Motorists who travel South High Street, Route 23, Columbus, Ohio, will find a greatly improved, smoother surfaced thoroughfare when the proposed project, beginning soon at the corporation line south of the High Street viaduct and extending north to Hanford Street, will be completed some time this fall, Division Engineer Robert F. Werner, said last week.

Removal of car tracks in that area by the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company began Tuesday, July 6.

By the latter part of the week, Max J. Zollar Company, who has the construction contract, will begin operations.

Much of the present brick pavement must first be removed preparatory to leveling the roadbed. This, it is believed, will be a more economical and serviceable plan. If bricks were not taken up, and the same bed-level maintained, it would be necessary to place storm sewers at all intersecting streets, requiring additional work and expense

The project is financed jointly by the City of Columbus, State of Ohio, and the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Company.

During construction of the highway two way traffic will be maintained Engineer Werner said

The contract calls for an asphalt concrete surface 50-65 ft wide, extending a distance of one and one-fourth miles.

Petition Signers Requested To Attend

Townsend Club No. 32 will hold their regular meeting at the K of P Hall, 697 S. High St., Tuesday, July 20, at 7:30 p.m.

The public is invited.

The signers of the Ohio Retirement Plan petition are requested to attend.

Refreshments will be served.

Burma Court Picnic

The Burma Social Club will hold its annual club picnic at Schiller Park Shelter House Thursday, July 22 at 12:30 noon. Hostesses will be Beatrice Harrison, Gwen Fail, Kathleen Jones, Anna Krach and Gretta Matison All members are urged to attend.

South Side Benefactor Burried Today

The passing of Albert P. Kuhn, veteran South Side dry goods merchant, will create a distinct loss in this community.

He was run down by the auto of David A. Cowlton, of Laurelville, at Whittier and High St Mr. Kuhn was riding a motorbike.

He was proprietor of Kuhn Dry Goods located at Siebert St. and Parsons Ave. for 30 years.

For the past 34 years he had been active in Boy Scout work here in the community. During this time he was Scout Leader for the entire South East district. In 1914 he organized Troop No. 25 at Central Community church, to which he belonged. He held the Silver Beaver, highest award of Scout Leaders.

Mr. Kuhn was a stamp and coin collector of note. He also was an expert wood carver. Much of these hobbies he imparted to his Boy Scouts.

He was never too busy to give time to the youth of the South Side and spent most of his Sunday afternoons, holidays and evenings with them.

Mr. Kuhn was a leader here in community and would anything for the people he could give his time and money.

He was a member of the Council of South Side organizations, the Community Council of the South Side YMCA, Goodale Lodge No 372 (F&AM), Temple Chapter No. 155 (R&AM), and York Council No. 562 (RSM).

He resided at 520 Siebert St. and was 67 years old.

Mr. Kuhn is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Ida Werner and Mrs. Rose Frank, both of Columbus

Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. today at the A. J. Held funeral home. He will be laid to rest in Greenlawn cemetery.

No Peaches Are Stolen

Some kind lady called at South Side Booster, last week, and informed us that two ladies working for us had stolen peaches from the lot at the South East corner of Jenkins and Parsons Aves.

For the lady's information, this lot belongs to the South Side Booster and they had our permission to pick the peaches

As soon as we can secure printing machinery, which we hope is very soon the Booster will construct a new home for our paper on this corner

Donald Werner Joins Navy

Donald E. Werner, Sr., USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Werner, of 533 Sibert Street, Columbus, Ohio, enlisted in the regular Navy at the U. S. Naval Recruiting Station in the Old Post Office Building in downtown Columbus July 7, 1948 and is now undergoing his recruit training at Great Lakes, Ill. Donald is planning on becoming an Electronic Tech. in the Navy. Prior to enlisting in the Navy Werner ran a bicycle shop on the South Side.

"How can you tell when someone is drunk?"

"See those two men over there? Well, if you were drunk you would see four men."

South Side Inter-Club League

The Right Anglers and Amerigo Juniors were winners in the opening games of the Y-Park Inter-Club League played June 29th.

The Right Anglers has little trouble in snowing under the loosely organized Fornof team by a score of 24 to 12. Jack Connell did the twirling for the winners in the absence of Bill Findley, who is laid up for the rest of the season with a broken leg received at an earlier practice game. The Right Angle boys caught fire in the second inning and scored 13 runs before the Fornof lads were able to put out the fire. P. Langley led the losers with four hits out of five times at the rubber.

The underdog Amerigo Juniors pulled their game out of the bag in the last half of the seventh to defeat a worthy Amigo Junior No. 1 team by a score of 13-12. Jim Miller rapped out a single to put the Amerigo's fifth run across the plate in the seventh to give his teammates the one run advantage that saved the day.

Charlie Kramer did the tossing for the Amerigos while Luzador aped them in for the losing Amigo Team.

Amigo Juniors No. 2 and the Amergo Seniors failed to put a sufficient number of players on the field.

Southhwood Loses Fourth Straight

Southwood dropped its fourth straight tennis match in the Columbus Tennis League Sunday, this time to the formidable Beatty Park crew by a 5-0 count. Kelton Garwood, Charley Kramer and Joe Wollett played singles for the local team. This marked the fourth time out this year that Southwood has failed to register a point against the opposition.

Next week, Southwood travels to Westgate to take on Bill Sherker's very good crew.

Following is the team standing:

	W.-L.
Olentangy Village	4-0
Columbus Tennis Club	3-1
Grandview	3-1
Arlington	2-2
Beatty Park	1-2
Bexley Westgate	1-3
Bexley	1-3
Southwood	0-4

Hopes for the Southwood courts being finished off for play this season are remote at this point. This has hurt the play of the players greatly, as practice has had to be on a catch can basis. However things look brighter for 1949. Captain Joe Wollett and his boys aren't the kind to complain about their lickings, but it is a bad break they don't have their own courts, as do all the other competing teams.

Miss Green Is Bride Of Mr. Montell

A nuptial high mass Saturday, June 5, united Miss Jo Ann Green and Mr. Thomas J. Montell. Rev Father R. Schmitt performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with candelabra, palms and gladioli. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Green, 342 Hanford St., and Mr. Montell's parents are Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Montell, 2815 Bellwood Ave.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin fashioned along princess lines with a round neckline edged with seed pearls.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. Walter Scholl who wore a gown of peach mousseline styled with a wide ruffle apron and deep square yoke outlined with a ruffle. Bridesmaids were Miss Elaine Saul, the bride's cousin; Miss Norma Jean Mapes and Miss Peggy Montell, sister of the bridegroom.

Best man for his brother was Mr. Andrew Montell, while seating the guests were Mr. Robert Green, the bride's brother, and Kurt Schauwecker.

The couple will reside at 342 Hanford Street.

"My Uncle Zeke is in the hospital."

"What's the matter with him?"

"He climbed down the ladder a few minutes after auntie took it away."

Lily Bloom To Wed Mr. Cohen July 18

Announcement is being made of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Lily Bloom, 1444 Forest-st., daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bloom, to Mr. Maurice Cohen of Houston, Texas.

The wedding will be an event of July 18. After a trip to Colorado Springs, the couple will reside at 1444 Forest street.

Walleye & Black Bass Season Opens At Pymatuning

The Walleye and black bass season at Pymatuning reservoir in northeastern Ohio at one minute past midnight July 1 but a cold northwestern wind kept the event from equalling last year's record catches on opening day.

Although few fisherman brought in daily bag limits of six walleyes last week on opening day most stringers averaged two or three but somewhat above average in size. The largest reported during the early part of the day weighed 13 and one-half pounds while a number of others ranging from seven to ten pounds were weighed in at several boat landings.

Only a few black bass catches were reported probably because on opening day the walleye is king and most anglers set their sights only on walleye.

Walleyes, sometimes called pike-perch, are found in many of the inland waters of Ohio, however, Pymatuning Reservoir which is jointly owned by Ohio and Pennsylvania, has become the favorite fishing grounds for ohio walleye fisherman since the construction of the 16,720 acre lake in 1931. It is thought that the great increase in the walleye population of the reservoir has been due to the good supply of food in the form of an enormous supply of carp minnows for the past several years. It is at this lake that visitors travel many miles to watch the spectacle of wild ducks walking on the backs of carp feeding on the stale bread tossed to the swirling mass of carp by sightseers.

The water temperature and the lake bottom, which is mostly gravel, seems to be just right for walleye. Recent recreational development by the Ohio Division of Conservation in the form of public camping and trailer grounds, shelter house, and other facilities at Pymatuning draws thousands of vacationers and week end visitors.

The walleye, one of Ohio's gamest of fishes, bites freely and travels in schools and is considered by most people next to brook trout and salmon for good eating. They average two to five pounds generally but the world's record is a 32 pound four ounce walleye caught at Port Erie, Ontario, in 1943. The record catch at Pymatuning is said to be 14 pounds.

Jack Eastlake foreman of the Ohio portion of the lake, said last week that in addition to the camping facilities and picnic areas now in use on the Ohio side, a new area with shelter house, picnic ovens and sanitary facilities has now been completed and last week was opened to the general public.

BIRDS FIND WORMS BY SIGHT NOT HEARING

Contrary to popular opinion, birds do their worm-hunting chiefly by the sense of sight and not by listening for them. Their behavior in cocking their heads while searching for worms and other food on the ground leads to the belief that the sense of hearing is involved, but this gesture on the part of birds is merely to aid in seeing.

Birds do not have bifocal vision and they can see best when a single eye is pointed directly at the same spot. Each eye works separately which makes it possible for most birds to almost see a complete circle around them without even moving the head.

Birds have a poor sense of smell, so smelling doesn't help much in locating worms. And hearing doesn't figure in the procedure because the only sound made by earthworms is very slight and resembles that sound made by a person when he moistens his lips and then opens and closes them without moving his jaws.

It is estimated that the average robin requires about seventy earthworms or the equivalent of insect food a day.

SEEN AND HEARD ON THE SOUTH SIDE

Clarence Mooney and Jim Link, of Mooney's Service Station are at Standish, Mich., fishing.

Oh, me! Now you will have to listen to the story about the fish that wouldn't stay on the hook.

Dave Westenhaver, who formerly operated a store at S. High & Kossuth Sts., is helping his son, Paul, operate the Airport Restaurant at Port Columbus.

Next time you are in the Premier Flower Show, ask Rudy Zish, about his Concertina, and what he uses it for?

Stump, down at McKinney's Barber Shop, is taking a vacation.

Monday morning he was back in the shop. He must be taking a bus man's holiday.

Earl Hayes has harvested all his onions and shipped six train loads to the U.N.R.R. It pays to grow them triple decked.

Marion Rice, of Rice's Food Mkt., has returned from a week's vacation at Buckeye Lake. Marion says he left a few fish over there for the rest of the South Side fishermen.

Walt Tompkins, of the Booster Staff, got a 6 a.m. telephone call last Monday. Hope he doesn't get any more that early as he had a grouch on all day.

Better yet, get yourself a Boxer or Great Dane, and then you won't be ashamed of the fact that you only have a two pound Chihuahua. Or, maybe, you can write us some poetry about your dog.

Nervous suitor: "Sir-I-er-that is, I would like, I mean I've been going with your daughter for five years and . . . "

Hopeful Parents: "Yes, yes, yes?"

Suitor: "Well, could you see your way clear to buy a new easy chair? I've worn out the old one."

Flichias Were Wed At High Mass

White tapers lined the aisles and gladioli decorated the altar of St. John the Baptist Church on Wednesday, June 2, when Miss Rose Julia Franchino became the bride of Augusta J. Flichia, with Rev Fr. Lawrence Corcoran officiating at the nuptial high mass at 9:30 a.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Joseph Franchino, 840 Chestershire-rd., and the late Joseph Franchino, and the bridegroom is the son of Joseph Flichia, 377 Sycamore-st.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Elmer W. Bukey. The bride followed the romantic tradition, her gown of lustrous duchess satin fashioned with a sheer yoke trimmed with teirs of satin bands, with long, tightly fitted sleeves ending in a cuff which fell softly over the hands, and basque bodice. The bouffant skirt fell over a crinoline hoop. The full-length veil of imported illusion, edged in chantilly lace, was caught by a tiara of pearlized orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of white roses, baby breath, centered with an orchid.

Miss Mary Franchino, maid of honor, and Mrs. Elmer Bukey, sister of the bride, matron of honor, wore gowns of green marquisette. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Michael Arena, Mrs. Angela Consentino and Miss Joann Pritchard, wore matching picture hats. They carried fans trimmed with roses with long garlands extending down in front of their gowns.

Michael Flichia, brother of the groom, served as best man and ushers were Michael Arena, Anthony Serio and Whitey Brehl.

A dinner following the ceremony was held at Cenci's and reception in the evening was held at the K. of P. Hall. Hostesses were Mrs. Phillip Palumbo, Mrs. Frederick Wirthman and Mrs. Carol Brunton.

The new Mrs. Flichia wore a blue crepe dress with white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet, for her going-away trip. After the wedding trip to the Allegheny Mountains the couple will reside at 940 Heyl-av.

To Wed July 31

Mr. and Mrs. William Seemueller, 437 Reinhard Ave., announce the engagement of their daughter, Liesa, to William Shrieves, son of Mrs. Belle Shrieves, 1035 City Park Ave.

The double ring ceremony will take place at 2:30 p.m., July 31, at St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church with the Rev. Paul C. Kaefer officiating.

Miss Seemueller has asked her sister, Miss Elsie Seemueller to be maid of honor.

Best man will be Bob Skinner, and seating the guests will be Walter Hoffman and Herbert Seemueller, brother of the bride-elect.

A reception will follow at the home of the bride.

News In The World Of Religion

The acting chaplain of Columbia University, who was in charge of religious observances in connection with that school's mammoth commencement observances in June, is the Rev. Shunji Forrest Nishi, an American-born Japanese, graduate of the University of California and of the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge, Mass., and an ordained clergyman of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

Seventy-five bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States are now in England where they have been in attendance at the Lambeth Conference of the Church of England - the mother church of the Anglican communion. This is the first meeting of the conference since 1930, and the eighth in the history of the church. Some 330 bishops are in attendance, and more than 300 of these are from outside the British Isles. The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, presides over the conference which, he says, "meets at a time of extraordinary confusion in the world."

"Christianity is not a beautiful dream; it is not merely a hauntingly lovely poem of a fearless revolutionary who lived 1900 years ago," said Francis B. Sayre, president of the Trusteeship Council of the United Nations and former Assistant Secretary of State of the U. S., in a recent address at Princeton Theological Seminary. "It is not a way of escape. It is an intensely practical way of life for here and now. It is a unique and God-given revelation of the only possible foundation upon which a human society can be built that will satisfy the eternal demands of the human heart and thus prove stable and permanent . . . . . The choice between the pagan way of war or a peace built upon justice and Christian brotherhood will in all probability determine within the next decade or two the fate of western civilization."

A group of Japanese alumni of Aoyama Gakuin, the Christian college which was maintained by the Methodist Church in Tokyo before World War II and whose buildings were badly damaged by American bombs, have recently organized a unique body known as "Aoyama Gakuin Business Men's Club." The purpose of the organization is to promote understanding between America and Japan; to sell information on business, journalism, religion, and education in Japan to American interests needing such knowledge, photos, etc., and to use all the profits of the enterprise in the reconstruction of the buildings of Aoyama Gakuin. The promoters were engaged in business with the United States before the war, and have already established new business, educational, and journalistic connections with American firms. Takeo Fujiwara is the executive of the Club, and he has the assistance of leading Japanese and Americans, including Dr. E. T. Iglehart, missionary; Prof. Eiju Matsuba of Nihon University; Dr. Yoshimune Abe, former Methodist bishop; Dr. Minoru Toyoda, educator; and Sunshiro Suzuki, editor.

"Less than one half of 1 per cent of the Chinese people are Christians, and it is through them that one-fourth of the human race, the 465,000,000 Chinese, must be reached," said Dr. Francis C. M. Wei, president of Central China College, speaking recently to American churchmen. "Come over and help us, for the task is too great, the responsibility too heavy, the Christians too few. When the oldest nation in the world is becoming new again, when one-fourth of the human race is coming to grips with modern industrialism, share our responsibility, our privilege of saving China by building up the Church in China. When the destiny of China is decided the destiny of the world is decided. We must help and answer the call of God."

There is a new "King of the Woods" in Africa's Belgian Congo. He is the Rev. Marshall Lovell, of Pleasant View, Tenn., missionary of the Methodist Church to Katako-Kombe, the newest mission station in this field. The elders of a nearby village of Otetela-speaking natives recently decided to initiate Mr. Lovell into their unique honorary order, "Khumi y' Ekunda," meaning King of the Woods. This is an historic group of village elders, and before the coming of the white man they exerted a great power in the country. They still act as judges among the people, often stopping fights by sticking a spear in the ground between enemies and forcing them to arbitrate. At the investiture of Mr. Lovell he was presented the symbols of his authority: two spears, a gong, a belt of antelope skin, and a stool. They gave him the name, "Khumi Manyi," meaning "the one who understands everything." All members are required to be honest and truthful, and (strange thing in Africa!) not to beat their wives.

Dear Miss Information. Should a young man wear a tie when visiting his girl friend? Gabbit.

Dear Gabbit: It's according to whether or not you wear a shirt. Some young college students go so far as to comb their hair and shine their shoes.

Eileen Egger And Lee J. Farrell Wed At St. Marys

Before an altar decorated with white gladiola and baby breath, Miss Eileen Egger, daughter of Mrs. Irene Egger, 857 Mohawk-st, became the bride of Lee James Farrell of Washington, D. C., son of Mrs. Patrick Farrell, New Douglas, Ill., on Saturday, June 12, at a solemn high mass in St. Mary Church. The brother of the groom, Rev. Albert Farrell of Detroit, officiated at the 10 o'clock mass assisted by the bride's cousin, Rev. James J. Dury, and Rt. Rev. Msgr., Edmund A. Burkley

The bride was escorted to the altar by her godfather, Christopher Carpenter, 769 Beford-pl.

Her gown of white slipper satin was of colonial period design fashioned with a satin shirred valance, which draped off the shoulder from a silk marquisette yoke, and a satin tufted bustle. Her finger tip veil of French illusion was held by a white satin band trimmed with a smal cluster of orange blossoms at each side. She carried a white missal, a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Richard Egger, Aberdeen, Md., with white rosebuds and shattered carnations.

Mrs. Frank Schneider, sister of the bride, was matron of honor wearing an apple green faille gown fashioned with an off-the-shoulder collar, and a matching headband decorated with pink rosebuds. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink rosebuds and carnations. Maid of honor was Miss Jo Ann Egger, sister of the bride, who wore a lilac faille gown fashioned like that of the matron of honor, and carried a colonial bouquet of pink rosebuds and carnations. Miss Patricia Farrell, sister of the groom and a college roommate of the bride, was bridesmaid, wearing a yellow faille gown and headband fashioned like that of the matron of honor.

Best man for Mr. Farrell was Mr. Michael Murray of Chicago, and seating the guests were Frank J. Schneider, Columbus, and Charles Murphy, Plainsfield, N. J.

The bride's mother wore a street-length gown of grey crepe with black accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds and shattered carnations. Mrs. Patrick Farrell wore a forest green and grey printed crepe with black accessories and corsage of white roses.

Following the wedding a breakfast for the wedding party, family and out-of-town guests, was held at the Seneca Hotel.

A reception was held from 3 to 6 p.m. at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Frank Schneider, 1329 Linwood-av. Mrs. Jerome Montaine, 905 Gilbert-st, and Mrs. Paul Richards, 1239 Wilson-av, served as hostesses.

For her going-away suit, the bride was attired in royal blue gabardine with a hat of natural straw and black patent leather accessories.

The former Miss Egger is a graduate of the College of St. Francis, Joliet, Ill., and attended Ohio State University in a post-graduate course. She is now employed by he Remington-Rand Co., Washington, D. C.

After a honeymoon trip through Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Farrell have made their home at 2543 Fourteenth-st. N. E., Washington, D. C.

Margret Steinmetz Wed Recently

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Croson, 644 E. Moler St., announce the marriage of their daughter, Margaret Ann, to Mr. Kenneth Steinmetz, son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Steinmetz, 836 Southwood Av. The wedding took place June 12 at St. Leo's Church, with the Rev. Robert Schmidt officiating.

Miss Patricia Croson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Mr. William Casey was best man.

The reception was held at the home of the bride.

Mrs. Steinmetz is associated with the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and attended South High School. Mr. Steinmetz is majoring in business administration at Bliss College and is a graduate of South High School.

Rival Warrior—Henry Fonda, as an egotistic cavalry commander, fights untamed Indians foes in "Fort Apache," opening Sunday at the Southland Theatre. Fonda co-stars with John Wayne, Shirley Temple and Pedro Armendariz in this thrilling saga of 1870 Arizona, which will be shown at the Southland, plus an outstanding group of short subjects.

Gerber-Tait Marriage Read

Tall vases filled with flowers, and two tall candelabra, flanked the altar of the Gates Fourth Methodist Church on June 19 when Miss Hazel Gerber, daughter of Mrs. Edward Beutel of Portland, Ind. became the bride of Mr. Kenneth Tait, son of Mrs. Mary A. Tait of Amboy, Ill. The 11:30 a.m. ceremony was read by the Rev. Harry F. Zierer, pastor of the church.

For her wedding, the bride chose a blue crepe dress with white accessories, and carried white orchids

The attendants for the couple were Mrs. Ruth Griffin and Mr. E. E. Withers.

For their trip to Chicago and Wisconsin, Mr. and Mrs. Tait wore matching suits of brown, with tan accessories.

The bride is the assistant manager of the Southern Hotel, and the bridegroom is associated with the Buckeye Furnace Pipe Co.

After July 15 the newly weds will reside at 802 Whittier St.

Paying For Fire No Easy Way

Fire Insurance companies, which have been operating in the red since 1941, have been granted rate increases on certain types of risks in 15 states. The principal properties affected are small manufacturing plants with inadequate fire protection. In two of the states, homes will also pay a higher rate.

This is one more inevitable result of our scandalous fire waste. Ever-increasing fire underwriting losses have made it impossible for the companies to make both ends meet. Last year, the industry suffered a loss of 5 per cent. And over a five-year period, its loss has been nearly 4 per cent.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters stated the problem in a sentence when it said, "In the past 12 months fires that were largely preventable destroyed $703,382,000 worth of irreplaceable property in the United States." This does not include the tremendous damage done in the Texas City disaster, which was caused principally by concussion.

During the first 121 days of this year, fire loss held to a rate of more than $2,250,000 a day. And the death rate is around 11,000 lives a year. Fire is thus directly comparable to war as a destroyer and a killer.

There is one encouraging sign—and it lies in the fact that fire prevention activity is being stepped up throughout the country. More and more serious effort is being given to showing the people the causes of fire—and the steps that will prevent fire. If the people listen and act, a heavy cut in the fire bill can be achieved.

NO EASY WAY

The impact of more than a decade of uncontrolled bureaucracy and government spending is being felt in every corner of the land. The inflationary result of a $250,000,000,000 public debt is coming home to roost. Measured by the "normal" years of 1939-41 we are living in the midst of abundance, yet people complain about shortages. In 1939-41 for example, the per capita consumption of meat was about 138 pounds. Per capita consumption this year will be about 144 pounds. Paradoxically, in 1920 there was no thought of shortage, while early in 1948 some of the "experts" predicted a meat famine by the first of May.

Of course there has been no famine. The difference between 1939 and 1941 is primarily in the supply of money in peoples' pockets and bank accounts, resulting from the dramatic rise in the public debt. This money has created an insatiable demand. There is nothing wrong with the meat industry or any other industry. They are striving to increase production to meet the demand and they are doing amazingly well. Moreover, competition in the free market is holding prices to the practical minimum, which is all that is possible. In these critical days extremists who look for an easy way where there is no easy way, are a menace. They are the ones who advocate peacetime price control and rationing, greater public spending and more and more government dictation—the same medicine that has brought socialism and collapse to the nations of Europe.

Now as never before faith in our free market capitalistic system is needed. It is the only system that has proven its ability to produce the goods on a basis of supply and demand.

Double Ring Ceremony

Satin streamers marked the pews of St. Leo's Church May 1, for a 9 a.m. Nuptial High Mass which united in marriage Miss Velma T. Jovanovich and Mr. John G. Rumora. Rev. Father Robert R. Schmidt read the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with gladioli and roses. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jovanovich, 439 E. Stewart Av, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Rumora, 163 Hinman Av.

Given in marrage by her father, the bride wore a gown of heavy ivory satin fashioned with a sheer yoke of illusion outlined with four rows of seed pearls and a wide ruffle of Alencon lace. Fitted sleeves ended in points over her hands and were trimmed with matching Alencon lace. The fitted bodice gathered to the full skirt in soft unpressed pleats which fell over an old-fashioned hoop of satin and lace and ended in a circular train. Her full length veil of imported English illusion was outlined with a wide border of Alencon lace and was caught to a tiara of pearl orange blossoms. She wore ivory satin wedding slippers, and carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and satin streamers tied with love knots of lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Angeline Yurjako was honor attendant in a gown of yellow chiffon with matching tiara headdress. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and blue carnations.

The bridesmaids were Miss Mary Zubovich and Mrs. Samuel J. Dabo who wore pink gowns of marquisette and taffeta, and Miss Donna Zubovich, Miss Donna Chapin, and Miss Margaret Zubovich who wore identically styled blue gowns. They carried arm bouquets of pink roses and blue carnations and wore tiara headdresses of marquisette to match their gowns.

Mildred Lynn Myers, as flower girl, wore a white satin dress with matching satin bonnet and carried a bouquet of baby roses and baby's-breath.

Best man for Mr. Rumora was Mr. Timothy Berotich. Seating the guests were Mr. Rudolph M. Jovanovich, brother of the bride; Mr. George Rumora, brother of the bridegroom; Mr. John Jovanovich, Jr., of Chicago, Ill., cousin of the bride; Mr. Frank Damijanovich, and Samuel J. Dabo.

The bride is a graduate of South High School and Offira Training School and is employed by the Buckeye Steel Castings Co. in the personnel department.

The bridegroom is also a graduate of South High School and served with the United States Navy. He is employed in the pattern department of the Buckeye Steel Castings Company.

After a honeymoon at Niagara Falls, N. Y., the couple are residing at 439 E. Stewart Avenue.

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affect the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

Late in June, the Federal Reserve Board released its third annual Survey of Consumer Finances. This study, which is prepared by a University of Michigan research center, is designed to find out what typical families want to buy, how their finances shape up, what they think of the economic future, etc. It is based on interviews with several thousand "spending units" a spending unit being defined as a group of people living under one roof whose incomes are pooled.

According to a Business Week breakdown of the survey, "if consumers make good their intentions, 1948 is going to be even bigger than 1947 in purchases of houses, automobiles, and other durable goods. Two years of postwar production have made no dent you can see in the backlog of demand." For example the waiting market for automobiles is in the $8,000,000,000 bracket; housing expenditures may run as high as $19,000,000,000; consumers who want furniture, washing machines and other durable goods apparently are ready to spend between $3,000,000,000 and $4,000,000,000 before the dawn of 1949.

Some obvious qualifications must enter into consideration of these findings. The interviews were taken during the first two months of the year, and in the time that has ensued there may have been changes in the desires and the financial positions of many potential buyers. Of perhaps greater moment, even if consumers are still able and willing to buy as they anticipated months ago, all of the goods will not be available. The market for automobiles, for instance, may approach 4,500,000 units. The industry can't produce that many this year, and some of its top men think it may be late 1950 before it will be possible to walk into a showroom and pick a car of one's choice off the floor. Also, it does not look as if new housing construction will be able to come anywhere near meeting the demand for a considerable time to come. The other durable goods —radios, appliances, etc., are in good supply, though it is not always possible to immediately find some particular make and model.

In any event, buying is naturally conditioned on purchasing power. Here the situation remains bright. The survey found that two-thirds of the spending units still had a liquid backlog—though it was not so large as in 1947. And there has been a noticeable increase in installment purchasing.

One of the most interesting phases of the survey was consumer opinion of what lies ahead, both for themselves and for the nation as a whole. Twenty-seven per cent expect that their incomes will be larger a year hence, 38 per cent anticipate no particular change, and only 10 per cent look for a drop, with the balance uncertain. This is a somewhat more optimistic outlook than was found in similar surveys sponsored by the Federal Reserve Board in 1947 and 1946.

On the subject of the general outlook, 47 per cent foresee good times, 19 per cent little or no change, and 26 per cent are afraid that bad times are coming. This too represents a brighter point of view than in the preceding surveys.

The survey takes into account spending units at all the principal levels. As is to be expected, the reactions varied greatly between lower level and upper level income groups. As compared with the previous year, the over-$5,000 units showed a heavy increase in projected purchasing. In the under-$2,000 groups, on the other hand, there was a very heavy decline. This is the inevitable result of the continued rise in prices.

All in all, however, the survey supports the widely held opinion that the period of high purchasing power with near-peak employment is here to stay for a while. When people with money are unable to buy new cars, they will buy used ones. If they find new [illegible] will holster the old-home market. And many of them say they are prepared to pay still higher prices than obtained now.

This and all comparable surveys are necessarily based on a short-term outlook. No one is willing to stick his neck out on what may happen over a period of some years. There has been a steady decline in family savings, most marked in the middle and low income groups. Even so, the country's savings backlog is extremely high, so the drop hasn't occasioned too much worry as yet.

The 80th Congress, which has passed into the limbo of history, unless it is called into special session before the end of the year, was called upon to deal with four major issues—the labor problem, individual taxation, aid to Europe, and our military defenses. It dealt positively with them all, through the Taft-Hartley Act, income tax reduction, ERP, and the $13,000,000,000 preparedness program. Most of the other issues were deferred, and will again go into the hopper when the 81st Congress convenes.

Congress also refused to act on a long list of presidential appointments. Reason: The Republicans expect to control the government next year, and they want their own people in top jobs.

Latest invention: Round dice for people who would rather play marbles.

Safety Comics To Be Distributed

Columbus, O., —July 12 Some of America's most famous comic page characters, in cooperation with Ohio's automobile dealers, will help save lives in a unique comic book devoted entirely to traffic safety.

Ray Brandenburg, Washington C. H., president of the Ohio Automobile Dealers Assn., announced today that the comic book will bear the title, "It's Fun To Stay Alive." It will be distributed to children and adults at automobile show rooms, county fairs, through schools and schoolboy safety patrols.

Although the comic book was originated as a safety education promotion of the Ohio association, it will be distributed by automobile dealers throughout the nation as a public service project of the National Automobile Dealers Assn., Brandenburg said. Several million copies will be given away.

Special drawings for the book featuring such familiar comic characters as Henry, Bugs Bunny, Dixie Dugan and Joe Jinks were contributed by the artists and [illegible]

"Newspapers have established the comic strip as such a powerful educational medium that we concluded a comic book would be one of the best possible techniques for traffic safety education," the ADA president declared.

Governor Thomas J. Herbert, honorary chairman of the Ohio Traffic Safety Council, stated that the comic book "is really an amazing publication."

"Ohio's automobile and truck dealers, and the artists who contributed are to be commended for developing this refreshing and common sense approach to traffic safety," the governor said. "Ohio has for some time been endeavoring to develop traffic safety consciousness among its citizens. The fact that distribution of the comic book has been adopted as a safety project by automobile dealers throughout the nation is a fine tribute to members of the Ohio Automobile Dealers Association."

Dr. Clyde H. Hissong, state education director declared that "It's Fun To Stay Alive" should be "tremendously effective in developing safety precautions on the part of boys and girls."

Contributing artists aimed their drawings not only at the hazards of street playing and bicycle riding by small children, but also the civic responsibility and need for driving skills on the part of adults.

Comic characters and artists represented in the book include: "Henry," Carl Anderson; "The Toodles," the Baers; "Bruce Gentry," Ray Bailey, "Cokey," Duane Bryars, "Joe Jinks," Henry Formhals; "The Berrys," Carl Grubert; "Dixie Dugan," John H. Striebel, "Abbie An' Slats," Raeburn Van Buren; "Bugs Bunny," Warner Bros. Cartoons, Inc., "Ella Cinders," C. M. (Doc) Winner and "Tim Tyler's Luck," Lyman Young.

TO RACE JULY 18th AT SCIOTO LAKES

Miss Ethel Altman of New Kingston, Pa., started racing at the age of 17 and has been skiming the waves for three years now. Ethel has taken her Mother and Dad's place in the racing sport. She will appear July 18th at the Scioto Lakes Seaplane Base.

Family Night At Southland

Starting Wednesday, July 21st, the popular Family Night, featuring 20 cent admission to all, will be held two nights instead of one at the Southland Theatre. Every Wednesday and Thursday will be Family Nights at the South High Street Academy house, with outstanding family screen entertainment.

The Southland, and all Academy Theatres, are healthfully air-cooled for your greatest enjoyment.

"Adventures of Casanova," starring Arturo de Cordova and Lucille Bremer, and "Enchanted Valley," the heartwarming story of a boy and his many woodland pets, produced in color will be the screen program for next week's Family Nights.

RUSSELL THEATRE

The Russell Theater presents Sunday and Monday "I Remember Mama" starring Irene Dunne and Barbara Bel Geddes.

Irene Dunne portrays "Mama," the head of a poor family, who could cure a blistered toe or an aching heart. The story is based on the popular novel, "Mama's Bank Account," and the Broadway play which enjoyed a successful two-year run. A picture which will be enjoyed by the entire family, good, clean entertainment. Also "Swing your Partner" with Lulu Bell and Scotty. News and Cartoon.

Concert At Schiller Park

Again Schiller Park has been chosen as site of a concert by the Federation of Musicians Band. Wednesday night at 8 such a program will be staged by the band and assisting soloists and chorus. The conductor of this program, which will also be given Sunday night at Westgate Park by the same groups, will be D. Talmadge Crawshaw, 1002 S. Cassingham Road.

Mr. Crawshaw is a conservatory-trained musician, who is an able band, orchestra and chorus leader. He has directed Gilbert and Sullivan operas locally; supervised and conducted numerous concerts for the Federal Music Project in Columbus, and last season conducted "The Student Prince" in its performance by Theater Productions, Inc. at the Hartman Theater. The same cast and chorus will sing at Schiller Park, doing selections from the Romberg classic and other operettas. The unusual program follows:

Star Spangled Banner. . . . .Key

"I'm one of the biggest actors the business. A dozen companies are after me."

"Yes, the man from the gas company was here three times today."

Columbia Theater

The Columbia Theater presents Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, "Duel In the Sun" with Jennifer Jones, Joseph Cotten and Gregory Peck. Here at last, the David Selznick Masterpiece for which you have been waiting. The most torrid love story ever filmed.

Performances are as excellent as the Star-Studded cast would indicate. The Story a searing saga of two men and an impetuous half-breed beauty, whose unbridled passion spelled death to those whom she loved.

Club Alexander

This week the Club Alexander presents Babe Smith, as the mistress of ceremonies and her all girl revue, direct from night spots of Detroit and Cleveland.

The McClure Sisters dance stylists who have appeared in revues in the East will be an added feature.

A new band out of New York City will take their place at this night spot. They say that this band is master of pantomime.

Help Needed

Columbus, Ohio, July 11—If you are a chemist, pharmacist, draftsman, machinist or dietician, you should have little trouble getting a job in Ohio at this time. That, at any rate, is the information available at the Ohio State Employment Service, a division of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

According to the Bureau's most recent state-wide job inventory, issued bi-weekly to aid in shifting workers from labor surplus to shortage areas, openings paying up to $400 monthly exist for chemists in Akron, Cleveland, Dayton and Cincinnati among other cities. Information on these and all other jobs are available at each of the Bureau's 91 local offices.

Pharmacists are needed in Akron, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Hamilton, West Union and Youngstown. These jobs pay between $60 and $80 a week on the average and call for pharmacy degrees, experience and state registration.

There is demand for mechanical draftsmen in Akron, Cincinnati, Hamilton, Lima, Barberton, Youngstown and Elyria. Barberton alone can use about 50 of these specialists, and employers in the area are willing to pay as high as $300 a month.

Women, who have not been having an easy time of it finding work in most fields, are much in demand as dieticians. They are wanted in Cleveland, Dayton, Elyria and Youngstown at salaries ranging as high as $3,000 a year.

Machinists, who have been in steady demand in many areas throughout the state for a number of months, are needed in Canton, Cleveland, Salem, Youngstown, Akron and Cincinnati among other communities. There are 40 such openings in Cleveland alone paying as high as $1.69 an hour.

Farmhands and farm couples are in demand in a number of different areas thorughout the state. New Philadelphia, Youngstown and Mt. Gilead among them. And there's an order for 160 tree pruners being held by the Bureau's local office in Kent. The Youngstown office along reports a call for 200 iron and steel laborers.

Among the high salaried professional positions listed on the Bureau's inventory were openings for a mechanical engineer in Akron paying up to $500 a month, a mechanical engineer in Cincinnati at $400 a month and a sales manager in Akron at $600-$700 a month.

"Perkins seems to be a self-made man."

"Well, if you ever saw him when his wife was around you'd think that he was made to order."

Gone With The Wind At Ideal Theater

"Gone With The Wind" will be shown at the Ideal Theater, Parsons and Markison Aves., this Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

In the cast is a group of stars with players such as Clark Gable, Vivian Leigh and Olivia De Haviland.

This is a burning story of the South during and just after the Civil War with the famous characters of Rhett Butler and Scarlet O'Hara.

There will be two shows each evening and no tickets will be sold after 8:15 P. M. as the shows run three hours and 45 minutes.

Remember the Ideal Theater is bringing you "Gone With The Wind" at no increase in prices.

Better attend. You will never have another chance at popular prices. Only two shows an evening.

Council Incorporates

After operating five years, as an association, the Council of South Side Organizations was incorporated June 28 as a not for profit incorporation.

The incorporators were C. L. Dumaree, representing the South Side Schools, A. L. Chrismer, representing the South Side Business Mens Assn., Hoover Young, representing Athletic Groups of our community; Wm. Wacker of the South Side Croquette Club, M. V. "Cap" Hooper, representing the South Side Y.M.C.A., Glenn Scamehorn, representing the Steelton Merchants Assn., Wm. J. Lucks, representing the South Civic and Industrial Assn., Anderw McGrady, representing Loyal Order of Moose; C. L. Reis, Representing Order of Foresters St. Leo's Court; C. L. Lensemeyer representing Southway Post, American Legion; and Louis Whitacre representing the South East Lions Club.

Walter Snider, 965 Parsons Ave., was the Attorney representing the Council of South Side Organizations.

The purpose clause of the Council of South Side Organizations is one of the most interesting clauses we have ever seen and we are printing it verbatum in the next paragraph.

The purpose or purposes for which said corporation is formed are: To provide an agency through which community groups and individual citizens can become articulate and achieve cooperation; to provide an agency through which all community groups can coordinate their activities for a common good; to carry on long term planning, discover problems, and make recommendations for consideration by the proper authorities; to promote the achievement of community-wide projects, too large and too difficult for any single group to undertake; to present a method, plan or pattern, whereby individuals and organizations can work together and do cooperatively what one could not possibly do alone; to mobilize all the community resources in the interests of all the people in the community, for the general welfare of this community and the City of Columbus, Ohio, and its environs.

The Council of South Side Organizations is composed of 26 groups of the South Side, and represent, service and social clubs, fraternal groups, church, schools, social service groups and labor.

MAURICE MILLIGAN, who sent Harry Truman's boss and patron to prison, has published the history of the Kansas City election frauds and related atrocities under the title of "Missouri Waltz." The design on the jacket is the criminal mug of No. 55,296, Tom Pendergast, who served an insufficient stretch of 15 months in Leavenworth penitentiary.

President Truman was the protege and creature of this gross, brutal and greedy ignoramus. Milligan's book reviews Mr. Truman's political life and reluctantly finds him, at last, not innocent.

With those relatively few other Americans who understood the wickedness of the Kansas City political machine, Milligan had tried to rationalize Truman's relationship to Pendergast and excuse his conduct. Now he finds that it can't be done. No honest man with a loathing for such criminals as Mr. Truman found congenial, even admirable, can disagree with Milligan. Wishing can't make him decent. Milligan recalls that when Mr. Truman "assumed the greatest responsibility over thrust on an American citizen," all Americans were for him.

That is true even of those who, by familiarity with the Kansas City crimes, had to keep in mind the depressing truth that Mr. Truman's whole career in politics was based upon fraud and corruption of the ballot and government. He had been the knowing beneficiary of notorious frauds in his elective offices he had held up to the vice presidency of the United States.

The Pendergast machine in Mr. Truman's own active time protected the criminal underworld of prostitution, narcotics and bootlegging and shared in its revenues. Mr. Truman knew it. It stole elections, thus frustrating the civil rights of the people. Mr. Truman knew that and how it was done.

He Bore Big Burdens

"In the weeks that immediately followed" Mr. Truman's inauguration to succeed Roosevelt, Milligan writes, "All of us were pulling for Mr. Truman. On his shoulders was the burden of the world."

But all Mr. Truman did was transfer his allegiance from Old Tom to Tom's nephew and political heir, Jim Pendergast. In December, 1945, after he had become President, he publicly paid his dues to Jim Pendergast's political club, the same one through which Old Tom had ruled and robbed the town. His check and the accompanying letter are framed on the wall of Jim Pendergast's office.

On the same wall hangs a White House portrait of Mr. Truman inscribed "To James M. Pendergast—friend, comrade, adviser." He bade him to the White House as his family guest.

After Old Tom's release from prison he was forbidden by the terms of his parole to take active part in politics. The evasion was simple. He acted through Jim.

Milligan's final abandonment of hope that decency might exist in Mr. Truman was restrained until in 1946 the President ordered Jim Pendergast to purge Roger Slaughter, a Democratic congressman from Kansas City.

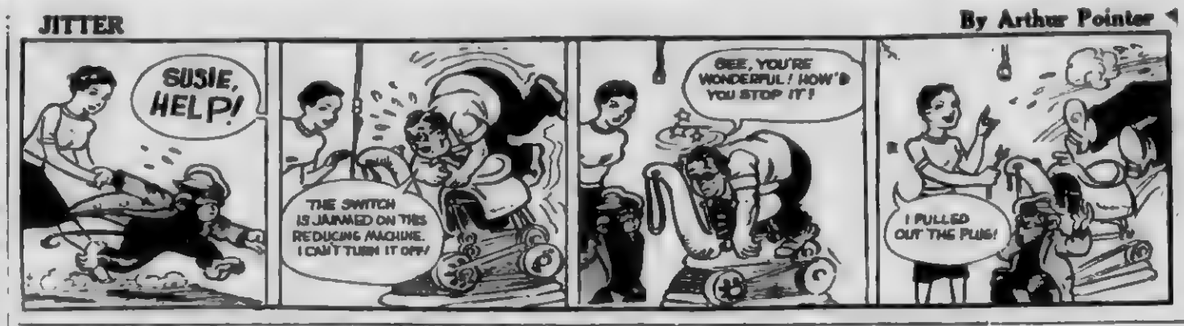
Scandal ensued, but the corruption now had spread notoriously to the department of justice in Washington. The federal investigation and prosecution stopped dead.

Nineteen Are Dismissed

Milligan had convicted 259 of Mr. Truman's and the Pendergasts' henchmen of vote frauds in the 1936 election. Of the 278 who were indicted for almost unbelievable rascalities in the polling, 19 were dismissed, but all who went to trial were convicted.

Yet, Mr. Truman, then serving Pendergast in the senate, rose up in the chamber in 1938, in the midst of Milligan's conduct of these trials, to oppose his reappointment. It was an outrageous attempt to influence the verdicts. President Roosevelt, for some reason, reappointed Milligan nevertheless, but in 1945, when he had become vice-president, Truman finally was able to eliminate Milligan and substitute a man more to his moral and political liking.

Mr. Truman's current political troubles with the old Solid South arise from a pretense of high moral concern about civil liberties and the right to vote.



But it was Milligan who bethought himself of a dead-letter law, ample to the southern case today, to punish Mr. Truman's own gang in Kansas city for conspiring to violate the constitutional right of the citizen to vote in elections and his right that his vote shall be counted.

Against that Mr. Truman, in the senate, shouted persecution.

This Kansas City story is the story of Harry Truman, for he has always allied himself with the lowest elements in Kansas City and Missouri politics.

Plight Of Veterans

South Unit of Chapter No. 6 wish to state that they are heartily in accord with the following letter and ask the support of the citizens in this community, for these veterans and their families.

Chairman-
Mrs. Edward E. Lynch
Co-Chairman-
Mrs. Richard H. Bohl, Sr.

Editor:

The plight of the families of veteran students living in the GI trailer village at the State Fairgrounds has been brought to the attention of the Blue Star Mothers of America, Chapter No. 6, and we have pledged ourselves to support them in solving their housing problems.

In the general public aware of the conditions under which they have been living? There are about 300 families, each owning a trailer home valued from $2,000 to $4,000. They are located in a section of the grounds with little or no shade, on blacktop and cinders and with very poor sanitary and toilet facilities.

Realizing that they must vacate before the State Fair in August, these veterans have organized into an incorporated body, and have purchased land near the university, to which they hope to move their trailer homes where their children may enjoy fresh air, in their community planned playground: where they expect to build the laundry building, shower rooms toilets, etc., necessary to their population of over 400.

However, there is now an injunction held against these GIs, preventing them from going ahead with their housing project. Many students have forgone paying positions during the summer quarter, hoping to work on this project, digging ditches for sewers, erecting the buildings, shrubbing and beautifying their grounds.

This land is located west of the Olentangy River and just south of the golf driving range on W. Dodridge St. It does not have Olentangy River Rd. frontage.

These young people are not objects of charity. They come from some of the finest families in the United States, seeking an education at our state university.

They have raised through the sale of preferred stock in the corporation and money making projects and special gifts from interested friends more than $25,000.

Shall we, the public, stand idly by and do nothing to see that they have the right to a home, an education and the pursuit of happiness? Should we not do something to help and encourage them, when they are trying so hard to help themselves

Blue Star Mothers of America.
Winnie M. Kennett, President,
Columbus.

Race Sensation At Powell Speedway

Columbus, Ohio July 21 - The youngsters who dare sudden death reaching for the gold and glory that motorcycle racing holds forth to them, will go into action at Powell Speedway for the first time this season on next Sunday afternoon, July 25th.

The Ohioans Motorcycle Club of Columbus is staging the four-star meet which has the official sanction of the American Motorcycle Association and which will present nine races in addition to the time trials which incidentally have been set up to 12 o'clock noon because of the heavy influx of entries.

Champions will be awarded in three divisions, novice, amateur and expert, and there'll be two preliminary heats of six laps each, in addition to the 10 lap championship final in each division.

Topping the list of nationally known riders entered to date is Johnny Knapp of Ann Arbor, Mich. Johnny dominated the last races held at Powell last October, and he is returning to defend the honors he won on that occasion.

He'll be riding the fast English Norton motor which was formerly ridden by Kenny Ingle, great Columbus rider prior to his untimely death last summer, and the combination of that fast motor and Knapp's riding wizardry will be hard to beat.

Among the other expert stars entered are Billy Huber of Reading, Pa., most popular rider in America last year, Bob Shaw of Columbus, Willie Stegall of Springfield, Peg Liscano of Galion, Billy Matthews of Hamilton, Bill Waltermire of Zanesville, Bobby Hill of Columbus and Leo Anthony of Port Huron, Mich.

The first race is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock promptly.

VFW Sends Five To Convention

Three members of the newly organized V.F.W. Auxiliary to the Howard M. Harrison Post 9092 attended the 28th annual V.F.W. Encampment held recently in Cincinnati, Ohio. Those making the trip were: Mrs. Evelyn Durfey, President of the Auxiliary; Mrs. Magda L. Chapman, Sr., Vice President and Delegate, and Mrs. Olive Quick, Guard and Alternate.

Any eligible ladies who may be interested in becoming Charter members of this new Auxiliary, are urged to contact Mrs. Chapman, Chairman of the Membership Committee, 1016 E. Whittier St., FA 2335, for information. Please do so immediately as the Charter closes within 30 days. The Auxiliary meets each second and fourth Tuesday evening at the Southway Post, 874 South High Street.

Corpus Christi Basket Picnic July 25

All societies of Corpus Christi have combined their efforts to make a success of the parish family basket picnic to be held at the Y. M. C. A. park, Sunday, July 25 from 10:00 a. m. to dark.

The committee in charge has reserved the large shelter-house for the day and has planned entertainment for all ages during the day, including games and novelty races. A feature will be the softball game between the men's societies. Free lemonade and coffee will be served at mealtime.

In former years these parish basket picnics were annual affairs, and are being revived with the hope that families within the parish will become better acquainted.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to extend our heart felt thanks and appreciation for acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings received from our many friends and neighbors at the death of our Brother Albert P. Kuhn. We especially thank the Boy Scout troop 25, Rev. Rudy Thomas, Rev. Zierer and the A. J. Held Company.

City Auditors' Office A Collection Agency

R. PIERRE BARTHALOW

Ever since the advent of entering the City Auditor's Office as it's head, R. Pierre Barthalow has used his office as a collection agency for the benefit of a large Credit Jewelry Co. and a large Health and Accident Association.

Over a period of the last four weeks, we find entered on the pay roll sheets, an average of 63 people who had deductions taken from their pay checks of from $2 to $15 each, for the benefit of The Jewelry Company alone. All of these people were employes of the City Street Cleaning Department.

On the City Engineering Payroll, we found numerous deductions for the benefit of both of these concerns.

Personally, we didn't investigate other city department payrolls. But, it is only natural to presume, that other departmental payrolls had deductions for both the large credit co. and the large Health and Accident Ass'n.

What we would like to know is, does the large Credit Jewelry Co. or the large Health and Accident Ass'n., pay anything for this service of the City Auditor's Office.

If they do pay, who do they pay? R. Pierre Barthalow, some one in the City Auditor's office, or the City Treasurer?

Again, if they do pay, how much is charged for these services?

If they don't pay for this collection service. Why don't they pay? Why if they don't pay for this service why is this service only rendered for two business concerns and not any other of the many business concerns of our city.

Just to be sure that they were not collecting this money for garnishments, we went to the Municipal Court records and there was only one garnishee against a city employee as of Wednesday, July 14.

Personally, we believe that the City Auditor's Office, on City Employees time, has no right to collect for any business concern at the city's expense.

We will appreciate any answers that City Auditor R. Pierre Barthalow, cares to make about this article and print the same for his and our reader's benefit.

But personally, we believe that little R. Pierre Barthalow will be as quiet as a mouse.

We do not believe City Council is aware of this situation. We suggest that they appoint an investigating committee, for the purpose of investigating, this situation.

Womens Republican Club Planning Picnic

Mrs. Homer S. Bailey, President of the Women's Republican Club of Ohio Inc. has appointed committees and plans are under way for the annual picnic and rally to be held in the K. of P. Temple 697 South High Street Friday August 6th.

Mrs. Herman Soegaard has been appointed General Chairman with Mrs. Theodore von Gericlten as the co-chairman. Mrs. Mildred Ross will be in charge of the dining room assisted by Mrs. Minnie Ely, Miss Gertrude Courtright and Mrs. Virginia Meyer. Mrs. Mabel Ulrey is to be the dinner chairman assisted by Mrs. Florence Stauch and Mrs. William Mellinger. A very fine program is being arranged by Mrs. Fred Donnally assisted by the music chairman Mrs. Harriett Mader.

Al Korting Boosts The South Side

Mr. Al Korting, manager of the Parwood Grill located at 1771 Parsons Ave. came to the South Side as a stranger two years ago. Now Al says he feels more at home in the South Side than any place in Columbus. Al says this is due to the fact that the people of the South Side are unusually friendly and congenial and are always willing to take a stranger into their community and make him one of them.

The Parwood Grill which has now been under Mr. Korting's management for the past two years, is nicely arranged with tables and booths spaced without crowding. Large overhead rotating fans keep the place cool and pleasant.

Pete Kochis and his Violin and also playing the piano and Solovox entertain nightly with music. The finest of drinks are served at most reasonable prices. Al's standard for the Parwood Grill has always been to operate a courteous friendly place.

St. Ladislaus Lawn Fete July 20

St. Ladislaus Annual Lawn fete held Saturday, July 20, was a most successful and enjoyable affair in every way. A fine sum of money was realized and Father F. T. Riehl, the pastor, wishes to thank everyone who contributed in any way towards the gala event.

Prize winners were Mr. Frank Bartha, Reeb Ave., the stove; Mrs. Margaret Stout, Innis Ave., the ironer; Mrs. Jeanette Eramo, Barthman Ave, the washer; Mr. Alex Murangi, Hinman Ave, the toaster; Mr. W. A. Oswald, Fern Ave, the mixer; Mrs. Robert Galvin, 20th St. the comfort; Mr. L. Johnson, Crestview Ave, the Rod and Reel; Tony Tretidis, Corpus Christi; Pariah and Helen Russell, Welsh Ave, the pillow cases.

Mr. Mike Yandrich was chairman of the Lawn Fete and Mrs. John Kustick and Miss Toni Dabo were co-chairman.

The July meeting of the Altar-Rosary society is scheduled for Wednesday, July 28 beginning with Rosary and Benediction in church at 7:30 p.m. All members are urged to attend and our new parishoners are invited to come.

Chilling Detective Story

This "chilling" story will safeguard your health during these hot summer days, says the Columbus Milk Council. The "crime" is the neglect of perishable foods,—especially milk and dishes made from milk and eggs. This neglect is the enemy of wholesome foods and economical meal budgeting.

The solution is simple. These foods should be kept chilled at all times, and not allowed to remain at room temperature to become an excellent media for growth of harmful bacteria. For maximum good from a bottle of milk, the refrigerator temperature should not go higher than 45 degrees. Delivered milk should be taken in off the doorstep and put into the refrigerator immediately after it is received. The more it is protected from light and heat, the greater number of days it will retain its high quality. Exposure to sunlight on the doorstep or in a warm lighted room for several hours will affect not only milk's freshness, but also its riboflavin content (the important B vitamin that helps to preserve the characteristics of youth). Keep milk closely covered. Dairy products are delicately flavored and readily absorb odors from other foods.

Summer milk is no harder to keep fresh than winter milk, but it is up to you to do the detective work.

Bike Tryouts

Elimination Stock Bikes race try-outs, will be held at Schiller Park for the last time Thursday, July 22.

Any boys 18 years or under may try out.

District races start Friday, July 23.

See Monte Beaver at the shelter house for information.

STEELTON MERCHANTS SPONSOR CARNIVAL

The Steelton Merchants Assn., announced that for the week starting Monday, July 26 they will sponsor a carnival far surpassing anything that has ever been performed here on the South Side.

On Saturday, July 31, the carnival will present a special matinee, for the children, at greatly reduced prices.

The Carnival, will be situated at the north approach of the Parsons ave., viaduct and will be under the direction of Happy Paulson, who will furnish the many, many, daring rides, game stands and concessions.

Each night the Steelton Merchants Assn., will give away a prize of such articles as a boys and girls bicycle, a radio, electric mixer and two pressure cookers.

Tickets for these prizes may be secured at your favorite South Side merchant. Fill in the stubs and leave with him or put in the barrel for that purpose at the Carnival grounds but you do not necessarily need to be present to draw the prizes. The prizes are now on display at Hoermles.

This will be a big week for the children, as well as the adults, with rides as a carrousal, Merry-go-rounds, airplane rides and all of the newer modern rides. Ernest Barta, President of the Steelton Merchants Assn., says, "It's stupendous, gigantic and thrill packed."

Joe Ronkowski of the Ronsons Barber Shop is chairman of the Carnival committee.

Oh yes! There will be a midway with all the out-standing freaks and also sensational dancers and other entertainers.

Money for the rides goes for the many activities sponsored by the Steelton Merchants including kiddies parties, poor relief, etc.

Remember the date Monday July 26 thru Saturday July 31 with shows every evening and a prize given to the lucky holder.

Also don't forget the children's matinee on Saturday, July 31 The children get reduced prices for that day.

Stubs of tickets on the drawings, may be placed in the various boxes, or barrels, located in the merchant's stores.

South Playground Trip To Zoo

Southwood's annual trip to the Columbus Zoo will take place Tuesday, July 27. A school bus will leave the playground at 12 p.m. and will return at 5 p.m.

This trip is open to boys and girls 18 or under and each person must have his parent's consent. Get your permission slip now, have your parents sign it, and return it to the playground at once. If we have more than a load the earliest registrations will be taken.

Cost of the trip will be $.25.

Garden Club

Attention all members of Elementary or Junior High School Garden Clubs. There will be a meeting of all garden clubs at the play ground Monday, July 26 at 1 p.m. Be there and bring your exhibits. Mr. L. W. Huber, city garden club director, will conduct the meeting. A flower show will also be a part of this program and any boy or girl is invited to come and bring a bouquet. Prize tags will be awarded for best exhibits.

Badminton Tournament

The winner of the Jr. Badminton Tournament will be announced next week. The girls' tournament and senior tournaments are now under way.

One Out Of Five

Columbus, Ohio, July 21 of the 161,228 persons who filed new claims for unemployment compensation for a 52-week period ending in 1947, one out of every five never drew a cent chiefly because they found work before their first check was due, Bureau of Unemployment Compensation administrator Frank J Collopy reported today.

Only one-fourth of the 161,228 claimants exhausted the maximum benefit amount for which they were eligible, Collopy said. And almost one-third of the claimants were women.

Of every 100 persons filing new claims and legally eligible for benefits in a 12-month period ending sometime last year, 21 did not receive a single benefit payment. Nineteen received at least one check but not more than four.

Thirteen received at least four checks but less than eight. Only two received twenty checks but less than twenty-two.

The over-all average for the 161,228 new claimants was ten benefit checks in compensation for ten weeks of total unemployment.

Miners Take Home Pay

It is John L. Lewis' obvious intention to make the country believe that the average soft coal miner is getting a pretty raw deal, and that increases in the cost of living have largely offset increases in his pay. In the light of that, it is interesting to examine the official figures.

In 1939, according to the U. S Bureau of Labor Statistics, coal miners earned, on the average, $23.88 a week. Last year they earned $66.86 — an increase of nearly 180 per cent. This wage was higher than that reported for any other major industrial group anywhere in the United States or the world. By way of contrast the cost of living in 1947 was 60 per cent higher than in 1939, going by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Thus, increases in earnings have been far more than the advance in the cost of living.

The best barometer of a worker's welfare is his take-home pay, which is the determining factor in his purchasing power. If 1948 dollars are evaluated in terms of their 1939 purchasing power, it is found that during the first three months of this year, coal miners' takehome pay was 75 per cent above the former year. The purchasing power of workers in all manufacturing industry, on the other hand, was up 29 per cent from the 1939 level.

Even this tells only part of the story. Many thousand of miners exceed the weekly average by a wide margin. All miners receive many more direct and indirect benefits than they used to, and the working day has been substantially shortened. The coal miner is a prime example of how much better the worker fares under capitalism than under any other system.

Women Of The Moose, Meet

Women of the Moose Chapter 206 will meet Thursday evening at the Moose Home, 34 W. Sycamore St for the last meeting of the month.

The officers will hold their chapter Night Program at that time along with initiation of new candidates so an enjoyable evening can be expected by all. Let's all be there to welcome our new candidates and help put our Officers Chapter Night Program over in a big way.

Attention South Siders

Week after week in our classified section under the wanted to rent column, run ads placed by people who are looking for a place to live. To those of you who are interested enough to read them, they are just ads, but I assure you that behind each of these ads placed, is a human interest story.

Most of these people are desperately in need of housing. They are not asking for charity, but are willing and in a position to pay an honest rental fee. Some of these people are without homes because, the head of the family has been transferred to Columbus from other cities. These men are supporting two homes, while trying to save and locate a place to bring their families to live. Others have been evicted thru no fault of their own.

In today's column there is one particular ad, placed by a family which has been separated for over a year and who only ask for a place to live, to bring their little family together again so as "the little fellows" may live a normal life with their Mother and Daddy. Not an unreasonable desire is it?

Surely their must be some houses or apartments, furnished or unfurnished on our South Side. Many business places have empty space above their stores which could easily be converted into living quarters, many homes which have outgrown the family, could be duplexed or converted into small apartments, bringing in additional income from this now unused space. If you have a house or apartment or know of any that will be available in the near future, please be kind and contact these people, who are so desperately in need of homes, or call your information into the South Side Booster, we will be more than glad to pass on this information to those who need help in this emergency.

CORRECTION

We regret an error in last week's paper in naming the colonels for the community fund drive. It should have read—To date, the following women are pledged to work with Mrs. Papier: vice-chairman, Mrs. O. L. Coddington, 978 Jaeger St.; colonels, Mrs. Harold Gix, 749 Jaeger St. and Mrs. Christian Kohnle, 1414 S Ohio Ave.

Traffic Lights Are Needed

City Traffic Commission
Chas. Underhill Chairman
City Hall
Columbus, Ohio
Gentlemen:

Since the paving has been completed recently on Frebis Ave., traffic on that street has quadrupled, making the corner of Frebis Ave. and Parsons Ave. one of the worst traffic hazards in the South Side.

This corner is badly in need of a traffic light as it is a blind corner.

If the city lacks funds to place a light here, I would suggest that the traffic light be moved from Hanford St. and Parsons Ave. as this corner has fine visibility. The buildings setting back where motorists may plainly see both ways.

Your commission should give this their immediate attention, before a serious accident occurs.

With the opening of bus traffic on Parsons Ave. a traffic light should be placed at or near Parsons Ave. and Sycamore St. to keep Parsons Ave. from becoming a speedway from Livingston Ave. to Whittier Street.

A traffic light should also be placed at Markison Ave. and Parsons Ave. since much traffic comes in Markison Ave.

To save the city expense on this light, we would suggest, that the traffic light be moved from Jenkins Ave. and Parsons Ave. to the above location.

Another thing that makes Parsons and Markison Ave. the proper place to place a light is the Ideal Theater, which many people attend, coming from the East. We wish to state further, that the Owens Illinois Glass Plant is closed, making less necessity of the traffic light at Jenkins and Parsons Ave.

All three of these locations should have your immediate attention, as traffic lights are immediately necessary.

Yours Truly,
C. R. Walcutt

Southwood Drops 5th

Southwood dropped its fifth match of the season, this time to Bill Sherker's Westgate Tennis Club by a 5-0 count. Dick Slager, Roger Lindley, Sherker and Johnny Hipple proved too much for the local crew, and they couldn't keep pace. However, Joe Wollett's boys put up their best battle of the year, and it wouldn't be too surprising to see them eke out a victory before the season is finished off.

Showing well Sunday for Southwood, were Herb Ziegler and Charley Kramer in the singles. Both boys have come along well since the season started.

Next Sunday, Southwood catches Gordy Conklin and his Grandview mates. Following is the team standing:

	W-L
Olentangy Village	4-0
Columbus Tennis Club	4-1
Grandview	3-2
Upper Arlington	2-2
Westgate Tennis Club	2-2
Beatty Park	1-2
Bexley	1-3
Southwood	0-5

Weingard-Thirtyacre Wedding Performed

At a double-ring ceremony, June 12, in St. Peter's Church, Miss Ann Louise Weingard, daughter of Mrs. Anna Weingard, 1449 Jefferson Av, became the bride of Mr. Frederick L. Thirtyacre, son of Mrs. A. N. Strader, 1097 S. High St, and Mr. Fred C. Thirtyacre, 849 W. Chapel St.

Given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. James Holtschulte, the bride wore a gown of white frosted organza, with a tightly fitted bodice and the full skirt swept into a train. A fingertip veil of illusion was held by a tiara of orange blossoms. She carrigd a bridal bouquet of white roses and white carnations.

Mrs. John Stevens was matron of honor for Miss Weingard and Miss Ruth Sells and Miss Louella Goldberg served as the other attendants. The matron of honor wore a gown of pale yellow taffeta, while the gowns of aqua taffeta. They were styled similar to the bridal gown, having tightly fitted bodices and very full skirts. They wore matching mitts, net tiaras and carried Colonial bouquets of bright spring flowers.

Mr. John Stevens was best man for Mr. Thirtyacre and seating the guests were Mr. Bill Elgin and Mr. Charles Elgin.

Following the wedding a breakfast for the bridal party was held at the Seneca Hotel. Later in the day a reception was given at the home of the bride, after which the young couple left for a short wedding trip.

Maid of honor was Miss Clara Lieb, sister of the groom, wearing a gown of pink nylon marquisette, fashioned with a deep yoke banded with a ruffle, a full skirt with ruffles down the back and carried around the hemline to the front of the skirt. She wore a coronet of loops of pink horsehair braid and carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and blue cornflowers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Carolyn Lieb, sister of the groom, Miss Margaret Wunderlin, Miss Elmadene Hanna, Miss Joan Bowman, Miss Anna Marie Eigenger and Miss Jeannine Mittlebeck. They wore gowns of blue similar to that of the maid of honor, and carried cascade bouquets of light pink carnations.

Best man was Mr. Richard Lieb, brother of the groom and seating the guests were Mr. James Lieb, Mr. Ralph Burns Jr., Mr. William Malone and Mr. John Belcher.

A wedding breakfast for the immediate families and the wedding party was held at the home of the bride's parents. The evening reception for three hundred guests was held in the WOW Hall.

For the wedding trip to Washington D. C. and the Smoky Mountains, the bride changed to a pink linen suit with white accessories.

The new Mrs. Lieb is a graduate of St. Mary's High School. Mr. Lieb graduated from Rosary High School and served two years in the U. S. Army in the Philippines.

They are making their home at 741 S. Sixth-st.

Beautiful Church Wedding Performed

Miss Joy Eileen Rickman, daughter of Mrs. Eunice Rickman, Portsmouth, became the bride of Mr. Charles Edward Fisher, 1101 Miller Av, on July 17 in the Maple Grove Methodist Church. The Rev. Arthur Milne heard the exchange of ____ before an altar decorated with white gladioli and ferns.

Given in marriage by Mr. Jack E. Sensenbrenner, the bride wore a dress of ivory satin trimmed in English lace, and carried white carnations centered with an orchid.

Dorothy Rickman, matron of honor, and bridesmaids, Agnes Grannan, and Virginia Miller wore aqua dresses.

Richard Fisher was best man, and ushers were Donald Mollar and Robert Zimmer.

The bride's mother wore a two-piece aqua crepe dress, and a corsage of gardenias and stephanotis. The bridegroom's mother chose a dress of sheer black with which she wore a corsage of gardenias and stephanotis.

A reception immediately following the ceremony was held at the Beechwold Inn for 75 guests.

The bride is a graduate of Xenia High School, and is employed by the State Civil Service Commission of Ohio.

The bridegroom is a graduate of South High School and the College of Dairy Technology of Ohio State University, and is now employed by the Borden Co.

The new Mrs. Fisher changed to a pale pink gabardine dress with which she wore white accessories for their trip to New York.

After Aug. 1, the newlyweds will reside at 723 S. Hague Av.

Miss Lyons Is Married To Mr. Lieb

The St. Mary's Church sanctuary was decorated with vases of pink peonies, gladioli, snapdragons and potted palms for the May 29 wedding of Miss Rose Ann Lyons to Mr. Joseph Paul Lieb. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edmund A. Burkley officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Lyons is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Lyons, 771 S. Sixth-st. and Mr. Lieb, the son of Mr. Carl G. Lieb, 2000 E. Livingston-av.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a candlelight satin gown fashioned with a deep yoke of sheer marquisette outlined with bands of satin, as were the circular cuffs of the long fitted sleeves. The fitted bodice topped an extremely full skirt over hip paniers and extended to a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a heart shaped crown of shirred lace edged with seed pearls centered with a cluster of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, carnations and baby's breath.

WHEN YOU HEAR someone crying or complaining about his bad luck or the tough breaks that have followed him, you don't have to pay the slightest attention to the sombre squawk. All you have to do is think about Al Snyder.

His dream, that of every jockey, was to ride a Kentucky Derby winner. Beyond that, to be the winning rider of the Triple Crown.

Snyder, after 16 tough riding years, was set to make his triple move in the Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont on a three-year-old known as Citation, rated today as the surest Triple Crown winner in racing history.

Unfortunately, Snyder went fishing in a small boat with two friends. They were in the famous Florida Keys. A gale came along without warning, and someone else will ride Citation in the three rich races. A whirl of wind at twilight—and the small boat had vanished.

As the late Mr. Henley so well wrote: "Into the night go one and all."

Snyder would have drawn 10 per cent in each of these $100,000 tests. As far as one can peer into the fogs and mists of the future, here was $30,000—plus other big races to come as well as the fame of riding a standout champion.

Citation is still here and ready. So are Ben and Jimmy Jones. But just what happened to Snyder is anybody's guess.

Sport is always packed full of soul-searing breaks—of sudden turns that mean the difference between victory and defeat. But this is a different case. This sudden squall meant the difference between life with fame and gold and the sudden blotting out of a career that was just beginning to unfold.

On the verge of moving into the greatest fame a jockey could know, Snyder suddenly came to the end of the road in the roaring, boiling water of the Keys. Fate never bothers where the aces or the deuces fall.

Golf Winners in 1948

Who will win the Masters? Who will win the Open? Who will win the P.G.A.? Apparently it doesn't matter.

Herman Keiser won the Masters in 1946 and has won little since. Lew Worsham won the Open at St. Louis last year and hasn't won a tournament since. Jim Ferrier from Australia won the P.G.A. but has set no blazing woodlands on fire since.

Why is it that we have no golfers who can win more than one tournament on a 2,500-mile junket? Horton Smith won six around 1928. Jimmy Demaret won six or seven a few years back. MacDonald Smith won eight big ones in a year. Bobby Jones mopped up in 1930. Jones and Hagen won 24 national and international championships between them.

Now you can't find a golfer who can win as many as two. Ben Hogan never has won an Open. Jimmy Demaret never has won an Open or a P.G.A. Sammy Snead never has won a U. S. Open, although the brilliant but erratic Snead has won the P.G.A. and the British Open.

Hogan, Nelson, Snead and Demaret are too good to stand on their records in the U. S. Open, the British Open and the P.G.A., the three top titles of golf.

Where is another Bobby Jones? Another Walter Hagen, another Gene Sarazen? I might add another Tommy Armour and another Jim Barnes, who won these three major events.

The modern charge is made that Jones, Hagen and Sarazen played in only few tournaments—that all three would have been nervous wrecks if they had followed the rough trail that Hogan, Demaret, Snead and the others have taken. This can be true.

I am not going to deny it for I can't prove these charges are wrong. All I know is there are too many tournaments today for the good of the player. Especially the better player.

Big money golf is much rougher on the nerves than world series baseball or any form of football. The mental side is far more important in golf than it is in baseball, football or boxing.

Yogi Berra, the "Arm"

A year ago at the St. Petersburg dog track, I bought Yogi Berra a $2 ticket on a greyhound that paid $112. Lately I have given Berra several tips that finished last or close to last. Much to my astonishment, Berra still remembered the first and only good deed. "Who cares?" he would say as my tip finished far out of the money.

This made me realize that Berra was an exceptional human being. He remembers only the good that is buried with mankind, not the evil that lives after them.

Berra, the Yankee catcher, has a friendly heart and a deadly batting eye. The pride of Dago Hill, St. Louis, likes everybody and everybody likes him.

Elizabeth Zwicker Wed At St. Leo's

The Rev. Fr. Robert Schmidt officiated at the 9:30 a.m. nuptial Mass at St. Leo's Church May 22, which united Miss Elizabeth Anne Zwicker, daughter of Mrs. Rosalie V. Zwicker, 242 Thurman Av, and Mr. D. A. Zwicker, Athens, and Mr. Frank J. Scheel, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Scheel, Sr., 2345 Johnstown Rd. Robert and Paul Scheel, brothers of the bridegroom, served at the Mass.

The bride wore a gown designed by her, of organza over taffeta fashioned with a sheer dropped yoke and full sleeves worn bracelet length. The low waistline gave way to a full skirt which extended into a short train. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was held in place by a braid fashioned from the same material as the gown. She wore organza mitts with a wide ruffle cuff and carried a white prayerbook, the top of which was covered with white glamelias.

Mrs. John Kaso, cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor, wearing a white organdy gown over yellow taffeta and styled with a sheer dropped yoke and short puffed sleeves. A long yellow sash tied in a large bow in the back extended the full length of the skirt. Her headdress was a braid of white organdy over yellow. She carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. James Schmidt, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. William Wilkins, sister of the bride. They wore gowns fashioned similar to the honor attendant with white organdy over blue, and they carried bouquets of blue carnations.

Best man was Mr. William Daulton and seating the guests were Mr. Charles Scheel, brother of the bridegroom, and Mr. James Zwicker, brother of the bride.

After the service a wedding breakfast was held at the Southern Hotel. That evening the bride's parents were hosts at a reception for 200 guests.

The former Miss Zwicker is a graduate of South High School, and is employed by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio as a stenographer.

The bridegroom is a graduate of St. Mary's High School and is now associated with Joe Toegner, Inc.

After a wedding trip to Buffalo, New York and Canada, the couple will reside at 971 S. High St.

Don't Take A Chance

The National Board of Fire Underwriters has issued a timely warning concerning fire hazards that are especially great during summer and early fall.

The fire rate in vacation cottages and resort hotels runs high—due almost entirely to simple carelessness. Many summer homes are far from fire departments, and once a fire gets going, a total loss often results. The only defense is constant watchfulness. Don't overload electric circuits with extra appliances. Don't use refrigerators and similar equipment which have been out of service for months without oiling them. And — above all — see that stoves and pipes are all protected from woodwork, and that fireplaces are screened.

Keep some sort of fire-fighting equipment ready at hand. If a fire is detected quickly, a garden hose or a hand extinguisher may check it before serious damage is done.

The best part of a vacation is getting out of doors. But, in time, there won't be any enticing out of doors to visit if we fail to control fire. Watch your smoking materials. And never leave a camp fire until it has been thoroughly smothered with water and damp earth.

In short, don't take a chance. Then you'll have a happy, healthful vacation—and so will everyone else.

Ohio Hunters And Fishermen Spend 85 Million Annually

A report just completed by Daniel L. Leedy and Charles A. Dambach of the Ohio Wildlife Research Unit at Ohio State University in cooperation with the Ohio Division of Conservation shows that Ohio hunters and fishermen spend 85 million dollars annually in pursuit of the state's wildlife resources. The report is based on 1947 figures.

Fifteen representatives of Ohio counties were used in the store-to-store survey to determine how much hunters and fishermen spend, together with a questionnaire polling of a representative number of hunters and fishermen picked at random.

The report states that there are 9,158 businesses in the state dependent on wildlife resources or the sports associated with wildlife. These include those establishments engaged in selling, servicing and manufacturing hunting and fishing equipment; commercial fisheries; fur dealers; commercial game farms; dog kennel operators and the like.

At least 21 different kinds of businesses are known to handle hunting and fishing equipment; hardware stores, however, polled in a 13-county area reported that 38.6 per cent of their total income is dependent on the hunting and fishing sports. General stores reported that 31.4 per cent is traced to the sale of hunting and fishing equipment.

The 1947 survey of hunter and fisherman expenditures shows that the average hunting license holder spent $41.88 compared to $56.95 spent by the average fisherman.

Nearly 5,000 hunters polled reported spending 31.10 per cent of their outlay for clothing; 28.98% for guns; 11.77% for ammunition; 12.08% for gas and oil, and lesser amounts for meals, lodging and so on. Slightly less than 3,000 fishermen reporting in the poll said they spent 22.15% of their fishing expenditure for tackle; 15.48% for gas and oil; 8.71% for meals; 6.07% for lodging; 6.15% for bait and 4.84% for clothing.

One of the most significant economic and social aspects of Ohio's wildlife resources is the large number of people benefitted either as participants in its recreational use or in obtaining an income from the business created by it. At least a million persons, or one in every seven residents of the state, fish or hunt or do both.

The report, entitled "An Evaluation of Ohio's Wildlife Resources" is expected to be available in printed form for general distribution within a short time according to Conservation Commissioner H. A. Rider.

Blood Bank Opens Soon

As the Reed Cross Regional Blood Center will soon open, volunteer Services have initiated a vigorous recruitment campaign for new members. Like during the war, much of the operation of the Blood Center will be carried on by Red Cross volunteers.

The Regional Blood Center will be located in the new Red Cross Building at 20 E. Town St. Remodeling of the building, still occupied by offices of the Ohio National Bank Trust offices, has already begun. Chapter offices will be moved into the new location by Sept. 1 it is announced by Paul R. Gingher, chapter Chairman. However, he said the Regional Blood Center cannot be in operation until sometime in October due to the completion and installation of needed technical equipment.

The training period for volunteer services being longer than others, the Red Cross will announce class periods and requirements for the services so they can each be ready to take part with the opening of the Center.

Motor Service drivers are urgently needed. The training and requirements for all members of Motor Service include: must have a driver's license; be in the 18-50 year age bracket; give a minimum of seventy-five hours of service per year; be certified in both standard and advanced first-aid; successfully complete a course in motor mechanics; pass the driving test given by the State Highway Patrol.

Miss Mary Alsop King, captain of Motor Service, announces that a class in Standard first-aid, the first of the training classes, will start Monday, August 2, from 7 to 10 p.m. in the classroom at Red Cross headquarters, 76 E. Gay St. They will be held twice each week, Monday and Friday evenings for a three-week period. A course in Advanced first-aid will follow. Training will close with a motor mechanics course which includes lectures and films by members of the Columbus Police department; lectures by garage mechanics and examination by the State Highway Patrol. Miss Frances Hypes, lieutenant of Motor Service is in charge of the latter course and is responsible for the maintenance of chapter-owned cars. The other lieutenant is Mrs. Francis Meek who has charge of scheduling of the drivers.

Motor Service of the Franklin County Red Cross is one of the oldest services of the chapter having been organized in 1917 during the first World War. It's service to the community and veterans in time of peace, and to the country through two wars, numbers 31 years.

The Bride Carried White Roses

White tapers lined the aisle and gladioli decorated the altar of St. John the Baptist Church on June 5, when Miss Rose Julia Franchino became the bride of Augusta J. Flichia, with the Rev. Father Lawrence Corcoran officiating at the nuptial high mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Joseph Franchino, 849 Cheshire Rd., and the late Mr. Joseph Franchino, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. Joseph Flichia, 177 Sycamore St.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Elmer W. Bukey, wore a gown of duchesse satin fashioned with a sheer yoke trimmed with tiers of satin bands, long tightly fitted sleeves ending in a cuff which fell softly over the hands, and basque bodice. The bouffant skirt fell over a crinoline hoop train. The full length veil of imported illusion edged in chantilly lace was caught by a tiara of pearl orange blossoms and she carried white roses, and baby's breath, centered with an orchid.

Miss Mary Franchino, maid of honor, and Mrs. Elmer Bukey, matron of honor, sisters of the bride, wore gowns of misty green marquisette soft folds forming the off shoulder neckline which was gathered with a knot tie and tiers of ruffles cascading over a large hoop skirt.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Michael Arena, Mrs. Angela Cosentino and Miss Joann Pritchard wore similarly styled gowns in jonquil yellow. All wore matching picture hats and carried fans trimmed with roses with cascading garlands.

Michael Flichia, brother of the groom served as best man, and ushers were Michael Arena, Anthony Serio and Whitey Brehl.

A dinner following the ceremony was held at Cerri's and a reception in the evening was held in the K of C Hall. Hostesses were Mrs. Philip Palumbo, Mrs. Frederick Wirthman and Mrs. Carol Brunton.

After the wedding trip to the Allegheny Mountains, the couple will make their home at 849 Heyl Av.

Miss Siefert To Be Bride Of August 14

Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Siefert, 1400 E. Whittier-st. are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Marilyn Ann, to Herbert J. Schilling, son of Mrs. O. J. Schilling.

Saturday, Aug. 14, is the day chosen by the bride. The open-church, double-ring ceremony will take place in St. John the Evangelist Church at 9 a.m.

Miss Siefert has asked Miss Mary Helen Dawn to attend her as maid of honor and the bridesmaids will be Miss Mary Katherine Gaines, Miss Mary Ellen Luckhaupt and Miss Shirley Sternecker. The junior bridesmaids will be Miss Suzanne Weldon and Susanne Schwemler.

The best man for the groom will be his brother, Richard Schilling, while seating the guests will be Charles Siefert, brother of the bride-elect, William Wirth and Jack Brenner.

The reception will be held at the home of the bride. Miss Mary Ellen Scheaufele, Miss Lois Kilcoyne, Miss Rita Dobson and Miss Jo Ellen Gaines will be hostesses.

Pre-nuptial festivities in honor of the bride-elect include a luncheon shower given by Mrs. Charles E. Gerling June 30. Miss Mary Helen Dawn was hostess for a miscellaneous shower at her home July 9. Another miscellaneous shower was given by Miss Shirley Sternecker, 1265 Miller-av, on July 3. On July 28, Mrs. Clarence Weldon and Mrs. Floyd Gerling plan a shower, to be given at the home of the bride.

Miss Siebert is a graduate of Rosary High and attended St. Mary of the Springs College. She is now associated with the Buckeye Union Casualty Co.

Mr. Schilling is a graduate of Rosary High and attended Ohio State University. He is associated with M. & R. Dietetic Laboratories.

Poison Ivy Threat To Pleasant Vacations

Poison ivy the annual summertime menace to pleasant vacations, will take a toll at just as many innocent people this year as always, therefore, those who spend a great deal of time in the out-of-doors are urged to give the plant a wide berth when the poisonous variety can be identified.

Field men of the Ohio Division of Conservation who spend the majority of their working hours in the fields and woodlands have learned that there is no sure immunity to the plant although some persons seem to possess a marked resistance to the action of the poison, however they avoid the plant whenever possible.

There are some 50 varieties of poison ivy plants. The leaves vary in shape and often are hidden by other plants. For this reason they are hard to avoid. The 3-leaved variety seems to cause the most serious damage.

The average duration of symptoms is ten days. While most of the cases are without complications, a secondary infection occasionally occurs, causing abcesses, enlarged glands and even blood poisoning. In any severe case of ivy poisoning, the victim should see a physician at once.

If a person knows he has been in contact with poison ivy, washing with kerosene or gasoline and a strong alkali soap may remove the poisonous weed oil, but this must be done immediately to be effective.

Under no circumstances should the superstitious practice of chewing poison ivy leaves be followed in an attempt to provide immunity.

It is because the oil of the plant can be carried on clothing and on the fur of animals that many persons find themselves infected although they are positive they never have been near the weeds.

"Jack had tough luck in court this morning."

"How's that?"

"He was arrested for kissing a woman. The judge took one look at her and fined Jack $10 for being drunk."

SEEN AND HEARD ON THE SOUTH SIDE

Mr. and Mrs. George King, 20 Morrill Ave., recently spent three days in Cincinnati.

Reports received from friends say that they serve warm beer down there.

Earl Myers, formerly the South Side's biggest man, has reduced from 275 pounds to 225 pounds.

That's taking off the surplus, Earl.

Doc Lensenmeyer, chairman of the fourth of July celebration in Schiller Park reported that there would be a surplus for parties for the youngsters, of the South Side, from funds collected for that celebration.

The surplus will probably be used for Halloween and Easter parties, for our kiddies.

So'emn Nuptial High Mass Performed

Before an altar decorated with white gladiola and baby's breath, Miss Eileen Egger, daughter of Mrs. Irene Egger, 857 Mohawk St, became the bride of Mr. Lee James Farrell, of Washington, D. C., son of Mrs. Patrick Farrell, New Douglas, Illinois on June 12, at a Solemn High Mass in St. Mary Church. The brother of the groom, the Rev Albert Farrell of Detroit, Mich., officiated at the 10 o'clock nuptials, assisted by the bride's cousin and pastor, Rev. Linus J. Dury and the Rt Rev. Msgr. Edmund A. Burkley respectively.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her godfather, Mr. Christopher Carpenter, wearing a gown of white slipper satin of the Colonial Period design fashioned with a satin shirred valence which draped off the shoulder from a silk marquisette yoke. The valence was complemented by a satin tufted bustle. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was held by a white satin band trimmed with a small cluster of orange blossoms at each side. She carried a white missal covered with white rose buds and shattered carnations.

Mrs. Frank Schneider, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore an apple green faille gown fashioned with an off-the shoulder collar, and a matching head band decorated across the back of the head with pink rosebuds. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink rosebuds and pink carnations.

Maid of honor was Miss Jo Ann Egger, sister of the bride, who wore a lilac faille gown fashioned similar to the matron of honor's, and carried a colonial bouquet of pink rosebuds and pink carnations.

Miss Patricia Farrell, sister of the groom and a college roommate of the bride, was bridesmaid, wearing a yellow faille gown and headband fashioned like that of the matron of honor.

Best man for Mr. Farrell was Mr. Michael Murray of Chicago, and seating the guests were Mr. Frank Schneider of Columbus, and Mr. Charles Murphy of Plainsfield, N. J.

Following the wedding a breakfast for the wedding party family and out-of-town guests was held at the Seneca Hotel.

A reception was held from 3:00 to 6:00 p.m. at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Frank Schneider, 1229 Linwood Av. Mrs. Jerome Montaine and Mrs. Paul Richards served as hostesses.

The former Miss Egger is a graduate of the College of St. Francis, Joliet, Ill., and attended Ohio State University in a post-graduate course. She is now employed by the Remington-Rand Co., Washington, D. C.

Mr. Farrell was formerly associated with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and at present is attending Georgetown University, Washington, D. C.

After a honeymoon trip through Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Farrell will reside in Washington, D. C.

Double Ring Ceremony Performed

Soft candlelight cast a glow over the interior of the Gates-Fourth Methodist Church on Friday, June 11, when Miss Barbara Ann Sharp became the bride of Jack W. Martin. The Rev. Harry F. Zierer officiated at the double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Sharp of 1244 S. Fourth-st. and the bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Martin, 257 Merrill-av.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father down an aisle lighted with gleaming white tapers. The bride's gown was of lustrous duchess satin, fashioned with a sheer yoke trimmed with tiny seed pearls, slim fitted bodice, a houffant skirt gathered to the bodice and terminating in a modified train. The full length veil of English imported illusion was outlined with Chantilly lace and was caught by a seed pearl tiara. Her bouquet was of white roses centered with an orchid and had a shower of satin streamers and stephanotis.

Mrs. John A. Lewis, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Dorothy Szalay, Mrs. Ernest Walters, and Mrs. Robert Hill of Jackson, Mich. They wore identical gowns of taffeta in rainbow colors fashioned with sheer yokes outlined with bertha collars. The fitted bodice had full skirts with butterfly bustle. They wore matching gauntlets, carried bouquets of roses, and wore tiaras of roses in their hair. All wore jeweled pendants, gifts of the bride. Little Suzanne Lee Kuebler was flower girl and wore a blue taffeta gown with long full skirt which was caught up at the hem by tiny pink rose buds. She carried a miniature bouquet of pink Pinnochio roses.

Raymond Martin served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were John A. Lewis, Richard Immel, Edward Edmister and Robert Snoke.

The bride's mother wore a magnolia white dress with gold accessories and Mrs. Martin wore coral pink with white accessories. Both wore corsages of roses. After a reception in the church parlors with Mrs. Edward Edmister, Miss Virginia Olivens and Mrs. Russell Wilkin as hostesses, the couple left for a motor trip to Chicago.

For traveling the new Mrs. Martin chose a printed dress with a taffeta bustle back and black accessories. She wore the orchid from her bouquet at her shoulder.

Upon returning from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Martin will be at home at 1736 S. High st. Mr. Martin attended Ohio State University and is now employed at the Immel Co. as assistant manager. The bride is a graduate of South High School and is employed in the executive offices of the F. and R. Lazarus Co.

News In The World Of Religion

In response to requests of educational authorities in Japan, 43 college-trained young men and women have been selected by the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church to go to Japan as missionary teachers for terms of three years each. Five others have been chosen for similar service in Korea. They are now undergoing a six-weeks intensive training course at the Riverdale Country School, Riverdale-on-Hudson, New York; and in August they sail for Japan from San Francisco. These young educators are going largely to teach English in Japanese schools, but some will also be related to existing missionary schools and will teach Bible and ethics and related subjects as well as English. Some will serve under the United Church of Japan, and in interdenominational schools. The group includes Presbyterians, Quakers, Congregationalists, Evangelical and Reformed church members as well as Methodists, and they will serve also in Baptist, Friends, and Congregational schools. All are college graduates, most of them with post-graduate pedagogical training. Seven of the missionary-teachers were GI's during the recent war and are anxious to build goodwill between the races. They are: Eliot R. Shimer, of Maywood, N. J.; Keith W. Johnson of Seattle, Wash.; William D. Porter of Berkeley, Cal.; Peyton L. Palmore III, of Hampton, Va., who was born in Japan of Missionary parents; W. B. Swim of Baird, Texas; James H. Wilson of Hardy, Ark.; and Leon K. Walters, Jr., of Columbus, Ohio. A minister who comes from a Japanese American family, the Rev. Morse T. Saito, of Chicago, is also in the group. Because of the food shortage in Japan, each member will take along six month's food supply. And to help in the housing situation, four prefabricated houses are being taken. One will be set up in Nagasaki, one in Nagoya, and two in Tokyo — at Aoyama Gakuin, the Methodist College, and at the Wesley Foundation.

To help meet China's urgent need for persons equipped to teach problem children and mentally deficient adults, mission-supported University of Shanghai has opened a clinic to train education majors in mental, personality, and intelligence testings. It also gives tests for visual and speech defects. The purpose of the clinic says President Henry H. Lin, "is to find out the causes of these defects and to send the patient to specialists to have the defects remedied."

The Christian Youth Conference of North America, to be held in Grand Rapids, Mich., from August 31 to Sept. 6, is expected to draw an attendance of more than 5,000 young people — high school and college students — from every state in the Union, from Canada, Mexico, the island possessions of the United States, and from several South American nations. The United Christian Youth Movement, an adjunct of the International Council of Religious Education, and representing youth of forty denominations and sixteen national agencies, sponsors the Conference. Principally it will consider the Christian church and personal commitment of life to Christ as the answers to what is wrong in the world today; it will consider also methods of teaching, Bible study, etc.

"Though the motive of Quaker service is religious and spiritual as a matter of experience its success is often due to such secular seeming qualities as persistence, imagination and resourcefulness," says Dr. Henry J. Cadbury, chairman of the American Friends Service Committee, Philadelphia, Pa. "If he followed some ready made pattern, if he applied merely some technique of approved social practice, he would despair of mankind more easily. His faith in man's capability to persuasion enables him to experiment and to venture in where diplomats fear to tread. He regards neither war nor injustice as inevitable. Without denying that 'man is prone to evil as the sparks fly upward,' he believes that there is also a divine spark, 'something of God,' in every man. To this he appeals by patience, by reason, by example, and if necessary by his own suffering for the right. If he does not always succeed his average success is not much behind that of those who use what they choose to call the 'practical' methods of fighting for their rights though the heavens fall."

Experiments with the use of sulfa drugs in the treatment of leprosy are proving successful. Dr. R. C. Williams, chief of the U. S. Bureau of Medical Services has told the American Missions to Lepers. Two sulfa derivatives, he says, have now been in use over a five-year period with patients at the United States Leprosarium at Carville, La. Where from ten to twelve patients were hitherto released annually as symptom-free, between thirty and thirty-five are now being discharged.

Union Services

The St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Gates-Fourth Methodist Church will begin a series of four Union Services Sunday July 25th 10:30 a.m. July 25th and August 1st services in Gates-Fourth and Rev. Paul Kaefer will be in charge. August 8th and August 15th services in St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church and Rev. Harry F. Zierer will be in charge. Sunday School will be conducted in both churches the four Sundays at the usual hour. 9:15 a.m.

Smith – Moder Nuptials Announced

Miss Margaret Moder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Moder, 828 Oakwood Ave., was married June 5 to Mr. Donald E. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Smith, 1503 Duxberry Ave. The double ring ceremony took place at 6:30 p.m. at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Edward Loos, 956 Carenter St. The Rev. J. Bronson of Southwood Church of Christ officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white net with a matching fingertip veil. Her corsage was formed of two dozen pale pink roses and she carried a white Bible with white satin streamers.

Miss Veronica Nowold, maid of honor, wore a pale blue gown and corsage of deep pink roses. Miss Shirley Finegan and Miss Hattie Jean Elkins were bridesmaids in pale pink taffeta gowns and their corsages were of yellow roses.

Best man for his brother was Mr. Richard Smith and ushers were Mr. Robert Rheinscheld and Mr. Philip Moder, Jr.

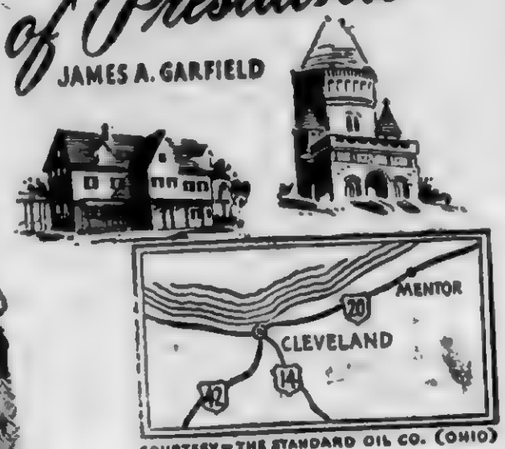
Junior attendants were the sister of the bride, Shirley Moder, who wore a white frock, and the bridegroom's nephew, Donald Loos.

After the ceremony a reception was held for 75 guests.

Mr. & Mrs. Paul Miller Announce Daughters Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller wish to announce the marriage of their daughter, Betty Jane Miller, to Mr. Robert Daugherty, son of Mr and Mrs. C. R. Daugherty of 1077 Mt. Pleasant Ave. The lovely formal wedding was performed at the home of the bride at 41 Hosack Street, by Rev. Scott, on June 26, 1948.

Betty Jane before her marriage made a hobby of singing and had started a promising career by singing with the Tip Top Rangers and Kay's Kiddie Club.



The young couple are now residing at 31 Price Ave.

LET'S EXPLORE OHIO

Mother of Presidents

JAMES A. GARFIELD

COURTESY—THE STANDARD OIL CO. (OHIO)

Lawnfield, the home from which James Abram Garfield was elevated to the Presidency, is located on Route 20 in Mentor, Ohio, about 25 miles east of Cleveland. In 1936 it was opened to the public as a shrine to the memory of James A. and Lucretia R. Garfield under the auspices of the Western Reserve Historical Society.

The first two floors of this thirty-room mansion have been restored substantially as they were during the occupancy of the President and his family.

Here is the desk he used as President of Hiram College; the lunch basket he carried on trains; the cradle in which family tradition decrees every Garfield baby shall sleep; the specially made "reading chair" constructed so the user might dangle a leg while reading; dresses worn by Lucretia Garfield in the White House; and the President's collection of canes.

Here is the Memorial Library erected in 1885 to house his large collection of books and finished with beautiful hand-carved white oak ceiling and woodwork.

The home is rich enough in contents to provide browsing material for almost every type of collector. Over 25 oil paintings hang on its walls. There are over a dozen striking fireplaces, no two alike.

The Home is located in the midst of a 160-acre estate on which a number of the Garfield family still reside. Immediately surrounding the Home are over one hundred beautiful tall trees of many species, exotic as well as native, most of which were planted by the President and Mrs. Garfield. The one-story campaign office building of 1888 is also on the grounds.

Standing in the same yard with the Home is a log cabin replica of Garfield's birthplace, a striking and significant lesson in American history.

James A. Garfield was born in a similar log cabin 18 miles to the southwest in Orange Township on November 19, 1831. He served during the Civil War as a major general, and resigned from the army to assume a seat in Congress. In 1880 he was elected U. S. senator from Ohio and was elected the 20th President of the United States the fall of the same year.

He was assassinated July 2, 1881. He is buried in a memorial tomb in Lakeview cemetery in Cleveland.

Candlelight Features Wedding Ceremony

Candlelight cast a soft glow over the interior of the Washington Av Evangelical United Brethren Church on July 12, at half after seven o'clock when Miss Eloise Sayre approached the altar on the arm of her father to become the bride of Mr. Victor G. Campbell. Miss Sayre is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Sayre, 520 Hinman Av, and Mr. Campbell is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell.

The Rev. Boyd C. Rife, pastor of the Washington Av Church, officiated at the reading of the double-ring marriage nuptials, before an altar decorated with white gladiola, larkspur and asters, greenery and lighted tapers.

The bride's gown, designed along simple classic lines, was made of Duchesse satin, fashioned with fitted bodice with a fringe of reniss lace edging the sheer marquisette yoke, sleeves tapering to points above the hands, and the full skirt sweeping into a circular train. Her finger-tip veil of imported illusion fell from a tiara of satin and seed pearls. She carried an heirloom prayer book brought from Ireland a century ago by her great, great uncle, which was covered with a purple throated orchid, scattered delphinium white satin streamers. She also carried a handkerchief formerly carried by her sisters, Mrs. Lester Sommer and Mrs. James Brouillette.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. Donald Krebs, matron of honor, Mrs. Alfred Wallace, Miss Juanita Hutch and Miss Jane Brown bridesmaids. They were dressed in identical chalk-white marquisette gowns, with off-the-shoulder necklines, and full skirts, edged with deep ruffles. They wore white marquisette half bonnets and short white mitts. Mrs. Krebs carried a bouquet of white shattered gladiola and carnations, and the bridesmaid's bouquets were of shattered dubonnet carnations.

Best man for the groom was Mr. Frederick Pfahl and guests were seated by Mr. James Heer, Mr. Thomas Richsimer and Mr. Philip Stanton.

The bride is a graduate of South High School and is employed in the offices of the Lustron Corporation. Mr. Campbell is a graduate of North High School and is associated with the David Davies Company as a junior salesman.

The newly weds are now residing at 1008 Parsons Av.

Marriage Is Planned For August 4th

Mr. and Mrs. John Commerford, 848 Cline-st, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Joane, to Donald M. Finney, son of Mr. Charles Finney of Coshocton, Ohio.

Miss Commerford is a graduate of South High School and attended Ohio State University, where she became a member of Delta Zeta. Mr. Finney is a graduate of Coshocton High School and also attended Ohio State.

The wedding has been tentatively set for August 4.

Bagpipe music was broadcast recently. Lots of people took their sets to pieces in an endeavor to locate the trouble.

Miss Lowery Is The Bride Of Mr. Dean

Miss Helen Lowery, daughter of Mrs. Ura Lee, Waverly, O., and Donald E. Dean, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Dean, 413 E. Moler-st, were united in marriage at 4:30 p.m. Saturday, June 26.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized at the Methodist Church of Greenup, Ky., with Rev. Allen officiating. The only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Foster Lee.

The bride attended Huntington High School in Waverly and is now associated with David Davies Co.

Mr. Dean attended South High School. He spent four years in the Navy and now is associated with the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad.

More Drifters

"More men, drifting around the country, are applying for more overnight care. "Colonel Susan Thom, head of the local Volunteers of America, 279 W. Broad Street, told a recent meeting of the organization's advisory board." A six month's review of the transient cases indicates an ever-increasing need for more paper, magazines and clothing, she added.

Colonel Thom pointed out that the summer months usually bring a lightened case load, that many transients obtain summer jobs, or do not apply to organized charities for overnight care. "Apparently national business unrest is reflected in the number of men drifting from place to place this summer," she told the board members. "We have given 3827 nights care during the first six months of 1948, an increase 2866 over the first six months of 1947."

Breaking the figures down, the Colonel added that April, May and June had amounted to 1564 in 1948, and continue to show an upward trend. Although every effort is made to do constructive work among these drifters, Colonel said that feeding them was still the primary problem of the Volunteers of America. "The increasing numbers of drifters, plus the increasing costs in food prices lead to one conclusion. We must make our salvage program broader to pay for the added load we evidently will have in the next year," the Colonel finished.

"This is just another Red Feather Service of your community chest."

South Side Girl Scout Day Camp Soon To Open

CAMPERS ALL

Girl Scouts are camp-minded and take to the out-of-doors in a big way as soon as school is over. Here are some of the thousands of campers who have fun and learn resourcefulness at Girl Scout camps each year.

Girl Scout Day Camping means doing all kinds of different and exciting things-hiking, exploring, cooking out, singing and learning to make and do things out-of-doors.

The site this year again is to be the beautiful South Side Y Camp, located on Lockbourne Road. The dates for camp are July 28, 29, 30, and August 2, 3, and 4. The time 9:30 a. m. to 3:30 p.m. Information about transportation will be sent to each person who registers for Day Camp.

What Do We Pay? $1.25 per 4 day period including cost of milk every day but not including transportation cost.

Who may attend? All Brownie, Intermediate and Senior Girl Scouts are invited and urged to attend. A fine program has been planned for all age groups. A registration blank can be secured from your troop leader. The final registration date is July 19.

The following leaders and co-leaders are helping to make this the best Day Camp for our South Side Girl Scouts. Mrs. William Hicks, 1281 Alum Creek Drive, Mrs. LeRoy Hettler, 970 Lawrence Drive, Mrs. R. L. Tinklepaugh 839 E. Whittier, Mrs. Harold Harmon, 917 Heyl Ave., Mrs. William Gerhard, 783 E. Columbus, Mrs. June Moore, 839 Heyl Ave., Mrs. Pauline Whitaker, 1226 Kossuth St., Mrs. Henry Maser, 1133 S. Champion, Mrs. Ludwig Shirey, 859 Reinhard Ave., Mrs. James Brown, 854 E. Whittier St., Mrs. S. A. Davis, 1001 S. Champion, Mrs. Ralph Mottashed, 992 S. Champion.

Mrs. E. D. Bornshire, 865 Southwood Ave. is the registered nurse who will check each camper on the first day and will always be nearby to help insure proper health and safety measures.

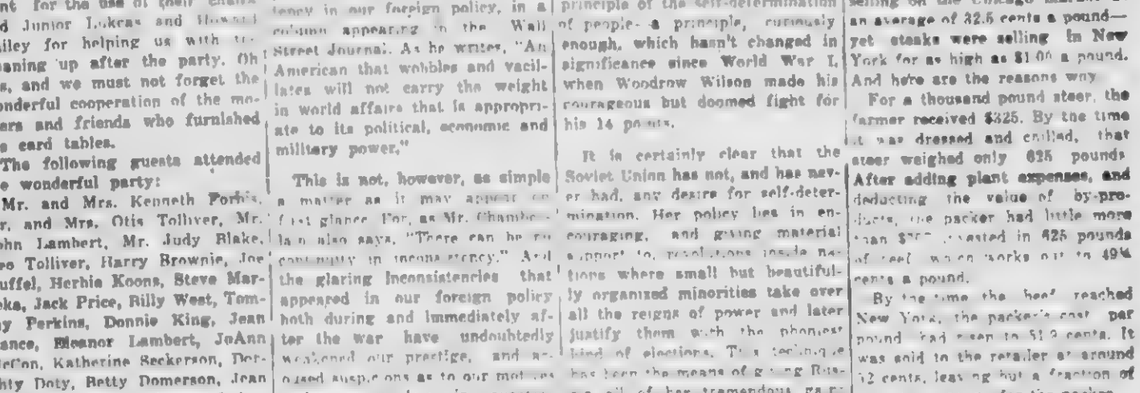
Day Camp Chairman for the South Side Y Camp is Mrs. Frank Reynolds, 660 Siebert St., Troop Leader of Intermediate Troop No. 151.

Youth Hostelers Two Day Bike Trip

A two day bicycle trip to Newark and Granville has been arranged for youth hostelers of Columbus and vicinity July 24-25 by the Buckeye Trails District Council of American Youth Hostels, Inc.

The trip will start at dawn, the hostelers meeting at 4:30 a.m. on the corner of Indianola and Oakland Park Avenue for the ride to Denison University, where they will spend the night at one of central Ohio's six chartered youth hostels. They plan to visit the Heisey Glass factory at Newark and perhaps to attend the Denison University summer theatre in the evening. Experienced hostelers will lead the group.

Anyone infected with the youth hostel spirit is welcome on this trip, and on other trips sponsored by the Buckeye Trails Council, which will be announced later. Hostelers measure youth in terms of spirit and not of years; they range in age from 6 to 96. In central Ohio, the relatively long distances between hostels make bicycles the preferred method for their travel, but in other parts of the country they also go afoot, on horseback, or by boat and canoe. Hosteling in Canada, Mexico, and even in Europe is made possible through the United States. Overnight fees at hostels are low —forty cents for hostelers under 21, fifty cents for those who are older. Equipment is kept for a minimum. Besides his clothing and personal supplies, each hosteler need carry only his eating utensils, a sheet sleeping sack, and his youth hostel pass ($2 a year for those under 21, $3 for those 21 and over). Passes may be obtained in Columbus from Elfleda Seelbach, 2184 Adams Avenue, or Ann Gustin, 953 Copeland Road.



The size of the group for the July 24-25 trip is limited to 8 men and 8 women by the accomodations available at the Denison University hostel.

Accordingly, reservations must be made in advance, and none can be accepted later than July 18. Reservations and additional information about youth hosteling in Central Ohio may be obtained by calling Miss Seelbach at LA 8328 or Miss Gustin at WA 5809.

The ski instructor showed the plump lady the proper techniques of skiing. Upon trying, the Blimp scooted in sitting position for fifty feet. Upon reaching her, the instructor master fully remarked "Very good madame. Now all you have to do is eliminate the middle track."

Fun At Birthday Party

Mr. and Mrs Buccilla Tolliver held a lawn birthday party for their fifteen-year-old daughter, Dolly Buccilla.

The lawn was decorated with strips of crepe paper and Japanese lanterns, also a platform for dancing. Music was furnished by guitar, mandolin, and a recorder. Cake, potato chips and soft drinks were served.

We would like to thank all the boys and girls for their lovely gifts. Also the South Side Settlement for the use of their chairs and Junior Lukcas and Howard Bailey for helping us with the cleaning up after the party. Oh yes, and we must not forget the wonderful cooperation of the mothers and friends who furnished the card tables.

The following guests attended the wonderful party:

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Forbis, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Tolliver, Mr. John Lambert, Mr. Judy Blake, Leo Tolliver, Harry Brownie, Joe Ruffel, Herbie Koons, Steve Marzeka, Jack Price, Billy West, Tommy Perkins, Donnie King, Jean Vance, Eleanor Lambert, JoAnn McCon, Katherine Seckerson, Dorothy Doty, Betty Domerson, Jean Campbell, Annie Chase, JoAnn Price, Rose Ann Offenburger, Howard Bailey, Junior Lukcas, and Dolly Buccilla.

Ohio Nut Crop Hard Hit

Ohio's squirrel population has been hit right in the middle of the food pantry by the infestation of the 17-year locust (cicadas) in the southern and eastern counties of Ohio.

From 25 to 50 per cent of the "mast" (nuts, to the uninformed) crop will probably be lost as food for squirrels, deer and other nut and acorn eating animals in 37 affected counties, according to a report of Dr. R. D. Martin, chief of the game management and propagation section of the Ohio Division of Conservation.

The female of the locust spreads its killing campaign by cutting channels or grooves in the extreme ends of twigs to serve as a nest for laying its eggs. The twig dies and often breaks off affecting the development of acorns and nuts which are borne near the ends of the twigs.

Nut and acorn production was very "spotty" in these same counties last year seriously reducing the food supply of the nut eating animals.

SNAKES IMMUNE TO OWN POISON

Even if a snake wanted to, he couldn't give himself a dose of his own poison, Nature has provided the poisonous snake with its personal system of immunization.

There is an old theory a snake will not use his poison when killing birds or small animals which it intends to use on his dinner table. Contrary to popular opinion the poison fangs are used primarily for killing food and only secondarily as a means of defense. Which merely means that snakes just don't go around biting people just for the fun of it. They attack people or dogs as a rule, only when they are cornered and need their poison fur injecting fangs of defense.

Economic Highlights

Happenings that affect the dinner pails, dividend checks and tax bills of every individual, national and international problems inseparable from local welfare.

William Henry Chamberlain, who is one of the best informed and most dispassionate of American writers upon foreign affairs, recently discussed the very vital problem of continuity and consistency in our foreign policy, in a column appearing in the Wall Street Journal. As he writes, "An American that wobbles and vacillates will not carry the weight in world affairs that is appropriate to its political, economic and military power."

This is not, however, as simple a matter as it may appear on first glance. For, as Mr. Chamberlain also says, "There can be no consistency in inconsistency." And the glaring inconsistencies that appeared in our foreign policy both during and immediately after the war have undoubtedly weakened our prestige, and aroused suspicions as to our motives and our wisdom in quarters whose whole-hearted cooperation is necessary if the Western powers are to present to the world a strong and unified front.

Mr. Chamberlain discusses Yalta where, in his opinion "a high point of hypocrisy was reached." At Yalta, Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin again affirmed their faith in the broad principles of the Atlantic Charter. The most important single provision of the Charter is that all people shall have the right "to choose the form of government under which they will live." Another, of almost equal moment, is that all the nations, including victor and vanquished, shall have access on equal terms "to the trade and raw materials of the world." These great principles presumably were the rock-bound basis on which the war aims of the great powers rested.

Yet, at Yalta a deal was made whereby Russia was allowed to take over close to half of Poland's pre-war territory, and Poland was not even represented at the conference. Following that, it became increasingly clear that the peace settlement, to quote Mr. Chamberlain again, was "calculated to turn Germany into an economic wasteland and Europe into a perpetual dependent on American subsidies." The roots of this lay in the Morgenthau plan which was designed to reduce Germany permanently to a fourth-rate economic power.

Of course, hind sight is easy. During the war there was an understandable eagerness to keep Stalin happy, and this unquestionably led to over-optimism as to the sincerity behind Soviet pledges to work with this and other countries for world peace and rehabilitation. Even so, the fact that the acts of the great powers nullified the Atlantic Charter even as their representatives praised it in general and meaningless terms, did us no good abroad. And it helped the Communists, who are experts at making capital out of human disillusionment, to build up their large followings in France, Italy and elsewhere.

In the last year or two, fortunately something more nearly resembling a consistent and continuous foreign policy has come into being. It has been forced on us by the dire necessity of stopping Russia before her sphere of influence goes clear to the Mediterranean and the Atlantic ocean. The idea of permanently destroying Germany as a major economic power has been abandoned. And there has been a very real effort, bipartisan in character, to reaffirm through positive action the principle of the self-determination of people- a principle, curiously enough, which hasn't changed in significance since World War I, when Woodrow Wilson made his courageous but doomed fight for his 14 points.

It is certainly clear that the Soviet Union has not, and has never had, any desire for self-determination. Her policy lies in encouraging, and giving material support to, revolutions inside nations where small but beautifully organized minorities take over all the reigns of power and later justify them with the phoniest kind of elections. This technique has been the means of giving Russia all of her tremendous gains since V-E Day. Yet, from the Kremlin's point of view, it may not all be rosy. There is every evidence that millions of Poles, Czechs, Yugoslavs and others hold the bitterest hatred for Russia. The Communists can liquidate the leaders of the opposition, but they can't clean out all the dissidents among the rank and file. In the event of war, or any internal emergency, the Soviet Union certainly could not depend on her satellite countries for enthusiastic assistance. There are some who believe that these countries might prove to be an considerable drain on Russia, by forcing her to police them with armies of trained men.

In any event, there is more and more talk of the need for an absolutely clear-cut American foreign policy which will say, in effect, that we will help the cooperating nations recover, and will support them in selecting governments of their own choosing, through free and secret elections. The emphasis would be on constructive action—rather than being based on more or less unrelated programs designed to help contain Russia. We have made progress in that direction, and the hope is that the next year will see a real job done.

According to a Business Week review, the military orders for planes came just in time to save the aircraft-manufacturing industry. Most of the companies have been in the red, many were facing a complete shutdown.

New orders for the current fiscal year will touch $2,000,000,000, and are going to 13 makers. Other concerns will get welcome subcontracts.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES

Every now and then, consumer groups draw an unflattering comparison between the price of beef on the hoof, at wholesale, and the price charged for table cuts at retail. The difference is large, and that leads many people to a totally erroneous idea of the costs involved in processing and marketing.

Some time ago one of the meat packing companies explained, in full detail, where the money goes to. At that time, choice cattle were selling on the Chicago market at an average of 32.5 cents a pound—yet steaks were selling in New York for as high as $1.00 a pound. And here are the reasons why.

For a thousand pound steer, the farmer received $325. By the time it was dressed and chilled, that steer weighed only 625 pounds. After adding plant expenses, and deducting the value of by-products, the packer had little more than $[illegible] invested in 625 pounds of beef, which works out to 49¾ cents a pound.

By the time the beef reached New York, the packer's cost per pound had risen to 51.2 cents. It was sold to the retailer at around 52 cents, leaving but a fraction of a cent per pound for the packer.

By the time the retailer prepared the beef for sale, his investment was over 80 cents a pound. His selling cost, plus a small profit, averaged about 12½ cents. Consequently, all the cuts had to move at an average price of 73 cents for each and every pound. Some of the less desirable cuts had to be sold for as little as 40 cents a pound. And that simply means that the price of the choicest cuts, such as fine steaks, had to approach a dollar.

What is true of meat is true of all staple foods. All along the line, production costs and retailing costs are held to the minimum. Profits are minuscular. And the consumer gets the lowest price possible under today's economic conditions.

Willie: "Mother, do fairy tales always begin with 'Once upon a time?'"

Mother: "No, dear, not always. They sometimes begin 'My love, I have to remained at the office tonight.'"

PALS IN THE OLD CORRAL

Cowboy king Gene Autry, star of CBS' melodious "Gene Autry Show" on Sunday nights, visits a couple of old pals, Champion and Champion Jr., during a breather from his multiple radio, motion picture and recording chores.

Show is heard over WBNS at 2 P. M. each Sunday

"T-Men" At Southland

Dennis O'Keefe, playing a Treasury Dept. agent, watches Jane Randolph, another link up the ladder to head of a counterfeiting ring, as she scrutinizes a phoney bill, in this scene from "T-Men", exciting story of a manhunt based on actual Treasury Department cases, playing this Friday and Saturday at the Southland Theatre. "Newshounds," starring those "Dead End" kids, Leo Gorcey and Hunts Hall, will be co-featured.

GREEN GRASS OF WYOMING
Charles Coburn & Peggy Cummins

DRIVE IN THEATER PROGRAM

The first outdoor drive-in theater in the southern part of the Greater Columbus section, the C. C. C., located at 1395 Harrisburg Pike, one mile from Mound and Central, held its official opening last week end. Good reports have been received from many patrons.

The new individual car speakers, plus the large 72 by 72 screen, created many good comments. The screen being located at the far end of the site is also an improvement.

A series of double features with many of the biggest names of the nation's movie colony will be presented during the next week at the new theater. Ronald Colman will be starred in "Double Life" and Adolph Menjou in "Bachelor's Daughters" Friday night. Tony Martin will be seen in Casbah the next night with "Getting Gertie's Garters" as the second feature.

The popular comedy team of Abbott and Costello in "Buck Privates Come Home" headlines the Sunday-Monday program. "Arch of Triumph" with Ingrid Bergman and Charles Boyer is the main attraction on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The Eastside Auto Theater, also a member of the same chain has Don O'Connor in "Are You With It" and Gentleman After Dark, tonight and Saturday. Ingrid Bergman and Charles Boyer will be seen in "Arch of Triumph" Sunday and Monday with Ida Lupino in "Deep Valley" on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

IDEAL THEATER

The Ideal presents Sunday and Monday "Down to Earth" with Rita Hayworth and Larry Parks. This is done in technicolor. Indignant because Marc Platt, a Broadway producer is rehearsing a jazzed-u version of the Ancient Nine Muses, Rita Hayworth the Goddess Terpsichore of Ancient Greece comes back to earth and persuades him to make the show "classical" it flops. Marc jazzes the piece and turns it to a success. Rita goes back to Mount Parnassus to wait for the time when Marc will come to her for eternity. Also "The Main Street Kid" with Al Pierce and Jim Martin. A Cartoon completes this show.

Club Alexander

Babe Smith is the mistress of ceremonies this week at Club Alexander. This she does in great style and along with her singing gets a big hand. She presents Johnny Fields, sensational juggler, musician. Nancy Lewis is also on the program with her entertaining character and radium dances. It is an unusually good program.

RUSSELL THEATRE

The Russell presents Sunday and Monday "Pittsburgh" with John Wayne and Marlene Dietrich. Foregoing a riotous power out of the wild decade of bootleg and easy riches, comes a flashing temptuous whirlwind love might adventure. Also "Little Tough Guy" with the Dead End Kids and Marjorie Main. The news and a Cartoon are also on this show.

Good Shepherd Tickets On Sale

Tickets for the annual summer festival of the House of the Good Shepherd, July 31, at Sandusky & West Broad streets, will be placed on sale, Monday.

Edward W. Burwell, general chairman, said tickets will be available at leading hotels, restaurants, cigar stands and business places in the downtown section.

Admission to a five-hour program of games and vaudeville acts on the school grounds will be free. Lou Posey is in charge of the entertainment and has arranged a card of singers, group singing and quartets, starting at 5 p.m., and continuing until 10 p.m.

Irwin Johnson will be the master of ceremonies. More than $2000 in prizes will be awarded during the evening.

The convent, a charitable institution that last year helped 128 girls of all creeds get a new start in life, has served the city and county for 88 years.

Proceeds from the July 31 festival are expected to total more than $15,000. This money will be used to modernize and improve the school and equipment and to expand the capacity for handling underprivileged girls.

A committee of 40 business and civic leaders is helping to promote and stage the summer festival.

Assisting Mr. Burwell on the committee are Mrs. C. A. Posey, Mrs. George T. Lennon, Walter B. Burkley, George J. Igel, Louis C. Zettler, Eddie Wagner, Bernard A. Hodapp, Mike Hausman and the Rev. Fr. William Kappes.

The Franklin County Community Fund assists in operating expenses for the House of the Good Shepherd. Money from the festival will be used exclusively to expand and modernize the school, Mother Mary St. John, convent superior said.

Among those who are taking a prominent part in promoting the summer festival are:

Judge Clayton Rose
F. R. Hearn
J. Walter Jeffrey
Frank Lorenz

How To Get More Heat

The basis of a sound livestock and meat industry program is simply enough expressed. It lies, in the words of John F. Krey, the chairman of the board of the American Meat Institute, "in the production of an adequate supply of meat for the country's increasing population." To attain that end, we must make full and efficient use of all our resources.

That is of particular importance at this time, when various groups are advocating a return to price control and rationing of meat and other commodities. The people should realize that controls of this character—or any other policy which interferes with the free operation of a competitive, supply-and-demand system—would inevitably reduce the nation's meat supply, both now and in the future. Farmers, who would naturally fear the imposition of arbitrary prices which would not permit them to earn a profit, would reduce their livestock herds. There would be widespread hoarding of frozen meat by consumers as a hedge against pending shortages. Finally, just as in the past, an ever-increasing proportion of the available meat would flow into the black market, to the profit of racketeers.

Even though controls were only of temporary duration the damage would be great. A reduction in our livestock population, for instance, cannot be made up quickly. It takes years to raise meat animals to the point where they are ready for market.

Meat, as a matter of fact, is an exceptionally good example of the fallacy of political controls. Since the demise of OPA, the country has had plenty of it, there has been no black market, the consumer has been as low as the "new" cost of doing business and the generally higher level of all prices will allow. If we leave competitive free enterprise alone, it will gradually expand our meat production in line with our increasing requirements.

As Pegler Sees It

THE ranks of those who fight the Communists as traitorous conspirators against the United States now are enlarged by thousands of joiners. Most of these recruits are sincere Americans who were either apathetic or deceived by political agents who told them that Roosevelt was a great spiritual leader, beset by Red-baiters.

The new opponents of the Communist conspiracy also include, however, many yellow individuals, who used to run with the Reds because Roosevelt did. Among them are some demagogues of the radio and the malicious politico-underworld streak in our journalism, some teachers and preachers, and a few show-offs who gratified their vanity by political advertisements published as "a public service."

We have heard a brave patriot defying Josef Stalin single-handed who didn't realize that communism was an enemy until the last dirty dollar had been wrung out of the Roosevelt idolatry. We have seen an advertisement boldly damning Soviet Russia for the capture of Czechoslovakia published by a hitch-hiker on the crowded bandwagon who not so long ago was abusing American soldiers in Germany, veterans of the war, for perceiving that Russia was the enemy.

REAL OPPOSITION TO THE COMMUNISTS NEVER HAS BEEN PLEASANT EXCEPT TO THOSE WITH A BELLY FOR A FIGHT. The smears were vile. Thoughtless, emotional millions with low intelligence were tickled to sneering mirth by coarse gags at the expense of decent citizens. The superstition that President Hoover turned out the army to massacre starving veterans of World War I in Washington is typical of the vicious frauds perpetrated on the people in the interests of the Roosevelt myth of compassion and love of mankind.

Plan of Commies

The so-called bonus march was fomented and organized by the Communists. It was dispersed only to uphold the authority of the national government. Most of the participants never had heard a shot fired and were far from broke or, if broke, were shiftless bums. Many of those veterans drove to Washington in their own automobiles to get some easy money and the fact rarely is recalled that Roosevelt, too, in his turn, booted them out of town without the money.

Franklin D. Roosevelt granted diplomatic recognition to Soviet Russia, the enemy of today, and gave every aid and comfort to communism in the United States as well as in Europe. By the very terms of that recognition, Russia admitted that she had interfered in the domestic affairs of the United States. Roosevelt and his wife also gave aid and comfort to the Communists in the union movement in our country in return for campaign funds, votes and organization.

They were the patrons of the Communists in the Newspaper guild, the National Maritime union, the United Auto Workers and the C. I. O. as a whole. The pioneer fighters of the C. I. O. were Communists, trained as soldiers are trained and skilled in creating and exploiting disorder, confusion and alarm. Roosevelt and his labor relations board, deliberately loaded with actual Communists, helped, encouraged and protected them and gave them all the breaks in official decisions.

It was the most dangerous challenge to law and liberty in the United States since the Civil War and IT WAS ABSOLUTELY SELFISH, WANTON AND UNNECESSARY.

Party Is Organized

It is not news, of course, but the statement comes with emphasis from Louis Waldman, a New York lawyer thoroughly familiar with communism and its methods, that: The Communist party is organized along military, or secret police, lines. It has cells or secret units in governmental agencies, departments, unions, schools, colleges, church organizations and fraternal bodies. It is organized along geographical lines in block or other areas.

The identity of their members is unknown to the rest of the community. These members are indoctrinated and trained to disciplined obedience to the orders of their superiors. The basic lines and policies are decided by an international body which is an organ of the Soviet government, which has its seat in the Kremlin and determines its policies in accordance with the interests of the Soviet government."

Waldman says "There is a clear and present danger to our country from a totalitarian organization, the Communist movement, a creature of a great world power that is in open hostility to our government."

Your Home

By Frances Ainsworth

Did you know that approximately ONE MILLION SEVEN HUNDRED THOUSAND couples will be married this year? Well, I was just amazed when I heard that figure—and I began thinking that a lot of us will have friends among this year's brides-to-be and will be planning showers. So I thought you might like to have a few ideas for different kinds of showers.

Just for fun, how about a "pair shower?" Have every guest bring gifts in pairs — anything from a pair of stockings to a pair of matching guest towels. The bride will receive some unusual gifts, and, of course, your prizes will be in pairs, too. So everyone will have a great time!

Another type of shower that will bring many welcome gifts to the bride is a paper shower. Especially if many of the guests have been to several showers, they'll appreciate the inexpensiveness of paper gifts, and the bride will be glad to get some of the actual necessities she'll need in her new home.

Here are some paper gift ideas, great for that "paper anniversary", too — playing cards, bridge sets with invitations, tally cards, place mats and paper napkins, the latter, welcome laundry-savers. Maybe you'll select a big picnic basket as your own gift, and then it can be filled with the gaily wrapped packages from everyone else.

To make your paper shower complete — and, incidentally, to save yourself a lot of work—you'll want to serve luncheon on a paper cloth with paper napkins, paper cups and spoons, etc. Your guests will enjoy the informality of your table, and you'll have more fun at your own party because paper accessories make entertaining doubly easy!

Square Dance For Teen Agers

The summer series of Square Dances at South Y Park on Rohr Rd. will continue tomorrow night Friday, July 23 at 8 p.m.

Nightmare!

The people of the United States have had an exceptional health record, and compulsory sickness insurance would prove a "nightmare of social confusion, incompetence, and extravagant cost."

That opinion has been offered by Dr. Haven Emerson, who served for many years as Professor of Public Health Administration at Columbia University, and is a former Health Commissioner of the City of New York.

Dr. Emerson said further, "We of the United States may say with entire truth and honesty that no population mass of such dimensions as ours living under a single form of government and including races so numerous and diverse, and climates and occupations of such variety, has in the recorded history of man enjoyed such average length of life and been spared the sufferings and infirmities of so many of the diseases known to be preventable."

Advocates of compulsory sickness insurance, for the most part, consist of politicians and lay groups with a record of supporting any and all proposals which are labeled "social progress," regardless of their merits. On the other hand, the vast majority of medical men who have testified on it have strong opposition. In other words, the real experts are near-unanimous in believing, as does Dr. Emerson, that it would lead to a decline in medical standards, and approach the economic stratosphere in cost. Voluntary prepaid medical and hospital plans which are open to all are rapidly eliminating any arguments advanced for compulsory government medicine supported by payroll assessments. The people should remember that when the subject comes up for discussion again.

Auditor's Collection Agency To Continue

In last week's Booster we exposed the use of the City Auditor's office as a collection agency for a large down town credit jewelry firm. These collections were made from city employees.

In last Friday's Columbus Citizen, City Auditor R. Pierre Barthalow made the following statement:—

City To Cease Pay Deductions

"The city's practice of deducting payments for commercial goods from city employes' paychecks will be stopped by 1949, City Auditor R. P. Barthalow said Thursday.

He said payments for goods purchased from merchants were deducted weekly from paychecks of the garbage collection division. The city then sent the firm a check for the money.

He explained the practice was started about five years ago, when Mayor Rhodes was city auditor, with the permission of Grover F. Clements, then city service director."

Let's take the first paragraph of the above article, that the payment for commercial goods will be stopped in 1949. If it is wrong why wait 'till 1949 to stop these collections? Does Barthalow have some kind of an agreement to finish the collections of the goods sold to these city employees?

Let us go a little further into this paragraph Barthalow says the deductions are for Commercial goods. Does Barthalow mean to infer that these commercial goods are necessary to the city employees? Are such articles as trinkets, watches, silverware, diamond and other baubles necessary for these city employees whose take home pay in these days of high living prices is from $35 to $45 per week?

On the payroll of the week of June 26 there was collected from sixty city street cleaning employees $408.50 or an average of $6.80 per man for the benefit of this one credit jewelry firm. This type of firm naturally sells at higher prices than a firm selling for cash.

Mr. Barthalow says in the second paragraph that these collections were made for the benefit of merchants from the pay checks of the garbage collection division. Then the auditors office sent the firm a check for the money.

We have checked the payrolls of the city thoroughly and there is no such thing as merchants; there is only one firm and that is a large down town credit jewelry house.

Last week's Booster said that the collections were being made from employees of the city street cleaning department and the city engineering department. Now Barthalow brings out another department that collections are being made from the garbage collection department. Just how many city departments is he collecting from anyhow?

We would not be surprised that the average jewelry firm might run as high as $1,000 per week or $52,000 per year. Quite a nice business when it is backed up by the city auditor's office doing the collections for them at city expense and saving there credit jewelry firm from hiring an extra man to make their collections.

In the last paragraph Barthalow says that these practices were started by Mayor James A. Rhodes then city auditor, with the permission of Grover F. Clements, at that time the City Service Director.

Mayor Rhodes is in London, England at the Olympic Games as an official of the American Amateur Athletic Association and cannot defend himself. Although we have not always seen eye to eye with him we don't think he is "dumb" enough to enter into a collection angle for the benefit of one downtown credit jewelry firm.

We contacted Grover F. Clements and he said that there was not one scintilla of truth in Mr. Barthalow's statement and that he was going to demand a retraction.

Mr. Clements further said that this practice of deducting pay from City Employees' payroll was started in depression times so that when employees who were hired they could buy warm clothes (not jewelry) so that the men could work outside. He also said that they could buy these clothes from any firm they wanted to buy from.

He further said that he personally ordered this practice discontinued in the early part of 1940. Mr. Clements further said that these men could not have worked unless they had been able to get warm clothes.

Mr. Barthalow remarked to your editor some time ago that he didn't know whether the South Side Booster amounted to much. Does he also wish to infer that the people of the South Side don't amount to much? The South Side Booster is the voice of the South Side.

In last week's Booster we asked Mr. Barthalow the following questions:—

Is the city being paid for this collection service? If not, why not? Is the city auditor being paid for this service, one of the city auditor's office force, or the city treasurer's office.

We are still going to continue to ask these questions until Mr. Barthalow answers the South Side Booster and not through a down town paper. The public is entitled to know who is being paid for this service or whether it is being given free.

If we don't get an answer, we are going to ask State Auditor Joseph Ferguson to investigate for the benefit of the citizens of Columbus.

Union Services

The first of a series of four Union Services was held in Gates-Fourth St. Church Sunday morning at 10:30 a.m. with the Rev. Paul C. Kaefer delivering the sermon. He spoke on the topic: "When Life Gets Too Much for You." Next Sunday the services will again be held in Gates Fourth Methodist Church with Rev. Kaefer preaching. On August 8th and August 15th the Union Services will move to St. Pauls Evangelical Church 225 East Gates Street and Rev. Harry F. Zierer will occupy the pulpit. 221 attended this first service. The attendance in both church schools was good. The public is invited to attend these Union Summer Services.

GI Insurance Deadline July 31

It was announced today that the Veterans Administration Offices at 209 South High Street and 52 South Starling Street, Columbus, Ohio will remain open Saturday, July 31, 1948 between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Mr. Evert C. Strickland, Manager in charge of the Columbus VA Office at 209 South High Street stated that this special Saturday opening was arranged to permit veterans of World War II to take advantage of the final day for "easy" reinstatement of lapsed GI term insurance.

Mr. Herbert W. Thomas, Contact Representative in Charge, at 209 South High Street explained that liberal reinstatement privileges expire on that date. Up to and including July 31, 1948, World War II veterans who have permitted their term NSLI to lapse may reinstate by paying only two monthly premiums, and stating that they are in as good physical condition as they were when the insurance lapsed. No physical examination is necessary.

The local VA offices are normally closed on Saturdays, and this special opening July 31 is a convenience to veterans who wish to pick up their lapsed term NSLI before the July 31 deadline.

Mr. Strickland noted that the VA offices are open daily from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and counselled veterans who are able to call at the offices prior to Saturday to visit VA prior to the deadline for "easy" reinstatement.

Burma Fair To Be Held August 5th

A jitney supper and fair will be held Thursday, August 5, starting at 5:30 by Burma Chapter, O. E. S.

Members and friends are invited to spend an evening together at 697 South High Street.

Other events including a Bake Sale will be of interest to attendants.

Popular Demand Brings Back Hoermle Special

Bill Hoermle, genial owner of Hoermle's Appliance Store, 1894 Parsons Ave. has decided to continue last week's NU-Enamel special one more week, due to the great response last week. It's a real special that's being offered. For only $.19 you can purchase a pure bristle $.30 brush and a $.40 can of Nationally advertised NU-Enamel, the total value is $.70 and for this week only, remember it's only $.19.

Take advantage of this fine offer. First come, first served.

Hungarian Day To Be Celebrated

The 18th annual Hungarian Day sponsored by the American Hungarian Grand Committee of Columbus will be held on Sunday, August 8th at Camp Darby Park on South Parsons Ave. The Hungarian gypsy music will be furnished by Mickey Kovacs and his orchestra. Fine cooks have been rounded up to assure everyone of tasty Hungarian food.

Serving on the committee are the officers, Pres. Steve Pirik, vice-pres. Alex Komives, sec. John Hunyadi, treas. John Weber, and Andrew Fuleki, Martin Locsos, John Pataki, Alex Kiraly, and Frank Laxzlo.

There will be bus service from the Hungarian Reformed Church every hour starting at 3 p.m. the picnic is open to the public.

Overflow Crowd Attends Meeting

An overflow crowd jammed the Croation home on Reeb Avenue for the July meeting of the First Ward Democratic Club, Wednesday, July 21. Walter Shott, the Democratic Committeeman of the First Ward spoke briefly, asking that the Club meet regularly every month so as to provide social and political activity for the membership. He also welcomed the young Democrats into the club who were present at the meeting, and asked all Democratic workers in the First Ward to work together to achieve victory for the party in the November election.

After the business meeting, refreshments were served and most of the members remained to play euchre and bingo. The Club will meet again on the third Wednesday of August.

Navy's Largest School Completed

The Navy's new electronics technician school, Great Lakes, Ill., is now completed after nearly two years of construction and at a cost of $12,000,000. It was formally dedicated July 12th by Rear Admiral Thomas L. Sprague, USN, Chief of Naval Personnel.

Open to the public and the personnel of the training center, the commissioning ceremonies were held at 3:45 p.m. at the north end of the school. Service school personnel, escorted by the service school band, formed on constitution field and marched to the new structure where they remained in ranks during the ceremony.

The new electronics technician school is open to all high school graduates, 17 to 31, who can meet the necessary qualifications, stop in at your local Navy Recruiting Station for full details, in Columbus, located at the Old Post Office Building, Third and State Streets. A Navy Recruiter will be glad to explain any phase of naval training, in which you may be interested. Your Navy now has over 63 different ratings. Each rating covers many civilian occupations, almost 400 different trades in all.

This is the age of specialists. If you want to get ahead, you must have a skill at which you excel.

Southeast Lions Club

Tuesday, at the weekly noon-day luncheon of the Southeast Lions Club, at the Swan Grill, the members enjoyed a moving picture all about "Live Stock and Meat."

Miesses Shoe Service Features Wear-U-Well Shoes

Miesse's Shoe Service at 1852 Parsons Ave., near Frebis, announces this week that they are now handling a complete stock of the famous Wear-U-Well shoes. They will feature a fine line of the latest styles in men's women's and children's dress, play or work shoes.

Miesse's also do all types of shoe repairing, and of course, all work is of the highest quality, backed by a real guarantee.

The store hours are from 8:00 to 6:00 p.m. daily. Friday and Saturday they are open until 8:00 p.m.

St. Leo's Annual Homecoming Aug. 7th

St. Leo's Annual Homecoming will be held Saturday, August 7 on the school grounds at the corner of Hanford and Bruck Sts.

A buffet supper will be served from 5 to 8 p.m.

Games and amusements are planned for the enjoyment of all.

Kellers Return From Trip

U.S. Payrollers Rise 15,865 In Month

Civilian payrollers in the federal government increased by 15,865 in May to a total of 2,056,285, Senator Byrd (D. Va) chairman of the joint committee on reduction of non-essential federal expenditures reported.

More than 500 persons a day were added to the pay roll for the third consecutive month.

The May increase was divided almost equally between the civilian agencies, which reported a net increase of 7421, and the military establishment, in which the net increase was 8444.

Defense Secretary Forrestal added 48 employees to his staff, making a total of 875; the army took on an additional 4423 civilian employes; the air force 1547 and the navy 2426.

Agencies reporting major increases included the agriculture department, with 2884 more employes; the interior department with an increase of 1914; post-office, an increase of 2537; commerce up 224; economic administration up 160 to a total of 273; maritime commission up 163; national labor relations board up 178; Tennessee valley authority up 357; and veterans administration up 273.

Biggest declines in employment were 473 in the treasury department, 1500 in war assets administration, and 109 in the government printing office.

The excess of government employees (parasites) is what takes your income tax dollars.

The only way to force a new deal payroll whale to vomit up the Democrat Jonah, is to beat hell out of it with the trunk of the GOP elephant.

Something To Think About

What makes a free press possible? Private Enterprise! In every country where freedom of the press is lacking, or curbed, you will find a totalitarian government (a dictatorship). Under such a regime, government owns the basic industries. There is no incentive for constant improvement in order to appeal to the buying public. There is no particular reason for telling the public about all manner of products, such as is commonplace in the United States, in order to build business. The people have to take what the government offers and like it—there is no competition.

Totalitarian governments suck unbridled power. Under such governments, there can be no free press for two very good reasons. First, government controls all the news and all the newspapers. Second, government-owned industries do not have to advertise. They do not have to win the public's business by superior products and salesmanship.

No country in the world has 12,000 rural daily and weekly newspapers, in addition to the metropolitan press, except the United States. No country in the world has a newspaper in practically every town of a few hundred population. Their income is derived from private enterprise—thousands of competing industries, from the greatest railroad and public utility to the smallest bakery and laundry. They all advertise to popularize their services or products and win public favor and business.

It has often been charged, for political purposes, that advertising controls the American press. This is not so because competition is so varied that no branch of business is powerful enough to dominate the press. Volume and variety in advertising makes possible a free press.

No group of men and women in the United States is more vitally interested in opposing government ownership of business, as a matter of principle, than are newspaper editors. They are the nation's safeguard against the economic teachings of many of our principal colleges and text books which openly espouse the superiority of government operation of business as contrasted with private operation, on the phoney "liberal" philosophy that we have outgrown the days of private endeavor, and that only government is now capable of handling the basic industries of the nation. Such teachings are the opposite of every principle upon which our government was built, and if accepted will lead to the destruction of private enterprise including a free press. When that happens personal liberty itself will be gone.

This is something for editors, industrial leaders and individuals to think about, because the ground is already well prepared to extend government ownership of business (socialism) in our country.

$200,000 For Cokes Part Of Cost Rebuilding Europe

One of the items Senator Vandenberg (R. Mich) and the administration considers what the American taxpayers pay to BUY for Europe to speed her financial recovery is COCA-COLA.

The record of testimony given the house appropriations committee revealed that some $200,000 of the more than 6 million dollars which Americans are being asked to give Europe probably will go for soft drinks.

Coca-Cola company officials in Washington said that $200,000 would buy 6 million bottles of cokes at American wholesale prices or enough coke syrup to make 12,000,000 glasses at a nickel each.

The record revealed, however, that probably only the "entertainment expense" money allocated millionaire Averell Harriman, European recovery program "going ambassador" would go for the purchase of wines and alcoholic liquors.

It was presumed in the testimony given the appropriations committee that Harriman, in entertaining the European royalty who will administer the expenditure of American gift dollars, would be expected to provide suitable wines and champagnes.

Charles P. Kindleberger, special advisor to the office of financial and development policy of the state department who testified at length on both COKES and the WINES at committee hearings on May 5, disclosed that the COCO-COLA was included in the $8 million dollar "miscellaneous food" item.

South Alumni Hold Their Picnic

The annual picnic of the South High School Alumni Association was held at the South Side Y. Park on Sunday, July 18. A baseball game between members of the 1948 graduation class and members of previous classes managed by Charles Milcusnick of the class of 1930 was the high point of interest during the afternoon. The oldsters scored 13 runs for 3 for the youngsters. The umpire was Charles Watts of the class of 1932.

The horseshoe tournament was won by Albert Justus and Walter Denny. Edwin Bornshine and Willis Powell were winners in the shuffleboard tournament. Robert Hoehn won a prize for the tallest person present.

The following are the baseball players who played in the game and the year of their graduation:

Correll's Take Over Toscheffs' Grill

Two interesting brothers who have remained together thru the years are George and Bill Correll. For 18 years the brothers were in the bakery business. Tiring of this occupation they decided to try their hand in the Restaurant business. They came to Columbus to look around and finally decided on the Old Toscheff's place located at 1941 Parsons Avenue.

Bill and George took over the place and renamed it Correll's Restaurant. Bill and his wife Lucille work one shift and George and his wife, Blanche work the other.

For those who like sea food, a puckerel fish fry is featured every Friday and Saturday nights. They also feature home made pies, which are baked fresh daily by Mrs. Blanche Correll. Luncheons are served daily. A fine selection of beers, wines and liquors are carried at all times.

There is really good music presented every Friday and Saturday nights by Radio Stars, for your entertainment.

Legion Tops 3,000,000 Mark

American Legion national membership has topped the 3,000,000 mark for the third consecutive year, and of this total Ohio has 142,500 members or approximately 5 per cent, it was announced today at state headquarters in Columbus.

Mrs. Marjorie DeLand, 24, of Seattle, Wash., a former WAVE became the 3,000,000th Legionnaire of 1948 when she enrolled in a post at North Miami, Fla. Her husband, R. J. DeLand, also a veteran of World War II, joined at the same time to become No. 3,000,001.

There are now some 250,000 former WAVES, WACS, SPARS, Marines and nurses in the Legion, many of them in the 303 all-women's posts. Ohio has 10 such posts, located at Toledo (2), Lima, Dayton, Cincinnati, Youngstown, Warren, Cleveland (2) and Akron.

St. Leo's Church Scene Of Wedding

Satin streamers and candles marked the pews of St. Leo's Church at 9 a.m. Saturday, June 26, when Miss Josephine E. Montesi, daughter of Fiorindo Montesi, 1141 S. High-st., and the late Mrs. Theresa Montesi, was united in marriage to Anthony Pizzurro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pizzurro, 1569 Greenway-av. The double ring ceremony took place at a nuptial high mass, with the Rev. Fr. Robert R. Schmidt, assisted by Fr. Simons and Fr. Harwich, officiating.

The bride wore a gown of lustrous duchess satin styled with a sheer yoke outlined with a seed pearl motif, fitted bodice and full skirt and train. Her veil of bridal illusion fell from a tiara of orange blossoms, and she carried a cascade of white roses centered with an orchid. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Frances Montesi was her sister's maid of honor wearing a blue taffeta gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline upon a fitted bodice, and peplum which formed a bustle in the back. She wore a pleated tiara with a shoulder-length veil and mitts matching her gown. Her bouquet was of pink roses.

Joseph Pizzurro was his brother's best man and ushers were Lawrence Pizzurro and Robert J. Siebold Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was held at the home of the bride for the immediate families.

After a honeymoon at Niagara Falls, Canada and Lake Placid, the couple returned to Columbus to reside at 1552 E. Fulton-st.

Million And Quarter Ohio Residents To Fish

A million and a quarter residents of Ohio, or approximately one out of every seven, will fish this year to provide food for the table or just for the fun of it.

The figure was revealed last week by Harry F. West, chief of the Accounting and Budget Section of the Ohio Division of Conservation, stating that an estimated one million persons will have purchased fishing licenses by the end of the 1948 fishing season. Another one quarter million fishermen under 18 years of age who are not required to purchase a license and those who are permitted to fish on their own lands without a license will bring the 1948 total number of fishermen of a million and a quarter, the highest in the history of Ohio.

Last year, West pointed out, there were approximately 775,000 fishing licenses sold.

In addition to breaking all records for the number of fishermen, 1948 will go down in history as the greatest fishing season of all time, considering the number of all species taken by hook and line. Fishing in general throughout the spring and early summer has been consistently above average.

For the week ending July 11 the fish management section's creel census reports show excellent fishing at Pleasant Hill, one of Muskingum Watershed Conservancy lakes, where fishermen averaged 2.13 fish per hour for each fishermen. Census takers recorded 40% bluegills, 30% bullheads and carp, and 20% crappies. At Seneca Lake in Noble and Guernsey counties fishermen averaged 1.6 fish per hour made up of 86% bluegills. In Carroll County on Leesville Lake, fishermen took 1.2 fish per hour, 85% bluegills, while at Lake Alma in Vinton County the hourly average was 1.01 fish and 93% were bluegills.

Veterans Are Adjusting Themselves

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 29—More and more of Ohio's world War II veterans are making the adjustment to permanent jobs in business and industry, Frank J. Collopy, administrator of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, said today.

Collopy's conclusion was based upon the fact that readjustment allowance claims filed by veterans beginning new periods of unemployment during the first half of 1948 were down four percent from the 1947 figure for the same period. The four percent drop is all the more significant when it is realized that veteran college students looking for work at the beginning of the summer vacation period jumped the readjustment allowance claims filed last month 20 percent over the May figure.

Claims filed under the Ohio law by persons beginning new periods of unemployment were up 17 per cent in the first six months of this year as compared to the total for a like period last year. A comparison of those claims to those filed for readjustment allowances shows that claimants in the first group are much less employable than those in the second.

Readjustment allowance claimants being veterans—are for the most part young. Those applying for benefits under the Ohio law are not nearly as likely to find jobs because they include a number of women and older men.

Last month, a weekly average of 33,711 persons drew unemployment checks, a one-fifth drop from May. The average has been declining steadily since March when it was 48,880.

A Tip From Australia

The restoration of peacetime price and rationing control apparently will be a major campaign issue in the forthcoming presidential election. If it is, the people of this country, whether they realize it or not, will be witnessing a debate over the future pattern of government under which they are to live. Permanent price and rationing control mean inexorable extension of centralized authority and the final adoption of the socialized state, whether it is called that or not.

Aside from the danger to personal liberty and other philosophical considerations, price and rationing control, from a practical standpoint, is a demonstrated failure. In every country where it has been tried it has led to shortages and hardship. When prices are arbitrarily held below the supply demand levels of the free market, people will not produce. Legitimate distribution channels are disrupted by black markets and the police powers of the state become increasingly brutal if order is maintained. The expanding bureaucracy of OPA and its kangaroo court methods which were nipped in the bud at the end of the war should serve as fair warning of what can be expected if the system is re-established.

American consumers are getting better service at lower relative prices in the light of existing conditions without OPA than they ever did with it. Congressional investigations have shown that retailers' profit margins are less now in the free market than they were in the controlled market of OPA. Moreover there are no shortages of necessities.

America is not the only country that has been faced with the price control issue. Australia recently defeated by a heavy majority vote an attempt by the Central Labor Government to write price control as a permanent power into the Federal Constitution. An observer pointed out that "The Australians do not want permanent centralized Federal Government control of their economic affairs."

South Side Y Inter Club League

The Amerigo-Acirema, Amerigo Jrs. and Right Angle Jrs., were winners in the South Side Branch YMCA Inter-Club league played Tuesday, July 20 at Y-Park.

The Amerigo-Acirema Club continued their unmarred record in defeating a "spunky" Amigo Junior 4 to 1. "Doc" Heints of the Amerigo gave up only three hits while Baber of the Amigo Juniors matched his twirling. Pitcher Heints rapped out a triple with one on to open the scoring for the "old men."

The Amerigo Juniors had little trouble in defeating the Fornof team [illegible] as the township boys had a host of "fumblefits", Bill Frye and "Chuck" Bremer divided the pitching chores of the Juniors while Holley went all the way for the losers.

The Right Angle Juniors recently replaced a second Amigo Junior team in the league and took their first league game by the easy route of a forfeit from their sponsors, the Right Angle Seniors, who failed to place a team on the field.

Southwood's Lose Again

Southwood's tennis team dropped its sixth straight match without a win, or a point for that matter to Grandview in a Columbus Tennis League match Sunday at Grandview. The count was 5-0.

Ralph Haverfield defeated Harold Ziegler 6-2, 6-0; Bill Pickett dinned Mickey Ziegler 6-1, 6-1, and Dick Armstrong took Garwood Kelton 6-2, 6-2. In doubles, Pickett-Armstrong defeated the Ziegler brothers 6-4, 6-1, and Haverfield-Larry Conaway took captain Joe Wollett and Garwood 6-2, 6-3.

Next week Southwood goes to Columbus Tennis Club to play their one defeated second place boys, and that concludes the 1948 season for them. Manager Hoover Young may be home to see his proteges in their final 1948 outing.

Following is the team standing:

	W-L
Olentangy Village	5-0
Columbus Tennis Club	5-1
Grandview	4-2
Upper Arlington	3-2
Westgate Tennis Club	2-3
Beatty Park	1-3
Bexley	1-4
SOUTHWOOD	0-6

Right Angles Beat Circleville

The Right Angle Juniors Softball team of the South Side Branch YMCA ventured to Circleville and defeated the Ted Lewis Park All Stars by a score of 6 to 1. This brought the Juniors record to 10 wins against 3 defeats.

Ray Desmeaux and F. Morgan staged quite a youthful battle on the mound as each gave up but two hits.

Errors in the first two innings were very costly to the All Stars as the Right Angle boys capitalized on the errors to score three runs in both the first and second periods.

Dale Fridley collected a single while Dick Baker rapped out a double to tally the only two hits for the Right Angle Juniors. Coffland and Prichard chalked up the All Star hits in the fifth inning.

Sportlights by Grantland Rice

AS FAR BACK as 1934 the rampant spirit of the St. Louis Cardinals brought them the title of the Gas House Gang.

Their 1948 outfit hasn't a Dean aboard—"Me and Paul"—a Delancey, a Pepper Martin, but it has much of the same spirit that has carried the team along so many years.

Spirit is almost as indefinable as color, but it lasts longer. It can become a heritage, which color can't.

As Eddie Dyer put it: "It was nothing but sheer spirit that carried our team from a bad last to second place last summer. When we lost nine straight games to sink deeper into the cellar there was every excuse to quit—especially as we had so many sick or injured men on the squad. But the team refused to quit and that gave me further proof it was about as game a bunch as I ever saw.

"We have many of the same men on our squad this year that came from 18 games behind in August to win some six years ago. Marty Marion—Terry Moore—Stan Musial—Country Slaughter—Whitey Kurowski—some of our pitchers, although we've lost Lanier, White and Beazley from that 1942 squad. But the same old spirit is still there.

"Remember last spring in St. Petersburg, Ducky Medwick was the best-conditioned man in camp—and one of the best hustlers. A lot of years had passed since 1934—but they couldn't affect his spirit. I've seen too many of our men out there hustling when they should have been in a hospital.

"I'll admit we haven't the youngest team in the league, but it isn't too old. It still has the spirit of six years ago when they beat the Yankees four out of five World Series games.

"This is still an open race. The big improvement in the Pirates and Phillies will make a difference. And the Reds no longer will be a soft touch with Blackwell back. It's a tough league in which to get up a winning streak. There are too many good teams and too many good pitchers in your road. This will be the toughest of all races."

Disappointing Red Sox

Last year it was the Cardinals this year it's the Red Sox. The Cardinals, a 3 to 5 odds on favorite, still were trying to wiggle off the last place hook around this date last year.

The Red Sox would have been last at the quarter mark this season if the ignoble White Sox hadn't been in the same league—the worst team in big league baseball. Yet the Boston ball club carries Ted Williams, Bobby Doerr, Dom DiMaggio, Johnny Pesky and Vern Stephens, rated among the best men in baseball. All this—plus Joe McCarthy.

Yet for the first six weeks of the race this club couldn't keep pace with the Browns, tabbed as the all-time jokes. It might be mentioned here that the home support given the Browns has proved again this franchise must leave St. Louis and let the Cardinals have an exclusive roost.

But this isn't explaining the Red Sox. One answer is shoddy pitching, but this can't be the only answer. They did far better last summer with about the same pitching.

The Red Sox dropped from second place in team batting to fifth despite Ted Williams' consistent hitting. Their first pitcher was in the 23rd spot in the league ranking, and they have only one regular who was above .300. But still they had the same staff as they had last year, plus Kramer and Kinder.

McCarthy Broods

Joe McCarthy has nearly always been a winning manager. There is no other manager who broods as much over defeat. So anyone can see the miserable spring and early summer the Buffalo leader has known to date.

Have his Red Sox dumped themselves out of the pennant race? That isn't the problem now. The problem is—can they finish in the first division?

Certainly none of this Red Sox misery can be laid to Williams. At last reports, Williams was leading the American league in individual batting and in runs batted-in. He was second in home runs. He was well above his record of a year ago and hot on the trail of Ken Keltner of the Cleveland Indians.

It couldn't be Williams. But Doerr, Stephens and DiMaggio were not too hot. They are better than .280 hitters. Johnny Pesky is also more than 60 points below his normal average.

The Red Sox have nothing like the team spirit carried by the Athletics, the Indians or the Browns. They lack the urge and the lift—the desire to win. They have looked dazed and bewildered in many games, as if they still don't believe they have spent over six weeks headed for the cellar.

Dear Editor: "Why do they refer to some females as 'Cats'?"

Answer: "I guess it's because they're always digging up the dirt."

"Have you a pet name?"
"No, have you?"
"No, but I have a neck name!"

HOME FREEZING EASY WITH NEW GLASS FREEZER JARS

There is a new glass Freezer Jar on the market which is manufactured by the world's largest fruit jar maker. This sturdy, airtight, and leak-proof jar is ideal for home food freezing.

Whether you store your frozen foods in a locker plant or in your own home freezer, you will find these glass Freezer Jars convenient and so easy to use and sure to protect fresh food flavor.

Caps are recessed so that the jars can be stacked, and the caps are lined with a special rubber compound which makes the airtight seal. To empty frozen food from a Freezer Jar, you simply run cool water on the cap or set in pan of cool water, unscrew, and turn the jar upside down. Contents will slide out.

And the beauty of these frozen food containers is that they can be used over and over again—both jars and caps! They also make fine refrigerator jars for storing leftovers and may be used for home canning by sealing with Wide Mouth Ball Dome Caps.

SEEN AND HEARD ON THE SOUTH SIDE

Andy Contosta is not lost. We communicated with him last Friday at his office.

Walt Tompkins of the Booster staff, and Pat Cleary of the Goodrich store, say "Bow your head when you mention an Irishman."

Well a lot of South Siders, with either German or English decent, wouldn't say that.

We are not allowed to print what they would say. .....

Bob Benjamin, an old South Sider, is assignment commissioner of the Municipal Court.

Bob is an old time vaudeville actor.

Well we pull a honer, once in a while ourselves. Last week we printed that Joe Ronkowski was chairman of the Steelton Merchant's Carnival.

Our mistake, the chairman was Otto Meier.

Forest Dillon, a blind man, is an expert on auto radios.

He is looking for a business location here in the South Side, where an auto can be driven in. He wants a place with a store room where he can sell and display radios.

You can call him if you have a location or konw of one, at GA 3774.

He, and his wife and 4 year old youngster live in Lincoln Park Project.

Dillon says he wants to stay in the South Side because the people are so friendly.

Rita Waibel To Be Bride Of Sept. 4

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Waibel, 1681 Lockbourne-rd, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Rita, to George J. Martini, son of Mrs. William L. Schaber, 1209 Geers-av.

Miss Waibel is a graduate of St. Mary's High School and is associated with the F. & R. Lazarus & Co. Mr. Martini attended Corpus Christi High School and is associated with the Columbus Hospital Supply Co.

The open church wedding will take place at 9 a.m. Sept. 4 in Corpus Chirsti Church.

The Draft Is Here

Editor of the Booster:

Here we are with the draft again, enacted by Congress at the insistance of acting president, Harry Truman.

Here we are getting our 18-year old boys ready for war again.

Not that we don't think that military training and discipline is good for the youth of America.

Why is it they are going to draft our boys? Because an ailing old man, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and his successors, Harry Truman, sold them down the river at Yalta, and Potsdam, to a far worse dictator than Hitler.

Then too, by fostering Stalin's Pet Pinkos, in every department of our government the Reds know more about our government's top secrets than perhaps the President's own cabinet.

Whether you are a protestant, Catholic or Jew, you will have to clean out this New Deal gang, who has sold out to the godless Reds, because the Reds are primarily infidels. The Reds book no religion. There specialty is hanging rabbis, priests, and ministers, and using churches, synagogues, and cathedrals for any other purpose besides religion.

The New Deal in its sell out to Stalin, and his cohorts, (either thru ignorance or otherwise) has had to start the draft of our teen aged boys again saying we are weak in military material.

What has happened to the 10 to 12 million boys who were just released from the service? Are they so old and decrepit that they are ready for the graveyard? We don't believe these men are so old or out of date that they are not a constant threat to Stalin and his satellites. Neither do we think that they should be required to serve again unless necessary.

It is just about time that the mothers, fathers, the christians and the Jews get together and vote Republican both for Dewey and Warren and Republican Representatives, and Senators so that the Reds from within and abroad will be pushed back where they belong. If you don't you might just as well become an infidel and quit going to church.

Good Shepherd Summer Festival

Five hours of entertainment will be offered free at the annual summer festival of the House of the Good Shepherd, July 31, Sandusky and West Broad Streets.

With Irwin Johnson of WBNS acting as master of ceremonies, the program will start at 5 p. m. on the stage erected on the convent grounds.

Included in the vaudeville acts will be Sally Flowers, radio comedian; the Franklin County Singing Sheriffs, the Lamplighters chorus, Comedian Al Ross, the children's band of the Moose Lodge and the Harry Ranch comedy band.

Ned Napes' dance orchestra will play during the evening.

Proceeds from the lawn festival will be used for need improvements and expansion at the school which last year helped 128 girls of all creeds and from all sections of Ohio get a new start in life.

Mother St. Joh, superior at the convent, said for the 1947-48 school term, classes in academic, commercial and domestic science courses were held for 81 non-catholic and 14 catholic girls.

As Peg Ler Sees It

By Westbrook Pegler

Released by WNU Features

SORRY, no got a match. I said wrong match. No tengo matcho. I used to carry matches and I must have four or five lighters kicking around the house, all out of gas. One of them is gold, I think, a birthday or Christmas present from back in those crazy days when everybody had to have an expensive lighter from the English spot on the avenue where the counter-hoppers wear those long white, doctor coats, like butchers in a packing plant, and you don't just ask for a pack of gaspers but act like you were in church and the guy goes into a vault and comes out with something very tasty in tinfoil from the old world.

It certainly is funny about those English. In their own country they have no more class than Sam's swap shop, dumping everything in the show window, and even in good times they would rather "pfft" in your eye than take the trouble to wait on you. But they come over to New York and dress up their blurry clarks in costumes and talk about nine-and-thruppence and a guinea-a-go and the Americans will pay anything for their woodbines and cigarette lighters. We have Park Avenue trash who would nominate their kids at birth to be customers at Dunhill's 20 years later, like putting them up for Groton or Choate.

It is the difference between a tobacconist's and a cigar store. That lighter probably cost $50 and how many would you say sold in the United States at jewelry prices until all of a sudden they are all over town for 39 cents? Millions and millions of dollars worth. Saphhires and rubies. Mine is engraved and a gold case, too. I forgot the gold case because it was too much trouble to fill it.

End of Smoking

Anyway, I certainly am glad I don't have to find the tweezers and scuff the heel of my thumb raw like Jimmy Valentine's, every two or three weeks changing flints because, no, I didn't swear off, I just didn't smoke any more. After more than 30 years, probably more like 35, one morning I didn't smoke until noon and then I didn't smoke until evening and when it came bedtime and I hadn't smoked I WAS ALMOST AFRAID TO THINK ABOUT IT.

But I ignored it and the next day I kept putting it off, and many's the time I had two or three days and sometimes even a week, but this time it was different. Other times I used to count the minutes and hours and figure crazy problems like if I didn't smoke 30 a day for 30 days that would be, let's see, three times e-so—that would be 900 I didn't smoke in a month.

This time I was aloof. After the second day, anyway, I ignored it. Once in a while she would say she was real proud and nobody could realize what a comfort it was not to have that reek always around but I preferred not to discuss the matter at all. After a month I was pretty sure of myself, although, as I say, this time it was no struggle because I just relaxed and didn't make a struggle of it. I ignored it. Two months. I wasn't counting any more. I haven't counted in three months. I just don't smoke so I have no reason to carry matches.

Still A Fighter

About eight months out I mentioned it in a letter to Tunney because a few years back he wrote a tract fearlessly denouncing cigarettes and I wrote one agreeing with him absolutely but confessing that I couldn't quit. Gene wrote a furious letter back. The way he ripped into cigarettes was just sheer bigotry. He hates them. It shows what a closed mind will do. I don't hate them and I certainly have more reason to than Gene does. They are just no dice to me. THEY DON'T MATTER ONE WAY OR ANOTHER.

Yes, more than 30 years and, if you average in the extra early years when my consumption probably wasn't more than 15 or 20 a day, I think it would be conservative to strike a figure of 30 a day. Wait a minute. 30 times 30 times 365 days—I only make an expense account every Leap Year because arithmetic hurts but I am just curious to see. That's 328,500 cigarettes and the worst of it was with me I nearly always did inhale. That's two and three-quarter inches each time. All those cigarettes, by 12 into feet, then into miles—16 miles of cigarettes. What a haystack that would make.

I remember when Tunney was champion some advertising company got up a painting of a big, handsome, blue-eyed harp and plastered it all over the billboards and if it wasn't our Gene it certainly was an unreasonable facsimile, and him a teetotalitarian as far as the poisonous weed goes, although broadminded about alcohol and a very good man around the juleps

News In The World Of Religion

The Methodist Church today has thirteen new bishops, elected within recent weeks, taking places left vacant by retirements, deaths through the past four years, and two newly created episcopal residences. The new bishops and the cities from which they will oversee the work of the churches are: Glenn Phillips, Denver; Gerald Kennedy, Portland, Ore.; Donald Tippett, San Francisco; Richard C. Raines, Indianapolis; Hazen G. Werner, Columbus; Marshall Reed, Detroit; H. Clifford Northcott, Madison, Wis.; J. W. E. Bowen, Atlanta; Marvin A. Franklin, Jackson, Miss.; Roy H. Short, Jacksonville; John Wesley Lord, Boston; Lloyd C. Wicke, Pittsburgh; Dana Dawson, Topeka, Kan.

"In the name of the unspeakable agonies and frustrations of two World Wars in the name of that third which must not be, we beg you at Amsterdam to speed the day in which the kingdoms of the world shall become the kingdom of our God and of His Christ." So wrote Miss Tracey D. Mygatt, American secretary of the "Campaign for World Government", an international organization, to each American delegate attending the Assembly of the World Council of Churches in Amsterdam, Holland, this summer. Urging upon the church leaders that "rampant nationalism contravenes God's redemptive purposes, and declaring that as yet the United Nations Charter is based on the sovereignty of the nation-states, Miss Mygatt says: "We urge you to endore the building of a federal world government. We hold that this must be universal, democratic, non-military, with law enforcement upon the guilty individual as in our own federal pattern. . . Universal, democratic world government is the political implementation of our Christianity."

The members of the Bethlehem Reformed Church, near Albany, N. Y., believe that if their summer plans work out they will be $21,000 richer in the autumn than they are now and they will be able to go ahead on plans for remodelling the sanctuary in which they worship. Theirs is an amplification of the well-known "Lord's Acre Plan." The farmer-members will, of course, raise extra crops for the church, but the women will be busy too. They plan to do a lot of canning; others will sew aprons; while the girls will serve as baby sitters, and the boys will mow lawns in town, etc. Every member of the parish is pledged to work to raise the funds.

Three "caravans" of Methodist young people are in Europe and North Africa this summer, serving in educational, religious, and reconstruction projects ministering to youth stricken by the post-war suffering, both physical and spiritual. Our caravan is in North Africa where the Methodist Church has mission chapels, schools and orphanages in Algeria and Tunisia. It is composed of John M. Huebner of Minneapolis, Minn., counsellor; James A. Sanders of Memphis, Tenn.; Miss Margaret L. Briggs of Newton, Iowa; and Miss Margaret Ruth Taylor of Asheville, North Carolina. Going to Poland first and then into Czechoslovakia are the Rev. Milo J. Vondracek of Arlington Heights, Ill., as counsellor; Miss Jeanne Joyce of Haddonfield, N. J. Miss Helenér Kane Currier of Lawrence, Kansas; and David A. Rodgers of Norman, Oklahoma. Serving the "daughter churches" of America Methodism in Norway and Sweden is the caravan composed of Walter Christian Eyster of Oshkosh, Wisc., as counsellor; Miss Nellie Frances Howard of Montgomery, Ala.; Miss Mildred Adele Smith of Greenville, S. C., and Robert Ernest Breihan of Kerrville, Texas.

"The argument for giving today does not lie in comparative figures of income, or in statistics of per capita giving, rebuking as these may be," says Dr. A. H. Lamouse, president of the United Stewardship Council. "The argument for giving today lies in the terrific need of millions of human figures, our brethren after the flesh, all over the world, who in their hunger watch us eat the bread of plenty, and in their homelessness and nakedness see us housed and clad in comfort. The only answer to the argument of need lies in our personal response to the command of Jesus, 'Freely ye have received, freely give.' . . . What we have received as Americans have come to us at a cost—the cost of the sacrifices of the past generations, and the suffering and death of many in our own times. How much of what we receive will we give?"

The fourth National Assembly of the United Council of Church Women will be held in Milwaukee, Wisc., from Nov. 15 to 18. Every woman who is a member of a Christian church is invited to attend.

Christian Endeavor Elect New Officers

The newly elected President of the Franklin County Christian Endeavor Union, Connie Slye, 1052 Hunter Avenue, of West Second Avenue Presbyterian Church, together with vice president, Don Skelton, 710 Hanford Street, of Washington Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church; Doris Parsons, Recording secretary, 38-D Fairway Boulevard, from East Columbus Church of Christ; Corresponding Secretary, Laurel Lathouse, 264 East Como Avenue, of Indianola Church of Christ; and Treasurer Ralph Miesse, 138 South Powell, from Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church, met recently to complete arrangements for the annual "Officers' Planning Conference" to be held July 31 and August 1 at the South Side Y Park.

The Conference, in which all County Departmental Superintendents and at least one representative from each Christian Endeavor Society of Youth Fellowship will be invited to participate, begins at 2:30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, July 31 and will continue until 7 o'clock, Sunday. Discussion and formulation of plans for the County Union's activities for 1948-49; explanation of the duties of the various officers and departmental leaders; as well as the total program of the Franklin County Christian Endeavor Union are included on the Conference Agenda.

Adult advisors for the Conferences are Rev. and Mrs. Clair E. Beatty. Mr. Beatty is Executive Secretary of the Ohio Christian Endeavor Union and Minister of the West Second Avenue Presbyterian Church. Plans for the conference also include periods of recreation and inspirational devotional services. The Sunday morning worship service will be conducted by Hugh Snepp, President of the Christian Endeavor Society of Indianola Church of Christ.

Miss Ruth Klein Recently Married

Candelabra, white lilies and roses formed the background at Central Community Church on May 22, when Miss Ruth O. Klein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Klein, 509 E. Beck St, became the bride of Mark J. Kover, 1422 S. 3rd St. The candelight service was read by the Rev. O. F. Stolzenburg.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white brocaded satin dress fashioned with princess lines, sweetheart neckline, tight fitted bodice and cathedral train. Her finger tip veil was held by a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses.

Attending the bride was Mrs. Zoltan Paul, matron of honor, Miss Margaret Wunderline and Miss Kathleen Brewer, bridesmaids, and Miss Delores Klein, junior bridesmaids. They wore pastel gowns, and tiaras, and carried colonial bouquets which matched their gowns in color.

Mr. Zoltan Paul acted as best man, and ushers were Herman Klein, brother of the bride, and Robert Madden.

Following a reception at the WOW Hall, the newly-weds left for a trip through the East. Upon their return, they will reside at 1422 S. 3rd St.

Ceremony Of June 26 Is Announced

At a candlelight ceremony on Saturday, June 26, Miss Merle R. Cockenour exchanged wedding vows with Clarence O. Russ. The Rev. R. L. Klotz performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with palms and white gladioli in the Livingston-av Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Cockenour of 742 W. Gay-st, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. Otto Russ of 1008 Parsons-av, and the late Mrs. Otto Russ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a bridal gown of white duchess satin. The gown was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, long tight-fitting sleeves ending in points over the hands and a slim bodice. The full skirt was gathered into the bodice and terminated in a modified train. The fingertip veil of English imported illusion was caught by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a fan bouquet of white carnations and baby's breath centered with an orchid and tied with matching streamers. Her only jewelry was a rhinestone necklace and earrings, gift of the bridegroom.

Her sister, Mrs. Edward Senn, of Buffalo, was the bride's matron of honor. Her gown was of powder blue taffeta and marquisette fashioned with a plunging neckline, clip sleeves and fitted bodice with self-covered buttons down the front. Her bouffant skirt was gathered to the bodice. She carried a fan bouquet of white, blue asters and baby's breath tied with a white satin ribbon. She wore matching mitts and halo. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Margarete Huiss and Mrs. Atilda Deatly. They were gowned alike and similarly to the maid of honor in aqua and pink. Their bouquets were colonial, fashioned of violet mums and baby's breath. The attendants wore rhinestone lavalieres, gifts of the bride. Donna May Gaines of Chillicothe and Judith E. Senn of Buffalo, nieces of the bride, were the flower girls, in yellow and blue gowns. They carried baskets of mixed flowers.

Edward Senn of Buffalo was the best man. Seating the guests were Harvey Russ, brother of the bridegroom, and Robert Heil.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 200 guests was given at Woodman Hall. The bride's mother wore a black print and a white carnation corsage.

The couple resides at 742 W. Gay-st.

Then it's about time to order your next winter's supply of Cavalier Coal from The City Ice & Fuel, AD 6232. Call today!

They are your best safeguard on strange roads.

Scenery can be taken in small doses from a moving car, but if you want to drink deeply of nature's beauty, pull off the road and stop.

If you leave the children alone in the back seat, be sure the doors are locked and the switch key removed.

AFTER YOU ARRIVE—

NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL

R-e-l-a-x. Don't try to crowd a year's exercise into two weeks. Take it easy.

Take the sun in easy doses. Don't nap in the sun. Wear sunglasses.

Stay out of water for at least an hour after eating, and swim in sight of others. Be sure water is deep enough and free of obstructions before diving. Don't try to swim too far. Distribute the load evenly in boats. Don't stand up. If you fall out and the boat stays on an even keel, climb in over the stern. Most boats won't sink, so stay with it until help comes if it capsizes. Check the weather before going far on a large lake.

Don't spill gasoline while filling an outboard motor afloat. A small amount of gas may spread on the bilge and set the boat afire when the motor starts.

Don't sample berries, touch unfamiliar plants, or drink impure water.

Carry an insect repellent with you.

Stay away from high ground and single trees in a lightning storm.

Apply an antiseptic to any scratch or cut, no matter how small it may be.

If subjected to high temperatures and excessive perspiring, take 8 - 10 salt tablets per day.

EXERCISE CAUTION, COURTESY AND COMMON SENSE.

Vacation Hints Worth Remembering

BEFORE YOU LEAVE—

Stop milk, newspaper and other deliveries. Ask a neighbor to keep advertising circulars off your porch.

Don't lower window shades. If you are to be gone three weeks or more, arrange to have your lawn mowed. Prowlers watch for such tip-offs.

Notify postoffice to hold mail, or arrange delivery to a neighbor.

Lock windows and doors. Remember the basement, windows and coal chute.

Shut off the gas and water at main valves. Shut off electricity at master switch unless refrigerator or food locker is to be left on. If current must be left on, disconnect lamps and appliances at outlets. If refrigerator is disconnected, leave door open to prevent mold.

Inform police how long house will be vacant and where you can be reached in an emergency.

Service car thoroughly, giving particular attention to safety features such as lights, brakes, tires, steering, windshield wipers.

Carry a first aid kit and flashlight in glove compartment. Be sure you have all tire tools.

ON THE WAY—

Speed kills. Take it easy. Start a little earlier and don't try to cover too great a distance in a day.

Long drives at constant speed induce drowsiness. Vary your speed and stop occasionally to stretch your legs.

Be sure you understand driving regulations in different localities. For example, using the motor compression to assist braking is necessary in mountainous country. A good rule is to use the same gear to descend a grade as you used in climbing it.

Don't be impatient to make time. It's unsafe, and it's not restful driving. Watch your passing other vehicles. On a mountain road, you may have to poke along for miles before it is safe to pass.

Signs and signals are not uniform in all states. Read them carefully and obey them religiously.

Candlelight Service For Wedding Scene

A background of huckleberry and bowls of white delphinium fashioned the setting in South Congregational Church for a candlelight service, Saturday, July 3, uniting in marriage Miss Mary Louise Long and Raymond E. Grinstead. The Rev. Larry Kimes officiated at the double ring ceremony, which was read at 8:30 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Long, 1240 S. Ohio Av, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Grinstead, 140 Concord Pl.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin, fashioned with a tightly fitted bodice finished with a sweetheart neckline embroidered with seed pearls and silver bugle bead design, and long tight sleeves forming a point over each hand. The bouffant skirt cascaded over an old fashioned hoop and terminated into a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a tiara of matching bead design. She carried a semi-cascade bouquet of white glamelias with corsage of Johnanna Hill roses.

Miss Jacqueline Ruetty, maid of honor, wore a gown of white silk marquisette designed with a tightly fitted bodice and full skirt, with cascaded lace-trimmed ruffles in the back. Mrs. Robert Diewald was matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Agnes Long, sister of the bride, and Miss Ruth Ann Grinstead, sister of the bridegroom, whose gowns were styled the same as the maid of honor. All carried bouquets of white glamelias and larkspur, with pale green ribbon shower and wore head bands of the same.

The ring bearer was Kenneth A. McClelland, nephew of the bride.

Earl Grinstead, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, and the ushers were Roy Grinstead and Gene Ginstead, brothers of the bridegroom, and John R. McClelland, brother of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary of the Springs Academy, and the bridegroom attended South High School.

Miss Betty Johnson's Engagement Announced

Mrs. Delbert Rongey, 1414½ E Whittier St, is announcing the engagement of her daughter, Betty B. Johnson, to Richard F. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson, 1068 Linwood Avenue.

Miss Johnson is associated with the Julian Kokenge Co. Mr Thompson is a graduate of South High School and is associated with the Department of Internal Revenue.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Your Home

By Frances Ainsworth

I've just learned about something new for your home—and it's so beautiful that I know you'll want to learn about it, too. It's called "Carrara Glass" and it's used on walls or wainscoting. It is named Carrara because it rivals the beautiful marble from the famed quarries at Carrara, Italy.

Last week I visited my sister, Ann, in her new home—and that's where I discovered this new wall treatment. Ann told me that her decorator had recommended its use in both the bathroom and kitchen.

For her bathroom, Ann selected white glass walls, and used brilliantly colored shower curtains and bright towels for contrast. In her kitchen, she used a delightful Jade Green with Forest Green trim — and it's very effective. Aside from the beauty of this glass wall finish, it certainly is practical for it has a depth of color and is not merely a coated surface. Ann told me that it is guaranteed not to check, stain or fade . . . that it won't absorb bathroom or cooking odors. Water, oils, or grease do not affect it — and she keeps it gleaming and spotless simply by wiping it off with a damp cloth!

Well, her home was so lovely that I decided to re-do my kitchen walls with the same glass! There's such a wide color range, too — grey, white, black, ivory, jade, beige and forest green—with such colors as wine, orange and Rembrandt Blue for trim. I finally decided upon beige walls with blue trim, and we're having the kitchen table top and my little plant shelves covered with the same glass.

Every mother of small children will agree with me that glass is one of the easiest—most practical surfaces for the home. And when it's not only easy to clean but beautiful, too — it's really worth looking into, isn't it?

Owens-Studer Ceremon At St. Leo's

St. Leo's Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Jean Ann Owens and Louis C. Studer Saturday, July 10, at 9 a.m. The Rev. Fr. Robert Schmidt officiated at the double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Owens, 346 Dechler Av, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Studer, 1824 S. 4th St.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a white lace gown with a scalloped boat neckline, long sleeves which tapered over the fingertips, and a full skirt which extended into a full cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a Juliet cap of lace and she carried a colonial bouquet of roses and baby's breath.

The maid of honor, Miss Rosella Brietfeller, wore powder blue faille taffeta, and the bridesmaids Miss Betty Kulp, Miss Jeanne Baker, and Miss Marguerite Studer, sister of the bridegroom, wore pink, pale green, and peach faille taffeta respectively. The gowns were styled alike with scalloped necklines, fitted bodices, full skirts and bustles. They wore halo caps and mitts which matched their gowns. All the attendants carried colonial bouquets of roses in contrasting colors.

Frank Sacher of Cleveland was best man for Mr Studer, and the ushers were Ralph Brietfeller, Howard Hall and William Sharred.

A breakfast for the immediate bridal party was held at Prestutti's. A reception was given in the afternoon at the Beechwold.

Hostesses for the reception were Miss Mary Lou Guzzo, Miss Pat Gordon and Mrs. Thomas Redenour.

The former Miss Owens is a graduate of St. Joseph's Academy and attended Ohio State University. Mr Studer is a graduate of New Lexington High School. He was graduated from the college of architectural engineering at Ohio State University, and is now employed as an architect in Los Angeles, Calif.

Miss Barbara Sharp A Bride Of June 11th

Soft candlelight cast a glow over the interior of the Gates-Fourth Methodist Church Friday, June 11, when Miss Barbara Ann Sharp became the bride of Jack W. Martin. The Rev. Harry F. Zierer officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Sharp, 1344 S. 4th St, and the bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Martin, 357 Morril Av.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father down an aisle lighted with gleaming white tapers. The altar was decorated with palms, huckleberry trees and vases of white gladioli.

The bride's gown was of lustrous Duchess satin, fashioned with a sheer yoke trimmed with tiny seed pearls, slim fitted bodice, a bouffant skirt gathered to the bodice and terminating in a modified train. The full length veil of English imported illusion was outlined with chantilly lace and was caught by a seed pearl tiara. Her bouquet was of white roses centered with an orchid and had a shower of satin streamers and stephanotis.

Mrs. John A. Lewis, sister of the bride, attended as matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Dorothy Szalay, Mrs. Ernest Walter, and Mrs. Robert Hill. They wore identical gowns of taffeta in rainbow colors fashioned with a sheer yoke outlined with a bertha collar, fitted bodice and a full skirt with a butterfly bustle. They wore matching gauntlets and carried bouquets of roses to contrast with their gowns and wore tiaras of roses in their hair.

Little Suzanne Lee Kuebler was flower girl and wore a blue taffeta gown with long full skirt which was caught up at the hem by tiny pink rosebuds. She carried a miniature bouquet of pink Pinnochio roses.

Raymond Martin attended his brother as best man. Seating the guests were John A. Lewis, Richard Immel, Edward Edmister and Robert Snoke.

Mr. Martin attended Ohio State University and is employed at the Immel Co. as assistant manager. The bride is a graduate of South High School and is employed in the executive offices of the F. & R. Lazarus & Co.

RUSSELL THEATRE

The Russell presents Sunday & Monday, in technicolor "Duel In the Sun" with Jennifer Jones, Joseph Cotten and Gregory Peck. Here at last, the David Selznick Masterpiece for which you have been waiting. The most torrid love story ever filmed.

Performances are as excellent as the Star-Studded cast would indicate. The Story a searing sage of two men and an impetuous half-breed beauty, whose unbridled passion spelled death to those whom she loved.

Also "Three Stooges Comedy" and "News and Colored Cartoons"

Columbia Theater

The Columbia presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Homecoming" with Clark Gable and Lana Turner. A romantic drama in which Clark Gable is cast as a surgeon who returns to his home town, a small midwestern community, to resume his civilian practice after serving overseas with a medical unit as a major during World War II. The plot concerns his efforts to adjust himself to the demands of his civilian patients. Also "French Leave" with Jackie Cooper and Jackie Congan.

Fine Program At Victor Theater

The Victor presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday an unusual picture "The Bride Goes Wild" with Van Johnson and June Allyson. There is a steady flow of comedy in the story of a prim Vermont art teacher (June Allyson) who becomes involved in a not-so-prim author of Children's books (Van Johnson) when she comes to New York to illustrate one of his works. Complications pile up as his publisher introduces a bratty orphan (Butch Jenkins) as the incorrigible son of Johnson. Butch provides more than his share of laughs while the adult principals provoke considerable hilarity in trying to cope with Butch's pranks. Also on the program is: "T Men" with Dennis O'Keefe.

Club Alexander

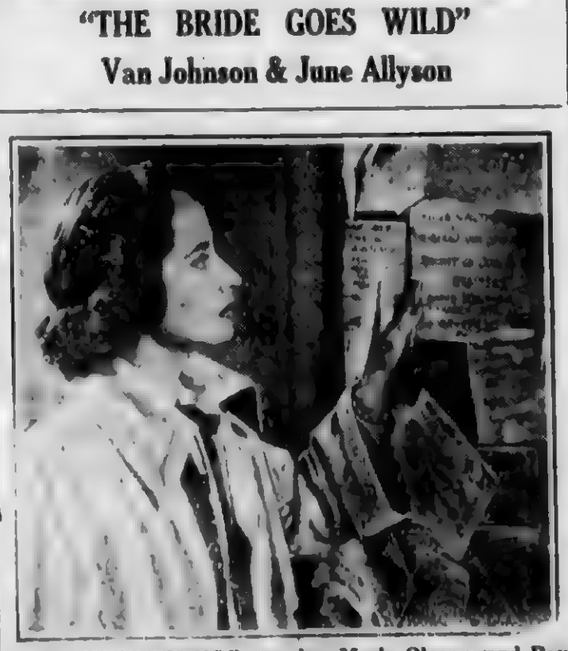
If you are looking for entertainment that is different, visit Club Alexander this week, the program sparkles with Nell Sawyge, favored instrumentalist in the role of mistress of ceremonies. She presents Charline Brand in some clever character dancing. Foster Johnson an all star master of the dance in some brand new steps, also appears on the program.

IDEAL THEATER

The Ideal presents Sunday and Monday "Alias A Gentleman" with Wallace Beery and Tom Drake. Finishing a long prison term Beery has been devoting his time as to how to become a gentleman. He decided to go straight upon his release, but his former partner in crime frames and actress, to pose as Beery's daughter. Beery discovers th hoax but, having grown fond of the girl, spends his life's savings and risks his life to rescue her when she is kidnapped by his former henchmen who had tried to force her to take part in a bank robbery. Also "Campus Sleuth" with Freddie Stewart and June Preisser. Also "Wife Takes Wolf" and a "Cartoon."

Eastside Auto

The National highway (east) has one of the most popular auto theaters in the business. The Eastside, located at 3811 E. Main St, now in its third season, features double features every night, rain or clear. Two shows are presented nightly, with the last feature going on the screen at 11 each night.



Many of the movie colony's most popular screen stars will be seen during the next week. Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall are co-starred in "Dark Passage" Friday and Saturday. Gary Cooper will be seen in "Cloak and Dagger" Sunday and Monday while Ronald Reagan takes the leading role in "Voice of the Turtle" Tuesday and Wednesday and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., will be on the screen in "Corsican Brothers" Thursday.

Selected short subjects are added.

SUN., MON. & TUES. AT THE VICTOR

"THE BRIDE GOES WILD"
Van Johnson & June Allyson

"BERLIN EXPRESS," starring Merle Oberon and Paul Lukas opens at the Southland Theatre on Friday, July 30.

Hey Butch ! Are You Going?

Hey Butch, do you know that the Steelton Merchants Carnival continues thru the rest of this week?

Do you know that there are all kinds of rides, including the merry-go-round, the whip and just loads of other rides?

Do you know that there are games where you can win all kinds of prizes, or a nice doll for that little girl friend, across the street, with this pretty curls?

Say Butch did you here about that "Special Saturday Matinee" when us kids can ride all the various rides for only ten cents?

I am going to bring little curly headed Jean down the street, I can show her a good time for just a little bit of money; you better bring Mary.

Solong Butch, see you Saturday afternoon at the Steelton Merchants Carnival. Mom and Pop are going to go too, a couple of times I guess.

Where's the Steelton Merchant's Carnival being held? At the north end of the Parsons Ave. Viaduct, just east of Parsons Ave.

Winning numbers will be on display at the Premier Floral Co., 1853 Parsons Ave., for the Steelton Merchants Carnival Prizes.

Prizes may be claimed up to, and including August 7.

Winners need not be present at drawing.

C.C.C. Auto Theater

Residents of the western portion of Columbus are realizing the full advantages of the county's newest Auto theater, the C. C. C., located at 1395 Harrisburg Pike, one mile from Mound and Central Avenue on the Three C Highway.

First of all, dress is optional for patrons. You come attired in what you like as you sit in the comfort of your own car and watch the program on the largest screen in this territory, 72 feet wide and 72 feet long.

You are permitted to smoke without interfering with other patrons. You don't have to move because of others coming into your own aisle. Individual car speakers, all water-proofed and adjustable, are available for each car.

A conveniently located concession stand is available for the purchase of soft drinks, hot dogs, ice cream and pop corn. Vendors also make the rounds on the banked drive-ways.

Two shows are billed each night, with the friat showing at dusk. There's a late feature every night at approximately 11 o'clock. The show opens with the main feature. Then comes the second billing and the program concludes with the second showing of the main feature. Selected short subjects are added.

St. Marys Dramatics Club Offers Plays

The Dramatics Club of St. Mary High is presenting two excellent one-act plays, "Late Holiday" and "Next Time Blue", at Schiller Park Auditorium on Aug. 4. The curtain goes up at 7:30 and the plays will be over before 9:00.

Students of St. Mary High and members of the parish are especially invited to attend.

Included in the casts are: Anna Wachinger, Patricia Gaitten, Patricia Miesse, Marilyn Rogers, Katherine Belhorn, Alberta and Charlotte Jones.

People who like either comedy or drama are guaranteed a most delightful evening.

Nurses Aides Are Needed

An urgent call for new volunteers for Nurse's Aide training has been announced by the Franklin County Chapter of the Red Cross. More than 100 nurse's aides are at present serving in the city's hospitals and clinics under this program, which was started during the recent war. An increased number will be needed this fall with the opening of the new Red Cross National Blood program to provide a vitally needed supply of blood for everybody-everywhere in the country.

Nurse's aides who have become active since the end of the war are being asked to give their services again by calling either Mrs. George C. McConnaughey at KI-4253 or Mrs. Frank J. Connor, Ev-0885. New volunteers are being sought for training classes which will begin the middle of September, especially volunteers who would be able to serve during the day when the Blood Center will be open and on the Mobile Units which will be touring the State.

Nurse's aides perform many time-consuming tasks which supplement the work of registered nurses—bed-making, giving baths, and taking temperatures. Requirements are that applicants must be at least 18, have a high school education, and pass a physical examination. The training in a local hospital includes 35 hours of classroom instruction and 45 hours of actual work under supervision before Aides are "capped" and become full-fledged aides. To remain active, thy must contribut at least 150 hours of work a year, at least half of them in the hospital where the training was taken.

The work is rewarding and interesting, and offers a chance to help in the vital new National Blood Program. New volunteers are asked to contact the Red Cross at MA-7421 to make appointments for personal interviews, which will be conducted every Friday, beginning July 30.

Ceremony To Be Event Of August 8th

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mason, 627½ Livingston-av, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Juanita M. Sovine, to Rutherford E. Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kasler, 465 Southwood-av.

The wedding will take place at 2 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 8, in the Livingston-av Methodist Church with the Rev. I. J. Klotz officiating. Miss Deloris Sovine will be maid of honor while Wendell Kasler will act as best man for Mr. Hunt. A reception for relatives and a few close friends will be held at the home of the bride's parents following the wedding.

Miss Sovine and her fiance are graduates of South High School. She has been associated with the Banker's Life Co., of Iowa. Mr. Hunt is now in the Navy, and the couple will reside in Memphis, Tenn., where he is stationed.

RUSSELL THEATRE

The Russell presents Sunday & Monday, in technicolor "Duel In the Sun" with Jennifer Jones, Joseph Cotten and Gregory Peck. Here at last, the David Selznick Masterpiece for which you have been waiting. The most torrid love story ever filmed.

Performances are as excellent as the Star-Studded cast would indicate. The Story a searing saga of two men and an impetuous half-breed beauty, whose unbridled passion spelled death to those whom she loved.

Also "Three Stooges Comedy" and "News and Colored Cartoons"

Columbia Theater

The Columbia presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "Homecoming" with Clark Gable and Lana Turner. A romantic drama in which Clark Gable is cast as a surgeon who returns to his home town, a small midwestern community, to resume his civilian practice after serving overseas with a medical unit as a major during World War II. The plot concerns his efforts to adjust himself to the demands of his civilian patients. Also "French Leave" with Jackie Cooper and Jackie Coogan.

Fine Program At Victor Theater

The Victor presents Sunday, Monday and Tuesday an unusual picture "The Bride Goes Wild" with Van Johnson and June Allyson. There is a steady flow of comedy in the story of a prim Vermont art teacher (June Allyson) who becomes involved in a not-so-prim author of Children's books (Van Johnson) when she comes to New York to illustrate one of his works. Complications pile up as his publisher introduces a bratty orphan (Butch Jenkins) as the incorrigible son of Johnson. Butch provides more than his share of laughs while the adult principals provoke considerable hilarity in trying to cope with Butch's pranks. Also on the program is: "T Men" with Dennis O'Keefe.

Club Alexander

If you are looking for entertainment that is different, visit Club Alexander this week, the program sparkles with Nell Sawyge, favored instrumentalist in the role of mistress of ceremonies. She presents Charline Brand in some clever character dancing. Foster Johnson an all star master of the dance in some brand new steps, also appears on the program.

IDEAL THEATER

The Ideal presents Sunday and Monday "Alias A Gentleman" with Wallace Beery and Tom Drake. Finishing a long prison term Beery has been devoting his time as to how to become a gentleman. He decided to go straight upon his release, but his former partner in crime frames and actress, to pose as Beery's daughter. Beery discovers th hoax but, having grown fond of the girl, spends his life's savings and risks his life to rescue her when she is kidnapped by his former henchmen who had tried to force her to take part in a bank robbery. Also "Campus Sleuth" with Freddie Stewart and June Preisser. Also "Wife Takes Wolf" and a "Cartoon."

Eastside Auto

The National highway (east) has one of the most popular auto theaters in the business. The Eastside, located at 3811 E. Main St, now in its third season, features double features every night, rain or clear. Two shows are presented nightly, with the last feature going on the screen at 11 each night.

Many of the movie colony's most popular screen stars will be seen during the next week. Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall are co-starred in "Dark Passage" Friday and Saturday. Gary Cooper will be seen in "Cloak and Dagger" Sunday and Monday while Ronald Reagan takes the leading role in "Voice of the Turtle" Tuesday and Wednesday and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., will be on the screen in "Corsican Brothers" Thursday.

Selected short subjects are added.

"THE BRIDE GOES WILD"
Van Johnson & June Allyson

"BERLIN EXPRESS," starring Merle Oberon and Paul Lukas opens at the Southland Theatre on Friday, July 30.

Hey Butch ! Are You Going?

Hey Butch, do you know that the Steelton Merchants Carnival continues thru the rest of this week?

Do you know that there are all kinds of rides, including the merry-go-round, the whip and just loads of other rides?

Do you know that there are games where you can win all kinds of prizes, or a nice doll for that little girl friend, across the street, with this pretty curls?

Say Butch did you here about that "Special Saturday Matinee" when us kids can ride all the various rides for only ten cents?

I am going to bring little curly headed Jean down the street, I can show her a good time for just a little bit of money; you better bring Mary.

Solong Butch, see you Saturday afternoon at the Steelton Merchants Carnival. Mom and Pop are going to go too, a couple of times I guess.

Where's the Steelton Merchant's Carnival being held? At the north end of the Parsons Ave. Viaduct, just east of Parsons Ave.

Winning numbers will be on display at the Premier Floral Co., 1853 Parsons Ave., for the Steelton Merchants Carnival Prises.

Prizes may be claimed up to, and including August 7.

Winners need not be present at drawing.

C.C.C. Auto Theater

Residents of the western portion of Columbus are realizing the full advantages of the county's newest Auto theater, the C. C. C., located at 1395 Harrisburg Pike, one mile from Mound and Central Avenue on the Three C Highway.

First of all, dress is optional for patrons. You come attired in what you like as you sit in the comfort of your own car and watch the program on the largest screen in this territory, 72 feet wide and 72 feet long.

You are permitted to smoke without interfering with other patrons. You don't have to move because of others coming into your own aisle. Individual car speakers, all water-proofed and adjustable, are available for each car.

A conveniently located concession stand is available for the purchase of soft drinks, hot dogs, ice cream and pop corn. Vendors also make the rounds on the banked drive-ways.

Two shows are billed each night, with the frist showing at dusk. There's a late feature every night at approximately 11 o'clock. The show opens with the main feature. Then comes the second billing and the program concludes with the second showing of the main feature. Selected short subjects are added.

St. Marys Dramatics Club Offers Plays

The Dramatics Club of St. Mary High is presenting two excellent one-act plays, "Late Holiday" and "Next Time Blue", at Schiller Park Auditorium on Aug. 4. The curtain goes up at 7:30 and the plays will be over before 9:00.

Students of St. Mary High and members of the parish are especially invited to attend.

Included in the casts are: Anna Wachinger, Patricia Gaitten, Patricia Miesse, Marilyn Rogers, Katherine Belhorn, Alberta and Charlotte Jones.

People who like either comedy or drama are guaranteed a most delightful evening.

Nurses Aides Are Needed

An urgent call for new volunteers for Nurse's Aide training has been announced by the Franklin County Chapter of the Red Cross. More than 100 nurse's aides are at present serving in the city's hospitals and clinics under this program, which was started during the recent war. An increased number will be needed this fall with the opening of the new Red Cross National Blood program to provide a vitally needed supply of blood for everybody everywhere in the country.

Nurse's aides who have become active since the end of the war are being asked to give their services again by calling either Mrs. George C. McConnaughey at KI-4253 or Mrs. Frank J. Connor, Ev-0888. New volunteers are being sought for training which will begin the middle of September, especially volunteers who would be able to serve during the day when the Blood Center will be open and on the Mobile Units which will be touring the State.

Nurse's aides perform many time-consuming tasks which supplement the work of registered nurses—bed-making, giving baths, and taking temperatures. Requirements are that applicants must be at least 18, have a high school education, and pass a physical examination. The training in a local hospital includes 35 hours of classroom instruction and 41 hours of actual work under supervision before Aides are "capped" and become full-fledged aides. To remain active, thy must contribut at least 150 hours of work a year, at least half of them in the hospital where the training was taken.

The work is rewarding and interesting, and offers a chance to help in the vital new National Blood Program. New volunteers are asked to contact the Red Cross at MA-7421 to make appointments for personal interviews, which will be conducted every Friday, beginning July 30.

Ceremony To Be Event Of August 8th

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mason, 627½ Livingston-av, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Juanita M. Sovine, to Rutherford E. Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kasler, 466 Southwood-av.

The wedding will take place at 2 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 8, in the Livingston-av Methodist Church with the Rev. I. J. Klotz officiating. Miss Deloris Sovine will be maid of honor while Wendell Kasler will act as best man for Mr. Hunt. A reception for relatives and a few close friends will be held at the home of the bride's parents following the wedding.

Miss Sovine and her fiance are graduates of South High School. She has been associated with the Banker's Life Co., of Iowa. Mr. Hunt is now in the Navy, and the couple will reside in Memphis, Tenn., where he is stationed.

Economic Highlights

Happenings that affect the dinner pails, dividend checks and tax bills of every individual, national and international problems inseparable from local welfare.

"Out of the prevailing confusion a new world is taking shape," writes Sir Harold Butler in Foreign Affairs. ". . . .The most significant change is the revival of Westernr Europe's will to live. The mood of apathy and despair seems to be yielding to new hope and energy. For that the Marshall Plan must be regarded as mainly responsible. It was not, however, the offer of further American aid which revived the drooping spirits of the Europeans. They had no reason to think that by themselves more billions of dollars could be more than a temporary palliative. What stirred them to action was the notion that by working together they could use this American grant to lay the foundation of a new European system."

If that point of view is correct, Western Europe may be on the verge of unity for the first time in recorded history. Under the pressure of bleak necessity, the old prejudices and hatreds, stemming back to real and alleged injustices which occurred centuries ago, may be disappearing. Should that happen, the principal barrier to a strong Europe, capable of meeting and resisting aggression from the East, will gradually disappear.

It is true that in France, Italy, and elsewhere, there is an enormous amount of downright graft, lethargy, and the desire to get as much as possible while giving as little as possible. But this should not obscure the fact that many millions of Europeans, and their governments, are committed to a policy of hard work and sacrifice in order to build for the future. Many American correspondents have been tremendously impressed by what Western Europe is doing in the way of rehabilitation in the face of great odds, and the almost total absence of many things which are regarded as virtual necessities in happier nations.

When General Marshall first laid down his plan, in general terms, in an address at Harvard, he put special stress on the idea that it was not primarily a relief scheme but, instead, a means of getting Europe going so that she many ultimately sustain herself and make an equitable contribution to the community of nations. The Marshall Plan has gone through many transitions since then. It has become, officially, ERP. But that basic concept has not been lost. Those who have done the most to foster assistance to Europe — Marshall himself, Vandenberg, John Foster Dulles, and the others—have all described it as an effort to make it possible for the benefited nations to help themselves. And this concept clearly underlies the policy of Paul Hoffman, ERP's Administrator.

Perhaps relatively few people realize the revolutionary extent of the change in American foreign policy. There is, of course, a considerable opposition to American participation in the affairs of Europe. But it is not an effective opposition — whereas, after World War I, the all-powerful isolationist bloc in the Senate was able to get its way in every detail. It is an interesting commentary on these changing times that the leader of the opposition to Woodrow Wilson's plan for world cooperation was Senator Henry Cabot Lodge. Now young Senator Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. has been one of the most effective backers of ERP.

The ineffectiveness of the opposition to our present policy was dramatically demonstrated in the closing days of Congress, when the House sought to make a heavy cut in ERP funds. The best known Republican leaders—Vandenberg, Dewey, Stassen, Warren — at once denounced this move. The result: 90 per cent of the House cuts were restored, and ERP survived the last assault with little change.

As time goes on, the question of how much we can appropriate for purposes such as this will become more pressing. Herbert Hoover brought that up in a speech to the Republican Convention, in which he approved the principle of ERP, but observed that it would do the world no good if we weakened ourselves by devoting too much of our resources to helping other nations. This involves many imponderables. The heavy initial appropriation for ERP could have been possible only in a time of very high national income and industrial activity, which finds its reflection in vast tax revenues. Again, more inflation here would have a direct effect on the program by reducing the amount of goods that billions would buy. Dollars themselves do Europe no good. They are only valuable in the light of the machinery, food and other needed supplies they will buy.

Another fact that deserves recording is that this is the first time the United States has ever had a genuinely bipartisan foreign policy. Regardless of which party wins control of the Executive and Legislative branches in the coming elections, the policy will not vary. There will be changes in detail, of course, but no changes in principle can now be foreseen. That, to Europe, has been one of the most aspects of the postwar era. And that too in the view of many, is one of our main strengths in our dealings with Russia. The Soviet Union cannot hope for a change in administration which would make it possible for her to go on with her plans for dominating Europe without the opposition of the United States.

"Is Helen as pretty as she used to be?"
"Yes, but it takes her longer."

Attention South High Footballers

Coach "Rod" Tiger announced that the first football practice session for South High Tigers will be held at the Scioto Lodge, Indianola Ave & 6th Uniforms will be issued Tuesday August 10th

Holding Drive For Scout Uniforms

Scout Troop No. 2 of the South Side Settlement is holding a drive for any parts of Scout uniforms in any kind of condition, just so they can be mended, or Scout camping equipment, or any government surplus camping equipment. We feel that we have a larger and better troop if we can equip all boys with uniforms. Many boys cannot afford to buy uniforms and equipment, so if we can get enough to outfit a few boys we will be glad to do so. We will be glad to accept any of this kind of equipment that you no longer have any use for, and would like to donate it to troop No. 2 please call the South Side Settlement and we will be glad to come and pick it up or drop it off at the Settlement House.

The Scouts take fishing trips to Deer Creek Lake. We plan to go Aug 16th. Leroy Young a second class scout has been made assistant leader. A couple weeks ago he took such a trip to Ohio State Penitentiary and the following Saturday took a hike to Brown Road and Big Run. The boys prepared a meal over an open fire and went swimming. We plan to take trips to various parts of Ohio we are planning in the near future to have an all day outing at Old Man's Cave. We plan to spend one weekend camping trips at the new camp of the South Side Settlement.

Bicycle Trip To Indian Village

Indian Village Campers the next stop two of Buckeye Lake's Indian Youth Hostelers on the rides of bicycle trips planned this summer by the local unit. They will leave from the corner of Long Ave and Riggs St at 1 pm Saturday, August 14 and spend the night at the camp. The program for the week end will depend on the interests of the group. Cabins are under discussion with side swimming in the camp pool, an evening of folk dancing, and an exploring trip to Hocking Hills.

Any one interested in the hostelling is welcome to join the group. Reservations must be made by August 8. For further information write or call or stop in to see Miss Ann Gustin at the Youth Hostel office in the YWCA, 65 E Broad or telephone AD 4121 Thursday evenings between 6 and 8 At other times call Miss Ann Gustin WA 4803 after 6, or Miss Virginia Stroud at LA 4328.

Family Suffers From Jewelry Sale

Last Friday we again visited [illegible] to check payrolls [illegible] of F. P. Barthalow, City Auditor, was [illegible] delaying [illegible] the payroll [illegible] of city employees for jewelry and other baubles [illegible] was sold from one large [illegible] jeweler.

The [illegible] are still on, but now the jeweler's name has been removed from the front of the postal slips, and placed on the back.

Just what kind of subterfuge is Mr. Auditor will Does R. Pierre Bathalow, our City Auditor, know this? He should because he is supposed to sign all city pay rolls.

It has come to our knowledge through information passed to us, by city employees, and a member of the city council, that Mr. Bathalow's office has been [illegible] that this jewelry firm sends an employee of this to various departments of the city to sell jewelry, buttons and what not, to the employees on the day they are paid on city property.

The employee then signs a slip for his pay deduction.

In one case, this credit jewelry from such a city employee a diamond ring for $60. The pay deduction was $1.5 per week. Can you imagine what this would do to a normal take home pay of less than $45 for the next year and one half.

It costs approximately 10% to open accounts, and in the case of this credit jewelry from the cost is probably higher. By having the City Auditor's Office collect for them by payroll deduction it probably save this one credit company [illegible] of from [illegible] to $600 a year.

Several [illegible] jewelry [illegible] have been [illegible] from [illegible] the city [illegible] Nearly $2000 [illegible] dollars the city auditor's office is collecting about [illegible] a week from city employees [illegible] mailing this credit [illegible] saving [illegible] from sending out a collector [illegible] from approximately 150 employees.

[illegible] part of these [illegible] the [illegible] at [illegible] dedu[illegible] from [illegible] pay of $45 to $45 [illegible] have enough [illegible] The average [illegible] for these [illegible] per week. To reduces the [illegible] from $45 to $[illegible] per week.

Of [illegible] employees [illegible] 38.

We [illegible] R. Earl Barthalow [illegible] paid for this service [illegible] the city auditor [illegible] city auditor's office [illegible] the city clerk's office. We [illegible] to get an audit [illegible]

Our Neighbor Invites You

The Milo-Grogan Civic Association wishes to announce the formal dedication of Price Field, the recreation center for the community of Milo and Grogan, on Sunday, August 15th, at 1:30 p.m., at St. Clair and E. 5th Aves.

The committee has an interesting program of activities planned for that afternoon including three ball games with top notch competing for honors, music, games, contesting games in which the winning children will be awarded prizes, refreshments, speakers, etc.

An invitation is being extended to the public to attend.

Price Field is comparatively new having been made only the past month. Two softball diamonds and one hardball diamond have already been completed and in use the past few weeks. In addition to the ball diamonds there is swings, teeters and playground equipment for the younger children. This project we feel, fulfills a long standing need in these two communities as well as adding to the facilities of the city's recreational program.

Draper Says Home Front Matters Need Attention

Robert M. Draper, Democratic candidate for Congress, started his campaign this week with the announcement that he believes home affairs are as important as foreign affairs and that Franklin County is entitled to a voice in Washington to represent local people in home affairs.

It is his conviction that in order to be an influence in world affairs we must build up the home front by eliminating internal conflicts, high prices, unequal taxes and see that our people are properly housed and have security.

Draper has been active in civic affairs in the county for many years having served two terms as president of the Columbus Board of Education.

Mr. Kletrovets, Miss Casbarro Wed

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Josephine Marie Casbarro and Charles Edward Kletrovets which took place on June 26 at 9:30 p.m. at St. Peter's Church with the Rev. Anthony Schlernitzauer officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Casbarro, 1079 Walters St., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kletrovets, 579 Sheldon Ave.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown with seed pearl embroidery at the neckline and on the fitted bodice. The full skirt fell into a circular train and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Her chapel length veil fell from a cap of lace and orange blossoms.

Miss Angela Casbarro, sister of the bride and maid of honor, wore a pink gown with a dust ruffle at the hemline and a Mary, Queen of Scots headdress. The bridesmaids were Miss Clara Camboni, Miss Dorothy Palumbo, Miss Cola Saterlades and Miss Rose Maria Sicilian of Waterbury, Conn.

Mr. William Isily was the best man and the ushers were Mr. Augustino Farone, Mr. Salvatore Farone and Mr. Carl Hensen.

The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart Commercial High School and the bridegroom is a South High School graduate and attended Ohio State University.

The couple resides at 1081 Walters St.

August Brings Dog Days

The month of August with its siege of hot weather is a grim reminder to many people, especially to superstitious, that "dog days" will soon spread a mysterious cloud over the outdoors.

The cows and livestock will appear to be "witched", the streams seem to take on the look and smell of the dead and in general people will become a little more cautious about tiny scratches which are thought to be subject to immediate infection just because it's "dog days".

Actually, there is nothing to fear during this period of the summer. It just happens that the name has been given to that time of year when the atmosphere is hot and sultry. The use of the term originated with the ancients to describe the period of the summer of the rising of the dog star, Sirius, which included about 40 days of the warmest part of the year. The dog star rises at a different time now. However, the term continues to refer to that time when the scarcity of rain causes streams to stagnate and become undesirable for swimming and watering livestock.

Animals, especially dogs, suffer with the extreme heat and appear to go mad. Truthfully, mad dog cases are more common in cold weather but due to the prolonged heat of the summer, dogs sometimes like people, just get so miserable they want to bite something or somebody and sometimes do.

Miss Berry Is Wed To Thomas Berger

On June 26 at 5:30 p.m., Miss Beatrice Berry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eck Berry, 2428 S. High St, exchanged wedding vows with Mr. Thomas George Berger, son of Mr. Henry W. Berger, 324 Fornof Rd. The ceremony was read by the Rev. Fr. Diehl in St. Ladislaus Rectory.

The bride chose a gown of ivory satin with seeded pearl sweetheart neckline for her wedding, and wore a juliet cap with fingertip veil. She carried a white prayer book topped with an orchid.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

The bride attended South High School, and at present is employed at Lockbourne Air Force Base.

Mr. Berger graduated from St Mary's High School, and is now associated with Berger Meats, Inc.

After a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, the couple will reside at 2436 S. High St.

She is the kind of girl who whispers sweet nothing dongs in your ear.

News In The World Of Religion

Hilfswerk, the German Protestant church agency through which much American relief to Germany is channelled, reports that its supplementary feeding program, providing one good meal per day for a student, is keeping some 40,000 youngsters in schools this summer. Without this they could not have continued their classes.

"Seeds-for-Peace" was a recent Protestant church project carried on across the United States under the guidance of Church World Service. Already many thousands of dollars worth of seeds have been sent by the sponsors of the movement to Europe where they are being used in a rehabilitation program headed by the churches. The seeds were selected by a special national committee in the United States, the selection being based upon soil conditions and climates of the various countries. Each family aided was given a family-size packet of about fifteen varieties of seeds.

One hundred forty-eight church bodies in 42 countries will meet in Amsterdam, Holland, August 22 to Sept. 4, for the first assembly and the formation of the World Council of Churches. The United States will be represented by 327 lay and ministerial delegates and consultants, representing 28 American churches. It is pointed out that this is not to be a "super-church" but a "cooperative machinery by which it is hoped that the total Christian faith and conviction can be set forward in the world, with the different churches working according to their own patterns and in harmony with their own theological convictions." While it is a body composed of Protestant and Orthodox church groups, the delegates are happy that the Vatican has appointed official observers to represent the Roman Catholic Church and its worldwide constituency.

Dr. Deane Edwards, of New York City, has been elected to the presidency of the Hymn Society of America, succeeding Dr. T. Tertius Noble of Rockport, Mass. The vice-presidents are Dr. Luther D. Reed of Philadelphia, Dr. Carlyle Adams of Albany, N. Y., and Prof. Ray F. Brown of General Theological Seminary, New York. Miss Edith Holden, of Greenwich, Conn., is treasurer; Dr. Walter N. Hewitt, of Maplewood, N. J., secretary; and Dr. Reginald L. McAll, New York City, executive secretary. The society is this year promoting the observance of the bicentennial of the death of Isaac Watts, writer of hymns; and is seeking new hymn poems on various Christian themes.

While machinery is being gotten under way to raise $10,000,000 in the United States for the proposed new Christian university, in Japan, Japanese Christians and their families have already raised more than one million yen ($300,000) toward the same goal, according to Dr. Carl D. Kriete, prominent missionary-educator recently returned from Japan where he was for many years president of Miyagi Colige. "This gift by the Christians in Japan," said Dr. Kriete, "may represent more sacrifice than the attaining of the American goal." He says the Japanese, out of their poverty, are talking of raising 150,000,000 yen. He urges American givers to look at the proposed Christian university "as not a request for charity, but as a genuine cooperative effort for an international, interracial coeducational institution at the highest level."

The people of Africa have finally found a suitable native name for Dr. Frank C. Laubach, of the Foreign Missions Conference of North America, recently returned from a half year in their midst, planning and devising charts and methods of teaching them to become literate in their own numerous tongues. They have named him "Okombekombe", which means "mender of baskets." The basket is a valuable article in an African home, and one who can mend them is a valuable member of society. The illiterates consider themselves old, worn-out baskets, good for nothing. "But along came the great white teacher from across the seas to open our blind eyes and make us useful members of our community." "Okombekombe" is a skilled and appreciated person.

Korean Christians are highly elated by the results of the national elections which sent many Christians into the legislature, says the Rev. Charles K. Sauer, of Delaware, Ohio, Methodist missionary in Seoul. He reports that of the 200 newly-elected members of the legislature, some fifty are Christians; and that in the capital city of Seoul, seven of the ten districts elected Christians. "Mission leaders have never claimed more than 5% of the Korean people as Christians," says Mr. Sauer. "During the past three years, the people of South Korea have had opportunity to judge two nations, one with a Christian background, the other denying the existence of a God. It would seem they are increasingly leaning toward Christian leadership."

Both Mr. and Mrs. O'Toole are on the staff of the Arthur Murray Dance Studio in Washington.

Yonlanda Kacsor Engagement Announced

Mrs. Helen Kacsor, 438 Hossack St., is announcing the engagement of her daughter, Yonlanda, to Lawrence Caito, son of Mrs. Lilley M. Caito, 27 Ogden Av. and the late Mr. Caito.

The bride elect attended South High School and is associated with the Foreign Grocery Co.

Mr. Caito attended Rosary High School and is associated with David Davies Packing Co.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Indianola Church Wedding Scene

Before an altar decorated with seven-branch candelabra, white gladioli, palms and ferns, Miss Marjorie Belle Calvert, daughter of Mrs. Harry E. Calvert, 1436 Hamlet St, and the late Mr. Calvert, was united in marriage with Mr. Phillip John Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Arnold, 888 Thurman Av.

The open church double ring ceremony was solemnized at the Indianola Methodist Church with Dr. George S. Lackland officiating at 7:30 o'clock June 19.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Ross Calvert, was attired in a bridal gown of dutchesse satin fashioned with a sheer applique trimmed yoke, and long sleeves ending in points over the wrists. A full skirt, gathered to a basque bodice, terminated in a long train. Her fingertip veil of English illusion was caught by a satin tiara with seed pearl trim. Her bridal bouquet consisted of white carnations and stephanotis, with an orchid center.

Mr. Frank P. Smith, Jr., sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and wore an orchid sheer organdy gown fashioned with a yoke outlined with a pleated collar, fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow daisies. Mrs. Lawrence Surrell, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Richard Arnold, sister-in-law of the groom, wore identical gowns of yellow, Mrs. Harry Fisher, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Ross Calvert, sister-in-law of the bride, wore similarly styled gowns in aqua. They carried colonial bouquets, gauntlets and horsehair bonnets to match their gowns.

Mr. James Brown acted as best man, and seating the guests were Mr. Richard Arnold, brother of the bridegroom; Mr. William Weller, Mr. Mendel Lewis and Mr. Carl Rippel.

Following the ceremony a reception for 175 guests was held at the church. Assisting as hostesses were Miss Bernice Westlake, Miss Annabelle Smith, Mrs. James Brown and Mrs. John Adams.

When the couple left on their wedding trip the new Mrs. Arnold was wearing a black and white silk print dress with black and white accessories. The orchid from her bridal bouquet was pinned to her shoulder.

The bride is a graduate of Central High School and is now associated with Crane Co. The bridegroom is a graduate of South High School and is now a senior in the college of pharmacy at Ohio State University.

Miss Paul Is The Bride Of Mr. Mills

A bridal arch before an altar decorated with palms, pink and white peonies, and two seven-branch candelabra was used in the Gates-Fourth Methodist Church when Miss Jean Elizabeth Paul became the bride of Ivan F. Mills Jr., on Sunday, May 30, at 2 p.m. The Rev. Harry F. Zierer officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Paul, 390 E. Mound-st. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan F. Mills Sr., 423 Stewart-av.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of ivory bridal satin, styled with a fitted bodice, high neckline and princess skirt with a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of nylon illusion was fashioned to a tiara of braided satin with pearls, gift of the bridegroom, was her only jewelry. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and white rosebuds.

The matron of honor was Mrs. William D. Geiger, cousin of the bride. Her gown was of aqua taffeta with a sweetheart neckline. She wore a strand of pearls and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations circled with yellow daisies. Martin L. Mills was the best man for his brother. The ushers were Richard F. Mills, brother of the bridegroom; William D. Geiger, Robert Vorwerk and Eddie Hoskinson. The soloist was Miss Helen L. Sopha.

A reception for 75 guests immediately following the ceremony was held at the Seneca Hotel. Mrs. Paul greeted her guests in a pale aqua dress with white accessories. She wore a corsage of gardenias and yellow roses. Mrs. Mills' dress was of navy blue crepe with a navy blue hat and black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

The bride wore an aqua dress with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias when the couple left on their honeymoon for New York City.

Both the bride and the groom are graduates of South High School. Mr. Mills is employed by the Western Electric Co.

St. John's Church Wedding Scene

Miss Mildred Louise Frazier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Frazier of Williamsport, became the bride of Dan Ray Jording, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto C. Jording, 483 Whittier St., in a double ring ceremony performed Sunday evening, June 13, at St. John's Evangelical Reformed Church with the Rev. A. E. Klick, pastor of the church, officiating.

Given in marriage by her brother, Edwin Frazier, the bride chose a gown of white satin with a tight fitting bodice and long sleeves coming to points over the wrists. A sheer yoke created an off-the-shoulder effect and the full skirt was caught up to reveal a ruffled petticoat. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a halo of pearlized orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white roses and shattered carnations.

Mrs. William Merriman, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor, and wore a yellow taffeta gown and carried a colonial bouquet of talisman roses and yellow snapdragons.

The bridesmaids were Miss Allene Mann and Mrs. Charles Seall, who wore nile green taffeta gowns and carried colonial bouquets of yellow roses and bronze snapdragons. All of the attendants wore bonnets to match their gowns.

Miss Suzanne Frazier, the bride's niece, was flower girl. She wore a white taffeta gown and matching bonnet that tied under the chin. On her arm she carried a basket of mixed flowers.

Philip Reeger was best man and seating the guests were Duane Hipolite and Charles Seall.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the Seneca Hotel after which the couple left for a trip to the Smoky Mountains.

The new Mrs. Jording is a graduate of Williamsport High School and is employed by the State of Ohio.

Mr. Jording is a graduate of South High School and is attending Ohio State University, where he is a member of the Delta Sigma Pi Fraternity.

Miss Rita Waibel To Wed Sept. 4

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Waibel, 1681 Lockbourne Rd., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Rita, to George J. Martini, son of Mrs. W. L. Schaber, 1209 Geers Av.

Miss Waibel is a graduate of St. Mary High School and is now associated with the F. & R. Lazarus & Co.

Mr. Martini attended Corpus Christi High School and is now associated with the Columbus Hospital Supply Company.

The open church wedding will take place at Corpus Christi Church, Sept. 4.

Waste Not Want Not

The willful waste of the New Deal will bring woeful want to the American people. It is the stewardship of Truman and not that of Congress which is on trial. There can be no objection to contributing reasonable amounts of food and money to any friendly nation in need of sustenance to preserve life and bring about economic and industrial rehabilitation in order to thwart the spread of communism but this job cannot be intrusted to the spendthrifts of the New Deal.

For the past 15 years it has spent and lent and given away our money, food, machinery without any regard for our own needs until we are head over heels in debt, short on food products, oil, machinery, etc.

This has caused autos, electrical goods, household necessities and all kinds of food to go sky high in prices to our own people.

Grover Cleveland said, "When more of the people's sustenance is exacted through the form of taxation than is necessary to meet the just obligations of government and expenses of its economical administration, such EXACTION becomes ruthless extortion and a violation of the fundamental principles of a free government."

Woodrow Wilson said: "The way to stop financial joy riding, is to arrest the chauffeur and the automobile."

Jefferson also disagreed with Roosevelt's idea that a nation can spend its way into prosperity" said he; "The principle of spending money to be paid by posterity under the name of Funding, is swindling futurity on a large scale."

But this is a subject my dear Alben did not mention although denounced by three giants of his own party. A people are not enslaved until they are impoverished.

LET'S EXPLORE OHIO

Mother of Presidents

BENJAMIN HARRISON

Fifth Ohio President (6)

Unique in the annals of American history is the Harrison family, which provided a signer of the Declaration of Independence, the ninth President of the United States and the 23rd President.

Some historians trace the Harrison lineage directly back to the Indian girl, Pocahontas.

The first Benjamin Harrison, born about 1740, and who served as Governor of Virginia long before there was a state of Ohio, was the signer of the Declaration of Independence.

His son, William Henry Harrison, was the first Ohio man to be elected our nation's president and his great grandson, the second Benjamin Harrison, was the 23rd president.

President Benjamin Harrison was born at North Bend, Ohio, August 20, 1833 and is buried there close to the memorial which was erected for President William Henry Harrison on the banks of the Ohio. Benjamin Harrison defeated Grover Cleveland for the presidency in 1888 and in 1892 was in turn defeated by him.

After his term of office, he became an international lawyer of great repute.

Harrison was graduated in 1852 at Miami University and practiced law in Cincinnati. He served as a general in the Civil War and was an elder in the Presbyterian Church. He was twice married.

In southwestern Ohio are a number of points of interest including the Miamisburg Mound on Route 25; Fort Ancient, with its prehistoric fortifications on Route 350; Oxford, site of Miami University; the McGuffey Museum honoring the man who wrote school books which an earlier generation studied; the Galloway log cabin at Xenia and, further east, on Route 73, the famous Serpent Mound.

The factual lessons of McGuffey Readers is interwoven with lessons in sobriety, honesty, kindness, industry, which even today affect the thought of millions, descended from those who were under the influence of McGuffey's teachings during school days.

While in Cincinnati, many will visit the home of Harriet Beecher Stowe in Walnut Hills, where much of the theme of Uncle Tom's Cabin was developed.

A Cool Way To Spend An Evening

Hot summer evenings usually call for a ride in the family car. Everyone is anxious to cool off and the country air is always invigorating. And the CCC and Eastside Auto Theaters are always a good place to stop with the family.

The county's newest auto theater, located at 1395 Harrisburg Pike, one mile south of Mound & Central provides a good evening's entertainment.

The only charge is for the parents. Children under 10 are admitted free. You save the cost of a sitter for the evening.

There's a late show every night. The principal feature goes on the screen first, at dusk each evening. Then the second feature is presented, plus the selected short subjects. Closing the program at approximately 11, is the main feature again.

There are two shows nightly, rain or clear.

Club Alexander

This week at Club Alexander, Bob Mitchell takes over the duties of emcee in good form. He contributes an act of back somersaults and also some wild harmonica playing. He presents Miss Primrose, clever comedienne of the English type, and Olga Freedland in an acrobatic novelty act.

RUSSELL THEATRE

The Russell presents Sunday and Monday "The Big Clock" with Ray Milland and Maureen O'Sullivan. On the eve of a seven year delayed honeymoon, Ray Milland editor of a magazine in the Janoth (Chas. Laughton) group, has had one too many drinks with Rita Johnson girl friend of Laughton who comes to her apartment as Milland is leaving and kills her. Laughton does not recognize Milland and so puts him in charge of a manhunt to find the man who was with Rita, and whom he intends to have killed. Milland finds a way to pin the murder where it belongs and is aided by his wife, Maureen O'Sullivan. Also "Fighting Mustang" with Sunset Carson. The news and a Cartoon complete this bill. Don't forget the Russell is air-conditioned for your comfort.

IDEAL THEATER

The Ideal presents Sunday and Monday "Tarzan's Secret Treasure" with Johnny Weismuller and Maureen O'Hara. This is considered the best of all Tarzan's pictures, full of adventure, romance and thrills. You perhaps have always enjoyed Tarzan, so don't miss seeing "Tarzan's Secret Treasure" Also "West of Sonora" with Smiley Burnett and Charles Starrett. A cartoon completes this show.

Grace: "Do you know what chemical warfare is?"

Lois: "Yes." Chemical warfare is waged between blondes and brunettes."

"The Bride Goes Wild" At Southland

Jun Allyson, the tiny blonde chorine who danced her way to a place among the top film favorites of Hollywood, is the romantic interest of Van Johnson in the gay new romantic comedy, "The Bride Goes Wild," playing at the Southland Theatre this Friday and Saturday.

June plays a prim new England school ma'm who tries to reform bachelor playboy Van Johnson in this engaging new hit, packed with laughs for the entire family. Freckled-faced Butch Jenkins, beauteous Arlene Dahl, Hume Cronyn and Una Merkel head the excellent supporting cast of "The Bride Goes Wild," which is playing at the Southland with "Rose of Santa Rosa," starring the Hoosier Hotshots.

MEET THE MODEL — Ann Thomas, a girl with flaming red hair plays the role of Dixie Blake — the diamond in the-rough model of NBC's new Monday-through-Friday comedy drama, "We Love and Learn."

A farmer watched in amazement as his dinner guest, an Army officer, devoured an astonishing amount of chicken. After dinner as they sat on the porch, a rooster came strutting by.

"My," exclaimed the officer, "that's a mighty proud-looking rooster."

"He should be," said the farmer. "He's just given two sons to the Army."

As Pegler Sees It

By Westbrook Pegler
Released by WNU Features

DECISION of the bosses of the C.I.O. to oppose the Communist traitors in the campaign of 1948 is a political stroke unrelated to patriotism and principle. It will be remembered that Roosevelt alternately disowned and embraced the Communists, according to circumstances. Another time, the same union politicians, carrying spurious credentials as spokesmen for several millions of American citizens, might find it expedient to collaborate with and defend the Communists as they did in many cases in the past. Their credentials are fraudulent for many reasons but primarily because THERE IS NO GUARANTEE AND SMALL PRETENSE OF HONESTY IN UNION ELECTIONS.

The case of Harold Christoffel of Milwaukee, now 36 years old, formerly president of Local 248 of United Auto Workers at the Allis-Chalmers plant in Milwaukee, will show that the present mood of the C.I.O. and of United Auto Workers is entirely political. It also will enlighten the public on the reliability of union elections.

Christoffel recently was found guilty on six counts of perjury in the district court of Washington, D.C., for having denied under oath to a committee of congress that he was a Communist or ever had been one. He is one of the most treacherous operators in the entire union racket whether C.I.O. or A.F. of L. During the war, he was the most dangerous because other union politicians in the C.I.O. and the auto workers who knew he was a member of this traitorous Russian band fought him only as a political rival within the racket but never as an enemy of the United States. They never denounced him to the public as a traitorous plotter against the country because that would have been red-baiting and they always were ready to make a deal for Communist strength in some political coup within the union or to terrorize a community by organized riots. The Communists are expert rioters and terrorists.

Stroke of Sabotage

Christoffel and a small group of fellow Communists at Allis-Chalmers were responsible for a strike of 78 days in 1941 which was the most destructive stroke of sabotage that any enemy struck this country in the war. The Wisconsin employment relations board said in writing: "The officers of Local 248, Harold Christoffel and others, caused at least 2,200 ballots to be marked as favoring the strike and caused such ballots to be counted."

The board had authorized examination of the ballots by Clark Sellers, Los Angeles, and John F. Tyrell, Milwaukee, experts in handwriting and disputed documents. They acted independently and reached the same conclusion by the same evidence which was unnoticeable to the layman's eye.

Christoffel and his co-conspirators struck Allis-Chalmers in January, 1941, while Hitler and Stalin were allies and the American Communists were doing all they could to hamper the war preparations of the United States.

The attitude of the Communists then was similar to Henry Wallace's attitude today.

Ballots are Inspected

Christoffel's local of United Auto Workers contained only a minority of the workers. Fewer than half of the employees voted, so the strike failed to carry. But two days later, on January 21, Christoffel took another vote. This one was pulled off in union headquarters, subject to no outside observation or supervision. The racketeers reported 6,730 ballots as against a total of 4,547 persons clicked off on an automatic counter by a company official across the street as the voters entered the place.

The union would have refused to submit the ballots for expert inspection but had made the careless mistake of delivering them to the employment relations board in a trivial dispute over the mere wording of the proposition. Thus they were in hand when Sellers and Tyrell wanted to see them and they found glaring proof that the Communists had forged more than 2,000 "yes" votes.

There were batches of a hundred fake votes tied together. They had been marked in series by the same hand and enlarged photographs brought out "ghost marks" on many of them, proving that they had been marked wholesale, one ballot atop another. Voters mark single ballots and thus do not leave vacant impressions on other ballots. The case was so strong that the union lawyers didn't try to deny the findings.

The Allis-Chalmers strike involved absolutely no labor dispute between the management and any employee. It was a Communist frameup which held up manufacture of many great machines which were needed for manufacture of other machines.

Economic Highlights

Happenings that affect the dinner pails, dividend checks and tax bills of every individual, national and international problems inseparable from local welfare.

While attention in this country has been centered on domestic politics, history-making events are occurring in Europe. In Berlin the cold war has reached fantastic proportions with the Russians stubbornly attempting to starve out the British and American sone by blockadinng land routes into that city, while the latter seek to circumvent the Russians by establishing what is probably the world's greatest and most costly air freight system. If the western sector of Berlin and its nearly two million inhabitants is to survive without Russian supplies, a minimum of 6,000 tons of food and other necessities must be shipped in by air each day. Two thousand tons of coal alone are needed at an estimated delivery cost of sixty dollars a ton. The aim of the Western Powers is to get 400 cargo planes in operation. From all accounts, however, the Berlin impasse is not likely to lead to armed conflict. In the words of the U. S. News, "Neither side is willing to cross the border line leading to war, but further crises just short of war lie ahead for Berlin."

In another sector of Europe, Yugoslavia's rebellion against Moscow is the first evidence that the new communist empire is not all harmonious. For the first time there are indications that the Marshall plan may be beginning to pay off. The countries of the western block are definitely showing signs of revival. The people are going back to work. Under the stimulus of at least nominal opportunity for free enterprise, industries are expanding, and commerce is beginning to move. Dollars from the United States may be helping. Yugoslavia, under the leadership of Marshall Tito, is showing signs of a desire to free itself from the grip of Russian dictatorship, and turn to the West for economic aid that Russia cannot provide. Yugoslavia is not the only trouble spot in the Russian satellite system Bulgaria and Albania have been invited to join Yugoslavia in a Balkan federation to resist Soviet pressure. Hungary and Rumania, former Axis satellites still occupied by Soviet troops, are bitter over Russian seizure of property. Early in June the communist controlled government of Rumania under a so-called program of Nationalization, confiscated without indemnity to owners most of the industries in Rumania, including ore and oil refineries, iron and heavy industries, rolling mill industries, metallurgic plants, technical enterprises, all transport and electric enterprises, coal companies, natural gas companies, distilleries and many others. Even candy and chocolate factories were seized.

It is too soon to get overly optimistic, but at least the myth of Kremlin infallibility is punctured. The people of Western Europe are growing increasingly restive. The inherent weaknesses of the slave state are beginning to appear in the Russian satellite countries just as they appeared in nations compelled to live under the "protective custody" of the Nazi terror. The feeling is growing that Russia will have her hands too full in Eastern Europe to make serious trouble elsewhere for some time to come.

Those looking forward to a dramatic overnight housecleaning of political appointees, with hundreds of thousands of Federal jobs opening up for faithful party followers in the event of a Republican victory in November, are due to be disappointed. Most of the 2,061,000 jobholders in the Federal government now drawing an aggregate salary of $5,700,000,000 are protected by civil service. Overnight mass firing of Federal employes with rehiring on a political basis is the last thing to expect from a Dewey administration, on the basis of the record in New York. Postal employes account for 489,000 Federal workers. "Blue collar workers" in arsenals, shipyards, naval stations and similar activities number around 471,000. Overseas employees number above 230,000. These three groups number over a million and will remain substantially the same regardless of any change in national administration. If the next administration is seriously economy minded the force of public employes may be curtailed to some extent through abolishment or revamping of existing Federal agencies. This would not create new jobs.

Political jobs as such, according to one estimate, may amount to less than one half of 1 per cent of the payroll at this time. That gives some idea of the job turnover that may follow immediately with a change of administration. One half of 1 per cent would involve 10,000 jobs inside the United States.

* * *

The handwriting is on the wall for irresponsible union leadership. The labor unions in this country are now in the position industry was a decade ago. If such leadership is not discarded, the pendulum of public opinion will swing against unions until it really hurts. This fact was emphasized in the words of Business Week: "Unions have had a sharp reminder of what it can cost them if they fail to file 60-day strike notices under the Taft-Hartley law. The price can be loss of status as collective bargaining agent. That's what happened to the striking International Association of Machinists at Boeing Airplane Company's Seattle plant. The I. A. M. local lost its representation rights through a court decision. This independent union once had a firm hold at Boeing, now it is apt to lose its grip."

Candlelight Ceremony Feature Wedding

At a candlelight ceremony, Saturday, June 26, at 8:30 p.m., Miss Merle R. Cochenour exchanged wedding vows with Mr. Clarence O. Russ. The Rev. E. L. [illegible] read the double ring ceremony in the Lexington Methodist Church before an altar decorated with palms, white gladioli, baby's breath, plumosis, dragon fern, and a twin seven-branch candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Cochenour, 742 W. Gay St., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. Otto [illegible] S. Parsons Av, and [illegible]. W. Pa.

[illegible] by her father. The bride wore a gown of white Duchesse satin fashioned with a [illegible] neckline long, [illegible] fitted sleeves ending in points over the wrists, and a slim fitted bodice. The full skirt was gathered to the bodice, and terminated in a modified train. The finger tip veil of English imported illusion was caught by a queen Mary of seed pearls. She carried a fan bouquet of white carnations, and baby's breath centered with an orchid and tied with a white satin ribbon, and matching streamers.

The sister of the bride, Mrs. Edward Senn of Buffalo, was matron of honor, and wore a gown of powder blue taffeta and marquisette designed with a plunging neckline, clip sleeves, slim fitted taffeta bodice with self covered buttons extending down the front. The bouffant skirt was gathered to the bodice and fell softly over a taffeta slip to the floor. She carried a fan bouquet of white and blue asters and baby's breath, tied with white satin [illegible]. She wore matching mitts and halo.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Margaret Russ, and Miss Atilda Beatley. Their gowns were in aqua and pink, styled similar to the matron of honor's. They wore matching mitts and halos, and carried colonial bouquets of yellow dyed violet mums and baby's breath.

Donna May Gains, Chillicothe, and Judith E. Senn, Buffalo, nieces of the bride, served as flower girls, and wore yellow and blue gowns, similar to the other attendants, and matching halos. They carried old fashioned baskets of mixed flowers.

Best man for Mr. Russ was Mr. Edward Senn of Buffalo, and seating the guests were Mr. Harvey Russ, the brother of the bridegroom, and Mr. Robert Heil, nephew of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 22 guests was held at Woodman Hall. Hostesses were Mrs. Lewis Johnson, Mrs. A. Muirhead, and Mrs. Fred Kauts.

The newlyweds are making their home at 742 W. Gay St for the present.

Fred Donley Opens New Welding Shop

Fred Donley, well known South Sider, has opened his new welding shop at 1919 S. Sixth St.

Fred, who resides at 114 Woodrow has one of the most complete welding shops on the South Side. He features a portable welding outfit that enables you to have welding done in your home, or place of business, this means a great saving of time and labor to everyone.

Fred, who formerly worked for the C. & O. and Pennsylvania Railroads, is able to do all types of welding, and no job is too big or too small. For expert welding at a reasonable cost to you, call Fred, either at GA 0941, his business phone or at home GA 8586.

Blood Donation Needed For Wm. "Bill" Walters

William "Bill" Walters, 425 Thurman Ave. is in Mt. Carmel Hospital seriously ill.

The hospital needs blood for Mr. Walters. Any type of blood will do.

Persons wishing to do so may apply at the hospital. They must not have eaten any food at least for four hours before giving their blood.

Donors call at the hospital any day except Sunday.

Here is a chance to help a fellow South Sider.

Thurman Stop In Operation

Through the able assistance of members of City Council a bus stop has been placed at the corner of Thurman and Jaeger Sts.

This will do much to eliminate the hazard, caused to the Thurman Ave. Fire crew, which has to use Thurman Ave. for all fire runs, east of them.

Merchants in this area will be especially pleased because, bus riders can get off the busses now and shop before going home.

The ordinance to force the Columbus Southern Ohio Electric Co. was drawn by Walter Snider, and was given able assistance by Dr. O. J. Fillinger and Joseph Jones.

How about sending these councilmen a little card of thanks?

Two More Band Concerts

Two more programs are promised for the coming week in city parks by the Federation of Musicians Band. One of these will be given Sunday at 8 p.m. in Franklin Park and the other Wednesday night, at the same hour, in Westgate Park.

Both of these concerts, which will have the same content, will be conducted by Robert C. Matzer, well known as the leader of the Elks Band, nationally recognized, and the soloist will be the famous Novella Craft, who has been heard locally in "Countess Maritza" and other vehicles and in a dozen Ohio cities in streamlined operetta versions.

The two concerts are financed by the record and transcription fund of the American Federation of Musicians.

George Lambert Opens Confectionary

George Lambert, 2341 Groveport Pk. opened a new confectionery at the above address. George is featuring home-made ice-cream made with the best ingredients obtainable. It will pay you people to drive out to 2341 Groveport Pk. this evening and try some of George's ice cream, obtainable in cones, pints or quarts.

They also feature a beer and wine carry-out and are open daily and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

George is a real South Sider, having resided on the South Side 22 years. It's a nice ride out to George's, so while taking a ride tonight stop in. You'll like it.

He: "Shall we go to the movies?"

She "We don't have to. Mother and Dad are going."

Board Of Education Needs Awakening

One of the biggest needs of the education system of our city, is a Technical High School.

A city the size of Columbus, which is now approaching the 500,000 mark., has nothing of this kind.

The only school is the Trades High School on E. Spring Street, which is not much better than a dump. It is used principally for a school for underprivileged boys and also for incorrigibles.

The true basis of all education is to train boys and girls to make a living.

Our present system of High Schools is nothing more than a College preparatory course.

Not all boys or girls can go to college in fact the percentage is very small, amounting to only 20 per cent.

A high school diploma, while it is a fine thing to have, without specific training is worth very little.

A Technical High School could train our youngsters to be machinists, cabinet makers, draftsmen, core makers, molders, carpenters, brick layers, plumbers, estimators, all branches of printing trades, engravers and many other trades.

Some of the above trades are adaptable to women, but to these could be added clothes designing, beautician training, tailoring and other lines for woman.

This would insure your children a trade with a decent standard of living.

The personnel of the Columbus Board of Education, is largely academic in their training. For that reason they have gone to sleep in the needs of the coming citizens of Columbus.

Our Board of Education needs waking up from their Rip Van Winkle attitude to this vital need.

They say that it would cost money to start such a school. We believe again they are asleep because when it comes to education of our children the Columbus Board of Education has never been turned down by the voters.

We say that the Columbus Board of Education should, at once, begin to plan this Technical High School. We are sure that the voters of the city would back up any extra levy for sufficient money to cover this school, even if it cost up to $2,500,000.

It is also time for the citizens of Columbus to wake up and demand that the Rip Van Winkle members of the Columbus Board of Education also wake up.

The higher earning power of our future men in the industrial world, the higher will be the development of Columbus.

This vital educational need should be put before the voters in the 1949 municipal election. The Technical High School should be open for our young citizens not later than the fall of 1951.

What We Mean By Parasites

Several weeks ago we ran an article on a large part of the high cost of living being due to hiring and keeping on the government payrolls of excess employees, whom we called parasites.

This article, while we meant what we said, should not have included those necessary government employees who earn their money by hard work. But we were talking about the chair warmers, employees, that spent hours at the lobby refreshment stands, those who twiddle their thumbs at desks and look wise, and those who are on the payroll and are not seen from one payday to the next of which their are several hundred thousands.

These are the men who in a way are largely responsible for high income taxes and the high cost of

It does not only refer to government employees, but also reaches into state, county and city employees.

We are not referring to the man whose job is essential such as the postmen, certain employees in the government depots and other vital services, also city and county employees who do vital work are certainly not included.

The public employee who is not necessary is a parasite. He certainly does not earn and surely adds taxes to the work either in private or public life.

Have You Compared Rice's Prices?

Prices, in the last month, have skyrocketed to a new high in foodstuffs. Wholesale ment prices on beef and pork have brought the highest prices ever on the Chicago Livestock Market. This in turn, has of course, effected every household in th country, causing us all to think twice before buying.

Today balancing the household budget is a national headache, but before you housewives start taking too many aspirins, don't you relax and compare prices.

Each week Rice's Food Market carries a food advertisement in the Booster. We believe that you will find tremendous savings can go a long way towards relieving your already overtaxed budget, by comparing prices of other stores with those of Rice's Food Market.

DeVany Tailors Feature New Fall Styles

DeVany Cleaners and Tailors, corner Parsons & Gates, are now featuring their new line of men's fall and winter suits, top coats and slacks, and are at present able to give two weeks delivery on their made-to-order clothes.

You men who have not had the pleasure of visiting DeVany's and acquainting yourself with the superb line of clothes they handle, will certainly be surprised. There are hundreds of patterns to choose from, plaids, stripes, coverts, tweeds and those ever reliable gabardines and serge.

There are many advantages to buying made-to-order clothes at DeVany's, couple of reasons are: That regardless of your size, shape, long, short, or pleasingly plump, you will be assured of your proper fit. You can select your choice of double-breasted, or single-breasted, or any other style you may want, and all their suits are at reasonable prices.

Stop in and see Bill or Ralph DeVany, and they will be glad to show you their merchandise, of which they are so rightfully proud.

Remember it only takes two weeks to have the suit of your choice made up.

St. Paul's Festival

Edwin Knoebel Appointed

W. P. Shultz, president of the Columbus Foremen's Club, today announced the appointment of Edwin L. Knoebel, as coordinator of the club following the recent resignation of Chas. E. Smith.

Former Columbus industrial executive, Knoebel was recently associated with the Joy Manufacturing Company in New Philadelphia as personnel director where he organized a Management Club affiliated with the National Association of Foremen.

A long record of personnel and production experience with Ranco Inc., and Ebco Manufacturing Company in Columbus qualifies him for the full time job of coordinating the activities of the Columbus Foremen's Club and the eight shop clubs with a combined membership of nearly 800 management men—all members of the NAF.

Past president of the Columbus Industrial Executives Club and former treasurer of the Central Ohio Personnel Association, Knoebel held the office of member of the Board of Directors in charge of Welfare in the Columbus Foremen's Club in 1944. During the war years he served as industry member on several NLRB panels.

Married, and the father of a son and daughter, both married, he now resides at 1256 Northwest Boulevard. His son, Edwin L. Knoebel, Jr., is assistant manager of M & R Dietetic Laboratories in Columbus, and a veteran of World War II.

Mr. Knoebel plans to continue the remarkable achievements of the Columbus Foremen's Club as it shoots for recognition as outstanding Club in America for the fourth consecutive year during the coming NAF Convention in Philadelphia, September 23 to 25. It is expected that about fifty of the local club's membership will attend the convention which will be presided over by the national president, Bernard A. Hodapp of the Peerless Saw Company, Columbus.

Robert Wooley Studies Refrigeration

Robert H. Wooley, machinist's mate, third class, USN of 821-B Livingston ave., Columbus, Ohio is now attending the Refrigeration and Air-conditioning School at the Naval Station, Norfolk, Va.

The courses at the school include four weeks of refrigeration and two weeks of air-conditioning. The refrigeration instruction includes theory, breaking down of compressors, automatic control and the making of ice cream, and actual operation of compressors. The air-conditioning course consists of theory, operations, and trouble shooting.

Upon completion of the course he will return to his previous duty station or will be given further assignment by the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

Wooley entered the Naval Service April 23, 1946, and received his recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Wants To Make Living

We have, right here in the South Side, a woman who has been in St. Francis Hospital, or home in bed, for three years. The woman, Mrs. Elizabeth Leibrand, who lives at 513 City Park Ave. is confined with a tubercular hip.

Mrs. Leibrand wants a portable typewriter to do typing for people to help her make an income.

She is saving sales tax stamps in order to get the typewriter.

It seems to us, that some of our good South Siders could do much for this woman by leaving their sales tax stamps at her home.

A woman who is game enough to lay on the flat of her back for three years and wants a typewriter to make a living certainly needs help.

Parents Are Responsible For Destruction

There is just one way to break up the destructiveness of a certain group of children in Lincoln Park and that is making the parents pay for their children's destruction.

Last Tuesday two boys kicked in the windows of the new Field House in that park, built fires in the building in several places with the idea of burning it down.

These same boys on several occasions have been in the Lincoln Park School and tried to start fires.

Recently boys in Lincoln Park tried to stop the installation of slides and swings.

On other occasions this vandalism has been carried on in Schiller Park with the breaking of windows in the newly remodled shelter house, and uprooting of young trees in that park.

Under a new policy set up by Nick Barack of the City Recreation Department all damages will be charged to the parents of these wayward children, and they will be made to pay as they are responsible.

This same condition now is in effect as to street lights where they are damaged by your children as you will be billed by service director, Elmer Keller, and mad to pay the damages.

It is up to your parents to know what your children are doing as you are responsible for your boys' actions. So either make your children behave or you are liable to wake up paying the bill.

Teacher: "Tommy, what is one-fifth of six-sixteenths?"

Tommy: "I don't exactly know, 'cept 'tain't 'nuff to worry 'bout."

Southwood Tennis Results

Columbus Tennis Club gave Southwood their seventh straight Columbus Tennis League defeat Sunday, but Southwood in turn achieved one thing they had been attempting to do all year long. In the final match of the afternoon the Southwood doubles combination of captain Joe Wollett and Kelton Garwood hung one on Preston and Lou Sinks, the scores being 6-3, 3-6, 7-5 in a tightly played match.

In other matches Arnie Levenstein, 1948 district runnerup, gave it to Harold Ziegler with no trouble, winning 6-0, 6-0. George Glacken of the Tennis Club dittoed the count on Mickey Ziegler. Garwood almost upset Preston Sinks in doubles, once having match point, only to finally lose out. The scores were 3-6, 7-5, 6-2 Sinks. In the other doubles match Levenstein and Sinks took the Ziegler brothers 6-4, 6-0.

Following is the team standing.

	W-L
Olentangy Village	6-0
Columbus Tennis Club	5-1
Grandview	5-2
Upper Arlington	3-3
Westgate Tennis Club	2-4
Realty Park	1-3
Bexley	1-4
SOUTHWOOD	0-7

Southwood's regular league schedule is completed, although they may play some additional matches. Announcements will be made regarding these. Olentangy has one match yet to play. If they win that, they are the 1948 city champions. If they should lose to Bexley, then they would have to play it off with Columbus Tennis Club.

"What are you thinking about, Jack?"

"The same thing you are, Josephine."

"If you do, I'll scream."

"Stop! Do you think a drink of that vile brew will possibly quench your thirst?"

"Naw, I'll have to drink the whole jug."

New Duck Regulations

The Federal authorities have announced migratory waterfowl hunting regulations for the 1948 season, by flyways. In the Mississippi flyway, which includes Ohio, a season of 20 consecutive days is prescribed, opening October 29 and extending to November 27, over the whole state, except Pymatuning Reservoir, and a quarter mile therefrom all around. The Pymatuning season opens October 15 and runs to and including November 13. Same bag limits and hours as the rest of the State.

There is to be no shooting before 12 o'clock noon on opening day; on other days from one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset.

Bag and possession limits for ducks in the Mississippi flyway states, including Ohio, will remain the same as last year—four a day and eight in possession.

Geese: Daily bag and possession, four, including in such limit either two Canada geese, or two white-fronted geese, or one of each.

Coots: The bag limit reduced from 25 to 15 birds a day, and not more than that number in possession.

Rails and Gallinules: September 1 to October 30.

Woodcock: October 8 to November 6. Bag limit same as last year.

In the United States hunters can make interstate shipments of waterfowl, legally taken, up to 48 hours following the close of the season in the State where taken. Dressed birds are now required to have the head, head plumage and feet attached in transportation of dressed birds. The post-season period for possession of migratory game birds remain the same as last season, 30 days.

The regulation which prohibits the use of automatic-loading or repeating shotguns capable of holding more than three shells continues in effect; a new amendment this year, however, provides that the plug in such a shotgun must be incapable of being removed without disassemblying the gun.

The regulations do not authorize the taking of waterfowl by means of bait, or with the aid of live duck or goose decoys.

South Side Y Interlub League

The "old men" have done it again! The Amerigo-Acirema Club Softball team, managed by "Chuck Grossinger" gave the Amerigo Juniors a 12 to 4 trimming to clinch the first round of the South Side YMCA Inter-Club League played at the Y-Park.

The Seniors remained undefeated in play while the Juniors only defeat was in the hands of their elders. "Doc" Heintz allowed only five hits while his team-mates got to two Junior hurlers for 12 hits.

The Right Angle Seniors trounced the Amigo Junior outfit by 13 to 3. The Right Angelers saw their victory by the way of five hits and eleven walks. The Amigos collected five hits from Finta the Right Angle hurler.

The Right Angle Juniors defeated a Fornof team 8 to 7 in a "B" division game. This game featured three home runs; one by W. Brumfield of the Juniors and one each by Holley and Hall of the Fornof team. These two teams now have a two out of three series to play to determine the "B" division winner.

Sportlight by Grantland Rice

SO FAR the United States has taken only a mild interest in the coming Olympic games to be held this summer in London. It has been taken for granted that the U. S. will mop up again as usual. Even more so this time, with our athletes well-fed and most other competitors reportedly underfed.

So if we win, well, why not? The United States team should win in a romp. It shouldn't be even close. It should be no contest. That's the early setup. No credit if you win—pretty awful if you lose.

At the Berlin games in 1936, we had several talks with trainers and coaches and star athletes from other nations. Here was their verdict:

"The United States is a nation of acrobats—not athletes. You can't win from 400 meters and on beyond this distance. You have no runners with any stamina—runners who can travel a mile and longer.

"You are marvelous acrobats—like circus performers. You can sprint and pole vault and hurdle. These are all acrobatics. They make no demand on stamina or courage."

It still takes an athlete to run and jump.

The answer is that we have won too seldom at testing distances. We have no runners from the mile to the marathon worth naming.

Once again, we'll probably win the pole vault—rated a feat of acrobatics and not the work of an athlete by foreign nations. It is certainly on the easier side than it is to get ready for 1,500 or 5,000 or 10,000 meters.

The U. S. has never been much interested in stamina—which is even more important than speed. Speed gives out quickly. Stamina carries you all the way through.

When you sift all the angles, the United States hasn't done nearly as well as our ballyhoo experts have figured out the case. Without our Negro stars, this country would have been something of a joke.

In place of mopping up in London, we still can be something of a joke—despite the winning edge we have in food, the main basis of condition. We have every advantage this way. It will be interesting to see what we can do with it.

Stars Miss Big Show

One world series weakness is that too many stars had no chance to show at the big show.

Napoleon Lajoie, one of the greatest, never was seen in this classic. And he was something to see, the most graceful ballplayer that ever lived. And one of the game's greatest natural hitters.

Walter Johnson came to his first world series when he was on his way over the mystic hill. The earlier Walter Johnson would have joined Mathewson with three shutouts.

Rob Feller has never had a world series appearance, and Feller also is just about over the top. Feller came to Cleveland 12 years ago and he has been pouring that fast ball through for a long time. The navy also took three or four of his best years. The navy caught him at his peak and held him a long time.

Also after returning to baseball, Feller has given a good part of his time to outside interests, which hasn't helped his baseball. But he still would be a shining spot in any post-season championship. Feller is one of the all-time greats. He won't have to bother about his spot at Cooperstown.

Rube Waddell, a world series natural, had his lone chance in 1905 when he suffered an injured shoulder in a train scuffle. So the Mathewson - Waddell duel never came off. That would have been up in the super class, the motion picture colossal stuff.

Still many stars have made the world series grade—Mathewson, Alexander, Cobb, Ruth, Collins, Jackson, Hornsby, Grove, Wagner, Brown, Kling, Plank, Coombs, Bender, Johnson, Wood, Fox, Fritsch, Dizzy Dean, Cochrane, Dickey, too many more to mention.

It would be nice to see Feller and a few more stars, who have never made the big show, slip under the tent and mingle with the elephants.

Fitzsimmons Is Tops

In the middleweight boxing division my nomination for the top man is Bob Fitzsimmons. Fitz was middleweight champion, light-heavyweight champion and heavyweight champion. He was a brilliant boxer. He was also a terrific puncher.

Fitz broke seven bones in both hands punching Jeffries in their second fight. He almost ripped Jeff's face away from his head. But he couldn't knock out the Jeffries of that period. No one else could. And this includes Jack Johnson who whipped a half-bald, fat, fading old-timer who was in no shape to fight anybody.

I saw Jeffries training for the Johnson fight in 1910. He was pitiful. He was a long way from the Jeffries I knew in 1903.

Right Angles Split Double Bill

The Right Angle Juniors Softball team of South Branch YMCA took it on the chin to the tune of 7 to 2 in the first game of a double header softball game played at the new Y-Park against the Ted Lewis Park All Stars from Circleville. In the second game they edged the out-of-towners by a score of 4 to 3.

Left fielder Coffland of the All Stars led his team to victory with four out of five at the bat. Ray Devonaux batted 1.000 for the Juniors in collecting three hits for three times at bat. Ray Devonaux, Right Angle hurler and Bennington of the All Stars each allowed seven hits.

The Right Angle Juniors led 2 to 0 at the end of the sixth, but the Circleville lads came back strong in the top half of the seventh to score seven runs and to cinch the game.

In the second game the Juniors took advantage of nine walks and two hits to squeeze out the 4 to 3 victory. Kochenour got on the mound for the juniors and allowed only 4 hits while Morgan did the chores for the All Stars.

After the game, the boys enjoyed a corn roast and social evening of movies and inside game.

Miss Knies To Wed Soon

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knies, 953 Fairwood-av, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Helen Catherine, to Leon H. Ziegler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ziegler, Chillicothe.

Miss JoAnn Pfeifer Wedded To John W. Tabor

Seven-branch candelabra, palms, and baskets of white gladioli decorated the altar of Emmanuel Lutheran Church for the wedding of Miss Jo-Ann Pfeifer to Mr. John W. Tabor, on June 18. The Rev. Carlton Sutorius officiated at the candlelight double-ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Pfeifer, 489 Reinhard Av, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tabor, 395 Beshler Av.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of heavy ivory satin, fashioned with a tightly fitted bodice, trimmed with seed pearls, finished with a sweetheart neckline and long, tight sleeves forming a point over each hand. The full skirt terminated in a long train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses which had a shower of satin streamers and baby's breath.

Mrs. Edwin Pfeifer attended her sister-in-law as matron of honor, and wore a powdered blue marquisette over blue satin styled with a round neckline and puffed sleeves. She carried a bouquet of pink roses with a pink and blue satin ribbon bow.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ethel Grandstaff, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Dale Krehlmeyer of Springfield, Ohio. They wore yellow and pink gowns of marquisette with round necklines and puffed sleeves. They carried bouquets of pink roses identical to the one carried by the matron of honor.

Little Barbara Jean Pfeifer, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a blue organdy gown with puffed sleeves, full skirt, and embroidered in tiny pink flowers. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Kenneth Tabor attended his brother as best man. Seating the guests were Edwin Pfeifer, brother of the bride; David Grandstaff, nephew of the bridegroom, and Rodney Tabor, brother of the bridegroom.

A reception for the couple was held at the church immediately following the service.

The bride is a graduate of South High School and Capital University. The bridegroom is also a graduate of South High School and is now associated with the Lowe Brothers Paint Co.

After a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Tabor will be at home at 382½ E. Whittier St.

Martha Justus A Bride Of John Hanley

The altar of Holy Rosary Church was decorated with candelabra, gladioli and snapdragons, for the wedding Saturday, June 19, of Miss Martha Louise Justus and John Michael Hanley. The Rev. T. E. Hopping officiated at the 10:30 a.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Albert M. Justus, 990 Studer Av, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hanley, 494 Kelton Avenue.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of nylon marquisette fashioned with a sheer yoke outlined with a ruffle of Chantilly lace. The full skirt terminated in a cascade train of Chantilly lace. The waist length veil of illusion was held in place by a Victorian headdress trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid.

Miss Mary Margaret Feeney was maid of honor, wearing a pale yellow gown fashioned with a fitted bodice and peplum of lace and a full marquisette skirt. She carried a cascade of yellow gladioli and carnations with matching headdress.

Miss Pauline Justus, sister of the bride, and Miss Sue Ellen Patton, niece of the bride, wore similarly styled dresses of pink and blue and carried cascades of pink and blue gladioli and carnations. Their headdresses were of matching flowers.

Best man was Mr. Donald Tinnerne and ushers were Richard Kerwin and Donald Cook.

The bride was graduated from Rosary High School and is associated with Stevenson & Dollings. The bridegroom was graduated from Rosary High School and is a student at Ohio State University.

Candle Light Features Wedding

Illuminated candles decorated with satin bows and huckleberry foliage lined the middle aisle of St. Francis Church on the morning of June 26 at 9:30 for the wedding of Miss Yolanda Margaret Moretti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Giulio Moretti, 1099 Michigan Av, to William J. Franz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius A. Franz, 1451 Linwood Av. The double ring ceremony took place at a nuptial high mass with the Rev. Fr. Kessler officiating.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father. She wore a gown of [illegible] light satin, fashioned with a fitted pointed basque bodice and a venise lace bertha edging the sheer marquisette yoke and long sleeves that formed points over the hand. The extremely full skirt cascaded over an old fashion hoop skirt and terminated into a fanlike circular train. Her matching satin bonnet was edged in matching venise lace and held her fingertip veil of English silk ivory illusion. She carried a prayer book mounted with a white orchid, scattered lilies of the valley and white satin streamers.

Miss Julia Moretti attended her sister as maid of honor gowned in blue, fashioned with a fitted lace bodice, forming a large bow at the back, cap sleeves and a very full marquisette skirt over an old-fashioned hoop. She wore a matching picture hat and lace mitts. Her bouquet was a fan-shaped spray of American Beauty roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Rachel Tomei, Miss Ruth Franz, sister of the groom, and Miss Grace Joffre, all gowned identically as the maid of honor, carrying fan-shaped sprays of pink roses.

Mr. George Franz attended his brother as best man, and seating the guests were [illegible]

Miss Catherine Lievre Has Church Wedding

Miss Cathrine Lievre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August C. Lievre, 1458 Wager St. became the bride of Dennis D. Blauser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Blauser, of Cutler, Ohio, on June 12, at St. Ludlaus Church, with the Rev. Fr. Frank Reihl performing the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father wore a gown of [illegible] The fitted bodice featured a sweetheart neckline and the long [illegible] the hand. The [illegible] train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a crown of lace and seed pearls dotted with rhinestones. She carried a prayer book topped with a white orchid with a cascade of baby's breath.

Mrs. James M. Evans wearing a gown of aqua marquisette and [illegible] attended the [illegible]

[illegible] Miss Irene wore a yellow gown and matching tiara. They carried bouquets of spring flowers.

Best man for his brother was Ivan Blauser. Gail Remely and William Goddard, of Mantua, Ohio, were ushers.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was held at the home of the bride. A reception was held at 8 p.m. in Saxon Hall.

For her going away outfit, the bride chose a pink dress and matching hat and purse and aqua [illegible] The couple left after the reception for a wedding trip [illegible] Michigan, Canada, New [illegible] and Pennsylvania.

The bride is a graduate of South High School and is now employed at the Ohio Farm Bureau. The bridegroom was graduated from Athens High School in Athens, Ohio. He is associated with the Photostat Corporation.

Wed In Hawaii

Miss Mitsue Chinen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Saburo Chinen, [illegible] was given in marriage by her brother, Kaoru Chinen. Maid of honor was Miss Alice A. Nakano, and best man was Patricia Mangubat. The Rev. Charles E. Hopkins officiated.

The bridegroom was graduated from South High School and is working at Pearl Harbor Navy Yards. He is the son of Mrs. Birkley Hammond, 530 S. 3rd St.

News In The World Of Religion

The Methodist Church of Mexico, one of the daughters of the mission work of the Methodist church in the United States, and now an independent denomination, is celebrating the diamond jubilee of the entrance of Methodism in that land. From August 3 to 8, special festivities were held in Trinity Methodist Church, Mexico City, marking the anniversary of the establishment of missions there in 1873 by Dr. William Butler of the former Methodist Episcopal Church, and by Bishop John C. Keener of the former Methodist Church, South. Several hundred Methodists from "north of the border," including representatives of the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church, attended the celebration, and the series of associated gatherings. Bishop Eleazer Guerra, head of the Mexican Church, was in charge of the jubilee, and the principal guest of honor was Miss Clementina Butler of Boston, Mass., a daughter of Dr. Butler, and sister of Dr. John W. Butler who arrived in 1874. She herself is a veteran missionary from India.

A number of Protestant and Catholic and Jewish organizations, some of them established within the past year or two, are now busy working with various American communities in finding homes and occupations for the Displaced Persons who are now entering the United States, and the numbers who will be coming even more rapidly in the immediate months ahead. Church World Service has placed some 2,200 persons in satisfactory American surroundings in recent months; these persons are coming with the assistance of Protestant and Orthodox Church bodies. Even larger numbers are being cared for in well-organized units of the Roman Catholic Church; and rabbis and other Jewish leaders are caring for their own people. Many of these people are skilled workmen and professional experts, and many others will go into the agricultural belt to help in farming the world's crops. American communities are said to be receiving them well.

"The Christian obligation of Americans in world terms demands that responsibility be considered as two-fold in character," said Bishop Henry St. George Tucker, of the Protestant Episcopal Church, recently. "Our Christian love must include satisfying the immediate material needs of many the world over. But if our obligation is to achieve any long-range and lasting effect, it must develop the latent potentialities of nations so as to qualify their people to be citizens of the world and of the Kingdom of God . . . This responsibility cannot be fulfilled by material relief or the four freedoms alone. Only Christian love in the sense of extending to men everywhere the privilege of knowing God and entering into fellowship will enable us to fulfill the debt of the gospel. It must be made available to everyone."

The post war mayor of the port city of Nagasaki—the city upon which the second atomic bomb fell in Japan—is an active Christian and a member of the Methodist Church there. Mayor Matsumoto was educated at Kentucky Wesleyan College, Winchester, Ky., and later did graduate work at Northwestern and Columbia Universities. His wife was elected recently to the prefectural assembly. The new principal of Chinzei Gakuin, Methodist College in Nagasaki, Dr. Chiba, is also American-trained; he holds degrees in arts from Ohio Wesleyan University, and in divinity from Garrett Biblical Institute. Mayor Matsumoto and Dr. Chiba have recently selected a new site in Nagasaki for the erection of a church and a social settlement. The old church was destroyed in the bombing; and buildings of Chinzei Gakuin were destroyed also, but the college has been reorganized in temporary quarters, a former military hospital in Isahaya.

"New York City presents the greatest missionary challenge of any city or territory in America or the World," in the opinion of Dr. Mark A. Dawber, executive secretary of the Home Missions Council of North America. Dr. Dawber says that surveys show that of the 7,908,000 people in New York City, at least 3,500,000 a population equal to that of the city of Chicago—are without active membership in any Protestant or Catholic church or Jewish congregation. "New York City is now approaching the point in its history where secularism is destined to become the majority faith," he says. Describing the recent history of Protestantism in New York City as "one of retreat and retrenchment," he urges home mission boards of all denominations to pool their resources in a carefully planned, courageous program to win the multitudes from paganism to Christ." Protestantism, Catholicism, and Judaism are all "minority groups in New York City," Dr. Dawber asserts.

Lutherans To Hold Family Meeting

Sunday, August 15, from 2:00 to 9:00 p.m., will be the occasion of the family summer meeting of all Lutherans in Central Ohio. This will be held at Grace Lutheran Mens Club picnic grounds on Morse Road north of Gahanna on twenty-five acres of beautiful Ohio countryside.

Plenty of fun for the children as well as adults. Food and drinks are to be furnished on the grounds for those who do not bring a picnic basket. Religious services will be held at 3:00 p.m. under the stars with Rev. Harold Albert of the First English Lutheran Church being the speaker. President Ferd Weishaupt, of Grove City, urges all members to consider this as their worship service of the day if their church is on a vacation Sunday.

Willing Workers Hold Meeting

The Willing Workers of South Church of Christ held there class meeting August 6th at 7:30. Meeting was closed. A large group from the Women's Class joined the other class, and held a surprise party in honor of Mrs. A. A. Sebastian's birthday. Teacher of the Willing Workers Class. Beautiful gifts and cards were given. Delicious refreshments were served.

Miss Leffler Mr. Kreutzer Are Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leffler, 85 Lakeview-blvd, announce the engagement of their daughter, Joy Louise, to Harry Kreutzer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Kreutzer, 2086 S. High-st.

Miss Leffler and her fiance are both graduates of South High School. She now is associated with the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co. Mr. Kreutzer attended Ohio State University, where he was affiliated with Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, and now is in the contracting business with his father in the Modern Excavating Company.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Collura-Drury Wedding At St. Johns Church

St. John's Evangelist Catholic Church was the scene July 10 for the 9 o'clock nuptial Mass which united in marriage Miss Mary Collura and Ralph F. Dury. The Rev. F. W. Burkhart read the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white gladioli.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Collura, 1092 Sidney St, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dury, 705 S. Ohio Av.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of heavy bridal satin fashioned with a sweetheart neckline edged with Chantilly lace. The fitted sleeves ended in points over her hands. A full skirt with strands of Chantilly lace in front extended in a full cathedral train. Her full-length veil of imported illusion, elaborately trimmed and edged with an applique of Chantilly lace, was held in place by a tiara of fine beads. She carried a bouquet of white roses surrounded by stephanotis.

Miss Louise Giantonio was maid of honor and wore a gown of white marquisette over an aqua taffeta. Small braided embroidered motifs outline the neckline and very short cap sleeves. Her headdress was a picture hat of white hairbraid with aqua moline trim. She carried a fan-shaped bouquet of deep yellow roses with an aqua bow. Miss Clara Spinelli was bridesmaid and Mrs. Wanda Collura was bridesmatron. They wore identical gowns of pink marquisette fashioned with portrait necklines with triple folds. Their headdresses were picture hats of pink hairbraid with aqua moline trim. They carried fan-shaped bouquets of red roses with an aqua bow.

Clement Dury was best man and seating the guests were Bud Gullis and Joseph Collura, brother of the bride.

Miss Reba Jividen Wed Recently

Miss Reba B. Jividen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Jividen, 191 E. Markison Av, became the bride of Jack R. Alton, son of Mrs. Thelma Alton, June 13 in the Thurman Av Methodist Church. The Rev. Joseph Bronson, minister of the Southwood Church of Christ, heard the exchange of vows before an altar decorated with candelabra, huckleberry trees, and urns of blue delphinium and peach gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in classic ivory satin, with a tight fitted bodice, fashioned to accentuate the wide girdle and sweetheart neckline. The long sleeves pointed over the hands and the full skirt terminated in a large circular train. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a cascade of calla lilies and removable orchids.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. Ruth Baswein, matron-of-honor, and Mrs. Ann Holderman, bridesmatron, both sisters of the bride. They wore identical gowns of powder blue dotted swiss, styled with a high neckline, fitted bodice, and bustle back with cascading ruffles down the fully gathered skirts. The girls were matching half bonnets and carried fan bouquets of peach gladioli and glamelias.

Roland C. Baswein was best man, and seating the guests were Carl Jividen, brother of the bride, and Stanley Ballou.

To Wed September 11

Mr. and Mrs. George Von Moegen, 580 E. Moler St., are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Louise Margaret, to Mr. Robert Joseph Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Baker, 1716 S. Champion Av.

Miss Von Moegen is a graduate of Bellpoint High School and attended Vocational Arts Business Center. She now is associated with the American Education Press.

Mr. Baker is a graduate of Aquinas High School and served with the Navy in the Pacific Theater. He is a senior in the college of commerce at Ohio State University.

The open-church wedding will take place Saturday, Sept. 11, at 9:30 a.m. at Corpus Christi Church with the bridegroom's uncle, Rev. Father Joseph P. Kiefer, being the celebrant.

Double Ring Ceremony Features Wedding

On Wednesday July 21st at 5:30 p.m. in the St. Joseph's Cathedral Chapel, Miss Norma Jean Taylor, granddaughter of Mrs. Beatrice Harlow of Los Angeles, California was united in marriage with Frank Hoinoski, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoinoski, 165 Dexter Rd. The Rev. Fr. White officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Baskets of white gladioli decorated the altar when the bride given in marriage by her grandfather, approached the altar. Her gown was of white marquisette over soft white taffeta. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of lace. She wore white silk lace mitts and she carried a colonial bouquet of old fashioned flowers and roses. She wore white ice earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Margaret Guitar, was the maid of honor, wearing pink marquisette. Her bouquet was of the colonial design with blue streamers. Miss Jeane Bell was bridesmaid and wore a gown of blue marquisette. She also carried a colonial bouquet with pink ribbon. Both wore matching headdresses of white starched lace with contrasting streamers. White pearls with crystal centers were worn by the attendants, gifts of the bride.

Charles Bell was the best man and Dick Huffer seated the guests.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Laurice Acme of Los Angeles, wore a white organdy formal over a blue taffeta slip with a blue sash. Her corsage was of gardenias, her hat of white flowers. Mrs. Beatrice Harlow of Los Angeles, grandmother of the bride, chose a pearl gray lace dinner dress with pink accessories and wore a close fitting hat with pink feathers. Her corsage was of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother selected a blue ninon formal with gold accessories and a blue flower headdress. Her corsage was of gold peruvian lilies.

A reception was held in the Red and Walnut rooms at the Neil House for 100 guests. Mrs. Frank Hoinoski held a buffet lunch immediately after the reception at her home.

When the couple left on their honeymoon at Lake Erie, the bride changed to a black faille suit with pink accessories.

Women's Unemployment Grown Much Worse

Columbus Ohio Aug. 12 Last February, one out of every four persons asking for work at the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation Employment Service Division was a woman. Today, the percentage is one out of every three.

Ross Bowen, Administrator Frank J. Lausche pointed out that the situation for the woman worker was getting worse rather than better even though production was soaring, wages were at a record high and the national manpower supply appeared to a potential drain once a draft goes into operation.

A survey of those looking for work through the Bureau in the period between March 1 and June 1 revealed that the number of women applicants rose one-sixth while the number of men dropped one-fourth.

The professional managerial clerical and sales fields were the only ones in which the number of men jobseekers increased. As for the woman, such increases were reported for ALL but those seeking work in the service occupations. Domestics and hotel and restaurant workers fall into the service category.

Women applicants for professional and managerial jobs alone were up 32 per cent between March 1 and June 1 while those in the market for clerical and sales jobs increased about 17 per cent in the same period.

Club Alexander

Bob Mitchell, clever comediene holds forth again this week as emcee at Club Alexander. His back somersaults and harmonica playing gets a big hand. Miss Primrose with her unusual English wit is again held over, her reportoire is most enjoyable. An added attraction, this week is Carol Andre in a specialty act of tap and modern dancing.

RUSSELL THEATRE

The Russell presents Sunday and Monday "T Men" with Dennis O'Keefe and Mary Meade. A drama based on a factual case in the files of the Treasury Dept. There is the red-blooded, hard-boiled drama for those who relish such fare and to the more artistically inclined the productional finesse will be welcome, but here's thrill laden adventure that packs a two fisted wallop, the sizzling story of Uncle Sam's Daredevil Treasury agents who risk their lifes in the performance of duty, in the biggest, bravest, fastest, most daring job of all. Also "Buck Privates" with Abbott and Costello. Also "News and Cartoon."

CCC And East Side Auto Theaters

Patrons of the C.C.C. and Eastside Auto Theaters are provided with the best available movies for double feature programs, seven nights every week, rain or clear.

Messrs. Frank Yassenoff and Harold Schwarts, pioneers in the auto theater business in the Central Ohio area, make every possible effort to provide their patrons with the latest conveniences. They have made an extensive study in the wants of auto theater fans.

They have obtained the latest available equipment for the convenience of patrons. They also provide many services. For example, if you have the infant son or daughter in the car, you can keep the milk cold in the concession stand ice box.

Tonight and Saturday the double feature at the C.C.C., located at 1395 Harrisburg Pike, includes Dennis O'Keefe in "T Men" and Frances Langford and Gene Krupa in "Beat the Band."

The Eastside program for tonight and Saturday features Robert Young in RKO's famed "Crossfire," with Jack Haley in "Vacation in Reno" as the secondary.

Short subjects are added to the programs.

First showing each night is at dusk. The last feature goes on the screen at 11 each night at both theaters.

"The Noose Hangs High" At The Southland

Bud Abbot and Lou Costello are cartooned above by famed caricaturist Don Bevan as they attempt to elude a mob of gangsters in "The Noose Hangs High," their newest hit, which opens a three-day run at the Southland Theater on Sunday. The boys have $50,000 dollars which mob is determined to steal in this laugh-packed new screen comedy, scheduled to play at the Southland with "Renegade Girl," starring Ann Savage and husky Alan Curtis, as co-feature.

JANE RUSSELL HAS LEGS TOO! . . . and she prefers them seam-free! Here she is shown backstage at a New York theatre, where she told reporters she thinks women make a mistake to wear seams that are always crooked. These stockings are sold in leading brands everywhere.

Democratic Fish Fry Soon

Before entering the Navy he was employed by White Haines Optical Co.

Your Home

By Frances Ainsworth

I've just discovered a way to make steamed puddings in individual servings — and because this dessert is such a universal favorite I'd like to tell you my method.

I use custard cups instead of a regular steam-pudding mold grease them heavily and fill each half full of my regular pudding batter. Then, so they will steam well, I cover them tightly with a double-thickness of waxed paper—tied on with string or held in place with metal lids.

Once the glasses are filled and covered, I place them on a rack in my steamer, and add boiling water to come halfway up the sides of the glasses. When the water comes to a boil, I set my clock for one hour's steaming. When the hour is up, all I have to do is remove the pudding from the jars, cover with sauce and serve!

Incidentally, this is an ideal 'company" dessert, because you can make the pudding ahead of time Simply wrap each one in waxed paper until ready to use Then, reheat in the top of your double boiler.

Speaking of desserts, if you fix lunches — as I do — you may like to try this idea Slice each cake in two — then liberally frost the center. Put the pieces back together, wrap securely in waxed paper and pack in the lunch box. Cupcakes hold more frosting this way, and are easier to eat.

Isn't it surprising how many little home-making tricks we pick up each day? And surprising, too, how much we depend on that handy roll of waxed paper to save us time and trouble, isn't it?

Save This Paper For Your Amusement Program

IDEAL THEATER

The Ideal presents Sunday and Monday "Who Killed 'Doc' Robin?" with Vera Grey and Don Castle. This is done in color and shows a talented group of juveniles who are constantly on the move and in trouble trying to solve the disappearance of a scientist who has been trying to get his hands on a new atomic weapon. A chimpanzee is one of the top performers, and you will have more laughs than a barrel of monkeys. It is really a fun fest. A new kind of comedy. Also "If Winter Comes" with Walter Pidgeon and Deborah Kerr. A clever "Cartoon" tops off this fine show.

Columbia Theater

The Columbia presents Sunday and Tuesday "The Lady From Shanghai" with Rita Hayworth and Orson Welles. Welles a philosophical tramp rescues Rita Hayworth from a trio of attackers and learns she is the wife of millionaire Everett Sloane. Rita talks him into accepting a berth as a sailor on her husband's yacht and obviously is falling in love with him. Welles becomes involved in a murder plot during the cruise discovers Rita is the mistress of the man who tried to frame him, and confronts her with evidence. Furious, Rita shoots her husband, tries to kill Welles and is slain by her dying mate. Also "Speed to Spare" with Richard Arlen and Jean Rogers.

"My husband is merely a manufacturer of waste baskets," sighed the woman of aspirations. "It seems such a prosy occupation."

"On the contrary, there is much poetry in waste baskets," replied the unappreciated bard.

Miss Rose Gyure Weds Wm. Stewart

The marriage of Miss Rose Gyure, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gyure, 233 Woodrow Av, to William C. Stewart, son of Mrs. Mildred Stewart, 1876 S. 6th St, took place at 10:30 a.m. June 19 at St. Ladislaus Church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin styled with a net yoke edged with a satin ruffle and a bustle back skirt which fell into a long train. She wore a headdress of seed pearls which held in place a fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and delphinium centered with gardenias.

Miss Marjorie Colanere was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Blume, Miss Rose Toth and Miss Velma Gyure, sister of the bride. They wore identical gowns of lavender and apple green bustle-back faille taffeta with matching mitts and headdresses.

Flower girl, Barbara Skobrack, wore a yellow gown.

Miss Colanere carried a bouquet of dark purple delphinium centered with yellow roses. Bridesmaids and flower girl carried bouquets of lavender delphinium centered with yellow roses.

William Burnette was best man, and ushers were John Pataki and George May.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's High School and is employed at Omar, Inc. The bridegroom, a graduate of South High, is associated with the Watkins Printing Company.

Before A Bridal Arch

A bridal arch before an altar decorated with palms, ferns, pink and white peonies, and two seven branch candelabra, was used in the Gates-Fourth Methodist Church, when Miss Jean Elizabeth Paul became the bride of Ivan F. Mills, Jr., Sunday, May 30, at 2 p.m. with the Rev. Harry F. Zierer officiating at the double-ring, open-church ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Paul, 890 E. Mound St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan F. Mills, Sr., 423 Stewart Ave.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of ivory bridal satin, styled with a fitted bodice, high neckline and princess skirt with a cathedral train. Her finger-tip veil of nylon illusion was fastened to a tiara of braided satin with pearls intertwined.

The matron of honor was Mrs. William D. Geiger, cousin of the bride. Her gown was of aqua taffeta with a sweetheart neckline. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations circled with yellow daisies.

Martin L. Mills was the best man for his brother. The ushers were Richard F. Mills, brother of the bridegroom; William D. Geiger, Robert Vorwerk and Eddie Hoskinson.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of South High School. Mr. Mills is employed by the Western Electric Company.

Office boy: "There is a salesman outside with a mustache."

Boss: "I've got a mustache."

* * *

"Look here, Dick," the girl said reproachfully, "you wouldn't by any chance marry me for my money, would you?"

He replied thoughtlessly, "Not if there was any other way to get it."

As Pegler Sees It

By Westbrook Pegler

Released by WNU Features

HOWARD HUGHES, the moving picture magnate who produced no airplanes for 40 million dollars of public money, has made public a letter to Sen. Ralph O. Brewster, of Maine, offering him $300 a week to start as an actor. "You are no amateur," Hughes wrote. "Your ability as an actor has been well demonstrated. Also, you are the perfect type for some parts I have in mind."

We here have a senator publicly mocked in his office of investigator of outrageous corruption in the war production program by a man who could not deny that he had conspired with a professional barfly to compromise agents of the government and seduce them from propriety.

Hughes finds himself singularly free of the restraints which affect the course of men of fastidious morals and ethics. He is not embarrassed by disclosures which would intimidate a more sensitive citizen.

In the early part of 1947, Hughes saw an investigation coming. He had spent money to hire women to act as social companions of procurement agents and for booze and luxurious meals and had charged this expense to the ultimate taxpayer as part of the cost of the planes which he did not produce for the 40 million dollars.

He had spent about $4,000 on the wedding expenses and on extravagant personal entertainment of Elliott Roosevelt, then ranked as a colonel, in expensive hotels and night clubs of Hollywood and New York. There was testimony among the disclosures that Hughes' social-traffic manager, Johnny Meyer, gave a $30 bill and a batch of nylon stockings to Faye Emerson, who was to become the third Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt.

Hires a Publicist Anticipating disclosure, Hughes hired Carl Byoir and Associates, the New York and Washington public relations and propaganda firm, to see him through. They did well by him. Hughes was enabled to appear to turn the tables on Senator Brewster and to make Brewster seem to be a guilty fellow, although the record does not justify this impression. Actually, here was a defendant who admitted that he was what he was, staking his unsupported word in a charge that Brewster offered to abandon the investigation if Hughes would abandon his own plans for an overseas passenger airline.

Brewster and others believed that the United States would best serve American interests by recognizing and supporting only one American overseas line. Pan-American was our big overseas pioneer and Brewster thought Pan-American should carry on as a favored agent. He may have been imposed upon by officials of Pan-American with whom he had become friendly. It appeared that he did accept personal hospitality from one of them, although at no cost which could be dignified by the taint of bribe.

There was shocking testimony and documentary evidence against Hughes, Meyer and Elliott Roosevelt in the hearings in Washington. Nevertheless, by artful manipulation of the publicity and the timing of dramatic incidents, Hughes walked off triumphant, although not with honors. Elliott Roosevelt had been so heavily mired in the wallow of the notorious John Hartford loan and other gype, done with the guilty knowledge of his father, that nothing could embarrass him.

Meyers Gets Sentence Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers was sentenced by the United States court, not by the army, to serve from 20 months to five years for perjury in concealing the fact that he owned a company from which he bought material for the army. THIS WAS ENTIRELY ASIDE FROM THE HUGHES DEALS INVOLVING ELLIOTT.

The army had abundant evidence that Elliott's father had verbally ordered that favors be shown to the man who was wining and dining his son. Many a headstrong or wayward buck private meanwhile has spent years in prison for rude violations of unaccustomed restraints.

There was mutually accusing testimony by Hughes and General Meyers concerning discussions of favors to be done Meyers by Hughes, including a job at a high salary after the war.

The committee could not decide who was the liar, but it did say formally to congress that these individuals did have a number of conversations concerning loans, gratuities and job offers. Nevertheless, Hughes said nothing until it served his case at a public hearing three years later to charge Meyers with tendering corrupt proposals.

Man was made before woman to give him time to think of an answer to her first question.

Nuptial Mass For Wedding

Lighted tapers trimmed with white satin ribbon lined the aisle of Holy Rosary Church Friday, June 25, when Miss Dorothy Bott became the bride of Lieut. (jg) Harry Richard Custer. Rev. Father T. Edward Hopping celebrated the 9 a.m. nuptial high mass before an altar decorated with baskets of white delphinium, gladioli and daisies. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence C. Bott, 521 Bulen Ave., and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Custer, 521 Wager St.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white faille fashioned with a fitted bodice and a sheer yoke bordered with an off-shoulder tufted bertha. Long sleeves ended in points over her hands and the bouffant skirt cascaded over a hoop skirt.

Her fingertip veil was held in place by a tiara of stephanotis. She carried a cascade bouquet of white calla lilies, gardenias and stephanotis. She wore a single strand of pearls given her by the bridegroom.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Constance Bott, who wore a gown of aqua faille taffeta made with an off-shoulder neckline, bustle-back, and full skirt. Her floral headdress matched her cascade bouquet of aqua shattered carnations.

Dr. William J. Gallon served as best man while seating the guests were Mr. Raymond Bott, bride's brother, and Mr. Robert Fitzsimons.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast for members of the bridal party was served at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. R. Campbell, Jr., 1818 Mooberry St.

In the afternoon a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother received her guests in a gown of navy blue crepe and the bridegroom's mother wore a black print gown. Both wore corsages of peach glamellias.

Assisting as hostesses at the reception were Miss Mary Scallon, Miss Louella McCann and Miss Betty Custer, the bridegroom's sister.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to Pittsburgh, Pa., and New York City, the bride was wearing a beige gabardine suit with brown accessories. At her shoulder she pinned two gardenias from her bridal bouquet.

The former Miss Bott is a graduate of Rosary High School and attended Ohio State University. She was graduated from Mt. Carmel Hospital School of Nursing.

The bridegroom is a graduate of South High School and the College of Medicine at Ohio State University.

They are residing in Philadelphia, Pa., where the bridegroom is interning at the Navy Hospital.

Entertains Visitors

Mrs. Elsie Thornton, 391 Stewart Ave., has had as her guests for the past week her daughter, Mrs. William Davis, Toledo, Ohio; Mrs. Russell Loomis and Mrs. Ray Bennett, also of Toledo, were weekend guests.

Milo-Grogan To Dedicate Price Field

Plans are complete for the Milo Grogan Civic Association's dedication of Price Field. The dedication is to be held on August 16th at 1:30 p.m. and is the climax to over eighteen months of hard work on the part of the officers and members.

Price Field is the recreation center for two communities, Milo and Grogan. It is located at the corner of St. Clair and East Fifth Avenues. Aside from the baseball diamond, enclosed turf, and other facilities there has been added one hard ball diamond and two softball.

The dedication program includes music by the well-known Eagle's band, speakers, refreshments, games for children, with prizes awarded the winners and three ball games.

Milo-Grogan's team will play Creith Lumber's Columbus Indians on the hard ball diamond. This should be an exciting event since both are riding the top of the crest. On one of the soft ball diamonds the St. Clair A. C. will battle (and I mean it) the P. A. Marchi team. The Marchi boys lost to the St. Clair lads several weeks ago and are waiting a chance to prove they can win. The A. C. is just as willing to show that they can and will win again.

The other diamond will provide more interest for the follower of the girls games. It is to be used by two of the cities best girl soft ball teams.

The members of the Milo-Green Civic Association are extending an invitation to all to attend. The admission is free and there is plenty of parking space.

Miss Olive Budd Wed June 12

A white silk wedding gown and veil was worn by Miss Olive Mae Budd for her marriage June 12 to Herbert L. Cain. The 4:30 p.m. ceremony was read by the Rev. William H. Goble at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Elsie Budd, 1205 Dennison Av.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt L. Cain, 726 Mohawk St.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, carried a prayer book topped with white carnations.

The bride is a graduate of Hamilton Township High School and is employed at David Davies Packing Plant.

The bridegroom, who is a graduate of Mt. Pleasant High School, is employed at the Jeffrey Manufacturing Company.

Married In The Rectory

The rectory of Corpus Christi Church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Jo Ann Decker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Decker, 1446 S. Ohio Av, to Mr. Robert L. Giffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Giffin, 1064 Parsons Av. The June 5 ceremony was read by the Rev. Fr. John Graf at 7:30 p.m.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white taffeta worn over a satin hoop skirt. Feature of the gown was an illusion yoke outlined with a ruffle of Chantilly lace, long sleeves ending in points over the hands, and a double bustle, terminating in a cathdral train. Her veil of imported illusion fell from a bonnet trimmed with seed pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a cascade of glamelias centered with a corsage.

The bride's attendants were her sister-in-law, Mrs. John R. Decker, and Miss Mary Jean Decker, her sister. They were dressed alike in gowns of orchid and yellow, respectively. Their gowns were of taffeta and they wore matching mitts. Their colonial bouquets were yellow carnations and orchid asters.

Best man for Mr. Giffin was Mr. John R. Decker, brother of the bride.

After a honeymoon spent in Pittsburgh, Pa., the couple are residing at the Ohio Av address. Both are associated with the Central Ohio Paper Company.

All Restrictions Removed Air Corps

Captain Thomas J. Madigan, Jr., of the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Service announced that all restrictions were removed for enlistment in the Air Force for High School graduates. Capt. Madigan announced that High School graduates could enlist for three or more years and enter one of the Air Force Specialists Schools for advanced training.

High School and non-High School graduates who can pass the Army's mental tests with a score of 70 or higher can enlist for a period of 21 months, 2, 3, 4 or 5 years. Family allowances and other benefits are still in effect, thus permitting those who join the Army or Air Force the same advantages of all other members of the Army and Air Force.

Capt. Madigan also announced that promotions, Officers Candidate School and other technical schools are open for men who are interested in advancement. For information visit your Army & Air Force Recruiting Station, Room 102, Old Post Office Building, or call Main 3931 or Main 0004.

The Editor's Stake

A free press is made possible by advertising — a thousand and one different advertisements of industries seeking to sell their wares or services to the public.

From such a field in which to seek business the press of the United States can maintain its financial independence — the smallest country weekly or the greatest metropolitan daily has an equal chance.

Such financial independence means editorial independence. American newspapers are not creatures of government as in dictator countries where they are controlled and subsidized. They are not afraid to criticize government, public officials or business.

There can be no free press or individual opportunity without private enterprise.

Communism and socialism kill free enterprise and personal liberty because under such political systems government owns industry, including newspapers, and the individual.

American editors are against communism and socialism, first, because such governmental philosophies destroy political freedom; second, because they destroy a free press.

Any successful move to socialize an industry in the United States, undermines by that much, personal liberty, the foundation of a free press, and the unrestricted opportunity of individuals to choose a line of work or an employer. Under socialism and communism you work for the state and like it, or else.

This is why individuals and newspapers wishing to retain their independence should oppose governmnt ownership of business in our country, while they have a chance. Don't be lulled into a false sense of security by thinking it can't happen here.

He's A Laborer

The clothing a man wears while fishing sometimes is misleading but Ohio Conservaton Commissioner H. A. Rider doesn't mind too much.

On a recent trip in northern Ohio the Commissioner decided to enjoy an hour or two fishing in one of the nearby lakes but discovered, after donning his favorite fishing togs carred as "standard equipment", that he had misplaced his Ohio fishing license.

Stopping at a convenient country store displaying a license agency sign to buy another, he was asked the usual questions such as name, age, and address. But when the agent came to the question, "occupation" he saw no need for waiting for the answer after taking one look at the Commissioner's tattered clothing and simply jotted down "laborer."

The Commissioner didn't object nor did he correct the agent. He felt rather satisfied that the man had properly sized him up.

Protestants Number 45 Million Members

Most Americans if not acutal church members, do lean toward some particular denominations and figures just released are interesting as to which denominations in the large Protestant population are the more dominant in numbers.

Of the 45 million members of 223 Protestant churches in the United States, four groups, Baptists, Methodists, Lutherans and Presbyterians, have 77 per cent, or more than 35 millions. This is noted in the 1948 report on the state of the church by the Christian Herald a Protestant journal which annually presents membership statistics.

But each of the four major groups is divided into several sects, the Methodists with five; the Baptists with 13; the Lutherans with 11, and the Presbyterians (including reformed churches) with 7. Thus, 17 groups outnumber 188 others by more than three to one.

Five other major religious groups — Episcopal, Disciples, Congregational, Evangelical, United Brethren and Church of Christ — add another 6,235,000 members. Thus 42 churches out of the 223 have 90 per cent of the total Protestant membership, leaving about 2 million members to be divided between 181 other groups.

The 12 Baptist groups form the largest family of Protestant churches, with 15,315,000 members, but the largest single denomination is the Methodist church with 8,566,000. The Methodist sector of the population in all five groups is 10,402,000. Because of national origins which now are increasingly less significant, the Lutherans are the most divided, but they account for 5,441,000 Protestants.

The Presbyterian system of policy and doctrine, which includes reformed groups, is organized in an international alliance which meets for the 14th time in Geneva, Switzerland on August 11th, just prior to the World Council of Churches assembly at Amsterdam, the Netherlands. Its origin was in the Geneva reformers, Zwingli and Calvin. These groups account for a little more than four million members, with the parent Presbyterian church in the United States possessing more than half that total.

The Protestant population of 45 million members outnumbers other churches and religious groups by 13,815,000. The Roman Catholic church, with nearly 26 million members, is the largest in the non-Protestant group, which totals 31,135,000 members.

The Christian Herald classified 13 churches and religious groups in this category, including nearly 5 million members of Jewish congregations, the various Eastern Orthodox groups, Buddhists, and Spiritualist churches.

The publication said that quantitatively, Protestantism is "enjoying the most robust health it has ever known, and that church membership now accounts for 53 per cent of the total population as compared with only 22 per cent in 1890.

The total membership in all churches now stands at 77,386,000 persons.

City Property Used For Salesroom

Can you imagine a Columbus City official using the tax payers' money to collect accounts for one credit jewelry house?

That is just what is being done by our City Auditor's office (R. Pierre Barthalow is the City Auditor) from approximately 150 city employees.

This one credit jewelry firm has one of the two leading firm members follow the city pay car to various City departments to cash city employees checks, and sell them jewelry and other baubles.

Last Friday we visited the city Barns on Short St., just south of Mound St., to see just how this racket is worked. A City employee would step up to the city paymaster in the south end of the city barns, sign for and receive his pay check.

Walking a little ways West you would find a man with a peculiar shaped nose, with a satchel full of money ready to cash the check. Next would be hauled out items of jewelry for the city employee to look over and buy. Then next would come a slip to be signed, to order City Auditor Barthalow, to deduct weekly payments for whatever the man might buy.

The amount of money carried to the City street cleaning department alone is reported to be from $6,000 to $8,000 per week.

Wouldn't it be a disgrace to the city, to have some thug follow this jewelry salesman, and steal both his jewelry and money some Friday on City Property?

This jewelry selling to city employees has reached the staggering total of about $52,000 per year it is reported to us.

Can you imagine deducting from city employees, whose take home pay is from $35 to $45 per week, a further deduction of from $2 to $15 each week for jewelry, baubles, etc.? What would be left to pay his living expenses in these days of high prices.

We wonder how the families of these men get along with the little amount of money that is left.

We understand that an official in the Service Director's Department, is mixed up in this mess. For that reason we are calling this to the attention of Elmer Keller, Service Director, who we believe is unaware of what is going on.

Since, at least four employees of the City Auditor's office have to work on deducting this money from the City payrolls for the benefit of one credit jewelry firm, at the tax payers expense, we are again asking R. Pierre Barthalow, City Auditor, who pays for this service for this one credit jewelry firm?

If it is paid for, does the city treasury get it, the city auditor, or some member of the auditor's staff of employees?

We wish to further ask, does some one or more in the city employment get a percentage, or commission, for the jewelry sold or the collections each week, made from the auditors office for the payment of this jewelry?

We further want to ask what

Public is invited.

Ohio River Only Touches State

One of the most famous rivers in the country (if not in the World, is our own Ohio river but few people know that no part of the stream is under jurisdiction of the Buckeye State.

In the early days of the new republic there was formed the territory northwest of the Ohio river and as a result the terrain in the bed of the famous river belongs to Kentucky and West Virginia. — a state which cut off from old Virginia during the Civil War for while the "Old Dominion" was one of the Confederate states and contained its capital at Richmond, the mountain counties were strong for the Union side.

Thus, for some 681 miles the Ohio River, one of the most important East-West commercial thoroughfares since United States history began, flows within the borders of Kentucky. Add to this something like 1000 miles of navigable tributaries, and one realizes that these streams and the traffic they have borne and bear today are of great economic, historic and romantic value.

The first steamboat on Western waters, the New Orleans, built by Captain Nicholas Roosevelt from plans furnished by Robert Fulton, was launched at Pittsburgh in March, 1811, and when completed the following fall it undertook the hazardous voyage down the Ohio, into the Mississippi and on to New Orleans.

In Potato Sale U. S. Pays $2.60 Gets 10c Back

While it has long been known that the Federal government under the New Deal (plus Henry Wallace) has been in the business of purchasing vast quantities of commodities in the open market in order to keep "parity prices up", one of the richest stories along this line just comes out of Los Angeles.

In that great city, located in the state producing famous potatoes on sale even in he East, tons of the "spuds" so important in the lives of every family, are being crushed daily under the wheels of trucks and bulldozers after having been sold by the federal government to cattlemen for ten cents per 100 pounds.

Th potatoes are purchased from growers for as much as $3.00 per 100 pounds. This is the price paid for grade 1-A potatoes. Grade 1-B and grade 2 are bought by Uncle Sam for $1.30 per hundred.

Consequently, the government is losing $2.50 or $1.20 on each 100 pounds each.

It's all part of the agriculture department's price support program.

But it's a good deal for the cattlemen.

After buying the 100 pound sacks for 10 cents each and dehydrating the potatoes for cattle feed, they can sell the sacks back to potato growers for at least 10 cents each. . . sometimes 12 cents.

Potatoes currently cost the public from 38 to 45 cents per 10 lbs. at vegetable stands.

"I know it's a shocking sight to see all those potatoes dumped like that," said H. E. Henning, chairman of the Los Angeles county soil conservation committee, into whose lap the agriculture department pushed the potato disposal problem.

"I know it's like 'plowing under' pigs," he went on, "but, what is to be done? After all, if the farmer goes broke, we all go broke."

Under the price support program, the government guarantees to pay the farmer $2.60 or $1.30 for his potatoes if he cannot market them and providing he signed up for price support benefits before planting last February.

In one week government agents have purchased 6500-100 pound sacks in th county. In the Chino area in San Bernadino county, government agents so far have bought 60,000 sacks. That's 5-million pounds of potatoes. Cattleman there have leased a little used portion of Chino airport to spread potatoes for crushing and drying.

Cartage to the "potato depots" is paid by the growers. At the depots the potatoes are washed, graded and resacked for sale to cattlemen. The cattleman pour them out of the sacks again and spread them for mashing and drying.

"Mashed potatoes", as one farmer put it "with uncle Sam providing the gravy."

This makes you business to pay twice for the potatoes those on state aid use for their [illegible] at greatly reduced prices.

Don't forget that this process of destruction of potatoes is going on not only in Los Angeles but all over other potato growing community.

Liquidating The Middle Class

An economic review published by one of the country's leading banks recently touched on a phase of inflation that must be given a great deal more thought than it has received so far. It said, "Month by month, year by year, people who have been considered, with justice, the mainstay of our society — the great middle class —have been rewarded for their prudence and self-reliance in steadily depreciating coin. These are the people who save for retirement, for the rainy day, for family security, as best they can with the resources at their disposal. They are the people who responded most generously to the calls for funds in the loan drives of the war emergency. They are the people who pay most of the taxes. They are the people who provide wise leadership in community life all through the country. It is a dangerous business, in a free society, to grind them down, take away their incentives, frustrate their efforts toward security. . . .

"Back of this inflationary trend are government policies of spending, lending and guaranteeing which, more than any other single factor, have been responsible for our taut economy and for the spiraling of prices. The irony of it is that so much of this spending is pressed in the name of social welfare and liberalism. Yet those who see in such spending the menace to the security and freedom of the individual are classed as reactionary and insensible to humanitarian considerations."

It is sometimes argued that the enormous commitments of the government -- such as those for military purposes and European aid -- make any worth while reduction in the budget impossible. That is not so. The unparalleled magnitude of necessary spending should cause the utmost intensification of efforts the cut unnecessary spending to the last possible dollar. Why, to take one example, should the government keep on pouring more millions down the rathole of socialized power development when private enterprise is eager and able to do the job with private funds?

Again, how long will it take us to learn that a government which sets out to protect the people against every exigency of living is a government going hell bent down the road that leads to unbridled inflation and eventual dictatorship? Every tyrant comes into power with specious promises of what he will do to help the "common man," whoever he is. And once he gets power, the common man becomes a slave.

Government inspired inflation, along with all the other ills that it creates, is the most insidious enemy of freedom that exists. The economic liquidation of the middle class is just one of the symptoms. All other classes will get theirs sooner or later.

Home-Canned Dill Pickles Should Be on Your Shelves

Put Up Some Kosher Style for Variety in Taste

That craving for Dill Pickles can be satisfied early and often if generous jars of home-canned Dill Pickles are put on the shelf during the height of the pickle season. It's a good idea to put up some jars of Kosher style for variety in taste appeal.

Here are the ingredients for Dill Pickles:

35 to 40 fresh cucumbers
2 tablespoons mixed spices
¼ pound dill
2 cups salt
2 gallons water
2 cups vinegar

Wash and dry cucumbers. Put a layer of dill and one-half of the spices in a stone jar. Add the cucumbers. Put the remaining spices and dill on top of the cucumbers. Boil salt, water, and vinegar two minutes. Cool to room temperature and pour over cucumbers. Cover with a plate weighted down to hold cucumbers under the brine. Keep at an even temperature (68 72 degrees F.). Remove scum each day. The pickles are ready for canning when they are crisp, uniform in color, and well-flavored with dill. This usually requires from two to four weeks. Test by taste! Pack the cured pickles into hot Ball Jars, cover with hot brine and seal. Note: Strain the brine in which the pickles are cured and boil five minutes, or make fresh brine. If the pickles are to be stored a long time, they should be processed in water bath 15 minutes at simmering.

To make Kosher Pickles, add one small clove garlic, one bay leaf, one-half teaspoon mustard seed, two tablespoons sugar, one piece red pepper, and one-half cup vinegar to one or one and one half cups of strained brine. Boil two minutes and pour while hot over plain dill pickles after they are packed into the jars.

St. Marys Holy Name Gets In Full Swing

The St. Mary's Holy Name Soft ball team hit Santa Maria for a 2 to 0 victory last Friday night.

Bill Schmidt, the winning pitcher, pitched a spectacular no-hit game. Incidentally Bill almost succeeded twice before, going clear to the 6th inning only to have his record shattered by lucky hits. Now Bill has witnessed what every pitcher desires, a no-hit game.

The only two hits of the game were by Johnny Loeffler and John Zong, both doubles. So the record stovel 2 to 0. St. Mary's Holy Name, wth Bill taking the pats on the back.

For an evening of enjoyment for the sports for Friday night hold a special attraction for you at Goodale field at 8:00 and behold the Catholic Softball League.

The St. Mary's Holy Name is also planning a family picnic in the latter part of August, at Camp St. Rita. Gus Naegele and Herm Hansen are in full secession making definite plans for this family affair.

A bus bound for the Cleveland Brown football game will be packed with enthusiastic Holy Name members for either the Los Angeles or the New York Yankees game. Definite plans and price will be handed out by F. W. Casey and Gus Neagele of the entertainment committee, at the next meeting in the club room of the St. Mary's School basement, Sept. 14.

Father Jones, of St Mary's, who is in charge of Athletics has appointed a committee to further and assist him in the care of all athletes. The committemen are Ed. Schneider, John Murbitzer, John Loeffler and Herm Hansen. These men will take care of transportation, tickets, equipment, etc. A sub-committee will also be appointed, for further assistance.

Seven Sprint Races Sunday

Columbus, O. Aug. 19 — A seven event sprint racing program for midnight automobiles will be staged at Powell Speedway, the fast Delaware County half mile oval on Sunday, August 23rd under the banner of the All Star Racing Association.

Harry Gilchrist, veteran former race driver and racing official, has been appointed to a post as general manager of the program and Gilchrist states that independent race drivers from all over the country will be on hand to compete for the heavy prize money the Speedway has hung up.

Among them are Al Shaffer, veteran local driver and his big blue Offenhauser No. 33, Herb Swan of Cleveland, who'll drive the Columbus owned Ray Leo Offenhauser, Pee Wee Southcott of Endicott, N. Y., Big Bill Spear of Pittsburgh, Al Davis of Bedford, O., and Howdy Grant of Pittsburgh.

Gilchrist avers that most of the top stars who have been making racing history at the million dollar Heidelberg Raceway at Pittsburgh will be on hand to fight for the top prize money at Powell on that date.

In addition to the usual qualifying sprints, Gilchrist states that two special events will be staged, a helmet dash for the fastest cars in the qualifying time trials, and an International Handicap, an invocation in midget racing which is said to be even more sensational than an Australian Pursuit race.

Some of the top drivers of the country are competing independently this season and the entry lists for this race will be open to them, forecasting a record field of cars.

Time trials are scheduled for noon with the first race billed for 2:30 o'clock.

Hunters Average

Hunters in Ohio during the 1947 hunting season spent an average of 39.7 hours in the field in pursuit of Ohio's game indicating a total of 24 million man hours and averaged one animal bagged for every three hours of hunting time.

These figures, based on information received in a state-wide poll of a representative number of license holders, were revealed this week in a report to Conservation Commissioner H. A. Rider by the Ohio Wildlife Research Unit of Ohio State University in cooperation with the Division of Conservation.

Sportlight by Grantland Rice

THE BATTLE of the two leagues for all-star talent goes on snappily from year to year. This season the National has the jump on its American league rival when it comes to the rookie contingent, but the American still has the lead in veteran headliners.

The average playing quality in both leagues this season hasn't been any too hot. It hasn't been boiling at any point. The effects of the long war, the draft and war service, haven't worn away yet. They are still in evidence by the number of ballplayers in the big leagues who are not big league ballplayers.

Williams

This applies especially to pitching, with any number of right and left arms trying in vain to locate the plate. There have been too many badly played games, too many misplays. But there are still more than a few stars.

How would you size them up? Here, at least, is a starter:

American league—Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio, Lou Boudreau, Joe Gordon, George Kell, Ken Keltner and Allen Zarilla.

National league—Stan Musial, Ralph Kiner, Hank Sauer, Country Slaughter, Johnny Mize, Andy Pafko, Pee Wee Reese, Bel Ennis, Tommy Holmes and Carl Furillo.

The National league has come up with the stronger hitters in Kiner and Sauer, two able powerhouses in human mold who can hit the ball a long way. As things look at this somewhat early date, the older league has picked the better crop of kids.

Lack Great Ballplayers

But outside of Musial, the older circuit has nothing to match Williams, Boudreau and DiMaggio as great ballplayers.

Williams is the only ballplayer left with even an outside chance to crowd Ty Cobb's brilliant lifetime record of .367. Williams is up above .350 for his entire career, which means he will need two or three .400 seasons to start a threatening challenge.

In any event, Williams is the only ballplayer left hanging around with the Hornsbys, Jacksons, Sislers and one or two others who belong on the higher uplands of swat.

Williams is the last of the big hitters, the only one who might know another .400 year in his league. The National has its challenger in Musial, a great ballplayer, and another potential .400 entry. Williams and Musial are the two best we have left when it comes to moving the old ash furniture around the house.

The pitchers? You can forget about them. There isn't a pitcher today in the same class with Cy Young, Pete Alexander, Christy Mathewson, Walter Johnson—especially Johnson. And no one around who is as good as Eddie Plank or Lefty Grove.

The last great pitcher the game had was Dizzy Dean. Bob Feller could have been, if it hadn't been for his outside interests, plus the war. Hal Newhouser isn't too far off. Ewell Blackwell was on his way when a sore arm bowled him over.

Golf Psychology

Golfers can't understand why their games should change so quickly and so sharply.

Golf is largely a game of mental attitude for the day. This varies sharply. There are certain days when you can concentrate on what you want to do. As Jim Barnes put it—"Concentration is thinking of the right thing—at the right time."

This means that you can remember to swing smoothly—to keep your head in place, two of the essential things to do. A day later you'll keep hurrying your backswing and then hurry your downswing. Your mental attitude is one of hurry.

"On the days I play well, or better than usual," a certain leading amateur said recently, "I feel lazy. That's a good way to feel if you want to score. Feel lazy. That doesn't mean you have to loaf walking. It means you are in no hurry to get the club head in motion. You loaf on the backswing and then loaf on the downswing."

Finish Your Backswing

This is true enough. On certain days, the golfer starts his downswing before he finishes his backswing. This is one of the game's most common faults. Unless the backswing is fully completed, the downswing is wrecked in advance.

"You looked up on that one," someone will say. Looking up wasn't the fault. Hurrying the backswing was the fault—the reason, the head was lifted.

You can feel lazy on certain days. On other days you can't. You try to but it won't work any too effectively. On certain days, you can think only of swinging the club head.

Feature Kiddies Fishing Contest

The kiddies fishing contest sponsored by the Ohio Division of Conservation at the Ohio State Fair, August 28 through September 3, is expected again this year to be one of the most popular attractions of the air where the oldtimers will have almost as much fun as the park-goers.

The contest provides fun for young fishermen and also proves a point to the experienced fisherman that although there are fish aplenty in a particular body of water, they won't always bite.

Looking back over the records of the contests of the past years, E. L. Wickliff, chief of the fish management and propaganda section of the Division of Conservation, points out that last year 2,958 young fishermen caught 1,981 fish at a rate of one fish for each three released in the pond. In 1946, 3,089 fish were taken by 2,508 youngsters and in 1941, 3,040 kiddies caught 1,109 fish for each five released.

Channel cats and bullheads have proved the best species for such a contest. Angling will be free and only fisherman under eighteen years of age will take part in the fun. Bait, poles and stringers will be furnished and the fish are to be wrapped and iced until called for later in the day.

This year special arrangements are under way to care for 4,200 children. Each youngster will be permitted to fish for thirty minutes and state game protectors will assist the fish management section with the project. Eighty of the 88 counties in Ohio were represented in the 1946 contest.

CAREFUL HANDLING OF FISH RECOMMENDED

Creel census takers of the Ohio Division of Conservation securing fishing information at several of Ohio's lakes report that many fishermen lose the meat value of their fish before they reach the skillet through improper handling.

Fishermen often toss a stringer of fish in the trunk of the car or in a bucket of water for a two or three hour journey home and thereby lose delicate flavor of freshly caught fish. Most sea-food fanciers know that the sooner the fish are reach the dinner table after being caught, the better the eating. Therefore it is recommended that care be taken in preserving as much as possible this freshly caught value of fish.

Few fishermen consider a willow reel an important item of fishing equipment partly to avoid the extra expense and too, because they consider that a stringer takes up less space. Some fishermen on extended fishing trips into the mountains or northlands usually use the creel system of preserving their catches for many hours, this method probably is the easiest and most efficient. However, stringers will serve as well for shorter trips providing the angler uses common sense along with it.

So long as fish are alive they may be kept in water, hanging over the side of a boat or tied to a tree root along a stream; otherwise, they should have gills and entrails removed immediately to prevent rapid deterioration. Old timers like to wrap each individual fish in watercress, lilly pads or other water plants and place the catch in some container such as a creel which is not airtight sprinkling occasionally with water. Another good method is to wrap the catch in burlap which is kept moist. Natural evaporation will keep the fish surprisingly cool.

When possible the fish are then placed on or in chipped ice but never allowed to come in contact with the water from the melting ice.

With a little extra care fishermen can save many pounds of delicious eating and preserve that fresh-caught flavor often lost between the catch and the skillet.

Gold Star Buttons Ready

Public Law 306, 80th Congress, provides for the design, procurement and distribution of a Gold Star Lapel Button as a suitable means of identification for widows and parents of members of the Armed Forces of the United States who lost their lives in the armed services in World War II during the period December 7, 1941 thru July 25, 1947.

This button is for gratuitous issue to the widow, widower, mother, father, stepmother, stepfather, mother and father through adoption. The button is available through purchase at cost price, about $1.50, to the son, daughter, stepson, stepdaughter, son by adoption, daughter by adoption, brother, sister, half brother and half sister of the deceased veteran.

Th law provides that no Gold Star Lapel Button will be sold to any person who has been furnished a button without cost, and not more than one button will be sold to any one person. Severe penalties are provided for whoever shall wear, display on his person, or otherwise use as an insignia any Gold Star Lapel Button issued to another person. The initials of persons to whom the button is issued are engraved on the back thereof.

Forms for use in making application for this official Gold Star Lapel Button are available at the Veterans Claims Center, in Memorial Hall. Persons making application for the button are required to give the deceased veteran's name, grade, service serial number and date of death. Members of the Claims Center Staff will assist applicants in preparing their applications.

Economic Highlights

Happenings that affect the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual, National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

Neither presidential convention produced any important surprises. Governor Dewey moved to the top of the GOP list when he beat Stassen in Oregon. His organization made those of the other hopefuls look woefully amateurish, and he was clearly the logical choice. The stop-Truman movement within the Democratic party was noisy, but it never controlled many votes, and when Eisenhower refused unequivocally to run it promptly died.

The vice-presidential selections came pretty close to being non-controversial. Governor Warren is a magnetic figure, with a remarkable record of vote-getting in the important state of California. Senator Barkley has performed arduous and faithful service, and the delegates obviously wished to honor him.

The platforms, like the keynote and nominating speeches, were exactly what were to be expected. They were designed to offer something to everybody and, so far as is humanly possible, to offend nobody. Couched in general terms for the most part, they are subject to know just how many voters pay attention to the plaforms anyway. Certainly, they are completely overshadowed by the statements and personalities of the contenders.

All of the commentators reported that a pall of gloom overhung the Democratic conclave. The party leaders were going through the motions out of necessity. Delegates wandered out while the speeches were going on. The spectators' seats were only partly filled. More important, the machine leaders—the men who run the vital state and city organizations and get the vote out—were conspicuous by their absence. They were always present, certain of victory, in Roosevelt's day.

The Republicans, on the other hand, were jubilant when they met in the same hall. They were obviously convinced that after 16 years of starvation they were at last in sight of the promised land. All the polls bear them out in this so far—though it's a long time until November. And most of the commentators are writing as if the election were over, and Dewey is about to enter the White House.

That brings up the question of possible Republican over-confidence—the feeling that the ticket can't lose. However widespread that spirit is in some circles, it doesn't appear to be pervading the Dewey camp. He and Warren will take no chances. They will go to every section of the country. It is said that he has decided on a con-tructive campaign—that is, he will not just denounce Truman and his works but will stress a positive and specific program. He did that with enormous success in New York, where he has sometimes left opponents at a loss by acting as if they didn't exist, and by sticking to his own guns.

The nearest thing to the unexpected that has occurred is Mr. Truman's calling a special session of Congress. This was hardly a bombshell, however. It is a political move, designed to embarrass the Republicans. The President said he wants the GOP to put its platform into law at once, and he would be more than human if he didn't hope for fruitless dissension and debate by the Republicans. He could then go to the country with the theme that the opposition is incapable of running our affairs, and that the only hope is to return a Democratic president and Congress.

Time and the march of events will prove whether that theory is sound or not. But the Republicans are prepared to deal with it. They knew that Congress might be called back before the election, and they have made their plans. They must and will stand on the record of this Congress—their first in 16 years—which the President has described as the worst in our history. They believe that their major acts—tax reduction, the Taft-Hartley law, etc.—have earned majority backing, and they will point to them with pride. And they will probably put into effect some of the legislation which they didn't get around to in the regular sessions, such as the Taft-Ellinger housing bill, a broadening of the social security base, and so on.

Mr. Truman faces one substantial difficulty if he attempts to demonstrate that his party holds the hope of the nation. The difficulty lies in the fact that he has not been able to control the democrats in Congress. For instance, his veto was over-ruled on three occasions - Taft-Hartley law, tax reduction, and a bill to legalize rate-making among railroads under ICC supervision. This was an all-time record for disregarding the Presidential veto. And on all three occasions either a majority or a substantial minority of the Democrats in both houses of Congress went along with the Republicans, and cast their ballots against the titular head of their party. Mr. Truman and his inner circle just haven't shown the talent for controlling reluctant members of Congress that was so vividly demonstrated by the late President Roosevelt.

In any event, it will be all politics from now on, and on both sides of the fence. Every speech, every decision, will be influenced in some manner by the pending election. November will provide the decision.

News In The World Of Religion

With a curriculum based on improvement of agriculture, the banishment of illiteracy, and the raising of the moral, social, economic and religious standards of living, Knox College was recently opened at Spaldings, Jamaica, British West Indies. Church leaders found need for such a college devoted to "sound and practical education for youth." The Rev. Lewis Davidson, M. A. is the principal.

The Rev. Carl P. Rasmussen, of Chicago, is secretary of the Lutheran Commission on Evangelism which plans to train and use some 300,000 Lutheran laymen during the next two years in a cooperative program of evangelism across America in the name of eight church bodies of the Lutheran family. It is planned that in 1949 congregational and community training classes will prepare these laymen in the latest and most approved methods of house to house visitation and evangelism: and that in 1950 they will make their canvass in more than 11,000 different communities. "They can change the complexion of each community," say Dr. Rasmussen and his associates.

The two-point circuit Methodist churches of St. Charles and of Brant, in Michigan, have "adopted" the church of Jakobstad, in hard-pressed Finland, and an interesting relationship of mutual helpfulness has grown out of it, according to the Michigan pastor, the Rev. Joseph C. Dibley. "Bundles for Europe," including needed articles of food and of clothing and "school boxes" for the children have been sent in growing quantities to Finland; and the letters of reply and other contacts have aroused great interest in the local church and community. One other result of this "missionary emphasis" is that the Michigan churches have now a young man in college who plans to enter missionary service when he graduates.

A gloomy picture of the food situation in India and Pakistan is painted by Edmond D. Lucas, missionary-educator there, who now heads Protestant church relief in these two lands. In South India, says Dr. Lucas, some ten millions of people have not had one good meal per day during the past year; and only relief from America and elsewhere in the more fortunate areas of the world is keeping them alive. Elsewhere the unusual drought and the mass movement of peoples because of the partition of the nation seem to have conspired to increase the needs of the people for food. "Aside from the governments which are doing their best, the Christian church and community is the one great source of strength, relief and hope in this bleak picture," says Dr. Lucas.

"In this day when man's inhumanity to man threatens the world with another and I believe final, holocaust, there is but one final hope — our youth," says Ronald Regan, Hollywood film star. "Only in the Christian youth of our nation can we find the clear thinking, free of prejudice and bigotry, which can lead us from the jungle savagery of another war. Our young people may lack experience, but they also lack the memory of failure. They may be impetuous, but they are optimistic. They may not have learned all the teachings of history, but they know it is their world and their future that will be burned away by atomic fission."

Protestant missionary boards and individual missionaries lost millions of dollars worth of property when the Japanese took over the Philippine Islands during the war. So did business and private interests. The United States government has appropriated $400,000,000 of U. S. funds, and has confiscated assets of Japanese firms and individuals, to provide indemnity for losses. But the Foreign Missions Conference of North America, representing most of the United States and Canadian mission boards, has asked the boards and the individual missionaries to file no claim and ask no indemnities. The Conference feels that "Christian agencies which are deeply concerned with the economic and spiritual rehabilitation of Japan should not benefit by depriving of their assets individual Japanese who had no part in deciding national policy."

A "Vliet Memorial", consisting of three or four classroom and dormitory buildings, are being planned for erection on the campus of Colegio Pinson, at Camaguey, Cuba, in honor of the late Dr. Clarence K. Vliet, physician and missionary executive, who during his life was one of the benefactors of this school of the Methodist Church. Friends and associates of Dr. Vliet are planning to erect buildings which will include a chapel, a dormitory, and a commercial department for this institution which was named for the late Dr. W. W. Pinson, for many years head of the Board of Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

Your Home

By Frances Ainsworth

I have had several letters recently from young couples who live in small homes with combination living-dining rooms, or small dining "nooks." They asked my advice on entertaining, and particularly on the best way to serve dinner to several guests. Well, I heartily endorse buffet suppers for everyone—because they are one of the easiest ways that a hostess can entertain several people.

Your buffet or table may be used . . . simply place your food on one part of the table, and your plates, silver, napkins, etc. on the other end. Then, if you wish you may set up card tables on which to eat — or let the guests hold their plates on their laps.

Here are a few tips that will make your buffet supper less work for the hostess. To avoid "Ganging Up," as guests serve themselves, divide your main dish into two parts — and place a bowl or platter on either end of your table. Place silver at the very end of the table so that guests can pick it up after selecting their food.

I always offer both linen and paper napkins to my guests — not only for buffet suppers, but for every type of dinner. So many guests will hesitate to stain a linen napkin with grease or lipstick — and several have thanked me for the thoughtfulness of supplying both linen and paper.

We use paper napkins at every meal at our house . . . and I've found that they really do save time in laundering. It's a work-saving idea that every mother and homemaker would do well to adapt for her home. For all of us welcome suggestions that will make our housework run more smoothly —, don't we?

Serve Your Own Home-Canned Tomato Juice

For a party drink, cocktail, or any-hour health drink, tomato juice is always appetizing and satisfying. It rates high in Vitamin C (ascorbic acid) which we must have to maintain good health. When making tomato juice it is important to cook the tomatoes always below the boiling point in order to preserve vitamin content as well as flavor and the luscious red color which gives this juice added appeal. Cooking below the boiling point is a rule to follow in the making of all fruit juices, according to the Ball Blue Book, famous home canning guide.

In giving instructions for making tomato juice, the Ball Blue Book points out that the juice may be put up unsalted if it is to be used in infant feeding. Otherwise, salt may be added to season. You can season your tomato juice according to the way your family likes it, including celery, salt Worcestershire sauce, pepper, minced onion, lemon juice, one or all as you desire, either when putting up the juice or opening it, to make a "fancy" tomato juice cocktail.

Use firm, red-ripe, freshly-picked tomatoes discarding any which are bruised or specked with decay or fungus. Wash carefully. Leave whole and bake in an oven; or steam; or cut into small pieces and cook until soft. A higher percentage of vitamins is retained, some authorities maintain, when the tomatoes are baked or steamed.

Press the hot tomatoes through a fine, preferably cone-shaped, sieve. Reheat to simmering (195-205 degrees F.). Pour into hot Ball Jars. Process 20 minutes in hot-water bath at simmering.

Miss Alyce Clark Recent Bride Of James Hellyer

Miss Alyce I. Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Clark, 338 So. Hague Ave., became the bride of James L. Hellyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hellyer, 721 Holy Ave., Sunday, June 20, at 3:30 p.m. in St. John's Lutheran Church.

The altar was decorated with garden flowers, white gladioli, white roses and palms. The Rev. C. Langholtz officiated.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She was wearing a white satin gown with off-shoulder neckline and long sleeves which formed points over her hands. The full skirt was gathered up on both sides with a five ruffled petticoat showing below. The skirt had a long circular train. The veil was an heirloom from Scotland with white satin lovers-knots embroidered on each corner. She carried a white bouquet centered with an orchid on a Bible with baby's breath tied into the streamers.

Maid of honor, Miss Doris Bracken, wore a gown of lavender marquisette with off-shoulder neckline. Her headdress was of pink carnations which matched her colonial bouquet of carnations with pink streamers.

Bridesmaids, Miss Martha Lou Mason and Miss Pauline Clark, wore pastel green and pink identical to the maid of honor's with matching headdress. They carried colonial bouquets of yellow and blue carnations respectively.

Best man was Roy Baker, Jr., and seating the guests were Eugene Clark and Eldon Clark, brothers of the bride.

When Smith walked into his friend's office he found him sitting at his desk, looking very depressed.

"Hello, old man," said Smith "What's up? Anything wrong?"

"Oh, just my wife," replied the other sadly. "She's engaged a new secretary for me."

"Well, there's nothing wrong about that. Is she blonde or brunette?"

"He's bald."

Candle Light Service Features Wedding

Gates Fourth Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Ellen Lucille Craven and Robert Bernard Snoke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Caroll B. Snoke, 599 S. Warren Av., Friday, July 16. The 7:30 candlelight service was performed by the Rev. Harry F. Zierer.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert L. Craven, 139 E. Gates St., was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of frosted marquisette fashioned with a sheer yoke, outlined with a bertha collar and long tight sleeves ending in points over the hands. The bouffant skirt was gathered to the bodice and fell softly over a crinoline petticoat to the floor terminating in a train. A lace halo trimmed in orange blossoms held the finger-tip veil of imported illusion. The bride's bouquet consisted of white roses and carnations.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Harry Osborn, Jr., sister of the bride. She was dressed in a blue frosted marquisette gown fashioned after the bride's, with a French puff bustle in back.

Bridesmaids, Miss Marjorie Heintz, Mss Ruth Conard and Miss Mary Snoke, sister of the bridegroom, wore gowns of pink frosted marquisette, identical to that of the matron of honor.

Helen Louise Emerson was flower girl .She was attired in a white marquisette gown with puff sleeves and a big bow in back. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Pink and blue carnations, centered with red roses, were carried by the matron of honor and the bridesmaids. They wore headpieces of carnations to match their gowns.

Donald Johnson was best man for the bridegroom. Harry Osborn, Jr., Jack Martin, and Donald Craven, brother of the bride, seated the guests.

High School and is now employed

The bride is a graduate of South at the Ohio National Bank. Mr. Snoke is a graduate of West High School and is now associated with the Timken Roller Bearing Co.

Betty Jane Nafzger To Wed October 9

Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Nafzger, 1030 S. 22nd St., announce the engagement of their daughter, Betty Jane, to John M. Koebel, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Koebel, 743 Thurman Ave.

Miss Nafzger is a graduate of South High School and is associated with The Columbus Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Koebel is a graduate of Aquinas High School and attended Ohio State University. He is associated with the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

The wedding will be an event of Oct. 9.

Judge: "You're a menace to pedestrians. No more driving for two years."

Defendant: "But, Your Honor, my living depends on it."

Judge: "Quite true, but so does theirs."
